Pauline Williams' New Play To Be Given

U To Have Summer Session

A regular summer session will be conducted next year in conjunction with the third semester which has recently been inaugurated, Dean Nanninga announced yesterday.

The session, which will continue for eight weeks, will be held to accommodate the large number of teachers desiring credit toward a degree or a certificate, and also those students who do not wish to register for the full 16 week third semester.

The opening and closing dates will be approximately the same as before. Last year the summer session was from June 6 to August 1. The session will not be continued with the third semester, but will run parallel to it, Dean Nanninga said.

Thompson Promoted

A former University of New Mexico student, who later became a nationally known collegiate basketball star at Notre Dame, has been promoted to the rank of Captain in the United States Marine Corps, an announcement disclosed today.

From the Naval Operating Base at Kodiak, Alaska, came the word that Robert Frederic Thompson had received his third advancement with the Leathernecks in slightly over a year, bringing him the twin silver bars of a captain.

Captain Thompson was a student here before entering Notre Dame law school in 1937.

A member of Sigma Chi fraternity, he starred in football, basketball, track and tennis with the fighting Irish.

His promotions have come rapidly in the Marine Corps since his enlistment in Denver in February of 1941. He was made a second lieutenant in May of that year, a first lieutenant in May of this year and a captain only this week.

The former New Mexico student's home is in Santa Fe.

Kay To Head Sigma Chi Next Semester

Election of Sigma Chi officers was conducted at the organization's regular weekly meeting November 23. The newly elected officers are: Consul, Horace McKay; Pro-Consul, Kenneth Mount; Annotator, Emmett Royer; Quaesitor, John Logan; Tribune, Earl Fuller; Associate Editor, Gene dos Georges; Magester, John Canon; Historian, James Borland; Kustos, Billy White; House Manager, Joe Beal.

THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to Dean Clauve, Miss Campbell, Mrs. Redman and the "Spurs" organization for their splendid co-operation in helping the Band make its "Gridiron Pageantry" a success during the football season. Many thanks to all who participated.

Sincerely,
W. M. Kunkel
Band Director, and Members of the U. N. M. Band.

Behrendt Returns

Dr. Richard F. Behrendt, of the School of Inter-American Affairs, has returned to the campus after a visit to the Pan-American Institute which was held at Washington College of Education, in Cheney near Spokane, Washington. Dr. Behrendt was a featured speaker during the three day session there. He also addressed various organized groups as well as a radio audience over the Spokane radio.

This institute is the second of its kind to be sponsored in any American college. Dr. Behrendt expressed the opinion that it is one of the best organized and most successful experiments of its kind that he has even participated in. It was particularly gratifying to note the keen interest and consciousness of Inter-American developments manifested by the people of that area. There were many requests by both students and others for the various publications, bibliographies and guides prepared here by the School of Inter-American Affairs.

Dr. Behrendt's "Economic Nationalism in Latin America," the first of the Inter-American Short Papers is now being prepared for circulation in Latin America. The Spanish translation will be undertaken by the Mexican Gustavo Martinez Cabanos, editor of the Revista de Economia. The Portuguese version will be edited under the auspices of the Revista Brasileira de Statistica, the official publication of the National Council of Statistics of Brazil.

War Stamps To Be Sold On Wednesday

Wednesday, December 2, will mark the first of a series of war stamp sales to be conducted on the campus by University women. Booths will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. in the Administration and Student Union buildings according to an announcement by Frances Vidal, chairman of the drives.

Co-eds will also assist with stamp sales in downtown Albuquerque on Saturdays. All students are asked to cooperate in the drives which will be held weekly.

Paleographer Draws Up Map of Ancient Continental Land Area

CINCINNATI, Ohio (ACP)—What's this—three South American continents instead of one? That's what the latest map of South America reveals.

The map, it must be explained, is that of a University of Cincinnati paleographer who, after studies over the past five years, has drawn the first complete picture of the face of South America as it appeared some 250 to 300 million years ago.

The studies and the map are the work of Dr. Kenneth E. Caster, Cincinnati assistant professor of geology and fellow of the graduate school of arts and sciences.

In that Paleozoic era great seas covered South America in the region now marked by the Andean mountains and spread widely across southern Brazil and the Amazon valley, Dr. Caster finds.

Instead of one immense triangular land mass as it is now, South America was then made up of three great land masses separated by wide seas. Dr. Caster's map shows these ancient continental areas extending far into the regions now the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and Caribbean sea.

Dr. Caster also holds that seas covered large areas of South America for hundreds of millions of years and, he believes, the present aspect of the continent came into being only a few tens of thousands of years ago.

Bob Euler Accepted For Marine Training

Robert Clark Euler, junior at the University of New Mexico and president of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, today awaited orders to report to Officers' Candidates class of the U. S. Marine Corps at Quantico, Va.

Euler has taken part in freshman and varsity track and is a member of the Student Senate, and the Inter-Fraternity council.

He will be permitted to complete his college course unless war exigencies demand that he be called sooner.

At Quantico he will receive his commission upon successful completion of a ten weeks' course in military fundamentals. He then will go to Reserve Officers' school for three months of drilling as a platoon commander, after which he will be sent to a specialists' school or assigned to a combat unit.

Barnes Addresses Barbs

Dr. C. K. Barnes will be guest speaker at the last Independent Men meeting of the semester. He will speak on venereal diseases. The meeting will be held in the north meeting room of the Sub.

Pi Lambda Theta To Initiate Pledges

Initiation for eight newly elected members of Pi Lambda Theta, national education honorary for women, will be held December 1. Following initiation the group will be honored at a banquet in the Coronado room of the Alvarado. Dean Douglas Matthews will be guest speaker at the banquet which about forty members are expected to attend.

Candidates for initiation are Reba Rutz, Nell Pearce, Lois Trumble, Phyllis Woods, Juanita Burgess, Vivienne Hernandez, Jennie Jensen and Alice Andrew Tapy.

Dr. Selma E. Herr was recently elected faculty sponsor for the chapter. The fraternity is planning a Christmas party for December 6 at which time members will make toys under the direction of Dr. Herr for distribution to day nurseries and orphanages in the city and state.

Student Senate Meets

Student Senate will hold its last meeting next Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 in the Sub lounge. All members are asked to be present.

Bynner Is Speaker

At the meeting of the Art League of New Mexico on Sunday, Mr. Witter Bynner, the state chairman of the United China Relief, spoke first of the character of Chinese people as he knew them from several trips he had made to China. He referred to the founding of the Chinese republic by Sun Yat-Sen and the will expressed by Chinese leaders today to build political and economic democracy among their people.

Mr. Bynner then discussed Chinese poetry as it represents the Chinese ideals and sense of beauty. He read from his translations of Chinese poetry printed under the title "The Jade Mountain," an anthology which he prepared with the aid of several Chinese scholars. This anthology has been accepted as the finest collection of Chinese poetry in England.

The campus committee for United China Relief consists of Dr. T. M. Pearce, Miss Wilma Shelton, Miss Emile Von Auw, and Mr. C. H. Koch who will act as treasurer. All members of the faculty and students who believe in the loyalty of China to the United Nations cause should see Mr. Koch and make a contribution to this fund. The committee will accept any amount however small.

News Bulletins Sent To Grads By ASME

In order to bring mechanical, aeronautical and chemical engineering graduates into closer unity, ASME is sponsoring a news bureau.

Every year Mr. Ford receives letters from graduates who tell him something about what they are doing and ask questions about other graduates. In these bulletins excerpts from these letters as well as campus news and local news are given. The bulletins also contain addresses with the intent of keeping the graduates all over the world in contact with their fellow members.

The bulletin is being sponsored by ASME and at present contains the names of fifty engineers, all but four of whom graduated from the University here.

NEW COMEDY NOW BEING REHEARSED

"Accidentally Yours" the new comedy by Pauline Williams is now in nightly rehearsal at Rodey Theatre and will be ready to be shown to audiences on December 1, 3, 4, and 5. Last year Miss Williams' "Personal Island" was given at Rodey. Her plays have always been considered Rodey's best, and this new one will be no exception. In "Accidentally Yours" Spencer Mosby tries to enter the world of fiction writers and contest winners, but instead he does every thing else that one man can do in three acts. Edwin Snapp, head of the dramatic department, and husband of the playwright, is again taking his rightful place as Rodey's capable director. However, this may be his last play for a while if his draft board has its way.

In the leading roles are Howard and Ellen Kirk. Both Mr. and Mrs. Kirk have a long history at Rodey Theatre and those who have been

Officials Puzzled

University officials were in a deep quandary this week trying to find out where it could possibly go. Every week about this time it disappears and reappears by Friday. That isn't all, it's been doing it since early in the summer.

Some of the more patriotic persons think it tries for National defense but is rejected. Others think that maybe it is out wandering around the campus trying to cool things off. Some think that possibly it has become an employ of B and G, building and grounds, and that its duties change as do the tasks of all such employees. Anyway, whatever might happen to it officials have decided to post a guard to watch it when it comes back next time. Alpha Phi Omega has cheerfully agreed to accept this task.

You can expect changes soon. University officials won't be walking to the other end of the hall in the Administration building for a drink of water when there should be a drinking fountain with all the apparatus for cooling at their end of the hall.

Phrateres Agrees To Adopt War Program

In accordance with a program outlined by the Laughlin and Las Damitas sub-chapter presidents, Reba Rutz, Audrey Salas and Nell Pearce, all Phrateres president, the Laughlin members agreed last night in their weekly meeting to adopt a method of combining war work with their scheduled meetings.

Several resolutions were passed in accordance with the suggested war activity program presented in the women's assembly last week.

In place of the usual four meetings a month, Phrateres members have agreed to hold three meetings with only two where attendance is required. One meeting will be devoted to folding surgical dressings; another will concentrate on handiwork, sewing, knitting, scrapbooks, toys etc. and the last meeting will be a required business meeting for both sub-chapters. The required meeting will also include a social program of singing and games. Short business meetings will be conducted at the other two meetings when it is necessary.

Several members of Las Damitas have been working on the Barbas Community Project on Monday nights. Those members who are not engaged in this work will work on other projects.

Newman Club To Hold Discussion

Group discussion will occupy the spotlight at the regular Newman Club meeting to be held Tuesday evening in the Student Union basement lounge at 7:30 p. m. The business meeting will be under the direction of Phil Weigel, president. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

around the campus any time at all cannot help but recognize them from their many other Rodey plays. They were both in the Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatic fraternity, production of "Time of Your Life" and Mr. Kirk played Casius in last year's "Julius Caesar." In this play Mr. Kirk will be seen as Spencer Mosby and Mrs. Kirk will play Gladius, his wife. Elsie Vivianne Hernandez and John Conwell will supply the young lover interest in this comedy of errors. Miss Hernandez can be remembered for her excellent part in "Personal Island." Mr. Conwell has just finished the lead in the last Rodey play "Thunder Rock," and has a long line of successes to his credit. Miss Hernandez and Mr. Conwell will play Geneva Mosby, Spencer's niece, and Jerome Carter respectively. Doing her first Rodey play is Margy Hackett. Margy plays Jeanie who is responsible for so many of Spencer Mosby's problems.

Other Rodey veterans in the cast are Bill Vorenberg as Mr. Cavendish, the contest chairman; Dick Cox as Martin, a newspaper reporter; Harold Sultmeier as Mr. Peppercorn, a frustrated husband; Chester Dennis as Dr. Field; Betty Ancona as Gladiola, the Mosby maid; and Dave Hayes as Llewellyn, her boyfriend.

New to Rodey's stage are Caroline Parkhurst as Marietta, one of the town gossips; Marilyn Payne as Miss Featherby, Mr. Mosby's secretary; Dorothy Land as Miss Esterhazy, a literary club president; and Charles Wiley as a photographer.

John Conwell is stage manager. The scene was designed by Mary Lou Williams who is also head of the paint crew assigned by Ethel Garrett and Mary Messecar. Dick Cox is in charge of stage craft, with Maurine Brinegar and Lorna Spangenburg as assistants; lighting will be managed by Daniel Ely. Dorothy Mace is the costumer and Bob McNeely will prompt. Bob Myers is doing publicity assisted by Shirley Marshall, Jane McCormick, and Gertrude Armijo. Keith Utzinger will do photography.

Admission will be by student activity ticket but all seats for the evening of unlimited laughter must be reserved in advance. Seats will go on sale in the Rodey box office Saturday, November 28.

Toy Drive To Be Held Next Week

A drive for old toys will be sponsored on the campus next Tuesday and Wednesday. Anyone having toys that are not in use is asked to turn them in at Hokona hall where they will be repaired and used for Christmas gifts for needy children. All students are urged to cooperate in this drive.

TICKETS AVAILABLE

The Rodey Theatre box office will be open Saturday and Monday from 9 a. m. to 12, and from 1 to 5 p. m. to take reservations for "Accidentally Yours." Tickets may be obtained by presenting your activity tickets at the box office. Please make your reservation and get your tickets EARLY.

Lobos Meet Tempe in Last Game of Season

N. M. Team Determined For Victory

New Mexico will wind up its grid season Saturday afternoon when the Lobos square off with Tempe at the University stadium.

The victory hungry Wolfpack will attempt to give the home fans a look at the fine football they have been playing away from home. Barnes will shoot the works on the weak Tempe.

Arizona State has had a poor year losing all but one game and by top heavy scores. Their lone victory was over the New Mexico Aggies by a score of 26-0.

The Bulldogs under their new mentor, Hilman Walker, boast the nation's leading small college punter in Al Onofrio, who teams with Bernard Vitok, triple threat ace, as backfield leader. Tempe's main weakness is lack of strength on the bench.

This will probably be the last University football game for the duration of the war and the Lobos will be out to make it a memorable one.

The Hilltoppers will be out for their fourth victory of the year. So far they have three wins, five defeats and two ties.

Last year Coach Dixie Howell and his Bulldogs maintained their jinx over the Lobos for another year as they held the favored New Mexico eleven to a scoreless tie. Outplaying their Arizona rivals, the visiting Lobos lacked the punch to push across a counter.

'Danceable' Is Kruppa Keynote

"Whether it's sweet or hot, it's got to be danceable." That statement comes from Gene Kruppa, ace drum beater and one of the leading swing stylists in the nation. And it's a strange statement from a musician who rose to fame on the blatant swing music of several years ago.

Gene, who will appear Friday night on "The Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands" at 9:30, EWT, over the Blue Network, however, explains his statement with the simple word "rhythm."

"Most good dance music today," Krupa says, "has a swing beat to it. I don't mean volume... but just plain rhythm and lots of it."

"The jazz tune has not gone by the board... it is still a good thing. But at least 60 per cent of the arrangements carried by an orchestra must be fashioned for the dancers. Any beat is good, provided it has rhythm enjoyed by the dancing public."

To prove what he means by rhythm, Gene pointed out that he has worked out an arrangement in five-hour time. This is contrary to the belief that danceable music can only be had with the accepted standard beat.

Gene's new arrangement is of Ravel's "Bolero."

The finals for the intra class tennis tournament will be played off this week by Hannett and S. Wilson vs. Berne and Lewis. Hannett and Wilson have taken the first set 6-2, but no telling what will happen when Bernie cuts loose with her much-famed aerial bombardment. This little bit of strategy not only rattles her opponents but keeps Lewis going in circles too.

In the semi-finals which were played off last week, the much delayed Hannett and S. Wilson vs. Brown and Spangenberg match was finally taken by Hannett and S. Wilson. The comedy match between Bernie and Lewis—Lyles and M. Wilson ended up 7-5, 6-2 in favor of Bernie and Lewis. Without a cheering section lead by "Dirty Dan" this game might have been a little more like a tennis match.

For the intramural program the Volleyball tournament has been postponed until after the Christmas holidays.

Stamps For Small Coins

EVANSTON, Ill. (ACP)—A plan for substituting currency stamps for small coins to meet a threatened shortage of currency in small denominations has been proposed to government officials by Dr. Paul Haensel, professor of economics at Northwestern university.

Recommending that the currency stamps be printed with the usual postage stamp plates but on durable paper and without perforation, Dr. Haensel said the great advantage of such currency is that it may be printed in the shortest time and in all possible denominations. Use of metal for currency is only an obsolete tradition which sooner or later must be done away with entirely," he said. "In Great Britain the public very soon realized that pound sterling treasury notes and 10 shilling notes are much more practical than sovereigns or half-sovereigns. During the first World War the Tsarist government issued such currency stamps, printing them with the usual postage plates. As a member of the council or board of directors of the Bank of Russia at that time I can testify that this measure was a success."

Football Players Are Defined And Explained By Layman

A feature such as this is usually written before the initial game of the season. However, since the lowering of the draft age, the college students remaining can't read anything but Esquire so what the heck. The purpose of this good work is to explain the less well-known duties and jobs of the players on the present day collegiate team.

Starting with the seven characters that make up the line we are startled at first glance by a fellow whose family tree must have been gnawed by gophers as he is earnestly peering at us between his own legs. This warped individual is called the center, simply because he is in the center. Astounding deduction. His duties are to throw the ball between the legs of whichever member of the backfield isn't paying any attention and would look funniest when he sees the ball coming.

On either side of the center are (right to left and vice versa) the guards, the tackles and the ends. To play one of these positions a fellow must weigh around two-fifty, be able to count to five, be able to say "hike, shift, and gimme da ball" and recognize his own team's suits from those of the opponents. Since a mere layman cannot pronounce the handles belonging to these Balkan musclemen, we leave the stalwart line and enter into the realm of hipper-dipper and razzle-dazzle, the backfield. As an example let us line the backfield up in that perplexing system known as the "T" formation.

In this system the quarterback stands directly astern of the center who spends his spare time looking for four-leafed clovers. The quarterback is the "glamor" boy of the gridiron. He can pass, kick, run, fumble, fall down, take out his upper plate, do card tricks as well as ride a bicycle backwards. His job is to call the signals and handle the ball on every play, seeing to it that the pigskin winds up in possession of the home team.

Only three feet behind the quarterback (if he is a brave man) stands our stalwart plunger the fullback. He is the lad who plunges off tackle, off guard, over center, and under eleven other equally nasty fellows when that precious yard is needed. This lad can also kick and receive passes if everyone else on the team is unconscious.

To the right of the fullback stands the blocking half-back. He is the unsung hero who gets his picture in the paper on alternate Thursdays. He blocks for the other halfback, the full back, the quarterback and the referee when he makes a bad decision. His job is to take out three guys at once while he makes out he has the ball or is going to kick, or pass, or run, or whistle "There'll always be an England." During the half, this lad also sells programs.

The remaining halfback carries the ball on spinners and reverses if he is a fraternity brother of the quarterback. Now and again he gets to catch a pass. But his main job is on those nasty little "man-in-motion" ploys. At these times, he is the perplexed youth who runs off by himself all the time trying to act nonchalant as if we didn't know that the quarterback was going to throw him a pass.

That just about does it except for those fellows in the black and white shirts. They are known as the officials and usually arrive with dark glasses, a seeing eye dog, and a tin cup.

And oh yes, the coaches can best be described as in a recent tale

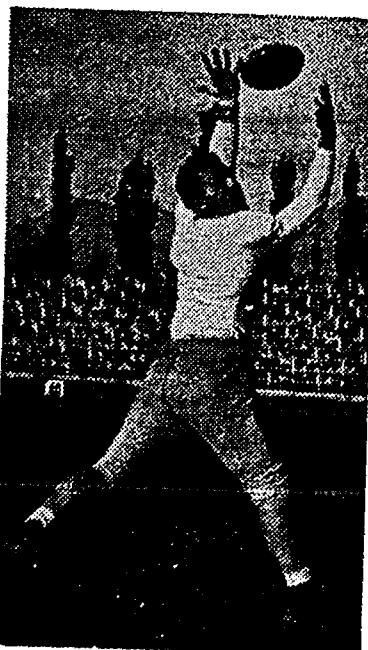

The 1942 edition of New Mexico's grid machine will wind up its activities Saturday against Tempe. The above squad has played a hard, grueling, 10 game schedule, with 3 victories, 5 defeats and 2 ties.

Sunday Game Ends 14-14 Tie

The University of New Mexico fought a highly favored Loyola football team to standstill, 14-14, last Sunday in Los Angeles, Calif.

Throughout the scoreless first half the two teams pushed each other up and down the field. The Lions blocked Al Foster's punt on the New Mexico 20 mid way in the third quarter to pave the way for the initial score. Ed Saenz raced 25 yards around left end for the touchdown two plays later. Tom McCaffrey converted.

In three minutes the Lobos tied it up when Leo Katz fired a short pass to Buzz Brown, who immediately lateralled to Bill Jourdan. The play caught Loyola sleeping and Jourdan raced 52 yards to a score. Server's placement was good.

Loyola came roaring back in the fourth period when Vince Pace-wie hurled a 55 yard pass to Saenz for a first down on the New Mexico 25 yard stripe. The Lobos held for three plays but on the fourth John Machado passed to Ed Sweeters for a touchdown and McCaffrey converted.

With three minutes remaining in the game, Jourdan flipped a short pass to fleet Al Foster who zig-zagged 45 ards to padrit. Server's placement tied the score at 14 all.

Eighty per cent of the men in the new freshman class of the University of Michigan's college of literature, science and the arts have been enrolled in mathematics or physics courses, or both.

Head coach Willis Barnes, who stepped into Ted Thiphey's shoes this summer, has piloted the Lobos through their '42 campaign. He has been ably assisted by Steve Reynolds and George Petrol.
