WRITING 2013 SYMPOSIUM

13th to 18th July 2013
At St. Aidan's College,
Durham University, UK

From the Symposium Team:

Our next Symposium, July 13th-18th 2013, will be held in Durham, marking the visit of the Lindisfarne Gospels to the city that summer. Our format will follow that of a calligraphy retreat, meaning we will have plenty of space and time for refreshment and recreation. Classes will be mornings only and in the afternoon participants can continue to work on their own in the calligraphy studio or join one of the optional trips that are planned to Sunderland and to Lindisfarne. An evening calligraphy event is planned in the Cathedral during our stay.

Dr Manny Ling & Prof. Ewan Clayton

WORKSHOPS

Ewan
CLAYTON

Ewan Clayton: The scripts of the Lindisfarne Gospels

The half uncial script of the Gospel book, and its headings, form one of the most original gifts to calligraphy from seventh century Britain. We take time to study and write under their inspiration.

Susan
MOOR

Susan Moor: The Descriptive Line

In this course we will explore using a pen for writing, lettering and drawing. We will look at Durham's Anglo Saxon manuscripts, taking them and other later artists and letterers as a starting point.

DANIEL 3:2-3

Ann
HECHLE

Ann Hechle: An introduction to the philosophy of Number and Sacred Geometry

We will start by examining the ground-plan of Durham Cathedral, and see how a symbolic Number - unfolded through geometry - can shape an entire building. Numbers, and their associated meanings are still alive and well; we encounter them - and subconsciously their deeper meanings - every day. We will explore then just the first 6 numbers, make drawings, and see how they flow into geometry, and into dozens of ideas.
