LOMA LINDA UNIVERSITY is a two-campus Seventh-day Adventist coeducational institution located in inland southern California and is part of the Seventh-day Adventist system of higher education.

On the La Sierra campus, at the west edge of Riverside, curriculums in applied and liberal arts and sciences, preprofessional programs for the health-related professions, and programs in professional education in fulfillment of requirements for teaching credentials are offered by the College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Education. On the Loma Linda campus, in the San Bernardino-Redlands area, professional curriculums are offered by the Schools of Allied Health Professions, Dentistry, Health, Medicine, and Nursing. Graduate programs of the departments of the schools are offered from both campuses through the Graduate School.

Accredited by the Accrediting Commission for Senior Colleges and Universities of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, and the North American Division Commission on Accreditation of the Board of Regents of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, Loma Linda University is a member of the American Council on Education and the Association of American Colleges. The professional curriculums of the University are approved by their respective professional organizations.

Curriculums are offered leading to the Associate in Arts, Associate in Science, Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Music, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Social Work, Master of Arts, Master of Health Administration, Master of Public Health, Master of Science, Master of Science in Public Health, Specialist in Education, Doctor of Dental Surgery, Doctor of Education, Doctor of Health Science, Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Philosophy, and Doctor of Public Health.

The core of the combined faculties consists of approximately 900 full-time teachers. Part-time and voluntary teachers, especially clinicians in the professional curriculums, bring the total past 1,685. Men and women from as many as eighty nations are represented in the annual enrollment of over 5,300 students.

The University is committed to equal opportunity and does not discriminate against qualified persons on the basis of handicap, sex, race, color, or national and ethnic origin in its educational and admissions policies, financial affairs, employment programs, student life and services, or any University-administered program. It does, however, retain the right to give preference in student admissions to qualified Seventh-day Adventist students.

While this right is retained, it is emphasized that the admission of students is not limited only to Seventh-day Adventist applicants.

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The fundamental purpose of Loma Linda University is stated in its motto: "To make man whole." As an institution of higher learning established and operated by Seventh-day Adventists, the University is dedicated to helping its teachers and students — as individuals and as a community — to reach their highest potential in education, in research, and in service. As a community of both faith and learning, the University is founded on the conviction that religious commitment invigorates the disciplined use of all of a person's mental abilities, and that all knowledge is ultimately derived from — and related to — one transcendent Source. The University also believes that education "to make man whole" is concerned with attitudes, goals, and values as well as with information and ideas.

Accordingly, the University's first function is to provide education that is comprehensive and integrative, including for every student (1) a mature understanding of oneself as a person in relation to God and to other persons; (2) an awareness and appreciation of the nature of ultimate reality, of the created universe, and of human existence; (3) a mastery of the basic knowledge and skills necessary for professional success or for advanced study in a particular discipline or vocation; (4) a commitment to personal integrity and generous service; (5) an attitude of continuing curiosity and inquiry, and a sense of the excitement of discovery; and (6) a lifestyle that facilitates the maximum usefulness of a person's abilities.

The University's second function is to enable and encourage its teachers and students to be creative and constructive members of the Seventh-day Adventist church and of society. This means that the University is involved in (1) expanding human knowledge through competent and responsible research, (2) serving as a major resource of information and personnel for the church as it endeavors to fulfill its mission around the world, and (3) responding to the needs of the surrounding communities. Thus the University's intention "to make man whole" refers not only to the education it offers to its students but also to the contribution both it and they can make, personally and professionally, to the church and to the contemporary world.

In the achievement of its fundamental purpose, each part of the University has its own distinctive role. The Board of Trustees and the Administration provide the appropriate environment — the physical facilities, the personnel, and the intellectual and spiritual atmosphere. The members of all faculties serve both as educational guides and as role models for their students. The College and the Graduate School provide both general and specialized education in the liberal arts and sciences. The professional schools provide training for the major health professions and for careers in education. All of this occurs in the context, and as a consequence, of personal and collective religious commitment.

THE FOUNDERS OF THE INSTITUTIONS which became Loma Linda University were committed to the idea that religious instruction should occupy a central place in all curriculums. As these institutions grew, the faculty and course offerings in religion were correspondingly enlarged. In 1955, the College of Medical Evangelists expanded the Department of Religion into a major division, a form in which it continued to function when its parent institution became Loma Linda University in 1961. At La Sierra College the curriculum in religion, with its strong theological studies program, continued as a separate department when that College became a part of Loma Linda University in 1967.

In 1976, however, the University Board decided that the teaching of religion on both campuses could be greatly enriched and strengthened through the creation of a single Division of Religion for the University, under the direction of a Dean. In this way the student would have access to the expertise and areas of specialization of a large number of well-trained faculty members. Further reorganization in 1979 led to the formation of five departments covering the areas of biblical studies, Christian ethics, church and ministry, historical studies, and theological studies.

ROLE OF RELIGION IN THE UNIVERSITY

Loma Linda University is dedicated to the fulfillment of one great central purpose — To make man whole.

In the beginning, man was created in the image of God, "endowed with a power akin to that of the Creator — individuality, power to think and to do." Man's capacity for free, creative, responsible thinking and acting is the image of God within him. Sin has well nigh robbed humanity of this God-like power. By the sin of illogical, irresponsible, rebellious thinking, the first parents of the human race perverted the marvelous mechanism of their minds, beclouded their intellects, and passed on through succeeding generations a greatly dimmed reflection of the Creator. Hence it is the purpose of education, as it is the goal of the plan of salvation, to restore this power, to teach men "to be thinkers, and not mere reflectors of other men's thought."

How this restoration may be accomplished was stated by Jesus himself. Man is sanctified by truth. It is experience with truth — the truth about God and his laws for the operation of the universe — under the transforming influence of the Spirit of truth, that enables a person to regain clarity of thought. As the apostle Paul explains, such transformation requires the renewing of the mind. Similarly, the perfect and mature person is described in the book of Hebrews as one whose faculties have been trained by practice to distinguish between good and evil.

Although sanctifying truth may be discovered through any line of investigation sincerely pursued, Christians acknowledge that the clearest revelation of all comes through Jesus Christ. Therefore, the Division of Religion takes seriously this advice of one of the founders of the University: "God bids us fill the mind with great thoughts, pure thoughts. He desires us to meditate upon his love and mercy, to study his wonderful work in the great plan of redemption. Then clearer and still clearer will be our perception of truth; higher, holier, our desire for purity of heart and clearness of thought. The soul dwelling in the pure atmosphere of holy thought will be transformed by communion with God through the study of the Scriptures."

The interpretation of the Sacred Writings is considered of first importance in the study of religion at the University. The Scriptures are studied as a revelation of the truth about God, his character, and the kind of persons men may become as they are restored to his likeness.

Such a transforming experience with truth and the God of truth requires the healing of the whole person. Salvation involves not only spiritual but also physical and mental restoration. Significantly the New Testament word "to save" means also "to heal." Christ was not only the Great Pastor, or Shepherd, but also the Great Physician and the Great Teacher, or Master.

The aim of the University is to lead the student into a healing relationship with Jesus Christ, that the student may be a mature person, skilled in the redemptive art of leading others into this same transforming relationship, competent as teacher, healer, missionary, evangelist — bearer of the whole gospel designed to make man whole. In harmony with these aims of the University, the specific objectives of the Division of Religion may be stated as follows:

Objectives 1. To lead students to an understanding of God as Creator and Redeemer, and of man's appropriate response to him.

2. To develop an appreciation for and an understanding of the Bible as the written Word of God, an infallible rule of faith and practice for the Christian.

3. To direct students to an understanding of the basic teachings of the Christian faith and to an articulate expression of that faith as believed and taught by the Seventh-day Adventist church.

4. To lead students to a study of the Bible that utilizes the methodologies of biblical, theological, and historical studies, so that as laymen or ministers they will be able to participate in the work of the church as effective teachers of the Word.

5. To prepare students for the ministry of the church by teaching the basic skills necessary to move into practical fieldwork and seminary training.

6. To communicate to students a sense of personal vocation in connection with the church's mission to preach the gospel of the kingdom to all the world.

7. To help students to develop a personal religious life of faith, prayer, worship, and service to their fellowmen.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Admission to the graduate programs in the Division of Religion is accomplished through application to the Graduate School of Loma Linda University. For admissions information, inquiry should be made to:

Dean, Graduate School
Loma Linda University
Loma Linda, California 92350

For information on academic programs of the Division of Religion, inquiry should be addressed to:

Dean, Division of Religion
Loma Linda University
Loma Linda, California 92350

or

Dean, Division of Religion
Loma Linda University
Riverside, California 92515

Students wishing to enroll in a combined program should seek information from the Dean of the school in which they expect to hold their primary registration.

Registration The student registers at the beginning of each quarter on the dates assigned in the University calendar. Faculty members are available for advice as to the courses best suited to the individual student.

Attendance Regular attendance at all classes is expected. Record of unsatisfactory attendance is referred to the Dean of the school in which the student is enrolled.

Scholastic standing Grades and status designations are recorded to indicate credit and standing, and grade points are computed as follows:

A	4.0	Outstanding performance	C	2.0	Satisfactory performance for undergraduate credit
A—	3.7		C—	1.7
B+	3.3		D+	1.3
B	3.0	very good performance for undergraduate credit; satisfactory performance for graduate credit	D	1.0	Minimum performance for which undergraduate credit is granted
B—	2.7		F	0.0	Failure, given for not meeting minimum performance
C+	2.3

The following notations make clear the student's status but do not indicate credit.

- S Satisfactory performance, counted toward graduation. Equivalent to a C grade or better in undergraduate courses, or a B grade or better in graduate courses. An S grade is not computed in the grade point average.

May not be given for coursework in a student's major field, or professional curriculum requirements, except for courses in which a letter grade cannot be determined.

A student may request a grade of S in only a limited amount of coursework; that is, in any free elective or in a course fulfilling the general requirements in vocational/avocational or movement skills on an S/U basis. This is done by the student's filing with the Records Office the appropriate form, signed by the instructor and adviser, prior to 14 calendar days before the final examination week. Once filed, this form is not subject to change.

- U Unsatisfactory performance, given only when performance for an S-specified course falls below a C grade level in an undergraduate course or a B grade level in a graduate course. A U grade is not computed in the grade point average.
- W Withdraw, given for withdrawal from a course prior to 14 calendar days before the final examination week. Withdrawals during the first 14 calendar days of a term are not recorded if the student files with the Records Office the appropriate form prior to the cut-off date. A student withdrawing during the last two weeks of instruction prior to the final examination week will receive a grade determined according to the grading policy.
- I Incomplete, given for circumstances beyond a student's control. An I may be changed to a grade only by the instructor before the end of the following term.

The student formally requests an I grade from the instructor, stating the reason for the request, obtaining the instructor's signature, and filing the request with the department chairman or Dean. If approved, the instructor will then report the I grade on the Instructor Grade Report form, as well as the grade which the student will receive if the deficiency is not removed within the time limit.
- IP In Progress, indicating that the course has duration of more than a single term and will be completed by the student no later than the final term of the course. The student's final grade is reported on the Instructor Grade Report at the end of the term in which the course is completed.
- AU Audit, indicating registration for attendance only. A student must attend at least 80% of the class meetings. A request to change an audit course to credit or credit to audit may be made no later than the fourteenth calendar day after the beginning of a quarter.

Withdrawal Withdrawal from a course or courses must be authorized in writing. Forms for this purpose may be secured from the Office of Admissions and Records.

Student welfare Information about provisions for the general welfare, counseling, health care, and health insurance is provided in the BULLETIN of the respective professional school, in the STUDENT HANDBOOK, and in various written announcements which are available. Students should make certain that they have access to all such information.

Student responsibility Application to and enrollment in the University constitute the student's commitment to honor and abide by the academic and social practices and regulations stated in announcements, bulletins, handbooks, and other published materials, and to maintain a manner that is mature and compatible with the University's function as an institution of higher learning.

Departments of instruction For convenience of reference, the departments of instruction are listed in alphabetical order.

Code letters The subject areas of the departments are indicated by code letters as follows:

- Biblical Studies: RELB
(Biblical languages: RELJ)
- Christian Ethics: RELE
- Church and Ministry: RELP
- Historical Studies: RELH
- Theological Studies: RELT
(Mission Studies: RELM)

Course number The course number indicates the comparative level of difficulty and the class standing of the students for whom the course is offered:

- 100-199 First undergraduate year, lower division
- 200-299 Second undergraduate year, lower division
- 300-399 Third undergraduate year, upper division
- 400-499 Fourth undergraduate year, upper division; graduate credit for graduate students
- 500-599 Graduate courses
- 600-699 Graduate seminars and research courses
- 700-799 Professional courses

Units of credit Undergraduate students in the College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Education normally register for religion courses with four units of credit.

Students in the schools of the health professions ordinarily register for two units of credit. Under certain circumstances the professional student who needs an additional unit of credit may register for three units by special arrangement with the Division for additional research and tutorial instruction.

Graduate students register for three or more units, and with proper undergraduate preparation may enroll in courses numbered 500 to 699. Certain advanced, upper division, undergraduate courses (numbered 400-499) are acceptable for graduate credit. Unless specified in a curriculum, such undergraduate courses should be selected only in consultation with a Division of Religion adviser. Students who anticipate having to transfer graduate credits from Loma Linda University to professional or graduate programs in other schools of religion or theological seminaries should know that ordinarily only courses numbered 500 to 699 will be acceptable as graduate transfer credit.

STUDENT AID

University fellowships These are awarded annually to students of outstanding performance and promise. Holders of fellowships are required to perform no routine duties except as they are a part of the program of instruction and training. University fellowships carry stipends and remission of tuition.

Assistantships A limited number of teaching and research assistantships, with stipends up to $4,000 per academic year, are provided from operating and grant funds with the understanding that the student will perform such duties as may be required by the one to whom the student is responsible, not to exceed half time.

An application for fellowship or assistantship from a student not already enrolled in a graduate program at the University must be accompanied by an application for admission. These applications are available from the Dean of the Graduate School.

Other aid Financial assistance is available to the student from University loan funds, government loan funds, and other special trust funds. The student may apply for financial aid before receiving acceptance for admission to the University. Priority will be given to completed financial aid packets received by April 15 of each year. Inquiries concerning loans and other student financial matters should be made of the Director of Student Financial Aid.

NOTE: California residents applying for aid through the State Graduate Fellowship Program must apply to the state by the first week in February for the academic year beginning in September. For more information contact the Student Financial Aid Office.

Closing date An application involving a request for financial aid of any kind should be in the appropriate office not later than April 15. Awards are usually made for an academic year beginning with the fall quarter.

PROGRAMS AND DEGREES

The Division of Religion provides religious instruction for all of the schools of the University. The religion requirements of the various schools and curriculums are specified in the respective bulletins of the schools.

BACCALAUREATE MAJOR PROGRAMS

In addition to its services to the other schools, the Division offers, through the College of Arts and Sciences, undergraduate programs leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree in religion and ministerial studies.

Religion A student majoring in religion completes 60 units of coursework in religion, including RELB 104, 224, 225, 226, 244, 414, 415, 416; RELH 445, 446, 447; RELT 254, 434, 435, 436, in addition to the general requirements for the Bachelor of Arts degree (see General Requirements in the BULLETIN of the College of Arts and Sciences).

Ministerial studies The ministerial studies program prepares individuals, on a preseminary level, for effective participation in the church's ministry within the contemporary world. It grounds this ministry in the biblical, historical, theological, and social witness of Christianity in general and Seventh-day Adventism in particular. The program endeavors to make the ministry proficient by careful development of such ministering arts as preaching, teaching, counseling, pastoral care, and leadership. It achieves this with the following specific objectives:

1. A cultivation of the personal and social dimensions of spiritual experience, including faith, prayer, worship, and service to others.
2. An understanding of the Old and New Testaments through use of the historical-theological method.
3. An introduction to the basic resources for biblical study, including a knowledge of the Greek language, for use in exegesis and sermon preparation.
4. A familiarity with the origin and transmission of the biblical text, the formation of the canon, and its translation into various versions.
5. A knowledge of the historical development of Christian belief, practice, and mission, including the emphasis of the Seventh-day Adventist church.
6. An understanding of the basic tenets of Christianity as interpreted by Seventh-day Adventists, and an ability to communicate them to the contemporary world.
7. An application of theology to the practice skills of ministry, providing for the performance of the basic pastoral and educational tasks.

8. A study of Christian growth, methods of ministry, and effective witness in the community.

9. An examination of the church's corporate nature, the social dynamics of its institutionalization, and its interaction with other social structures.

Students who intend to major in ministerial studies apply to the Division of Religion during the spring quarter of the sophomore year. In addition, they complete, during that quarter, a prescribed battery of diagnostic tests which cost $10.00. These are planned, along with a two-hour counseling session, to help students evaluate themselves and their call to the ministry. Each application is considered by the faculty of the Division, and a letter of response is sent to each applicant before the fall quarter of the junior year.

GRADUATE PROGRAMS

Purpose Graduate programs in religion underscore the University's recognition of religion as a scholarly discipline. They provide the proper context for continuing research and writing endeavors by competent students who are interested in furthering their education and in contributing to the overall scholarly thrust of the church. More specifically, the programs are designed to:

1. Enable interested individuals to obtain advanced training in religion to meet the constant and growing demands of the church.
2. Assist prospective teachers in attaining the basic qualifications essential for teaching religion in secondary schools and provide the basis for further graduate education in religion.
3. Aid in equipping lay persons for leadership roles in their respective home churches.
4. Cooperate with the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary in meeting the needs and demands for the continuing education of the pastors and teaching ministers in the Pacific Union.
5. Provide students in the professional schools of the University an opportunity to explore the close relationship of religion to the healing arts.

The Division of Religion offers programs leading to the following degrees: Master of Arts in Religion, Master of Arts in Religious Education, and Master of Arts in Religion and Health.

THE MASTER OF ARTS IN RELIGION

Admission requirements The applicant for the Master of Arts in Religion degree should meet the following standards:

1. Hold a baccalaureate degree or its equivalent from an accredited college or university, or from a comparable institution outside the United States.
2. Give evidence of ability to pursue advanced study by having maintained an undergraduate average of at least B (3.00 on the 4.00 system).
3. Have adequate undergraduate preparation in religion (a minimum of 32 quarter units). The background of each student seeking graduate status will be reviewed by the Division of Religion and the Graduate School Admissions Committee. Opportunity is provided for removing deficiencies by taking compensatory coursework at the University.
4. A reading proficiency in a modern or classical foreign language (required of those who intend to pursue a program emphasizing biblical or historical studies). Competence in the language should be demonstrated (by examination or by transcript evidence to an intermediate level) no later than the end of the second quarter in residence.

Graduation requirements 1. A total of 48 units of graduate credit, with at least 28 units in courses numbered 500-699 is required. A maximum of eight units may be transferred from an approved college or university. Approved alternatives to suggested specific courses must be cleared through the Graduate Studies Committee of the Division of Religion.

2. A course in research methods and composition (RELP 504). The 4-unit course (2 units of research methods and 2 units of English composition) is required of all graduate students in religion with the following exceptions: students who have successfully completed an undergraduate senior thesis, an undergraduate honors paper or their equivalent will only be required to take the 2 units of research methods.

3. A reading tutorial in an area of specialization, and a minimum of two graduate seminars.

4. A grade average of B (3.00) in graduate courses.

5. Satisfactory performance on a written comprehensive examination in the candidate's field(s) of study.

6. A thesis (4 units) or two major papers originally written for graduate seminars but revised and rewritten to the satisfaction of the student's guidance committee.

A student may pursue a program of studies with emphasis in Bible, Christian ethics, church history (in cooperation with the Department of History), missions, theology and applied theology.

As designed, the master's program in religion can be completed in one calendar year — 12 units being taken each quarter, including the summer. Individuals already employed can complete the program in three summer sessions, with additional coursework taken during the two academic years and by transfer of approved credits.

Combined program Students who are enrolled in the Schools of Health, Dentistry, or Medicine may wish to combine a Master of Arts in Religion with their professional training. Religion courses on the graduate level may be used to meet the basic religion requirements of each school as well as apply to a Master of Arts in religion.

THE MASTER OF ARTS IN RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Purpose The program is designed primarily to prepare secondary teachers of religion in junior and senior secondary schools, or those who have a career in educational ministry.

Admission requirements The applicant for the Master of Arts degree in religious education should meet the following requirements:

1. A baccalaureate degree or its equivalent from an accredited college or university, or from a comparable institution outside the United States.

2. A minimum of an undergraduate major in religion or its equivalent. It is recommended that the major include work in applied theology. Students with less than the minimum requirements should be prepared to make up deficiencies as determined by the Division of Religion. Students with graduate-level religion degrees may be able to decrease the length of their study program.

3. Evidence of ability to pursue advanced studies as indicated by an undergraduate grade point average of B (3.00 on the 4.00 system).

Graduation requirements 1. A total of 65 quarter units of graduate credit, with at least 35 units in courses numbered 500-699 is required. A maximum of fifteen graduate units may be transferred from an approved college or university. The required distribution of courses is listed under "curriculum requirements." Approved alternatives to suggested specific courses must be cleared through the Graduate Studies Committee of the Division of Religion.

2. A course in research methods and composition (RELP 504). The 4-unit course (2 units of research methods and 2 units of English composition) is required of all graduate students in religion with the following exceptions: students who have successfully completed an undergraduate senior thesis, an undergraduate honors paper, or their equivalent, will only be required to take the 2 units of research methods.

3. A reading tutorial in an area of specialization, and a minimum of two graduate seminars.

4. A grade average of B (3.00) in the courses taken.

5. The completion of an approved program in field education or student teaching certification.

6. Satisfactory performance on a written examination over the basic materials in religious education, the area of specialization, and in biblical, historical, and theological studies.

7. A project/thesis, normally prepared after formal coursework and examinations are completed, or two major papers originally written for graduate seminars, but revised and rewritten to the satisfaction of the student's guidance committee.

Curriculum requirements The curriculum is divided into four major areas around which students should organize their selection of courses.

1. Biblical studies (12 quarter units): courses in both Old and New Testament studies should be selected.

2. Historical studies (8 quarter units): one course in Seventh-day Adventist history; another in the general area of church history, the American church, or world religions.

3. Theological and ethical studies (12 quarter units): to include courses in Christian theology, philosophy, or ethics.

4. Religious education (26 quarter units), to include the following courses: EDFO 635 History and Philosophy of Religious Education (or an approved alternative), RELT 564 Religious Development and Nurture.

The following requirements should also be included:

Field education (3 quarter units)

Thesis/project/papers (4 quarter units)

THE MASTER OF ARTS IN RELIGION AND HEALTH

Purpose The purpose of this program is to equip health professionals to do evangelistic work in connection with the practice of their profession.

The applicant for the Master of Arts in religion and health should meet the following requirements:

1. A minimum of a bachelor's degree in one of the healing arts or enrollment in the M.P.H. program in the School of Health.

2. A minimum of sixteen undergraduate quarter units in religion, including one course in each of the following: Daniel and Revelation, Studies in Seventh-day Adventist Beliefs, Old Testament, New Testament. Students with less than the minimum should be prepared to make up deficiencies as determined by the Division of Religion.

3. Evidence of ability to pursue advanced study as indicated by an undergraduate grade average of B (3.00 on the 4.00 system).

Graduation requirements 1. A total of 60 quarter units of graduate credit, with at least 30 units in courses numbered 500-699, is required. Approved alternatives to suggested specific courses must be cleared through the Graduate Studies Committee of the Division of Religion.

2. A course in research methods and composition (RELP 504). The 4-unit course (2 units of research methods and 2 units of English composition) is required of all graduate students in religion, with the following exceptions: students who have successfully completed an undergraduate senior thesis, an undergraduate honors paper, or their equivalent, will only be required to take the 2 units of research methods.

3. A reading tutorial in an area of specialization, and at least two seminars.

4. A grade average of B (3.00) in the courses taken.

5. The completion of 16 prescribed units from the School of Health, including participation in a Health Evangelism Field School.

6. Satisfactory performance on a written examination over the material of the required courses.

Curriculum requirements The student is required to take the following courses or approved alternatives:

1. Biblical studies (11 quarter units): RELB 505 Canon, Manuscripts, and Versions of the Bible; RELB 558 Old Testament Theology; RELB 559 New Testament Theology.

 - HLED 555 Health Evangelism
 - HLED 556 Principles of Health Bible Education
 - HLED 558 Biblical Resources for Health Education
 - HLED 699 Health Evangelism Field School

CLINICAL PASTORAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

In the setting of the University Medical Center, the University makes available a program in clinical pastoral education approved by the Association for Clinical Pastoral Education, Inc., an interdenominational body that certifies ministers and seminary students for the clinical experience. The applicant should be a graduate of an accredited college and have completed at least one year at a theological seminary, with courses in pastoral counseling. Students who wish graduate credit must meet the entrance requirements of the Graduate School. Questions should be addressed to the Chaplain Supervisor, Loma Linda University Medical Center, Loma Linda California 92350.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

The Division of Religion offers offcampus continuing education classes in various parts of the Pacific Union upon request of the local church or conference and on some occasions at various academies in the Union. Workshops providing practical and theological information are available on request. Those interested in this service of the Division of Religion should contact the Dean's office for up-to-date information and current charges.

ALUMNI FEDERATION

The Alumni Federation was organized in 1958. This organization provides an avenue by which the several alumni associations, distinctive of emphases represented by curriculums of the University, join their common concern for the continued welfare of the institution. In turn, through the Federation the University demonstrates its interest in the continued general and professional development of the alumni, whom it regards as the ultimate and true expression of its accomplishments.

By united and reciprocal interaction, the Federation and the University seek to ensure a growing community of scholars, practitioners, and citizens dedicated to excellence. Vitally concerned with excellence in education, the Federation lends itself to enlarging the sphere of influence for good envisioned by the founders of the University.

The Federation seeks to foster unity and loyalty and to promote the growth of the total institution and at the same time the best interests of each part. The Federation endeavors—

1. To foster the natural bond among alumni of each individual school, maintaining the right of alumni to direct their own group activities.
2. To assist the University and its schools in their duty to provide for the continuing general welfare of all students, faculty, and alumni.
3. To encourage alumni through constituent associations to assist in providing adequate and dependable financial support both for the University and for alumni activities.

INSTRUCTIONAL RESOURCES

LIBRARIES

The University has two main libraries (one on the Loma Linda campus and one on the La Sierra campus), and the joint holdings are as follows:

Books, bound periodicals, audiovisual materials	435,790
Current periodical subscriptions	3,177

Bus service is supplied on schedule each weekday between the two campus libraries so that students and faculty can have access to both libraries. Immediate information can be obtained and lending arrangements made by telephone or mail.

Materials that are not available in either campus library or in the immediate community are obtainable through interlibrary loan. At Loma Linda the teletypewriter (TWX) is used for interlibrary communication and provides computer-printed bibliographies on medical-related subjects through the Medline and other services in which the Loma Linda library participates.

LA SIERRA CAMPUS

Books, bound periodicals, audiovisual materials	184,496
Current periodical subscriptions	1,210

The La Sierra campus library is a general liberal arts collection, with concentrations in history, religion, English, and education. A collection of nineteenth-century Seventh-day Adventist books and pamphlets is in the Heritage Collection. In addition to the microfiche Library of American Civilization already purchased (21,000 titles), the library is augmenting microform holdings.

LOMA LINDA CAMPUS

Books, bound periodicals, audiovisual materials	251,294
Current periodical subscriptions	1,969

The acquisitions of the Vernier Radcliffe Memorial Library on the Loma Linda campus are in medicine, dentistry, allied health professions, and graduate programs; and included in the acquisitions is a liberal arts undergraduate collection in support of certain graduate and professional programs. About half of the resources are in medical and related fields. Some rare materials in the history of medicine are included in the holdings.

Since 1957 this library has been the official west coast depository for Seventh-day Adventist literature regularly provided by church publishing houses in North America. The publications are in the Heritage Collection established in 1971. Here also are the Ellen G. White source materials, University archives, and an in-process collection of published and unpublished works pertaining to the early Adventist Movement.

The Human Relations Area Files on microfiche make available primary source materials on most of the known cultures of the world.

The Jorgensen Memorial Library, established in 1978, serves the Loma Linda University School of Dentistry through extensive holdings in the current literature of the profession, a circulating inventory of audiovisual equipment, the acquisition of instructional media and the hardware for its use, and the performance of on-line bibliographic searches.

Clark Heritage Room /White Research Center On the Loma Linda campus the C. Burton Clark Heritage Room and the Ellen G. White Research Center contain significant portions of the available primary source materials that relate to early Adventist history. Here also are the Ellen G. White Estate Question and Answer File and the Research Center containing University Archives.

Consortium Cooperative arrangements with libraries in the nearby area provide access to collections totalling over three million volumes.

Azusa Pacific College, Azusa
California Baptist College, Riverside
California State College, San Bernardino
California State Polytechnic University, Pomona
La Verne College, La Verne
Loma Linda University, Loma Linda and La Sierra campuses
University of California, Riverside
University of Redlands, Redlands
Community colleges in the area

Community Within driving distance of the University campuses are other collections accessible to faculty and students: the University of California (Los Angeles and Irvine campuses), the University of Southern California, the Los Angeles public library, the inland area public libraries, and the unique holdings of the Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery.

The Adventist Heritage Journal The Adventist Heritage, a journal of Adventist history, is published by Loma Linda University. It promotes a public interest in the rich heritage of Adventism through scholarly articles, book reviews, and pictorial essays. Faculty from the Division of Religion are on the editorial board.

Archaeological excavations The University, in cooperation with other educational institutions, has sponsored an archaeological excavation at Caesarea Maritima. Plans call for joining Andrews University in an expedition at another site. Students may receive either undergraduate or graduate credit for participating in an archaeological dig.

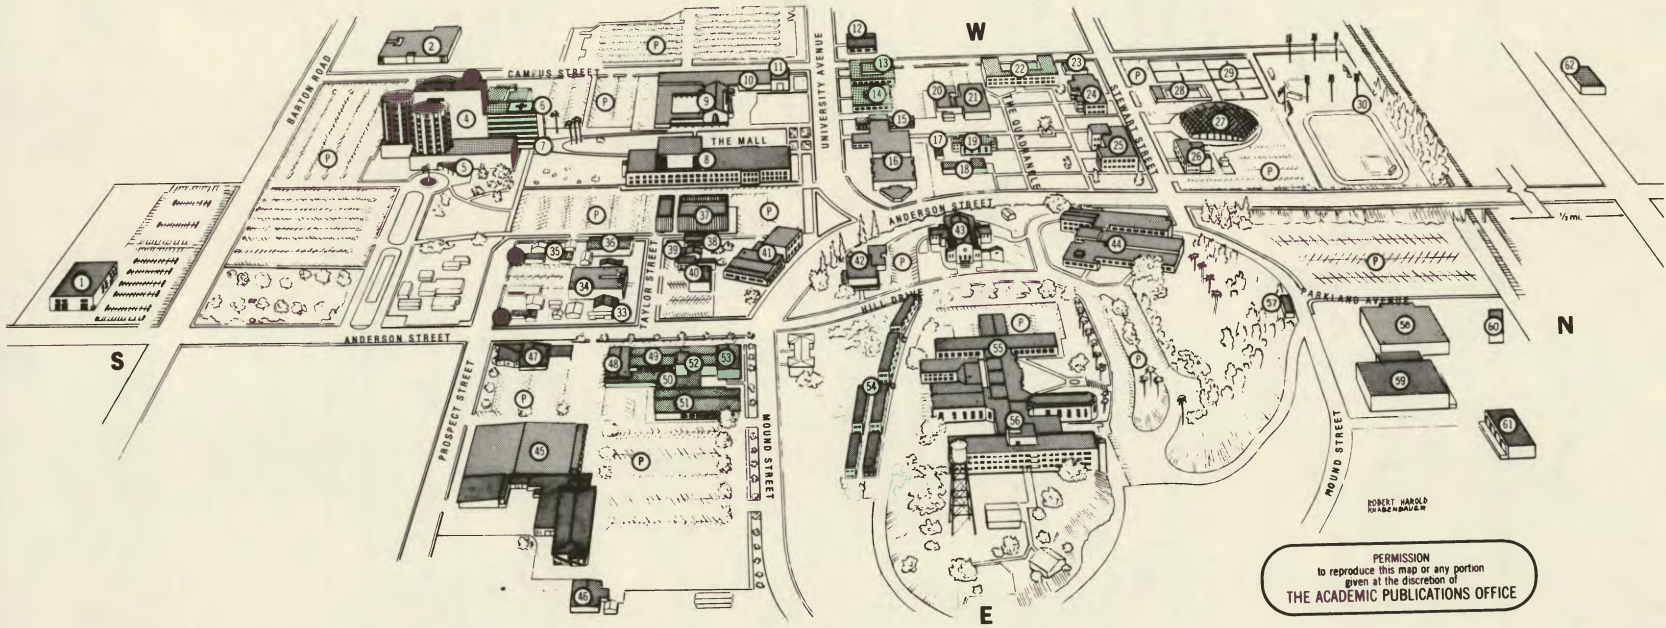

Workshops The Division of Religion cooperates with the various schools and departments of the University and with the denominational conference organization in sponsoring significant workshops for church leaders. Well-known experts join with the University faculty and denominational leaders in providing the instruction.

INSTRUCTIONAL COMPUTER

La Sierra campus The College of Arts and Sciences, in cooperation with the School of Education and the University Libraries, maintains an instructional computer system on the La Sierra campus. It is available without cost and easily accessible to Loma Linda University faculty, staff, and students for various educational activities. The system serves as a laboratory for the computer science major program and for classes in computer programming. The user has access to the system through any one of a dozen terminals in various buildings on campus. These terminals are as easy to use as a typewriter. The user essentially carries on a dialogue with the computer. The system's time-sharing capabilities permit several persons to use the computer simultaneously. The file processing system permits easy storage and retrieval of programs and data. An inexperienced user can easily do significant problem solving because the system software was designed with the novice in mind. The programming language — BASIC-PLUS — has the simplicity of the original Dartmouth college BASIC but is enhanced with many specialized features. These features provide the experienced user with the sophisticated tool for solving advanced problems. The computer is a PDP 11/40, manufactured by Digital Equipment Corporation (similar to those recently installed on the 19 campuses of the California State College system). The expandable system now is equipped with industry-compatible tape and disc drives, a plotter, and a document reader.

COMPUTER

Loma Linda campus The University maintains an extensive computer complex serving students and faculty in both academic and scientific functions. The facility consists of two major resources, both located in the Medical Center. Available facilities span the range from small-scale to large-scale systems. Particular emphasis has been given to providing real-time data acquisition and graphical output capabilities. An advanced and very powerful computing system has recently been installed to facilitate the modeling and simulation of complex systems. Programming aids are available to expedite the man-machine dialogue and to assist in applying the computer to the solution of problems in a variety of disciplines. An extensive program library serves many routine needs, but researchers are encouraged to write their own specialized programs for their own particular needs. Programming instruction and assistance are provided for this purpose.
