Safe Driving In Terrace

In Terrace Sage Driving Week (Dec. 1-7) ended Wednesday in Terrace with no fatalities, one personal injury and 19 cases of property damage: 14 of the latter occurred in one very busy 4-hour period Saturday. There were 52 charges laid in Terrace during the week, under the Motor Vehicle Act, 2 charges of impaired driving and 4 twenty-four driving licence suspensions.

According to Terrace Detachment RCMP Sgt. Cumming, had it not been for the hectic 4-hour period that racked up the 14 accidents, Terrace would have had a drastically improved Safety Week compared to 1976. Cummings feels there was no real need for the Saturday afternoon "bash-in" — most of the accidents being the result of carelessness and disregard.

Some Terrace drivers, the RCMP Sergeant added, are not wearing their seat belts and this resulted in 6 or 8 charges last week. Others, he said, jump into their cars without letting them warm up, and drive off with just a small space cleared on the windshield to see through. Obstructed vision, resulting from this practice, brought charges against two such impatient (or lazy) Terrace drivers this week.

Because obscured windows and un-belted driving are against the law in B.C., and also because such driving is dangerous, the local detachment will be keeping a continued watch for such cases and charges will be laid, Cummings concluded.

UVic To Step In

VICTORIA (CP) — A special committee of the Universities Council of British Columbia recommended Wednesday that the University of Victoria be asked to offer university-level courses in the Interior to replace those formerly provided by Notre Dame University in Nelson.

George Pedersen, UVic vice-president and a member of the committee, said his group recommended to the council that a co-operative program between UVic and Selkirk College in Castlegar be set up with the university offering third and fourth-year courses to permit students to complete their degree requirements in the Nelson area.

He said Education Minister Pat McGeer had asked the council to look into ways of providing services formerly offered by NDU.

The committee also recommended that a special school of resource management be established in the Okanagan under the direction of Simon Fraser University, Pedersen said.

Limited walkout

TORONTO (CP) — Ed Roworth, acting director of public affairs for the post office, said only 200 of 800 workers reported for work on the day shift today at a letter processing plant which has been the target of walkouts and sit-ins since Monday.

Roworth said he does not expect a disruption in mail service today, as most workers were on the job during the overnight shift.

Late Wednesday night, the Canadian Union of Postal Workers sanctioned a walkout by all 2,500 employees of the plant.

Union officials say they will meet Saturday to discuss the possibility of extending the strike to other post offices across Metropolitan Toronto.

Toronto handles about 50 per cent of Canada's mail.

The stoppages began Monday night when about 140 workers took part in a sit-in in the cafeteria to protest the use of part-time Christmas workers for sorting mail through automated equipment.

The employees held another sit-in Tuesday night, and Roworth said union and management agreed late Tuesday night that Christmas help would not work with the automated equipment.

Roworth said the post office suspended nine employees pending an investigation of the sit-ins and workers walked off the job Wednesday to protest the suspensions.

Gary Whitehouse, secretary of the union local, said in an interview the union realizes the situation does not warrant a strike, but management has given them no alternative.

Kitimat grievances settled

VANCOUVER (CP) — The last of the outstanding grievances arising from the bitter wildcat strike at the Alcan aluminum smelter in Kitimat in June, 1976 has been resolved by the British Columbia Labor Relations Board.

The grievance involved Alcan employee Alistair Norman, who at the time of the strike was still in the probationary period of his employment.

Norman was fired by the company after he had completed the probationary period. The firing was appealed on the grounds the company's action was discriminatory because other workers who had taken part in the strike were only suspended.

In upholding Alcan's right to fire Norman, Don Munro, board vice-chairman, ruled the worker was still on probation under the terms of the collective agreement.

The Canadian Association of Smelter and Allied Workers settled out of court to pay Alcan $135,000 in damages following the 18-day walkout over a pay dispute. At one point in the dispute, 200 riot-equipped RCMP cleared illegal pickets off a road leading to the smelter.

12.5 per cent are native

OTTAWA (CP) — Native people have little say in the criminal justice system although they make up the largest single minority in prisons, a special native commission reported today.

Roughly 12.5 per cent of the federal prison population is native, said the report of the Metis and Non-Status Indian Crime and Justice Commission. In some provincial prisons, especially in the West and women's institutions, the percentage is as high as 90 per cent, it added.

The commission was created by the Native Council of Canada in 1975 and spent two years studying the number of natives in jails and why they were put there.

It found that a major contributing factor to the "disproportionate" number of natives in jails is "the lack of a meaningful economic base in the majority of communities that the prisoners came from."

The report said the large number of native people in jails is a reflection of their position in society—a people with low education, high unemployment, poverty, poor housing, welfare dependency and lack of opportunity.

The commission also reported the following findings after interviewing 316 native prisoners: —Fifty-seven per cent were unemployed when they committed their offences, and almost 33 per cent still were in prison after their parole eligibility date.

—Forty-nine per cent were 25 or under and 50 per cent had Grade 8 education or less, and 90 per cent of their offences involved alcohol or drugs.

—More than 80 per cent had been in jail before, 50 per cent had relatives in jail while they were growing up and more than 66 per cent had friends who had gone to jail.

SUGGESTS CHANGES The report makes 90 recommendations, most aimed at getting more native representation at all levels of the criminal justice system. It adds that numerous studies have been done in the last 10 years but little progress has been made.

More than one-half of the natives interviewed were status Indians, natives registered by the department of Indian affairs and who have certain rights under the Indian Act. The report said having so many of them in jails indicates the department has failed to deal with needs of treaty Indians.

"I find it deplorable that the disproportionate number of status Indians incarcerated in the penitentiaries indicates that the department of Indian affairs, with its multi-million budget, thousands of civil servants, multitudes of programs, has not been able to deal effectively with the wants and needs of our treaty brothers and sisters," said Harry Daniels, head of the commission.

Daniels also is president of the Native Council of Canada.

"Unless we as native people are accepted as a distinct cultural vibrant society we will always be relegated to being second-class citizens."

HALF ARE NATIVES At a news conference, the commission said 50 per cent of all persons in various types of jails across the country are native people.

Also, 50 per cent of incarcerated juveniles are natives.

Daniels told reporters that keeping natives in jail has become an industry.

"No one wants to deal with our realities." He said that to get a job, natives have to commit a crime and go to court, where court workers are able to find work for offenders.

Falconbridge cut-back bad for industry

TORONTO (CP) — A spokesman for Falconbridge Nickel Mines Ltd. has refused to confirm or deny a statement by MP John Rodriguez that the company will announce today it is shutting down its Sudbury, Ont., operations.

Herbert Hickey said that although he knows what Falconbridge officials plan to announce following a special meeting later today in Sudbury, "the company has taken the firm position that it will convey its production plans for 1978 to its employees first," then make the information public.

Rodriguez said Wednesday in Ottawa the announcement will come at the end of the scheduled meeting between company officers, representatives of the United Steelworkers Union and provincial government officials.

The NDP member for the Sudbury-area riding of Nickel Belt did not give the source of his information. He said the shutdown would affect all 4,000 Falconbridge employees in the Sudbury basin.

Falconbridge President Marsh Cooper met for almost an hour earlier Wednesday with Premier William Davis at Queen's Park amid rumors that the company planned more layoffs than the 350 announced in August.

The company has said the 350 jobs will be eliminated, mainly through attrition, by the end of 1977. Falconbridge reported last month it had a loss of $14.6 million for the third quarter of this year.

Government spokesmen would only say Wednesday that the discussion concerned the company's Sudbury operations. Cooper would not comment.

The company said the job eliminations will not become effective until the end of March, 1978. All workers affected will be given a minimum of 16 weeks notice as required by the Ontario Employment Standards Act.

A.G. Slade, vice-president of the company's Canadian nickel division, said the company regards the current situation as a temporary condition and the length of the curtailed production will depend on world market conditions.

Nickel producer Inco Ltd., the other major employer in the Sudbury area, also has reported financial difficulties.

Inco said earlier this fall it will eliminate 2,800 jobs from its Sudbury operations—2,200 through layoffs and 600 through attrition. It also plans to eliminate 650 jobs at its Thompson, Man., operations.

Falconbridge president Marsh Cooper met Wednesday with Premier

William Davis at Queen's Park. There was a meeting Tuesday with Cooper, Falconbridge officials, Labor Minister Bette Stephenson and Frank Miller, minister of natural resources.

Dr. Stephenson said she was told that the present outlook for the nickel industry is poor.

WILL CAUSE HARDSHIP

Residents of the Sudbury area, with a population of about 100,000, have said the Inco layoffs would cause severe financial hardship to local businesses and stores.

Inco and Falconbridge have blamed government policy and the depressed international price of nickel for their financial problems.

Union officials blame the companies and their policies of stockpiling massive amounts of nickel.

On Tuesday, three explosions at Inco's plant caused the company to suspend most operations at its copper refinery in the Copper Cliff area of Sudbury.

Inco officials said there was no doubt that sabotage was involved. Several said they suspected the explosions were a protest against the planned layoffs.

The incident occurred nine days after two bombs exploded at an Ontario Hydro transformer in Sudbury, cutting off power for two hours to about 10,000 homes and businesses.

$250,000 for Surrey zoo

VANCOUVER (CP) — Retired businessman Jim Graham Wednesday pledged at least $250,000 to the proposed Tynehead Zoological Park in an effort to encourage other contributions.

Graham, a Canadian governor of the World Wildlife Fund, said he has given the Tynehead Zoological Society a carefully arranged series of financial commitments, all of them pending other contributions and the society's success in signing members.

He said he would donate $10,000 on Dec. 17, if the society has signed up 1,200 members and if other grants totalling $66,000 are made. The society presently has over 1,000 signed members.

Graham said he would give a further $40,000 on Dec. 15, 1978, $50,000 on Dec. 15, 1979, a further $150,000 on Dec. 15, 1980 and a final donation in 1981.

All the offers are subject to a variety of other conditions being met.

The society plans a zoo on a 640-acre site in Surrey, southeast of here. Its initial financial goal for the $30-million project is $10 million.

Impaired driver charges up 28% in first 5 months

VANCOUVER (CP) — The number of roadside handed motorists for suspected impaired driving was up by nearly 28 per cent during the first five months of the British Columbia government's Drinking-Driving Counterattack.

Program director Ron Boyle of the attorney general's department said Wednesday that from early June, when the program began with the introduction of year-round roadblocks, to the end of October, 9,552 24-hour roadside suspensions were given.

That was an increase of 2,084, or 27.9 per cent, over the total for the corresponding period in 1976, he said.

"This suggests to us that the police are out there more intensively and they are getting to people quicker—they are getting the drinking drivers before they are fully sloshed," Boyle said.

Boyle said the year-round roadblocks are planned by local police forces as their manpower and scheduling permits, usually on an irregular spot basis.

PLAN ROADBLOCKS The Vancouver police department plans Christmas-period roadblocks on a daily basis in unannounced locations starting Tuesday and continuing to Jan. 12 or later if thought necessary.

During the five months of the campaign, there were 9,559 charges of impaired driving, down about 400 from last year, an indication that motorists, aware of the campaign, are being cautious about mixing drinking with driving, Boyle said.

The number of charges for failure to take a breath test is up to 963 from 638 last year.

Cost for the first 10 months—from last June to next March—will be about $750,000, Boyle said, with costs being shared with the Insurance Corporation of B.C., which stands to benefit.

Costs of the program to date have included about $200,000 for the vans, provided to police at provincial government and ICBC expense, and about $260,000 for advertising and promotion.

Strangler gets 10 years for murder of 2 women

MONTREAL (CP) — Shouts of protest followed a ruling by a Quebec Superior Court judge Wednesday granting the strangler of two women the right to apply for parole in 10 years.

Pierre Paquette, 27, was sentenced to life imprisonment, with a minimum of 10 years to serve before parole, after pleading guilty to the second-degree murders of Lise Coutu, 21 and Rolande Martel, 33.

"I find this revolting," shouted a man who was identified as a brother of one of Paquette's victims.

Another young man and a female companion threatened Paquette that he "better not come out in 10 years." All three were later ejected from the courtroom by security guards.

Paquette, told the court he had been under the influence of hallucinogenic drugs when he strangled the two women in a nine-day period in July.

In handing down his ruling Wednesday, Mr. Justice Maurice Archambault said he was imposing the minimum 10-year term because Paquette was a psychiatric case whose eligibility to move back into society could be reassessed by a parole board.

Those convicted of second-degree murder must serve between 10 and 25 years before being eligible to apply for parole.

P.Q. seeking own currency

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Jean Chretien brushed aside Wednesday the idea of a new currency for an independent Quebec.

Answering questions in the Commons, he said purchasers of Quebec bonds insist on being repaid in Canadian dollars.

Quebec Finance Minister Jacques Parizeau said in Europe this week an independent Quebec would develop its own currency if Canada refused to join a monetary union.

Chretien was asked about the matter by Leonel Beaudoin (SC—Richmond).

Doctor Says

Dead Mother Not Beaten

NEW YORK (AP) — The stroke that killed Rosemarie Maniscalco and her unborn baby girl was caused by a blood vessel that was faulty all her life and not by beatings, the Brooklyn medical examiner said Wednesday.

Dr. Milton Wald said "no evidence of criminality" was found during the autopsy on the 27-year-old mother. If a beating had caused her fatal coma, doctors would have found evidence of it, he added.

The Brooklyn district attorney's office had been questioning relatives and acquaintances of Mrs. Maniscalco because of rumors that she had been beaten.

Mrs. Maniscalco, 27, died Tuesday "of what the public considers a stroke," Wald said. But he described it as a "spontaneous hemorrhage ... an explosive, hemorrhage which destroyed the left side of her brain."

He said Mrs. Maniscalco had a leak blood vessel in her brain that "was there since she was born ... like a time bomb" that "apparently doesn't kick off until 20 or 30."

He said it would have been futile to try to deliver the baby as its mother was dying.

"It was too young to survive. There was no chance for that baby," Mrs. Maniscalco, 27, collapsed Nov. 23 in her apartment on Coney Island, and never regained consciousness. She was sustained on a respirator from the time of her collapse until her death.

AUTO FACTS

OUT OF SIGHT, OUT OF MIND?

IN THE OLD DAYS, A WINDSHIELD WAS AN ACCESSORY—LIKE FLOOR MATS TODAY. BUT WHEN PEOPLE STARTED DRIVING IN THE RAIN, THE FIRST WINDSHIELD WIPER—OPERATED BY A HANDLE INSIDE THE CAR—WAS INVENTED.

NOW, ON MANY LATE-MODEL CARS, BLADES DISAPPEAR BEHIND THE COWL AND ARE ONLY SEEN WHEN THEY'RE ON. BUT THE BLADES SHOULD BE CHECKED OFTEN, TO SEE IF THEY ARE DETACHING FROM THE ELEMENTS—AND FROM WEARING OUT.

THE BEST WAY TO CHECK BLADES THAT DISAPPEAR? TURN THE WIPERS ON AND THE IGNITION OFF WHEN THE WIPERS REACH THE "UP" POSITION. THEN EXAMINE THE BLADES. THE CAR CARE COUNCIL RECOMMENDS THAT, IF NECESSARY, WIPER BLADES BE REPLACED EVERY SIX MONTHS TO A YEAR.

Dead Child Worst Case of Bruising I Ever Saw

VANCOUVER (CP) — A verdict of homicide was returned Wednesday by a coroner's jury investigating the death of a 22-month-old child who a month earlier had displayed what a veteran physician called the worst case of bruising he had ever seen.

The jury, looking into the death Nov. 23 of Jason Alred Loverock in an East End Vancouver apartment, also decided that on the evidence, which was chiefly medical, further investigation of the case is justified.

Nine defence witnesses testified that the mother, Katherine Loverock 18, was a gentle and loving parent and that both her current boyfriend and the child's natural father had treated Jason kindly.

But Dr. Kurt Gottschling of Burnaby, B.C., who delivered Jason and who for 14 years was Miss Loverock's physician, told of examining the child Oct. 18 when he was brought in by his mother for treatment of an upper respiratory infection.

"I noted extreme bruising of the arms, trunk and face," Dr. Gottschling said. "I asked the mother how this had happened. She said that Jason seemed to be bruising very easily and she was concerned about it. She solemnly denied having laid a hand on the child."

"Sad to say, this bruising was the worst I have ever seen in my entire practice."

TRUSTED MOTHER
The doctor added that he trusted Miss Loverock because he had known and attended to her medical needs since she was four and "I always found her to be a nice, cooperative person, always with a cheerful smile."

Pathologist Dr. R. O. Brammell said cause of death was rupture of the small bowel, leading to peritonitis, and the rupture of the organ likely was caused by some significant force or blow to the abdomen.

Under questioning, Dr. Brammell said that "many children fall about and get some bruises and most have a few at any given time; but I believe he had an unusually large number of bruises."

With the aid of a number of color photographs of the child's body, the pathologist identified about 35 bruises of various sizes and types. He also said that tests indicated Jason had suffered from no blood or blood vessel condition that would have made him more than normally susceptible to bruising.

FALL UNLIKELY

The child's father, William Breeze; Miss Loverock's fiancé, Curtis Lazarowich; and several others testified that Jason had been a climbing child and that he frequently fell from chairs, tables and other objects.

Bombers Explode

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Flin Flon Bombers exploded for six goals in the second period and held on for a 7-5 Western Canada Hockey League victory over the visiting Portland Winter Hawks in one of two league games Wednesday. The win brought the Bombers to within one point of league-leading Brandon Wheat Kings.

In the other game, Scott Kolewski led the Regina Pats with two goals as they skated to a 6-3 win over New Westminster Bruins in Regina.

The Winter Hawks, trailing 7-1 after two periods, battled back in a penalty-filled third period with four unanswered goals but they couldn't overcome the big lead.

The Bombers fired 30 shots at Portland goalie Gerry Price in the wild-scoring second period and finished the game with 50 shots on the net. Portland had 24 shots on Flin Flon goalie Larry Lozinski in the third period and 43 over-all.

In Regina, Dirk Graham, Clark Bacala, Gerald Minor and Earle Switzer added singles for the Pats who trailed 2-0 after the first period. Regina took a 3-2 lead at the end of the second period.

Stan Smyl, Randy Irving and Bill Oleksuk replied for New Westminster.

The Bruins took five of nine minor penalties, one of two majors and a misconduct.

Terry Walker was in the net for the Bruins and Greg Dumba for the Pats, both facing 32 shots.

Toronto bashes Minnesota

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs built up a five-goal lead midway through the third period, then held on for a 6-3 victory over Minnesota North Stars in a ferocious National Hockey League game Wednesday night.

Toronto struck for five consecutive goals, three coming in the final period of the game, before the North Stars came back with two unanswered goals by Alex Pirus.

Six players shared in the Toronto scoring as the Leafs moved to within four points of idle Buffalo Sabres and Boston Bruins, who hold on top spot in the Adams Division with 31 points.

Minnesota remained mired in fourth spot in the Smythe Division with 16 points.

Police report

Police were not releasing details, Thursday afternoon, concerning a brown Toyota station wagon found by RCM: in Terrace. Initial reports, denied by police, suggested the car had been found by a "C.B.E.r". Identity of the owner was available at time of going to press.

Break and Entry
Thursday morning it was discovered thieves had kicked in the panel of the rear door to obtain entry into Totem Beverages, in Terrace. The discovery was made by the proprietor, Richard McDaniel when he walked into the store while the burglary was still in progress. The thieves were believed to be juveniles, about 12 or 13 years of age, who fled immediately taking a few minor items with them. Terrace RCMP are investigating.

Three goals in one minute

BUFFALO (AP) — Rick Seiling, Don Luce and Gary McAdam scored three goals for Buffalo within a 57-second span in the first period to give the Sabres the winning margin for a 5-2 National Hockey League victory over Cleveland Barons on Thursday night.

The goals set a Buffalo club record for fastest three scores. McAdam also scored in the third period.

The victory extended Buffalo's unbeaten streak to six games and gave Don Edwards his 17th win, most for any NHL goaltender this season.

After Bob Murdoch scored a power play goal for the Barons at the 3:14 mark, the Sabres scored three times in less than a minute.

Seiling got the first goal, an unassisted effort after blocking a Cleveland pass that came at 5:05. Luce punched the puck into the net off goalie Gilles Meloche's stick at 5:34 after Miloches made a save on Danny Gare.

Terrace Tsimshians team are on their way to win every game they play.

They played the Ravenettes on Nov. 26, with a score of 38-33 for the Tsimshians. On Nov. 30, the Tsimshians played Thornhill. It was a good game and the score was close. Once more the Tsimshians won with a score of 25-21.

The girl's team has been travelling all over. First they went to Hazelton where they lost their first game with a score of 19-16. After that they went to Houston, with a score of 41-30 for the Tsimshians. They played the Kitimat team Dec. 27 with a score of 32-26 for Kitimat.

The Skeena Girls' 'A' basketball team consists of Anna Klein, Shelly Baker, Patti McDoughna, Cheryl Stubbs, Elsie Trolesra, Betty Ruygrok, Gaye Kawinski, Jill Harris, Tracey Hamilton and Drotoby Nisyok.

Skeena Jr. High also has a "B" basketball team. They are Edith Roy, Karen Wideman, Lorrie Olson, Annie Sterner, Gwen Haagen, Suzanne Urbanzyk, Pam Hayes, Chris Paupst, Lynn Marlowoi, Shannon Cain, Cindy Harvey and Cindy Dean.

They haven't played yet, but are almost ready. The Girls' "A" basketball team has asked the "B" team, but a date hasn't been set.

TV Show on Nazi Germany

By STEPHEN H. MILLER
BERLIN (AP) — Off-duty American soldiers were seen from Turkey were Polish Jews in a television story that was filmed here despite problems with politics. West Berlin, with the help of East Germany, starred as the Warsaw Ghetto.

"The Berliners don't like to hear this but it turns out that because of its special problems, Berlin is the only European city today that actually looks like the Warsaw of those years," said Pia Arnold, an associate producer for Titus Productions Inc. of New York.

One scene, of Jews being shipped to a concentration camp, was filmed next to the Berlin Wall at an unused railway station. Like all rail facilities, it is owned and run by East Germany. "They have been very cooperative in gaining access to East German soldiers. They have been about the easiest of all to deal with. They are interested in having this story told."

The story of three Jewish families during the Nazi persecution was shot by Titus as a nine-hour film titled Holocaust, which NBC hopes to show in four segments next spring.

LEGAL TANGLE
To move the shooting from Austria, where the rest of the film was made, producers had to negotiate their way through the legal and bureaucratic tangle that has grown up over the years in a city whose affairs involve two German governments, a city government and the civilian and military governments of the three Western Allies who still theoretically occupy West Berlin.

Strict controls on weapons movements made it difficult to bring in the rifles carried by soldiers in the movie. The soldiers themselves presented other problems.

"We've found that real soldiers make the best soldiers," says Arnold. "Other people don't handle things properly."

But no West German troops are allowed in West Berlin and neither

West German nor Allied commanders were eager to see their men in Nazi uniforms. The solution was to give the roles to U.S. soldiers stationed in West Berlin but on leave or otherwise off duty.

Before that was worked out, the moviemakers found themselves swamped when they issued a call for extras to play both Nazi guards and Jewish victims. Many of the extras eventually were drawn from the dark-haired, dark-eyed ranks of the Turks and other nationalities in West Berlin's large foreign-worker population.

Quinn in Iran

By BOB THOMAS
ISFAHAN, Iran (AP) — Anthony Quinn, at 62, may be a lion in winter, but there is still some roar remaining. He is in Iran for another colorful role as a tribal chieftain who attracts an American woman, Jennifer O'Neill, in the movie Caravans.

Earlier this year, Quinn starred in The Children of Sanchez in Mexico and he recently completed The Greek Tycoon, freely adapted from the Onassis-Kennedy-Callas headlines.

He had wanted to make Sanchez for 15 years. He has high hopes for it but he believes Tycoon will be another Zorba for him.

"It's not just a ripoff of news events," he said. "If the events hadn't happened, they would have been invented as a story, since they are so basic."

"The story has an important theme. Corny as it sounds, it is that money isn't everything. This man (Onassis) lost all interest in life after his son was killed."

Quinn's own life is a dramatic story worthy of filming. He wrote it as The Original Sin, which earned him "a whole lot of money" and has had 18 translations.

STARTED HUMBLY
Of Mexican-Irish parentage, he came out of the east Los Angeles barrio, started humbly in films, married Cecil B. DeMille's daughter and won two supporting-actor Oscars (Lust for Life and Viva Zapata).

"Every film actor faces a crisis in his late 40s and early 50s," Quinn said. "That's when he can no longer be the rugged leading man and win the girl. If you can't win the girl, they won't pay you as much money. So what can you do?"

Tips for a safe Christmas

The Christmas season is a very merry time in almost every home, but fire has no respect for Happy occasions. It can strike with fury when least expected.

So be particularly careful with your Christmas Tree and other decorations during the festive season.

Here are some safety hints that, if followed, will help ensure a safe holiday for you and your family. Select a tree that is still green and has not dried out.

Keep the tree outside until you are ready to use it.

Cut the Bottom of your Christmas tree at an angle so that there is a large surface area to allow the tree to absorb more moisture.

Keep your Christmas tree in water at all times while it is in your home. This will extend the life of the tree and prevent it from drying out prematurely.

Don't use worn out or damaged light sets, discard them. Only use light sets with CSA or UL certification.

Use decorations that are non-combustible or fire retardant. Keep flames such as burning candles away from your tree.

Turn off three lights when you retire for the evening, or when you leave home to visit friends during the festive season.

When the tree becomes dry and brittle, discard it. Don't take chances with a dry tree.

The members of the Terrace Fire Department wish you a very Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year.

Please, let's make this holiday another safe holiday for you and your family.

The Big Bad Wolf huffs and puffs and really scares those little Pigs.

Entertainment

Story: Donna Forsberg

The cast (a peculiar looking crew) listens to stage

The Terrace Little Theatre group has added a new dimension to the old standby children's story The Three Little Pigs. By introducing two new characters (a surprise celebrity) they have created new viewing pleasure for audiences young and old. The story takes interesting twists by rearranging the villain's karma, adding crowd participation and plenty of action.

There's lots of pigs in this show...

Costuming and stage design are original and appealing, with a great show of imagination on this group's part.

Created for children, this production will please all ages. Show times are 7 p.m. and 3 p.m. Saturday and Sunday; tickets are 50 cents each (kids of any age), to cover the cost of putting on the play. They can be purchased at McColl's Realty.

And even a frog.

The Little pigs are wondering who's coming down the chimney, but everything turns out all right. (You'll see.)

1719 A KALUM ST.

It's not too late to get the best gift of them all — a home of your own. Why not surprise your wife — put an interim agreement to purchase in her stocking. We'd be happy to help you play "Santa Claus". Drop in and discuss your needs with our friendly staff.

The vendor of this very comfortable and roomy home has reduced the price to a very reasonable $42,000.00 in order to promote a sale. 1575 sq. feet of living area with a partial utility type basement. Would consider trading down or carrying 1st. Mtg. with substantial down payment. Located on 100' x 150' lot on Kalum Lk. Road.

1300 sq. feet quality home with large rooms close to elementary school. Full basement has good 2-bedroom suite. Excellent garden area at back of this 64 1/2' x 176' lot. Must view to appreciate — asking $55,000.00.

GOOD INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY.

3 bedroom condominium being offered at the low low price of $28,500.00. Small down payment and assume existing financing. Purchase as rental unit and let it pay for itself. Presently rented.

Small but comfortable and very affordable at the low price of $19,000.00. Some furnishings included. Nicely landscaped and fully fenced back yard. Excellent starter for single or young couple.

This 12 x 68 mobile nicely located on large corner lot with excellent view of Thornhill Mtn. Fully furnished. Storage shed and workshop. Yours for $19,000.00. Forget about renting — own your own property.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

© 1977 by The Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My 15-year-old son has been having an affair with his 17-year-old cousin. I have just learned that this has been going on for three years!

Both have been raised in good Christian homes, and my sister (the girl's mother) is beside herself with anger and grief. Of course we have laid down the law, and the children are not to see each other without close supervision.

These aren't problem children. We who know what has happened are simply amazed. My niece is rather immature for her age, but my son has several older girlfriends who think he is a freshman in college.

My question is, "What next?"

IN SHOCK IN INDIANA

DEAR IN: A thorough briefing, I hope, for both "children" who have been playing adult games for three years. Skip the preliminaries about the birds and bees, and get down to brass tacks and babies before your tribe increases.

Abortions For The Poor A Recurring Congressional Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Congress is ending its debate over government payments for poor women's abortions, but members already are predicting that the issue will come up again.

After more than four months of bitter argument, the House of Representatives and Senate agreed Wednesday on conditions for a abortion program, which serves mostly poor people.

The agreement freed a $60.2-billion appropriation for the government's major social-service agencies and guaranteed that the 240,000 employees involved will receive full paycheques before Christmas.

Without an agreement on the measure, their cheques would have been cut in half as the agencies ran out of payroll money.

The dispute arose in connection with the spending authorization for the departments of labor and health, education and welfare in fiscal year 1978. Ten smaller agencies also de-ended upon the legislation for their budgets.

REPORTS REQUIRED

The compromise calls for abortion payments when a woman might die by going through a full pregnancy, for rape or incest victims who make prompt reports to law-enforcement or public-health authorities and in cases where two doctors certify that a woman would suffer severe and longlasting damage to her physical health because of a pregnancy.

Life for liquor stabbing

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP) — Richard Magiera, 19, of New Westminster was convicted Wednesday of second-degree murder and sentenced to life imprisonment.

The British Columbia Supreme Court jury deliberated for 4½ hours before finding Magiera guilty of the Feb. 10, 1977, stabbing death of Alex Sol, 76.

Under provisions of the Criminal Code, Magiera will not be eligible to apply for parole for 10 years.

Asked by Mr. Justice J. A. McDonald if he wished to make a statement Magiera said: "I don't think justice was done in this court room today. I am going to appeal it."

The Crown said that Magiera fatally stabbed Sol after being interrupted while stealing a television set from the man's New Westminster home.

ACCUSED TOO DRUNK

Defence counsel Jack Harris argued that the jury should find Magiera guilty of manslaughter because on the night of the killing Magiera had been so drunk he was unable to form the intent to commit an illegal act.

Testimony during the trial indicated Magiera had drunk at least two cases of beer and half a bottle of rum the afternoon and evening of Feb. 10.

Sol was discovered dead from multiple stab wounds in the kitchen of his home about noon Feb. 11.

Testimony from Magiera's sister, from a family friend and from psychiatrist Dr. Derek Eaves indicated that Magiera had had a severe drinking problem since he was 15.

IT'S HERE...

THE BREATH ALCOHOL TESTING MOBILE UNIT.

Right now, a fleet of new police breathalyzer vans is prowling the streets and roads of British Columbia.

These new vans will greatly assist police in the fight against drinking drivers.

They'll be on duty all year 'round. All over B.C.

The way the breath alcohol units work is simple. And very effective.

Remember that police officers are extremely adept at spotting impaired drivers.

There are

AND HERE'S WHY.

British Columbia has the worst drinking-driving record in Canada. Fifty percent of all drivers killed are legally impaired. Every year, over 300 lives are lost. And many more individuals are disfigured, disabled or crippled. Every year, drinking-driving accidents cost us, the taxpayers of B.C., millions and millions of dollars. Something simply has to be done. And it has to be done by responsible, socially-conscious citizens.

Your sense of social responsibility is one of the first things alcohol affects. Drinking drivers simply don't care. Alcohol is a drug with subtle and varied effects on the mind and body, and is dangerous because so few people actually understand it.

For instance, one drink, combined with some types of medicines, can cause impairment five times greater than just one drink alone.

Alcohol also distorts eye focus by relaxing certain eye muscles. It affects a driver's ability to judge distance, distinguish colour, and to see potential dangers to either side of the car, through a phenomenon known as tunnel vision.

With a drinking driver's sense of responsible action reduced, his vision clouded, and a lethal weapon like a car barely under his control—just how much chance do you, the responsible citizen, have to avoid an accident?

The odds are not on your side.

Statistics show that if you're driving between the hours of midnight and 3 a.m., one out of every three drivers that approach you on the road has been drinking.

And as many as one out of every 10 is drunk.

What constitutes drunk? In Canada the legal definition of impairment is a blood/alcohol reading of over .08%. That means the proportion of alcohol is over 80 milligrams of alcohol in 100 millilitres of blood. A person's size, weight, emotional state, metabolism and number of drinks consumed over a period of time determine how quickly the legal limit is reached. Bear in mind that a person with a BAC (blood/alcohol content) of .08% will not necessarily feel drunk. Or even giddy.

But his vision, reaction time and sense of social responsibility are seriously affected.

And the facts are that drinking drivers simply do not sober up that easily. Black coffee will not help. Nor a cold shower. 95% of the alcohol in the system is eliminated through the liver. And that takes considerable time.

So what can we do? We've got to be more socially responsible. All of us. HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP COUNTERATTACK THE DRINKING-DRIVING MENACE.

When going to a party or out for an evening—plan ahead. Flip a coin,

DRINKING DRIVING COUNTERATTACK HERE FOR LIFE.

Province of British Columbia Ministry of the Attorney-General

all sorts of clues. And once a suspected driver is stopped, he or she can now be asked to take a breathalyzer test immediately in a mobile unit.

If anyone refuses, a criminal charge will result.

A blood/alcohol reading over .08% means a driver is legally impaired. Conviction means a criminal record. Three months or more without a driver's licence. A fine of up to $2,000, or even jail. Just for a first offence. Penalties for second offences are even more severe.

Sound tough? For drinking drivers, it's going to be tough.

or in some way arrange for the driver not to drink. Consider the cost of a cab or bus fare as a necessary expense for the evening. Remember, it isn't an offence to be an impaired passenger! If you are the host or organizer of a home or office party—plan ahead. Be responsible for getting your guests home safely.

If you see a car weaving down the road, fading over the double line or otherwise indicating the driver might be impaired...get to a phone. Call the police.

In addition to these individual actions, you can do something else... GET INVOLVED IN YOUR COMMUNITY.

We are facing an awesome challenge here in B.C. To change our personal and collective behaviour and attitudes toward drinking-driving is no simple task.

But nothing less than an all-out commitment at the community level will work if we are to protect ourselves and our loved ones from the menace of drinking and driving.

I strongly urge you to join with your neighbours in organizing Drinking Driving CounterAttack activities in your area. For more information on what you as an individual, or as a group, can do, simply write:
