Dedication

Devotion and understanding are the keys to success. This helps to explain why he has been so successful in his endeavors to develop us as men. Through his guidance and undaunted efforts we have arrived at our destination, but his job is not yet finished. His many talents are needed by the new and inexperienced members of our society, so that they too may follow us into the world which lies outside the confines of the glass doors. He has devoted much of his time aiding and counseling the students, and in advising our ruling body, the Senate. He has done a great deal for our improvement and that of the college. Through his efforts we have obtained many advantages that are not found in other colleges. He has also ruled us with his firm but friendly hand. He has liberated us from some of our unfortunate experiences and has made discipline a means by which we can improve. Through all this he has been able to maintain the highest respect of the student body. He has also maintained his most human and religious qualities. Truly, he is a man whom we are most fortunate to have in our midst. For these and so many other reasons, the graduating class of 1966 is proud and honored to dedicate this yearbook to Mr. William A. Sutton, Director of Students Affairs.

Members of the Class of 1966:

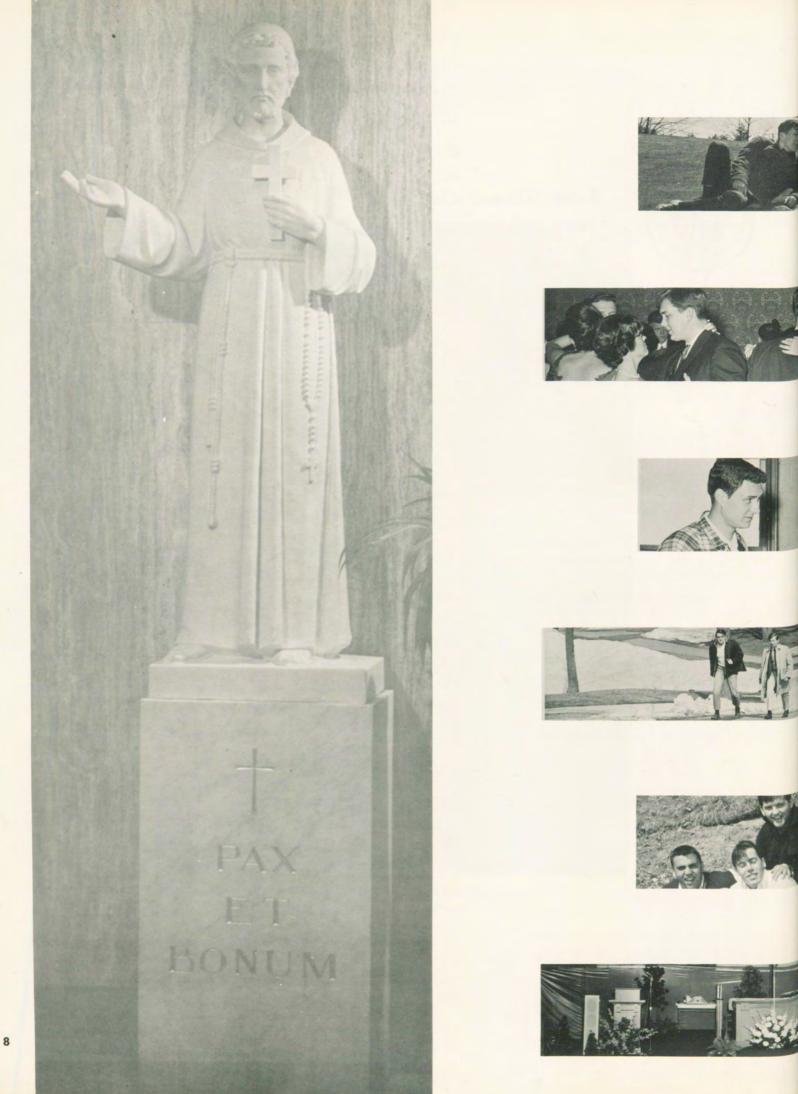

I heartily commend those who have contributed to this attractive yearbook which captures persons and highlights of your college days. In the years to come, as you go through Motus '66, you will relive in memory the stories told on these pages with excellent photography and appropriate captions. You will then better evaluate and appreciate what college actually meant to you, how important and long-lasting were the associations made here.

You leave Saint Francis with our sincerest congratulations and our good wishes for success and happiness in your careers. We see you in this world of Christian renewal as intelligent and active witnesses to the Truth so desperately sought by millions of humans. May your contribution, thanks to your college education, bring the light and comfort of Christ to those who have the right to expect it of you.

Sincerely,

It is the privilege of the underclassmen to carry on the traditions of Saint Francis College. These traditions have been inherited by the underclassmen, and it is their duty to uphold them as their predecessors have done. You, the underclassmen, are going to be the leaders who will be responsible for the image that this college is to have. In your hands are the muscles and in your minds are the intellects that will make this college something other than a mere edifice, other than a mere name on a corner stone. You, along with your predecessors, who have departed, will make this college a place that we can respectably call our Alma Mater. Through your undaunted efforts Saint Francis College will be something other than a name of a college, it will be the name of a particular and great college. The foundation has been laid, and now it is your turn to build.

Junior class members, who will fill the abyss left by graduation, on your shoulders will be placed the privilege of leadership. It is you who will head the Senate; it is you who will be the leaders of the many organizations; and it is you who will carry the baton of tradition to the next class. You have had a panorama of this school's growth and have witnessed the many internal changes that have taken place. You have been witnesses to mistakes as well as to many victories. Learn by these mistakes and add to the victories. This task is not insurmountable; use your experience and your well-trained minds.

Upon you, the Sophomores, who have seen the metamorphosis of this college and will foresee and help to accomplish a further development, yes, upon you lie the duties of enforcement. You are the controlling elements of the hierarchy. You must condone what is done and you are to oppose what is against the will of the student body. You are also the leaders of those who have newly joined our ranks. You are to guide them on the path to success. They have placed their feet on the threshold; you are to be sure they enter the room of wisdom. You also have to look forward to the destiny which awaits you, that of leaders of the student body. Learn from the experience you gain until that time.

To the Freshmen, the new members of our ranks, we say: "the future awaits you." You are today's followers and tomorrow's leaders. You will be searching for identity and knowledge. You will find your models in the upper ranks of our college society. Much of what you see around you is taken for granted. You have complaints, but it is up to you to rectify what is wrong and support what is right. You too will be in line to receive the baton; carry it with pride and conviction.

It is our present Seniors and their predecessors that we should thank for the effort and devotion that they have shown. Without them we would be in dire straights. They have carried the baton of tradition with honor and have given the school a quality which cannot be expressed. To them we wish the best in the future and hope that they will remember those who carry the heritage they gave. The Seniors must now face the world outside the protecting doors of Saint Francis. ## Homecoming Weekend

Committee responsible for the huge success

Homecoming Weekend, October 12, 13, 14, brought over 1,200 parents, alumni and friends to the St. Francis College Campus. Paralleling the growth and change of our college, it was appropriate that the previous title of Parents Weekend be changed to Homecoming Weekend. This first annual Homecoming Weekend was well co-ordinated and overwhelmingly received by those in attendance. Praise and congratulations must be extended to chairman James Norwood, and his two competent co-chairmen, Robert Occhialini and Peter Call, all of the class of '66.

Most of the participants of the weekend arrived Friday and were entertained by a variety show brilliantly organized by Al Cormier and Tom Cardwell. All four classes lifted the proverbial bushel and shed to a somewhat surprised audience their hidden talents. The program ranged from a song and dance routine presented by the freshman class, to an uproarious composition written and sung by Father Matthew. The success of the first highlight of the weekend was just a sampling of Saturday's activities.

After Neptune played host at the weekend's Down East dinner, all went out to cheer for our victorious S.F.C. soccer team. After the team had successfully defeated arch-rival Nasson College, the second annual Senior Cocktail Party was held. The party was planned by Alan Mariani, Senior Class Chairman, and Robert Freeman, Senior Representative and Bacchus payed his visit to all.

The colorfully decorated Saco Armory was the scene of Saturday evening's Ball, which featured the Ted Herbert Orchestra. On Sunday morning the weekend was terminated by an outside Mass celebrated by the College President, Very Reverend Clarence LaPlante, O.F.M.

It is our hope that the underclassmen will continue to uphold this fine tradition that has been established on our campus.

Winter Week-end

Some one hundred couples thoroughly enjoyed the powerful outlook, tone and action of Winter Week-end.

Co-chairmen James McGrath and Frank Romeo deserve loads of credit for planning masterfully the festivities, which carried through from the 13th to the 15th of January.

As a lead-off menu, on Friday evening at the Sheraton-Eastland Hotel Ball Room in Portland, the couples danced to their heart's content till mid-night, begging for more tunes, and melody, offered by the Les Smith Orchestra from Boston.

A most pleasant surprise momentarily stunned co-chairman Frank Romeo, when his date, Brenda Fesiak, of New Britain, Conn., took scoring honors and became "our Winter Week-End '66 Queen" at St. Francis.

"Fantastically Hilarious" seems to be the only fair description given to the Saturday afternoon hours spent with Dick Doherty, Boston entertainer, who reached us in a most personable way, drawing the crowd easily to and from opposing moods and inspirations. Entertainer in the finest sense of the word, Dick sang, and joked relentlessly, gaining every single moment the attention and love of his audience.

The SFC A-Go-Go spirit didn't let the tempo slow down, on Saturday evening, when the "G-Clefs" highlighted the action, shined brilliantly as rock-and-roll entertainers, singing many of their old hits and many of the ever irresistible popular numbers of the day.

Sunday, after the Noon Mass and the brunch, the dates started to leave campus — and it all brought to a close a weekend of success, which will be difficult to match in the years ahead.

Spring Week-end

Week-end Committee

Spring Week-end at St. Francis College is always a welcomed and look-forward-to event. This year's week-end proved to be no exception. Spirits were high, and with good reason, for under the able bodied leadership of James O'Brien and Thomas Coughlin the week-end promised to be the best ever, and to those who attended, it most certainly was.

The week-end was kicked off Friday night with a rock and roll party highlighting the famous "Drifters." A usually slow playing group, they fooled everyone by turning out a rare rendition of James Brown. Saturday's events all hung in the balance of fair weather and for once luck was with us. Beautiful sunny skies welcomed the fun-filled day.

It was everyone to the beach, where music and sun mixed well. The "Lightings" from Connecticut kept spirits high with their fast playing tempo, and once more Dick Doherty, The Improper Bostonian, returned to St. Francis College. He was good Winter Week-end but Spring Week-end he was unbelievable . . . everybody came away howling. The way was capped off with a ball at the Sheraton-Eastland Hotel, music being provided by Eddie Kaye and his orchestra.

Sunday morning, after a late mass, brunch was provided for all. The week-end events are over, but we're sure they'll not be forgotten. Our thanks to the week-end committee for a job well done.

Dick Doherty does it again.

The Drifters work out.

Organizations

"Life is made up of marble and mud."

Student Senate

The welfare of the student body is of prime concern to the Student Senate, and it is through this organization that the student body's wishes are expressed to the Administration. The Senate also acts as a centralization agency for records concerning all the clubs under its auspices. The clubs under the Senate are responsible to it and their existence depends upon the acceptance of a club constitution.

The Senate presides over social activities and coordinates them all. In these functions the Senate induces the gentlementy behavior of the student body and unifies the activities of an organization.

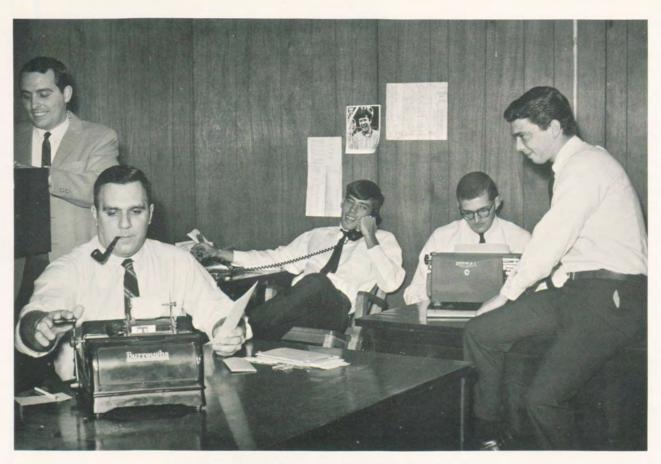

Within the ranks of the Senate are found two elected members of each class. In this way the Senate receives a panoramic view of the ideas that circulate around the campus. Under the watchful eye of Mr. Sutton, the Senate moderator, and Terry Pellegrini, the President, these ideas are condensed and presented to the Administration.

This year the Senate has been revived after a brief period of inactivity. It has been striving for the improvement of the student body with activities such as an Academic Grievance Committee and a Student Fund Raising Campaign. The Senate also sponsors dances and aids in the promotion of the activities of other clubs.

It is our hope that the Senate will continue to progress in its strivings for student improvement and unity. The progress will depend upon the support of the student body and it will be their responsibility to elect successors who will be competent and who will promote the general welfare of the college.

Cultural Affairs Committee

The Cultural Affairs Committee was formed in 1957 under the Student Senate. The Committee has as its purpose the fostering of a greater cultural atmosphere on campus as well as in the college community. This purpose is achieved by presenting activities such as concerts, speakers, films, art exhibits, and the like.

This year, with Miss Smith as moderator, and James Pierce as chairman, the Committee presented Bob Kennedy of WBZ in Boston. His "Intellectual Smorgasbord" was but one example of the aims and successes which have made this committee an outstanding asset to the college.

N.F.C.C.S. Representatives

Representing over 100,000 Catholic college students on 125 campuses in the United States, the National Federation of Catholic College Students plays a major role in the campus activities of St. Francis College.

Acting as a centralizing agency, the N.F.C.C.S. focuses its attention on problems which face the college communities. It also enlightens its members as to what is occurring on other college campuses. The problems of the world are brought to the attention of the student through panel discussions, guest speakers, and films.

Every student of the participating Catholic college is a member of this organization. These students gain valuable experience and insight into the reality of life, and thus become attuned to a well-rounded education.

Senior delegate Paul Bartlewski and junior delegate Thomas Cardwell have done an admirable job in bringing the student in closer contact with the world which awaits him upon graduation. It is our hope that the N.F.C.C.S. will continue in this endeavor and meet with great success.

National Federation of Catholic College Students Committee.

Glee Club

Many poets have depicted music as being the vehicle of the creation of the world. Through this vehicle, the Glee Club has created its own world, a world of enjoyment and stimulation. From the various numbers in the club's repertoire, the listener is transformed from the awe and spirituality of the slow religious music to the brawny and spirited mood produced by the fast tempoed secular numbers. Under the capable leadership of Al Cormier and the competent directorship of Mr. Lawrence Davis, the club has emancipated the musical art from the boundaries which circumscribed it for many years.

The Glee Club has extended this world of music from Maine to New York. The choral group has enthralled many audiences with their talents and new arrangements of songs. This excellence has been achieved by hard and unceasing practice and untiring patience. It is our hope that the club will continue to spread their world to all parts of the country and that their hard work will be carried on by their successors.

This year the club has brought enjoyment to the students and residents of Biddeford when they performed a highly successful joint Christmas concert with Joseph Lawrence School of Nursing from New London, Conn. The group also traveled to Burlington, Vt. for a joint concert with Trinity College, and hosted the Cardinal Cushing Glee Club in a joint concert on the St. Francis College Campus.

Radio Station WWAS

Radio Station WWAS, sponsored by the Student Senate of Saint Francis College, provides the student body with educational and recreational radio programming, and offers practical experience in the various fields of radio broadcasting to those students equally qualified in effort, attitude, and ability. Under the direction of Mr. Paul Nadeau and Station Manager Thomas Moriarty, the station, a member of the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System, operates in accordance with Federal Communications Rules and Regulations on the assigned frequency of 600 kilocycles.

Well balanced programs, consisting of popular, classical, jazz, and folk music, as well as news and commentaries, are transmitted by means of a closed circuit carrier current operation, which serves all property and buildings associated with college life.

Endeavoring to supplement and assist the college in presenting a well-rounded educational environment, Radio Station WWAS has given all faculty members, clubs, and organizations the opportunity to take part in its programming.

The Canticle

The Canticle is the official literary magazine on the campus of St. Francis College. One of the oldest and most dependable organizations, it is also one of the most popular. The best creative products of the student body are issued in this publication. Poems, stories, essays, reviews, drawings, and even photographs appear regularly.

This year, under the direction of the editor, Gaetano J. Santa Lucia, and with much help and advice from the moderator, Mr. Hugh Hennedy, the editorial board was considerably expanded and the format of the magazine was changed, enlarged, and improved. The issues were carefully arranged and balanced with highly satisfactory results.

We hope, in the future, the publications will follow the example of this year's Canticle with its improvements and innovations. Success will be assured.

We of the Motus staff sincerely hope that we have given you, the students, and especially the outgoing senior class, a lasting remembrance which will be referred to often in the years to come. It is your yearbook written for you and particularly about you, and we hope you will enjoy it as much as we have enjoyed making it for you.

We of the editorial board extend our gratitude to all those who have worked with us in making Motus '66 what it is. Although all these names are not listed, we assure you that the contributors are not forgotten.

The Sepian

One of the most fundamental of student communication devices on campus is the college newspaper. Through this medium the student body is informed about the activities on campus and the day to day problems which pertain to the college.

Mr. Smith and Robert Feraco, moderator and editor respectively, have endeavored to publish a paper which is not merely informative, but of extreme interest to the student body collectively. In spite of many difficulties, the Sepian has produced some very worthwhile editions.

The editors and staff are to be congratulated upon their excellent performance, and it is our sincere hope that the Sepian will continue to produce many more successful and controversial issues.

Knights of Columbus

At the end of the first semester, the Knights of Columbus, St. Francis College Council 5526, elected a new Grand Knight, Thomas Moriarty. Under his leadership, the council held a rejuvenation banquet. The purpose was to bring back old members and to acquaint the new with the social and spiritual atmosphere of the Knights.

Following this successful project, the council conducted a district communion breakfast including the entire York County area to celebrate its second anniversary, on March 20, 1966. A panel discussion on the Playboy Philosophy, an Easter egg hunt for the underpriviledged children in the area, are but a few of the many activities that the Knights of Columbus held this past year.

With its membership increasing to over 125, a constant desire to spread its ideals as a Catholic Fraternal organization continues to grow also.

Metropolitan Club

The "Met" Club

The "Met" Club of St. Francis College is an organization open to all students living in New York or New Jersey within a fifty mile radius of the City of New York. The purpose of the club is to provide social activities for its members, whether here at school or while at home.

Under the guidance of its President, James Hayes, the "Met" Club has worked hard and successfully to fulfill its goals. The highlight of the year was a dance held for all members over the Christmas Vacation in New York City.

The Ski Club

Dr. Franz Nowotny and Ronald Ryan

A college freshman from southern New England anticipates joining the college's ski club. He has heard stories about the abundant snowfalls and hills of Maine. However, the college's location is not in the heart of the mountainous terrains, and travelling becomes a necessity to get to the slopes.

The Ski Club of St. Francis College was organized primarily to provide a means of transportation for its members. This year the Ski Club, under the direction of the president, Ronald Ryan, and its moderator, Dr. Franz Nowotny, has undergone several major improvements in its organizational structure.

The Ski Club provides its members with such activities as weekly trips to Mt. Agamenticus, various lectures on skiing by professional authorities, and movies, attempting to educate and entertain the general student body on the "American Technique."

The Ski Club has not competed, as of yet, with other schools and colleges. However, with the recent display of enthusiasm shown by the members and officers, the dreams of establishing an intercollegiate ski team do not appear to be more than a slope away.

Varsity Club

Recognition of outstanding ability acts as an incentive. Many, for that reason, keep improving their attitude and play. The Varsity Club provides outstanding recognition to those students who excel in the field of athletics. By earning a varsity letter while competing in a varsity sport a student is entitled to the rights and benefits of the organization. Such a program instills in the student body a healthy enthusiasm for the major sporting events on and off campus.

Social activities for the entire student body were also sponsored by the club. James McGrath and Mr. Young coordinated during the year an improved scheduling of planned action and influence.

History Club

It is upon the past and present that the future depends. By knowing what has occurred in the past and what is occurring at the present, the future can be more readily anticipated. The History Club explores the past and present through discussions, movies, guest speakers and archaeological survey in the region of the college. Through these activities the members have gained valuable knowledge of the past history of Maine. The discussions provide an outlet for the expression of individual ideas which concern the student.

The History Club does not limit itself to the confines of the academic world; it also sponsors various social activities that are opened to the entire student body. Some of these activities are aimed at creating an interest in the club, while others are solely aimed at providing recreation and relaxation.

Being one of the oldest organizations on campus, the club has earned the reputation of a hard working unit. With the combined efforts of president Tom Coughlin, and moderators Dr. Downs and Mr. Warner, the club is looking forward to a successful future.

The History Club of St. Francis College

Economica

Future economists in the making.

The Economics Club of the college is a discussion group that deals with the theories and problems of current Economics. Though eligibility for membership is open to those interested in Economics, and who have reached their sophomore year at St. Francis, it is urged that membership be composed of students majoring or minoring in this field. The purpose of this is to enable the organization to bring class problems and controversies into the light of open discussion.

James Norwood is the president of the club, while Dr. Nowotny is its moderator.

Biotica

Biotica Club Officers and Moderator

The "one that didn't get away."

The biology student's needs range far beyond the time allocated to him in the class-room. The various aspects of science may appear to be somewhat ambiguous and, hence, formal and informal discussions arise which give way to the student's desire to learn more of the amoeba world.

The Biotica extends its membership to those interested in the sciences, and more particularly, those interested in a career of medicine. Under the capable auspices of Dr. Aldrich, moderator, Dr. Simpson, assistant, Robert Freeman, president, the club has attempted to carry the scientific-minded members into the complex and diversified world of the microscope and test tube.

Lectures and movies aid the student, indeed, by demonstrating to him the most recent discoveries witnessed in the majestic realm of science.

May the officers and members of Biotica continue along, on the path of success, as they know it to be.

Club Symposium

Webster defines a symposium as "a conference at which a particular subject is discussed and opinions gathered." The bi-weekly meetings of the oldest organization at St. Francis College are dedicated to this very idea. Under the direction of Edward Moreno, the president, and its moderator, Fr. Lucian Kemble, OFM, the Club Symposium explores topics of vital concern in the field of human ideas and true knowledge.

Strict attendance at meetings is not the only requirement for continued membership; a ruling additionally obliges each carefully selected member to present each year one formal paper for discussion before the entire group.

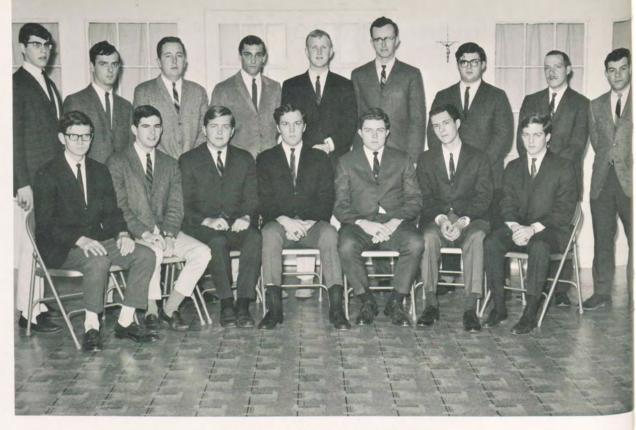

before the entire group.

The criteria for membership in this elite group are high, but the benefits to be derived by each member's efforts are far greater.

Club Symposium Officers and Moderator.

Public Relations Committee

Student Public Relations Committee

In '65 the Student Public Relations Committee, sponsored by the Senate, set out to attain a goal of unified strength and action, joining the Administrative Public Relations Committee in efforts to promote the good name, functions and growth of the college. No other than a Patrick Mullen could spearhead the drive, iron out the objectives, and chart the course.

Among the many activities the committee deemed worthy to initiate, the decision was adopted to publish in the local newspaper a weekly column, which would portray to the civic community student insights, reflections, events and programs. Such a project pleased the Biddeford-Saco Journal editor. It supposes, of course, steady student cooperation, but it surely can be a successful medium to establish better relations between the students, the administration, and the people in the community.

Committee heads join in charting course.

When, for instance, prospective students come to the college with their parents, for qualification tests, the committee members give of their time and personality, as competent guides, to conduct a most creditable program of tours and entertainment for our visitors to the college.

The people must become better informed, and undoubtedly the public will always enjoy it somewhat more when they hear it relayed and expressed by the students themselves.

The Motus Staff hopes that this student Public Relations Committee will keep reaching the community around us. Observing eyes are upon us, and it's good and wholesome that people learn more about our social, academic and psychological student world.

Connecticut Club

The "Conn. Club" is perhaps the first and most successful State club at S.F.C. The campus catalyzes a friendship among students from a particular area, and it is the function of a regional club to coordinate the social activities of this group during the major vacation periods.

Under the leadership of Frank Romeo, the club has seen an increase in activities after a decline of the previous year.

Minor Social Activities Committee

The Minor Social Activities Committee functions on campus within the very framework of the Student Senate. The committee stands responsible for all dances, movies, speeches, etc., that are sponsored by the various clubs and organizations.

Faithful to its main reason for existing, the committee coordinates and organizes all minor social functions that take place on campus and concern the social aspects of college activity in general. A club or organization receives the privilege to sponsor a dance or function in the light of worthwhile attempts to benefit the college. The committee's goal touches upon the successful planning of a sufficient social calendar through every semester of college life.

Under the co-chairmanship this year of John DeChristoforo and Joseph Gahagan, the committee strove to promote successful and harmonious relationships with neighboring colleges, structuring its social calendar in conjunction with these schools in the hope of preventing social dilemmas and in the hope, consequently, of encouraging well attended and well performed college functions.

L'Academie Française

L'Academie Francaise Officers, Moderator & Club Members.

L'Academie Francaise has been recently revived, after a period of hibernation. Due to this fact, the club has spent much of its time in the highly complex operation of reorganizational efforts.

Clem Baillargeon, its president, has assumed the responsibility of reconstructing the club into a coherent whole that will create an interest in the many aspects of the French civilization and culture. This he has done marvelously through the use of films and records concerning the treasured productions of the French.

Mr. Parenteau on the college staff served well as Advisor to the club and added true significance to the activities of the group.

The future of L'Academie Française depends strongly upon student reaction to its potential benefits. Talent exists and will help to improve the club in its commendable efforts to effect a steady climb in power and action on campus.

Gun Club

The Gun Club experts and their weapons.

As a college grows and expands, so should the extra-curricular activities. The Gun Club is an example of this extra-curricular growth.

Since the college is located near the hunting areas of Maine, is was apparent that an organized body be in full control of the use of firearms on campus.

The Gun Club also promotes firearm safety and stresses the need for a centralization of action, power and control in this regard. With these goals in mind, the club is striving to demonstrate the joys of safe and careful hunting.

The Motus hopes that the Gun Club will succeed in all its worthwhile efforts and will continue to expand. Good hunting.

German Club

German Club Officers and Members.

The German Club provides an opportunity for the students of German to become more familiar with the language, with the treasured assets of German culture. In its efforts to accomplish this aim, the club has employed films and speakers, as well as discussions, to stir interest and participation.

Dr. Rosenau's past contact with Germany has strongly enabled her, as Moderator of the club, to enlighten the members with facts about that country, facts that are outstanding in their local touch and cannot be easily procured from reading materials. With her assistance, the fortunate members obtained a clear insight into German cultural aspects, an insight which could not have been gained simply through classroom activity.

Soccer

The Team.

The "golden toes" of St. Francis College's soccer team, under the guidance of second year coach Mr. Bruce Young, completed its 1965 season with an impressive 6 wins, 4 losses and 1 tie campaign. Although the team was unable to retain the title of Northern Division Champions of the Colonial Inter-Collegiate Soccer League, their performance on the field raised havoc with the other league teams, especially Gordon College, this year's title champs.

Co-captain Frank Romeo, '66, led the team in scoring with his "golden toe" for the fourth year in a row. Frank was responsible for 9 of the team's 19 goals. His four year performance on the soccer field yielded honors to the school, to the team and to Frank himself. He was chosen to the all-conference first team in 1963 and 1964 and this year received an honorable mention at the center forward position. Frank's spirit and scoring ability will long be remembered here at St. Francis College and has served as an inspiration to all those who aspire to greatness on the S.F.C. soccer field.

Senior Charlie Welch added great depth to the team with his superlative performance and spirit. Charlie's fine athletic ability was rewarded by his being chosen to the all-conference first team fullback position. Along with this outstanding tribute he was also voted by his fellow teammates as the Most Valuable Player in 1965.

A fine tribute also goes out to co-captain Terry Pellegrini, Joe Austin, goalie Joe Anderson, Tony Trainor, Bob Freeman and to all the seniors and underclassmen who brought home a winning season.

The future of the soccer team looks extremely bright. The freshmen, sophomores and juniors exhibit some impressive prospects in Chip Deming, Lary Levy, Dave Dumont, winner of the Most Improved Player Award, and junior stars Tom Brazier, Jim Venditto, and John DeChristoforo. If they develop their potential, under the able and erudite coaching of Mr. Young, they will bring many championships to S.F.C.

Basketball

The 1965-66 "Red Knight Hoopsters" climaxed the first winning season in five years by clinching second place in the newly formed Naismith Inter-Collegiate Conference.

The season was marked by persistent injuries to the team members; however, the strong depth of the Red Knight bench overshadowed the seriousness of the injuries with fine, winning exhibitions of championship basketball. At one point in the season, Coach Beaudry found himself with five injured starters, but Ron Berube, Raymond Lopez, and Tom Brazier carried the loss of these starters and brought home victory.

Co-captains Jim McGrath '66 and Ed Gagnon '67, repeatedly turned in consistently fine performances. Sophomore Bob Morgenthaler led the team in scoring with 251 points, while Freshman Ralph Chabert, hailing from Waterbury, Conn., hauled down 154 rebounds.

Ezzio Partesano's outstanding performance at the guard spot, was aptly rewarded when he was chosen Most Valuable Player by his fellow teammates. Sophomore Alan Mooney's outstanding rebound and defense work improved rapidly throughout the season and earned him the Most Improved Player award. Ed Gagnon brought home a distinguished honor to S.F.C. when he was named to the Naismith All Conference Academic First Team.

Freshmen E. J. Harty and Ralph Chabert enhanced the prospect of consistently winning seasons, through their excellent sportsmanship and basketball ability. Although the knights are losing co-captain Jim McGrath through graduation, the future looks extremely bright. All eyes will be on the Red Knight Hoopsters who are expected to be definite title contenders next season.

Baseball

Team and mascot

If anyone says that it is necessary for a coach to have tenure before he is able to have a winning season, let him be silenced. Coach Bruce "the Dynamo" Young, after only one year of experience as a baseball coach, directed the Knights to the most successful season in the history of S.F.C. sports.

Young's attack centered around the strong and capable arms of pitchers Mike Donahue '66, Bill Reilly '68, and Jim Maguire '69. Senior Donahue led the onslaught with 4 victories and no defeats, while Jim Maguire compiled a 4 & 2 record and sophomore Texan Bill Reilly a 3 & 1 performance. In addition to Bill's pitching ability, it was delightful to see him help his own cause with clutch base hits and RBI's. Many opposing pitchers would attest to the fact that the Big Red's power at the plate was the reason for their early showers.

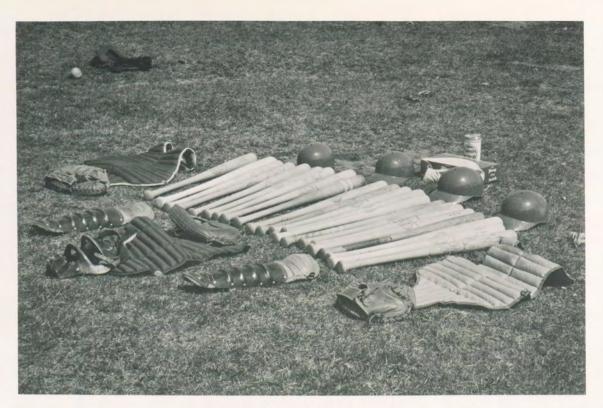

Lefty Ron Berube '67 led the team with an amazing 395 batting average. Ron collected 19 hits and shared the honors for the most hits in the '66 season with catcher Jim Rupkey. Junior Tom Brazier and senior Jim McGrath followed closely behind Berube with 393 and 390 averages. Jim McGrath, the Bangor, Maine sensation, turned in an excellent all-around performance. When S.F.C.

needed the long ball, he delivered . . . and when a key defensive play would stop an opponent's rally, Jim obliged also.

Jim Rupkey '67, a Warwick, R.I. star, the number one defensive catcher in the State, added much inspiration and drive to the team. As the general on the field, "Rup" kept things going with a high degree of spirit even when the chips were down, although that situation did not occur often this year. He and Jim McGrath ignited a driving spark of life in the Knights all season long.

Artie Bowler, senior second sacker from Long Island, N.Y., thrilled many fans with his crowd-pleasing base running and fantastic defensive play.

Coach Young's dedication and inspiration to the baseball team and to the sports he has coached on campus, has brought the college consistently winning teams during his two years at St. Francis. The finest tribute a team can pay its coach is a sports season of hard work and wins. It is evident from his coaching ability that many teams in the future will continue to pay this tribute to Mr. Bruce Young. We are confident that he will continue the rich sports tradition that he has gloriously started in our midst.

Tennis

The "Red Knights" of the court compiled an impressive four wins, six losses-season, behind the efficient coaching of Mr. Hugh Hennedy. The Knights twice defeated Nasson, our traditional rivals, without any difficulty, behind the superb performances of junior star, Rick Marechal. Rick's ability on the court throughout the entire season has made Mr. Hennedy the envy of rival coaches. In all of the matches this year Rich "Pancho" Marechal brought home victory to S.F.C. Whether he did it in singles matches, or in doubles, with his partner Brian Plaski, Rick put points on the S.F.C. side of the ledger. He compiled 16 points out of a possible 20 points for his season's play and with his senior year approaching the students of S.F.C. will be anxiously rooting him on for a grand slam in tennis. Rick's doubles partner, senior Brian Plaski, hailing from New Jersey, terminated his play at St. Francis College with an impressively victorious season. In seven of the 10 games, Brian was able to bring home victory to S.F.C. as he compiled 12 points out of 20.

Mr. Hennedy's proficient coaching and playing ability was a constant inspiration to all the team members. In view of such inspiration six netmen were able to earn their letters. These netmen include, Rick Marechal, Brian Plaski, Joe Austin, Charles Dodd, Dick Courville and Phil Fagan. Although the team will lose Brian Plaski '66, it is Mr. Hennedy's hope that the underclassmen will be able to step in and bring home a winning season next spring.

Coach Jim Beaudry and the squad which teed off for S.F.C.

The St. Francis College Golf squad, under the able direction of coaches Jim Beaudry and Robert Plowman, undertook a strenuous schedule, which doubled last year's play . . . and yet the squad came up with a winning season. The overall success is naturally due to the fine playing ability of the team members, but credit cannot be denied the coaches who discovered the potential, guided it, and brought it to full bloom.

Sophomore Dick Lovett, a Manchester, Conn. stand-out, played in the number one position, won more than half of his matches, and tied the course record at Dutch Elm against Nasson — he was usually low medalist for St. Francis. Dick, winner of "The Most Valuable Player" award, was voted team captain for next season.

A total team effort responded to Lovett's call, urge and drive. Fine performances were turned in by Freshman Francis "Bud" Danahey — also by Sophomores Jim DeVecchi and Tom Hardy. Outstanding success should await our S.F.C. Golf squad for many years ahead.

Cross Country

S.F.C. HARRIERS

The 1965 version of the St. Francis College cross-country team, under the able leadership of first year coach John MacDonald, former cross country star and the only undefeated harrier in the history of the school, initiated and produced the most successful season in school history.

George Tabor from Rochester, New Hampshire, led the Knights in their four victories by taking first place at New England, Barrington, and S.M.V.T.I. and second at Bryant and third against U.M.P. and Gorham.

Jim Kane, Wes Kenyon, Les Sheldon, Ray Martin, and Henry Houle all ran well and showed much improvement over the season and won varsity letters.

The entire squad provided the necessary spirit for the Knights to emerge as one of the up-and-coming cross-country teams in the small college class throughout New England.

Hockey Club

Winter adorns the rink.

This year, under the renewed direction of Mr. Hugh Dakers, the Hockey Club was given an added impetus through the construction of a regulation-size hockey rink. This rink was the necessary stimulus for the first successful hockey season. The hockey club, a comparatively unknown organization on campus, has this year risen to prominence as a result of its healthy performance on the ice.

Outstanding competitors this season worth citing include Sophomore star Ray Giroux and Junior forward Jim Rupkey. Player-Coach Hugh Dakers turned in his usual invaluable performance in front of the nets.

As an up-and-coming sport on campus, it's our hope and belief that the S.F.C. Hockey Club will rise to considerable heights in the near future.

Player-Coach Dakers and team.

Intramurals

Does such an athletic contest exist on a college campus in which the opponents play as if there were no tomorrow and as if all of life's ultimate tally depended upon victory . . .? Yes, and it seems best illustrated in the intramural leagues here at St. Francis. Whether it be basketball, tennis or softball . . . the intramural competition proves to be fiercely keen, intense, heartless and rugged.

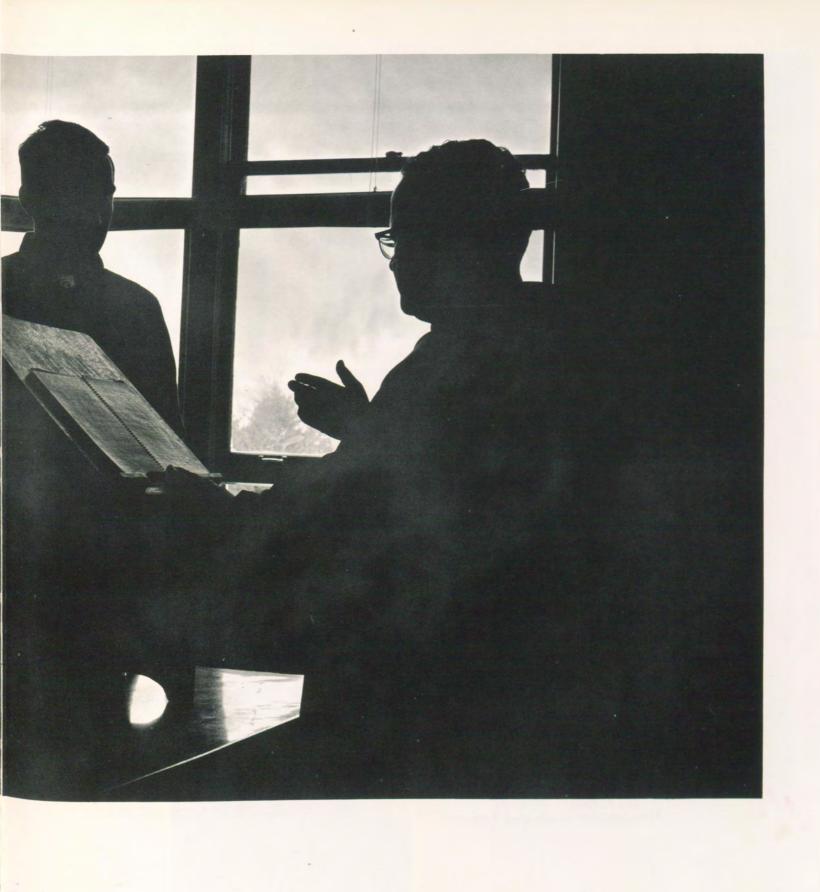

Although quite hazardous at times, the intramurals, however, afford a better number of students the opportunity to play the sport. At any time of the year, without a shadow of a doubt, a burning fever to participate in the intramural program runs high throughout the student body. Teams, organized by classes or by residence halls, battle it out on the field or on the court. A championship in this domain stands out as prominently as a winning season on an intercollegiate basis.
