The soil of course should be very deep for corn crop, but at no time, during the progress of its cultivation, should the root be broken or bruised by an implement of any sort. If the season is dry, the roots instinctively go down; this lessens the chance for coming in contact with them, and the crop may be worked without this danger during a dry season; but if the season is a wet one, the roots are apt to remain near the surface, and it is hard to find an implement which will not reach them; in this case, however, the damage is not so great because the moist soil enables the plant to throw out fresh rootlets and recuperate

To ensure a fair crop during a drought,

the farmer must work the corn constantly.

It is stirring the soil, which enables it to absorb all the moisture it can get from the atmosphere; and at the same time it creates a non-conductor on the surface, which causes the moisture brought up from the reservoir below by capillary attraction to be retained about the roots for the sustenance of the corn. Now if any one doubt this, we will ask them to dig a ditch in the hardest soil, about thirty feet long, and about eighteen inches deep and wide. The earth thrown out of the ditch, pulverize, and return to its former place. Go to that ditch in the course of five or six days, and with a stick remove six or eight inches of the surface dirt, You will then see moisture enough in that earth to sustain almost any plant, and the farther you go down the more moist the pulverized soil will be found. At the same time, observe the hard sides of the ditch; there you will see no evidence of moisture whatever. This hard earth is a rapid conductor; while the pulverized is verized earth is supplied with its moisture

by the rapid conducting powers of the hard

Work the corn then incessantly if possible during a dry season. We do not of course mean to say a first-rate crop of corn will be mode by it; but we do say, a good average saving crop will be made. There is a little thing we must mention, though somewhat irrelevant. If corn is broken off and not pulled up by the roots when thinned, the root left is equal to the destruction of that hill of corn. It will not only produce an ear of corn itself, but generally it causes the other stalk, or stalks, to produce

THE OLD HOMESTEAD.

Ah f here it is, that dear old place, Ahf here it is, that dear old place,
Unchanged through all these years;
How like some sweet familiar face
My childhood home appears.
The grand old trees beside the door,
Still spread their branches wide;
The river wanders as of yore,
With sweetly murmuring tide;
The distant hills look green and gray,
The flowers blooming wild,
And everything looks glad to-day,
As when I was a child.

Regardless, now the years had flown,
Half wondering I stand,
I catch no fond, endearing tone,
I clasp no friendly hand;
I think my mother's smile to meet,
I list my father's call,
I pause to hear my brother's feet
Come bounding through the hall;
But silence all around me reigns,
A chill creeps through my heart—
No trace of those I love remains,
And tears unbidden start.

What though the sumbeams fall as fair,
What though the budding flowers
Still shed their fra rance on the air,
With life's golden hours;
The loving ones that cluster here.
These wa is may not restore;
Voices that filled my yeuthful ear
Will greet my soul no more;
And yet I quit the dear old place
With slow and lingering tread;
As when we kiss a clay cold face
And leave it with the dead.

The Influence of Bad Company.

One day Robert's father saw him playing with some boys who were rude, anmannerly. He had observed for some time a change for the worse in his son, and now he knew the cause. He was very sorry; but he said nothing to Robert at the time.

In the evening he brought from the garden six rosy-cheeked apples, put them on a plate, and presented them to Robert. He was much pleased at his father's kindness, and thanked him. 'You must lay them aside for a few days, that they may become mellow,' said the father; and Robert placed the plate with the apples in his mother's store-room. Just as he was putting them aside, his father laid on the plate a seventh apple, which was quite rotten, and desired him to allow it to remain there.

New Treatment for Small-Pox.

A new method of treating the small-pox is just now attracting the attention of the medical fraternity, and has more special interest to the public at large from the fact that the utility of vaccination is being sharply questioned. The new remedy is the use of the drug hydrastic canadensis, which has been em ployed in the treatment of various dis eases, both in local and internal administration, and which is said to exert extraordinary power over small-pox, in modifying the disease, abolishing its distressing symptoms, shortening its course, lessening its danger, and generally miti gating its consequences. The plant called hydrastis canadensis is found in many parts of the United States, and its tinoture is made and sold for medical purposes. The plant is popularly called the orange root, and sometimes called yellow puccoon, but it must not be confounded with another plant commonly called puccoon. A physician in Sioux City, Iowa, uses an ointment made of charcoal and lard to prevent pitting in small-pox This is applied freely over the surface of the face, neck and hands as soon as the disease is distinguished, and continued until all symptoms of suppurative fever have ceased. The application allays the itching, and seems to shorten the duration of the disease and leaves the patient without a blemish, the eruption protected by the gintment and not even showing signs of pustulation, the charcoal preventing the action of light and lard that of air.

JOHN GATEWOOD, BDITORS.

HARRISONBURG, VA.

Wednesday, - - - July 19, 1871 THE N. Y. RIOT.

In another column of to-day's paper the reader will find an account of the bloody riot in New York on the 12th instant.

The intelligent reader need not be informed that this riot, primarily, was the offspring of an o'd and bitter feud between two classes of Irishmen, the Orangemen and the Ribbonmen-the former representing the Protestant and the latter the Catholic element of that inflammable people.

The proposed celebration by the Orange lodges of New York and other cities was in commemoration of the victory won in 1690 by William of Orange over James II on Irish soil. This tend, therefore, involves both religious and political principles, and there seems to have been no abatement of the mutual hatred between the parties. Both parties have perpetuated their animosities by menacing demonstrations and appeals to passion and prejudice. Through their Orange Lodges, Hibernian Societies, and public processions, the fire has been kept burning, and is as intense in its consuming fervor to-day as it was a century ago.

With the right or propriety, on the part of these feuds, to transfer their quarrel from Ireland to this country, we have nothing to do. We cannot undertake to settle the to teke a more comprehensive view as an American citizen, regardless of the controversy.

When the Mayor of New York, through his Superintendent of Police, issued his order prohibiting the Orange lodges from making any public demonstration in the streets of that city, for the alleged reason that a riot might, and probably Hoffman had not intertered, by revoking the order and summoning the military power of the State for the protection of the Orangemen, and all others who might see proper to parade the streets, provided there were no infractions of law, there is no telling where the trouble would have ended. The feud between these parties, in all its bitterness, would indeed have been transfered to our soil, and would ere long have entered as an element in our municipal and State elections and controlled to some extent the administration of our laws.

The proclamation of Gov. Hoffman was most opportune, and was based upon the true principle. It guaranteed protection to all, as a matter of right, and not because of the peculiar religious or political views held by the parties. Orangemen and Ribbonmen, Protestants and Catholics, were commanded to can people would be safe in his for some time, impressing on his hearabstain from any riotous proceeding hands." They also resolved, that to rely on the authorities for protection. and all good citizens were called upon to aid the civil and military authorities to preserve the peace.

Under the provisions of the Ku K!ux bill enacted by Congress, the Governor might have called upon the President for troops to aid him in preserving the peace, and thus inaugurated a conflict with the mu nicipal and State authorities, the result of which would have been terrible, and its political influence disastrous alike to the rights of the States and the most sacred privileges of the people. It will be remembered that Gen. Grant and his party claimed the right, under the law referred to, to send U. S. troops to New York, at the late municipal | part of the county of Rockbridge, elections, ostensibly for the protection of the ballot-box against fraud or violence; and all this before any infraction of law had taken place, and in the face of the fact that the local authorities possessed ample resources for maintaining the peace and securing the freedom of the ballot to all classes of voters.

These straws indicate whither we are drifting, under the rule of the party in power, and suggest to the enemies of despotism, in all its phases, that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

POISONING CASE.

On Thursday last great excitement was created in Baltimore by the revelation of facts of a startling character, implicating the widow of the late Major Henry Wharton in a most diabolical and fiendish case of poisoning.

On the 23d ult. Gen. Wm. S. Ketchum, of Washington City, visited Baltimore and became the guest of Yrs. Wharton. Next day Gen. Ketchum was taken suddenly ill afer partaking of a meal, was attended by Drs. Williams and Chew. and died on the 28th. Mr. Eugene Van Ness, a citizen of Baltimore, also visited Mrs. Wharton on the 24th, and drank a glass of beer which she gave him. He was immediately taken very ill, but survived, after a severe attack.

A post mortem analysis of Gen. K's stomach disclosed the presence of 20 grains of tartar emetic. This quantity remained after continual vomitings. It appears from the evidence that Mrs Wharton had purchased a considerable quantity of tartar emetic from a druggist.

These facts led to the arrest of Mrs. Wharton, and she has since been retained as a prisoner in her own house, in deference to her high social position.

It is said that Mrs. Wharton was indebted to Gen. Ketchum in the sum of two or three thousand dollars, and that he needed it and was there for the purpose of collecting it. It is also understood that Mrs. Wharton had made arrangements for a trip to Europe, and was to have started about the time of the poisoning. Whether she be innocent or guilty, these circumstances are strongly against her, and it is difficult to see how she can avoid being convicted.

On Saturday last, in the Criminal Court of Baltimore, Judge Gilmer presiding, after hearing the evquestion of right or wrong between idence, the grand jury came in with them. Our purpose is to deal with two presentments against Mrs. E. these questions, not from a Pro'es. C. Wharton—the first for "feloni-, of 41 o'clock. tant or a Catholic stand-point, but ously, wilfully, and with malice of the Orangemen, corner Twenty-ninth aforethought, killing and murder- street and Eight avenue, about 2 o'clock ing Gen. After the reading of the indictments, Mrs. Wharton was put in ernor Hoffman's) hands. General Shaler would, result from it, he committed | custody of the sheriff, by whom she | asked their probable strength, and was a vehicle provided for her accommodation, accompanied by her daughter. She seemed to manifest no excitement or trepidation at this sudden change in her designs, from her contemplated visit to Europe to a felon's cell. She protests her innocence, and says she procured the tartar emetic for the purpose of making a plaster for her breast,

We learn from a dispatch from Lexington, that the additional sub cription of $125,000 to the capital stock of the Valley Railroad, on the was carried by a large majority on Saturday last. It will be remembered that Rockbridge had previously subscribed $400,000 to this

THE RIOT IN NEW YORK

Terrible Scenes on Eighth Avenue. From the New York Evening Commercial Advertiser of Wednesday we glean the following particulars of the riot not received by telegraph, and given in extras of that paper up to the hour

ren. Mr. Gardoer said he had been down to Mott street and saw Governor Hoffman, who was then making out the ed a full military escort. He wishes them to march as close as possible, in a body, and not to straggle about. If they would do this and not violate the law they need fear no danger. Governor Haffman advised them to be peaceable, and le ve the protection in his (Govresolved to remain at home, but there would be about 1,000 out to-day. He asked them not to carry banners, but the proposition could not be entertained by the members. Music and banners they would have at any price, or they would not join in the procession. Gen. Shaler, in conclusion, said: 'We'll, you can carry what you please.' A resolution of thanks was then proposed by Mr. Burten, and seconded by Mr. Askins, as follows: 'That the thanks of this Order be publicly given to Gov. Hoffman and General Shaler for their protestion during the day 'This was received with great enthusiasm and cheers. Three cheers was then given for Gov. Randolph, and three cheers for the stars and stripes. After this the banner, "American Freeman, fall in I" was presented in the room by Mr. Thomas to any Protestant who would like to join their procession. The master then proceeded to exhort the brothers to keep or insults when on the march. If any brother leave his place in the ranks or known to the Irish Catholics, and he was requested not to go out, for if he did there would surely be a riot. Mr. Thomas Bennett then offered up a prayer for the divine protection on this great

A question soon arose concerning the ladies present. The ladies were not afraid, and wished to parade also, or go in a stage; but on this being put to vote, was lost. They then agreed to go to their homes and await the results of the

Before the march, the Twenty-second fell in line on Eighth avenue, and commenced to lead their muskets, with ball. The boyonets glistened beautifully in the burning sun, as the deadly missiles were driven to their position. This produced a great sensation among the crowd, who thought the soldiers intended to 'clear the way.' Things were a very serious aspect at this time, and several fights commenced. One rather serious, occurred on the opposite side of the way from where the Orangemen met, in which the police freely used their batons on the heads of the offenders. Another fight occurred on Twenty-sixth street, which was also serious. Governor Hoffman, who had been expected, drove up the avenue in a carriage, accompanied by several other officials, as our reporter hurried away.

Eighth avenue looked very beautiful notwithstanding the dark appearance around. The soldiers, two deep, lined a thousand policemen present. The pavements, windows, and every inch of room was occupied by a dense crowd. The order of much was through Eighth avenue and Fourteenth street to Union Square, there to salute the monuments, then down Fourth avenue to Cooper Institu'e, returning by way of Broadway, Fifth avenue, and Thirty-fourth street to Eighth avenue. LATER. The Orange procession formed on Eighth avenue, corner of Twenty-eighth street, and, guarded by the police, marched down Eighth avenue. They were attacked twice by the mob, but the police showed a bold front and drove the riotors before them on the double quick, clubbing and arresting a great many of

At the corner of Twenty-third street and Eighth avenue they made another attack, and were in such numbers that the Eighty fourth regiment were obliged to fire on them.

It is not known how many are wounded, as the firing was very indiscriminate. A messenger was immediately dispatched w.th the news to the central office, when the Superintendent ordered the remainder of the police to take the stages and cabs and start at once for that point.

ADDITIONAL. About one hundred Orangemen assembled at the corner of Twenty-ninth street and Eighth avenue, at which point the military, consisting of the Seventh, twenty second, Eighty-fourth, and other regiments, concentrated. At 2½ o'clock the procession filed into Eighth avenue. They had proceeded no more than twenty paces when pistol shots were fired from windows, but no notice was taken of it until Twenty-fourth street was reached, when the column halted.

At this mement stones and pistol shots came from roofs and windows. Simultaneously a fusilade of musketry was fired from a platoon of the Eightyfourth regiment, aiming at windows and the crowd in Twenty-lourth street. In stantly a stampede of the crowd took place toward Broadway.

At this moment, after the ground was cleared, the bodies of six men and one woman were seen dead, one of them in his last agonies, an arm moving, and blood running in the gutter. THE VERY LATEST-COLLISION WITH THE

The procession started quietly, but in few minutes a dense mass of men formed in Twenty-ninth street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, and attempted to force their way through the ranks of the police.

About one hundred officers charged the mob, and by a free use of their clubs drove the mob half a block. Firing then commenced on both sides.

One policeman was instantly killed, Three Hibernians and a woman and boy were futally wounded, and taken to Mount Sinai Hospital.

Several others of the riotors were rounded with bullet and club wounds. It was reported that the Sixth regi ment (German) had fired upon the mobbut we could not ascertain the trath of the rumor. Several wounded riotors with bloody faces and torn clothes could be seen all along Seventh and Eighth avenues. The number of the wounded could not be learned, as they were removed by their friends and sheltered in the neighboring houses. Many innocent persons, who happened to be in twenty-ninth street were clubbed by the police.

LATEST REPORT OF THE CASUALTIES AND a grave mistake; and if Governor was conveyed to the city prison, in day's proclamation, a great number had M.—The following is the latest report of

The grand jury proposes to indict the rioters for murder, and the utterers of incendiary speeches as accessories. The deaths so far are fifty six. More of the wounded will die. The regiments are still quarreling over the question of which fired uselessly. Two more of the wounded in the late riot are dead.

There is no question of the excellent behavior of the police. Their conduct is universally praised. Second Dispatch.

New York, July 14.—The funeral's of the victims of the riots buried to-day were attended by the Hibernians in tull regalia. There was no disturbance.

The militia officers are still quarreling over the responsibility for the unnecessary use of fire-arms.

Also, at Shenandoah Iron Works, in Page county; New Market, Edinburg, &c., in Shenandoah

On motion, the above committees were requested to invite the co-operation and assistance of all ladies of their acquaintance in their respective neighborhoods in favor of the cause.

On motion, a committee was appointed to solicit contributions from the different Fire Insurance Companies represented in our town, through their authorized agents.

On metion, it was resolved that the committee at its next meeting, on Wednesday evening, designate the time at which the Fair shall be beld.

We learn from the Enterprise, of the 14th inst., that the Fair Committee of the Company, held another meeting on Wednesday evening, the 12 h of July, "and determined to hold the Fair on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the 12th, 13th and 14th days of October next. The committee talk of providing a fine gold watch, to be voted to the best looking young lady in the three counties of Augusta, Rockingham and Shenandoah. Also, a set of fine chamber furniture and a fine top-buggy to be disposed of during the Fair. We hope all our citizens will take an active interest in this matter. The members are determined, if possible, to pay for their engine and erect a hall worthy of the company and the town. This call upon the people should be liberally met and supported, and the Fair made a success beyond anything of the kind ever before held in Harrisonburg." This is a most excellent Company, and is composed of some of our best young men, and the energy displayed by them ever since the organization of their Company, evinces a meritorious spirit, and one which we hope will be appreciated by our citizens and shown by their patronage toward the getting up and carrying through of the Fair. All are interested deeply in our fire depart. ment, and should not look alone to our cor- Elk Run porate authorities to provide everything Plains necessary to protect us from the ravages of | Linville

THE OLD COMMONWEALTH. put fourth, we feel assured it will be a suc cess in all particulars. We deem it almost unnersary to bespeak for this enterprise the encouragement and support of all our cit's zens, and more especeally property owners. To the latter it is a matter o greatest importance to have we'll equipped Fire Compa nies in our town, and the reasons are so manifold as to require no argument.

Then, let there be a united co-operation apon the part of all concerned, "a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull all together,' and the great object sought will be accomplished easily. Every shoulder to the wheel.

The Enterprise charges the Shenandoah Democrat man with getting the spirit of his editorials from Harrisonburg. How is it? Monday last was county court day .-There were not very many severeigns in to"n. Cause, too busy at home.

Every issue of our town papers have about a half dezen or more calls for different persons to announce themselves for the House of Delegates, or become candidates for Corporation effices. Who is the Coming Man?' We have had enough of impracticable calls, indicating the choice of a few individuals, who do the calling. Let us have something real, or else 'shut up.'

The Independent Hose Company of Harrisonburg have concluded to hold their great Fair on the 12th, 13th & 14th days of October next. A grand time is anticipated, and we wish that their bighest hopes may be realized. A very large committee of ladies and gentlemen are booked to solicit contributions, and if a reasonable number of responses are made, there can be no doubt but this Fair will be a big thing.

Maj. Jed. Hotchkiss, and a number of other gentlemen, who were present at the State Educational Convention in Winchester, passed up the Valley last Thursday evening. They report the Convention as a very pleasant meeting of those who feel a deep interest in this important subject, and expect much go d to result from the deliberations of the body. They speak in the highest terms of their kind treatment at the hands of the people of Winchester.

We noticed a consi lerable disposition evinced by our people, who were in town on Monday, to talk politics. These discussions amongst the people are ominous of an exciting legislative canvass in this county this

All articles offered by the auctioneers on Monday sold at low prices. Money is scarce, and that fact alone accounts for the great amount of bawling necessary to be done to get smallest things to go.

The prespect for a good crop of corp in this county is now considered very good. Mr. W. L. Kendrick, of the firm of Price, Willis & Co., Alexaudria, was in town Monday. He was seeking trade, and from what we saw, suprose he got a fair show.

Our farmers will probably hold back most of their wheat for a higher market. There is not much disposition to sell at present rates. They should have a tall price for produce, considering the present ra'e of taxes and other expenses.

The tax-gatherers are after the people, with pockets gaping for more greenbacks. Truly our government-State and Federal -have become very expensive business .-which ever way you may go you will find some fellow with saddle-bags over his shoulder 'going for you.' Oh, for the days of 'Auld Lang Syne.'

The fight which was to have come off on Morday, did not take place. No reason given.

There is some valuable property advertised for sale in the Commonwealth this week. See the advertisements-for we bet some body will make a fortune by so doing one of these days. Bargains are now offered. Look to your interest.

There is great activity in travel now .-The stages, etc., come and go crewded with people seeking the invigorating breezes of our climate, and our refreshing mountain

The probabilities are that the present hot weather, if it should continued will be productive of a 'beated term.'

Our business men who advertise are the most successful. 'A word to the wise,' &c. Harrisonburg was very quiet on Monday. No arrests.

THE COMMONWELTH VS. THE CITY OF HARRISONBURG -John Paul, Esq., as Attorney for the Commonwealth, applied to Julge Turner for a rule against the Corpo. ration of Harrisonburg to show cause why the writ of mandamus should not issue against them to compel J. L. Sibert, Benj. E. Long and D. M. Switzer to desist from building-as alleged-on the public square of Harrisonburg. The rule was issued and made returnable before his Honor, at Front Royal, on Monday last.

In rendering his decision, the Judge was of the opinion that, because of the limited character of the power and duties of the Commonwealth's Attorney and of the necessity for a Relator who would be responsible for the litigation, that this proceeding could not continue in the name of the Commonwealth's Attorney, and that the Rule be discharged.

A sloop yacht, name unknown, was capsized and sunk in the bay; one man was drowned. A brig was struck by lightning and set on fire; dameges slight; no one killed. Byrd Convicted of Bigamy.

[Special Telegram to the Dispatch 7

Alexandria, July 14, 1871 .- The trial of Thomas R. Byrd, who was arrested in Richmond several weeks ago for bigamy, was concluded in the Corporation Court of Alexandria this evening. The defence set up was that the so-called Washington marriage of the accused had not been proven; but, notwithstanding the able arguments of Messrs. Kilgour and Ball, the jury, shortly after the closing speech of Mr. Smoot, Commonwealth's Attorney, brought in a verdict of guilty, sentencing Byrd to three years' imprisonment. The case has attracted a great deal of attention, and much sympathy was evinced for the prisoner.

THE STATE PUBLIC SCHOOLS-ANOTHER APPORTIONMENT .- On the 15th of July (to-day) the State Superintendent of Public Instruction will apportion among all of the except Norfolk and Portsmouth, $81,000.— There are in the Commonwealth, between the ages of five and twenty-one years, 404,-982 persons, who constitute what is known as the school population. The preposed apportionment will give twenty cents per head for each person in a county or city, between the ages named. Hence Richmond, with 17,382, will receive a fraction over $8,400. and Henrico, with a school population of 3,908, nearly $600. Norfolk and Ports mouth have not complied with the require. ments of the school law, and hence their exclusion for the present from the benefits of the apportionment. Northampton was in the same dilemma until recently. All the counties of the State have been heard from except E izabeth City, Warwick Richmond, Westmoreland, Nansemond, and Powhatan, and the vote on the county tax stands: For, 69; against, 24

CHICAGO, July 14.—The Prescott (Arizona) Miner, of June 24th, gives the following particulars of the slaughter of fifty-six Apache Indians at a point near Tonto creek, in that territory. The cause of the slaughter was the killing of Bowers & Co.'s herdsman and the capture of that herd by the Apaches. The Indians had no sooner obtained possession of the herd than a messenger was dispatched to convey the news of the outrages to Prescott. On receipt of the news a party of sixteen citizens started in pursuit. After proceeding fifty-five miles they met a detachment of the Third Cavalry, under Lieut. Charles M. Morton, likewise in pursuit of the Indians. The citizens joined the force under Lieut. Morton, and the journey was resumed with fresh vigor. After proceeding twenty miles the party went into camp at a late bour in the evening. On the morning of the 8th they again took up the trail, which they followed for twenty miles, and at 1 o'clock P. M. came upon the rancheria, which they quickly surrounded, killing twenty-one of the inmates. Feeling satisfied that there were numerous Indians in the neighborhood, and determined they should have the least possible time to prepare for battle or effect a retreat, the command moved quickly forward in search of another rancheria. This they discovered on the following day, after crossing the divide between Verde and Fort Creek, A fight at once ensued, in which twenty-three Indians were killed. From this place they followed the princi pal trail for three miles, when they discovered three Indians in the distance. mounted on two horses, two of whom were shot dead and the third wounded. The aupply of provisions being by this time nearly exhausted, and the distance of Camp McDowell, the nearest military post, upwards of fifty miles, it was decided to abandon further pursuit and return at once. The command accordingly took up the homeward journey, arriving at Camp McDowell on the morning of the 12th.

THE POTATO BUG. - This destructive pest, it is stated, is playing hayor with the potato crcp about Falls Church, Va. The bug is an insect perhaps five-eighths of an inch long, with a hernet-like head and neck, color generally dark brown, with yellow stripes running lengthwise with the body body strong, and legs well adapted to scam pering; has wings, but they do not appear to be of any use. It attacks a hill of rota-toes in considerable numbers, and soon strips the stalks of all their foliage. These bugs rapidly. When the bugs have eaten the leaves from a hill, they 'go marching on' to another. Strike the stakes of a hill where the pests are eating, and they drop down on the ground and scamper off in diverging ways.
