SIX MORE MILLS

School Budget Gives Bleak Tax Picture

Unless some financial relief is afforded by the provincial government, Terrace's record 28.2 mill rate for school costs will soar to around 34 mills it was revealed here this week.

At a special meeting between trustees of School District 53 and Terrace Municipal Council, held Monday night, the 1966 school budget was presented in the amount of $1,542,460, an increase of $310,460 over the 1965 figure.

Teachers salaries account for the greatest jump of $171,000. A report from the School Board attributed this to "ever-growing enrolment demands and recent salary increases."

Supply and instruction costs are up by $19,500, again attributed to increased costs of materials and increased enrolment requirements.

Operation costs are up $25,000 and maintenance costs were also hiked up $20,000. Administration costs went up to the tune of $5,000. This account includes increases for extra staff, salary raises, office supplies, telephones, and superannuation.

Transportation costs are up by $17,160.

In presenting the annual budget to Municipal Council, Secretary-Treasurer for the School Board, E. "Ted" Wells said, "The unfairness of the present system of taxation for school purposes has been freely acknowledged by government officials, both elected and appointed. An obvious solution, was suggested in a guest editorial in the Terrace Herald on December 15 and endorsed by a Northern Sentinel editorial on December 23. An equitable sharing of ALL the industrial assessments for school tax purposes within an economic area or zone, offers a long term solution on a reasonably fair basis and is under consideration by the government right now."

The inevitable increase of almost six mills as a result of rising school operational costs prompted Municipal Council to send a telegram of urgency to Dudley Little, MLA for Skeena.

Mr. Little is scheduled to speak on the subject of school costs in the B.C. Legislature Thursday morning.

He is expected to introduce estimated mill rate increases for communities within his constituency as well as Prince Rupert in Smithers an increase of over eight mills is anticipated. Kitimat expects an increase of almost three mills and Prince Rupert estimates a one mill increase.

Urgent Wire Sent Tuesday

Copy of telegram sent February 1, 1966, following release of this years school budget.

To: D. J. Little, M.L.A., Parliament Buildings, Victoria.

At meeting between Council and School Board the school budget for 1966 indicated drastic increase in tax burden.

Strongly urge you to press for more equitable sharing of industrial tax assessments in Kitimat, Terrace and Prince Rupert area immediately, as recommended by the Honorable the Minister of Municipal Affairs.

A. Goulet,
Reeve of Terrace

International Press To Tour In June

In June, through reports from a special "press tour," international publicity will be accorded Highway 16, the area it covers, and the new ferry route from Vancouver Island to Prince Rupert, expected to go into operation this Spring.

The announcement was made at the weekend by a group of "tour planners," representing Vancouver Island Coachlines Limited, the B.C. Travel Bureau, Victoria, and the B.C. Ferries Service, Vancouver who were accompanied by James Lovick & Company Advertising Agency personnel.

About 43 representatives of newspaper and television media in North America will be shown British Columbia as guests of the aforementioned travel agencies.

The tour, June 3 - 8, to commence in Victoria, will include representatives of La Presse, Montreal; "Sun" and "Province," Vancouver; "Times," Victoria; TV Channels 2, 6 and 8 Vancouver; KOMO-TV Seattle; Seattle "P.I." and "Times"; Tacoma "News Tribune"; Los Angeles "Times" and "Herald"; the "Oregonian," Long Beach and Denver newspapers as well as "Sunset" and "Holiday" magazines and possibly others.

Purpose of the conducted tour is to expose key members of the North American press to the comfort and enjoyment of motor coach and ferry travel via B.C. Parlour Car tours and B.C. Ferries, and to show them British Columbia.

Arrangements for the visit will be made by the Northwest B.C. Chambers of Commerce, John Gray of Kitimat, secretary of the associated chambers travelled with the group as far as Prince George, making preliminary arrangements.

New Primary School Named For Kenney

A new 12 room primary school scheduled to open here in September, will be named E. T. Kenney Primary in honor of a former Terrace resident and Member of the B.C. Legislature.

Mr. Kenney accepted the recognition in a letter of acknowledgement to the Board of Trustees, School District 53, this week.

His letter said, in part, "Over a period of more than half a century, during which I have been closely associated with the development of the Skeena riding in general and Terrace in particular, I have been the recipient of a number of honors and commendations, all of which of course have been duly appreciated, but I want you to believe me when I say that never have I received anything which impresses me more, or which I more fondly cherish than the request communicated to me in your letter:

"It is with pleasure and great humility that I accept this recognition. May I express the hope that all of those who go through the portals of this new edifice, many still yet unborn, to emerge from the doors of the higher schools of learning, will do so with credit to themselves and glory to the school that gave them their start."

Mr. Kenney, who now resides in Victoria, was named minister of lands and forests in 1944.

Well Known Logger Killed By Snag

Long time Terrace resident and well known logger, John Chretien, 64, died this morning in a woods accident near the Beam Station Road.

Details of the accident are sketchy but it is believed a falling snag struck the man. Chretien was a sub-contractor for the McGillis & Gibbs Pole Company and was working about nine miles south of Terrace when the accident occurred. Time of the mishap has been tentatively established at about 11:45 a.m. today. The man is survived by his wife and six children all of whom reside in Terrace on Park Avenue.

Application Withdrawn On Safeway Stores Site

Plans for a $300,000 supermarket development at the corner of Lakelse and Emerson were left in limbo today, when Walter A. Yeo announced that an application by L. H. & K. to subdivide two acres of downtown property has been withdrawn.

The development, proposed by Canada Safeway Stores Limited, was to have covered the block of land at the corner of Lakelse and Emerson, backed by Greig Avenue.

The subdivision application was filed last July and was tabled by Municipal Council pending decision regarding the extension of Greig Avenue.

In a recent move, Council approved a plan for the extension of Greig which would require the allotment of 1/2 acre of the L. H. & K. land parcel for road allowances.

In a telephone interview this morning, Mr. Yeo, western representative for L. H. & K. Pole Company and a former Terrace Reeve, said, "We've withdrawn our application to sub-divide in view of Council's decision regarding Greig Avenue."

Asked whether his company planned to re-apply at a later date he indicated that such a move was not in the immediate future. "The next move is up to the Municipality," he commented. W. B. Monkhouse, property manager for Canada Safeway in Vancouver told the Herald he was unaware of the withdrawal move but indicated that his company will not scrap plans for a branch outlet in Terrace.

"We want to work closely both with Mr. Yeo and the Municipality of Terrace in an effort to resolve this problem," Monkhouse said. "We would want to bear our share of any costs involved in allowing for road requirements but we're not prepared to take the full impact. Certainly we do not want to give up Terrace," he affirmed.

Asked whether his company would look for another site if the present property problem proves insoluble he replied, "Definitely, yes."

Municipal officials said today that sub-division requirements are the "same for everybody" and that "firm policies must be followed in these cases."

Melting Pot . . .

STAN BURKE, Dick Gehring (Winnipeg), John McCallum and Gordie Phare may have formed the nucleus of Terrace's first Polar Bear Club if our sources are reliable. Seems one of them and we aren't sure which one or why — went through a hole in the ice on Lakelse Lake. (Just got cold and wet!) We're quite sure it isn't a fish story but we'll take our Polar Bears with a dash of creme de menthe — thanks!

IT WAS Terrace-a-go-go at the Talisman Club in Ottawa on January 18. Seems that Art and Frankie Bates met up with Jim and Marg Millar, formerly of CPA here, and Doug Chappell and Gene Fabbe to enjoy a merry-go-go-round of Terrace talk and Talisman entertainment!

HAD A LETTER from N. M. Riddy of New Zealand the other day. He is one of our regular subscribers — (we DO get around) — and says the Herald indicates his predictions of 15 years ago regarding Terrace's growth, are all coming true.

LETTER FROM Frank Howard, MP for Skeena, regarding the Northland Navigation cutoff of service between Prince Rupert and the Charlottes. Says the matter was discussed with Rupert Chamber of Commerce types during the election campaign and nobody seemed to give a hoot. Anyway, Mr. H. intends to approach the department of transport one more time even tho' he predicts they'll say they can't interfere because of free enterprise policies. Ooh — that smarted!

ANY GROUNDHOG that was stupid enough to stick his head out of his happy little home this morning deserves nothing but the worst. Today is one of the few sunny days we've had in weeks and you know what that means!

Let Skeena live . . .

LAST WEEK'S RECOMMENDATIONS regarding redistribution of seats in the B.C. Legislature proves beyond a doubt that politicians are not necessarily bright.

In ordering up a Royal Commission to revamp the seating structure in Victoria the boss-men have overlooked what appears to be a very simple solution to the representation problem.

Why could they not simply add more seats to the Legislature, divide them up amongst the heavily populated Lower Mainland areas, and leave their cotton-picking pinkies out of the North country? Granted, it might mean Constitutional changes but are these really so difficult to engage?

We don't like to see our vast and proud Skeena Riding doomed to posterity and relegated to the Prince Rupert camp. The recommendation that such a move be instituted leaves us with a red and aching cheek, almost as if we'd been slapped in the face!

Condemn us if you will, for being a bunch of teary-eyed romanticists, steeped in traditionalism, but we're proud of the name Skeena and we don't like to see it tossed about so lightly by a three-man team which probably doesn't know anything about our pioneer past.

We're not about to have the name Prince Rupert superimposed on our heritage without a bit of a fight, and it is our express hope that Dudley Little, MLA for Skeena, will shout with renewed vigour in opposition to the proposal. We know that Frank Calder, MLA for Atlin, will make himself heard.

As for William Murray, MLA for Prince Rupert — in his capacity as Speaker of the House it's rather doubtful he'll have much to say on the subject.

Pollution progress . . .

CANADIANS ARE BECOMING increasingly concerned these days with the problems of air and water pollution — problems which are directly related to Canada's dynamic industrial growth, expanding population and modern trend towards urbanization.

As Canada continues to advance, these problems would become serious to the point of crisis were it not for the action being taken now by far-sighted and socially responsible companies and groups of companies working with municipal and provincial authorities to assure that it won't.

Examples best serve to illustrate the sort of thing being done by Canadian industry in this field. In the city of Hamilton, the Steel Company of Canada has spent over $6 million dollars to install equipment designed to rid the air of the pollutants it creates — and with nearly 100 per cent effectiveness.

Two major users of water — the oil industry and the pulp and paper industry — have in recent years spent vast sums on water pollution abatement. In addition, the pulp and paper industry has undertaken a vast research project in this connection. Many more examples and other industries could be cited.

The point is that, public opinion notwithstanding, Canadian industry shares with all Canadians a common concern — and is doing a lot to help.

Letters to the editor . . .

Editor,
Terrace "Omineca" Herald
The report from Parliament by MP Frank Howard, (January 19 issue the Herald) is a piece of writing more important for what it doesn't say than for any information it contains.

The entire article is based on the then proposed Conservative amendment demanding $100 per month for our Old Age Pensioners.

Mr. Howard fills the whole column denouncing the Conservative motion, the possibility of an election if it is carried and restates his promise to the electorate that he "would not move nor support a so-called want of confidence motion for a period of two sessions."

The amendment was slated for January 25 and of course that day has passed and the motion defeated. It is a matter of record that Mr. Howard sided with the government and, along with the Socreds, saved the day.

But this letter is not written because of what was said in that column. It is written because of what was not said.

Surely our member must have been aware at the time of writing that his party, the NDP, was planning a similar amendment. The NDP amendment was moved on January 21 demanding $100 per month for the elderly at age 65 years.

The box score as to how the parties voted on this motion is as follows:

Against the motion, Liberal 120, Socreds 5, Independent 1, total 126.

For the motion (and the defeat of the government bringing about an election) Conservatives 89, NDP 20, Creditiste 8, total 117.

Was Mr. Howard among the 20 NDP that voted, or was he one of the two NDP members absent from the house?

I was interested to read in the January 19 issue of the "Herald" about the Rotary Club's Annual Banquet, where pioneers of the community were entertained. It is sad to think that many of their stories may be lost to future generations through never having been committed to paper. For this reason may I ask for space in your paper to make a suggestion.

The Kitimat Writers' Club is at present looking for such material to make up a Souvenir Centennial Book to be published some time this year. Prizes are offered, and entries should reach this address not later than February 28, 1966. We hope this will provide an opportunity for those who have stories to tell to add their experience to the story of our past. For these tales are a part of our history; something for those who come after us to read and learn about life as we knew it.

Further information may be had by writing to this address, and also by tuning in on February 3 to "Profile" on TV.

So get out your pencils and paper—all you pioneers and write down your story — it may become an important page in the history of Canada.

Encouragement For Little Theatre Group

An encouraging adjudication was given Terrace Little Theatre's Dominion Drama Festival entry, "The Birthday Party," following a public presentation Saturday evening.

Adjudicator Mrs. Gwen Pharis Ringwood of Williams Lake, in a private adjudication following the week-end performance gave instructive criticism and encouragement. She left the director and cast with the feeling that the play stood a good chance of making the provincial finals.

Six plays are chosen from the province to enter the B.C. finals in Vancouver March 21-26. The successful play will compete in the Dominion Festival in Victoria. It has been about two decades since the dominion drama finals have been held in the west.

"The Birthday Party" was well received by an audience of over 250 people in the Community Centre last Saturday, January 29.

The play, written by Harold Pinter, gives a realistic treatment of some of the wider aspects of life in a second-rate boarding house.

Michael Stephen, director, and his cast are looking forward with enthusiasm and optimism to announcement of the winners on February 13.

"The Birthday Party" cast includes Robin McColl, Molly Natress, A. J. "Bud" McColl, Maureen Creer, David Dossor and Paul Fenger.

Renowned Pianist Performs Tuesday

by MARILYN BRODIE

About three hundred and fifty people gathered in the Community Centre on Tuesday night for the second concert of the Overture Concert Series. The guest pianist was Walter Hautzig.

Mr. Hautzig began his concert with two short works, one an Aria by Marcello, transcribed by Bach, and the other a Passacaglia by Handel. These works were followed by Schubert's Piano Sonata Opus 42. This sonata is very virtuosic, exploiting the technical possibilities of the piano. In fact, it often sounds more orchestral than pianistic. The great demands it places on the performer were ably met by Mr. Hautzig.

Following the performance of twelve Waltzes by Schubert and the "Moonlight" Sonata by Beethoven, Hautzig played two preludes by Debussy. These were, for me, the high point of the concert. They had the clarity and transparency of impressionism, and yet they were solidly real and very beautiful.

The final part of the concert — three Mazurkas, the C-sharp minor Nocturne, and the A-flat Major Polonaise — all by Chopin, were a fitting, flourishing end to a very fine concert. Our thanks to Mr. Hautzig.

ROYAL CANADIAN LEGION

Dispatch

Paul Bogelund

This week's dispatch is mostly on the subject of the 11th Annual Bonspiel, conducted by Branch 13.

Greetings and best wishes to the visiting rinks the Bob Armstrong rink, the J. Dunlop rink and the J. Lemire rink, all of Prince Rupert. Also to the J. Johnson rink from Kitimat and to the W Skerik rink from Smithers — we appreciate your presence here to help liven up the bonspiel.

Congratulations to the winners: "A" event, Branch No. 13 trophy, first prize as well as the Griffith Trophy for Grand Aggregate. The Bob Legeard rink of Terrace with Roy Myers rink, also of Terrace, as runners-up.

"B" event, The Motel Trophy. First prize to Keith Williams rink of Terrace with the Bob Armstrong rink from Prince Rupert as runners-up.

"C" event, the Annie Lee Kirkaldy Trophy. First prize to the Bob Cooper rink of Terrace with the Hank Barg rink, also from Terrace, as runners-up.

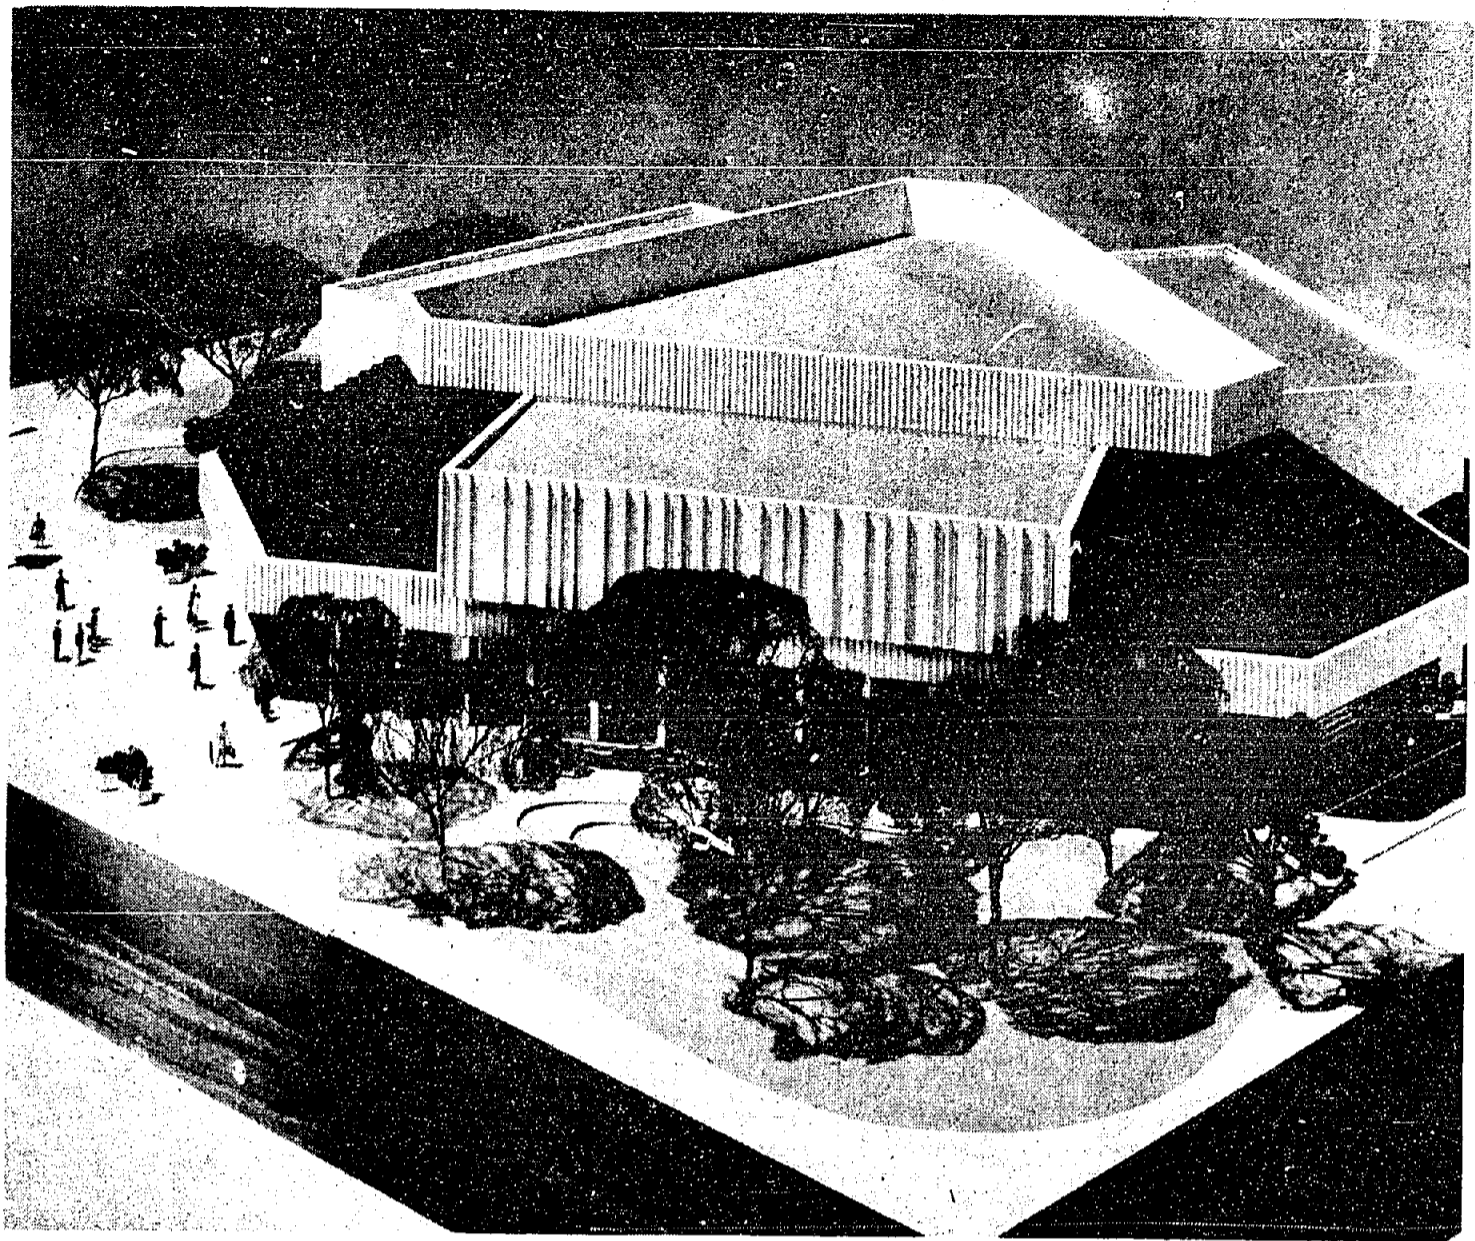

Congratulations to all the winners and better luck next time, to all the losers, including the hard-luck rink of Nick Shaigec from Terrace which chalked up the most wins without being in the prize money, and the Pat Kenney rink, first out of the Bonspiel.

To Art Lorimer, drawmaster of the 'spiel, goes the Order of Crossed Brooms on a Bulls Eye, for a well conducted and well timed 'spiel.

Honorable mention to the Ladies Auxiliary for supplying a tasty and bountiful supper at Saturday night's banquet.

Mention in Dispatches to all the Legionaires, in acting rank (unpaid), for their splendid services in keeping the bonspiel rolling along, smoothly and efficiently.

The otherwise happy event was marred by the sudden death of Comrade John Dunsmore, a member of Branch No. 13 for many years and holding the appointment of treasurer for the Branch. John Dunsmore was a good Legionaire and a good citizen and he will be sorely missed, not alone within the Legion which he served so well, but also by his many friends in Terrace.

THE GARDEN OF STARS — Multi-purpose light entertainment centre being built by Expo 67 will serve as a children's entertainment area in the late morning and early afternoon, as a teen-age dance hall in the early evening, and as a top-flight night club at night. The $1,100,000 building, which was designed by Montreal architect Max Roth will stand close to Dolphin Lake in La Ronde, the Exhibition's 110-acre amusement park.

Youths Receiving Tennis Training

The junior tennis winter training program got underway on Monday. Fifteen youngsters registered and received their first hour of "basic tennis" training. There will be an approximate 10-week training period indoors, or until play can start on the outside court. Classes take place in the Community Centre every Monday, Thursday and Friday at 4 p.m.

Any youngster interested is asked to contact the club secretary at VI 3-5598 or come to the Commu-ity Centre in which they have a membership. There is a small fee of $1. For those without equipment the fee is $2, which entitles them to use club racquets and balls.

Any community minded citizen interested in donating used racquets and balls is asked to phone VI 3-5598.

Adults wishing to brush-up on their tennis will be able to do so at the Community Centre Friday evenings starting at 8:30.

It is expected that a tennis instructor will be available in the Terrace-Kitimat area this summer.

Work on the outside court on the old Civic Centre grounds (near Riverside School) will start as soon as weather permits.

Prescription medicines should be kept in a safe place where children could not reach them or where they could not be mistaken for simple household remedies. Many drugs prescribed for adults may prove dangerous if swallowed by young children.

Skeena Scrapped In Boundary Report

A royal commission report recommending the redistribution of seats in the B.C. Legislature wipes out Skeena and Atlin ridings in B.C.'s north. It proposes that the present Skeena riding, represented by Socred Dudley G. Little of Terrace; and Atlin riding, represented by NDP member, Frank Calder, both become part of Prince Rupert riding. The Prince Rupert riding is presently represented by William A. Murray who is Speaker of the House.

In a Daily News interview Friday, Mr. Murray is quoted as saying, "If the recommendations go through, it will be Little or me." However, Mr. Little was unavailable for comment as to whether or not he would contest the new seat.

Mr. Calder of Atlin stated he would run in an effort to win the Prince Rupert riding.

The recommendations were prepared by a three-man commission headed by Dr. Henry Angus. They call for the retention of 52 seats in the House but give the lower mainland and Vancouver eight more members.

The report was tabled Thursday and Premier Bennett said it will require further study before any definite changes come about.

LAFF LINE

The two eight-year-olds had been discussing the subject of piggy banks.

"I think it's too childish to save money that way," said Janet.

"I do, too," replied Margo, "and besides that it encourages children to become misers."

"That's not the worst of it," added Janet. "It encourages parents to become bank robbers."

GOLD RIVER APARTMENTS

Following the play, seven Brownies were enrolled into the pack. They were: Donna Lee Checkley, Chlean Lennox, Karen McVey, Esther Madsen, Ronalee MacIntyre, Dorothy Elliott and Barbara Chemko.

Games were played under the supervision of Tawny Owl, Mrs. Kerman; Grey Owls, Mrs. Madsen and Mrs. McIntyre and Packy, Cheryl Boulard.

Commissioner Sparks presented Brown Owl and Tawny Owl with warrant cards and pins.

Brownies Linda Purschke, Cindy Stiffon, Wanda Boulard and Cindy Backman served tea and toast to parents and guests.

On Monday evening nine new Girl Guides were enrolled into 1st Skeena Company at a special ceremony held in Clarence Michiel auditorium. Captain Mrs. Margaret Smith welcomed Commissioner Sparks who performed the official enrolment duties.

Girls named to Guiding were Susan Elliott, Laurie Hallock, Julie Hemmons, Valerie Hackl, Dorothy Eckman, Susan Morris, Theresa Charron, Helen LeClerc and Gina May.

Following the ceremony, games were played and luncheon was served by Guides Terry Kenna, Erika Thodt, Ruth Morris and Marion Dando.

During the evening, Lieutenant

Mrs. Jo Kenna received her warrant card and pin from the Commissioner.

The Northern Lights Division of B.C. Girl Guides held a special luncheon meeting in the Lakelse Hotel last Friday. Divisional Commissioner Mrs. Baldwin of Prince Rupert, chaired the meeting which was designed to review the past years activities and establish directive for the forthcoming year.

Among matters discussed were camping, the division annual, training procedures, annual cookie week and the provincial annual meeting.

Tentative dates during the last two weeks in March were set as possibilities for the divisional annual meeting which is to be hosted this year by Kitimat. There were no Kitimat representatives on hand for Friday's planning session.

This year's weekend Girl Guide camp will be held at Digby Island and a tentative date for the event was set at May 8.

Plans for a training program to be held in September were discussed and Commissioner Baldwin will endeavor to obtain the services of a qualified trainer from Vancouver for the three day workshop.

Girl Guide Cookie Week is scheduled for April 29 to May 7 and orders for cookies must be submitted to the divisional office by February 18.

Two delegates will attend the provincial annual meeting to be held in New Westminster April 20 through April 22. The two-person delegation will consist of one Guide leader and one ladies auxiliary member.

The division group also voted a $10 award for all Guides receiving the Gold Cord, highest achievement in Guiding.

Rollfold Accepted By Ontario Dept.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Bates returned recently from a 10 day business trip to Eastern Canada. While in Montreal, Mr. Bates attended a radio sales bureau meeting in his capacity as sales manager for CFTK-TV and radio. In Toronto he visited advertising agencies and gave a demonstration of the Bates brothers "Rollfold," a special device for rolling and storing fire hoses.

He reports the demonstration was very successful and that the Ontario Forest Service plans to employ this latest innovation in fire fighting equipment. "Rollfold" is the invention of Art Bates and his brother, Dick.

In Ottawa, "Rollfold" again met with enthusiasm when Art demonstrated it for the Research Department of the Federal Department of Forestry.

At the recent Truck-Loggers convention held in Vancouver the hose rolling equipment received marked interest from visiting foresters and loggers when it was featured in a special fire-fighting equipment display.

New Interior Branch For Thornhill Realty

Thornhill Realty Ltd. announced the official opening of an office of the company in New Hazelton on Tuesday, February 1.

Thornhill Realty Ltd. in May, 1965, acquired the business of Carl Drake, who for sixty years had served the district's real estate and insurance needs.

Mr. Drake will continue to serve with the company along with Lowell A. Davison, who has been named manager. Mr. Davison has been located in the Bulkley Valley for more than ten years. He is well acquainted with farms and ranches throughout the area.

The official opening was well attended and R. M. Toynbee, Dave Miller and Ken Montgomery of the Terrace office were on hand for the occasion.

Thornhill Home Levelled In Fire

Fire destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willy Moman, Clark Road Thornhill district, on Thursday evening.

No-one was injured in the blaze which is believed to have started from a defective oil heater. However most of the Momans' household belongings were lost. Mr. Moman was absent at the time but his wife, mother, and children Edward and Lawrence managed to escape the burning home.

Neighbors rushed to the scene and attempted to stop the blaze which started about 7:30 p.m. but high winds thwarted their efforts.

Several men managed to save a refrigerator, stove, two deep freezers and a few other appliances but the house and all personal belongings were levelled. Loss was estimated at $4,000. It is not known if the property was insured.

Wedding In London Of Local Interest

A wedding of local interest took place in London, England on New Year's Eve when Miss Eveline Jackson, daughter of Ford Jackson and the late Mrs. Jackson, formerly of Terrace, became the bride of Theodore "Ted" Flint of Vancouver.

Eveline was a member of the "Herald" staff during her high school days in Terrace. She had been a resident of Vancouver for some time before leaving last May for England. She was joined by her betrothed in July and both worked in London and "enjoyed English-life."

Friends in Terrace and Vancouver will wish the couple much happiness in their new home, Flat 4, 16 Battersea Rise, London, S.W. 11, England.

Used razor blades should be safely disposed of, to prevent accidents. An empty tin with a tight fitting lid into which a slit has been cut will make a good container.

Report from Parliament

by Frank
Howard
M.P.
(Skeena)

More and more it is obvious that Premier Jean Lesage of Quebec and his super-nationalists are leading Prime Minister Pearson as if he were a blind, docile canine on a leash. This, of course, is not to be disrespectful of the Quebec government or of the people in Quebec. It's simply that the government of Quebec recognizes that it can have its own way with the government of Canada.

The most recent disclosure of the manner in which this political osmosis works came just a few days ago when the government of Quebec wrote to Prime Minister Pearson and said to put the so-called Fulton-Favreau formula for amending Canada's Constitution in the deep freeze. Without, as he claims, knowing anything about the letter from Jean Lesage to Lester Pearson, ex-Justice Minister Favreau made a speech in which he said it would be a good idea to postpone the plans regarding the Fulton-Favreau formula.

The Fulton-Favreau formula is so named because the ex-Conservative Justice Minister Fulton developed it and the ex-Liberal Justice Minister Favreau adopted it. Now, Mr. Favreau says that he wants to be an ex-supporter of the plan as well as an ex-Justice minister.

The interesting, and sad, part of this game is that Favreau and the Liberals only supported the plan because it suited Quebec at that particular time. There wasn't any thought given to the matter by the Liberals in Ottawa — they

First Stage Set For Donation Plan

At a meeting of the Terrace Arena Association held here Monday night, it was decided that the first approaches towards a payroll deduction plan to help finance construction of an ice arena, will be implemented in the near future.

Conferences with local union leaders will be held in an effort to recruit assistance in drawing up a deduction plan that meets with the approval of most employees.

Leaders will be contacted next week and invited to attend an Arena Association executive meeting on Monday, February 7 in the Terrace Hotel.

The Arena executive hopes to come up with a payroll deduction plan which calls for regular voluntary contributions of a nominal degree, designed to create no undue strain on donors.

Members of the Arena executive will also contact businesses in the Terrace area which do not operate under union agreements, in an effort to set up a similar contribution plan with employers and employees.

Returns To Terrace To Rejoin Law Firm

P. Guy Williams, barrister and solicitor, has returned to Terrace to rejoin the firm of Murdock R. Robertson and Associates. While Mr. Williams will make his home in Terrace, he will manage the Kitimat office of the firm. The office at Kitimat was formerly managed by John Pousette, who is now Clerk Administrator for the District of Terrace Municipality.

Mr. Williams was well known in Terrace in 1963 for his active participation in Terrace Little Theatre.

Within a months time, Mr. Williams will be joined by his wife, Yvonne, and infant daughter, Gina.

didn't need to give any thought for Premier Lesage of Quebec was obviously doing their thinking for them. Now he's doing some different thinking. He doesn't want the Constitution brought back from England for amending purposes for that doesn't suit the desires of Quebec. He would sooner have us genuflect our way to London each time we want to make amendments to the B.N.A. Act, which is our Constitution.

I've said it before and I'll say it again; Prime Minister Pearson acts as if he were a diplomatic representative from another planet. As a result, he is always ready to compromise — always ready to meet the demands of the other person or governments — always ready to cater to a more powerful voice — always ready to let someone else do his thinking for him.

What's the result? It's bad for Canada for it merely adds fuel to the growing fires of nationalism (or perhaps provincialism is the better word). The unifying force of the federal government is getting to be like that of a four cylinder engine with only one spark-plug.

Regrettably, people in Western Canada are getting a little fed up with this sort of thing for we can see in it the eventual break-up of Canada as it exists today. When selfish, political interests in one part of a nation have so much power, influence and control, what is to happen to the other parts? I know the people at home are pondering this question. The Prime Minister should be pondering it too.

NOTHING DAUNTED, these three Terrace Kinsmen decided to join with other "Marching Mothers" at the weekend to help bring the annual drive for funds up to its goal. Left to right, Jim MacKenzie, Dave Wilde and Don Brunner collected $85.48 when they marched through the Saturday afternoon bars. The objective of $2,000 was reached Sunday when real "Marching Mothers" canvassed the residential area seeking funds for the annual Mothers' March of Dimes. At tally time on Sunday, returns totalled $1,809.27 with several pledges from the forest industry not as yet received. Local Kinsmen extended their thanks to donors, drivers and the many mothers who volunteered for canvass duties Sunday afternoon.

NEXT WEEK AT YOUR . . .

Community Centre

by JIM COUSINS

If you missed Uncle Tony's sponsored "Go-Go Girls" dance last week, you really missed a big thing. So get prepared, they are coming back again on the 5th. This time The Jurymen are furnishing the music.

Seems as though there's a feud a'brewing between the Terrace Hockey Club and a group of floor hockey players. They've played two games now and each team has managed to win a game. Don't know yet which is tougher — ice or wood!

Men's volleyball started off with a bang last Monday night. The league now consists of eight teams. It looks like the RCMP and the Community Centre "Cougars" are going to be the teams to watch. Games are played Monday nights starting at 8 p.m. Come on out and enjoy the laughs and thrills.

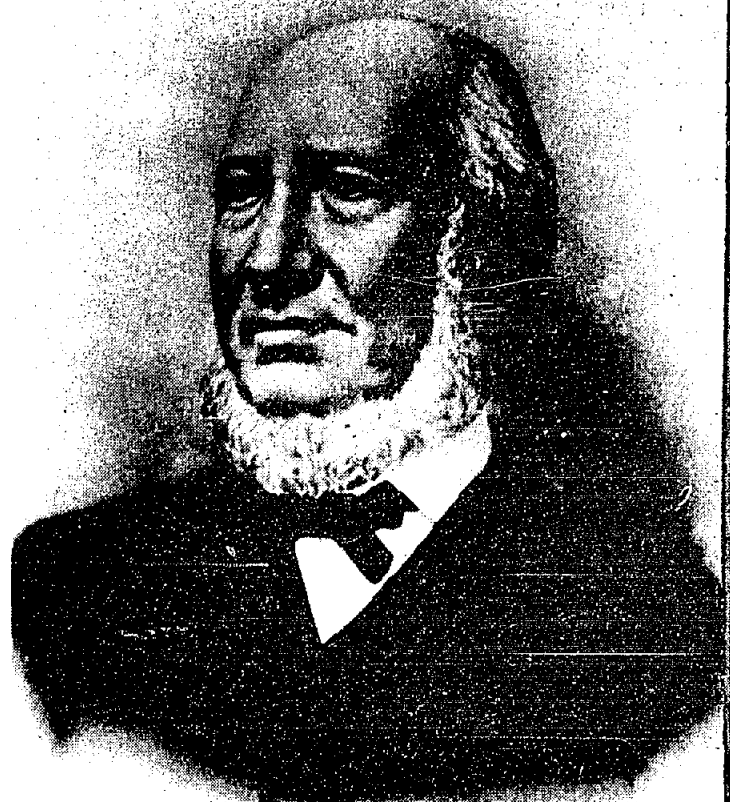

The attempt to organize the adult arts and crafts class is gaining momentum. At present we have eight ladies and we are looking for more. What we really need is a qualified instructor. Any volunteers?

I might add the youth art class is still in session. The classes are conducted every Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock in the Community Centre.

See you next week!

A CENTENNIAL FEATURE

Our Founders . . .

DAVID CAMERON

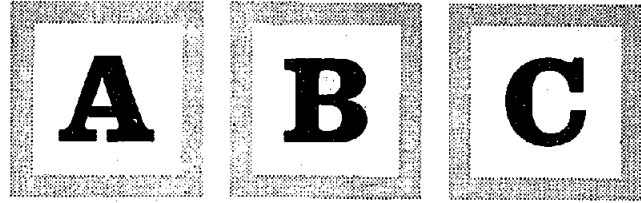

A Scottish cloth merchant with no legal training, David Cameron rose to become the first chief justice of Vancouver Island. And though often villified because of his lack of formal qualification he was praised later for his integrity and the manner in which he earned public respect in his duties.

later governor of the island colony.

David Cameron was born in Perth, Scotland in 1804 and trained in the textile industry. At 26 he emigrated to Demerara to oversee a sugar plantation. He failed in business there but was offered a post in the Hudson's Bay Company at its Nanaimo coal mines in 1853. He arrived broke and in debt but with one possible asset — he was married to a sister of James Douglas, then in charge of HBC operations on the island and Cameron was made a justice of the peace soon after his arrival and then a judge of the supreme court. Because of his family connection an enquiry into his sudden rise was demanded. But after two years of controversy Douglas won for him the post of chief justice. Cameron held the post until 1865 when he was succeeded by Joseph W. Needham. The legislative assembly granted Cameron a pension of $500 annually and he retired to his fine home at Belmont, near Victoria, where he died in 1872. He was accorded a state funeral with sailors acting as pallbearers and the press which had earlier attacked him loudly were as loud in their praise for his service to the colony.

Festival highlights by DAVID DOSSOR

There is a general feeling that the talented children in this area lack the challenge necessary to improve themselves in their own worlds of music or speech. This new festival could well play an important role in increasing their self-awareness and so develop the latent talent in our area. I sincerely hope it does.

At the time of writing there have been 98 entry forms returned signifying participation in the first annual Terrace Music and Speech Arts Festival. They include entries from Kitimat, Prince Rupert and Kitwanga. The amount of interest is most gratifying to all who have worked hard to plan and organize this new venture.

This week's column is devoted to the choral speaking section of the Festival and should be of interest to all those who have submitted entries. The success of choral speaking, of all art, lies in the strength of communication. Every poem has something to be communicated, otherwise it would never have been written. In preparing the presentation, the first task is to decide what is important about the poem (i.e. the poet's intent) and then onward, to treat the poem in a way which will give the most successful form of communication.

In choral speaking, as in drama, the audience must be able to feel whatever is expressed. It is useless to recite a poem unless the personal involvement is projected from the stage to involve the listener. If the audience is involved then there is communication. The problem with which the teacher is faced is how to get the audience involved. The prime factor is one of interest, and this demands much thought. A great deal of interest can be added if the teacher escapes from the idea of uniformity.

Children do not have to be arranged neatly in two rows, nor do they need their hands forever held at their sides, nor do they have to be dressed in white shirts or, in the case of the girls, white blouses. Feet do not have to be together at all times. Vitality must not be sacrificed at the expense of uniformity. No children are the same, so why give this pretence? Such uniformity provides an uninteresting visual presentation and very often produces "the choral speaking bug," where a group, when placed in front of an audience, is suddenly "bitten" and so produces a lifeless, spiritless and uninteresting presentation.

Even more important than an interesting visual arrangement, is an interesting variety and diversity of voices. Choral speaking does not, of necessity, mean that everything must be said in unison. There should be thought given to the possible division of voices. Some lines may well be more effective when spoken by a single voice. Try not to neglect the student in your group that has a useful and interesting means of expression. Look upon your group as a composer would look upon the instruments of an orchestra. He needs the 'cellos and double-basses to say one thing, and the violas and violins to say another. Wherever possible, use the variety of the voices at your disposal to add effect and interest.

There is no reason whatsoever why movement should not be included to add to the powers of communication, but it should be limited to simple actions, so that the emphasis of movement is not distracted from that of the speech, which is the main medium of communication.

Sound effects very often stimulate interest and excitement but make sure that any sound you use is not implied in the rhythm of the poem, otherwise you are defeating your own aim of speech communication.

After frequent practices you should be able to measure your success by observing the faces of the children you are teaching. If they all register the same mood at the same time then they are all actively involved. There should be no sad faces in a gay, light-hearted poem.

The Speech Arts section of the festival will take place on Saturday, March 26, 1966, at Clarence Michiel School. Programs will be published in the not too distant future giving details of procedure.

If there is sufficient time remaining after each session, the adjudicator, Mrs. Gwen Pharis Ringwood, will hold a workshop for the benefit of the contestants. It is hoped there will be trophies for the best primary, the best intermediate, and the best senior performance of the day.

Travel Topics

by DAVE BORN

In recent articles you may have noticed that I have mentioned the fact that seeing your travel agent could assist you in your trip. Let us examine for a minute, the reasons why you should seek his help.

First of all, he represents not just one airline or ship company, but all transportation companies, including rail and bus. Therefore, when you consult him, you have all the schedules available to you, not just of one company. As you can readily see, this is a much more suitable arrangement than having to adapt yourself to one particular line. Then too, if you are the do-it-yourself type, it could save you a lot of time and disappointment. Instead of contacting the individual carriers, the agent can do it for you and a lot faster than you probably could.

Secondly, he not only represents transportation companies but hotels, U-drives, tour companies and all related services are at your disposal through your travel agent.

Most travel agents are well travelled, especially if they have been in the business for any length of time. Most can recommend some services from personal experience. The services that are not personally known to him can still be screened by him as he knows all the reputable firms.

Thirdly, his services are free. How do we exist? On a commission basis! The companies pay us for what we sell.

In this manner, there is no variance in the rate charged to the public.

All agents are interested in giving the customer the best available deal. It is to his advantage that each and every client receive the best service for the least money.

An agent will also assist his clients in obtaining passports, visas, travel vouchers which are required for some East European countries, not only Canadian passports, but also renewal of most European ones. He also has information on the latest health requirements for the individual countries that any particular client wants to visit. He also has information on customs regulations for foreign countries.

I contend that the travel agent is the travellers best friend. Why not consult us the next time you plan a trip?

Prophecy - And Christ's Coming Again

One of the most fascinating things about Bible study to me is Bible prophecy. The Bible speaks about the "Last Days," "The End Time," "The Coming Again of Christ to earth for His own." II Timothy 3:1-5.

First of all I would like to point out three things Daniel predicted while he was exiled in Babylon during the captivity. Daniel under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit predicted three things about the end of time. Daniel 12: 4, 10. We shall see, Increased knowledge, 2. Increased speed, 3. Increased wickedness. We live in a day and age when there is a great search for knowledge. Many are running to and fro, wickedness is on the increase. Freud in his book "Life Against Death," said, "We are living in a civilization of neurotics." Amidst our increased knowledge and increased speed, we have increased problems, and increased wickedness.

Some time ago Dr. Robert M. Hutchins (former chancellor of the United States University) made this statement, "I cannot see any future to our own known world after nine years." H. G. Wells has said, "The world is at the end of its rope, the end of everything we call life is close at hand."

Our leaders, renowned scholars are perplexed. For the unconverted and uncommitted, the future is dark; but for the born again

Christian the future is as bright as the promises of God.

One of the greatest thrills awaits the Christian who is alive when Jesus comes for His own. Jesus is coming again for His church, the body of Christ. The second coming of Christ is a doctrine taught in the early church and is still preached and taught by all Bible loving and Bible preaching churches. Look up references such as I Thes. 4:13-18; Acts 1:9-11; I Corinthians 15:51-58; John 14:1-3.

Let me give you some things about Christ's Coming again.

1. He will come in like manner as He went away. Acts 1:9-11.

2. Flesh and blood will not enter heaven I Cor. 15:50. We will be changed I John 3:1-3. Our bodies will be changed, Philippians 3:20, 21.

3. Christ's coming will be the greatest mystery to the world I Corinthians 15:51-52. The world will be amazed, perplexed, astonished to see many people of all walks of life missing. The Christian businessman will not show up for work in the morning. Christian doctors and nurses will not be on duty after the time of Christ's coming. Jesus said Matthew 24:42, 44, "Watch therefore for ye know not what hour your Lord will come." "Therefore be ye also ready for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of Man cometh." Will you be ready when Jesus comes?

REPLICA OF THE ORIGINAL BLOCKHOUSE which stood at the old Russian fort near Sitka is a historical marker to the past. Many such reminders are found in this area — last capital of Alaska under czarist Russia.

Thornhillers Name Harper As President

Thirty-five Thornhill ratepayers turned out Thursday evening to elect a new president and executive slate for the Thornhill Rural Ratepayers Association.

Named to the top post was Bill Harper, long time resident of the Thornhill area. Lloyd Scott was elected to the vice presidency and Mrs. Roberta Muller was named secretary for the group. Treasurer is Mrs. Ray LaCarte and the required three directors are L. W. Clay, Phil Bourrelle and Bert Bellamy. Murray Stockman is the immediate past president of the association.

The meeting got off to a late start when members were called to help extinguish a blaze which wiped out the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Moeman shortly before 7:30 p.m.

One of the first moves made by the meeting held in Thornhill School was to appoint Lloyd Scott as chairman of a special aid committee for the family hit by the fire. Anyone having donations of clothing, household items or money may contact Lloyd Scott who will see they are properly channelled.

In accepting the office of president for the Ratepayers' Association, Bill Harper said, "We are going to do our best to see some kind of incorporation for Thornhill soon and we will also attempt to hold more regular meetings of the association."

The possibility of incorporation, acquisition of firefighting equipment, and a proposed Centennial Project for the Thornhill area have been at the top of the association's agenda for the past several months.

Another risk of driving after drinking is noted in tests reported by the B.C. Automobile Association. The tests showed that a couple of drinks of 86-proof whisky after dinner reduced by nearly 50 feet the distance that drivers could see ahead on the highway when driving at night.

New Officers For Lions Ladies

Named president of the Terrace Lions Ladies on January 25, was Mrs. Dave Porter. Mrs. Porter was elected at the annual election of officers for the group, held in the Lakelse Hotel. Eight members were present for the meeting.

Elected to the office of vice president was Mrs. Jules Perry and secretary is Mrs. Lionel Sears. Mrs. Al Purschke was named to the treasurer's position and also addressed the group as immediate past president.

In her remarks, Mrs. Purschke thanked the membership for their efforts during the past year and extended her best wishes for success to the incoming executive slate.

Wedding Bells

SNIDER — HANDSPIKER

A pretty double ring wedding ceremony was solemnized in Knox United Church on Saturday, January 22 at 7:00 p.m., when Belva Anne Handspiker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loran Handspiker of Terrace, and Ronald Frederick Snider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Snider of Prince George, were united in marriage by The Reverend G. W. Keenleyside.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a waltz-length gown of deep pink nylon which featured a full skirt and a sleeveless bodice set with rhinestones. Her matching pink veil was held in place with a large imitation pink rose. Her only jewellery was a cultured pearl necklace pendant, the gift of the groom. She wore white elbow length gloves and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Bridesmaid, Miss Patricia Waselowich, chose a dress of pale pink nylon and a matching hat. She wore white elbow length gloves and carried a bouquet of blue mums.

The groom was supported by his brother, Gerry Snider, and the ushers were Phil Dumont and Wally Swanson.

For the occasion, the bride's mother chose a navy suit with white accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. The groom's mother wore a brown suit, also with white accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Legion Hall where a buffet supper was served. The bride's table was decorated in white and pink and was centered by a three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom and flanked on either side by pink tapers. A toast to the bride was proposed by the best man, Gerry Snider, and responded to by the groom. A toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Oliver Baxter, who also read a telegram of best wishes from Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Bourque of Vancouver.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Frederick Snider, Prince George; Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Snider, Hazelton; Mrs. Margaret Forsyth, Houston; Mrs. Inez Bourque, Fort St. James; Mrs. Margaret Sanderson and Miss Grace Shaw, Prince Albert, Sask.

The bride and groom left for a short honeymoon trip to be spent at Skoglund's Hot Springs. For her going-away costume, the bride chose a black wool boucle suit and black accessories. After their honeymoon the happy couple took up residence on Straume Avenue, Terrace.

Centennial Contest For Indian Students

A B.C. Centennial contest for Indian students was announced last week by L. J. Wallace, general chairman of the Canadian Confederation Centennial Committee of British Columbia.

The contest is being held with the co-operation of the department of education, and school principals and teachers. It is open to Indian students in Indian day schools, residential schools, parochial schools, and provincial schools.

A total of $1,000 in prizes is being offered for carvings, paintings, masks, handicrafts, legends, original stories and articles.

There are three groups of entries: Grades 1 to 3, $200 in prizes for Indian stories and legends; drawings and paintings which illustrate Indian stories or other aspects of Indian culture.

Students in Grades 4 to 7 will try for $400 in prizes for Indian stories and legends; drawings and paintings to illustrate legends or other aspects of Indian culture; Indian carvings or other handicrafts.

There is also $400 in prizes for high school students, for Indian stories and legends; original articles on contemporary problems of Indian people; original stories of poetry dealing with aspects of Indian life in British Columbia; carvings or other native handicrafts.

The contest will give an opportunity for Indian youth to tell the stories of their people and to exhibit their native arts to their young Canadians during the Centennial years.

All entries are to be submitted to principals of the schools by May 1, 1966, clearly marked or tagged with the contestant's name, age, grade, school and address.

A panel of judges consisting of two teachers and three Indian artists will decide the winners and award the prizes.

If you were born in June 1897 or earlier, and can meet residence requirements, you should send in your application for your Old Age Security pension this month, in order that you may receive your first cheque the month following your 69th anniversary of your birth, in 1968. Application forms are available at any post office.

Modern Forester Has Entirely New Approach

—by THE HONOURABLE RAY WILLISTON,
Minister of Lands, Forests, and Water Resources

A gnarled, windswept tree, clinging tenaciously to the brink of a rugged cliff has an air of artistic and Oriental splendour. However, beauty is in the eye of the beholder and while such a sight would delight the landscape artist it is more than likely to distress the forester.

A forester's tree must be straight and tall, clean-stemmed and large of girth. To obtain his ideal he will spend many patient years of research in the forests and in the tree nurseries. From his time and talent will come the super-tree — an inexpensive, fast-growing, high-quality, maximum-volume tree that will give yet another boost to the province's booming forest economy.

In this modern day he practices the science of genetics but, although this science is scarcely more than 50 years old, he follows principles that go back to the dawn of history. Earliest records of ancient civilizations show man making use of selective breeding, particularly in the case of animals whose domestication brought them into close and frequent contact with mankind. There also has been practical application of selective breeding in agriculture down through the ages.

The forest tree-breeder came on the scene only recently, but he came much better equipped than his predecessors in the fields of plant and animal breeding whose skills, although well and purposefully used, were wanting in scientific approach.

Just what is the modern forester's approach? And what are some of the problems he must resolve?

To begin with, good seed is the first ingredient of successful reforestation. Both the germinative capacity of the seed and the genetic characteristics of the parents are important. However, there is no heredity, sure way to determine the heredity characteristics of seed parents and their offspring.

One of the first steps is to pay attention to the provenance or geographic source of seed. It is a safe rule to collect seed from trees of native stock growing as closely as possible to the planting site. For example, the Forest Service registers the place of origin of all seedlots and makes every effort to use stock produced from seed harvested within 100 miles horizontally and 1,000 feet vertically of the point where it is to be used. But this is not always possible because of the irregularity of seed production in a given area, and it then becomes the task of the research scientist to say how far seed may be moved from its source with impunity.

Of considerable importance to the future of British Columbia's forests are the studies under way to develop seed transfer rules for coastal Douglas fir and for the white and Engelmann spruce of the interior. Already spruce seedlings over one year old are being observed for growth behaviour in the nursery. These spruce seedlings represent 150 seed sources widely dispersed throughout the interior forests from the southern border to an area north of Fort St. John. After three years in the nursery, the better performing provenances will be used to establish test plantations at several selected points in the four interior districts of the Forest Service.

In each plantation, the survival and growth of the seedlings whose parents come from widely separated areas will be compared to each other and to seedlings from a seed-source nearest to the planting site. In time, as they grow, the plantations will provide criteria to say whether or not it is necessary to be as restrictive as at present on the transfer of seed from one region to another.

The control of provenance alone does not ensure the collection of good seed. It still must be collected from the best mother trees, stands of acceptable quality. This requires intensive selection to cate trees that will have progeny at least as good as the best obtainable in nature. It is almost impossible to distinguish with certainty the effect of environment from those hereditary characteristics by the appearance of trees in the forest. Cuttings have to be taken from the tree crowns and grafted to root stock.

This is a laborious technique when we think in terms of even a model number of trees such as 500 or 1,000. But it does ensure that the hereditary characteristics of selected trees are preserved from exploitation or natural catastrophe, and it also provides a bank of material for the geneticist to use when he seeks to improve existing strains by selective breeding or hybridization.

Even then such a bank does not solve immediately the problem of finding a large supply of high quality seed to renew our forests. One of the best ways to make progeny of those selected trees available in sufficient quantity for extensive planting is to establish seed orchards in which desirable trees are propagated and cultivated exclusively as sources of seed.

The progeny from this seed can be expected to have growth characteristics superior to wild sources of local seed and to be adapted to the rigours of the planting site. However, it takes patience and a long period of observation to assess the results.

As one forest scientist sadly observed: "The only drawback to forest genetics is that one is only mortal and will not see the final results of many of the studies which have been inaugurated."

Permit me to reply to the letter printed in the current issue of your paper headed "Shame, Shame." I also received a similar letter from Mrs. Ashton. I would appreciate it if you would publish my reply to Mrs. Ashton which explains our position and action on the matter she refers to.

"In reply to your letter regarding the inadequacy of the present Old Age Pension. This matter was discussed at our annual convention of the Old Age Pensioners Organization. A decision was arrived at and action taken to interview the minister concerned and inform him of the decision of our organization and that we consider the present pension totally inadequate to meet the present cost of living.

"Trusting you will realize that we are fully aware of the need for positive action on the part of our government and have done our part in this direction."

It would be interesting to come back to this earth in a century to see what type of cannibals have taken over the deal. Recently the Editor (presumably neuter gender) suggested that Terrace should have a debating society.

I have mixed feelings toward the thought. If the Editor had a very small, informal study group in mind, somewhat like the early Fabian Society in England, me-thinks it would serve a useful purpose. Such a group could pursue advanced studies in sociology, biology, genetics, astronomy and the like — or perhaps they could assemble some ammunition in the field of statistics to toss at our phoney politicians.

The words "debating society" tend to imply, at least to me, a competitive proposition and if so, the end result wouldn't serve any useful purpose other than duplicating an already over-duplicated form of activity.

For my money — Heaven is a place where there are no TV sets, women, Social Crediters or churches.

Anything the Editor can do toward that end would be a worthwhile cause.

ing a few mountains, but when it comes to changing Heaven — no dice! Incidentally we had in mind a small group where people with an opinion on any subject you might care to name, could let off steam and ponder the pros and cons. We weren't about to offer door prizes!

Editor,
Terrace "Omineca" Herald

Faddish thinking may be hard to resist, but if columnists are to be regarded as intelligent people they should stop and consider their falacious stand with regard to eliminating murderers.

We can go along with the idea that hanging may be a crude method of protecting the public but we do not allow of anything less effective.

If they wish to assert that hanging does not deter, they may as well assert that no punishment would deter any crimes and we could scrap all laws, as well as our police force.

Hanging is not designed to deter. It is the means of eliminating the unfit. A person hung for murder is certainly deterred from repeat performances and the public is defended.

These boys also aver that hanging is not punishment but revenge. They should know that hanging is protection only.

It does not save the victim, but it does save any future victims. We are strictly in favor of protesting the public and we save our sympathy for the victims only.

Our first line of defence against murderers is the police force. If it should come about that hanging is ruled out — there will be fewer arrests of murderers. They will be shot down by our defenders who are forced to defend themselves.

These wise moralists would substitute life imprisonment for hanging. Such an idea is absolutely thoughtless and sadistic. What is so moral in condemning a man to slow torturous death instead of a fast merciful end? The only gimmick to this idea is that a murderous character can simulate good behaviour in order to impress some parole board — that they may be set free to murder again.

Murders should be eliminated. Let justice protect the innocent. The law of Canada calls for hanging where the death penalty is involved.

There is a "down East" clique under the impression that it is above the law of the land. This clique interferes with justice and removes our protection.

Caanda Wire and Cable Co. Ltd., of Vancouver, has been awarded a $4.7 million contract to provide 16.5 million feet of aluminum conductor for two sections of B.C. Hydro's Peace River 500,000 volt transmission line to Vancouver.

The .95-inch, aluminum clad, steel reinforced cable will be installed along a 173-mile-long section between Portage Mountain Dam and Prince George, and an 82-mile-long portion between Kelly Lake near Clinton, and Boston Bar.

The line is designed to carry 12 parallel conductors, in three bundles of four strands each.

First power from Portage Mountain Dam will be carried by the 574-mile-long transmission line in October, 1968.

New Course Series At P.G. Vocational

Another in a series of courses in basic training for skill development will start at the British Columbia Regional Vocational School in Prince George on February 14, it was announced recently by the Honorable L. R. Peterson, minister of Education.

Basic training for skill development is an academic improvement program for men and women whose public school education level is not high enough to permit their entry into the specialized courses available at the province's regional vocational schools. It is open to adults at least 18 years old who have been out of the public school system for at least a year. It involves 4½ months study of applied science, mathematics and English. Some commerce is taught when time permits.

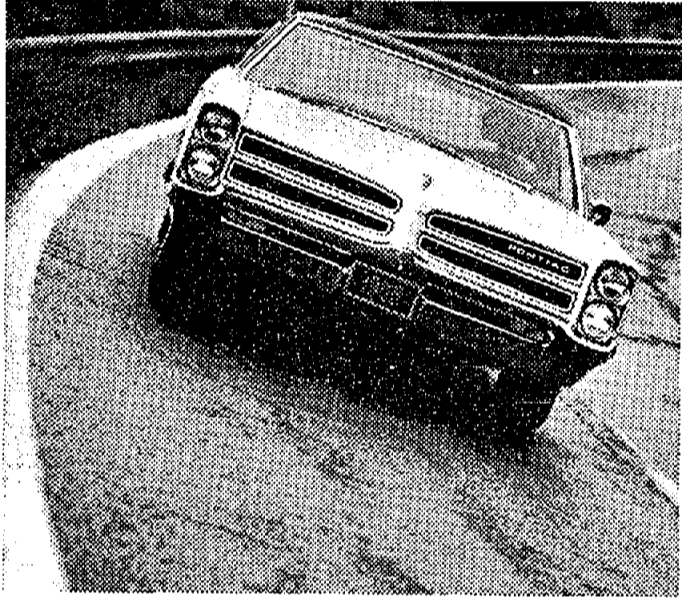

Mr. Peterson said the course is particularly valuable for people who are precluded from many jobs because they left school too early and were unable to acquire subsequent vocational training. Those who are willing to complete the program will be on their way to becoming self-sufficient and will help fill an urgent need in the work force, the minister said. Basic training for skill development is also taught at vocational schools at Kelowna, Kamloops, Burnaby and Victoria at the Vancouver Vocational Institute. Prospective students need financial aid should counselling at the nearest National Employment Service office. Information about the course, its starting dates at the vocational schools, may also be obtained from National Employment Services, or from the vocational schools.

Year End Report For Columbia C

Columbia Cellulose Co. Limited reports sales of $6,000 and net profit of $3,342,000 the year ended December 31, 1964. This compares with a net profit of $4,077,000 on sales of $62,300 for the previous year. The figures represent earnings of 34 cents per common share after payment of $804,000 in dividends on preferred shares compared with 50 cents per common share after payment of $350,000 in preferred dividends in 1964. These figures were released Thursday by Paul M. Marshall, president.

During the year the company commenced construction of $80 million Skeena Kraft mill at Prince Rupert, B.C. Columbia. Designed to produce 750 tons per day of bleached pulp. This major project, undertaken in conjunction with Svenska Cellulosa Aktiebolaget, Sweden's largest producer of forest products, is scheduled to be in production early in 1967.
