

Bright News of Progress From Peace River

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gow returned to Hazelton on Tuesday after a vacation spent in and around Sexsmith, Alberta, and in Edmonton. Mr. Gow brings back a story full of optimism and glad tidings. He had a successful goose hunt and enjoyed all that sort of thing. But, he says, business in all lines is fifty per cent better than last year and every one is feeling a hundred per cent better than they have for several years. He says that all the good hotels are full and it is hard to get a room. Travellers tell of big increases in sales, one man saying that he had sold more winter goods in the last two months than he had for three years.

Speaking of the Alberta Peace River Block area Mr. Gow said that conditions were good. The crop this year promised to be another 1929 crop until the last few days of harvest when a frost got a few sections to a small extent, possibly reducing the grade by a couple of cents for wheat. The great bulk of the wheat crop was not injured at all and it is running 67 lbs. to the bushel. Oats are running 94 bushels to the acre and all coming up to the government standard for seed purposes. About 25 per cent of threshing was done when he left and all the cutting was done. The weather was ideal for harvesting.

Mr. Gow said that there had been a great increase in the B. C. Block. The population had jumped from 900 to 3472 when the last Dominion census was taken. This year the people up there got a little hard luck as a snow storm hit the district just as cutting was about to start. The damage, however, was not as extensive as one might think.

The Alberta Government, with the assistance of the Dominion government is moving 800 families from the dry area of the province to the Peace River area. This will make a wonderful difference to the business of the north and to the business of the Dominion as well. It is one of the best moves any government ever made.

RADIO FELL DOWN OF COURSE

Monday night we were all set to hear Premier R. B. Bennett make his speech in Winnipeg during which he was to make some important announcement on national affairs. He was to be followed by Finance Minister Rhodes. Just before the speeches were to start the radio faded, or the commission did not use all its power. Not a sound came across the mountains. But as soon as the speeches were over, along about 8.15 to 8.30 the radio from the Calgary station was good. That is usually the way with the radio in the northern part of the province. And then the Department of Marine wants to know if one has paid one's license, and if so the date, the number, etc. A request is never received in regards to the service being rendered.

NOMINATIONS TOMORROW

Nominations for Skeena riding will take place on Thursday in Smithers before returning officer, R. L. Gale. There will be 3 candidates and possibly four. Dr. R. C. Bamford will represent the Independents, B. T. Kenney will represent the Liberals and Mr. Panter will represent the C.C.F. Mr. Kelly, an old timer in Smithers threatened once to enter the field, and Pete McNichol of Usk also said he would be in the running. Of course anyone else who so chooses may run as a dark horse if they have sufficient qualifications, and can get ten other voters to sign their papers besides the mover and seconder.

News from Rupert

When John Dybhaven at a Chamber of Commerce meeting the other evening said he gathered from a perusal of recently received data, that the proposed road to Alaska would mean a twelve million dollar out for British Columbia, the temperature of the Chamber seemed to suddenly turn cooler. However, the members are just as strong as ever for the road. It is felt that a more equitable adjustment of cost is possible.

Seeing that the Ketchikan people and the denizens of Prince Rupert have similar problems, climate and scenery, more of a neighborly feeling is being developed. On the evening of October 11th, with approximately a couple of hundred on board the S.S. Prince Rupert sailed for the Alaska port, and all day Monday, amid frequent showers, visitors were made to feel at home, which came quite easy. There were bridge games, dancing and dinners; talks on the price of fish and all that sort of thing. As an excursion, and as an example of entente cordiale it was right up to expectations.

Prince Rupert continues to carry on under a Commissioner form of administration. Economy is put into practice wherever and whenever it is possible. Waste and leaks are becoming things of the past. This is self evident.

While rumour has lifted its head, the fact remains at the beginning of the week that no Independent or Conservative candidates had yet come forward—and nominating day on Thursday. Names have been mentioned, and there everything stopped.

THE LATE HENRY SIBLEY

Passed Away on Thursday after Suffering for Twelve Years—Funeral on Sunday

After suffering for twelve years asthma and lung trouble which had resulted from an accident, Henry Sibley passed away at the Hazelton Hospital on Thursday night last at the age of 50 years. He was a native of Musquoddy, Nova Scotia, and was married in Prince Albert, Sask., in 1921. He came to New Hazelton 18 months ago from the Francois Lake country. He had moved from place to place in an effort to find a climate which would give him some relief, but was unable to find such a place. Arrangements had been made for him to go to Kamloops, but he took a bad turn a day or so before he was to leave, was taken to the hospital and it was known then that he would never go to Kamloops. The deceased is survived by his widow, two daughters, Ruth and Betty, two step daughters, Evelyn and Dorothy Caza, his aged mother in Vancouver, and six sisters—Mrs. Moffatt, Gilford Island; Mrs. Gladwin, Vancouver; Mrs. Gillespie, Vancouver; Mrs. D. J. Cassidy and Mrs. Ralph Smith, Farmingham, Mass., and Mrs. Winnie Brown of Ashland, Mass.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon at two thirty from the United Church, New Hazelton. Rev. Mr. Redman conducted the services. A large number of citizens turned out to pay their respects to the departed. The floral tributes were numerous, and the bereaved family have the sympathy of many friends.

The Independent candidates seem to have the edge on all other contestants at the present time. They, for the most part, are men and women who honestly want good clean government. In supporting an Independent no one need worry about conscience or family tradition. This is not a fight between political parties, but a fight for honest government, free from the ward heaters and machine workers

A Great North Road is a Live Issue in States

The proposed highway from Seattle to Fairbanks, Alaska, is receiving more attention in the press of the United States. For example, the Christian Science Monitor, published in Boston, says:—"On the trestle board for future undertakings of construction engineers a long line is being drawn into the map of North America. It reaches from Seattle, Wash., to Fairbanks, Ala. northward through Canada's British Columbia. It rounds glacier peaks, crosses rugged firds, leaps turbulent rivers touches green water inlets and limpid lakes, penetrates regions seldom seen by man save from the cockpits of airplanes and it spells a promise of social business intercourse to isolated districts in Alaska and the Dominion. It is the proposed highway which would connect the United States with its northernmost territory.

"The proposal is the result of a three year study undertaken by a special federal commission, and it is placed in the hands of President Roosevelt with the assurance that such a road is both a financial and economical possibility. Fourteen million dollars is the figure mentioned for the 2250 miles of construction.

"Contemplating the possibilities inherent in such an enterprise, an extremely fascinating view is unfolded. Not alone would the highway promise an inevitable string of tourists motorcars bearing passengers into that long land of upsoaring and down-sweeping vistas.

"There would be passenger buses roaring through the night with sleepy-eyed patrons anticipating the renewal of old friendships with folk back home. There would be fresh money jangling in totem-poled villages, and sloe-eyed natives of the Pacific slopes becoming acquainted with—to them—unbelievable luxuries. There would be new activity in the already thriving Matanuska Valley near Anchorage, and the Tanana Valley in the interior, where the highway would join the 128 miles of motor truck road already radiating from Fairbanks.

"In Alaska there are approximately 82,000,000 acres of arable land waiting to be cleared, and an equal area suitable for grazing purposes. Homesteaders have some assurance of seasonal employment in mining, while the population engaged in the $50,000,000 fishing industry offers a market for farm produce. Then there are the owners of some 600,000 reindeer—a meat supply increasing at the rate of about 35 per cent annually—waiting an outlet for their product.

"But beyond these, and other, considerations is that future of the project dealing with international relations. Obviously since 118 miles of the highway would be through Canada a further strengthening of that entente cordiale so long enjoyed between the two countries might easily result through the co-operation of the two nations.

"It is highly conceivable such another treaty relating to an international landway would add even greater strength to Jefferson's words respecting the 'peace, commerce and honest friendship' that have distinguished the relations of these two nations so kindred in ancestry and ideals."

A farm hand in the Quesnel district was recently driving home late when a bull moose charged his car head on with disastrous results to both car and moose—and Alex. M. Manson is in the Cariboo making speeches too.

The spud crop this year is rather an indifferent one. The growers do not know yet just how much to charge for spuds and believe they will hold until spring. A cash market now would be a lot better than any spring price, and there are those who would buy now.

Terrace Hunts Big Black Bear By Moonlight

Moonlight nights last week started a small war in Lakelse Valley, George Little's island and in fruit growing sections on the bench. Depredations by bears are especially bad this year. What with a short crop of wild berries, high water in the river making the fishing bad for bears, the big black fellows have been taking a heavy toll of the ripening fruit. In addition to the fruit they take they do a lot of damage to the trees, frequently completely ruining a tree that has taken many years to grow. Not only are they taking fruit, but T. J. Kirkpatrick, Svent Schoostrand and Michaud Bros. report that they are coming in to the gardens and digging up the carrots and parsnips. So when the clouds cleared away and the moon gave a fair visibility rifles were oiled up and the hunt began.

Frank Hipp is reported to have tried his aim at one on Little's island, while on Wednesday night Leo. Benoit reported having witnessed a regular bears' picnic on the Roy Pearson place about half a dozen being seen during the evening. Thursday night Leo got a shot at one, and the next day had the pleasure of taking the hide off one fruit thief. Quite a number have been shot at, and while they are staying away from some of their favored spots, other orchardists report fresh damage from day to day. To add the troubles of the fruit growers boot-wearing thieves have also increased their activities, and it is reported that prosecutions are to be expected in the course of a few days.

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Premier of Canada who made a speech over the radio that did not get over. Missed by all the people in Northern B. C. because the radio system is inefficient.

There is a pigeon in Moncton which has gone "hobo" and rides the rods in the railway yard. Its favorite roosting place is the tender and cab of a Canadian National switching engine. After riding the length of the yard the pigeon will fly away, but always comes back to the same engine and will come right into the cab and pick up the crumbs thrown it by the driver and fireman. How it picks out the same engine all the time is what puzzles the boys. It will fight any other pigeon which attempts to usurp its roosting place. The pigeon perched on the engine tender is an object of curiosity to the many who have witnessed the anomaly.

An Editorial Comment

THE INDEPENDENT

On November 2 the electors of the Skeena riding will exercise their franchise. Perhaps never before in the history of British Columbia has there been a day that has such important significance.

The result of the election will, no matter who is elected, affect tremendously the future development of our province. Therefore it becomes every voter to weigh carefully the policies and promises of each political party or individual, and to judge them in the light of sound common sense rather than follow blindly the old party system of preaching a platform to hoodwink the voter.

Much has been said by Mr. Pattullo and his supporters on the advantages of the "well oiled machine" of the Liberal party, claiming that with this organization they can carry on the government of the province more effectively than individuals elected as Independents.

Let the voters of Skeena analyze Mr. Pattullo's statements regarding the "well oiled machine" and they will readily understand why men are offering themselves as independent candidates.

There is not the slightest doubt that the great majority of intelligent voters are thoroughly disgusted with the old party machines and are determined to cast aside these monstrosities. Proof of this is seen in the willingness of public-spirited citizens, both Liberal and Conservative, to offer themselves as independent candidates.

Every independent thinking voter today realizes that a change will be made in the affairs of British Columbia on November 2, and they are now called upon to cast their vote for the candidate who pledges himself to support only those policies brought before the Legislature that are in the interests of all the people rather than to the interests of the party machine. The independent candidates will be in the position to give all their time and experience to the future welfare of their ridings and the province instead of being compelled to dance to the tune of the "oilers and wipers" of the party machines.

The first qualification necessary in any candidate offering himself for election is that he has had sufficient training and experience to be able to propose and carry through legislation that will be of lasting benefit to his riding. Experience is always the best teacher, and it is only through that medium that any candidate can become a good legislator if elected.

The electors of Skeena should, before casting their ballots, enquire into and demand that each candidate state fully his qualifications, and pledge himself to work for the best interests of all the people rather than to devote his time to seeing that the "oilers and wipers" of the party machine get well reimbursed for their assistance in keeping the old worn-out machine from falling to pieces.

Home for Christmas is a slogan which will soon be in the air and railway and steamship companies are at work now making preparations to handle and expedite the increased traffic which naturally arises at this season of the year. The trans-Atlantic steamship companies have already listed their pre-Christmas eastbound sailings from Montreal, Quebec and Halifax, according to R. J. S. Weatherston, General Freight and Passenger Agent of the Canadian National railways in Montreal, N.B. There will be eight pre-Christmas sailings from Montreal.

LIQUOR PRICES IN B. C. NEXT

The Liquor Control Board and the department of finance is beginning to worry now that the Americans are going to drink legally. It will shut off a great source of revenue in the province and the Dominion because millions of gallons of liquor, beer and of fifth was shipped from Canada to the United States. Now the United States will take only good stuff and will make a lot themselves and import direct from other countries. They propose to sell at a reasonable price. That is what hurts the B. C. people most.

The late Premier Oliver, and he had the unanimous support of his ministers including Mr. Pattullo and Mr. Manson, hit the liquor prices as hard as he possibly could in order to take from the people of British Columbia every cent possible. They charged the highest prices for poor stuff, and they paid awful prices to the breweries and the distillers, especially the B. C. distillers. Those prices have to come down now and the prices to the producers of the so-called beers and whiskies, gins, etc. that are made in B. C. and fancy labels put on the bottles.

For many years the governments and the liquor interests have had a merry time at the expense of the drinking people. The independent candidates have a plank in their platform to see that this business is looked into and put on a fair basis. Even the officials in Victoria admit that they will soon have to get down to business.

Such grafting and such theft as the B. C. governments have practiced under the guise of taxation on liberty, would never have been countenanced by those governments had private interests been handling the booze.

There are about two hundred and twenty-five candidates in the field for the election on November 2. Only 45 seats are to be filled. It is thus quite obvious that not all the candidates can be successful. There will, however, be the satisfaction of knowing that every one has had an opportunity to express their particular wishes, beliefs or feelings of revenge against the other fellow. The great issues will be settled by those who have no personal axes to grind and who are not looking to take away from others what they are not able to earn for themselves. In other words it will be the solid and sound Canadians who will elect the members to the next legislature. That is as it should be.

The independent candidates seem to have the edge on all other contestants at the present time. They, for the most part, are men and women who honestly want good clean government. In supporting an independent no one need worry about conscience or family tradition. This is not a fight between political parties, but a fight for honest government, free from the ward heaters and machine workers.

If you were looking for a manager for your business you would not select one who was a member of a party or who was so hide bound that he could not see anything but his own interests. Then why not select independent men, men free from party shackles, to run the provincial business.

Dr. R. C. Bamford, the independent candidate seeks your support. He will give your fair and honest representation at Victoria. His past record in the north has shown him to be independent and fearless.

Canada is coming out of the world depression in better shape than most countries, in fact Canada is nearer a normal state than any other country except Great Britain. So much for a strong government and good leadership.

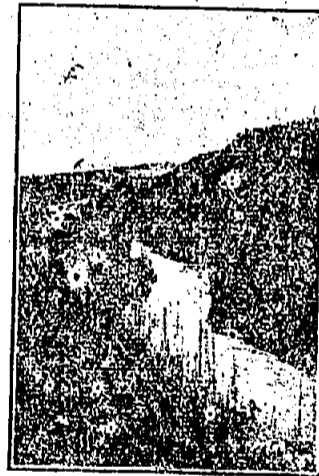

WINTER EGG PRODUCTION

A flock consisting of 104 white leghorns and 34 R.L. Reds, or a total of 138 birds at the Dominion Experimental Station, Windermere, produced from October 9, when they were placed in the laying houses, up to the end of February, 10,302 eggs, or an average of 75 eggs per fowl. It is interesting to note that 48 of these birds averaged 100 eggs, and 89 birds averaged 90 eggs. While there is nothing spectacular in these results, they represent good production under climatic conditions experienced in Windermere where temperatures down to 35 degrees below zero were recorded. No heat nor artificial lighting were used.

The main considerations in obtaining winter eggs are good, well developed birds, suitable feeds, proper housing and sanitation, and the personal factor. In feeding, the scratch feed consists of wheat 8 parts, corn 4 parts, oats 2 parts, and barley 2 parts. The mash, which is kept before the birds all the time, consists of a mixture of cornmeal 175 pounds, shorts 75 lbs., middlings 75 lbs., oat chop 50 lbs., barley chop 50 lbs., meat scrap 45 lbs., fish meal 45 lbs., bone meal 18, linseed 6, salt 6, and cod liver oil 6. The birds were housed in what is known as 'The Farmers House,' with straw loft and the front one-third wood, one-third glass and one-third open or cotton in front.

TULIP PLANTING

Tulips may be planted from the end of September to November. October, no doubt is the best time. The soil need not be rich. Any ordinary garden soil will do but it should be well dug and drained. A position in full sun suits them best but they will bloom in half shade for a season or two. The bulbs may be left in the ground until they become crowded and the flowers are small, or they may be lifted each year. The time to lift them is when the foliage is turning brown, or if the space is needed earlier than this, the bulbs should be planted close together in a shallow trench in the back garden until the foliage dies. The bulbs should be stored in paper bags and kept dry all summer. In the fall the large sized ones may be planted in the border, and the smaller ones planted in a row in the vegetable garden to grow to maturity.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES

Sunday services in Knox United church were special ones for the occasion of Thanksgiving and the Harvest Festival. The O. G. I. T. girls on Saturday afternoon did a splendid piece of work in decorating the church, the members of the congregation providing them with generous donations of fruits, vegetables, flowers and foliage. The Sunday evening congregation taxed the seating capacity of the church to the limit, and Rev. W. R. Welch gave a very appropriate address, giving special stress to the many things the people had to be thankful for, and how in many ways this could be expressed by good citizenship, and placing the fundamental things of life in their proper places.

BUILDING MORE SIDEWALKS

The Commissioners are carrying on with their sidewalk building program. At present they are having the cinder walk from W. Little's house to the tennis court replaced by a lumber one. The commissioners have displayed commendable energy and ingenuity in a period of short finances, making it possible for many of the tax payers to work out their taxes. The improvements work all ways. The men get work, the village get taxes, the general public enjoy good walks and the village is in better shape than ever. At the same time the local mills have supplied the lumber and thus the chief payrolls of town were helped.

A HEIFER AND A BEAR RACE

Charlie Giggy tells of an interesting chase that took place in his orchard about ten days ago. One morning he found a set of bear tracks mixed up with those of a heifer. It was clear that the heifer had bedded down in a soft spot to keep away the flies, and that during the night a bear in search of fruit had smelt her. Getting up close to the heifer before he was detected, he so startled the youngster that she made about ten feet in the first bound. Then, turning, left between the rows of apple trees, she headed full speed ahead for the south line fence which she took in one big jump. The bear, apparently hot on her trail charged into the fence and left a lot of air on the bars as he got through. He never caught the heifer as she has turned up in good shape.

Local hunters have taken advantage of the week end holiday and went to Lakelse and Kalum Lakes for a hunt. As yet no reports have come in of the results.

Local Plums are in full market now. The crop had promised to be a good one, but the frost a few weeks ago completely wiped out the fruit of a number of orchards. While the late season has held the fruit back, it has matured to a good shape and is ripening in good color.

Mrs. Marjorie Muro of Reno spent the holidays with Mrs. Greig.

Fred Nash who has been at Barkerville all summer, arrived home Thursday of last week. He looks well and reports having had a good summer. At the same time he would rather have his permanent residence in Terrace. He says that in the gold area they have two seasons—winter and August.

J. K. Gordon is getting his fruit all harvested as fast as he can. He says that while he has had a battle on his hands he has demonstrated that it is possible to keep an orchard free of scab even in a wet season. He had to spray seven times, the last one being with Bordeaux mixture, and as a result he has a marketable crop.

Mrs. J. B. Agar was hostess on Monday afternoon when a miscellaneous shower was held in honor of Miss Vivian Dix whose marriage with Charles Cauthers of Anyox will take place shortly.

Here and There

Taken as a whole the British West Indies as a market for Canadian products ranked tenth last July with $550,000, with Newfoundland coming next.

Increasing prosperity in Canada and the United States is seen in the early arrival in the Dominion of United States Christmas tree buyers. They are particularly busy in the Maritimes where the demand is especially heavy.

Edward C. Carter, of New York, traveller and publicist, has been chosen to fill the newly-created post of secretary-general of the Institute of Pacific Relations which has just completed its fifth biennial conference at the Banff Springs Hotel.

Eleven happy boys took the eleventh annual "On to Alaska" tour this year under the leadership of George E. Buchanan, of Detroit. Their trip included a stop at the Banff Springs Hotel where the boys stayed until they entrained for Lake Louise.

Traffic earnings of the Canadian railways for July show an aggregate gain of nearly a million dollars as compared with July, 1932, the best showing in many months on similar comparisons. Gross earnings of the Canadian Pacific account for $473,000 of this gain during the month.

"He got you that time," said Mrs. Montagu Norman to the governor of the Bank of England, when they landed recently at Quebec from Canadian Pacific liner, Duchess of Atholl, on their way to Bar Harbor, Maine. The purpose of the visit is a mystery, not even a holiday being admitted by the distinguished visitor.

John Nelson, president of Rotary International, sailed recently by Empress of Britain on his way to Lausanne where the second European regional conference of the world-wide organization was held this month. He stated that Rotary had 150,000 members in 800 clubs.

"It from the conferences, speeches and exhibitions at the World's Grain Exhibition at Regina we can derive even one suggestion of importance to agriculturists, the show will be voted a success," said E. S. McRory, manager, United Grain Growers office in Calgary, in a recent address at the Palliser Hotel in that city.
