Landographix

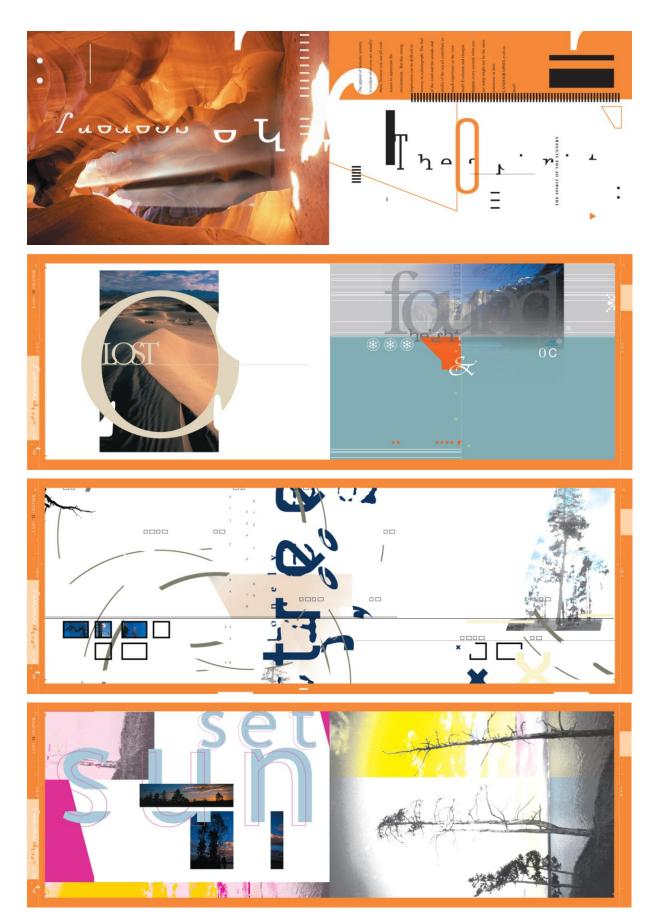

Design by Yoong Wah Alex Wong and Didem Çarikçi Wong

A photographic study with nature through design: Landographix is a blend of graphical elements and typographic explorations over landscape photography. It is a unique combination and experimental design mixture of a designer and a photographer perspectives. The typographic experimentation aims to enhance and diversify the meaning of the landscape photographs, to present the imagery from the designer's view while causing a manipulation. Patterns, rhythms and textures as elements of nature reshapes insight, essence, composition and structure through design elements.
