1. UNM'S BOARD OF REGENTS will consider for approval a $75 million bond issue to pay for a number of main campus capital improvements which will improve classroom and lab facilities for both undergraduate and graduate students. The bond would be paid for by increasing student fees. The impact would be approximately $56 more per year for the next four years, with the money going directly to fund projects that will impact students. <http://www.unm.edu/bond.html>

2. THE BOARD OF REGENTS at UNM has approved a series of new budget priorities to Fiscal Year 2005-06 budget that are intended to address priorities discussed during the President's Budget Summit in April. They are scheduled to approve the UNM budget at their June meeting.
