Merry England Celebrates All the week---Great Day Seventy Thousand Child.

London, Eng.—After a full week of excitement London is taking a rest. The main Jubilee events are over; of course there will be processions in different parts of London and many activities in different parts of the country, and the fleet is now steaming up the Thames to form a great line from London Bridge to Southend, which will attract many thousands by steamer or from vantage points on the shore. There are festivities ahead at Aldershot and Ascot, at Henley and Epsom indeed Jubilee festivities continue right through the summer, but so far right through the summer, but so far as London's gala days are concerned, they are over and London is getting back to business.

The week finished with children's day in the Mall and the religious services throughout the country, including a massive affair in Hyde Park organized by one of the papers.

I saw children assembling and it was a wonderful sight. Seventy thousand of them, brought into the very heart of the city from all parts of the compass and returned to their homes without a single casualty or loss.

Each child was labeled and each district sent its quota by definite routes all mapped out with military precision. I stood at Trafalgar Square while one group assembled in Northumberland Ave. There were a thousand of them there, and the traffic was stopped on the street, as it was on all the streets where they assembled, after leaving their special trains.

A police car drew up in front of me with a loud speaker on the roof. "Ready children," boomed the voice from the speaker. "O. K. Traffic constables please hold all traffic" it continued. "Pedestrians please remain on the pavement. Will that stout lady with the bag please return to the pavement? Hurry madam. O. K. children, come along; keep together now, don't run. That is splendid, you are doing nicely. Hi! Man with the bowler hat! Get back on the pavement! Alright children. Constables at Admiralty Arch get those people off the south-pavement and open the gate for the children. Good bye children, have a good time. Traffic constables please carry on. All traffic west of Villiers street to be diverted from the Strand. Constables at Villiers street please tell children to be ready. Pedestrians please remain on the pavement."

That was the way it went, for London has found that the loud speaker on the police car can handle immense crowds of people very effectively, and the men in them, as you may notice, are very polite, but very, very firm. So I left the children to the police and the King, and the papers have given you wonderful reports of the time they had, and then I departed for Brighton. Brighton was gay with flags; had changed very little in appearance, but for the first time in my recollection, it was empty! No crowds blackening the beaches, no minstrels, the Skylark hailed up on the shingle beach was gay with flags, but nobody was going for a sail in it. A few fishermen were mending their nets, the "Brighton Queen" departed rather forlornly from the old pier. We had Brighton to our selves.

After lunch we went along to Black Rock, climbed up the chalk cliffs and lay on the sweet smelling turf to let "Doctor" Brighton do his work and remove some of the fatigue of the past few days. Then took the bus to Eastbourne along roads which, in my young days, were just tracks over the cliffs to the coastguard cottages and the smugglers' inn. Today they are well-made roads through village after village. Rottingdean undergoing what looks like an explosion as it constructs a marine drive intended to rival Folkestone's. Little villages spreading out everywhere, such as Peacehaven, and then down, down into Newhaven, still a perfect example of a little English port where sailormen in blue jackets and jeans and saucy caps surmounting their red faces and grizzled beards, roll into public houses and—well—a real old English port.

Along the edge of that great tip-up table, Beachy Head, and then into Eastbourne, one of the most rapidly expanding seaside resorts since the King went there to prepare for the Jubilee, but also empty.

Everybody is in London, and all the seaside resorts are making the same complaint that even their own people have gone to London and the visitors have not arrived. Eastbourne was gaily decorated, of course, and the front was a mass of flowers.

The following day a trip by motor through little English towns to "Mother" Canterbury where the curfew still rings at night and the watchman makes his rounds calling "All's well!"

Canterbury is unchanging and in one of its little side streets "Knott's Court Jubilee celebrations" were being held. The announcement was chalked up on the wall and all the residents of the small street were out in the road celebrating by means of a community tea. They were wearing paper hats, and gaily colored ribbons. The children were tucking in at buns and the older people were moving around proud and happy. The only discordant note was when some visitors came in from an adjoining court and made invidious comparisons with their own celebrations, but the trouble was smoothed over by a tactful hobby.

I bought some postcards in a little store in the Cathedral close a young lady was in the shop who said to the shop assistant "Is this sixpence?" You see it is a like our dime. "I'm an American you know." "Ye, maddam," replied the assistant quite politely. "We had an American here yesterday!" The shop was crowded with Americans.

On the way back to London we had to climb Wrothman Hill but it came to me with all the old feeling that this was England; God's Garden laid out before us; the twilight was creeping gently over the valley, and from little villages came the pealing of the church bells floating upward. Not the call of the bells to the faithful but those joyful carillons which the villagers give and have given for generations. I recall days when, I too, had stood in the village bellfry and heard them calling the rounds. It was the peace of England which is eternal in the country as opposed to the noise of the city. Jubilant still, but gentle and so peaceful.

Flag bedecked villages and towns welcomed us back to the great city, and we saw a parade of blackshirts, with pounding drums, marching along with their eyes straight to the front as though not daring to look at the laughing faces of the bystanders. This exists in an English village, but there was not an English face among them.

Now I am leaving for Cambridge,

Prince Rupert

By The Sea

From Our Own Reporter

Prince Rupert—One of the first of Canada's new silver dollars has found its way north in the pocket of Rev. C. D. Clarke, pastor of First United Church, who attended the Church conference in Vancouver. It is slightly larger than a four bit piece, has the brightness of the morning sun, looks good, feels good and is good.

The Prince Rupert rain fall in May totalled 17.8 inches. Old timers have that parched look.

Dr. J. T. Mandy, resident mining engineer, and Mrs. Mandy, have left for Atlin. They expect to be away much of the summer. He will devote considerable time to Cassair, in which region substantial mineral development is looked for this season.

Members of the Booth family of Ottawa have recently been in Prince Rupert on a brief visit. They consisted of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Booth and son Raleigh. The former is the son of the founder of one of the largest lumbering concerns in the world. All are old friends of H. B. Rochester of Prince Rupert whose old home town is the Dominion capital.

There does not seem to be anything the matter with the state of Indiana, where farming thrives, says Geo. Arnold who is just back from a visit to that part of the United States. He had been called east by the illness of a brother, a dentist. Indiana, says Mr. Arnold, is just one immense farm, dotted with little towns possessing pay roll from manufacturing plants. Pork is pork back there. A hog, for example, is worth $10. Corn goes at 80c a bushel.

The Prince Rupert pulp mill project is believed to be coming along calmly, soundly and surely. Step by step it is understood to be developing along safe and sane lines.

S. D. Johnston is back from a motor trip that took him through the American south west, the total distance covered being about 5,100 miles. One of the most interesting things seen was Boulder Dam, where a land reclamation undertaking has been going on for years. It is one of the largest projects in the history of the continent, and has incidentally brought into existence Boulder City, an attractive town both from residential and business standpoints.

OUT FROM MCCONNELL CREEK

Pete Jensen came in last week from Tatla Lake where he spent the winter. He is arranging to take a pack train with his supplies in to McConnell creek this year and he will be leaving shortly for his placer ground. He reports that John Dahl, Eric Larson and Alfred Lindstrom of New Hazelton who went in to McConnell Creek some time ago by plane, have been sluicing for a few weeks past. All indications are that considerable gold will come out of McConnell Creek district this year.

There is lots of moisture on the prairies this year and the farmers are feeling pretty good.

and my next letter will find me on the way to the Midlands and the North.

Moricetown Stampede Had Big Crowd---Snappy Nine Beat Hazelton by 11 to 8

Moricetown Stampede held on May 30th at Moricetown on a big field overlooking the village and the falls and canyon on the Bulkley river, was all that it was intended to be and all that the crowds expected. It was a success in every way and much credit is due the Natives who had charge of the arrangements. It was a big program of outdoor sports which meant that everything had to be kept moving smoothly or the events would not be finished by dark, even though daylight outlasts until after nine o'clock at this season of the year.

There were races, etc., first and then three baseball games, two among the natives and the third between the Hazelton-New Hazelton combination and the Snappy Nines.

The first game was between Moricetown and Skeena Crossing and the latter team out classed their opponents with a score of 13-4. Next the Hazelton and Kispiox Indians played and the former team had about the same easy win as had Skeena Crossing.

It was fairly late in the afternoon when the Snappy Nines of Smithers and the Hazeltons took the field. No one would bet on the Hazeltons as the team had been greatly changed due to the fact that some of the players can't not always get away from work. Art Hanford, who had not played ball for five years, went behind the bat in place of Eddie Demko and Allen Benson was on first base in place of Oakley Senkpiel. That made a lot of changes all around the field. Perry York went in to pitch, but in the middle of the first innings, with five runs against him, asked Bert Spooner to take the mound. Bert took a couple of innings before he really got down to business and then Hanford could not hold him, so Louis Parent was taken from second and put behind the bat. He did much better but, like Hanford, has had little practice in that position. But by the third inning the game got settled down to something like.

The Snappy Nine's went on the field confident, but not too confident. The boys had Kershaw pitching for them and that always gives them more confidence. He is a real pitcher, but a pitcher cannot always win the game alone. The boys also had Mr. Carpenter on first base. He is a pretty fair ball player, and he has the size and the age and the strength. He also has a line of humor of a kind, which he picked up in Vancouver when he was looking the teams in the city over.

As a team the Snappy Nines are good. With Kershaw on the line up they are better, and they took advantage of their opportunity to get a lead. At the end of the sixth the score was 1 to 5 in favor of the Nines. After that the Nines were shut out while the Hazeltons kept pounding away and got an other three runs before the finish, making the score 11 to 8, not bad under the circumstances.

Following the afternoon sports the Natives had two dances in the village one for Natives and one for the whites and both were well patronized.

There was some good bucking contests, but the steers were not overly fat and the boys had to stick on just the same.

There was a big crowd of people at the stampede and there was just about as many whites as Natives, and that is as it should be for the Natives patronize the white man's sports loyally.

Remo Doings

Remo—Remo celebrated Queen Victoria's birthday on the 25th of May in great style. There were races for all in the afternoon under the direction of the school teacher, Miss Lindland. Prizes were evenly divided among the children. Ice cream was provided for everyone by the school board. There was a pennant scramble for everyone and all enjoyed their share.

The community supper was held at 5.30 in the R.F.I. hall at which fifty people enjoyed the eats. At the children's table were two birthday cakes with candles lighted. One was for Marjory Atkinson who was eight years old and one for Billy Lindstrom was thirteen.

After supper a vote of thanks was tendered Miss Lindland, the school teacher, and Mrs. Murphy, the R.F.I. convenor for the splendid afternoon and supper.

Dancing started at nine o'clock in the farmers institute hall. This was nicely decorated with pennants and balloons of red, white and blue. There was a large crowd from Terrace and everyone enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent.

The day was a huge success. New gates have been provided by the at the ferry approach.

Mrs. G. Zagar and son, Natnie, spent the week end in Prince Rupert.

Mr. F. Prentiss is on the sick list in Prince Rupert.

Mr. C. Swanson and daughter Gloria were in Prince Rupert the beginning of the week. Mr. Swanson is down for the season but Gloria has returned home.

SUMMER TRAIN SCHEDULE

A belated notice has been received from the C. N. R., Vancouver, giving the following information re the trains when the new schedule comes into effect on June 6.—"Effective June 16th, summer train service will go into effect on the Jasper-Prince Rupert line of the Canadian National Railways. Passenger trains will leave New Hazelton for Prince Rupert at 6.37 a.m. on Mondays and Saturdays, and mixed trains for Prince Rupert at 2.19 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. FOUR MILE SCHOOL CELEBRATES Wet and cold weather greeted the Four Mile school people on Monday, the King's birthday. It was the celebration day for the Four Mile school and while a good many people from the district turned out, a large number were kept at home on account of the weather. At night, however, there was a big crowd took in the dance in the village hall in Kispiox, this hall having been secured this year as the school house is much too small for the crowd that takes in the annual dance. The Wildwood orchestra of Kispiox furnished the music.

GOOD INCREASE IN BUSINESS

General business recovery is reflected in a bulletin issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. It takes practically every industrial phase, showing marked increase in manufacturing and exports. The recovery in progress which has been apparent for some time, is extended by figures for the month of April. Commodity prices at wholesale moved into new high territory for recent years. Grains, livestock and a number of metals participated in the advance. The most significant development, however, was the expansion in business operations. According to preliminary records the physical output of industry recorded a gain of nearly six per cent over the standing of March.

Production of copper in Canada in March 1935 reached a total of 37,828,906 pounds as against 33,467,044 in February. During the first three months of this year the total was 104,776,368, compared with 81,863,027 in the same period last year.

OFF TO SMITHERS SATURDAY

When New Hazelton public school asked for a game with the Smithers public school base ball team for last Monday it could not be arranged as that was the general sports day for the Smithers school and Saturday, the 8th of June was set for the ball game. Last Monday it rained so that Smithers school could not hold their sports and Saturday next was set as the day. In consequence the principal of the Smithers school has extended an invitation to the New Hazelton school as a whole to join with them in their sports on that day, and the ball game to follow the sports. Therefore the local teacher, Mr. Barton, is arranging for as many of the school children as possible to go to Smithers Saturday morning to be there in time for the sports which start at one o'clock. A number of parents and admirers of the youngsters team are planning on going to Smithers also on Saturday.

TWO YEARS IN SUB-ARCTIC

Winnipeg—Hero of a two-year stay in the sub-Arctic, who was a visitor in Winnipeg recently, is T. H. Manning, Northampton, England, 23-year old Fellow of Great Britain's Geographic Society, who has just come out from Southampton Island, Hudson Bay.

It was in the summer of 1933 that Mr. Manning left Churchill for distant Southampton Island, doing the 500 miles by boat.

With a background of reading natural science and surveying at Cambridge, he was commissioned by the British Museum to study birds, and by the Royal Geographic Society to map the island. He left Cambridge in 1930. Previous experience in that kind of work had been gained in 1932 in Lapland. His surveying work was done in the winter and spring months and his bird studies in the summer months. The long nights and short days of winter did not hang on his hands, he said. After the day's surveying was done, there were his dogs to feed, and his own food to prepare, and 10 hours for sleep was not any too long.

Except for his dogs, and his trips to a supply post he was all alone all the time. He walked out to Churchill all alone too. There was first a 30 mile trudge over rough ice to the main land, and then the long 500 mile tramp to Churchill. But he is in fine condition, brown as a berry and hard as nails, and as healthy and fit as any man could wish to be.

He'll be writing a book when he returns to England, he said in answer to a question. "Scientific stuff" he explained.

We have received a letter for publication but the name of the writer was not attached. As the letter was of a political nature and not too diplomatically worded, the name of the writer will be required.

Information as to the date of the dance to be given in the New Hazelton hall in aid of the junior ball team will be announced later. The Telkwa orchestra had other engagements for the first date selected.

Mrs. T. H. Wright, vice president of the W. C. T. U., has gone to Winnipeg to attend the sixtieth or diamond jubilee of that organization.

D. S. Thomson, who has been appointed assistant superintendent, Canadian Pacific Railway, Smiths Falls, was, prior to his promotion, chief clerk in the office of the vice-president and general manager of the railway at Montreal. On leaving to take up his new appointment he was presented with a gold standard railroad watch and a purse of money by his fellow-workers in the office.

Just 150 years ago the first Daly settled in Napanee and a few nights ago his descendants, Marjorie and John Daly, celebrated the momentous occasion at a supper dance at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto. This makes the sixth generation of the Daly family continuously resident in Canada.

Sixty-two calls at European ports will be made by the five express "Beaver" class cargo steamers of the Canadian Pacific fleet this summer, according to the season's schedule recently issued by Canadian Pacific Steamships. Crossings will take nine and a half days in each direction and will touch at London, Antwerp and Hamburg.

An appeal to the press to mould public opinion in support of larger grants for medical research, particularly into the cause and control of cancer, was voiced by Lt-Governor Bruce of Ontario, at the Royal York Hotel recently at the banquet which wound up the seventh annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association, Ontario-Quebec Division.

Skiing and bear-hunting were combined at the Bates Camps, Metagama, recently, when two women skiers of Toronto, accompanied by a photographer, routed a bear out of his den and stood near while the animal was "shot" by a movie camera.

The Orient with its mystery and its allure, its brilliant colors and picturesque scenes, will form the inspiration for the Beaux Arts Ball, biggest event of the spring season, to be held the week after Easter at the Canadian Pacific Royal York Hotel, Toronto. The historic theme for the ball is the great festival at Samarcand held in 1404 to celebrate the Emperor Tamerlane's conquest of India.

Musical and literary England, and the England of the great cathedrals will be visited this summer by a party under the leadership of Dr. Alfred Whitehead, organist of Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal. Itinerary of the tour which will take about a month has been arranged by Guy Tombs, Ltd., in conjunction with the Canadian Pacific Steamships.

CUTWORM CONTROL

Although the farmer knows much about the matter, the amateur gardener, little suspects, that long before he sows his highly prized seeds an enemy has been waiting in preparation for immediate assault. This is the cutworm which attacks all kinds and conditions of plants, and so far as agriculture is concerned is such a menace that the Dominion Department of Agriculture publish the latest intelligence on the most effective means of counteracting the ravages of this destructive pest. Bran bait has given most effective control for many years and it is made up as follows:—bran 20 lbs Paris Green, 1/2 lb. molasses 1 quart, and water 2 1/2 gallons. In making the bait the dry ingredients should be mixed first and thoroughly. The molasses is then stirred into the water and this solution added to the Paris Green and bran. In mixing the bait only enough water should be added to reduce the material to the consistency of wet sawdust. The mixture must not be made sloppy but should be so that it will crumble in the hands and slip through the fingers easily. Land that was heavily infested last year should be treated before the plants are set out. This is done by broadcasting the bait at the rate of 15 or 20 lbs to the acre a few nights before transplanting. The bait should be spread during the evenings just before dusk, and if possible, on a still warm night.

Summer in the Rockies

Indications from representatives of the Canadian Pacific Railway throughout the world are that pleasure travel this year will be on a greater scale than any time in the last two years, bringing more visitors to Canada from the United States, Europe, and the Orient, and pouring millions of dollars into Canadian pocket-books.

Western Canada is expecting a good share of this traffic and the Canadian Pacific Railway is making extensive preparations there in its hotels and bungalow camps. Dates have been arranged for special entertainments at Banff Springs Hotel, which opens on June 16, and Chateau Lake Louise, which opens on June 21.

With Banff or its sister res...

Lake Louise, as headquarters, tours can be made to such well-known places as Johnston Canyon, Moraine Lake and the Valley of the Ten Peaks, the Lakes in the Clouds, the Plain of the Six Glaciers, the Great Divide, Wapta Lake Bungalow, Yoho Valley and bungalow camp, Takakkaw Falls, the historic Kicking Horse Pass, Mount Stephen, and the great mountains near Field, B.C.

The large Canadian Pacific Railway hotel at Banff is equipped in every way for the comforts of visitors; the hot radio-active sulphur springs have been turned into a swimming pool, side by side with a pool filled with fresh water; the rolling floor of the valley has been made into a picturesque golf course; there are fast, well kept tennis courts. Throughout the summer there is fun and plenty to do at this beautiful resort, with special events at short intervals, starting with the Calgary Stampede which will be held from July 8th to 13th. Two societies with world-wide membership will hold their official outings, the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies from July 26th to 30th, and the Trail Hikers of the Canadian Rockies from August 2nd to 4th. Indian Days will return to Banff from July 19th to 21st, when Western Indians, in their native costumes will re-enact ancient tribal ceremonies. The Banff Golf Week, with the Prince of Wales Trophy as the main prize, is from August 26th to 31st.

About Terrace

Ed. Cole says his hens are world beaters when it comes to raising chicks. With settings of over seventy eggs he has had 100% hatchings, and to date he has succeeded in rearing 96% of the young birds.

The latter part of the week and over the week end there were very welcome rains in the district. Prior to the rain the hay crops were looking healthy, but were not making the expected growth. The rain has, however, fixed everything, not only with the hay but all other crops.

While loading ties at Remo, with Harry Miller, Herman Froese lost the end of a finger when it was caught between a tie and a pile.

The Terrace branch of the Canadian Legion held a reorganization meeting on Thursday night, and elected the following officers:—President, W. L. Scott; Vice-President, R. Beecher; Sec.-Treas., F. G. Herbert; executive committee, G. Fogerty, E. Lawrence, S. Kirkaldy, N. Sherwood, E. S. Cole.

Bill Hagen says that John Gabriel is running a trail from near the Copper river bridge to the Hagen group of claims on the mountain. A lot of staking has been done in the last year and the whole mountain downstream from Columario has been staked. In all 60 claims have been recorded. Not only is staking being done, and trail work, but a considerable amount of preliminary development work.

Mrs. Corlett leaves on Thursday to holiday in Seattle.

While the new ferry at Usk is not quite finished it was pushed on far enough to allow it to be used Saturday night to take care of the guests who went up for the Fred Scott-Miss Dorothy Whitlow wedding.

Bill Hagen of the Vanarsdol Lumber Co. believes in "keeping her rolling". He got a lot of logs at his mill, before the fast water arrived and now he is taking the logs out at the Copper river bridge and hauling them to the mill on a trailer behind his car.

To date several young men have applied under the forest branch scheme for training and employment. The list is a good one, and the ones who have applied are men who will make the best use of the opportunities offered.

Friday was a day of tricky weather the kind calculated to get a fellow into trouble. Most of the day it rained, and for about a mile on each side of town. Up the Copper there was no rain. One out of town farmer came in and got soaked and when he got home the sky was clear and the ground was dry. He had a lot of questions to answer before he was as clear as the sky. He made it stick.

Up in the Air On Aerial Tram Is Not so Hot

We've tried a number of ways of travelling in our time, but the other day we tested out a new one when we went up to a mine over an aerial tram. It was fine for a start, but when we had been run out some distance on the line the bucket stopped—the guy on the top end had an empty bucket to fill. Then we started again, and after a little more travel stopped again for bucket-filling. By that time we were getting well out on a long span of cable and as soon as the rig stopped we thought we were back at sea once more. We've tried small sailing boats, gas boats, coastal steamers, steam trawler and ocean going ships, and frequently we've had experience with waves, rollers and ground swell. But to sit crouched up in the bottom of an ore bucket, with the bucket swinging straight up and down in the air like the stern of a ship riding a following sea—well, that was not so hot. But we went on and on with periodical stops to fill buckets, and arrived safely at our destination after ten minutes in the air, but we climbed 1500 feet up in that time, and that for a person who carries an extra ounce or so of pure margarine, is quite a help, and it also gave us a chance to see the country at different angles.

Travellers along the line often tell us that Terrace is the best place along the line and we are inclined to believe them. On Friday 22 carloads of timber products were hauled out from the local yards. That represents a lot of money spent in wages in this district. At that there still remains a little slack to take up in the employment situation and men coming in from the outside looking for jobs are apt to find themselves out of luck. But it does show that those who have stayed with the district through the past few years are getting some benefit as a result of their faith, and that our local industrialists are not losing many bets when the chance comes to pick up some of the business offered.

Mrs. E. Willie who has had a severe attack of sciatica is much better again.

The pupils and staff of Kitsumgalum high school put on a splendid concert on Friday evening. Miss Longworth was accompanist for the evening and Mr. Makepeace was chairman. After the program the Terrace orchestra furnished music for a dance.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Kirkaldy and family and Miss Velma Greig and Lawrence Greig spent the holiday at the Lake.

Rev. J. F. Birchall left Tuesday for Prince Rupert to attend Synod.

On Saturday evening at 8 p.m. Miss Dorothy Whitlow, youngest daughter of Mrs. and the late Frank Whitlow of Usk was united in marriage to Fred Scott, only son of T. H. Scott of Terrace. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Birchall. Following the ceremony a largely attended dance was held in honor of the happy couple both of whom are well and favorably known in both Usk and Terrace. The best of wishes are extended to the young couple.

HOW TO OVERCOME THE DEPRESSION OR CURE FOR THE JITTERS

An aged man at the Union station discussed the business sitch-ee-ation, I said that thing were mighty bad, And, somehow or other it made him mad.

That aged man, he tapped my knee—"D'ye know what wrong with things?" said he.

"I've been in fights," and the old boy glared, "And I always got whipped when I got scared.

Folks have forgot how to stand and grin

When hard luck knocks 'em on the on the chin,

There's too much groaning, not enough laughs,

Too many crepe hangers, too many graphs.

It sure don't help a sick man's heart To think of nothin' but his fever chart

There's too many experts tellin' 'now come'

The whole blame world is on the bum. There's too many people with an alibi, I'd rather listen to a darn good lie.

As soon as folks quit hanging crepe You'll see business is in good shape

I've got no use for golf as a game, But I speak its language just the same

There's too few drives, and too many putts,

Plenty cold feet, and not enough guts. You ain't my son, but if you was mine, I'd darn soon teach you not to whine.

He wasn't cultured, and his words were rough,

But the old boy seemed to know his stuff.

Regularity!

TO MERCHANTS

"You sweep out, you trim the windows, you dust off the counters you make up new price cards, you unpack and arrange new stock, you plan your merchandise showings, you do these and a hundred other necessary jobs, REGULARLY in the normal conduct of your business.

"But how about the biggest job of all—contacting the people and telling them repeatedly that you are in business and have the goods they need....Do you do that REGULARLY? Do you figure you are going to get your share of the available business if you don't tell folks about your merchandise and service at REGULAR intervals instead of doing the job spasmodically or not at all?"

"By all known tests, experience and thousands of records, the acknowledged best-of-all medium for REGULARITY is advertising in the local newspaper. A newspaper going REGULARLY in to the homes of your prospective customers, not only in your town but the surrounding territory as well, makes it easy enough for anyone to see how your local newspaper offers you the finest kind of a vehicle for carrying your business message REGULARLY to the people.

"And don't think that these folks won't miss your REGULARITY of advertising. They looq for their newspaper REGULARLY, study its advertising (yours, if it is there) REGULARLY.

"And what's more, you'll find they are buying fairly REGULARLY, too, if you'll just check up, especially with the advertisers who do use space REGULARLY.

MICKEY BROWN'S PACK TRAIN

Mickey Brown of McConnell Creek fame is going to work his territory on McConnell Creek this year on a large scale. Last week he was in Hazelton where he got together some sixteen pack and work horses. These started out from Hazelton on Sunday last loaded with oats and enough grub to last three men for the trip. He had several teams of work horses which will be used on scrapers once they arrive on the creek. They went in via the Babine trail from Hazelton, and the outfit was in charge of Mr. Brown junior. Some twenty-four men will be employed on the creek this year by this one outfit. The men go in via the Tatla Lake route, and that is where the bulk of the grub for the outfit is bought.
