Serving and living sustainably

In addition to iFOCUS, another 60 new students kicked off their Linfield College experiences a week early by taking part in two other pre-orientation programs. First CLAS was a service-learning and leadership program, and the SOIL Project taught students what it means to live sustainably at Linfield and in the McMinnville community. All three programs gave students the opportunity to work with Linfield College faculty and student mentors, connect with fellow participants and settle into campus life before classes began.
