ED'S NOTE: As part of the celebrations of the Golden Anniversary of Terrace becoming incorporated as a village on December 29, 1927 we will publish the highlights from the Terrace Herald dated exactly fifty years ago. The Herald began publishing many years previously, with the first issue hitting the street on July 11, 1908.

LEGISLATURE IS ABOUT READY FOR BIG WORK

Most of the time of the Legislature thus far has been taken up with a debate on the Speech from the Throne. Fortunately members are not confined to the contents of the speech itself, but are permitted to ramble as they will. For the most part the time is taken up with charges by the opposition and replies from the government. But as there was nothing in the Speech from the Throne to discuss there was nothing for the opposition to do but debate questions that had appeared in the daily press.

In regards to the liquor question in B.C. the government said that could be handled nicely in future if the opposition would be willing to have the liquor question taken out of politics and full power given to the liquor commission.

The timber deal with the Powell River Paper Co. was not much of a bone of contention as a number of the Conservatives were in accord with the deal and the price received. From the speech of Premier Oliver, all hope of disposing of the P.G.E. was scattered. The Hon. Premier stated that nothing could be done at this time, either with the C.N.R. or with private parties. The expectations were that this main period of speech-making would wind up this week and next week the House would get down to business. Some important matters are promised by supporters of the government.

TERRACE NOTES

Mrs. W.H. Burnett entertained 30 guests to a delightful afternoon tea on Friday last. During the afternoon vocal solos were given by Mrs. R. Haney and Miss Hollowill and Miss Sibary delighted the company with a number of piano selections. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. H. Brooks, Mrs. E.T. Kenney, Mrs. Sam Kirkaldy and Mrs. W.H. Wilson.

Lester Taft has been temporarily incapacitated as a result of an accident on Friday last while driving down the Colthurst hill. The team slipped on the ice and overturned the sleigh which skidded down the hill. The driver received several cuts about the eyes and cheek as he hit the ground but the doctor soon had him patched up. The team was uninjured.

Gus Muelser, a logger in Geo. Little camp met with a nasty accident on Wednesday last when he was thrown from a spring board on which he was working. He suffered a fracture to his leg above the knee. Dr. Turvel rendered first aid and sent him to the Prince Rupert hospital on Friday's freight.

The lady members of the Rebecca Lodge met at the home of Mrs. F.S. Mills on Friday of last week when a miscellaneous shower was held, the hostess receiving many useful gifts from her sister members.

Mrs. Jarmin, who has spent the last few months here with her daughter, Mrs. Downing, had the misfortune to fall on Sunday noon on an icy walk in front of the house and break her leg. She was removed to the Prince Rupert hospital on Tuesday accompanied by her daughter.

Tuesday night and Wednesday morning Terrace citizens witnessed one of the worst wind storms that has been felt here for a number of years. The tar and paper roof on the Sundal block was strewn in all directions; the water pipes on Park Hill were frozen and others had a similar experience. On Tuesday morning the thermometer registered 3 below in town and 15 below at Kit-sumkalum Lake.

Lawrence Greig is able to be out again after being confined to the house for six weeks, the result of his gun accident.

Geo Little has gone to the prairie to get a carload of horses for his lumber camps. He may also pick up a few head of stock and some pigs for other residents of the district.

Miss Florence Vanderlip was an afternoon tea hostess on Friday last. A number of friends enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon.

Miss Hollowill had the misfortune to receive a nasty cut on her head last Wednesday evening, January 12, when the horse turned suddenly and she and her mother were thrown out. They were returning from the social gathering in Progress Hall. They were taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, but were able to proceed home the next day little the worse for their experience.

Jack Sparks was a guest at the home of his brother the end of the week leaving Sunday for Shames. He is in charge of the pumping station at that point.

ST. MATTHEWS CHURCH SOCIAL
A most successful church social was held on Wednesday evening, January 12, under the auspices of the vestry of St. Matthews church in Progress Hall, which was kindly loaned by Mr. Bishop.

The hall was tastefully decorated by Rev. and Mrs. Robinson and made to resemble a spacious drawing room. A crowd of over 130 people assembled from far and near to enjoy a varied program.

The program was as follows: pianoforte, Kathleen Burnett, vocal trio, Canadian Boat Song, Mrs. A.W. Robinson, Rev. Wm. Allen and Rev. A.W. Robinson; Song, Forgotten, Fred Hall; instrumental trio, Somewhere a Voice is Calling, Mr. and Mrs. Kirkaldy, J. deKergemeaux; Recitation, Revenge, Capt. J.B. Colthurst; Solo, Three for Jack, Rev. # M.O.T. investigates Twin Otter crash

FOUR HOURS AFTER THE CRASH the plane was spotted and search and rescue members and police began the long search for the bodies of the 12 persons killed in the wreck.

SEARCH AND RESCUE TEAM MEMBERS kept watch on the crash site while waiting for Ministry of Transport investigators to arrive on the scene.

ARROW POINTS TO CRASH SITE on top of Little Herman Mountain. The mountain, two miles from the Ministry of Transport investigators were still searching Tuesday for instruments from the Twin Otter aircraft which crashed on Little Herman Mountain Friday at 5:30 p.m.

The 12 persons killed are pilot Norman Rogers, 31; co-pilot Robert Kirkman, 24 and stewardess Deborah Falk, 23; all from Prince George. Passengers were Nancy Cockerill, 20, her three-year-old son Matthew of Stewart; two brothers, Gaston Rochon, 67, and Reyal Rochon, 48, both of Prince Rupert; Edward Burkhardt, 64; Lance Martin, 20; Orville Breikreutz, 30 and Nelson Fugle, 33, all from Prince George; and Doug MacGowan, 31, of Quesnel.

The plane was enroute from Prince George to Terrace but stopped at Prince Rupert before attempting to land at the airport here.

Two men, one from Dawson Creek and one from Oregon, decided to drive to Terrace from Prince Rupert instead of continuing on the Northern Thunderbird Air Ltd. flight. One of the men was on urgent family business in Terrace and did not wish to be diverted back to Prince George.

The cause of the crash remains a mystery. The pilot reported snow but indicated no other problems and the plane continued its approach to the runway. Reports from sources at the airport indicate the lights of the plane were seen but disappeared soon after.

George Blakey of the airport weather office reports there were obscured weather conditions at 5 p.m. Friday with a ceiling of 1800 feet and occasional snow. Visibility was 1/4 miles from the airport.

By 6:15 p.m. when RCMP received the report of the missing plane from Bill Mitchell, airport manager, the ceiling had lifted to 1800 feet with occasional snow. Visibility was three miles at this time.

Keith Labrecque said Okanagan Helicopters was alerted at 7:55 and had begun the air search by 8:55 p.m. He said it took about 20 minutes to find the wreck and about another 15 minutes to pinpoint its location. He said there was blowing snow during this time.

According to one source at the scene of the crash the plane was difficult to see even with the helicopters floodlights.

When search crews first arrived at the scene and realized there were no survivors the decision was made to post two policemen at the crash site overnight to keep wild animals away.

SEARCH AND RESCUE

Doug Johnson, an RCMP officer in charge of search and rescue, reported he was alerted to the plane crash at 2:30 a.m. Saturday. He said RCMP, Air Search and Rescue from Comox, two paramedics and two doctors were at the scene when he arrived at 8:45 a.m.

There were 18 members of the local search and rescue team at the site and they were involved in gathering the bodies. According to one source there were nine bodies outside the airplane.

Johnson said his search and rescue team encountered no problems and were prepared to handle the emergency. The last major event the men were involved in was the slide at Mlle 28 two years ago.

CONDITIONS SAFE

Although the conditions at 5:30 p.m. Friday were unsafe for the regular CP Air Boeing 737, a Ministry of Transport spokesman has said there is no fair comparison between the jet and the Twin Otter because weather conditions that would turn away a 737 might still be safe for the smaller, lighter Twin Otter.

"The final determination would be up to the pilot," the spokesman said. "Who knows but that he was making an approach to the airport to see how the conditions were?"

According to Keith Labrecque who was co-pilot in the helicopter which found the plane crash the Twin Otter was on its flight path. "We knew approximately where to look for it," he added.

According to pilot Dave Newman the wreckage was "spread along a straight line over about two acres of brush right on the edge of a rocky, logged area."

"It looked like he'd dropped his wings first and the engines and finally the fuselage, which was plowed into the snow at the northmost end of the wreck," he said.

Newman estimated the plane would have been travelling at least 100 miles an hour when it struck. The top of the mountain near where the aircraft struck is about 300 feet above the runway.

Newman says the pilot would have been "coming in on instruments, wouldn't see the mountain until about a mile from it at the most, but — well, who knows what happened?"

R.C.M.P. notice

On approximately the week of January 7 Terrace RCMP believe a red Datsun parked behind the Terrace Hotel was illegally entered. Some tools and a new pair of ski gloves were removed. At the same time a large green-colored car was entered and some money taken.

If either of these cars are yours please contact Constable Leibel or Constable Meadows, Terrace Detachment of RCMP.

TERRACE AND DISTRICT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Chamber officers installed Saturday

Installation of new officers for the Terrace and District Chamber of Commerce took place in the Terrace Hotel Saturday.

Outgoing president Ted Taylor said 1976 had been a wonderful year and he had been in association with people who were dedicated to the development of Terrace.

He said there is a youthful injection into the new executive which will carry on a difficult task during the next 12 months. He particularly thanked the citizens of Terrace for their concern over the economy of the community during last year's slump.

Hugh McKinnon presented Willy Schneider with a Chamber award of appreciation for his work; particularly with the development of Upper Little Park which he spearheaded.

Ted Taylor presented Alderman Sharon Biggs with the second award of appreciation for her dedication to improving the community during last year.

Judge Selwyn Romilly conducted the installation of Mike Tindall, president; Dave Sparrow, first vice-president; Rick Wilmut, second vice-president and Al Romanow, third vice-president.

Directors for 1977 are Wayne Gaunt, Jim McEwan, Ron Lowrie, Bill Thomson, Jim MacKay, Rich Green, David Pease and Bea Retvedt.

There was good humour among members and guests as 1977 president, Mike Tindall, explained he was still using Ted Taylor's gavel because his could not be found.

Tindall presented Taylor with the gavel and then borrowed it back to conduct the business of the installation. The following is his address to the chamber meeting.

Ladies and Gentlemen, some of you know me as a salesman, some as an open-line host, and some as a Terrace booster. It's in the latter capacity that I'd like you to think of me tonight and during my term as president of this chamber because I think that the most important thing any chamber can do is boost the image of a town both to its own citizens and to those outside its boundaries.

We all acknowledge that Terrace has lost some citizens in the past few years and that the town is now only slightly larger than it was at the close of the last decade. But, I ask you to look around you and think for a moment about the kind of people who are left in our community: good people, people with a stake.

Whether their stake is financial, or emotional, or both, doesn't matter. What does matter is that they're people with a deep interest in seeing Terrace get back on its economic and social feet. And this one fact gives me great hope for the immediate and long term future of this town.

I trust that hope is shared by all of you here tonight and that you will join with me and the Chamber of Commerce in helping to make 1977, - Terrace's Golden Anniversary year, a year that we can all look back on with pride.

Your car in snowy weather

Getting stuck in snow is certain to put a damper on your winter ski trip or holiday excursion. Not only is it a frustrating experience, it can be dangerous as well.

If you can't avoid getting stuck, or if traction is poor even if you're not stuck, the B.C. Automobile Association offers this advice on how to get your car moving again.

Steady pulling and moderate power, not speed, are the important objectives when traction is poor, says the BCAA. When wheels are stuck in mud, deep snow or sand, apply power slowly. Keep the front wheels pointed straight ahead so the car can move in a straight line. If you can't go forward, try backing out, steering in the tracks the car has just made.

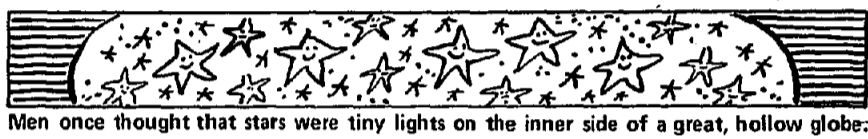

It may be necessary to "rock" the car out when it is stuck. To rock a car, start slowly in low gear. When the car will go no farther, shift rapidly to reverse, backing until the wheels start to spin. Then shift quickly to forward or low gear. Repeat this procedure in rapid succession. Each rock should move the car a little further out of the hole. Remember, the rocking operation must be done with minimum use of power to prevent wheels from spinning and digging in deeper.

You can rock with either standard or automatic transmission cars. If wheels spin, find some method of creating traction under the rear wheels. Any rough material, such as sand, will help. You may have to shovel a path in front of the wheels. Apply power slowly and steadily, using second or even high gear. Remember, for most cars you need traction under both rear wheels. If only one spins, you're just as stuck as if both were spinning.

The BCAA advises that if you're planning on doing a lot of winter driving, carry a bag of sand or kitty litter and a shovel in your trunk.

Remember to drive slower in snow than you would under normal conditions. If you have to stop, start braking well in advance with a gentle pumping motion. If you should start to skid, take your foot off the gas immediately. Don't jam on the brakes and don't depress the clutch. Let your engine slow you down and turn your wheels in the direction of the skid. As the car starts to straighten, straighten your wheels to prevent the car from skidding in the opposite direction.

Grace McCarthy to attend seminar

Terrace and District Chamber of Commerce held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday, January 11, 1977, at the Terrace Hotel.

There were approximately 30 members in attendance and strong discussions took place on such issues as tourist information facility, Regional Travel Industry Seminar, establishment of a penal institution in Terrace.

The building committee is presently preparing applications for L.I.P. grants for both the travel and information area and the museum area of the proposed tourist information facility.

A Regional Travel Industry Seminar is being organized for February 20, 1977 at the Skoglund Hot-springs. Grace McCarthy, Minister of Travel Industry, and members of her department will be in attendance to present their 1977 plans for promoting tourism and travel in the northwest. More information on this can be obtained by contacting Rich Green at 635-7291 or Bill Thomson at 635-6316.

With regard to the possibility of a penal institution in Terrace; to date the Chamber has received no reply to letters written to both Iona Campagnolo M.P. and Francis Fox, Solicitor General wherein the Chamber asked if Terrace is still being considered as a possible location for a penal institution.

Hard Sell
A rancher was trying to sell his old horse. Suspicious, the prospective buyer asked to see the animal trot a bit. After taking a few steps, the animal was gasping for breath and its tongue was hanging out. The rancher said quickly, "Hasn't he got a beautiful coat?" "His coat's alright," said the buyer, "but what about the pants!"

Prince Charles invited to Terrace

The District of Terrace Municipal Council called a special "urgent" meeting for 4 p.m. Monday to make a "momentous" decision. They have invited Prince Charles to come to Terrace as part of this community's Golden Anniversary.

The resolution was the brain child of Alderman Sharon Biggs. She said that she had read somewhere that Prince Charles would be attending the Calgary Stampede sometime in July and she suggested that he be invited to come to Terrace following his stay in Calgary.

Mayor Gordon Rowland suggested that we should allow the Prince to decide whether he comes before or after the Stampede.

Aldermen Helmut Giesbrecht and Jack Talstra expressed concern about the cost of hosting our royal guest in addition to the retinue and the massive security that would be involved.

Alderman Victor Jolliffe recalled that when the R.C.M.P. Musical Ride was in Terrace the city had to pay for the hay that the horses ate. Mayor Rowland expressed doubt about this saying that the R.C.M.P. had to feed their horses no matter where they were and if Terrace was hit with the bill it was a "rip off".

Alderman Talstra, despite his fears at the possible cost of such a venture indicated that this would be excellent publicity for Terrace, getting it on the Canadian map and would no doubt attract a large number of people from elsewhere in the province for the affair. Alderman Biggs, encouraged by this support said "Nothing ventured nothing gained. Let's get a telegram off to Buckingham Palace".

The vote was taken and all aldermen voted in favour.

By coincidence, our M.P. in Ottawa, Iona Campagnolo, has just advised that Terrace would not be considered for a maximum security penitentiary because of our isolation and the high cost of transportation. Since we failed at one end of the social ladder why not try the other extreme?

Eight in hospital following car-truck accident

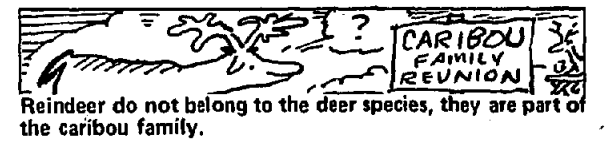

A Prince Rupert alderman and seven Terrace residents are in hospital following an automobile-truck accident that took place on the Morogonish Bridge about 32 miles east of Prince Rupert on Highway 16 last Sunday morning.

Alderman Gordon Gillam is in Prince Rupert Hospital with a broken leg, broken arm and lacerations. He is listed in fair condition. The passenger in his automobile, Nora Langley, a public health nurse in Terrace, is said to be in critical condition, also in Prince Rupert Hospital.

The occupants of the truck, the family of Robert Pearce of Terrace, were all admitted to Prince Rupert Hospital.

They are wife Elizabeth, sons David and Dale and daughters Rose-Ann and Diane. Six-year-old David was transferred to a Vancouver Hospital suffering from head wounds. The remainder of the family are listed in fair condition by hospital authorities.

Reindeer do not belong to the deer species, they are part of the caribou family.

The Four-Way Test

Of the things we think, say or do.

Is it the TRUTH?

Is it fair to all concerned?

Will it build GOOD WILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?

Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

What's ahead - it's up to you

1976 will, in all probability, not be remembered as a year of outstanding achievements for B.C.'s trade and commerce. The demand and return for the products of our forests and mines have been very disappointing.

We have experienced, through a major part of the 70's, significant political problems at all levels of our government. The economic difficulties of the past several years, while perhaps not unprecedented, have certainly been of great importance and vital concern to all of us. So much of our own well-being depends upon the health of the province's economy. It is impossible to feel comfortable and satisfied with our achievements when most of our industry remains far from buoyant.

The time has come for us to take a good hard look at our position, our stature, our reputation and our ability to improve our fortunes. We must concentrate on ways and means to restore our preeminent position and once again establish an acceptable reputation for the output of our community and province.

It wasn't too many years that "Life in British Columbia is Wonderful" was not just a catchy cliché, but a reality based on a thriving economy. Our resources were in great demand internationally. Though some were predictably more attractive at times than others, it was generally believed that, on balance, there would be an on-going thrust to our various product penetrations of markets.

The welfare of the economy of this province is necessarily resource based. Our two primary industries, forest products and mining, account for an enormous percentage of our gross trading income. While we must constantly look for and find new industries and diversify existing ones, it is an inescapable phenomenon that as go the markets for our products of forests and mines, so goes the welfare of our people.

It is also a well established fact in this province, that in order to effectively develop resources and obtain the significant investment required for successful exploitation of them, foreign capital is required and substantial risk taking necessary on the part of investors and developers. It is imperative that encouragement be extended to those who are prepared to assist us in this program. We must gain their confidence by presenting viable opportunities, promising prospects and a friendly environment. We need this outside aid. It is impossible for us to "Go it Alone".

It is time that our attitude became positive. All of us need to adjust our attitudes to one of confidence and optimism for the future of British Columbia industry and hence, our own welfare.

Business — must make every effort to encourage investment, develop markets, improve productivity and shore up relations with all of those to whom it is responsible and with whom it deals. Labour — must adopt a responsible attitude in connection with wage demands, conditions of work and work ethic. Governments — need to respect the profit motive, recognize the benefits of greater efficiencies in the private sector and accept the cooperative roles of business and labour in achieving a better way of life for all those associated with the private sector. The Public — needs to keep informed, to understand the objectives of each party contributing to the success of our system. They must be selective in their patronage to encourage efficient product development, reasonable pricing and suitable quality and learn to understand and appreciate the reason that benefits flow from our way of life.

A highly desirable objective for the balance of this decade and for the years ahead, will be for us in B.C. to sell our province and its potential, to create a better understanding of the many good things we have to offer to be optimistic ourselves in furthering our development and in coping with our problems, and to concentrate on bettering the image, throughout our markets, for our products and for our investment opportunities.

To coin a phrase — "The Vancouver Board of Trade is Bullish on British Columbia". We must all be like the thundering herd and stampede to the cause of establishing the credibility and an acceptance of "Made in B.C."

A new look at work

The work ethic is something that has appealed to generations of Canadians as an example of what is right. It is quite simple, if you don't work, you really shouldn't eat. Nations that have invested heavily in various forms of welfare are often regarded as having a slightly rotten core. Examples of thrift, frugality and hard work are held up as a model for human progress.

The work ethic, that almost indefinable concept that the fruits of a person's labour is what they are most generally judged by, is an honorable ethic and of itself requires no real defense. But, an unrelieved welfare has proven to be almost more destructive of people than the ills it was designed to mitigate, so does blind devotion to the work ethic foster simple answers to the complexities of modern life.

Instead of less welfare and more work, perhaps we need to define what work means. The mindless, soul-numbing drudgery of the assembly line or garment factory is work but it does little for the innate creativity that lies in each human being's personality. Is it so decadent for a person to be allowed to dream a little or write a gentle sonnet or look at the leaves just for the sheer uplifting of the soul? Yet too often work, whether it be for wages or for self-aggrandizement, destroys that essential part of mankind's being, his soul.

Perhaps, rather than merely returning to the work ethic as a solution to our ills we need to find a new ethic, an ethic based on human relationships, on caring and sharing, on living within a natural environment.

We need to return perhaps to that ancient vision of humanity that saw us as multi-dimensional beings, not simply narrow economic creatures fated forever to work in order to merely survive. Certainly work is part of that multi-dimensional view, but it must never be the whole view and that perhaps is the failure of technological man more than any other.

Technological man has forgotten that he is a whole creature.

Nobody cares about fathers

For years women's magazines and books have helped women meet the changing demands of motherhood. They still teach techniques of child care. They offer advice, sympathy, humor, and counselling — they provide challenge and inspiration — for being a mother.

Now look at men's magazines: sports, business, investment, seduction, hobbies — but nothing to help a man be a father to his son or daughter.

So where does a man learn to be a father today? The old techniques just don't apply. Once upon a time, a son worked by his father's side, sharing the satisfactions and the frustrations, the successes and the failures of the field, the barn, or the shop.

What model does a father follow today? Some fathers choose the army model, demanding discipline and obedience. Others choose to be pals, playing street hockey or swapping teenage jokes, being just one of the boys.

Jesus described God primarily as Father — and father doesn't mean much any more. Who wants to be a disciple to a Father-God preoccupied with sexual prowess, or constantly chasing investment opportunities, or pursuing popularity, or a God who's a frustrated sergeant-major?

For every mother, there's a father. Fathers have roles and responsibilities, just like mothers. But how does a father fulfil what's expected of him? Fathers need help too.

It's time our society took fatherhood seriously. Service clubs, community and business meetings, church groups — all should be discussing this subject. Why not?

The will to survive

Man has an unbreakable will to survive. This is shown once again by the recent reports of strong gains in the family planning field from around the world.

Despite man's ingenuity, nothing is more detrimental to humanity over the long term than overpopulation. We live on a finite planet which simply cannot support infinite increases in the human population.

Now one researcher claims that previous forecasts of a doubling of the world population by the end of the century may never happen. Lester R. Brown, president of World Watch Institute, says a new survey indicates that falling birth rates and rising death rates in some areas of the world have caused a breaking in the global population growth.

The United Nations Fund for Population Activities also concedes that there are signs of hope. Yet the Fund insists that today's world population of more than 4 billion will have doubled by the year 2015. What has caused this new and encouraging picture in population control?

The leaders of many countries with serious population problems have spoken clearly and firmly in support of family planning. Indians have realized the urgency of the problem, and thousands have gone along with voluntary sterilization.

In the villages of Indonesia and South Korea, wives' clubs have been formed where young women exchange birth control information. Across Asia and Latin America, paramedics are being trained to provide general health services, including family planning advice. The Chinese barefoot doctors are assisting China's population control programs, and this system is being copied by other countries.

Despite progress, humanity cannot afford to sit back and relax. Overpopulation — leading often to malnutrition and poor health among people in developing countries — remains a barrier to genuine progress in a great many lands. And each year, the global population increases by almost three Canadas. According to United Nations findings, the world population will not stabilize until it reaches 12 billion in the year 2045. That date is far off, and those of us who are alive today must ensure that population growth continues to slow down — not by next century but in the coming decades. We owe it to our children not to force them to live on an overpopulated planet haunted by hunger and disease.

By BILL SMILEY

I WAS glad to hear, in his end-of-year news conference, that Prime Minister Trudeau had no plans for keeping Quebec within the Dominion of Canada by force, should separation of that province be approved by its people in a referendum.

I'm sure many another old sweat of my vintage who is still on the reserve list also breathed a sigh of relief. One of the many things we old vets don't need is a civil war. One war in one lifetime is enough for any man.

Most of us would have trouble completing the deshabille of a stripper in a burlesque show, let alone stripping a machine gun.

And I think we might have a little trouble completing a route march from, say, Kingston to Cornwall, to repel an invasion strike from La Belle Province. Personally, I am puffing like a grampus after scraping a bit of ice off my windshield. I have to lie down for five minutes after carrying out the garbage.

Can any of you guys of my vintage imagine being sent out on a night patrol, probably on skis, to take a few prisoners? What we'd probably have to do is dump the skis, hail a cab, head for a bilingual bar across the border, and bring back a couple of go-go girls. Might be fun at that, if they'd let us use some common sense, which, of course, the military will never allow.

If the feds re-enlist a brigade or two of old kriegies (prisoners-of-war) they'd have their hands full. First of all, the kriegies would steal, just out of habit, everything that was not nailed or bolted down. Secondly, kriegies are trained to escape and head west. Stick two brigades of them on the Quebec border and in a couple of weeks, after stealing a train or two, they'd wind up in Alberta.

Ancient naval persons might be better off in a civil war. They don't have to walk to work. They could charge up and down the Ottawa River, firing broadsides of bilingual propaganda into the streets of Hull.

Ex-airmen wouldn't be of much use. Most of them are so portly they wouldn't be able to get through the escape hatch if their aircraft were hit. Perhaps they could be re-organized as a special low-flying force, equipped with snowmobiles, and sent out to harass the enemy by driving all over his farmers' fields on the snow, thus ruining his crops for the next season.

Former paratroopers wouldn't be of much use, either. Most of them have grown so heavy that they'd plummet like bricks, and the screams of arthritic agony when they hit the ground would destroy any element of surprise.

Thinking it over, we must conclude that a civil war in Canada, using nothing but reservists, would certainly be comical, but not too dangerous. Most of the casualties would be in the Legion halls, each night after the "fighting" was over.

And speaking of the Legion halls, a civil war would certainly add a little spice to the rather dreary dialogue that is the norm. Instead of monotonous mutterings about the last bingo game or the next shuffleboard tournament, you'd hear stuff like this: "Ja hear what Quebec Cora said on the TV tonight?"

"Ya. She said the frogs captured a whole battalion of the Canadian Army today and there wuzzen a man in it below the rank of sergeant. Eighty-five colonels, 150 majors an so on."

"Right. And 50 per cent of the officers was French-Canadian."

"It figures. But she's a good lookin' broad, right?"

If it does come to civil war, you can include me out. And that goes for all my old friends, including a few Germans who fought on the other side in WW II and are now happy Canadians.

But that doesn't mean we wouldn't make our contribution, our sacrifices, if needs must.

My contribution would be to over-all strategy, which has always been my strong point. You should see me plotting to get someone else to mow my lawn, put on my storm windows, shovel my walk.

Hereby some suggestions. First, if the feds want a short, swift victory. Muster every aircraft in the country, load them with every scrap of paper in Ottawa, man them with civil servants under the command of Otto Lang, and bomb. Not only the separatists, but the entire province of Quebec, would be obliterated for a generation.

An alternative to this would be to build a fence right around the province, constructed of all the red tape in Ottawa. It would take the Quebecois 10 years to cut their way out, and they'd have forgotten referendums and such.

If these methods of an easy solution are not dramatic enough for you, here's my final offer.

Muster all the politicians, lawyers and Women's Libbers in the rest of Canada. Fly them to a remote section of Newfoundland. Muster all the politicians, lawyers and Anglophobes in Quebec. Fly them to the same place. No conventional weapons for either side.

Then let them beat each other to death with unveiled innuendoes, deliberate misinformation, absolute ambiguities, legal torfs, trial balloons, and shrill cries of "French male chauvinist pigs," and "Maudites Anglais abortionists."

It would be lovely and peaceful in the rest of the country. And the bleeding, battered winners could have Newfy, where the locals would hunt them down for sport, as they did the Beothuk Indians.

Letters to the editor

Kitimat pipeline

Dr. R.E.M. Lee
Chairman, College Council
Northwest Community College
Dear Sir:
As you know, the Labour Advisory Committee to the Northwest Community College is made up of representatives of the three Labour Councils in the Pacific northwest. Collectively, we represent approximately 11,000 workers in the area served by the Northwest Community College.

In a recent meeting of the Labour Advisory Committee, we were unanimous in deploring the proposed Kitimat to Edmonton pipeline. We agreed to educate our members in the inherent dangers, and to appeal to the College Council as the highest authority on community education in the area, to publicly oppose and condemn the proposed pipeline.

The oil is not for the benefit of Canadians. The real and spin-off jobs for Canadians would be minimal. The astronomical environmental results of an oil spill will be of extreme danger to the Douglas Channel and the entire Pacific coast. An example of our concern is the fact (completely glossed over and avoided) that only 60 percent of the oil will come from Alaska. The remaining 40 percent will come from Indonesia and the Persian Gulf. It is inconceivable to us that the American companies would deliberately transport this oil the entire length of the continent before unloading it unless it was too dangerous to do so in their own ports. This fact, the recent number of oil spills on the Atlantic coast, and the known dangers of navigating the Hecate Strait, show that if the pipeline were built, we would be almost guaranteed a major oil spill. The enclosed area of the Douglas Channel could not survive such a disaster and our entire west coast fishing industry would be severely damaged.

It is our opinion, and should be the opinion of every concerned Canadian that this pipeline must be stopped. We appeal to you and your council to use your influence to help us achieve this aim.

Sincerely,
Barry English
Secretary
Labour Advisory Committee.

Heritage Canada

Dear Editor:
We wish to call your attention to Heritage Day, February 21, 1977. Because of the special position in weekly newspapers in activating community interest, we are asking your help to alert readers to the growing desire to appreciate and preserve our Canadian heritage.

As you may know, legislation is before Parliament to make the third Monday in February a statutory holiday. "Heritage Day" will be a time to reflect on Canada's heritage, and recognize the people who contributed their skills and talents to building this country.

To dramatize the idea of heritage, All About Us and Heritage Canada, are asking Canadians, and young people in particular, to join "The Great Canadian Heritage Hunt" beginning with their own community. We will be sending information kits to the schools by the end of this month suggesting activities for celebrating Heritage Day. We would appreciate it if you will print the enclosed "letter to the Editor" to inform people about this project.

Sincerely Yours,
Betty Nickerson
National Coordinator

Children's Hospital

The Editor:
Dear Sir:
Please accept a very warm and sincere thanks for the coverage given to us in your publication. Christmas season is such a happy time of the year around Children's Hospital that we did want to share some of the joys with your readers.

The new years promises to be an exciting one for us here at Children's Hospital and it is this wish we extend to you and your staff. May your new year be filled with many exciting challenges, good health and success.

Sincerely,
(Miss) Mary DesRoches,
Public Relations Officer

Porn removed from shelves

Dear Editor:
The example set by the management of the Co-op was followed this week by the management of Shoppers Drug Mart. All pornographic magazines were taken off the racks and put where they belong — in the trash can.

Embarrassed customers and concerned mothers and fathers have been avoiding these stores. Now they can happily go back shopping in these places and even take their children along.

Too long we citizens have been tolerating the wishes of a sick minority. People have been complaining that religion was being crammed through their throats. What about the filthy literature of dirty-minded people who want to make a fast buck? The war is on and we will not rest till the other stores as well, join civilization once more. In the meantime we will boycott these places that don't want to be known as respectable.

We thank the management of Shoppers Drug Mart for their courage to have a mind of their own and to act accordingly.
Bill Homburg.

Municipal office closure

The Editor,
Terrace Herald,
The Mayor and Aldermen,
The District
Municipality of Terrace.
Dear Sirs and Madam:

At the regular meeting of the Council on January 10, it was established that without authorization of the Council, the municipal officers closed the municipal office on the regular business days of Friday, December 24 and Friday, December 31, 1976. These persons slammed the door in the faces of the citizens, particularly those who went to the municipal building on the 31st — the final day of the year — wishing to conduct their business and to meet various payment schedules. The list comprises 22 names and it is known there were others who were similarly inconvenienced.

The credibility of this community and its municipal officers is at an all time low.

The municipal officers of the District of Terrace ought to be:

- Severely reprimanded,
- Ordered to make a public apology for acting in this regard without the authority of Council.

I shall await your earliest reply.
Yours faithfully,
Gerry Duffus.

Banker sees modest growth for 1977 Canadian economy

The Canadian economy should continue a modest growth pattern during 1977, according to Rowland C. Frazee, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association (CBA).

He suggests in a year-end forecast that inflation should moderate slightly but that unemployment levels will be a major problem facing the country.

Mr. Frazee, executive vice-president and chief general manager of The Royal Bank of Canada, predicts that gross national product should increase by about four to 4.5 per cent during the year compared to five per cent during 1976.

"One of the brighter aspects is the outlook for Canadian exports, especially those to the United States, which should be a major source of economic strength for the year," Mr. Frazee says. He also adds that any further economic strength in other foreign markets would benefit Canadian exports.

At home, Mr. Frazee says there are few signs of strength in domestic demand.

"Consumers are responding cautiously to the economic upturn, and coupled with continuing and more stringent income guidelines in 1977, appear reticent to boost expenditures substantially or to support a major increase in imports.

"Housing starts are estimated at lower levels in 1977 than in 1976.

Alcan-Casaw program deals with alcoholism

An employee program aimed at early prevention of alcoholism or drug addiction has been announced by Alcan Smelters and Chemicals Ltd and the Canadian Association of Smelter and Allied Workers (CASAW), the union representing some 1,900 Alcan workers in Kitimat and Kemano.

The program deals with alcoholism as a curable illness and is designed to recognize and treat it in its early stages. An employee whose performance has deteriorated would be referred, by his or her supervisor, to the company's medical officer. Should alcohol or drug abuse be diagnosed, the employee will be referred to a professional outpatient counsellor for treatment, or to a rehabilitation institute.

With input from both the company and the union, an affected employee would enter into a commitment to receive treatment as prescribed. During treatment, the employee would receive benefits from the company as if he or she was being treated for any other illness.

The Alcohol and Drug Commission of British Columbia played an important role in the development of the program. The Commission met with representatives from the company and the union several times to advise them on the design of the program and the necessary ingredients.

CASAW Business Agent, Peter Burton, said the union is committed to the program. "For the union," he said, "our primary reason for feeling this policy is an important step, is our commitment to the welfare of our membership and the welfare of the community. There is a voluntary aspect built in to the program which should help to encourage the employee with an alcohol problem to seek treatment instead of feeling compelled to do so only after the problem has advanced to the point of grievance procedures," he said.

Alcan Works Manager, Bill Rich, feels the same way. "Our major concern in developing this program with the union is for the health and well-being of our employees and their families," he said. "We believe that we have a responsibility to our workforce that extends beyond disciplinary action for an employee with a serious alcohol problem," he said.

Rich said that he was hopeful that other employers and unions in Kitimat will use the services of the out-patient counsellor, that will be employed as part of the program, "so that the community as a whole can realize the benefits of this type of public health care."

A NEW SKI HILL PICK POINT is situated at the Blue Gables at the West End. The ski hill van will pick up people at the point each morning the hill is open at 7:45 a.m. Persons driving past the point on their way to the ski hill are asked to pick up skiers who are waiting for rides.

Environmental booklet

A booklet detailing the environmental protection efforts of Canada's petroleum industry has just been published in English and French. Titled "Environmental Protection and the Petroleum Industry", it has been sent to representatives of government and industry, and to educators across Canada.

"It would be a simple matter to have a pure pristine environment if Canadians were prepared to ... stop creating any form of waste," says the Petroleum Association for Conservation of the Canadian Environment (PACE) in the new booklet. The group aims to help discover and coordinate practical solutions for our environmental problems without depriving Canadians of the benefits of modern technology.

Short texts and a large number of photographs show how the industry seeks to maintain the environment in its different operations of exploration, oil and gas production, refining, transportation and marketing.

PACE is publisher of the booklet on behalf of its member companies. Single copies may be obtained free of charge from PACE at Suite 400, 130 Albert Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1P 5G4.

Urban Canada reported 20,919 starts in November, 1976, of which 7,755 were single detached and 13,164 were all other types. Overall, this represents an increase of 10 per cent from the 18,935 starts recorded in November, 1975. Of significance is an increase of 20 per cent in the multiple dwelling starts comparing this year with last year.

Seasonally adjusted annual rates are 31,900 for urban British Columbia, 244,500 for urban areas of Canada and 304,500 for all areas of Canada.

C.P. Air requests another fare hike

Faced with a heavy loss on 1976 operations and the prospect of increased costs for fuel, labor and materials, CP Air applied to the Canadian Transport Commission for domestic fare raises effective March 1. These are well within the Anti-Inflation Board guidelines.

On the transcontinental routes the proposed increases in economy class fares average approximately seven percent; first class rates will be 60 percent over economy instead of the present 50 percent. On CP Air's western Canada domestic services an increase is planned of approximately five percent, rounded to the nearest dollar, with a minimum boost of $3 for the one-way normal economy fare.

Youth fare on transcontinental services will offer a 40 percent discount on a standby basis instead of the present 50 percent. Remaining unchanged will be the percentage discounts applied to normal economy rates in construction of other promotional fares (family, group, senior citizen and charter class fares).

Supporting data filed with the CTC shows that CP Air continues to battle escalating costs, particularly of fuel and wages. The January 1 hike of 70 cents per barrel of crude oil in Canada is expected to add $2.6 million to the airline's fuel bill in 1977, close to $1.5 million of which is for domestic services.

Inflationary cost level increases are forecast to be almost eight percent this year.

Cost of providing in-flight meals is another area of substantially higher expenses along with virtually all goods and services purchased by the carrier.

Since the economies previously achieved by the efficiency and capacity of the big jets have been absorbed in past years, the airline noted that increases in its costs must become "pass-through items" to its customers and therefore it has no choice but to seek higher fares.

Here are examples of the proposed normal economy one-way fares, with the present fare and percentage increase in brackets:

Western Canada Services: Vancouver-Prince Rupert-Terrace — $65 ($62 - 4.8 percent)

Prince George-Vancouver — $60 ($57 - 5.3 percent)

Several sectors, including Prince Rupert-Terrace, Edmonton-Grande Prairie, Fort Nelson-Edmonton, Fort St. John-Edmonton and Whitehorse-Watson Lake will have fare increases of the minimum $3.

Nisgha school trustees sworn in

The first elected board of school trustees for the Nisgha school district, in which 95 percent of the pupils are native Indians, was sworn in Tuesday, January 18 at New Aiyansh, 70 miles north of Terrace.

The trustees, elected in December, represent the Naas River Indian villages of Greenville, Kincolith, Canyon City and New Aiyansh and the Nass Camp of the Canadian Cellulose Company in the same area.

The 535 students attend elementary schools at Greenville and Kincolith and an elementary-junior-secondary school at New Aiyansh.

The Nisgha school district, formerly part of the Terrace district, was created by order-in-council in 1974, at the request of the Nisgha Tribal Council which wanted to upgrade the level of education in the villages and also use the schools to preserve the ancient Nisgha language and culture.

The district became operative in January, 1975, and for the first two years was administered by an official trustee appointed by the Department of Education.

The swearing-in and inaugural meeting of the elected board was attended by Dr. Walter Hardwick, deputy minister of education; Joe Phillipson, associate deputy minister; J.L. Cauty, superintendent of administrative services and Dr. Saul Arbess, director of Indian education.

Prior to the Second World War Nisgha elementary pupils attended church-operated residential schools and rarely pursued a secondary education. In the late 1940's the Department of Indian Affairs built and administered schools in each village so that elementary pupils did not have to leave home. In subsequent developments additional elementary classrooms were built, secondary students were sent to outside residential schools, federal superintendents of Indian schools were appointed and the B.C. school curriculum was adopted, but educational standards remained below the provincial average.

One of the first steps in the creation of the Nisgha school district was the acquisition of the original school properties from the Department of Indian Affairs. Since then $6.8 million has been spent for capital expenditures — additional classrooms, libraries and gymnasiums for the elementary schools and a new elementary-secondary school at New Aiyansh with library, science laboratories and home economics rooms, a music room and an industrial education room. Teacherages have also been built, and dormitories at New Aiyansh to accommodate secondary students from the other villages.

Educationally the regular B.C. curriculum is now being used but the district has considerable leeway to use locally-developed courses to give children a background in tribal economy and culture. The Nisgha language is already being taught in the elementary grades and work is being done to develop a written form of the language.

The elementary-secondary school at New Aiyansh is teaching up to grade 10 this year and plans to start grade 11 in September and grade 12 the following year.

Volunteers needed

The annual Kinsmen Mothers' March, held in 1977 on January 30th through February 5th, is above all a great volunteer effort by individuals in all communities throughout British Columbia to help the physically disabled of the province.

It is the main source of funds that enables the Kinsmen Rehabilitation Foundation of B.C. to continue its 25 year tradition of caring for the physically handicapped; and, for thousands of volunteers who give a little of their time each year to call on their neighbours, it is a major expression of support for the KRF's activities.

The participation of volunteers is vital to its success!

You can share in this tradition of caring; and give solid and invaluable support by becoming a volunteer marcher in your own neighbourhood in the 1977 Kinsmen Mothers' March.

If you want to help, please contact your local Kinsmen or Kinette Club; or ring the Kinsmen Rehabilitation Foundation in Vancouver at 736-3521 or 736-8841.

Your call will be more than welcome, because your help really is needed more than ever on this March.

Highway accident injures woman

Joan Theresa Lawrence of Burns Lake, was injured in a car accident Friday when her 1977 Thunderbird went into the Skeena River 47 miles west of Terrace on Yellowhead 16.

The car was travelling 16 feet along the guardrail when it went into a four wheel drift and plunged into the Skeena.

John Russel, of Northland Navigation, managed to get her out of the water and into a Department of Forestry truck where she was kept warm until the ambulance arrived. She was later released from hospital.

The following report, by Margaret Langley, coordinator of Terrace Community Services, was presented at the January meeting of the Terrace Community Services Society Board.

Terrace Community Services continued programs throughout the summer months with the assistance of volunteers and moved into larger quarters on August 16, 1976.

This move to larger quarters assured adequate accommodation to hire a part-time Consumer Debt Counsellor. A grant was received by the Terrace and District Community Resources Society from the Ministry of Consumer & Corporate Affairs to provide salary and operating expenses for this new service from September 1976 to September 1977.

The programs administered by Terrace Community Services for the Terrace and District Community Resources Society — either by grant from or on contract with the Department of Human Resources are Intermediate School Program, Meals-On-Wheels, Homemakers Service, Crisis Line and Coordination of Volunteers.

Terrace Community Services also act as the rental agent for the recently constructed Senior Citizens Complex of 40 units, which is under the authority of the British Columbia Housing Management Commission. We have been able to assist these residents in our role as volunteer agency, Homemakers, Meals-On-Wheels and in counselling. We have also coordinated donations to this complex from service clubs and other agencies to avoid duplication and to determine genuine needs with regard to additional furnishings for the sitting rooms, etc.

In September 1976, the Society applied for a grant from the federal government under the Local Initiatives Program to establish a 24 hour community telephone answering service. The grant was approved and has enabled us to provide jobs for four full-time and one part-time employee — two of whom are hired through the Provincial Rehabilitation and Employment Program. This program is self-administered with assistance from Terrace Community Services.

Programs or societies previously initiated or given approval in principle by the Society have remained active members of the Society and have called upon us for on-going support, assistance in recruiting volunteers or making public appeals when needed.

We have assisted such other organizations as the Red Cross, Heart Fund with seeking out volunteers for their campaigns.

At the Annual Meeting of the Society in October a by-law was passed increasing the numbers of Directors from seven to 12 to agree with the intent of the Society to have 12 elected Directors but also retaining the option for the municipal, regional and provincial governments to appoint a Director to the Board should they so desire. We have representation from the Municipality of Terrace and the Regional District of Kitimat-Stikine.

The Directors represent a good cross-section of the community from industry, banking, hospitals, schools, social and health services.

The Chairman presented to the December directors' meeting a letter expressing his views on what he felt should be part of the focus of Terrace Community Services — that of a clearing house for inter-agency coordination in dealing with multiple problem families.

Inter-agency meetings with this focus had already been instituted by the Mental Health Centre. The chairman's letter was presented to the ensuing inter-agency meeting and it was agreed to use Terrace Community Services as such a clearing-house in the future.

As this area — multiple problem families — was the concern of the original Community Resources Council we have come full circle in identifying the need of the families requiring help. It is felt that multiple problem families should be given the breadth of inter-agency assistance in coping, rather than splinter help which may only identify many smaller problems, seemingly not inter-related, with the onus upon the family to find remedy. The inter-agency approach gives family a multi-faceted resource to assist them in determining some kind of working approach to the problems collectively. For example, learning or emotional disabilities encountered at the primary and elementary school level are sometimes due to family strife and should be dealt with before the child reaches the junior secondary level where he may decide not to continue his education. All of the services under the Society's sponsorship have been towards a better quality of family life, whether it be pre-school, day care, mothers programs or services for seniors to enable them to be self-sufficient in their own homes or apartments.

Our Homemaker Service is used substantially by such agencies as Mental Health, Department of Human Resources, the Department of Indian Affairs as a home-aid and counselling resource for families under stress, physically, emotionally or financially and usually all three problems exist.

Our Crisis Line calls are not numerous — but those received can all be identified with a crisis situation. Here again, we find most calls (suicidal, deserted and lonely or alcoholic) can be traced to family conflict — impending or actual break-up.

Volunteerism being a component of all our programs, we are formulating a series of talks for our volunteers, homemakers, drivers, students, street-workers, telephone assistants and others who have requested instruction in lay-counselling on a variety of concerns. This will include counselling for teenagers, seniors, crisis, alcoholism, depression. The agencies approached have enthusiastically volunteered to assist us.

Hopefully, we will cover a broad area of counselling that can be done by concerned citizens without conflicting with the work of the social and health services. Ideally, this should augment the inter-agency approach to assisting families, and has been successful as above mentioned when we have employed homemakers to work with distressed families. As much as our focus has been on the voluntary aspect of non-statutory social services, we find we also involved with volunteerism in providing remedial health care.

The usage of our services in the community is continuously growing with individuals, societies, service agencies, the municipality, local newspapers, radio and television. We are regarded as an agency that integrates and coordinates many services which would not exist were they not housed together, and as a clearing house between the community and a wide variety of resource agencies.

Five man group reviews Pearse Report

What do you think about various recommendations contained in the report submitted by the Royal Commission on forest resources?

The question is being asked of industry, the public, and all other interested parties by the recently formed Forest Policy Advisory Committee of B.C. The five-man group has been charged with reviewing the implications and probable impact of recommendations made by forest economist Dr. Peter Pearse whose report released last November covered practically all aspects of forest management in the province.

Robert S. Wood, chairman of the advisory committee, explains "it is important the potential implementation of Dr. Pearse's recommendations is put into proper perspective." Probably the most significant aspect of the report will be the ultimate rewriting of the Forest Act.

The committee will receive written submissions up to March 31.

"All submissions must be directly related to the recommendations of the Royal Commission Report,"

Liberal meeting

The Terrace and District Liberal Association will be holding a meeting at Jim MacKay's home on Thursday, January 20 at 8 p.m. The address is 2708 South Eby Street.

Kitchen theft

Aaron White reported his two cabins on Kalam Lake Drive were broken into between January 14 and January 16. A fridge and a stove, both valued at $700, were stolen.

Mr. Wood emphasized, "...any extraneous issues will not be considered."

A summary not exceeding five pages must accompany each submission, and five copies of each should be sent to: Chairman, Forest Policy Advisory Committee of B.C., Suite 1114, Harbour Towers, 345 Quebec Street, Victoria, B.C. V8V 1N4.

Those making representations must be prepared to discuss their submissions upon invitation. The committee will visit various centres in the province to receive the invited discussions. Those receiving such an invitation will be advised of time, place and date for their presentations.

Other members of the advisory committee with Mr. Wood are: John Stokes, Deputy Minister of Forests; Dr. James Rae, assistant Deputy Minister, Ministry of Economic Development; W.C. (Wes) Cheston, resource manager, B.C. Forest Service Special Studies Division; and T.M. Apey, a Vancouver consulting forest economist.

...in plain language

You will soon be receiving the new ICBC plain language insurance guide—"All About Autoplan." As this is not a legal document it cannot replace the Automobile Insurance Act and Regulations and is not a substitute for them.

It sets out in plain language what Autoplan Insurance is all about and what it can do for you. Every motorist in B.C. will receive a copy of "All About Autoplan" with his renewal form. Please read it carefully and keep it in the glove compartment of your car for reference purposes.

THINGS TO LOOK FOR

Rate Class codes are important. In the Renewal Brochure which tells you how to renew your Autoplan Insurance and Motor Vehicle licence and in the "All About Autoplan" guide, you will find a Rate Class chart. Compare the present use of your vehicle and the age, sex and marital status of the drivers with the Rate Class Chart.

Locate your correct Rate Class number on the chart and compare it with the number in the box on your Renewal Form. If there is a change in your Rate Class or if there are three asterisks (***) on your form you should consult an Autoplan agent or Motor Vehicle Branch office. If you have not received a renewal form in the mail take your current 1976/77 Certificate of Insurance to any Motor Vehicle Branch office or Autoplan agent. They can also provide you with our new "All About Autoplan" guide.

VEHICLE EQUIPMENT CHART

The vehicle equipment chart on pages 18 and 19 of the new Autoplan Guide lists a variety of standard and specialized equipment.

If you can't find what you're looking for on the vehicle equipment chart, consult your Autoplan agent or Motor Vehicle Branch office.

ACCIDENT INFORMATION FORM

The last page of the new Autoplan Guide is an Accident Information form. If you keep the Guide in your glove compartment you will have the Accident Information form handy in case of an accident. Just fill in the details and hand the form to the ICBC adjuster when you take your vehicle to an ICBC claims facility.

FINANCE PLAN

An ICBC finance plan is available for your convenience. If you use the plan, you must still make full payment for your licence plate fees and a 25% down-payment on your Autoplan Insurance premium; the balance will require three instalment payments at two-month intervals. These payments will be automatically charged against your bank account if you elect to use this plan. The interest rate on the outstanding balance is 15% per annum (1 1/4% per month).

RENEWAL DATE

The deadline for Renewal is Midnight, February 28, 1977. Early renewal is more efficient and will save you valuable time. PLEASE RENEW EARLY.

WHERE TO RENEW

You can renew your Autoplan insurance at any Autoplan agent or Motor Vehicle Branch office.

STILL IN DOUBT?

Tragedy takes "little queen"

by Nadine Asante
Many friends of long standing in both Prince Rupert and Terrace were saddened and shocked to hear of the tragic death before Christmas on December 17, of "Vi" Dodds, beloved wife of Ben Dodds, formerly of Terrace and one time residents of Prince Rupert.

The Skeena claimed another victim when the Dodds' car left the highway and hurtled into the river on an icy stretch 41 miles east of the port city. The Dodds had ferried from Vancouver Island to visit their only child, Edith Benoit, for the Christmas season when the tragedy occurred.

Born in Rossland, B.C., in 1903, Viola May Pitt, was working as an accountant in a bank in Rossland when she met the young druggist, Bentley Robert Dodds, who was to become her husband.

The young couple travelled north to Prince Rupert in 1935 where Ben worked as a druggist for Ormes Drugs in that coastal city for 12 years.

They decided to strike out on their own and in 1947 Ben and Vi moved to Terrace where Ben took over Riley's Drugs which he renamed Terrace Drugs. And it was in Terrace they made their life for the next twenty or so years until they semi-retired in the late sixties.

Semi-retired may not be the exact description of the Dodds at that time because after only a few months of idleness after selling Terrace Drugs, the Dodds bought Kitimat Pharmacy and resided in the aluminum city for five years before retiring permanently to Victoria three years ago.

Not only their home at Lakelse Lake but their former home in Terrace near the Arena was a constant 'home away from home' to anyone in need. Their place was so much like Grand Central Station that Vi often laughed about the time neighbours borrowed their piano during the wee small hours while the Dodds slept blissfully on through the night, completely unaware until daylight of the loan.

Described as a 'little queen' by a Terrace friend, Mary Schaeffer, whose family borrowed her as Granny, Vi Dodds is portrayed as a woman who worked hard behind the scenes for worthy causes but who never stepped into the front line expecting personal praise or attention.

And the best mom in the world according to her only child, Edith Benoit; Vi is described by long-time friend, Grace Fell, as a loyal and loving person who always managed to be around when she was needed.

A 'non-joiner', Vi nevertheless made her presence felt by being a background helper and a 'second to none' kind of wife who was a helpmate to her husband one hundred percent of the time.

The Dodds' home at the Lake was Vi's particular interest and it was here that her garden and love of canoeing came into focus. An avid entertainer and an excellent cook, Vi's kitchen was the centre of attention and many Terracites will remember with fondness the happy hours spent at the Dodds' Lakelse Lake home.

Extinguishing the spark of life who was Vi Dodds has lessened the flame in many hearts in the northwest but it is a small comfort to know that her end was brief, without lingering illness or pain.

To mourn her passing besides her husband,

Stevens officiating. Burial took place in the Old Kitsumgallum Cemetery. Mackay's Funeral Services was in charge of the arrangements.

Death takes another pioneer

CHARLES VICTOR LINDSTROM passed away peacefully in Mills Memorial Hospital at the age of 97 years. He came to Terrace from the Yukon in 1907 to work on the building of the railway as a blacksmith and later turned to farming and logging.

He married Anna Bateman from Oregon and they were the first white couple to be married in the Anglican Mission by Cannon Marsh. He is survived by his wife, three daughters and two sons, 16 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren. Funeral services were held Monday, January 17 from Knox United Church in Terrace.

Pallbearers were Emile Froese, Frank Froese, Harold Smith, Cecil Lever, Bill Camphouse and Eli Christensen. Burial was in the Old Kitsumgallum Cemetery.

Teachers' pay back this month

The Board of School Trustees, School District 88 (Terrace), has been officially advised by the Federal Anti-Inflation Board that it has reviewed the Board's compliance proposal for the teachers group and that the A.I.B. feels that the decision rendered by A.I.B. is reflected in the revised submission from the school board.

The A.I.B. has indicated that it is prepared to accept the proposed compliance report.

Mr. E. Wells, Secretary-Treasurer of the School Board, in a letter sent to Mr. K.I. Morton, the Chairman, Agreements Committee, Terrace District Teachers' Association, indicates that arrangements will be made to deduct over-payments of teachers' salaries for January 1 to November 30, 1976 in six equal instalments beginning from the January pay cheques.

The new pitcher-pak

Canada's fastest growing family-size milk package.

Now for the first time, pitcher-pouring convenience and economy. The new 'PITCHER-PAK' consists of 3 individual 1 1/3 litre pouches (approx. 47 fluid ounces each) . . . so you just open and use one at a time.

Easy to pour. One pouch fits into the custom designed pitcher (available at a special introductory price) so all you do is insert the pouch, snip off a small corner and pour.

Easy to store. The unopened pouches store easily on their side, using a minimum of refrigerator space.

Milk stays fresher. Because you open only one pouch at a time, you have a minimum amount of milk open for a minimum amount of time. The other pouches stay sealed until needed, with the flavour and freshness locked in.

Light and strong. Though light in weight, the 'PITCHER-PAK' is extra strong.

Easy disposal. The empty pouches crumple up into almost nothing, take almost no space in the garbage.

Just follow these simple procedures. When you insert the pouch into the pitcher, tap the pitcher firmly on the bottom, 2 or 3 times. This will settle the pouch down into the pitcher and create a vacuum which will hold the pouch firmly in place. Then just snip off a small corner of the pouch and pour. When not in use, fold the corner down and tuck in beside the pouch.

Shriners elect officers

Elected during the regular meeting held Tuesday, January 4, 1977 were the officers for the year 1977.

The following Shrine members of the Terrace Shrine Club 18 residing either in Terrace or Kitimat have been elected to the following offices: President, Alex Inselberg, Terrace; Vice President, Jack Ireland, Kitimat; Secretary, Bill Reynolds, Terrace; Treasurer, Bill Walters, Terrace; Auditor, Dave Duguid, Kitimat; Auditor, Bill Richkum, Kitimat.

It was decided by the new Executive for the year 1977, to continue with the once a month, last Thursday of every month, bingo games in the Terrace Arena banquet room, to raise funds for the crippled and burned children of our area. At this moment, the Terrace Shrine Club has a total of 18 children in care. The territory of the Terrace Shrine Club covers Highway 16 from Burns Lake to Kwinitsa and Kitimat, with surrounding communities, also the Nass Valley. As example, one boy from South-bank, near Burns Lake, went on January 4 to the Shrine Hospital in Portland, Oregon. The Terrace Shrine Club is always on the lookout for children in need of treatment. The Shrine Hospital accepts children up to the age of 16 years with burns and children who are crippled through muscular or bone diseases. Transportation for these children in Shrine Hospitals, including parents, if necessary, is all paid for by the Shrine Club.

If you do know, or have a child that would fall in one of the above listed categories why don't you contact any of the Shriners you know, or who are listed above for possible assistance and help.

Focus on the family

by Flora Stokes

"No one is rich enough to do without a neighbour." Danish proverb.

Independence is a prized goal in our society — we feel we should be able to make it on our own and that it's somehow an admission of failure to ask for help. For men in particular it's considered unacceptable to admit to stresses you can't cope with and so we all pay the price of resulting ulcers, alcoholism, isolation, and loneliness.

Aren't we crazy!!!! No one can cope with life all the time. People need each other. We are interdependent with a deep need both to give and receive freely. We need to share with each other. It's OK to ask for help — it's part of being human.

Alcohol, says the handwritten poster at the town office in Rae-Edzo, in the Northwest Territories, is one of the most effective removers known to man. "Alcohol will remove furniture from the home, rugs from the floor, food from the table, the lining from your stomach, vision from your eyes, and judgment from your mind."

It's pretty difficult to enjoy family life if your creditors are pounding at the door and the power has been cut off because you haven't paid the bill. Those of us living in the Terrace area are fortunate to have the services of a Debt Counsellor to give us sound help in money management. Mr. Bill Godden has an office at Terrace Community Services, 4603D Park Avenue (across from the Library). His office hours are 3 to 4:15 p.m. and 5 to 7 p.m. from Monday to Friday and 1 to 3 p.m. on Saturday. Phone 638-1256 for an appointment or drop into the office. Bill is there to advise you on how to manage and budget your money and can help you consolidate your debts. He is also able to act as a mediator with your creditors. You don't need to be on the verge of bankruptcy to go to the Debt Counsellor. It's much easier to deal with money problems before they reach crisis proportions.

In the old days, the man who saved his money was a miser; now he's a wonder!!!

"The child is indeed the father of the man." By the time a child is five years old he has formed attitudes about himself, what he is capable of doing, and what he can expect of other people, that he will later bring into adulthood. And all this before his "education" has begun. Parents are the child's first teachers and the most influential ones.

(Pacific) Branch No. 13
Terrace

The first General Meeting of the 1977 term was called to order Tuesday, January 11 with President Dave Simons in the chair. There were 24 Ordinary Members, three Associates, two L.A. members, five Ordinary Members from Branch 250 in Kitimat and one Ordinary member from Branch 24 in Edmonton present. The draw was won by Associate Member Mary Stevens who in turn donated the gift to the Kitimat Branch.

It was carried unanimously to renew six Honorary Memberships. Two applications for Ordinary membership, seven applications for Associate membership and nine applications for Fraternal Affiliate membership were accepted. One transfer out of the branch was noted.

Comrade Bob Bennett reported that while poppy sales were down $56.92 in the 1976 campaign an over-all net increase of $155.60 was realized over the 1975 campaign. Congratulations to the Poppy and Wreath Committee on a job well done.

President John Nattress of the Associates, President

Lissi Sorensen of the L.A. and President Dave Allen of the Kitimat Branch addressed the meeting briefly.

This past weekend Terrace was the scene of the Legion Zone curling playdowns to determine who would represent the Zone at the Provincial Playdowns in Summerland. Masset's team of Skip - Len Greenhow, Chuck Stephens, Wally Curtin and Ron Steeves dropped out after losing first to Terrace and then to Prince Rupert. Prince Rupert's team of Skip - Ken Warren, Glen Buchanan, Doug Kerr and Harry Stewart eventually edged out the Terrace team of Skip - Dale Stacy, Keith Trask, Neil Nordstrom and Bud Kirkaldy after three hard fought battles. The Terrace Branch was well represented by their team and we wish the boys better luck for a future year. A goodly number of members turned out to watch the games and cheer their team on.

Don't forget that dues are due and payable as of right now. Fraternal Affiliates have only to the end of this month in order to keep their membership continuous. All dues are payable at the end of a year and the period of grace soon runs out.

The D.V.A. officer will be visiting Terrace on January 21, 1977. Anyone wishing to avail themselves of his services can contact the Branch Service Officer, Cy Hart, and make arrangements.

Remember the Legion Bonspiel upcoming the last weekend in January. Fun Time again!

Kinsmen Mothers' March 1977

The polio epidemic of 1944 which tragically disabled a great number of men, women, and children in B.C. gave rise to the birth of the Kinsmen Rehabilitation Foundation.

After the development and wide use of the Salk Vaccine, polio was no longer a threat to the people of the province. But the victims of the epidemic remained. And the work of the Foundation was extended to aid all physically handicapped whose particular needs were not met by any private or government agency.

The Foundation's principal source of income comes from the annual Kinsmen Mothers' March. Taking place January 30 to February 5, 1977, the March represents the combined efforts of 76 Kinsmen Clubs of B.C., over 2,000 participating Kinsmen and Kinettes, and over 20,000 volunteer marchers who will be calling on their neighbours throughout the province.

Kinsmen Mothers' March dollars are spent to aid the physically disabled of B.C. Perhaps you can help someone you know.

When the volunteer calls at your door, please show your care.

Library news

TERRACE LIBRARY HAS BOOKS IN OTHER LANGUAGES

by Elaine Perry

Now out where they can be seen are the library's books in other languages. The library has a collection of books in French that were donated by the Canada Council through the Terrace French Club last year. The National Library recently began a program of purchasing books in Canada's unofficial languages for loan to public libraries throughout the country. Our library has a small collection of books in Dutch, Portuguese and German.

But if you want to read writings in other languages and don't know the language try some in translation. The most popular writer in French is the Belgian Georges Simeon — the creator of the famous detective Maigret. Simeon has sold over 300,000,000 books in dozens of languages (which makes him along with Agatha Christie the top-selling author in the world).

Probably the best known German writers of fiction today are Heinrich Boll and the powerful Gunter Grass. Grass is flamboyant in life and inventive in his writing, a combination which has made him the most successful of post-war German writers.

The Italian novelist who is best known outside his country in translation is Alberto Moravia. His work gives a picture of Roman life in the last 40 years.

NEW BOOKS

Ducks, Geese and Swans of North America revised edition. A classic work, revised and expanded, it is the authority for identifying every type of waterfowl on the continent.

Nature Quizzes for Canadians by Vicky McMillan. A light but informative book that tests your knowledge of Canada's birds, trees, weather and other natural phenomena in an enjoyable way.

A suggestion box has just been put up in the foyer of the library to receive your comments and criticisms. We are happy to receive ideas which might help improve library service.

Women's Mission Society meeting

The Women's Mission Society of Zion Baptist Church held a most successful meeting at Old Remo in the home of Mrs. Erna Schulze on Monday, January 10. Thirteen ladies were present to listen to guest speakers, Ellen McClelland, President Siegrid Bahr and Mrs. Schulze.

The evening ended with refreshments served by the hostess.

The next meeting of the society will take place at the home of Mrs. Gisella Williamson, 4215 Thomas Street on Monday, February 14 beginning at 8 p.m. All members are invited to attend and to bring a friend along.

Renters Tax Credit Program

Honourable Hugh Curtis, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing recently reminded all renters in the province — especially those over 65 — that the application for RentAid — The B.C. Renters Tax Credit Program, is included in the federal income tax forms now being distributed. This program is funded entirely by the government of British Columbia, and allows all renters over 16 years of age to claim up to $100 — either in the form of a tax credit, or a refund if no tax is payable. The minimum credit allowable for those over 65 is $80. The application should be made on a separate page enclosed in all income tax forms, which along with a completed tax form, must be sent to Ottawa for processing.

Cents take fastclean game

The Terrace Centennials hosted the Kitimat Winter Hawks Saturday and the two teams put on one of the finest displays of hockey seen in this town. Both teams skated hard all night, with endless end to end rushes, and stayed away from the penalties with only 20 minutes called.

The first period set the game's pace as both teams came out flying and continued to do so for the full 60 minutes. In this frame there was no scoring as both goaltenders denied all shooters and many hopeful marksmen missed glorious opportunities. The Cents Mario Moretto blocked 10 shots while Hawk Ron Marleau turned aside 11.

The second period saw the shooters having the advantage as both clubs managed three goals. The Hawks started the scoring spree after only two and a half minutes of play. Captain Greg Egan fed Brad Owens in front and Owens fired a quick shot by Moretto.

The Cents wasted little time getting the equalizer as Lance Legouffe blasted a shot along the ice three minutes later. Kelly McCabe and Barry Heit combined to set up Legouffe who beat Marleau to the far side.

Just over one minute later the Cents surged ahead as Doug Matheson scored his first of three. Matheson picked up the puck in the centre ice area, carried it in and fired wide. He then went behind the net, picked up his own rebound, swung in front of the net and quickly fired a shot into the short side.

The Winter Hawks evened things up at the 14:36 mark when Blake Walkanshaw picked up a Greg Egan pass behind the net and swung in front, lifting the puck over Moretto's legs.

With just over one minute remaining the Cents regained the lead when Matheson scored his second of the period. Cliff Thorstensen kept the puck in the Hawk zone and fed Dave Wakefield along the boards. Wakefield fired the puck out front and Matheson banged it in under Marleau.

This lead was short-lived however as the Hawks scored 56 seconds later. Alan Wakita and the ever present Greg Egan, combined to set up Don Kellar who converted the set-up by blasting a shot over Moretto's outstretched leg.

The Hawks took the lead for the second time in the game three minutes into the last period. Greg Nickerson was left alone in front and fired a Trevor Sandberg pass into the corner, Bryan Juckes also assisting.

From then on the Cents shut out the Hawks and scored three of their own to win 6 to 4. Just 40 seconds after the Hawks took the lead Legouffe scored his second of the game on a play similar to his first goal. Heit fed him as Legouffe broke down the left side. Lance then fired a low shot past Marleau.

At this point Hawk coach Mike Topp replaced Marleau with Denny Szmata, hoping to turn things around. Szmata managed to hold the Cents at bay for five minutes before newcomer Brian Moroney slid the puck under him for the winning goal; Wakefield and Thorstensen assisting.

One minute and 37 seconds later Doug Matheson completed his hat trick bid with a backhand, beating Szmata between the legs. Wakefield passed to Moroney who fired the puck up ice. Matheson raced a Kitimat defender the length of the ice and, reaching the puck first, fired a quick shot by a somewhat surprised Hawk goalie.

For his hat trick and all out effort Matheson was chosen the game's first star. Hawk Greg Egan (three assists) picked up the second honour and Cent

Dave Wakefield (three assists) rounded out the star selection.

Playing-coach Gord Cochrane was extremely pleased with his team's play and commented, "Just one month ago most of these guys were second stringers, now with a starting role and amazing desire they've turned themselves into winners and more important, tough competitors." Although there was less than 200 fans Cochrane was impressed by the verbal support they gave.

"The few fans present witnessed one helluva hockey game," said Cochrane, "and if the public won't come out to watch this type of hockey, I don't know what they want."

The Cents next game is this Wednesday when they travel to Prince Rupert. The next home game is Saturday at 8:30 p.m. when they clash with the Kitimat Winter Hawks.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUER Dale Kushner tests Cent Mario Moretto during Cent - All Star clash.

Cents inept against All Stars

Last Wednesday the Commercial All Stars and the Terrace Centennials clashed in an exhibition game with the All Stars coming up with a convincing 12 to 3 victory. The game was fast paced and clean with only 27 minutes in penalties handed out by referee Red L'Estrange; 17 to the All Stars.

The Cents opened the scoring as they took the play to the All Stars. After only 51 seconds Lance Legouffe blasted a shot from just inside the blueline, beating Eric Chapman low and to the corner; Steve Radford and Gord Cochrane assisting.

The juniors took a 2-0 lead at the 9:12 mark as they continued to press. Barry Heit converted a Kelly McCabe pass by slipping the puck in on the short side; Cliff Thorstensen also assisting.

That goal seemed to wake up the All Stars and they began applying pressure. They broke the ice at the 15:48 mark when Steve Dillabough banged in a rebound after Tibor Mandur had made saves on Rick Lewis and Brad Letham. However, Mandur couldn't freeze the disc and it was 2-1.

Thirty-two seconds later the Commercial Leaguers flipped a shot over Mandur's outstretched leg. Les Thorstensen had set up Lewis who drove a low shot at the net. Mandur made the leg save but left the net open for Michaud. The period ended at two each and was one of the best periods of hockey seen this year.

The second frame saw the All Stars outscore the Cents three to one as they took a 5-3 lead. Marcel Tookenay got things rolling as he scored after two and a half minutes, converting a Terry Markwart pass, by beating Mandur on the short side.

Seven minutes later Tookenay had his second goal as he took a Bob Cooper pass, after stepping out of the penalty box, and slid the puck between Mandur's leg and the post; Bob Peacock also assisting.

The Cents drew within one as Cliff Thorstensen and Barry Heit combined to set up Kelly McCabe who made no mistake flipping the puck over Chapman's leg. Tookenay scored his third of the period with less than a minute to go as he beat Mandur with a quick shot along the ice after a pass from Michaud.

The last period was all Commercial League as they scored seven unanswered goals on the tired Centennials. Michaud started the ball rolling after only three minutes when, after a pass from Don Clifford, he slipped the puck through Mandur's legs. Less than two minutes later Dale Kushner and Bob Cooper combined to set up Peacock in front who drilled a shot between the pads of Mandur.

The Cents then changed goalies, bringing in Mario Moretto, hoping to turn things around. It worked for a few minutes but not long enough as the All Stars picked up goal number eight at the 12:12 mark. Jim Gustafson set up Letham in front and the shot went in off Moretto's glove. Forty-four seconds later Michaud picked up his hat trick as he took a Lewis pass, broke past the defenceman and beat Moretto cleanly on the stick side.

The All Stars finished off their scoring in one minute, eleven seconds. At the 16:01 mark Tookenay took a shot which Moretto juggled and Gustafson was there to slip in the loose puck. Nineteen seconds later Tookenay scored his fourth of the game as he stole the puck and went in on Moretto alone. After half a dozen fakes Tookenay had Mario down and out and slid the goal into the gaping net. The All Stars finished off 52 seconds later as Michaud scored his fourth goal. Lewis blasted a shot from the blueline and the Flying Frenchman poked in the rebound.

The All Stars outshot the Cents by a narrow 34 to 29 margin. The three stars of the game were All Stars Marcel Tookenay (4 goals, 1 assist) and Rino Michaud (4 goals, 1 assist) and Cents' Steve Radford.

GMs win in dying seconds

McEWAN MOTORS 6 GORDON AND ANDERSON 5

McEwan Motors scored three goals in the last two minutes of play, both on shots from the point that bounced off players to come away with a 6 to 5 victory over Gordon and Anderson in an exciting game played Monday night in the Terrace Commercial Hockey League.

Gordon and Anderson got the first marker of the evening, Barry Heinen scoring on a hard slap shot. John Losier got the disc to him in the slot.

Steve Dillbough tied the count at one each, picking up a rebound off a shot by Rick Lewis. Gordon Bentham got the second assist.

GM went one up just before the period ended on a power play marker. Rick Lewis again took a shot that was stopped. Rae Rowe pounced on the puck and GM had a one goal lead.

Five minutes after the second frame started G&A tied the score at 2-2. Bruggeman was the marksman on a pass from Larry Balano and that ended the second period scoring.

McEwan Motors took the lead at 6:02 of the third when they broke out of their own end on a three-on-one break. Scott Corp scored assisted by Rae Rowe and Marcel Tookenay.

Jim Gustafson evened the count at 3-3, scoring on a two-on-one break with Nickerson.

It took GM exactly one minute to take a one goal lead again — Lewis from Dillbough and Bentham, giving a 4-3 advantage to McEwan.

Larry Balano tied the score at 4-4 as he banked a shot off the post with Don Clifford assisting.

John Losier gave G&A a one goal lead with just over seven minutes left in the game on a shot from close in. Jim Gustafson set up the play.

With less than a minute left in the contest Keith Colwell fired a shot from the point that bounced off a G&A defender and went into the net. Frank O'Brien was credited with the assist.

With 33 seconds left in the game G&A received a slashing penalty. It took GM just seven seconds to get the winner. Colwell again fired a hard shot from the right point. It hit Rick Lewis on the hand and went into the cage. Final score McEwan Motors 6, Gordon and Anderson 5.

Last Thursday night's Commercial Hockey game was an even battle all the way. The two teams were never more than one goal apart during the whole contest. Gordon and Anderson scored the final marker of this game and came out the winner.

Earl Campbell started things off, scoring at the 1:20 mark of the first frame assisted by Bob Cooper.

Gordon and Anderson evened the count just before the period ended, Brad Letham and Jim Gustafson teaming up to score.

Scott Freeman assisted by Barry Heinen gave the G&A squad a one point margin two minutes after the second started. The score was then 2-1 for G&A.

Pohle Lumber got that one back three minutes later, Darryl DeWynter the marksman, assisted by Sev Piattoni and Dale Kushner. Gordon and Anderson went one up again before the second period ended, Barry Heinen from John Losier and Don Clifford.

Pohle tied the count six minutes after the third got underway. Earl Campbell with his second of the night scored an unassisted goal.

Don Clifford from Leblanc gave G&A the lead again at the midway point of the third.

Bob Cooper evened things up again two minutes later; John Taylor and DeWynter getting the assist.

John Losier was the final marksman in this game, scoring at the 14 minute mark to give Gordon & Anderson the win in this closely played contest.

Michaud gets three as Fordmen stay on top

TOTEM FORD 10 POHLE LUMBER 3

Pohle Lumber outshot Terrace Totem Ford 25 to 18 over the first two periods of play in the second game in the Commercial League Monday night but Totem Ford wound up on the long end of a 5-2 score. Then the Ford crew came out in the third and fired 22 shots at the Pohle net, skating away with a 10 to 3 victory.

Rino Michaud scored the first goal of the game after five minutes of play. It was the first shot on goal for Ford and the first of three for Michaud. Rino also added two assists during the game for a five point night.

Bob Cooper tied the count three minutes later, picking a pass out of the air and deflecting it past Lamming. Mike Barg got the assist. Cooper was responsible for the next goal as well, keeping the puck in Ford end and passing to Lynn Kraeling in the slot, giving Pohle a one goal lead.

A power play goal by Bob Peacock tied the score at 2-2. Peacock fired a shot from the point that found the target; Michaud and Hackman picking up assists.

Peacock gave Ford the lead with 1:06 left in the period on an individual effort, stickhandling his way past three Pohle players and finding the top corner.

Pohle Lumber had their chance to get back in the game at the six minute mark of the second frame. Ford drew two minor penalties and played two men short for more than a minute but held tight.

Totem Ford scored with less than five minutes left in the period, Michaud with his second assisted by Hackman and Peacock.

The final goal of the period was kicked into an open net by a Ford player and the score stood at 5-2 for Totem Ford.

With 8:14 gone in the third period Dale Kushner and Dick Shinde got into a scuffle resulting in two minutes for Shinde and six minutes for Kushner. Less than a minute later Rino has his hat trick, intercepting a pass in his own end, racing the length of the ice, taking the goalie out of his socks and tucking the puck in.

Larry Hackman got the next goal for Ford. Peacock swept around the Pohle net, threw the disc out to Larry who promptly scored to make the count 7-2.

Terry Markwart scored the next goal with Pohle playing a man short. His shot just trickled over the goal line, Brian Kormandy assisting.

Totem Ford scored two more power play goals before the game ended and with less than two minutes left, Peacock teamed up with Hackman and Shinde with both sides even to give Totem Ford a 10-3 victory and retain top spot in the league.

In memory of our dear son, Roger Trelenberg, who died January 19, 1974.
More and more each day we miss him
Friends may think the wound is healed.

In loving memory of John Terry Green, who passed on January 17, 1974.
Always a thought and many a tear,
For one we miss and loved so dear,
The sudden way you had to die,
We shall always remember and wonder why.

Don't Tell Everybody
 Returning home early from a visit, Mrs. Bell found her husband in the arms of the next-door neighbor. "Ben," she screamed, "how could you?" Glancing back from the embrace, Ben muttered meekly, "I guess the whole neighborhood will know before the day is over!"

Nervous

Upon entering the bathroom in a hotel, a lady recognized the scheduled guest speaker pacing up and down and asked him what he was doing there. "I'm going to deliver a speech," he replied. "Do you usually get this nervous before making a speech?" "Nervous?" "No, not me." "Then what are you doing in the Ladies' Room?"

ROAM AT HOME

A TRAVEL BRITISH COLUMBIA FEATURE

THE TRAIL TO THE MONKMAN PASS

by Lyn Hancock

To hike the Monkman Trail is to walk in a wilderness garden of wildflowers and waterfalls. Through parklands of pine and spruce, up ridges to towering mountains, down into dells of lush fernery, alongside rushing rivers — everywhere you tread on carpets of bluebells, scarlet columbines and paintbrush, yellow arnica, white Solomon's Seal, Queen's cup and the ubiquitous bunchberry. And for a mile and a half on steeply canyoned Monkman Creek as many as eight waterfalls cascade tempestuously from ledge to ledge. Elsewhere the rivers are riddled with rapids.

According to the latest British Columbia road map, the Monkman hinterland is the emptiest area in the whole province. East of the Hart Highway between Prince George and Dawson Creek the map merely shows two names, the Murray River and the Rocky Mountains. But do not be perturbed. There are two roads in to meet the Monkman Trail. The better known one leaves the blacktop at Beaverlodge about 79 miles (126 kilometres) southeast of Dawson Creek and turns onto the Redwillow-Kinuseo Road for a total distance of 176 miles (282 kilometres). Those who regard rain-rutted roads as a welcome challenge may prefer the shorter route along the British Columbia-Alberta Boundary Road south of Tupper, a total distance of 120 miles (190 kilometres).

The road ends at the Murray River campground and the trail begins. Hacked by hand during the summers of 1973 and 1974 by Vern Hopkins and his forestry students, it covers 17 miles (27 kilometres) between the campground and Monkman Lake, a rewarding week or weekend adventure. For the first few miles, the trail winds through a pine and spruce forest, sidles past the fast-flowing Murray River and gives glimpses of glaciated mountains. At mile 4, the Forest Service has recently installed a "flying fox" or hand operated pulley system to provide the hiker with an exciting ride across the Murray River. Pack-dogs and packs can be roped on to the board and swung over the stream as easily as self-propelled hikers. After Mile 4, the trail climbs steeply upstream along a razor-backed ridge which affords unobstructed views of the river below and the mountains above. Then it continues on an undulating route over the heavily forested slopes between the Monkman Creek and the Murray River to Mile 7. For those who like to pace themselves more leisurely, Mile 7, marked by a sign saying "Water", provides a good place to camp overnight.

Others who wish to press on may fortify themselves with lunch here, then continue to switchback the ridges high above the rapids of the Monkman Creek. Incessant rain may make waterfalls at your feet but the waterfalls from afar squeezed between the canyons of the snaking river far below call you closer.

Leave the trail about Mile 11 and, following the sound of the falls, plunge down the forested slopes by the easiest ridges to spend a day meandering the many cascades of the Monkman. The waters gush through the gorges in a myriad different shapes — roaring down chutes in long tongues, sprawling on ledges like filmy lace cloths, thrashing over the drop-off like storm-tossed oceans.

Climb back to the trail by the stream near Mile 12 and spend the night at the Timberline Hiking Club camp. Here some enthusiastic hikers have constructed a rustic log table, drying racks and fire pits. Someone has even backpacked in an old iron wood stove. To cross the stream next day you have two alternatives — wade across and get wet or walk over a handy log bridge by the camp a few yards upstream from the main trail.

For the next three miles (five kilometres) the trail leaves the forest and opens out onto a burn where panoramic views over the Monkman Pass to the south more than compensate for deadfalls obstructing the swampy ground at your feet. Monkman Lake with its trout fishing, sunbaking and mountain climbing possibilities is an excellent base for a few days' stay. The Forest Service has put in a garbage well and a triangular-shaped log shelter with a cross on top. It is not a church but a biffy.

Beyond, the snow-capped mountains beckon but the trail becomes overgrown. The pack trail across the Dazaiko and McGregor Mountains connects with a similar trail commencing at the Prince George end at Hansard. Push on towards Prince George if you wish or wait until another community-conscious enterprising hiker like Vern Hopkins generates further support to extend the present excellent Monkman Trail.

I am the mighty Skeena

by David R. Erickson Terrace, B.C.

I am the mighty Skeena
I've been here long before
The shooting of the shotgun
Or the logging up the Clore

I am the mighty Skeena
The strongest in the land
The power of my current
'Twas built by nature's hand

I am the favorite of the gods
I am the spirit of their soul
And if their anger threatens
No one will control

For the waters will start raging
Ripping trees and roads and rails
Crushing the ones that torment with my friend that brings the gales.

No one treads the Skeena
No one taps my source
No one questions either
For my answer's gruff and coarse.

Centurions try their pleasure
Gladiators draw their swords
So to you gallant soldiers
I'll smash you just like gourds

From the headqaters to the ocean
They've built towns along my banks
On occasion I remind them
'Careful with my flanks'

For I am the mighty Skeena
No one dares foretell
Of the instant of my rising
Or the conscience of my spell

Just write poems about me Mister
Paint pictures if you will
But touch the canvas gently
I have been known to kill

I am the mighty Skeena
Take heed as you go by
I am a proud believer
In the fact I'll never die.

Everyone Welcome

R.E.M. LEE THEATRE

Sylvia Tyson in concert

The Terrace and District Arts Council is presenting Sylvia Tyson "in concert" on Saturday, February 5 at the R.E.M. Lee Theatre beginning at 8:15 p.m.

She is reputed to be a tough interview, which is understandable considering that the stories surrounding the myth are endless, traded by the media like old snapshots until they blur. She is aware that the heavily publicized events of her personal life exert an effect on her audience. So she doesn't lose her cool, doesn't back away, just stands there and parries loaded questions with considerable skill. She is Sylvia Tyson.

Life began for Sylvia Fricker in Chatham, Ontario, a small farming centre. Sylvia taught Sunday school, sang in the church choir and studied piano at home with her mother. In the evenings, she'd listen to a Detroit rhythm and blues station which played such artists as Fats Domino, The Coasters, Little Richard, Chuck Berry and Jerry Lee Lewis.

"I wanted to be a folksinger from the time I was 15," she admits. "I decided I'd finish high school — if that's what everybody wanted — and then I'd go and do my own things. I didn't know if you could make any money as a full-time folksinger. It's just that's what I wanted to do."

Her first instrument was a mail order red-and-white silk-screen guitar with a cowboy lassoing a cow. She'd tune to a chord, use a bar and figure out the appropriate chord changes. She wasn't even interested in becoming technically proficient; she only wanted accompaniment. She learned English ballads and American folksongs by borrowing books from the library.

Sylvia began singing at church and hospital functions and eventually saved enough money to move to Toronto, where she met Ian Tyson. They first worked together while doing alternate sets at the Village Corner Club. Eventually he provided guitar backup for her on a regular basis. She also worked solo at the Bohemian Embassy, squeezed between readings from local poets.

Ian and Sylvia formed officially as a part-time duo in the fall of 1959. Two years later they went full-time. Ian recalls his initial impressions of his partner were: "She was very standoffish. She was very unique and I didn't know what to make of her. Nobody did. She was a loner, an original, very introspective, very shy, very small-town. But you could see she wasn't going to be small-town very long."

No sir. Small-town she was not to be. For Sylvia's career climbed from Toronto's Yorkville Village to the international success enjoyed by Ian and Sylvia, through the natural evolution to solo artist. She grew from one small town in Ontario to all of Canada; in the last three years having hosted "Touch the Earth", a weekly national CBC radio program reaching hundreds of thousands of people.

In 1975, Sylvia recorded her first solo album, "Woman's World", produced by Ian and entirely self-penned. The album was released by Capitol Records-EMI in Canada, the United States and Great Britain. Reactions were excellent. One magazine stated, "Woman's World is not only one of the best albums of the year, but the best album ever released by a female Canadian vocalist".

Sylvia has been a busy lady since the release of the album. In June 1976, she joined Gordon Lightfoot, Murray McLauchlin and Liona Boyd in a special benefit concert which raised close to $200,000 for Canada's Olympic athletes, and was televised nationally in Canada. In 1975, she was featured on a CBC hour-long television special entitled "Three Women" with classical contralto Maureen Forrester and Quebecoise singer Pauline Julien. The show was so widely acclaimed that it will be repeated in the late fall of 1976. Also in 1975, Sylvia appeared with John Denver in concert and was the guest entertainer at a $50-a-plate National Ballet champagne dinner. Besides all this activity she has been performing at outdoor festivals and participating in workshops and concerts throughout Canada.

The fall of 1976 found Sylvia with her second Capitol-EMI album, "Cool Wind from the North", of which seven of the tracks are Sylvia's own. The album was recorded at Thunder Sound in Toronto and was again produced by Ian.

Onstage now, Sylvia is joined by the four musicians she banded together originally for the Olympic concert. Adding rhythm guitar herself to the music, Sylvia and her band take to the road to perform selective club and concert dates in support of the new album.

The evolution seems to have come to its ultimate conclusion now. The public has stopped associating Sylvia with the narrowly circumscribed folk idiom which she explored with such brilliance in the sixties. Nor is she chained to the experimental country music so aptly transmitted by Ian and herself. Her songs have been performed and recorded in several languages by other artists including Nana Mouskouri, Kitty Wells and The We Five ("You were on my Mind"). She's been "rediscovered" as having the integrity of an artist, an artist who happens to be intelligent and capable of beautiful things...

Sylvia has been in music for a long time, but music has been in Sylvia even longer. Listen for yourself. Listen with understanding and with intelligence. Listen hard to Sylvia Tyson. Her music will get inside you, too.

AT THE R.E.M. LEE THEATRE

Homer James in concert

A group of Terrace churches have organized to bring the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association's Homer James in Concert to the R.E.M. Lee Theatre on Thursday, January 27 beginning at 7:30 p.m. All seats are free and everyone is welcome.

Homer James will be accompanied by John Innes at the piano and organ. The host of the show is Lowell Jackson. They are members of the Agape Show seen weekly on CFTK-TV. It is Canada's Coast-to-coast Television Outreach described by the Billy Graham team as follows:

A PERSONAL WORD
Canada is quickly becoming a strategic nation in the world's urgent search for direction during these crisis days. Canada's global influence in the next few years will be unprecedented in its history, as other countries increasingly turn to Canada for leadership in confronting the energy, food, monetary and peace problems.

The Billy Graham Team believes reaching Canada now for Jesus Christ is crucial to world evangelization.

For several years, we have had a definite burden for Canada, especially through the Canadian members of our team: George Beverly Shea, Leighton Ford, John Wesley White, Tedd Smith and Homer James.

Now a door is open to the Gospel as never before in Canadian history.

In a specific step of faith, we have begun a weekly, coast-to-coast program — AGAPE. "Agape" is the Greek word which means the amazing expression of God's love in Jesus Christ.

AGAPE is unique in its presentation but faithful to the Gospels. It is produced in Canada, for Canada, by Canadians, and with Canadians.

We are pleased that two long-time Canadian members of our team will anchor the program each week — George Beverly Shea and John Wesley White. These two Canadians have ministered with Mr. Graham around the world. Also participating on AGAPE is a fine Christian psychiatrist. Each week a different theme ... loneliness ... alienation ... guilt ... eternal life ... etc., will be presented in light of God's Love in Jesus Christ.

The future of AGAPE is up to Canadians.

In most of English-speaking Canada, AGAPE is on at a crucial time — right after the Sunday afternoon sporting event. We have tried to produce a quality program and, more importantly, a fruitful expression of God's Love in Jesus Christ. This costly project is a step of faith.

We are asking you to do three things to help reach Canada for Christ:

First, pray boldly that God will use AGAPE in an unprecedented way to touch millions of Canadians.

Second, use the AGAPE telecast as your expression of God's Love — invite your friends to your home to view it with you.

Third, begin your monthly financial support of AGAPE. We must know that our Canadian friends will support it.

AGAPE is a venture of faith. Its future greatly depends on your support. We will not go into debt. We need your help with the immediate costs of production and television time.

If you cannot contribute financially, let us know of your "prayer-vote" today. This will encourage us for the decisions ahead.

The National Film Board's Musicanada, a film profile of the incredibly rich and varied musical life of Canada today, premieres on the CBC-TV network tonight, January 19 at 9 p.m.

This one-hour documentary won the Special Jury Prize at the 1976 International Film Festival in San Francisco and premiered at the opening of World Music Week which Canada hosted in 1975.

The film spotlights 26 performers and musical groups, touching facets of a dazzling melange from chamber music to hard rock.

Co-directors Malca Gillson and Tony Ianzelo spent one year researching and shooting this coast-to-coast look at Canada's music and music makers.

Faced with the impossibility of filming even representatives of all the soloists, orchestras, bands and groups, they present instead a wide-ranging cross-section of amateur and professional, young and old, individual and group musical artists, playing, singing and performing in every kind of location across the country.

The learners and teachers are on camera too: the children of Courtenay Youth Music Camp, the Mennonite Children's Choir, and Calgary's One-Third Ninth Trio who take classical music into the classroom. Pianist Glenn Gould provides a fascinating glimpse of a Toronto recording session; jazz-flautist Paul Horn plays a haunting melody to the sky at the opening of Vancouver's Granville Mall. An old man sings a Scottish song in Paddy's Pub. Chansonnier Gilles Vigneault sings a French song with Les Grands Ballets Canadiens dancing in the background.

Contralto Maureen Forrester, the Mummerys of Newfoundland, the Inuit of Cape Dorset, the National Youth Orchestra and many, many others add their special talents to the film.

"We found that everyone concerned with music in Canada is dedicated and involved," says Malca Gillson.

The opportunities for young people in music are incredible and they are taking full advantage of them with such enthusiasm. We hope this intensity, this excitement comes through in Musicanada."

"Prison Game" on 9

Panelists on a daytime TV game show try to discover which of three women contestants has murdered her husband in "Prison Game", an original drama presented on Visions, Monday, January 17 at 10:30 p.m. on Public TV 9.

The play shifts between the game show itself and black-and-white flashbacks depicting crucial facts about the contestants' married lives.

Contestant Anna I (Edith Diaz) is a young Puerto

Rican housewife whose husband (Chu Chu Malave) prefers the company of the boys at the pool hall and of other women to that of his wife. When he offhandedly tells her he wants a divorce, Anna I shoots him.

Anna II (Jessica Walter) is a bored suburbanite, married to a man (David Hayward) who spends all his time studying to be a lawyer. On their fifth wedding anniversary, she stabs him.

Anna III (Cara Williams), a middle-aged working-class wife, is married to a boorish mechanic (Ryan MacDonald) who alternately beats her up and tries to make love to her. She ends up smashing his skull with a hammer.

The three panelists — played by Peter Bonerz, Severn Darden and Neva Patterson — question the contestants to find out which of the three stories is true. Bo Kaprell plays the heart game show moderator.

"Prison Game" was written by novelist Susan Yankowitz, winner of the New York Drama Critics Award and Vernon Rice

Drama Desk Award for the Most Promising Playwright. The play was directed by Robert Stevens, and produced by Barbara Schultz, artistic director for Visions.

Visions is a production of KCET-Los Angeles, made possible by grants from the Ford Foundation, the National Endowment for the Arts, and the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

Visions

Judd Hirsch and David Spielberg star in "Two Brothers", an original Visions drama airing Monday, January 25 at 9 p.m. on Public TV 9. In Conrad Bromberg's play, a man attempts to prevent the suicide of his anguished younger brother.

Joe Morris (Hirsch), the older brother, is a stable family man who is his younger brother's principal emotional support. He reconstructs his brother's life to try to understand the causes of his severe mental depression.

The younger brother David (Spielberg) is a doctor at a Los Angeles free clinic. Having had a series of psychotic episodes, he is desperately afraid of going back to a mental institution.

Hirsch, who starred in the Emmy-winning series "The Law", has the title role in this season's "Delvecchio". Spielberg co-stars as Danny Thomas' son in "The Practice".

Others in the cast include Sarah Cunningham as the mother, Stephen Elliot as David's psychiatrist, and Diane Shalet as Joe's wife.

Under Burt Brinkerhoff's direction, "Two Brothers" was taped at the studios of KCET+Los Angeles, and on location in Watts and other parts of the city.

Playwright Conrad Bromberg has had several stage plays performed in New York and Los Angeles, including "Dream of a Blacklisted Actor", a semi-autobiographical work about a family torn by domestic tensions during the 1950's blacklist era. "Two Brothers" is the first play Bromberg has written for television.

1965 James Stewart, Billy Mumy, Brigitte Bardot. Eight-year-old mathematical genius uses his talents to win horse races, so that funds may be raised for an art foundation at the school. Problems arise, however, when the lad develops a crush on Brigitte Bardot.

PETE 'N TILLIE

"Time to Run"

The Terrace Pentecostal Church will be featuring the tremendous World Wide Picture production "Time to Run" at the church, 4647

Lazelle Avenue, on Sunday, January 23 beginning at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

One other person was all he needed. One. Somehow...it could be everyone's story.

No one should be alone in the world. But Jeff Cole was. No one should miss out on the special warmth that a relationship based on love . . . and giving . . . can create. But Jeff Cole did.

Jeff didn't share in the uniquely rewarding experiences of life, because he was afraid to admit that he needed the things others had to offer. He traveled through the days and nights of his lifetime alone, perhaps because he was afraid to communicate love to those around him . . . his family . . . and Michelle.

Jeff experienced a deep void in his life . . . a void that could be filled by one other person. But the question he ultimately faced was — who is that one other person?

Many of us have never lived through the experiences that Jeff faced. We haven't had those seemingly endless conflicts with our families, or serious divisions with the special people in our lives. And yet, that unexplained void remains. Somehow, that need for a constant and understanding friend is unsatisfied.

Jeff found that Jesus Christ could change all that. He saw evidence of that fact in Michelle.

Jesus is the one who said, "I will never leave you nor forsake you." He's the one who said, "Come to me, all of you who are tired from carrying your heavy loads, and I will give you rest." No one else has ever promised these things. No one else ever could.

You can make the same discovery Jeff did. Christ can fill the void, no matter how large . . . no matter how small. He can rebuild the shattered relationships, and chart a whole new course for your life.

"Good nonsense is good sense in disguise." Josh Billings

Coffee House

The next Terrace Coffee House will be held on Sunday, January 23 in the Little Theatre Building on Kalum at 8 p.m.

The Coffee House got off to a great start for the New Year on January 9. Our regular performers played solo, but also combined often, according to the music. The first 1977 gathering brought out a fresh sing-along spirit with bright songs, many of them "oldies but goodies" with full crowd participation.

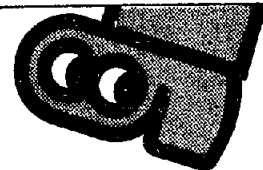

We welcomed Kevin Olson, a fine guitarist and singer, relatively new to the Coffee House. His broad repertoire includes "Dust on the Saddle" and "Modern Times".

The evening closed quietly with gentle rhythm and blues played by Joe Young and Kevin Olson alternating parts, and joined by Fred Potvin for some instrumental pieces.

Come to the next session of January 23. If you play an instrument — any instrument — bring it along. If you just like a casual listen, you are very welcome.

Admission is $1. Coffee is free.

"Classics Dark and Dangerous"

Science fiction, suspense, horror, the supernatural, crime detection and psychological drama, Classics Dark and Dangerous is a series of six powerful half-hour dramas adapted for the screen from great mystery stories by major writers.

The series, starting Thursday, January 20 at 9:30 p.m. on CBC-TV, combines the talents of prominent directors and leading actors, together with magnificent settings and original music scores. Four of the films were produced in England; two in Canada (The Ugly Little Boy and The Mannikin).

On Thursday, January 20, Christopher Plummer stars in Silver Blaze as Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's legendary detective, Sherlock Holmes. "The favorite for the Wessex Cup has disappeared", says Holmes, turning from his newspaper to fix a piercing eye on the faithful Dr. Watson (Thorley Walters) across the breakfast table, "and his trainer has been foully murdered".

Plummer plays the role with style and authority in this absorbing story, filmed in the English countryside in settings which capture the nostalgic air of the 19th Century. Silver Blaze is directed by John Davies and adapted by Julian Bond.

British actor Kenneth More heads the cast list of The Rocking Horse Winner, to be telecast on CBC-TV Thursday, January 27, in the series Classics Dark and Dangerous.

Paul, a sensitive child, is constantly aware of the violent arguments which erupt between his parents because they cannot afford to live in the style his mother feels fits her position. Convinced by her that their lack of luck is to blame, the child grows obsessed by the need to be lucky. Secretly, shared only by his old rocking horse, he begins a frenzied series of excursions into a wild, mystical world, from which he emerges spent and exhausted.

To the amazement of his Uncle Oscar (Kenneth More) who becomes the boy's confidant, he suddenly displays an uncanny ability to predict the outcome of horse races, and accumulates a large sum of money from his winnings at the track. With Oscar's aid, he arranges for his mother to receive it anonymously. Building with dramatic intensity, the powerful psychological drama moves to its final, tragic conclusion as the boy predicts his last winner. Directed by Peter Medak, it was adapted by Julian Bond from the story by D.H. Lawrence.

John Hurt and Charles Gray appear in The Island scheduled for CBC-TV on Thursday, February 3 in the series Classics Dark and Dangerous. Captain Simmonds' affair with the beautiful and wealthy Mrs. Santander has been interrupted only by the exigencies of his service to the army. Now, on overnight leave, a visit to "the island" holds enticing prospects. But there is something vaguely odd in the reluctant attitude of the solitary boatman with whom Simonds makes the crossing. And on his arrival at the house, he finds the impeccably courteous butler solicitous but strangely evasive. A series of small incidents leads to a growing sense of uneasiness and apprehension. With taut, deliberate pacing, this film version of the suspenseful story by L.P. Hartley (author of The Go-Between and The Hireling), draws the viewer into a situation that grows increasingly spine-tingling — until finally, the audience has only seconds to react to the sudden, sharp spring of the storyteller's trap. The film was directed and adapted by Robert Fuest.

What is the mysterious epidemic that is attacking the quiet village of Maxley, and is menacing the lives of many of its people? Glynis John appears in Mrs. Amworth on CBC-TV, Thursday, February 10, the fourth in the series Classics Dark and Dangerous. When David Benson arrives to visit his uncle, he is more intrigued by the charms of the glamorous Mrs. Amworth, who has captivated the townspeople — with one exception. Francis Urcombe, former physiology professor, and student of the occult, is disturbed by her nocturnal walks and appearances at an ancestor's grave in the local cemetery. When David is stricken by the peculiar disease, his symptoms confirm Urcombe's suspicions that it is the work of a vampire and that the vampire is Mrs. Amworth. With Glynis

Johns as the fascinating and deadly Mrs. Amworth, the film offers an intriguing tale of the supernatural which builds to a chilling climax.
