

The Lak Language – Лаккы маз

A Quick Reference

Author: Wolfgang Schulze (IATS, LMU Munich) // © 2007 [second (augmented and corrected) version]

Note: This overview does not represent a full coverage of Lak. The reader should at any rate refer to the bibliography given at the end of this presentation. The sections on morphosyntax and syntax conform to what can be called the ‘typological format’ as used in standard functional descriptions of language. Also note that a number of Lak grammatical categories are a matter of dispute. The view taken in this presentation does not necessarily reflect the opinion of others doing research on Lak! All possible errors are mine!

2.7 Verb

2.7.1 Basic characteristics

- * TAM: Tripartite system: PAST vs. PRES vs. FUT (gerund-participle-/infinitive-based)
- * Strong tendency towards analytic TAM constructions
- * Class agreement
- * Hierarchic person agreement marking (floating personal agreement markers (fPAM))
- * Prefixing (class and (older) preverbs) – suffixing (TAM) – clitisizing (fPAM)
- * Aspect/aktionsart opposition via stem formation
- * (Historically): Transitive/Intransitive distinction via thematic vowels (-a-/-i- vs. *-u-)

2.7.2 Basic pattern of synthetic TAM-forms

	Unmarked -Ø-	Progressive -l- † (following the root) *-n- / *-r-	Iterative -aw- (following the root) Suppletion Underived [† Historically an Antipassive marker]
Option
CL	PAST yes	PRES in parts	FUT in parts
fPAM
Marker	in parts	in parts	in parts
Options	-n(u)	-a(y) Stem suppletivism Change of -C in root	-an (=Infinitive) Stem suppletivism Change of -C in root

Example čič-, to write'

PAST	či-CL-ču-nu	či-CL-č-lu-nu	či-CL-č-awu-nu
PRES	čič-ay	čič-l-ay	čič-aw-ay
FUT	čič-an-	čič-l-an-	čič-aw-an-

- nu > past forms
-ay > present, past, conditional, potential, imperative
-Vn (infinitive base) > future, optative, conditional

Underived progressive stems (examples):

- č:van ‘want’
t'un ‘say’
x:an ‘seem’
zun ‘work’

Some verbs lack a non-progressive:

š:aran ‘boil’
šanan ‘sleep’
zanan ‘walk’

Placement of -l-marker (durative, progressive):

1. Historically (C)VC-roots: (C₁)VC₂-la-C₂-

CL-it-	>	CL-it-la-t-	‘let’
las-	>	las-la-s-	‘take’
bus-	>	bus-la-s-	‘say’

2. Historically C-roots: C-l(a)-

č-ič-	>	či-č-la-	‘write’
--------------	---	-----------------	---------

Opposition Confirmative vs. Inferential/Dubitative (-k:ar-):

na čič-ay-s:a-ra čağar (Conf. Present, non-progressive)
I:ABS write-PRES-ASS-SAP:SG letter:ABS
‘I do write a letter’

na či-č-ay u-nu-k:ar čağar (Past)
I:ABS write-PRES I:be:PRES-DUB letter:ABS
‘Apparently, I write a letter.’

,Apparential’ (it seems to X): Construction based: Participle (-s:a) + x:ay CL-u-fPAM

na duš čağar čič-l-ay b-u-s:a x:-ay u-ra
I:ABS girl letter write-DUR-PRES III-be:PRES-PART seem-PRES I:be:PRES-SAP:SG
‘it seems to me that the girl is writing a letter.’

Imperative

Transitive: -a or -i

Intransitive: -u

E.g.,

busan	IMP bus-i	'say'
lasun	IMP las-i	'take'
bačin	IMP bač-u	'go'
lač'un	IMP lač'-u	'fix oneself'

Note: Durative > Intransitive

buslan	IMP bus-la-s-u	'say:DUR'
laslan	IMP las-la-s-u	'take:DUR'

Imperative Stem:	2sg -Ø	2pl -(ya)ra	Hortative (3sg/pl) -ča
-------------------------	-------------------------	------------------------------	---

Prohibitive: ma- + -ara -ari

Position of -ma-: Prefixing (e.g. ma-čič-ari ‘do not write (pl!)’ or endoclitic (e.g. či-ma-č-ari)

Interrogative (polar questions): -w (e.g. ina u-w-k’(u)-ra-w? ‘did you (sg.) come?’
ta uč’-ay-wa-w ‘does (s)he come?’)

Negation: q:a-

Position of q:a-: Prefixing (e.g. q:a-b-i-w-k'u-nu ‘it wasn’t’)

Endoclitic (e.g. či-q-a-ču-nu b-u-r ‘has not written’)

2.7.4 Light verbs/Auxiliaries used to derive analytic TAM forms and diathesis:

1. CL-u- (pres) - CL-i- (past) / Negative copula: -q:a-

e.g.	čí-w-ču-nu write-III-$:PAST-PAST 'has written.'	b-u-r III-be:PRES-nSAP
-------------	--	----------------------------------

či-w-ču-nu	b-i-ya
write-III-$:PAST-PAST	III-be:PAST
‘had written.’

2. CL-a- (pres) - CL-u- (past) > Causatives

3. CL-i-CL-k'- ‘become’ > Inchoative

4. xun ~ ša- (durative qanan, iterative šawan) > Anticausative

5. uč'in (past ku-) ‘say’ > Factitive

2.7.5 Class marking (S, A, or O):

1. Historically basic verb stems:

- a. CV(C)- > Ø-
b. VC- > CL-VC

2. Historically derived verb stems (old preverbs or reduplication):

- a. CVC- > CV-CL-C-
b. V-C- > CL-V-CL-C-

Example for 2b.: -i-k' ‘become’

	Reconstructed	Actual form
I	*w-i-w-k'	Ø-i-w-k'
II	*r-i-r-k'	d-i-r-k'
III	*b-i-b-k'	b-i-w-k'
IV	*d-i-d-k'	d-i-r-k'

Note: Second part of discontinuous lexeme is glossed by ‘$’ (!):
