

important dates

Friday 26 June 2009: Submission of papers and proposals

Friday 28 August 2009: Notification of acceptance

ANZAM/ANZMAC keynote speaker

Professor Tim Flannery is an internationally acclaimed writer, scientist and explorer who was named Australian of the Year 2007 in recognition of his contribution to the environment and other fields. Professor Flannery has published more than 130 scientific papers and has written many books, including his recent bestseller The Weather Makers: The History & Future Impact of Climate Change. He is currently Adjunct Professor in the Division of Environmental and Life Sciences at Macquarie University, as well as chairman of the SA Premier's Science Council and Sustainability Roundtable, a director of the Australian Wildlife Conservancy, and the National Geographic Society's representative in Australasia. He is also an active member of the Wentworth Group of Concerned Scientists, which reports independently to government on environmental issues of concern to Australians.

At the conclusion of the combined program on Wednesday 2 December, all delegates are invited to a special reception at the National Gallery of Victoria (NGV) International, St Kilda Road.

Since 1861, the National Gallery of Victoria has been displaying art works for the enjoyment of the community. In the mid-1990s, the gallery acknowledged that its St Kilda Road building could no longer successfully meet the demands of its growing collection and extensive exhibitions schedule. The Collection is now split between The Ian Potter Centre: NGV Australia at Federation Square, home of Australian art and NGV International at St Kilda Road, the new redeveloped building dedicated to the gallery's magnificent international artworks.

combined trade exhibition and sponsorship opportunities

A combined trade exhibition featuring new products will be a key event running across both conferences.

Numerous other sponsorship opportunities will be provided to organisations that wish to take advantage of the exposure to either or both conference participants.

The venue, Crown Promenade offers first class facilities for hosting an exhibition and displays in close proximity to all delegates.

Exhibition and sponsorship enquiries should be directed to the conference organisers: Promaco Conventions Pty Ltd, Ph: +61 8 9332 2900, Fax: +61 8 9332 2911, Email: promaco@promaco.com.au

Australian and New Zealand Marketing Academy

Australian and New Zealand Academy of Management

ANZMAC is of interest to marketing researchers, managers, students, educators, scholars and practitioners from Australia and New Zealand primarily, plus other parts of the world. Modelled on the European Marketing Academy, ANZMAC was formed in 1998, having evolved from the growing interaction between Australian and New Zealand marketing educators over preceding years. The major impetus for its formation was a recognition of the need to improve marketing research and teaching practice in the South Pacific.

ANZMAC call for papers and workshops

All papers must be submitted electronically by Friday 26 June 2009. Competitive papers must be submitted for review in only one track. Where multiple entries of the same paper are received, the Proceedings Chair will nominate the track in which it will be reviewed. Full details of the online submission process will be provided at www.anzmac.org

Papers must conform to the format instructions and will be subjected to formal double blind peer review. Authors will be notified of acceptance, rejection and/or suggested modifications, as soon as the review process has been completed. Decisions by Track Chairs are final. Acceptance of the paper requires that at least one author must attend the conference and present the paper. No author may present more than two papers. Accepted presenters are expected to pay and register for the ANZMAC 2009 conference during the Earlybird registration period.

Reviewers for ANZMAC 2009 will judge all manuscripts on the basis of their contributions to the development of marketing thought, marketing science or marketing practice. Papers will be judged on their overall quality and their contribution to the theme of the conference.
