LEWIS AND TURK ARE SEPARATED NOW.

Report that the Political Member of the Firm Has Decided to Stay in San Francisco.

The Heavenly Twins have dissolved partnership, or at least they have separated, apparently for good. Frank J. Turk remains in Honolulu, attending to his shipping business, while Oscar Lewis, the political member of the firm, the man with the unlimited "bull con" and "the real thing" as a political boss—

Lewis had a very interesting career in Honolulu. When he landed as a shipping master, few people knew that he was a master politician until he told them. He has the honor of having been the first man to start up a "regular" Republican party organization in Honolulu. A meeting was called to "form the party" and for a time it appeared that Lewis would put in his men and control the machine having the legal right to use the party title, getting recognition from the national party. But somehow or other the meeting got away from Lewis. Humphreys, then not a judge, amended Oscar's motions until when the meeting adjourned it had failed to grab the party title. It was very "touching" to the political twin, who saw his own meeting suddenly run away from him.

Lewis is said to have received several goodly cash donations from local men and organizations that thought he was a winner in politics. He carried the Fourth District in the last election, for the Republican party, and would have carried the Fifth if he had been given proper leeway. This is well known to many people who have heard it from Lewis.

Honolulu didn't seem to respond to the Lewis brand of politics, however. In California he won much success, and he was well in with some of the top leaders. But the field here was too small for Lewis' politics. He was baited by Humphreys' court during one very brief and exciting period of that court's history. Later he and Lewis went over to the judge's enemies.

Turk was very deep in the political part of the business. While Lewis attended to his water front business, and he is now in full charge.

One reason for Lewis' leaving here is said to have been the sentence of 30 days imposed on him by Judge Estee, for boarding a ship in violation of the customs laws. Lewis felt very keenly the punishment of imprisonment and was highly indignant at what he denounced as an injustice.

When Turk and Lewis went to prison Mrs. Turk and Mrs. Lewis, their respective wives, undertook to run the shipping business. Mrs. Lewis gave it up after a time, but Mrs. Turk stayed with it and is reported to have conducted it very successfully.

BUFORD FROM COAST.

She Brought Two Days Later Mail Yesterday

The transport Buford arrived off the port yesterday morning from San Francisco with two days later mail and news. She brought 70 bags of mail

As the result of the trouble which Captain Martens her former master, had at this port, he was relieved from duty and his post given to Captain Cronky, formerly of the transport Grant

The majority of those aboard are civilian passengers bound for Manila. Very few army people being on board. She has only sixty eight enlisted men for Manila. The vessel is coaling and will probably sail for Guam and Manila tomorrow afternoon.

Honolulu people who are going abroad can have the Semi-Weekly Star mailed to any address for the small sum of twenty-five cents a month. The Semi-Weekly Star contains all the local news of importance, besides the daily stock quotations.

PAID OVER THE PRIZES

MONEY HANDED OVER FOR TUESDAY'S WINNERS.

Cups Will Be Distributed After the Meet—Protest of Piggott against McAuiliffe being Considered.

The money prizes won by the owners of the victorious horses were paid over by the executive committee on demand first this morning. The cups will not be distributed until after the meet. The executive committee and the officers of the club were in session this morning to decide the protest entered over the Weller-Dei Vista race in which it was claimed that McAuiliffe on Weller jumped into and fouled Piggott on Dei Vista at the head of the stretch. It was agreed upon between owners that the heat should be run off on Monday to decide which was the better horse, although it would have been possible for them to have divided the $70 purse and the cup, the one taking the trophy paying the other its value and both keeping the record of 42 2-5, which may not be repeated on Monday. This agreement was made at the track on Saturday, the time being set first on Saturday and afterwards changed to even up matters for Weller, who has two long races on Saturday. Ten o'clock was first set on Monday for the deciding heat, but later changed to 1:30 as that hour would prove more suitable to those who could come out and see the race in the afternoon, but could not leave town in the morning.

Under these circumstances and also from the fact that the protest has never been filed in writing, it is probable that the matter will be overruled by the judges. W. G. Walker stated that he would withdraw from the cup unless a decision was rendered one way or the other by the Jockey Club.

Prince David is confident that Weller can beat the mare. "Weller started badly," said the prince, "but up to the first quarter almost seemed undetermined whether to run or not. McAuiliffe used the spur and I have no doubt his best judgment, but I think that a lift or one cut of the whip on the wire would have sent Weller a length ahead. Piggott was whipping the mare and Weller has never yet failed to respond to the slightest urging from whip or knee."

The road race for trotters and pacers who have not been trained for this meet has been arranged for Saturday to close the program. The competitors will furnish their own purse of fifty dollars. About six entries are expected. Frank Wieg, driving Tom Ryder, being the favorite.

THE WEATHER.

Weather Bureau, Punaohu, 1 p. m. Wind light northeast; weather fine, the morning "glows" continue. Morning minimum temperature 67; midday maximum temperature 85; barometer, 9 a. m., 29.96 falling (corrected for gravity); rainfall, 24 hours, ending 9 a. m., 0; dew point, 9 a. m., 67; humidity, 9 a. m., 66 per cent.

CURTIS J. LYONS, Observer.

WILL ENTERTAIN LADIES.

The Hawaii Yacht Club will hold a meeting today to decide on the program for the Fourth of July. In all probability members and their friends will go down to Pearl Harbor on the steamer Cummins, the yacht club entertaining, and in the steamer follow the boat races, afterwards returning to the club headquarters near the mouth of the harbor to witness their own regatta. A feature of the trip will be the first introduction of ladies into the yacht club doings. This has long been desired by many of the members who have hitherto had no opportunity of welcoming the fairer sex. Further particulars will be decided upon today.

IN THE COURTS.

The Supreme Court this morning heard arguments in the cases of Lewis & Cooke vs. J. W. Robinson and S. Ahmi vs. W. H. Cornwell. Judge Robinson granted an order of partition as asked for in the suit of Harriet Bailey and D. T. Bailey vs. E. M. Cunningham and others, and Judge W. Austin Whiting was appointed commissioner, to report to the court within twenty days.

Thayer and Hemenway this morning made a motion for adjournment by default in the case of C. K. Alvs. Y. Atoy and Y. Anin. Judge Robinson gave judgment, as prayed for, for $1,185 and costs.

Robertson and Wilder have filed six more answers making general denials in fishing rights suits. D. G. Camarinos received a consignment of fine singing canary birds on the Nippon Maru. They can be purchased at his establishment on King street.

PEACE IN THE BRITISH EMPIRE

KITCHENER CLOSES THE GATES OF THE TEMPLE OF JANUS.

MAKES PEACE WITH BOERS AT PRETORIA.

British Conditions Agreed To In All Vital Points—King Edward's Announcement of the News.

LONDON, June 2.—Peace has been declared after nearly two years and eight months of a war which tried the British empire to its utmost, and wiped the Boers from the list of nations. The war has come to an end with Lord Kitchener's announcement from Pretoria that he, Lord Milner and the Boer delegates had signed "terms of surrender."

This announcement has been anticipated for several days, and it was definitely forecasted in these dispatches, but its receipt Sunday afternoon took the nation by surprise, as everybody had confidently believed that the House of Commons would hear the first news today. The signs of the armistice with which Great Britain awaited the promised statement in the House of Commons from Mr. Balfour, the Government leader, was still further dulled by the following message from King Edward to his people, which was issued early this morning:

"The King has received the welcome news of the cessation of hostilities in South Africa with infinite satisfaction, and his majesty trusts that peace may speedily be followed by the restoration of prosperity in his new dominions, and that the feelings necessarily engendered by war will give place to earnest co-operation on the part of his majesty's subjects in promoting the welfare of their common country."

How greatly King Edward's insistence that peace in South Africa be secured prior to his inauguration influenced the present agreement will probably not be known until the private memoirs of the present regime are given to the public.

According to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Utrecht, Holland, Mr. Kruger was informed shortly after 3 o'clock last night that peace had been declared. He had been asleep. "My God!" he said, "it is impossible."

Kruger and his entourage, the dispatch continues, hope to be permitted to return to their homes. This, however, is quite unlikely.

The news which Great Britain was so anxiously awaiting came characteristically on an entirely pacific and uninteresting Sunday afternoon, when London presents a deserted appearance. Very late Saturday night a dispatch was received from Lord Kitchener in which he said the Boer delegates were coming to Pretoria; that they had accepted Great Britain's terms and they were prepared to sign terms of surrender. Mr. Broderick, the War Secretary, personally communicated this message to King Edward, who was at Buckingham Palace. But the Government declined to take any chances, and nothing concerning the receipt of this message was allowed to leak out.

When at about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon the War Office received definite news of the surrender from Lord Kitchener the clerk on duty at the War Office transmitted the message to Buckingham Palace, where King Edward was lunching. At about 5 o'clock word was received permitting the publication of this message and the small notice which was struck up outside the War Office consisted of a copy of Lord Kitchener's cablegram. A similar notice was put outside the Colonial Office. Beyond these two slim bits of paper London knew nothing of the great event. In the clubs, the hotels, and the newspaper offices, which were almost all deserted, the momentous news was ticked out on the tape. Then, like wild-fire, at about 6 o'clock, London awakened to the fact that the South African war was over. The inhabitants of the East End flocked to the Mansion House, the Mecca of the hoisterously patriotic, just in time to see the Lord Mayor of London, Sir Joseph C. Dimdale, come to a balcony and announce that the terms of surrender had been signed in South Africa. Amid many cheers the Lord Mayor made a short speech, in which he expressed his hope that London would show its appreciation of the good news by behaving itself decently and in an orderly manner. "Let us," said he, in conclusion, "now pray for a long and a happy peace."

At this statement the assemblage yelled lustily and at the instance of the Lord Mayor gave hearty cheers for King Edward, followed by others for the men who had died in South Africa since the war commenced.

By 8 o'clock last night the news had become generally known. A few belated extra editions of newspapers were peddled about the streets, but before their appearance the enterprising hawkers, who for a long time past had kept Union Jacks, feathers and horns stored up in anticipation of the present event, were much in evidence. The efforts of the hawkers received lucrative rewards, with the result that until long after midnight the national flags were waved indiscriminately by well-meaning toysters. There were scarcely an omnibus or a cab which was not adorned with the national emblem. Impromptu processions marched up and down the Strand and Piccadilly. Spontaneous cheering and much horn blowing attested for the silliness of the crowds, which, had their volume been greater, would doubtless have rivaled "Mafeking night." As it was, the demonstrations of the night resulted in a genial and harmless sort of jubilation which continued long after midnight.

BECKY BISHOP DOESN'T WANT FREEDOM.

Gives Magoon an Affidavit That Makes Tom Fitch Retire from the Case, with Some Remarks.

Col. Thomas Fitch has retired from the Becky Bishop spendthrift case, and withdrawn his motion to reopen the matter in the Supreme court for the purpose of securing a rehearing. The colonel however, wants to have the decision amended in some respects. Fitch recently filed a motion to reopen the whole case, but it appears that Becky changed her mind again. While her attorney was working on the case she presented Magoon with an affidavit saying that she didn't want to be released, but wanted to remain under Magoon's charge.

As a result Fitch today filed in the Supreme court a brief containing the following: "A few minutes before the hearing of this matter, Mr. Magoon handed me an affidavit of Kalua Kapukini dated that day, to the effect that she did not wish a rehearing and desired to remain under the guardianship of Mr. Magoon. I was surprised to receive this affidavit because the woman with her husband visited my office several times before and expressed her entire approval of the application for a rehearing. It is a question whether your Honors would, by considering this affidavit, sanction the methods adopted in taking control of a case out of the hands of opposing counsel, but I fell back on the fact that it was obtained in a matter how brought to my notice, I must regard the affidavit as an instruction from my client to retire from her case in this court, and with your Honors' permission I so retire."

In retiring, however, there are several matters which I desire to bring to the attention of the court, and which may induce your honors to modify the judgment or make a supplementary decree. The "record" in this case consists of all papers filed and all orders of the court, including the briefs filed before or after the judgment and whether specifically appealed from or not. In the record appears an order made before the judgment of Judge Little, allowing Humphreys and Gear a fee of $500, for professional services rendered some time ago. In an affidavit presented to me to secure her discharge, the application for this allowance was made by Davis, senior counsel for Kalua Kapukini in an application then pending before Judge Little to secure her discharge. I did not know of the application in behalf of Humphreys at the time it was made. I was not present in court at the time and my duty did not call upon me to resist it. Mr. Magoon made only slight resistance to the order when Judge Little made it. He has specifically appealed from it, nor asked your honors to review it. I did not learn till long afterwards and not until after this application was pending, of the existence of the written contract which Kalua Kapukini entered into with Humphreys and Gear and herself, to submit the matter to your Honors, to be filed with Mr. Magoon as 'newly discovered evidence' or otherwise considered at the court's discretion.

During the pendency of this action, a permit I advanced to Kalua Kapukini for her support, $425 and for witnesses and costs of court $41. She had no other means, as during that period the allowances previously and subsequently made to her by Mr. Magoon altogether ceased. I shall be glad if your honors see the way clear to allow these disbursements to be repaid me by the court.

His honors Chief Justice Frear, Associate Justice Perry concurring disallowed the fee of $250 accorded to George Davis by the court on the ground that Mr. Davis had already been sufficiently paid by the court for his services in the case. As the record shows that Mr. Davis was not paid anything, I submit respectfully that this estimate of the value of his services is too low. The allowance to Mr. Davis was not contested by the court below and Magoon did not specifically appeal from it. Supposing that Magoon would pay it, as I learned he paid the $500 to Humphreys and Gear, I am contented. Davis by cashing it.

"One of the grounds of the decision of your honors is the fact that after the discharge of the spendthrift she executed a trust deed of all her property for certain purposes, among which was the payment of her counsel of 20 per cent as fee. I have no reason to believe that Mr. Justice Galbraith intended to inflict on me a great injustice and must presume that it escaped attention that there was an affidavit on file, showing that before an appeal was perfected, voluntarily and of my own motion, I reduced the fee on one-half I submit to the fairness of this Honorable court that the opinion already rendered, reversing the judgment of the circuit court, should be modified or supplemented with reference to the foregoing matters."

KAMALO SETTLEMENT

Final settlement of the Kamalo case was entered this afternoon by the payment into court of $11,000 in cash by Frank Hustace with several thousand shares of stock, by the three defendants, Hustace, Egan and Foster, in partial settlement of the judgment.

In the Kamalo case this afternoon $2,250 shares of stock were paid by the Circuit Court, out of the 6,000 called for in the judgment. Hustace delivered 150 shares and Cecil Brown, for Hustace, gave up 1,335 shares. On account of J. J. Egan, Brown delivered up 1,050 shares and on account of Foster, 2,802 shares.

WIGHT AS THIRD MATE

WILDER WIGHT PREFERS KNOWLEDGE TO PLEASURE.

Foregoes Vacation to Take Trip Around the Horn With View of Perfecting Himself as a Navigator.

Wilder Wight, eldest son of Charles L. Wight, president of Wilder's Steamship Company, a lad of nineteen years old, whose bent is navigation, is fitting himself in practical fashion for his chosen profession and, by his own choice, spends his vacation in a trip around the Horn as third mate of the sailing vessel Dirigo, in preference to having a good time and well earned rest at home.

Young Wight is in his junior year at the University of California, returning there next fall to take up his studies. He has for some time shown a decided preference for the study of navigation, backing up his determination with a practical exhibition of his being no boyish wish. Three times already in various capacities, Wight has made the trip to and from the coast on a sailing ship, acting in various capacities and thoroughly fitting himself to be a sailor from ripe knowledge and boxing the compass up to the logarithms of a navigating officer.

This vacation, rather than make either a holiday of the time or accept a position at home with a good salary, Wight sticks to his determination to master his profession as speedily as possible and ships as third mate aboard the sailing ship Dirigo, Captain Goodwin, master, which sails for New York around the Horn with a full crew of Hawaiians. Both Captain Goodwin and the first mate are old timers on the Dirigo and Wight will have every opportunity for perfecting himself in the details of the craft. Wight is also fortunate in being able to speak fluent Hawaiian. Many of the natives aboard the Dirigo are men who have long been employed on steamers of the Wilder Steamship company, and are well acquainted with each other, so that the young third mate goes out under pleasant auspices.

Arrived in New York Wight will take the train across the continent back to Berkeley, there to resume his regular education, ahead not only in sailing experience, but in health and the broadening touches acquired by actual travel and contact with the outer world.

LOWERED A RECORD

HONG KONG MARU ARRIVES YESTERDAY.

Made Trip From Yokohama in 8 Days and 23 Hours—Did Not Sight Fannie Kerr.

Had it not been for two days of bad weather after leaving Yokohama Captain Filmer of the Hong Kong Maru would now hold the record for the Yokohama-Honolulu run. As it is he has taken second place. He made the trip under nine days arriving off the port last evening about 8 o'clock doing the run in 8 days and 23 hours. The China still holds the fastest record of 8 days 6 hours and 15 minutes.

The vessel is being rushed to San Francisco as she is to be given an elegant new stateroom, similar to that installed in the Nippon Maru, so Captain Filmer wants to get her to San Francisco as soon as possible.

It was thought possible that the Hong Kong Maru might have sighted the abandoned hulk of the Fannie Kerr, as the hulk may have drifted into the course of the Oriental vessel. Nothing was seen of the Fannie Kerr however.

The Hong Kong has a big crowd of cabin passengers aboard of whom fifteen stopped over at Honolulu. Some of them compose the Cogill-Sutton entertainers who will open at the Orpheum next Saturday.

Commander F. H. Holmes formerly of the monitor Monterey, is going home. He is accompanied by his wife.

RECORDS WILL STAND

DEL VISTA AND WELLER DIVIDE PURSE.

Time and Horse To Have Names Engraved on Rosita Challenge Cup—All Bets Off.

A decision has been made in the Rosita Cup race of one mile in which Weller and Dei Vista crossed the wire nose and nose in 1:42 2-5. The purse of $250, $50 being added for the beating of Victoria's time, has been divided between the owners, W. G. Walker and Prince David. The time has been recorded as official and, with the names of the jockey and the mare, will be engraved on the cup, which is a perpetual one and remains in the hands of the Jockey Club.

The track record of 1:45 made by Victoria is thus broken by 2 and 2-5 seconds. The mile is a notable one aside from the sensational race. The fastest mile on a circular track is that made by Libertine on October 28, 1884, at Harlow track, Chicago, in 1:35 3-4. Assuming that the local track is three seconds slower than eastern courses, a fact generally conceded by local and visiting sportsmen yesterday's time comes within four-fifths of a second in equality to the fastest mile on record.

Weller as a two-year-old, blew up, in racing parlance and later, came into slight prominence in a four mile race in California. Samuel Parker and Prince David bought him in a bunch of horses, cheap. In 1900 he finished second in the mile. Last year he swept the field. On instances of over a mile he is not thought to have a dangerous opponent in the islands. Prince David still thinks him better than Dei Vista and will determine the doubt at Hilo. So such time however can be expected there on a mile track.

Weller is well bred but not exceptionally so. Many sportsmen think much money could be made with him on the coast, but Prince David prefers to keep him here. He does not bet on the horse to any extent. Weller is a hard horse to handle, McAuiliffe, his trainer and jockey being the only one who can approach him in the paddock or stable. He is game but independent, and objects to running unless he feels like it. Yesterday he kicked viciously at those who tried to start him with a buggy whip.

Dei Vista is bred from an imported sire, Del Mar, out of Playful. She is a sorrel mare five years old and was hardly expected to achieve such time. The contingent from the big city here were very confident of her speed. She is not nearly as handsome as Weller but a much more willing performer.

"There is now," said G. S. McKenzie this morning, "a Queen as well as a King of the Hawaiian turf." McKenzie has contributed much to the success of this year's meet by bringing down his horses from Hawaii without which the running races would have proven a fiasco from lack of entries and competitors.

WILL NOT SEARCH. EXPEDITIONS AFTER FANNIE KERR ABANDONED. Inter-Island Company Reported to Have Given Up First Decision to Search for lost British Vessel. There will probably be no attempt made to recover the abandoned British bark Fannie Kerr. The Inter-Island directors decided last Tuesday that they would send the Mikahala in search of the abandoned British vessel, but subsequent consideration has caused that idea to be given up. It was thought that the Fannie Kerr would prove a valuable prize from a salvage point of view, but there were drawbacks which presented themselves as the matter was further considered. The matter of where the vessel would be found was the first proposition. There was some sail left set and the wheel was lashed so as to keep her on the port tack but the conditions of the weather in that vicinity were unknown and they would figure to a large extent in the course of the vessel, it was finally decided that no one could estimate with any hope of being exact, within several hundred miles of where the boat might be. The effect of the currents on her could, of course, be figured out, but it was decided that nothing could be done regarding the wind. The winds might sweep her hundreds of miles away from the point where she was abandoned. It has even been figured by some of the water front people that with a north east wind prevailing, the boat may be carried down past these islands, and may be sighted in the vicinity of Nihaou. She will work up into the wind under the conditions in which she was left, and then fall back again. She may remain in practically the same position for days and on the other hand with a change of the wind the position may be materially changed as to preclude all hope of her ever being seen. One other reason for the Inter-Island people desiring to abandon the expedition was the fact that the fire in the Fannie Kerr was entirely in the stern and has been burning for nearly two weeks. The result is that the coal will be burned to fine ashes and the stern will be lightened to such an extent that the rudder will come high out of the water and it will be impossible to steer her, even if the steamer could get a tow line onto the bark. Another point against the practicability of bringing the bark to Honolulu is the fact that she would not, in the opinion of some, be worth much. She would be worth considerable if taken into the port of San Francisco, but down here, it would be almost impossible to repair her. On the other hand, it is claimed that steel is very dear on the coast just now and even if brought to this port, the old hull could be disposed of to San Francisco parties at a very handsome figure. She would moreover, be valuable as an oil carrier it is said, and she would easily be sold to Coast people for such a purpose. In spite of these facts however, it is likely that no attempts will be made by local parties to send after the abandoned boat. It is possible however that some expedition may be risked but this is not regarded as likely.

BOXERS "RASTLED" TEN-ROUND HUGGING CONTEST LAST NIGHT. Agnew and Weday Fight Decided by The Principals In Advance—Weday Makes Best Showing. As an exhibition of the manly art the Agnew-Weday fight at the opera house last night was a disappointment. There were ten rounds of constant clinches and at no time during the contest did the men make any showing of scientific boxing. The monotony of approaching, exchanging blows once and then hugging one another until the referee separated them, lasted throughout the fight. The referee perspired about as much as the pugilists. Jack Weday had much the best of the contest at the start and throughout most of the rounds, but at the end he appeared to be about as much worn out as Lon Agnew. All through the fight Agnew's blows utterly lacked steam, and his friends said that he was overtrained. Weday did not show anything like the staying power his physical make-up indicated. He had only about one lead. That lead gave Agnew a heavy blow and ended in a clinch, or it gave Agnew a swing on the side of the head and ended in a clinch. It was remarked by Agnew's friends that he ought to have found a way of meeting this constant repetition of the same sort of attack, but he didn't. The gloves were so big that the sound of the blows was as that of a blown-up bladder. There were several interesting exhibitions before the principal contest of the evening, which was much delayed because no one seemed willing to act as referee, and because the proper kind of gloves had not been supplied. Frank J. Turk finally consented to referee the contest and he did it well. At the end there was nothing for the referee to decide. It appeared that the men had decided their own fight in advance, and Turk didn't express any opinion. "It was agreed between the men" said Turk "that if both were on their feet at the end of the ten round, the fight should be declared a draw." Weday and Agnew fought with ten ounce gloves, which accounts for the easy reception of one another's blows. At the ring side "Jimmie" Fox coached and advised his man Weday, in spite of repeated orders from the referee to desist until the men had a very properly begun to demand that he be put out. Professor Le Boeuf and one of his pupils gave an interesting exhibition of the other "manly art" of fencing. The professor and his pupil, Moore, were both very quick with the foils. Defense and attack were rapid and before the five-minute contest was over, it appeared that the men had killed each other several times.

POLITICAL WORK.

There is plenty of work for the younger men of the Republican party. There always comes a time when the younger politicians have to shoulder responsibilities which have been perhaps shouldered for years by older men.

Our system of government gives the young man a better chance than any system in the world. He hears parties discussed and measures talked over from the time he enters school till he quits college.

This is where the advantage lies. A young man working for his political party even in a remote State or a remote Territory can make his mark and be acknowledged as an able political worker by the heads of the party organization throughout the union.

The opportunity for young Republicans in this Territory is an excellent one. Work for the republican party, and there is the certainty of being recognized by the Republican party.

Every one who has taken an interest in the progress of Africa, will be rejoiced that the end of the struggle has been reached, and Kitchener will be one of the very few prominent men who has not lost prestige in South Africa, which has proved the grave of many reputations.

The female stowaway is coming to the fore now. In such cases there is probably considerable collusion among the employes of the steamer. However a careful search of the Alameda before she sailed prevented the carrying of such a very undesirable passenger.

The loss of the Fannie Kerr has developed the usual growth from a portion of the crew. The Bo'sun makes charges against the mate and his evidence is contradicted by the men in the mate's boat.

Every country and almost every state protects its citizens from the use or abuse of various artificial compounds which are sold upon the public for pure food.

kindred substances as are used in pharmacies. Thus the use of saccharine is used in cases of diabetes, where the patient insists on having some of his food sweetened.

Sugar is a food, and its value as a food is better more and more appreciated. The value of sugar to soldiers on the march has been demonstrated by practical experiment in the German Army.

Food Inspector Shorey states that much of the sweetened soda if not the whole of it, which is sold in this city, has not a particle of sugar in it, but is all sweetened with saccharine.

The Boer leaders have signed the terms of surrender, and Boer war came to a conclusion on Saturday, May 31. Dating from ex-President Krueger's ultimatum, the war commenced Oct. 11, 1899, though actual hostilities did not commence till some days later.

The complete pacification of a country which has been torn by war, and all the horrible concomitants of war, is no easy task. The material gains, if money is spent, as it will be spent, will soon be obliterated.

So Biting was pardoned in spite of remarks to the contrary. Contempt of court sentences will probably not be so heavy after this, and will be made to be adequate to the offence.

The great boxing match which concluded the day's sports of yesterday resulted in a draw. Whether such an exhibition is a good thing for a city is a question which can be argued pro and con.

John Ena's resignation from the presidency of the Inter-Island Steamship Company has been pending for some time. Mr. Ena has worked long and steadily upon the line, and his efforts have been attended by remarkable success.

The great coal strike was approaching a crisis when the mail left the coast. The labor organization has called out the engineers, pump men and firemen of the stationery engines.

VAUDEVILLE ARRIVE.

Cogill-Sutton Company Come on the Hongkong Maru.

The Cogill-Sutton vaudeville company arrived yesterday on the Hongkong Maru in readiness for their engagement, which opens at the Orpheum on Saturday evening. Harry Cogill, singer and comedian, returns to Honolulu after an absence of nearly fifteen years when he played here with Billy Emerson, now dead, on their way to Australia. Cogill appears with Marie Arlea in a little sketch entitled the Booking Agent which is said to be one of the hits of the show with its dances, songs and burlesque speech and actions.

Altro the Tramp has an act which is said to be unusually clever and abundant in novelties. He juggles with unexpected articles and has a fund of comedy besides which brings down the house. Rose Aquilino is billed as the bright, particular star of the aggregation. She is a contortionist of extraordinary capacity and has a faculty of balancing and supporting herself with hands and teeth that is stated to be both sensational and impossible to equal. At the Bijou in Sydney, the press gives her the loudest praise of what they otherwise called a first class company.

Certain Cure for Dyspepsia

When the digestive organs are in a healthy condition, these organs extract from the food all that goes to make good, rich blood, firm muscles, steady nerves, and a sound, healthy body. When irritated, congested or inflamed, they fail to do their work properly and less of flesh, shattered nerves, indigestion, sour stomach, flatulency and heart burn follow. Herein lies the cause of the failure of all remedies for dyspepsia heretofore placed on the market. Drugs will not and cannot digest food. They only decompose it, and decomposed food will not make pure blood or give health or strength to the body. The irritated stomach may be relieved for a time but the patient soon finds himself in a worse condition than before.

is Nature's remedy for dyspepsia. The most obstinate case of stomach trouble will be relieved at once and a speedy cure follows. It does it in a common sense way and because it is so simple you may believe it ineffective. We have never yet learned of a case where Taroenia failed to bring about good results. Only a few days ago a customer said: "I want to say a good word for your Taroenia. I had been troubled for some time with dyspepsia and suffered greatly. Tried different remedies to no purpose. One package of Taroenia has cured me. I have learned to like the food, too." Why not try it?

A crowd of fairly good proportions gathered, and here, as elsewhere, the national anthem was sung lustily. Two entries and many policemen guarded the historic message outside the War Office. It could scarcely be read by the cheering people passed on in eager crowds into the more eastern districts of London, where there were no illuminations such as made the clubs on Pall Mall noticeable.

"Good old Kitchener," and "We're bloomin' glad it's over," were among the phrases shouted by the crowds. A large number of those who had relatives at the front participated in tonight's street scenes, and left a serious and often pathetic touch to what would otherwise have been an amusing scene. "Dear old Bill," or some such name would be called out by some in the crowd, with an added "He'll soon be home."

LONDON, June 2.—The demand for accommodation of the House of Commons this afternoon to hear the statement of the First Lord of the Treasury and Government leader, A. J. Balfour, was unprecedented. Mr. Balfour arose at 2:30 p. m. and announced some of the terms of peace in South Africa as follows:

"His excellency, Lord Milner, his excellency, Mr. Strey, General Bromley, General C. D. DeWet and Judge Herzog, acting in behalf of the Orange Free State, and General Schalk-Burger, General Reitz, General Louis Botha and General Delarey, acting for their respective burghers, desiring to terminate the present hostilities, agree to the following terms:

"The burgher forces in the field will forthwith lay down their arms and hand over all their guns, rifles and ammunition to their possession or under their control, desist from further resistance and acknowledge King Edward VII as their lawful sovereign. The manner and details of this surrender will be arranged between Lord Kitchener and Commandant General Botha assisted by General Delarey and Commandant DeWet.

"Second—All burghers outside the limits of the Transvaal and Orange River Colony, and all prisoners of war at present outside South Africa, who are burghers, will, on duty declaring their acceptance of the position of subjects of His Majesty, be brought back to their homes as soon as means of transport can be provided and means of subsistence assured.

LONDON, June 1.—King Edward issued the following message to the public tonight: "The King has received the welcome news of the cessation of hostilities in South Africa with infinite satisfaction, and trusts that peace will be speedily followed by a restoration of prosperity in his new dominions, and that the feelings necessarily engendered by the war will give place to the earnest co-operation of all His Majesty's South African subjects in promoting the welfare of their common country.

PRETORIA, May 31, 11:15 p. m.—A document containing terms of surrender was signed here this evening at 10:30 o'clock by all the Boer representatives as well as by Lord Milner, the British Commissioner in South Africa and myself.—KITCHENER.

CHICAGO, June 1.—When Gen Paul Kruger was awakened at 9 o'clock tonight and informed of the peace news he exclaimed: "My God! It is impossible."

JOHNS HOPKINS.

Five new trustees of Johns Hopkins university have recently been elected to fill vacancies, some of which have existed for some time past. The new trustees who succeeded Benjamin F. Newcomer, J. Hall Pleasant, C. Morton Stewart and Dr. James Carey Thomas, deceased, are H. Brent Keyser, Blanchard Randall, Theodore Marburg, Bernard N. Baker and Francis M. Jencks.

ODD CUSTOMS.

The inhabitants of a village in Surrey, England, recently witnessed a quaint medieval survival in the sale by auction of a local meadow. Long ago, when the world was not so busy as it is today, the landlord of the "white brown meadow" at Bourne bequeathed the meadow subject to an auction sale which every now and again adds to the gaiety of this rural population. At each bid a boy sets out to run to a given point and the "white brown meadow" is let to the bidder whose offer is unchallenged when the last boy returns.

They have a candle-light auction at Warton in Warwickshire, England, where the right of grazing upon the roadside and the common lands is sold each year to the man who bids highest before the last flicker of a candle dies away. At the tallow candle burns the bidding begins, and the road surveyor, who acts as auctioneer, encourages the bidders with such phrases as "Get on, gentlemen, please; the light's burning."

SHOT ALLEGED LOVER

CHINESE TRIES TO KILL WIFE'S CONSORT.

Shot Alleged Despoiler Twice and then Surrendered Himself to the Authorities—Injured man may Die.

Because he thought that his wife had a lover, Chong Wai, a Chinese living on Vineyard street near Liliha adopted the western style of settling his domestic difficulties and went after the alleged despoiler of his home with a revolver. As the result of the attack, Ah Fong Kwai the alleged lover lies in a dangerous condition at the Queen's Hospital from the effect of a bad wound on the left side. Another bullet also struck him in the right shoulder.

The shooting occurred yesterday afternoon on Vineyard street. For some time past, the husband had been led to suspect his wife, who is named Ah Nin. His business takes him to the other islands and he learned that during his absence, Ah Fong had essayed the role of consort to the lady wife.

Chong warned the couple a number of times to desist from their conduct, but his warning was unheeded. In fact he went so far as to seek the aid of the police to punish the alleged guilty party. The warning was not served. Yesterday, Chong found the couple together in his house, so he secured a revolver and started for Ah Fong. The latter ran from the house with the enraged husband in pursuit. Chong fired five times at the running man. One shot struck Ah Fong in the right shoulder, another in the left side, two shots went wide and the fifth grazed the temple of a four-year old son of Chong Lai but did not injure him badly.

As soon as Chong saw his victim fall, he went to the police station and surrendered himself. The injured man was removed to the hospital. The alleged guilty wife was locked in the police station but no charge was made against her. Ah Fong is resting quietly at the hospital today. His assailant is to be held to await the effect of the pistol wounds. The wound in the left side is thought to be very dangerous. The doctors have been unable to locate the bullet.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

The Republican Territorial Central Committee held a short meeting on Tuesday evening. The resignation of Chairman J. A. Kennedy was received, and laid on the table for a week. It will probably be accepted at the next meeting as it is understood that Kennedy will not reconsider his withdrawal.

ELECTRICITY IN FARM WORK.

Agriculture is advancing by leaps and bounds, yet there is a tendency on the part of the men who control the farms of the country, speaking broadly, to extreme conservatism in the introduction of methods which to them seem violently revolutionary, yet which are the most important factors in the running of railway trains, or in any ordinary mechanical work, the moment the merits of the innovation were shown to be worthy. If there is one thought more important than another which should be taken into the mind of the farmer at this time—taken in with hospitality and given broad and deep consideration—it is that he is one of the most important factors in the world's advance, and that as such he should be, both in his mental attitude and in his daily practice, in the very van of progress. The electricity run farm is not altogether unknown, yet so infrequent is it that it is a curio. Yet it has been demonstrated that electricity as a motive power, and as a supply for light and heat, is the most safe, economical, cleanly, and convenient possible for the average farm. In France experiments with electricity indicate that it is possible and profitable to use it not only for the farm on which the plant is located, but that a large central plant may be made to serve several farms. Mons. Dieudonne, writing in a French scientific journal, says of electricity on the farm: "We may imagine that all work now done by hand could be executed more quickly and better by machinery," a conclusion certainly suggesting to farmers of large areas a way to meet and overcome the serious difficulties growing out of the scarcity of labor on the farm. The whole subject, in the large importance and interest, and agriculturalists, doubtless, would find that many grave problems might be solved through the general introduction of electricity.

A SERIOUS ERROR.

Visitor—Pardon my curiosity, my good man, but what are you in prison for? Prisoner—I am serving time for stealing $50.00 from the bank I worked for. Visitor—That was a sad mistake. Prisoner—I know it. Curse the day I didn't steal $100,000.—Ohio State Journal.

PERTINENT PEWS.

A contributor to the Kansas Churchman who recalls that in his boyhood people went to two and sometimes three services a day, sat on hard benches, and sang, "My God, the spring of all my joys," while now they lean back in cushioned pews and sing, "Art thou weary, art thou languid," thinks that hymnology is changing to suit the times.

ARCHAEOLOGY.

An excavation of the Indian shell mounds about San Francisco is about to be made by the archaeological department of the University of California. At various times skeletons and other remains have been taken from these mounds, but they have never been examined by archaeologists, and their age has never been fixed.

LOCATING THE STRANGER.

"The new man in our office," said the railroad man, "was an unusually quiet sort of a chap, and as he didn't seem disposed to take any of us into his confidence, we didn't question him much. A slight southern flavor in what little he had to say led us to believe that he was from down the way somewhere, but we curbed our curiosity as to where he came from, at least as far as he was concerned, and took it out in speculating on it among ourselves. "One day, when we were all digging into things on our desks, the fire on a bicycle in the rack outside burst with the report most of us were familiar with. Up jumps the new man, and rushing toward the door excitedly, shouts: "Somebody's shot!" "When we told him what it was and quieted him down, I walked over to his desk and asked: "What part of Texas did you come from, sir?" "Beaumont," he said; "what made you think I came from Texas?"

THE CHILDREN.

An adult may be at once thin and healthy, but a baby, or a young child, should be plump, and well covered with fat. Yet how many gaunt, emaciated, thin-blooded babies and children we see, chiefly because the nutritive machinery of their bodies is in some way out of order. Or they may be scrofulous or the victims of some subtle wasting disease. Nauseous and bad-tasting medicine is objectionable and a horror to children. No doubt its frequent lack of good effect is, at least, partly due to the disgust it excites in them—the shock to the system. This is true of cod liver oil in the form of the ordinary old-fashioned mixtures so often forced upon them. The old terror of this valuable, yet offensive drug vanishes with the transformation it has undergone in WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION which is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and the Extracts of Mall and Wild Cherry. In building up pale, puny, emaciated children, particularly those troubled with Anemia, Scrofula, Kieket, and Bone and Blood diseases, nothing equals it. Its tonic qualities are of the highest order. It creates new blood, strong muscles, sound teeth, solid bones, and enables them to grow up into healthy men and women. A Medical Institution says: "We have used your preparation in treating children for coughs, colds and inflammation; its application has never failed us in any case, even the most aggravated bordering on pneumonia. The children like it, they love the taste of it, it looks good to them, and it builds up their bodies; many little children owe their lives to it." Effective from the first dose. Sold by chemists.

THE GREAT DESIDERATUM. "At last," said the great scientist, "I have fully established communication with Mars. What great question shall I submit to them first?" "Ask them," said the young woman promptly, "if they have discovered a comfortable and suitable bicycle costume for girls that is also attractive."—Chicago Post.

HIGH VALUES NOW. Professional burglars entered the home of Dr. Quackling some time last night and broke open the doctor's steel safe, securing a fine soup-bone that the doctor valued highly.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The wonderful Al Vista Panoram Camera is advertised and sold by Honolulu Photo Supply Co., illustrated catalogue given free.

The American Margi was sighted off Waialeale this afternoon at 1:35 p. m. today. She is from San Francisco and has four days later mail and news.

The Pacific Tennis Club members have a quiet little smoker, limited to members only, at their club headquarters this evening. A most interesting program has been arranged.

The Fourth of July committees will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the board rooms of the Bank of Hawaii. The heads of committees will be able to make almost final reports and the program will be practically made up.

Correction—in a part of today's issue the time of Weller and Del Vista in the dead heat for the Kosta cup at Kapiolani park by a typographical error, is given as 1:43 2-5, when it should be 1:42 2-5. It is given in most of the edition, the error having been discovered while the paper was on the press.

FRUIT FROM KAUI

United States Agriculture Commissioner James Smith is sending for seeds for the fruiting of the mango. One of his orders, the Government has received to have the business printed, issued in at Washington. Owing to the long distance and delay in having samples printed at Washington, many of them might be useless by the time they appeared if sent to the capital to be printed.

The commissioner has been having pictures made of some fine samples of mangosteens, sent from Honolulu, of Kauai. The mangosteen is a rare tropical fruit, occurring very rarely in Hawaii, and commonly referred to as the "fruit of the tropics." Gay and one specimen to Commissioner Wray Taylor. The fruit is about the size of an apple, is dark in color, and according to one authority has a taste "like the smell of a pineapple." One of the samples was presented to Secretary Cooper, who recently wrapped it up and took it home. Taylor has the other mangosteens. Who is to finally have the pleasure of eating it and passing upon its qualities remains to be seen.

Jared Smith says that the mangosteen sells in London for from a dollar to a dollar and a quarter each. Trees have been known to bear as many as 200 of the fruit, at which rate the growth of mangosteen appears to be a profitable business.

"There are a few trees about the islands," said Smith. "I saw some in Oahu and there are several on this island. The tree requires plenty of heat and no moisture, and cannot be grown in any part of the mainland. It is exported from the Straits from the British West Indies and other like places, and is a rare delicacy. There would be no difficulty in selling plenty of the fruit in Europe or the states, if it could be transported."

THE FANNIE KERR.
A second inquiry into the abandonment of the bark Fannie Kerr was held this morning at the residence of His Britannic Majesty's Consul W. R. Hoare. All the nine and twenty hands signed papers setting forth the abandonment to be justifiable, and it was so found and reported to the Board of Trade. There will be no inquiry into the alleged desertion of the crew of the rig by the mate. The men told contradictory stories and the consul dismissed the affair. The men will probably be given checks on the owners, payable at Liverpool. This will be determined tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. The consul sent a representative to see the men decently refted with clothing.
