P R E F A C E .

IN accordance with suggestions made by Members of both Houses, I received instructions from the Library Committee to draw up a List of Additions made to the Library since the Catalogue was printed. My instructions were that it should be a mere list, such as Members asked for, and that the work of the Catalogue should be carried on at the same time as rapidly as possible consistently with this interruption. The barest list—that is, one with abbreviated titles, and omissions of imprint, number of volumes, contents, &c.—might have answered these requirements; but as a fresh issue of the Catalogue (with the work I have done on it since 1883) will soon be an absolute necessity—the last issue being nearly exhausted—it seemed to me more judicious to make this an Author-List, bibliographically complete, and thus fit to be immediately incorporated with the larger work, which otherwise would have been seriously retarded. The shelf numbers have also been given, which renders it a fairly useful finding-list for the present. Moreover, this portion of the Catalogue being in print will relieve the congested state of the Manuscript, which when commenced I fully expected would be in the printer's hands long before this; and being complete in all particulars it will be a very convenient aid in the analysis being carried out in the larger work. In this way it not only supplies the information required by members who wished to have a list of all the publications—books, magazines, newspapers, maps, &c.—added to the Library for the last seven years, but justifies still further the time and money expended on it by being adapted to other purposes, only some of which are here noticed.

There is only one feature in the work to which I venture to draw attention. No book of reference in existence gives the biographical items and full christian names of so many of the following authors. These particulars have been compiled from various sources, some of them private—my own personal knowledge and that of literary friends in many parts of the world.

PARLIAMENTARY LIBRARY.

R U L E S .

From the Minutes of the Joint Library Committee.

1. During Recess the Library shall be open on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on Saturdays and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. During Session the Library will remain open until 10 p.m., or until the close of any sitting of the Houses which may be prolonged after that hour.

2. The books in the Library are divided into books of general reference, and books which may be lent out to Members. The former are not to be removed from the Library, unless they may be required by a Member in the course of debate, or while sitting on Committee. Valuable Illustrated Works, Maps, &c., are not to be removed from the Library.

3. Newspapers shall on no account be taken out of the Library, except for binding purposes, and for reference in the Chambers and Committee Rooms; and no paper shall be removed from its file.

4. The Librarian, or in his absence, the Library Messenger, shall issue volumes to Members, which issue shall be recorded in a book kept for that purpose, and which shall contain the date of the loan and return of the books, and also their condition when returned. The entries of books lent shall be initialled by the Members who borrow them.

5. No Member will be allowed to take more than three volumes at a time—for the reading of which fourteen days will be allowed—but upon a formal application to the Librarian, a renewal of the loan may be made for seven days longer.

6. If any work be kept by a Member a fortnight beyond the time permitted by the preceding Rule, and the ordinary notice has been disregarded, the Librarian shall send a notice, in the name of the Committee, requesting that it be returned without further delay, and if the book is not then returned within a reasonable time it shall be charged to the Member by whom it is so detained.

7. No Quarterly or Monthly Periodical shall be considered within the class of books Members may borrow until they shall have been upon the Library table for one month. Periodicals, when bound up in volumes, may be considered as books to be issued to Members.

8. In the event of a Member applying for a book, which at the time is in use by another Member, a memorandum book shall be kept, in which the name of the required book shall be entered; and the Member making the application shall be the first to obtain the book after its return.

9. Members shall be held responsible for the condition and safe-keeping of volumes standing in their names, and any volume lost or injured must be made good by the Member in whose name it stands.

10. In January of each year, or if the House be then sitting, as soon before or after as is convenient, the Librarian shall take stock of the books in his charge, and report to the Library Committee the condition of the Library, and the number of books lost or defaced during the past year.

11. The Librarian is required to report to the Library Committee any infringement of the foregoing Rules, or any injury to the books.

D. O'DONOVAN,
Librarian.

ANALYTICAL AND CLASSIFIED CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY OF THE PARLIAMENT OF QUEENSLAND.

By D. O'DONOVAN, F.R.S.L., F.R.G.S., &c., &c.

OPINIONS ON THE WORK.

"It stands pre-eminent . . . I am truly amazed at the result."—A. Todd, Esq., LL.D., C.M.G., Parliamentary Librarian of Canada.

"A valuable and extremely interesting volume . . . A record of literary industry, knowledge, and ability . . . far beyond praise."—The late Earl of Carnarvon.

"Executed with great judgment and liberal consideration for the wants of readers."—E. A. Bond, Esq., LL.D., C.B., Principal Librarian of the British Museum.

"A valuable work . . . A great prize as a work of reference."—Lord Rosebery.

"Of its very great usefulness there can be no question whatever. I doubt not that I myself shall find it useful for reference on particular points."—E. W. B. Nicholson, Esq., M.A., Bodleian Librarian, Oxford University.

"Your admirable Catalogue . . . I am engaged upon one for my Library, and the admirable arrangement of yours will be of the greatest assistance to me."—The late Duke of Manchester.

"Some of our own Catalogues might borrow from it advantageously in many important particulars."—Monsieur F. Denis, principal Librarian of the Bibliothèque Ste., Geneviève, Paris.

"Every Librarian will, I am sure, find your elaborate analysis most useful and complete."—George Howard, Esq., Librarian to the House of Commons.

"One stands abashed before such exhaustive research and such prodigal industry . . . It needs only variety of type to make it the most comprehensive and most useful Catalogue in existence."—J. Collier, Esq., M.A., Librarian to the General Assembly, New Zealand.

"Contains an immense amount of information, and is a monument of industry."—Hon. Sir S. W. Griffith, M.A., Q.C., K.C.M.G., Premier of Queensland.

"Does infinite credit to your erudition, your literary ability, and your power of work."—Hon. Sir T. McIlwraith, LL.D., K.C.M.G., Ex-Premier of Queensland.

"'Catalogue' is a very modest designation for such a work."—Right Rev. Dr. Hale, Bishop of Brisbane.

"You must have felt the satisfaction of knowing that you have laid all who are fortunate enough to have access to your work under a deep obligation."—A. W. Robertson, Esq., M.A., Public Librarian, Aberdeen.

"A book of most valuable reference, besides being a Catalogue of a particular Library."—Sir Henry B. Loch, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., late Governor of Victoria.

"It is difficult to imagine any walk of life in which an educated man would not find such a Catalogue a true friend on many an important occasion."—Sir R. T. Rennie, Chief Justice, Shanghai.

"A very satisfactory specimen of the class [of Dictionary Catalogues] was prepared by Mr. D. O'Donovan, the Parliamentary Librarian, Queensland."—From "How to Catalogue a Library" (Lon. 1889), by H. B. Wheatley, Esq., F.S.A., the well-known English bibliographer.

"The Parliamentary Library in Brisbane is one of the best of its size I have ever seen, with a Catalogue which is the model Catalogue of all Catalogues."—From "Travels Abroad" (Lon. 1889), by A. J. Duffield, author of "A New Translation of the Don Quixote," &c.

"Monsieur O'Donovan a habité Paris où il a laissé de nombreux amis. Fixé depuis plusieurs années à Brisbane il a entrepris et mené à bonne fin une œuvre qui lui fait le plus grand honneur. Je veux parler d'un Catalogue raisonné de la bibliothèque du Parlement. Cet ouvrage . . . est un chef d'œuvre de patience et de conscience."—From "En Océanie" (Paris, 1888), by M. E. Cotteau, the eminent French litterateur and traveller.

"A remarkable Catalogue . . . Queensland may well be proud of its contribution to bibliography."—The Bibliographer (London).

"Excellently done."—The Athenæum (London).

"A good example."—The Academy (London).

"Really excellent."—Saturday Review (London).

"Mr. O'Donovan is already known as one of the collaborateurs of the Ami de la Religion, and as having received encomiums for his literary labours from the highest personages in Europe . . . If every Library were furnished with a Catalogue like this what a royal road would be opened for even the least erudite amongst us to the great sources of information which are now discovered only by long and painful research! . . . Of the advancement [of the Australian Colonies] in civilisation and culture this Catalogue is a striking proof."—La Rassegna Italiana (Rome).

"An important analytical Catalogue."—L'Osservatore Romano (Rome).

"A volume which, under the name of a Catalogue, is encyclopædic in its character."—Cork Examiner.

"A striking illustration of the social and intellectual progress which some of the colonies are making."—The Cork Daily Herald.

"Worthy to rank with encyclopædias."—Freeman's Journal (Dublin).

"A feat of brain-work which few men would have the capacity or untiring industry to accomplish, . . . and which does credit to the colony."—Brisbane Courier.

"Invaluable; . . . will render the Parliamentary Library a greater boon than ever to those whose favoured privilege it is to have access to its shelves."—Telegraph (Brisbane).

"Mr. O'Donovan has succeeded in performing a task which would appal most men of ordinary industry. . . Useful not only in the Library for which it was specially written, but will form a most useful reference index of subjects for literary men, wherever their labours may be."—Sydney Morning Herald.

"Mr. O'Donovan is to be complimented and congratulated upon the admirable manner in which he has fulfilled his laborious task."—Melbourne Argus.

"A master-key to the information of which the Library is the store-house."—Australasian (Melbourne).

"It seems about the perfection of scientific indexing."—Hobart Mercury.

"Almost incredible that one man did the work, and at the same time carried on all the work of the Library. . . Has done credit to the colony."—Queensland Evangelical Standard.

"To undertake so heavy and peculiar a task . . . literary discrimination, wide research, an accurate and retentive memory, the synthetic faculty brought to a rare degree of cultivation, and an esprit de méthode of extraordinary development must count among the qualifications required; . . . has placed not only Members of Parliament, but the whole colony under a considerable debt of gratitude."—The Australian (Brisbane).

"An arduous labour, . . . but Mr. O'Donovan has done it justice."—Figaro (Brisbane).

"A performance which all scholars will admit is a triumph of industry and literary genius."—Daily Northern Argus (Rockhampton).

"Mr. O'Donovan has performed his task (one of no ordinary kind and requiring abilities of no ordinary calibre) in a manner beyond all praise."—Queensland Times (Ipswich).

"A splendid compilation."—Toowoomba Chronicle.

"A Catalogue richer in reference on most subjects and more exhaustive of the matter buried away in the books it deals with than any other catalogue of the kind yet published."—Darling Downs Gazette.

"Creditable to the Library, to the colony, and especially to the clever biographer."—Warwick Examiner.

"The ribbon of a C.M.G. would be well bestowed in rewarding so high a literary work done in one of the colonies."—The Daily Observer (Brisbane).

"Mr. O'Donovan is widely known as a scholar and a man of great literary experience. . . He has just completed a work which bids fair to make him famous amongst bibliographers."—Federal Australian (Melbourne).

"The accomplishment of this gigantic work shows forth in a brilliant light the ability of the Librarian."—Nord Australische Zeitung.

Since the Catalogue was printed Mr. O'Donovan has had the honours of several learned societies in Europe conferred upon him—having been elected Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature (England), Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of England, Fellow of the Incorporated Society of Authors (England), Fellow of the Society of Literature, Science, and Art (England), Member of the Society of Arts (England), Member of the Library Association of the United Kingdom, Corresponding Member of the Sociétés de Géographie Commerciale of Paris and Havre, and Honorary Member of the Société d'Anthropologie (France).
