ABSTRACT

Foreign law system (especially the Dutch system) which is mostly used as the Indonesian law system has also influenced a typical use of the Indonesian language in law. The use of key terms, sentences, and the law discourse is closely related to its source. To interpret the language use in law; therefore, one needs to know several strategies. The interpretation of language use in law may function to determine the meaning and purpose of law registers. Besides, the interpretation can also be done by determining the linguistic elements _ phrases and clauses_ as sentence former and by determining key words to identify the content of law discourse.

Key words: law registers, linguistic elements, teks, wacana hukum, dan KUHP.
