

2017

My Rescue In A Dark World

Barbara Diana Gilbert

Barbara Diana Gilbert, bg570@nova.edu

Follow this and additional works at: <https://nsuworks.nova.edu/bestill>

 Part of the Creative Writing Commons, Fine Arts Commons, Medical Humanities Commons, and the Photography Commons

Recommended Citation

Gilbert, Barbara Diana (2017) "My Rescue In A Dark World," be Still: Vol. 2 , Article 30.

Available at: <https://nsuworks.nova.edu/bestill/vol2/iss1/30>

This Narrative Medicine is brought to you for free and open access by the College of Osteopathic Medicine at NSUWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in be Still by an authorized editor of NSUWorks. For more information, please contact nsuworks@nova.edu.

My Rescue In A Dark World

Cover Page Footnote

I would like to extend my thanks to all who have dedicated their lives to the nourishment of our Universe.
Extended compliments to Drs. Wallace and Roseman for their insight with this submission.

▶ My Rescue In A Dark World: A NARRATIVE

- ▶ It is with Pride, Honor and Dignity that I salute you. You Gallant Man – Strong Man - Man of High Esteem. You seemed to have been placed strategically in my life at every turn – teaching, molding and preparing me for what was to be my assignment in this life. The roads were long and weary. There was danger on every side but I kept reaching for your guiding hand. You never let me fall; you constantly reached out for me – making sure that I kept my stance. It seems almost like Divine Intervention that you positioned me on the learning end. You seemed destined to tutor me – determined to teach me the ropes in a world where my own earthly father failed me. I was humbled to be your student. I know my earthly father is looking down from heaven with pride and admiration. I realized so many years later how much I missed his love, his teaching and his understanding to shape me into the woman I am today, however, you did it. I can never repay you; I can never thank you enough. Now I must take the baton and move forward blessing others in my wake – telling them that they can do it; they can stand strong against all odds - that the sky is the limit for there is beauty and grace because there is life and hope.

BARBARA DIANA GILBERT, AUTHOR