Re: Division Awards

I came across some prior memos from Kathy and Meda about the awards committee. I thought it might be helpful to resend them to you for context. Happy Holidays.

"Meda" - 11/90

Awards Committee

The committee that will be developing a series of awards for our Division in addition to identifying nominees for ASC awards. The committee will be convened by Sue Mahan, Vice Chair and will include Kayleen Richards-Ekeh, Nicole Hahn Rafter, and Kathleen Daly. A major task will be the identification of the types of awards we wish to confer, the number, and the procedures for the creation of these awards. Kathy has already learned that we can confer awards as long as we seek ASC approval for our choices. She will be developing a new ASC award and will use this information to help our committee in its work.

"Kathy" - 1/91

3. AWARDS COMMITTEE. My notes show that I would send members of the Awards Committee a copy of my memo to members of this year's Committee. I am not sure why I thought this was a good idea, but hmmm, there must something....

The more pressing task was to think about a new award or awards that the Division would confer. We should just move on this--identify an award, think about how often to confer it (or them), the process to do so, and the like.

As is the case in other areas, the Division will be breaking ground for other section's activities--and the links of authority and veto between the ASC and section activities. We can talk more about how to proceed, but my plan would be to create a plan for an award (name, how often, purpose, etc.), and bring it before the ASC Board FIRST for their approval. THEN, we can put the Committee into operation without wondering whether there will be problems with the concept of the award. [NOTE: I wonder if we should start with two awards--it may be a good idea to be able to GIVE an award, even if we may not want to give one in a particular year.]

ACTION: We need to discuss this one before setting the Committee into action.

Dear Carole:

Hi. Happy New Year, thanks for all your notes, and congratulations on getting the UN post. Sounds like things are going really well for you!

I have some news... I'm pregnant! The baby is due in September. I'm very excited. One ramification of this, however, is that whenever possible I am trying to get rid of work commitments I already have and not take on any new ones. I've decided to stay on the ASC nominations committee (for the whole ASC) as I've been told that otherwise our interests won't be represented very well and I'm not happy with who I've been told would likely replace me if I got off. On the other hand, I think that someone else can chair the Division's nominations committee. I did it last year; it's got to be someone else's turn. I'll serve on the committee if you want, but I won't chair it.

On other matters, I feel strongly that you, Susan, and Gary need to push for presenting a report in the November meetings, not submitting a report in the mid-year meetings. The original idea was to have divisions' voices heard at board meetings... submitting a prepared report only adds to your burden without really accomplishing anything. We don't want to be reporting to the board (although we may word it that way to get in); we want them to listen to us! If you end up writing a report, I would stress sessions organized by the division, award nominations by the division, work on sexual harassment, the crack mom policy position paper, and other high profile items.

I guess we should join the DCC and put up money for the child care project, but I have always maintained (long before I got pregnant myself!) that the ASC as a body should be paying for this and doing the legwork; it should not be defined as a special interest issue. The ASC has plenty of money; let it pay. I think we should have an ad hoc committee to work on a sexual harassment policy. I also suggest you send Del a listing of people who could serve on various committees. I did that informally for John Hagan and it worked very well... I gave him a two page list of people and suggested committee assignments. In it, I listed several untenured people together and said by their names "Give them something that will look good on a vita but not be too time-consuming. These are good junior people we want to help get involved." My experience is that people are always glad to have you do their work for them... if you send in a list, most of the names will be used. I still support the idea of having Betsy do a workshop, but it needs to be advertised in advance. I don't think that her enthusiasm appears strident, but we can ask her to tone it down if you are nervous. Anything I forgot? Feel free to get in touch if there is.

As for DCC recommendations for awards and fellows... I like all their suggestions. I know the folks, and they are all very good (note there's a misspelling on Rosa del Olmo's name (for Sellin-Glueck award)--it is Olmo, not Almo. You should have a separate Awards committee and Fellows committee, don't dump all that on Nominations. That would become onerous. There are over 250 members of the division; more people can do work.

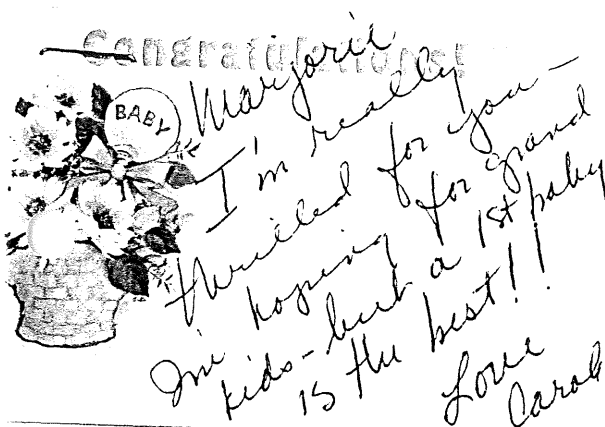

Oh, a final thing. I should have corrected Meda long ago when she started calling me Marge, because now it seems others in the Division are starting to do the same. I really don't like that name, please call me Marjorie. Thanks!

Talk to you later. I'll still be available as a sounding board and to help out as needed, but whenever someone else can do the work, I'd like to sit out for a year.

Take care,

Marjorie S. Zatz

Dear Marjorie:

I just returned from Florida and got your letter--Congratulations!! I guess I don't think of colleagues as moms (since I'm at the grandma age) but I am thrilled for you and appreciate your wanting a year off!

Of course giving you a year off is not easy for me since I've come to count on you but we will manage. I can't tell you how much I appreciate your letter and advice. Let me just quickly fill you in on work to date:

1. Susan, Gary and I are sending a letter to request in-person board presence at the annual meeting but I at least will respond to Al's request for a report this year.
2. We are giving $100 along with DCC to child care--on the advise of Kathy Daly. Ultimately ASC should pay so our shot is hopefully only symbolic of the issue's importance.
3. I'm still waiting for Del's response to my request for his suite to continue our SH dialogue; Betsy will probably do something in New Orleans and we will not bring in an outside person.
4. I've written to Charles Wellford about the Ad Hoc Committee on SH mostly out of courtesy--but I think that's the way we will proceed.
5. Nominations--I sent Virginia, Morris Meda, Molly, Merry and Doris MacKensie a note to see about your replacement and to move the process along WHO DO WE HAVE TO NOMINATE THIS YEAR?
6. I'll check on the fellows and awards committees and see what's up.

Take care of yourself and keep in touch. Thank you for everything.

Re: Division elections

We have to come up with a slate for the following:

Vice Chair
Secretary/Treasurer
(3) Executive Counselors

It has been suggested that the Vice Chair be someone who has presence and visibility in ASC. The Secretary-Treasurer needs the obvious skills and ability to attend the annual ASC meetings.

Executive counselors are really positions which provide visibility and motivation for newer members to get more involved (as well as a good professional activity for resumés).

I'd like to divide up the responsibilities of the committee as follows:

Nominations for Secretary/Treasurer,
Virginia Morris and Meda Chesney-Lind

Nominations for Executive Counselors (at least 3) S. Molly Chaudhuri and Merry Morash

You might want to look at the list of members on the various Division committees that appears in the attached November mega-memo. That should give you a starting point, but of course feel free to add anyone else. As soon as you have recruited a candidate(s) please get a brief bio and send the information on to me.

If you are unable to do this in the next several weeks, please advise me so we can ask someone else to take up the task. I would like the slate no later than April 1st.

I am planning to contact some people about the Vice Chair position and will share with you the names of those willing to run for the position. If you have some other suggestions or willing candidates let me know ASAP.

Dear Carol,

Thanks so much for calling me and rousing me to action re: the Fellows letter. It was easy to revise it and send it off to Ray Paternoster, which I did on Friday (before you called back to say I didn't need to!) I also had another letter for Nicky Rafter, and that's why I was calling you. But I decided to wait until next year since I didn't have Nicky's vitae to send Ray.

On the Women's Division awards, I wanted to talk with you about that. Last week, I decided not to work on the project this year, which I feel badly about. But I simply cannot justify doing it, in light of the uncertainty of my finding a job and so many other commitments. I should not have signed up to do it at the November meeting. It's more than I can do now, and after talking with Carole Garrison, I realized that Division members have quite different ideas about what constitutes the sorts of awards we want to give.

I can offer some thoughts and a sense of what needs to be done, and perhaps we can brainstorm to find another person to work with you -- perhaps a more senior person or one with some experience in this area.

On what needs to be done, it's clear after my conversation with Carole Garrison that the Division Awards Committee needs to present a plan to the Division Executive Board. And let that Board discuss what the awards should be for. As one example of "difference," I am interested to give awards to good scholarship and research, whereas Carole is interested* in affirming people for other reasons. Also, on the process of selecting and evaluating people, we had different models. She liked the idea of an "outside panel" who didn't know the nominated people, but was judging them on the basis of ... I'm not sure what all might be in a file -- that would have to be worked out.

So, as you can see, there's much to consider here, and frankly, I don't have the emotions to deal with it. Let's talk on the phone about who could step in and get involved in this and move forward with you. You can't do it alone, and you can't spend too much time on this. We need people with tenure who don't have to worry about finding a job or writing another publication. But, where are they? Neither you nor I fit that bill, and we should be careful with our time.

*as well, a more so,

Best regards,

Kathleen Daly
Associate Professor

cc: Carole Garrison

→ Carole G.: I may have misrepresented your thinking on the awards here -- but the general idea is that there are quite different models in our heads about what we want to give awards for and how. I'm probably in the more stogey, traditional camp, and have had less experience in women's organizations in comparison to you. I'll work with Carol Thompson on finding a replacement, but you may also have some ideas. I decided last week, after yet another job rejection letter, that I have to keep myself focused on finding a job -- and that must be my priority now. I do think that this Division Awards committee should consider a range of options for awards and the process, and have the Division Executive Board discuss them.

Re: Proposal to change structure and process of nominating committees

Please review Nicki Rafter's suggestion for restructuring the various nominating committees. I've made a minor change and divided up the ASC and Division nominating committees.

I would appreciate comments, additions etc. as soon as you can get to it--say by April.

All committees (ASC Fellows; ASC Awards; Division Awards; Division Nominations; ASC Nominations) would be for three years and have three members. (The first 3 years one member would have a 1 year term; one would have a 2 year term; and one a 3 year term and the chair would be passed on to each starting with the person having the 1 year term. Afterwards the member in the last year of her term would be the chair.

Members of the committee should compile their lists of possible nominees well before the November meetings, recycling some, adding new names, writing for fresh resumes as necessary, and composing the biographical blurbs that accompany our suggestions, ~~to the general ASC Awards Comm.~~ This way, we would be able to re-use old materials and update them without undue, last minute haste.

Deadlines for the committees are as follows:

ASC Nominations _____ ? Summer
ASC Fellows _____ ? Jan 15
ASC Awards _____ ? Jan 15
Division Awards _____ ? Sept 15
Division Nominees Sept. 1 April 1

Does anyone have more details on the various committees? P.J. can you send me a copy of our By-Laws? Thanks.

Dear Kathy,

Got your CC today and I don't think you misrepresented my thoughts at all. I'm somewhat concerned that we aren't moving ahead on the Division awards and fervently hope you and Carol will find someone for her to work with. Even "stodgy" awards are better than no awards and we have to start somewhere.

The exec. comm. could ruminate over a model and approve something prior to Nov. '92. Then we could solicit nominations at the annual meeting for Nov. '93. I had wanted to give awards this year but I'm not insensitive to everyone's personal concerns and priorities.

I'd certainly be willing to write a draft of my ideas and share them with the committee if they want it. Let me know how I might help (with awards or jobs).

Subject: March Update

Well March 1st has come and gone but not without much news about the activities of various committees which I will respond to individually. I am most grateful to the following:

- Chris Rasche: newsletter
- Lynn Goodstein: special events
- Carol Thompson: fellows awards
- Margory Zatz: nominations
- Mona Danner: students/curr. guide
- Betsy Stanko: sexual harassment
- Meda Chesney-Lind: everything
- Kathy Daly: everything
- Drew Humphries: criminalization of pregnancy
- Imogene Moyer: NWSA women & crime task force
- Nicole Rafter: ASC Awards
- Claire Renzetti: Lesbian issues

However, I have not heard from some of the other committees. I am struggling to try and figure out how to make our "national network" function more effectively and enable people to participate more actively. To that end I am asking all standing committee and task force chairs to prepare standing rules and a time line or annual calendar. If we can prepare and distribute this brief job description and list of tasks and deadlines then I think volunteers will be better able to take the initiative to accomplish their jobs. I would like drafts to these "standing rules", or something equivalent, by Sept. 1, 1992.

I am attaching an example of the type of information I would like us to develop for the Division. Please send your suggestions or comments on either this model or another method of "jump starting" our committees.

In the meantime I still need an update from the following:

- Sue Mahan: mentoring
- Laura Fishman: Panel on Invisibility
- Helen Eigenberg: Outreach
- Brenda Miller: Non-Univ. Research ~~Interim~~ Group
- Sathi Dasgupta: Women of color task force
- Anna Kuhl: letters of support for Anita Hill

STANDING RULES OF THE
WOMEN'S HISTORY PROJECT OF THE AKRON AREA, INC.

SECTION A. RELATIONSHIP WITH THE UNIVERSITY OF AKRON

1. The University of Akron Women's Studies Program is co-sponsor of the Women's History Project annual Community Event.
2. The Director of Women's Studies serves as a permanent member of the WHP Board of Trustees. (BYLAWS: Article V, Sections 2 and 3).
3. Women's History Project mailing and secretarial work is handled through the Women's Studies Program. Direct costs (copies, postage and supplies) are billed back to WHP for reimbursement.
4. The Women's Studies Program receives a complimentary full page ad in the annual WHP program book.
5. The Women's Studies Program is responsible for the WHP membership fee.

SECTION B. RELATIONSHIP WITH THE NATIONAL WOMEN'S HISTORY PROJECT

1. Within one month after the annual program, the President or her designee will send a package of information covering the project's activities for the past year to:

National Women's History Project
7738 Bell Road
Windsor, CA 95492

2. At minimum, this package should contain the program book and other appropriate materials.

SECTION C. PARTICIPATING ORGANIZATIONS

1. An annual fee of $15.00 shall be paid to the treasurer of the Women's History Project by each participating organization to establish or maintain its membership in the Women's History Project. The amount to be paid will be reviewed annually by the Board of Trustees and may be changed by vote of the trustees.
2. Each member group is required to sell a certain number of tickets each year for the "Women of the Year" community event, the number to be specified each year by the Board of Trustees.

SECTION C. PARTICIPATING ORGANIZATIONS (Continued)

3. Member organizations will be the only source of nominations for "Women of the Year" awards. Forms will be supplied by WHP.
4. Each organization may nominate one of its members as its "Organizational Woman of the Year" and the list of such honorees will be included in the official Women's History Project Program Book for that year.
5. Each participating group is asked to schedule the annual Women's History Project Community Event as its group activity for the month of March.

SECTION D. BOARD OF TRUSTEES

1. Each board member of the Women's History Project must be a member in good standing of at least one member organization. (BYLAWS, Article IV).
2. Each board member must serve on at least one committee.
3. Board members are expected to attend all board meetings. If they cannot be present, they are expected to notify either the president or the secretary before the meeting.

SECTION E. COMMITTEES

1. The chair of each standing committee should prepare a proposed agenda for the year and submit it to the president by August 15.
2. The chairs of standing committees must be members of the board of the Women's History Project, but others may be invited to serve on the committees whether or not they are currently affiliated with the "Project."

SECTION F. WOMEN'S HISTORY MONTH

Each March the Women's History Project observes Women's History month by sponsoring three major activities:

1. The "Women of the Year" awards ceremony, for which the Steering Committee is responsible. (Section G - Standing Rules).
2. Education project in the schools, which is the responsibility of the Education Committee. (Section J - Standing Rules).
3. Historical research, spotlighting the history of women and their achievements through publications, exhibits, driving tour, et cetera, with special emphasis on the contributions of women of the Akron area.

SECTION G. STEERING COMMITTEE (WOMEN OF THE YEAR AWARDS)

1. Each participating organization may appoint one of its members to serve as its liaison on the Steering Committee. The chair must be from the WHP board.

2. The Steering Committee plans the annual "Women of the Year" awards ceremony, including:

Arranging for speaker or program, location, and date, after approval by the WHP board.

Establishing deadline for nominations, with appropriate mailings to participating organizations inviting them to submit nominations.

Presenting, at the Committee's option, a workshop on "Writing a Winning Nomination."

Arranging for printing of posters, flyers, program book, and related promotional aids.

Selling advertising in program book.

Handling all aspects of public relations and promotion of the annual awards, including press releases to all media.

Establishing guidelines for Information Fair, if applicable.

Purchasing awards and preparing them for presentation.

3. The Steering Committee should present its proposed budget to the Women's History Project board for action at the September meeting. The Steering Committee's initial budget will encumber no more than thirty per cent of existing WHP general funds and the committee may spend up to ninety per cent of newly generated funds, the remaining ten per cent to go back into the general fund.

SECTION H. JUDGES (WOMEN OF THE YEAR AWARDS)

1. The president of the Women's History Project shall be responsible for selecting judges, and assuring that they receive proper and complete instructions and that they can meet the necessary deadlines.
2. Judges must be from an Ohio city outside Summit County.
3. No city should be returned to within a period of four years.
4. Judges should reflect the cultural diversity of the member organizations of the Project.

SECTION H. JUDGES (Continued)

5. The panel should consist of five to seven judges plus one chief judge who acts as an administrator for the judging panel, records scores, and can break ties.
6. Judges should receive nominations at least ten weeks prior to the community event and have a deadline of six weeks to complete the process.

SECTION I. AWARDS

1. The annual "Women of the Year" awards will be made in the following categories:

CATEGORY	NAMED FOR	DESCRIPTION
Courage	Sojourner Truth	For a woman who was undaunted in the face of adversity.
Creativity	Rita Dove	For a woman who shows the quality of being imaginative rather than imitative.
Faith	Minnie J. Ellet	For having beliefs or convictions that led her to act on behalf of a worthy ideal.
Imagination	Marietta Evaline Atwood	For a woman who demonstrated originality or enterprise in worthwhile pursuits.
Initiative	Sister Mary Ignatia Gavin	For a woman who seized the opportunity to create something that would not have come about without her efforts.
Inspiration	Judith A. Resnik	For a woman who inspired others to go beyond or to challenge the norm.
Integrity	Margaret Chapman Barnhart	For having a firm adherence to a moral or artistic code.

Perseverance	Elizabeth A. Thompson	For a woman who was insistent and steadfast over a period of time in achieving her goal(s).
Pioneer	Mary Perkins Raymond	For a woman who paved the way for others to follow.
Woman to Watch		For a young woman, 24 years or younger, who is outstanding because she displayed any one or combination of the above nine virtues.

Awards shall be based on living or working in Summit County.

Starting in 1990, each winner receives a porcelain sculpture, "The Awakening," by Sister Evangeline Doyle, O.P., appropriately marked with name, date, and award category.

2. The Women's Hall of Fame Posthumous Award is awarded to an individual who achieved eminence in any field of endeavor and who had been a resident of Summit County. Not more than two such awards will be made each year, for inclusion in a permanent memorial to local women's history.

Nominators of the women selected for this award will be expected to share the financial cost of the permanent exhibit, approximately $500 per winner, and to contribute memorabilia to the archives whenever possible.

Nominations for this award are not limited to members of the Women's History Project; anyone may make a nomination in this category.

3. The Board of Trustees may from time to time nominate, for induction in the National Inventors Hall of Fame, American women who have received patents for inventions of major significance and whose contributions are deemed worthy of such recognition.
4. The Board of Trustees may from time to time nominate women to the National Women's Hall of Fame, whether or not they are from the Akron area.
5. The Board of Trustees may from time to time nominate outstanding Ohio women to the Ohio Women's Hall of Fame, or other appropriate award programs.

SECTION J. EDUCATION COMMITTEE

SECTION K. FINANCES

1. The fiscal year is July 1 through June 30.
2. All checks on WHP account require two signatures. All contracts require the signatures of both the president and the treasurer.
3. The treasurer shall be responsible for making sure that the 501 (c) 3 status is maintained and that all necessary reports are filed.
4. There will be an annual audit by an accountant.
5. A special fund has been designated for the future endowment of the Akron Women's Hall of Fame, with the initial deposit of $2,500 authorized by the trustees in meeting on May 8, 1989. Interest earned will accumulate in the account and additional funds may be added after vote of the Board of Trustees.
6. The treasurer shall present an annual budget to cover the activities of the Women's History Project board as well as the Steering Committee for approval by the Board of Trustees not later than September.
7. More than one bid must be received for any item or service costing more than $500. The Women's History Project will give special consideration to women-owned businesses in asking for bids and when prices and services offered are equal, the women-owned businesses will be given preference.
8. The treasurer shall report at least quarterly to the Board of Trustees and shall distribute an annual report to the trustees and all participating organizations.

SECTION L. FUND RAISING

1. The Fund Raising Committee is responsible for contacting state, regional, and local foundations, government funding sources, business organizations and individuals for contributions. The Fund Raising Committee also is responsible for advertising income from the Program Book, and for monies from block ticket sales and the annual ticket phone-a-thon.
2. Whenever a professional fund-raiser is hired, it is on the basis of percentage of gross rather than a flat fee.

SECTION L. FUND RAISING (Continued)

3. If funds are raised for a specific project (e.g. Education, Self-Guided History Tour) the funds must be expended for that project and cannot be used for other purposes or the general fund without action by the board.
- * 4. The Fund Raising Committee must work with the treasurer to prepare a projection of anticipated income for the July projected budget for each fiscal year.
5. The Fund Raising Chair must insure that all required forms and reports are submitted in a timely fashion to funding sources.
6. The Fund Raising Chair must acknowledge all contributions in the program book and by individual thank you letters.
7. The Fund Raising Committee's time line is as follows:
- |            |  |
|------------|--|
| July       | Submits estimates of projected income to treasurer.                      |
| October    | Fund-raising letters sent to foundations, individuals and organizations. |
| November 1 | Letter sent to program book advertisers, with December 30 deadline.      |
| January    | Letter to block ticket buyers.   |
| February   | Ticket phone-a-thon.   |

SECTION M. AMENDMENTS

1. These Standing Rules may be amended or repealed at any regular or special meeting of the Women's History Project Board of Trustees by a majority vote of those present and voting, if the trustees have been given previous notice of the proposed changes.
2. These Standing Rules may be amended or repealed without previous notice by a two-thirds vote of the members of the Board of Trustees present and voting at any regular or special meeting.

ADOPTED May 8, 1991

AMENDED June 19, 1991 (Add Sections B and L)

-- collecting names -- and made the discretionary action of the Executive Council of the Division. No more collective or voting decision-making is required. The less done on certain matters, the better. Again, I'd propose that the nominating names be continued year after year, if need be.

I have a copy of the By-Laws, I think. Certainly, Virginia Morris does because I sent her one. The institutional memory should reside in the secretary, more or less. You may remember that we went through changes in the Constitution and By-Laws in May 1990 -- that was a headache mailing I did. So we have a revised constitution and by-laws, as of May 1990, approved by the ASC Executive Board at the November 1990 meeting.

I wonder if we ought to think about creating a little secretariat office -- one with mailing labels and the like, should we want to get out our own mailing. That would be a good idea for future planning. I'd put my name in for various things if only I knew where my "office" was going to be next year.

HA, more excuses.

Carol,

Here are my answers to each of your questions; the deadlines for each committee's work should be determined after reviewing internal ASC deadlines. Again, Sarah or the Criminologist usually print these up.

Gal, you sure are busy. I feel so gratified to have passed this off to such a strong/competent person. Thanks for taking this on... you're doing a wonderful job!

Best,

Dear Carole:

Congratulations on your U.N. appointment to Cambodia. How exciting for you to be involved in the making of history. Although you will surely be missed in the Division on Women and Crime, I know you will be using the wonderful personal and organizational skills you have shown us as Chair of the Division in an even broader arena. Good luck!

As Vice-Chair of the Division, I would like to record some thoughts about your successor as Chair. My recommendation is that an Acting Chair be appointed to serve until a new Chair is elected. While I am interested, supportive and enthusiastic about the work of the Division, I do not feel competent to take over as Chair. I know there are others who are more familiar with the projects and policies of the Division, and better able to represent our Division in the A. S. C.

I look forward to taking part in the Student Outreach Committee activities in preparation for the New Orleans meeting. With the committee, I will develop a project to encourage mentoring for students and faculty entering the field of Criminology. But because I have made a commitment to a Kellogg Foundation Fellowship in International Development for 1992 and 1993, my time for other Division projects and activities is limited. In connection with that fellowship, I plan to be out of the country for most of Summer 1992. So I know that my stepping into your position is not an option for your succession. I could not possibly give the Division the attention and service it deserves from its Chair.

Best of wishes to you as you make this major life transition. I will be thinking of you in the days to come as I read about the U.N. activities in Cambodia.

Sincerely,

Sue Mahan

As you all are aware I am leaving the country sometime soon. Exactly when I still do not know, but thought it best to resolve the issue of leadership in my absence.

Sue Mahan (See attached letter) could not assume the responsibility as she was also leaving the country I contacted Lynn Goodstein and asked if she would accept the task of getting us through to our annual meeting. Happily she has agreed and I would like to officially designate her as acting chair when I leave the U.S.

Finally we need nominations for vice chair -- please send your suggestions to me ASAP. We only need to elect one executive counselor since Lynn Goodstein is the only one slated to go off. We have four candidates for that position. Hope all is well with each of you.

Dear Piers:

Congrats!! The Division on Women & Crime and on Critical Criminology (DCC) have nominated you to run for President of the American Society of Criminology. To satisfy your curiosity about process, it went something like this: I discussed nominations with a number of people who've served and worked with the DCC, come up with a slate, circulated this with the other two Division chairs to try and find overlap, made alterations as cooperation would dictate, and whalaih --here you are. And, the Division on Women & Crime and of Critical Criminology are nominating the entire slate of candidates jointly!

We've written Terence Thornberry, the chair of the ASC nominations committee, and told him that we would be asking each of the folks nominated to communicate directly with him. You need to let him know if you're interested in running for the office, and (if affirmative) to send him your vita and letter of information. He's:

Dear Terry:

I have discussed the issue of recommendations for ASC officers with the Division Women and Crime and the Division of Critical Criminology officers. We, the ASC's Division of Women and Crime and Division of Critical Criminology, nominate the following people for the office:

President - Elect: Harold Pepinsky
Piers Beirne

Vice-President - Elect: Merry Morash
Coramae Richey Mann

Executive Counselors: Josefina Figueira-McDonough
Laura Fishman
Nancy Jurik
Deborah King
Raymond Michalowski
Elizabeth Stanko

This slate is predicated upon scholarship, reputation, and active contribution to Criminology. It, additionally, reflects the commitment to affirmative action on the part of the membership of the Divisions of Women and Crime and Critical Criminology. Although you did not ask, I have written to each of the above people to let them know they have been nominated by these two Divisions, as well as to facilitate your committee's work. I have asked these people to express their willingness to run, along with a curriculum vitae and letter of information (for those who respond in the affirmative) to you directly.

We take this opportunity to express our thanks to you in your capacity as chair of the nominations committee for soliciting Division nominations. Please don't hesitate to let us know if we can provide anything further.

Dear Professor Thornberry:

As you are by now no doubt aware I have been nominated to run for office in the ASC by all three ASC Divisions. The Divisions of Women and Crime and Critical Criminology have nominated me to run for President, and the Division of International Criminology for Vice-President. I am exceedingly honored by the obvious trust placed in me by such a wide spectrum of our discipline, and I am most happy to accept the nominations.

My immediate response to these nominations was a very surprised and slightly terrified "Why me?" since I have never really courted political office and I'm not part of any great network in the ASC. I tend to work at my own pace, on my own topics, and at my own time. Nevertheless, I am ready and eager to contribute in some way to the ASC, an organization that I have always cared quite deeply about. If you and the Nominations Committee would rather have someone else run for President, then of course I would be happy to run for another office.

By way of an informal letter of information about me, I enclose a copy of my current curriculum vitae. You will see that in the past I have held minor appointed offices in the ASC, and have organized numerous sessions and regularly give papers at the ASC, although I have never stood for an elective office as such. I have published in a wide variety of scholarly journals, including Criminology, British Journal of Criminology, American Journal of Sociology, Social Problems, Contemporary Crises, Law & Society Review, International Journal of the Sociology of Law, Research in Law and Sociology, and Politics and Society. My books, either monographs or co-edited, include Fair Rent and Legal Fiction (1977, Macmillan), Pashukanis (1980, Academic Press), Marxism and Law (1982, John Wiley), Stuchka (1988, M.E. Sharpe), Revolution in Law (1990, M.E. Sharpe), Comparative Criminology (1991, Greenwood Press) and Criminology (1991, Harcourt Brace). In addition, SUNY Press will publish my new book Inventing Criminology: the Rise of 'Homo Criminalis', in January 1993.

I hope this has been helpful. Good luck in what must be a difficult job!

Sincerely

Piers Beirne

Dear Terry,

Hi old friend. I just got home from vacation, where my dear friend John Ramirez had told me I had a problem acknowledging my own success. Then I opened my letter from Susan Caringella-MacDonald and Lynn Goodstein and celebrated. I guess you've heard from them that the critical and women's divisions have put together a single, unanimously recommended slate, and I'm on it for president. Ironically, I had in the recent past concluded it was my karma never again to be elected to office, and my commitment never to run. Now I find myself particularly touched by the trust this largely feminist group has expressed in me, a man at that, to lead their slate. My karma may not have changed, but my commitment has collapsed. I won't refuse, and it won't be the first time I've let my principles go to hell.

I've been going to ASC meetings for seventeen years straight. ASC is a small town, and I gather it's not hard there to find things I've written about or people who know me, if they don't already know me themselves, to decide my qualifications. They know the dirt, which doesn't appear on my vita. I'll send you the vita if you really think you need it; I haven't updated it in awhile I don't think and I'm embarrassed by how long and bulky it's gotten. Can't we dispense with it?

What clinches my willingness to run is a bit of history: I took greatest satisfaction as a Board member helping rewrite the constitution and by-laws to provide for what you might call third-party candidates, and by helping usher in the women's and international divisions, then supporting the critical division from the sidelines. I feel impelled, and I hope the Nominating Committee feels likewise, to accede to the will of divisions who have come of age sufficiently to cooperate programmatically, who go to the trouble of putting a slate forward to you. I see in the slate a healthy desire to spread some of the excitement their part of the ASC program has generated. In the critical division we have talked about infiltrating ourselves into other sessions. Why not consciously infiltrate both ways? I think a lot could be done to generate fresh dialogue in which participants from all corners of ASC and other groups like ex-prisoners we reach out to include were at once included and challenged by the variety of other perspectives they encountered, panel by panel, in which we rooted plenaries for a larger sharing of sense of issues. God knows with the prison population continuing to soar it's a time for us both to reach out to explore our differences and to take serious stock of where we criminologists have come. Implicit in the effort that went into agreeing on a slate, I see a source of energy in ASC that could help turn sessions into places people looked forward to participating in in fresh ways. All of which is to say that I think the slate in itself offers ASC a lot of good as an option for the membership to consider, and I hope the Nominating Committee agrees.

Thanks for putting up with chairing the nominating process. Someone's gotta do it, and I sure wouldn't want to be it.

Love and peace,

Hal Pepinsky
