

New Mexico Quarterly

Volume 11 | Issue 1

Article 18

1941

Message to Hitler

Lincoln Fitzell

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/nmq>

Recommended Citation

Fitzell, Lincoln. "Message to Hitler." New Mexico Quarterly 11, 1 (1941). <https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/nmq/vol11/iss1/18>

This Contents is brought to you for free and open access by the University of New Mexico Press at UNM Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in New Mexico Quarterly by an authorized editor of UNM Digital Repository. For more information, please contact disc@unm.edu.

MESSAGE TO HITLER (A Prophecy)

Snarl dog-tooth, snarl the red star's rage;
Bite at the world, Time's wrinkled sphere.
War cannot hide the strife you wage
On family, love and Christian cheer.

Gnaw rat-head, gnaw your cellar mind,
With thoughts of fierce and acid scar.
Who shrieked for bombs and blasted blind
The infant's with the soldier's star?

Shrink black-heart, cower, hug your hate;
The sword is out that victors won;
Swift-cowled the future eagles wait
To claw your death-mask from the sun.

EARTH SONG

The desert struggles with the palm;
The damp with riot of the rose;
And thought still pricks the wise from calm,
Who tend the garland where it grows.

Though change may storm us insecure,
Or lonely whistling leave us dead;
All men of truth are sober-sure,
That art is strong which yields us bread.

LINCOLN FITZELL