College Tea Room Is Redecorated

By Nancy Jane Warren

Am I in the right place—I can't be. I'm looking for the tea room, but I must have lost my way because instead of finding myself in the familiar surroundings of last year I find a beautiful new room. Don't you want to see it, too?

The walls are of blue and white striped wall paper with blue baseboards and window sills. The white ceilings add light to this sophisticated effect.

What? You want to know where the red comes in? Well, you're sitting on it—the seats of those "sharp" looking chairs are really red. The kitchen is as clean as always, but that new coat of paint makes it glisten.

Such a change is a revelation to us "old timers". If these freshmen only had known the decorations of last year they would be in a position to appreciate this change a great deal more. It really is going to be a get-together place from now on out.

College In Peace

THIS IS THE FIRST TIME in three and a half years that we can begin our college life knowing that we live in a world of peace. We at Madison—we Americans—should be grateful, for the ugly hand of war has not touched our shores as it has too many of our brother nations.

All will be lost if we forget the lessons of this, the bitterest struggle of history. One lesson that is applicable to us is the gift of freedom of education. Now that the tension of war is a thing of the past, each of us should pledge to ourselves to use the opportunity offered us.

How can we forget our boys who will never finish their education because they will never return? Can we forget those who gave up their educational years to fight for freedom? A freedom that has free education as a basis.

Will you be able to face the returning service man if you have not made the most of their gift to you? We can't afford to do haphazard work when our chance at an education has cost so much!

GIRL ABOUT CAMPUS—

(Editor's Note: For our Girl About Campus, we have asked the five major officers on campus to give us a hint of their activities for the coming year. This is for the freshmen and is a special hearty welcome for them!)

Lucia Zeigler, President Student Government Association—Are you feeling lost among so many new events? We all do, so ask one of our SGA girls to help you with your problem. We are anxious for you to become adjusted to your new life here. Our SGA is here to help you best in any way it can. Friendliness among all students has long been our custom.

Every student belongs to our Student Government Association upon her arrival on campus. The success of the organization depends on the attitude and actions of each girl. Living by our honor code, we may best accept our share of the responsibility. Let us make this year the very best year possible.

And don't forget to let us know if you need us!

Gayle Chowning, President Athletic Association—Each year as a new freshman class comes in, we wonder what it will contribute to Madison through the medium of sports. There is usually at least one or more outstanding athletes from each class. We'll all be watching to see who the new ones will be this year.

Now, more than ever, we want each girl on campus to take part in at least one of the major sports. For the first time in three years we hope to have varsity games. We are looking to our freshmen class to provide a great many of our future athletes.

Cordelia Robbins, Editor The Breeze—The major aim of the Breeze, as of all newspapers, is to bring the news to each student. We have another aim, too, and that is to be the link in the interchanging of ideas, and the bringing together of all the students and faculty.

The Breeze is the students' paper. And any suggestions, letters, or new talent from you, our new girls, are what makes the Breeze click. So, on Fridays when you receive your Breeze, remember it's your paper. We want you to take advantage of this and drop in the Breeze room if we can help you, or, if you can help us!

Jane Rudasill, Editor The Schoolma'am—The Schoolma'am staff is happy to welcome you to our campus, both because of the genuine fun and happiness which your arrival occasions us, and because of the possibility of finding talent among you which we could use. If you like to write or draw, to chase ads or take pictures, please let us know it right away, and we'll surely use you!

We're keeping the theme of our '46 yearbook a secret, for we want to surprise all of you next spring. But it's no secret that we want every single one of you represented in your Schoolma'am. So, please be sure to have your picture taken this fall!

Lucile Peak, President Y. W. C. A.—Just a word of welcome on behalf of the Y.W.C.A.! The Y.W.C.A. tries to tie us all together and to help us "carry our various Sundays with us throughout the week."

College Opens Camp Again

The college camp will be opened this year for the first time since the fall of 1942.

Summer school students used the camp this past term and plans are now being made for groups to use it during the coming year. Once again the college bus will be on call for any campus groups who make proper arrangements beforehand.

The camp is located thirteen miles from Harrisonburg, near Port Republic. Information about the camp may be had at the office of the Dean of Women.

GIRL ABOUT CAMPUS

"You go to your church, And I'll go to mine, But we'll walk along together!"

We sponsor Friday chapel, Sunday vespers, dorm devotions, social service work, and for the new girls, a special unit, The Freshman Commission. We hope you will become an active member of our organization.

Class Schedule For Entire Year With Time And Place Listed

Following the procedure of last year registration will be for the entire year, and there will be no general registration preceding the winter and spring terms. It is, therefore, important that each student be very careful in working out her program, as changes in either the general schedule or the individual programs will not be made except under the most unusual circumstances.

All course numbers will be found in the new catalog, copies of which will be available at the registration tables.

Every boarding student will receive registration instructions when she checks in the offices of the deans of women. Every day student must call at the registrar's office for instructions before beginning registration.
