BPI

Best Practices Initiative

A collaborative approach to leadership for improving management practices on the working landscape

Who is CPAWS?

- Canadian Parks and Wilderness Society
- Environmental Non-governmental Organization (ENGO)
- National office (Ottawa)
- Regional Chapters (13 coast to coast)

CPAWS Mission:

- Protect Canada's wild ecosystems in parks, wilderness and similar natural areas...
- Preserve the full diversity of habitat and their species;
- Promote awareness and understanding of ecological principles...
- Encourage individual action...
- Work cooperatively with government, aboriginals, business and other organizations...

Protected Areas & Working Landscape

- Sustainable use of our Natural Capital requires;
 - Protected areas network
 - Various levels – ex. IUCN 6 categories
 - Stewardship of the working landscape
 - Also includes limitations & restrictions

BPI focused on the working landscape

- Recognize that parks are not enough...species and ecosystem process must survive outside of parks if they are to persist
 - ensure ecosystem integrity

What are some other benefits?

- Insights into public policy barriers
 - “multiple land use”
 - “Alberta Advantage”
- Create opportunities to influence regulations, standards, and codes of practice

BPI in context

- CPAWS expectations include:
 - Completion of protected areas network
 - Carbon constrained economy
 - Shift from a hydrocarbon to renewable energy
 - Use “Best Practices” to minimize the human footprint on the landscape

What will be the focus?

- Landscape issues:
 - Strategic level
 - Operational level
- 5 operational theatres
 - Conventional Oil & Gas (Boreal)
 - Rocky Mountains
 - Northern Frontier
 - Oil Sands
 - Coal Bed Methane (not geographic based)

What strategic practices?

- Land use planning
- Land Tenure and Operational Planning
- Stakeholder Relations and Participatory Decision Making
- Assessment & Management of Cumulative Effects

What operational practices?

- Access Management
- Ecological footprint reduction
- Wildlife corridors and habitat
- Landscape offsets and compensatory work
- Waste disposal
- Water conservation & water quality
- Threatened and Endangered Species

What are the deliverables?

- PHASE I
 - ✓ Charter – vision, goals, statement of principles
 - ✓ Terms of Reference – the process & boundaries
 - ✓ Schedule and Milestones
 - ✓ Budget for 2004
 - ✓ Scope and format of BPI website
 - ✓ Workshop to finalize deliverables, Jan 26, 2004

Workshop Outcomes

- Articulate the value proposition for all
- Participate on a theatre by theatre basis
- Find an credible industry orientated co-lead
 - Discussions currently underway
