Dean Asks Support . . .

Library Gifts Encouraging; More Needed To Reach Goal

With a first gift of more than $5,000 from an interested BUSM alumnus, the Alumni Medical Library Campaign was underway with much encouragement.

Other gifts in the thousand dollar range and near it by generous contributors and several contributions of lesser sums continue to inspire workers. Many more are needed to reach the $300,000 goal.

Since this is a capital gifts campaign, contributions of $500 and above are sought. But it is realized that recent graduates and alumni of limited means cannot give at this level, and their gifts are equally welcome.

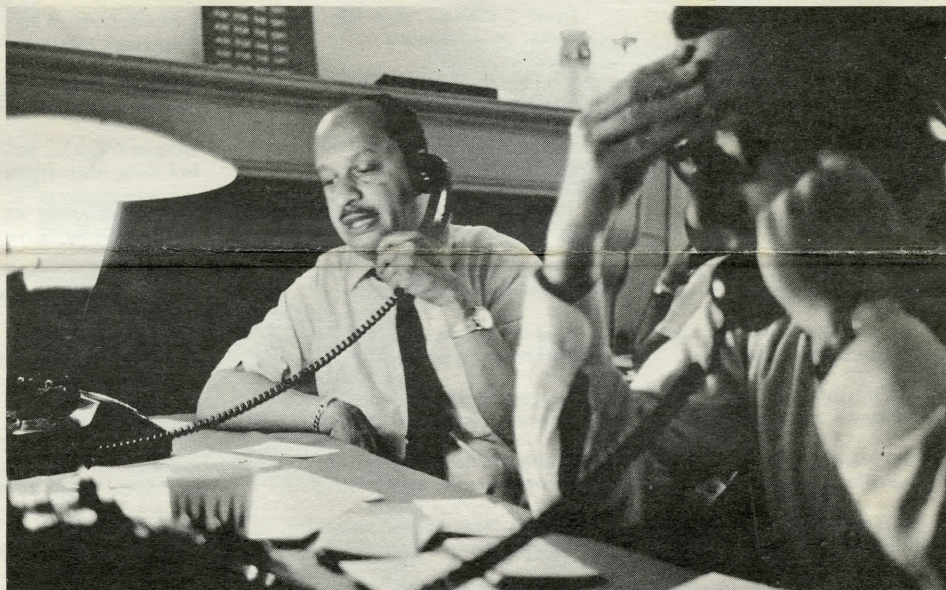

The new library, named for BUSM alumni, is in full operation. The movers completed their work, appropriately enough, during National Library Week.

Many Medical School alumni visited the facilities during Dedication Day for the Instructional Building, of which the Library takes up three floors. Other alumni toured the new quarters during the meeting of the Massachusetts Medical Society and all are welcome at any time.

Dean Franklin G. Ebaugh, Jr., M.D., instrumental in the construction of the BUSM Alumni Medical Library, considers the campaign among graduates for funds his top priority in his last days at B.U. School of Medicine. He recently wrote alumni encouraging each to "contribute to the library what your circumstances permit".

The dean begins duties at the University of Utah in July.

VOLUNTEER ALUMNI MAN TELEPHONES AS LIBRARY CAMPAIGN CONTINUES

Dr. Charles D. Bonner, Past President, BUSM Alumni Association, '44, left, and Dr. Herbert I. Posin, Massachusetts Chairman, Alumni Medical Library Campaign, were among several area School of Medicine graduates who gave up an evening or more to call fellow alumni within the state. About $7,000 was raised the first evening, as News Capsules went to press. According to Dr. Posin, BUSM graduates are planning to call on three other nights.

Several BUSM graduates took part in telethons early in June to reach alumni not otherwise contacted in the Alumni Medical Library Campaign.

This telephone call technique was used in Massachusetts and other areas.

Volunteer BUSM alumni called Massachusetts area School of Medicine graduates from the Castle on Bay State Road, formerly the home of BU presidents. At press time, it was too early to report complete results; but about $7,000 in pledges was recorded the first night. Participants were enthused with the results.

Callers contacted fellow alumni primarily by class.

Co-Chairmen Peter L. Sapienza, M.D., '43A, and Andrew D. Elia, M.D., '35, along with Massachusetts State Chairman Herbert I. Posin, M.D., '45, expressed their appreciation to volunteers and for alumni response.

YOU'VE ALMOST GOT TO SEE IT
TO BELIEVE IT

So many physicians have said to us, "If only every BUSM alumnus could see the new library in all its splendor for himself, he'd be sure to dig deeper and give more."

Come and see, and give as generously as your means permit.

You can take your colleague's word, "It's well worth (your) support."

The Alumni Medical Library Campaign is a cooperative effort of the BUSM Alumni Association, graduates, alumni secretary and development office staffs.

"He that gives quickly gives twice."

Faith In The Library

The federal government showed faith in the Alumni Medical Library with a U. S. Public Health Service grant of $1,018,000. Gifts from foundations, friends, faculty and alumni have reduced indebtedness to its present level.

Drs. Andrew D. Elia and Peter L. Sapienza, Alumni Medical Library Campaign Co-Chairmen, encourage BUSM graduates to "rise and meet the challenge and the alumni goal of $300,000" needed to complete payments.

They are confident this objective will be reached, and expressed their appreciation again to the many alumni who have already contributed.

"Your kind help will be appreciated for years to come, and the Library facilities will be continuing evidence of your interest and support," they declared.

Class Gift To Library

The 25-year class (BUSM '44) has $9,000 toward its goal of $10,000 for the Alumni Medical Library, according to Dr. Charles D. Bonner, who is heading the drive for these funds.

Temporary poster board plaque erected in the new library at dedication time in recognition of the naming of the alumni. An appropriate and permanent plaque will be placed in the facilities.

Editor's Note: Although this list was checked carefully, we realize the possibility of error. We hope we haven't omitted any names, and we apologize if we have.

"If a man is willing to give, the value of his gift is in its proportion to what he has, not to what he has not".
