“To every thing there is a season,

Foreword

Olivet started the 1961-62 school year with a new, clean, and different slate. "What will we do with it?" "How will we use it?" "What will we gain by it?" These and many other questions were in the minds and hearts of the students, faculty members, and administrators when school started in September of 1961.

1961-62 has had its season, its time, and its purpose. The season has been filled with many opportunities: social activities, lyceum programs, lectures, classes, and revivals. The time has been marked by the building of Willingham Hall. This year has had its purpose too: a Christian Education. We have not always been conscious of this purpose, or at any time fully realized it, but five, ten, twenty years from now it will be evident as we look back through the events of this year.

In Ecclesiastes 3:1 we read "To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose." In the 1962 AURORA we have tried by means of pictures, captions, and write-ups to help you, the reader, to find and recall the TIME, SEASON, and PURPOSE of 1962 at Olivet.

Dedication

Now is the time to give honor to one who is very deserving: a Christian who has dedicated her life to service at Olivet, not for reward or applause, but to answer God's call to service in Christian education.

In the fall of 1939, after a short absence spent in graduate study, she returned to Olivet to serve as a history teacher in the high school department and to be head librarian of the college. Since that day she has had many responsibilities: an officer of the Alumni Association, teacher of history, a member of various committees, a counselor of students, and director of a fast growing library. These and many other duties have made up her life of service at Olivet.

Because of your sincere devotion to the college, to the church, and to the guidance of students we proudly dedicate the 1962 AURORA to you Miss Ruth E. Gilley.

Student Life

After arriving on campus in September, and plodding through orientation and registration, we settled down to a year of study and activity. There seemed to be activities to fit everyone's every desire and mood. The annual all-school Halloween party with the theme "The House of Bugaboo," was as horrifying and as funny as it traditionally is. Following close behind was the Christmas Party with the theme of "Ye Olde Yuletide," suggestive of the nineteenth century.

Social entertainments add to the enjoyment of a college education and play an important part in a student's life. In the following pages you will find a capsule report of the year's events and activities which will reveal why each Olivet student is captivated by the academic and social life on the O.N.C. campus.

Spring of 61

"Young Lincoln"

by Wilbur Braun

The Speech Club presented the three-act play, Young Lincoln, to the students and the general public on May 5 and 6 at the Bradley High School. In producing the play much trouble and time were devoted to locating antiques and costumes to be used in the play, so that authenticity of the time could be effected.

Byron White and Gail Zea played the starring roles of Abe Lincoln and Ann Rutledge. Ned Long and Karen Mullenax played in the supporting roles of Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge.

A prologue, taking the audience to "Abe's" childhood, began the play. The play featured the influence of the Rutledges on young Lincoln in running for political office and Abe's suffering over Ann's death.

Dr. Brown and Professor Beeman directed the play with the assistance of Carol Davidson, student director, and Paul Springer, the production manager.

"Why, Mr. Rutledge someone knocked at the door, but there weren't nobody there," says the maid (Donna Morris) to Mr. Rutledge (Ned Long).

Waiting to send a Negro slave to the "Underground Railroad," Abe Lincoln houses her overnight.

"The folks from town are gathering outside the house: they want to see Lincoln," Sam (George Dunn) excitedly tells John Rutledge.

Constructive Party members busy themselves making party buttons and favors to be passed out at the beginning of the campaign.

Tags handed out at the chapel door added to the feeling of excitement already started by the posters which were hanging on every available space on campus. These signs were indications of the work of party members the night before—members who faithfully supported their party throughout the campaign. The chapel hour intensified the excitement as campaign managers introduced their party platforms and their party candidates. Rallies augmented the rising enthusiasm. The night before election day, cars lined up in parade to lift enthusiasm to a climax. On election day excited voters crowded the polls to cast their votes. Secretaries counted and published the results. For the first time in many years all three offices were filled by the same party. The Vision party candidates won: Preston Figge, President; Jasper DeVidal, Treasurer; and Arlene Milner, Secretary.

Shocked, but happy, and with a genuine sense of responsibility for leadership Preston and the other elected candidates stressed as their goal unity in areas of campus life through understanding and organization.

“Moments to Remember”

Plans and ideas permeated the air as the Junior-Senior Banquet date approached. The Junior hosts sent invitations to the Seniors, revealing the place—The South Shore Country Club in Chicago, and the occasion—formal.

The usual romantic emphasis given to such an occasion was abandoned to give opportunity for all members to attend. Questionnaires, with questions such as: “Are you humble?” and “Do you believe George Baker looks like Yul Brenner?” were sent to all the members of both classes. An IBM machine matched couples from the results.

At the banquet, these couples ate filet mignon and afterwards were entertained by a quartet, a piano solo, and by a speech directed to the Seniors by Rev. King, Chaplain of the Cook County Jail. At a “post party” in the Universe, decorated with a floral and garden arrangement, Linda Swartz emceed, Holland Lewis prophesied, Professor Walmsley practiced mental telepathy, George Baker sang “Exodus,” and a women’s trio sang “Moments to Remember.”

Those attending the banquet and the post party felt that they had enjoyed an evening to be added to their “moments to remember.”

"It was a perfect Trip!" was the opinion of all who went on the Senior Trip to Starved Rock State Park, May 22-24, 1961. Wanting the outing to be inexpensive, so that many could go, the Seniors decided to take advantage of one of Illinois' own scenic spots on the Illinois River—Starved Rock.

What made the trip "perfect"? One who went gave the answer: "The weatherman cooperated, with three beautiful, sunny days. The trip was just long enough for recreational activities, for relaxation, and good fellowship; and short enough that no one became bored or tired. The food and service received from the Starved Rock employees were first class. The cabins in which the Seniors stayed were nicely furnished and modern. Professor Murray and his wife were the perfect class sponsors (as voted at the end of the trip). They were real pals."

The most treasured memory of the trip, for many, was the early-morning hour of meditation and praise on top of Starved Rock. From this high vantage point it seemed as if they were alone with God. It was a warm, heart-lifting experience.

Speaking directly to the graduates in his Baccalaureate Address, Dr. Harold Reed said: "I know that you have committed your lives to Christ without reserve. However, I would like to further strengthen your faith in this important hour of decision." He then outlined ten "timeless truths relevant for today and tomorrow" taken from the Sermon on the Mount.

The Annual Sermon, given by Dr. Timothy L. Smith, chairman of the History Department at East Texas State University, centered around the story of the two thieves at the Cross of Calvary. "The true solution of the problem of sin is in the Cross," was the dominant thought of his address.

"Only a gospel which is the power of God unto salvation can meet the drift of materialism and secularism of the present age," Dr. W. T. Purkiser, editor of the Herald of Holiness, told the 135 graduates at the 48th Annual Commencement Exercises. He challenged the graduates: "Your faith is yet to be tested; this is not the end, it is the beginning. It is not the goal, it is the point of departure."

Summer at Olivet

Three-hundred and thirty-eight students attended Olivet's summer school last summer and forty-eight attended the post session.

Relaxation is not forgotten in summer school. A Social Committee comprised of students and faculty members planned week-end events which included such activities as miniature golf, a watermelon feed, and a faculty-student talent program. Closer fellowship was possible because of the smaller number of students.

During the summer, campus workmen were busy with general repairing and redecorating of buildings and classrooms. The dining hall was remodeled and supplied with new equipment. Improvements on Birchard Field House were made, including better shower facilities for women; a new parking area was opened, and construction was started on the new residence hall for men.

Olivetians travel abroad

"Catch it, somebody!" But the European travelers find that it was built that way.

On Saturday, June 24, twenty-three members of the Olivet Nazarene College European Tour Group, led by Dean W. E. Snowbarger, took off from Idlewild Airport on a K L M Royal Dutch Airline plane for a seven week study tour of thirteen countries of Europe. They visited such places of interest as Westminster Abbey, British Museum, Roman remains in Chester, the Ducal Palace in Venice, the Petti Palace in Florence, and St. Peter's Cathedral at Rome. In addition to the many cultural experiences, they visited the birthplace of David Livingstone and much of the area that is associated with the life of John Wesley. They were guests of British Isles Nazarene College and some of the Nazarene Churches of Britain. They contacted and worshipped with Nazarenes in London, Germany, and Italy. The group returned to New York on August 11. Those that took the tour for credit earned up to six semester hours.

Orientation

Receptions—Acquaintances—Test

Dick Warner and Sharon Earle become acquainted with Olivet's Dr. Leist.

Meeting fellow "green" Freshmen can be fun, and enlightening.

Bob Mitchell's interview with Beth Phillips proved to be humorous, and somewhat embarrassing.

Freshmen found that there was always plenty of punch, cookies, and brownies on hand to appease their appetites.

"Welcome Olivetians" were the words written on the pamphlet given to each new freshman at the beginning of the Orientation program. And following the welcome was written: "Adjustment to the college time table and the ways of life away from home proves to be difficult for many students. It is our hope to make this process as nearly painless as possible. The activities of this week are designed to help you become acquainted with the people, the services, and the procedures that are here to help you succeed in college. The tests are administered to help us know you better, so that we may counsel you more intelligently. Your best effort on each test will give the most reliable information and thus enable us to give you the best possible service."

Nine groups were formed to take tests, auditions for the musical groups, and sittings for Aurora pictures. Along with the "drudgery" of orientation, the freshmen had opportunity to acquaint themselves with the college, its student leaders, and faculty. Recreation periods were scheduled, with softball and swimming gaining the highest interest. Dispersed throughout the three days of activity were the lectures "You and Your Health" by Dr. W. T. Hodges, "Financing Your Education" by Alyn Fletcher, and "What's College All About" by Dr. W. E. Snowbarger. On Thursday of Orientation Week Dr. Reed addressed the freshmen on "The Difference" of education at Olivet. After the lecture he held in the Universe a reception for the freshmen.

The activities came to a conclusion Sunday, at College Church with the freshmen providing the choir and Rev. Nash giving the annual welcoming message.

Dr. and Mrs. Reed take pleasure in greeting Olivet's new students.

Registration

Counselors . . . Signatures

"But why do I have to take Personal Development?" Prof. Slagg explains the course requirements to a new Freshman.

Mr. Fletcher, Comptroller, explains method of payment to a student.

The instruction first heard on Registration Day was, "Obtain forms in main foyer of Burke Administration Building." Instructions from that time on were found in the packets along with the forms. The directions required several stops and the signing of many cards. Recital Hall was the place where the student spent most of his time on registration day. There, although at first glance it looked like a place of mass confusion, the student received personal counselling to guide him in his selection of courses. Although sometimes he was slowed down in process of registration by standing in lines, closing of classes, and the signing of cards, he usually reached the last station where his cards were stamped "Approved by Registrar" in less than two hours.

This fall, 1036 went through the registration process—upperclassmen on Saturday, September 9, and the Freshmen on Monday, September 11.

Relaxation

"Bull-session" . . . coffee . . . rolls

A hot roll and a cup of coffee following chapel provide for a pleasing recess.

The hard-working college student seldom finds time to indulge in one of his more favorite recreations on campus—relaxation. However, when the necessary time can be found, he can relax by listening to records on the stereo, playing jokes on unsuspecting victims, chewing the rag with friends, sleeping in class, or more commonly, having a "Pepsi" in the Universe. For the more energetic student there is basketball, baseball, swimming, and other physical activities.

Devotional relaxation can be found in the regular Sunday and Wednesday evening services, by attending Prayer Band from 6:15 to 7:00 in the evening, and in private devotions, either in the individual's room or in the conveniently located dorm prayer rooms.

For most students, life is so busy that some relaxation is a physical and psychological necessity.

Study . . . Research

In Memorial Library

The Memorial Library is frequented by students in search of information, books, and solitude for study.

Whether searching for research material, browsing for books to read for enjoyment, or studying, many Olivetians make daily use of the Memorial Library. There are two spacious reading rooms and there are individual carrels near the open stacks located on each floor. There is a typing room where students may type notes from reference books, periodicals, or other materials. A music room provides an opportunity for students to hear recordings and to study the scores at the same time. Other features for our enjoyment are the art displays, periodicals, and filmstrips.

The library is efficiently operated by the staff of librarians, Ruth Gilley, Adeline Van Antwerp, Joyce Cox, and Mrs. Isenberg. The duties of filing, checking out books, collecting fines, and reshelving books fall to student assistants.

ONC library is one of the best among colleges of ONC's size.

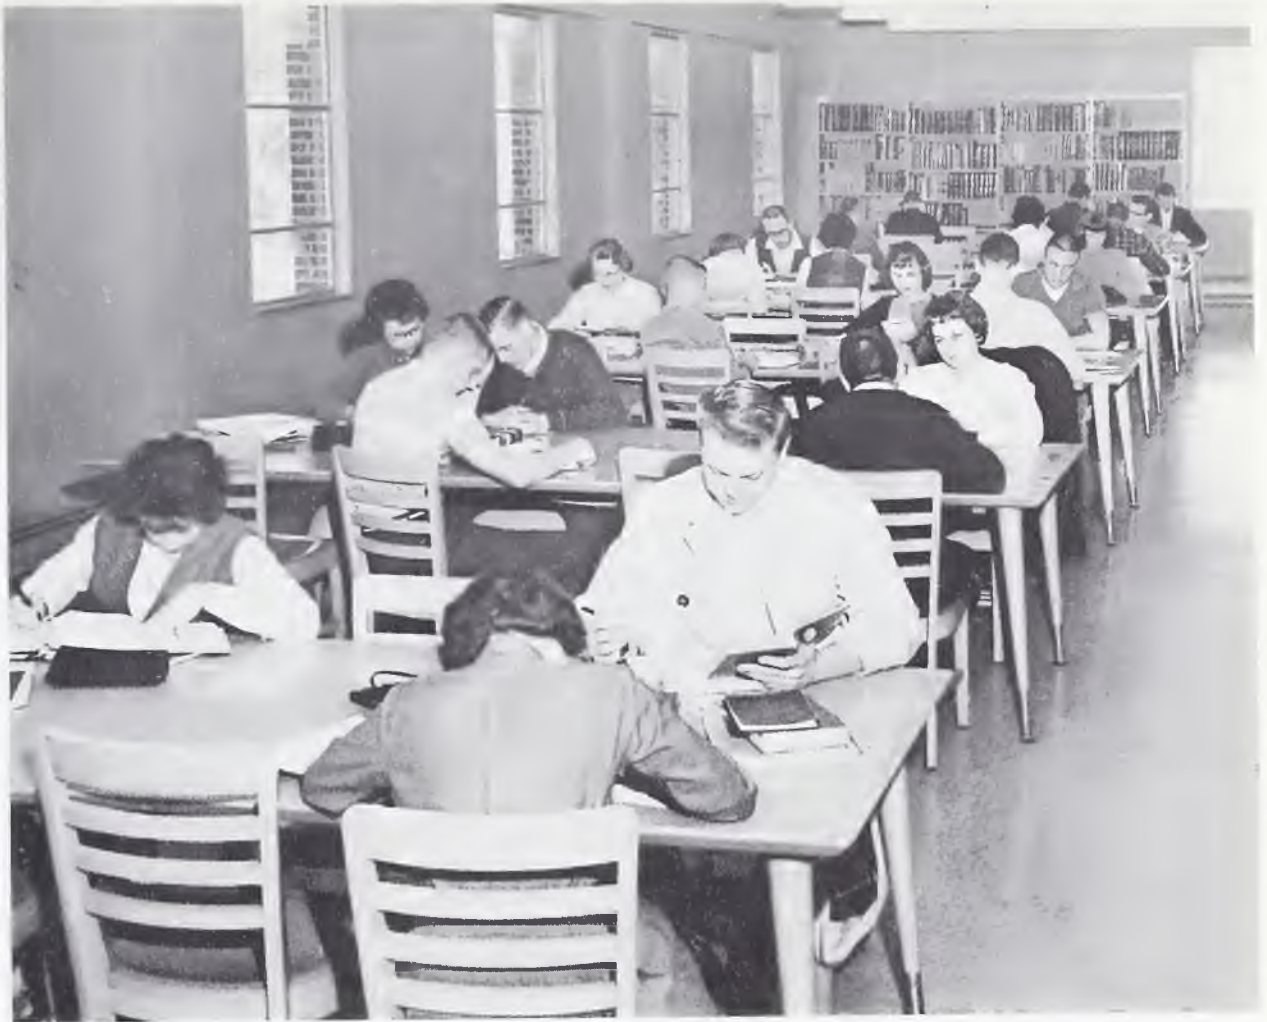

The carrels are used by those students wishing to use reference materials, magazines, and journals.

Learning to use the "helps" of the library, such as the well-equipped card catalog room, adds to the convenience of studying.

Housing

Nesbitt Hall

A dial, a ring, a date. The phones are kept busy constantly.

A little chatter, a 7Up, and an apple, after studies are done, aid in relaxation.

Mrs. Emily Reeves, Head Resident Counselor for the Women, stops for a short break during her busy day.

"Was that buzz three shorts or two longs?" or "Was that my buzzer?" are questions often asked with emotion by Nesbitt Hall residents, for the buzzers announce the arrival of guests or telephone calls, possibly from home. Both are delights of the Nesbitt Hall residents. "Whose iron is this?" and "Who's popping the corn?" are common questions heard in the laundry rooms located on each floor. In a private room late at night, "When are you going to sleep?" is asked by a sleepy roommate possibly of a person found studying for that big exam the next day or trying to catch up on things "put off until tomorrow."

Music on the stereo in the parlor provides a background for the conversation of couples which occupy it. On Thursday evening, the T.V. room and the adjacent kitchen can be reserved for the girls to entertain their dates with a "home-cooked" meal.

The arrival of a new stereo in the dorm stirs up quite a bit of excitement.

Williams Hall

A dime in the pop machine, a dime in the candy machines; and they wonder where the money goes (and their waist lines).

"Popcorn, pizza, and Pepsi" are words frequently spoken around Williams Hall, and then there is the constant "Will somebody please answer that phone!"

Besides snacks and answering the telephone, there are many other things to occupy one's mind, such as "What is the easiest way to get toothpaste off one's door-knob?"

But the residents also have their studious moments, especially just before test time; and always daily frivolities have to be kept at a minimum so as not to interfere with the other students' activities, for courtesy is also observed at Williams.

Residents emphasize the spiritual side of life, too. There is a special prayer room where the students go to have their private devotions, if they prefer it to their own rooms, and during Revival the residents organize special times for sessions of prayer.

The following statement, made by an occupant of Williams Hall, sums up the feeling one has for the dorm after living there awhile: "When a student first gets here, everything is new and she wonders, if perhaps she hasn't made a mistake by coming. But after awhile it becomes just like home!"

And that is what Williams Hall is—a home away from home for women students.

Talking about boy friends, and the latest fashions over a bowl of popcorn occupies much of the girls' spare time in Williams Hall.

Along with studies there are also many domestic activities that must be performed to keep a girl looking her best.

Senior Girls' Houses

The working core of the Senior Houses is located in house 3. There men eall for their dates, there is the canteen, there the girls try their hands at eutlery, there are located the hair dryer and the storeroom, and there Mrs. Harper, the house mother has her residence. Including those living in the other three houses, there are twenty-nine residents in the senior houses. One of these students voiced the opinion of all, when she said that she felt a close-knit fellowship with the girls in the senior houses that she could not feel with those living in the dorm. Added to this is the "homey" feeling these houses give in their off-campus location. For these reasons, the residents have a free and relaxed feeling in spite of the pressures of being seniors.

Girls of Senior House number two end a long evening of homework with a bowl of popcorn and a 7Up.

The Christmas spirit comes to life in House number three with the wrapping of packages and the making of candy ornaments.

Cake and hot chocolate are always in order for midnight snacks.

The latest sales and the best bargains are always an adventure to Senior girls as they look over the evening newspaper.

Hardin House

The large two-story white house just off campus is "home" to twenty-four junior and senior men. In other years it served as a residence for women.

The men try to make Hardin as much like home as possible. To help toward this there are kitchen facilities and a lounge available.

Juniors and seniors living at Hardin have more privileges than those who live on campus. But they use these privileges wisely and profit possibly from the discipline they impose on themselves.

Ralph Close has decided that the best way to study is in a horizontal position.

Chapman Hall

Sammy Cleare, from British Guiana, prepares to type an assignment in General Chemistry.

Bob Perkins, Blaine Rice, Bob Phillips, and Ray Cunningham relax with a game of "Sorry."

The familiar smell of popcorn fills the halls with its aroma, and everyone seeks the source—a common occurrence at Chapman Hall, the residence of some 230 men.

When not relaxing in the television room or playing carom, the boys diligently study in their rooms or have group devotions, a cherished privilege in the lives of many.

When asked what dorm life meant to him, one of the students answered: "Life in the dorm is a great asset to each of us. We get to know one another and share one another's problems. It helps us learn to live with others in various situations of life, serious and important as well as light and trivial."

To many freshmen, September 26, 1961, was one of the most confusing of the perplexing days. There was, however, a good reason for their bewilderment since this was annual Club Day. Club Day gives students and especially new students the opportunity to join clubs and organizations that are of special interest to them. Through the clubs, members take an active part in field trips, sponsoring all-school functions, securing speakers who are experts in their fields, and other cultural activities.

Annual Club Day was held on the tennis court where each club sponsored a booth. Through skits, decorative posters, loud speakers, and free servings of coke, each club endeavored to persuade skeptical onlookers to become members.

Winona Lake...

Relaxation

The faculty retreated and the students took over. September 22 found the faculty at Winona Lake, Indiana, attending sessions to discuss such themes as "Better Teaching Through Creativeness" and "Research and Experimentation." In the afternoon, Dr. Sayes presided at a panel discussion dealing with "Better Teaching Through an Understanding of Education with a Christian Purpose."

Recreation spiced the retreat. Faculty members played miniature golf, went boating, went horseback riding, and just loafed.

On Friday evening of the retreat, Dr. Snowbarger showed slides of the European Tour and on Saturday morning Dr. Paul Updike conducted a devotional service as a commencement of Saturday's activities. On Saturday evening the students welcomed the faculty back with a party.

Faculty

Welcomed Home

Upon the faculty's return from the retreat they were greeted by the "Campus Camera," Dave Strawn emceed. His first introduction was that of Roy Smith, news commentator. Roy proclaimed the news of the capture of the "library gang." Roy also interviewed the astronaut, Jerry Riddle. Lloyd Johnson, the sports commentator, interviewed "Coach Chivers" and "Mrs. Donoho." Linda Beatty shivered through the weather report. "Orpheus Choir," under Ovid Young's direction with Miss Sawatzky (Carol Davidson) as soloist, sang "Does Your Chewing Gum Lose Its Flavor on the Bedpost Overnight?"

After a commercial by the "invisible" Paul Springer, the camera again swung to the happenings of the "library gang." Their case was reviewed by the "Personnel Committee."

Members of the faculty were called upon to participate in the game of Truth or Consequences. Miss Musnug and Prof. McCombs found themselves paying the consequences when they recited "Mary Had a Little Lamb," first in a romantic spirit and then in a disgusted tone.

Junior Retreat

Privacy for the Day

One hundred Junior class members piled into cars and the Olivet bus for a trip to Turkey Run State Park near Sterling, Indiana. They were braced for the trip by a "deliciously green" breakfast served to them by the seniors.

Soon after their arrival at the park, all scattered to take part in the sports of cycling, football, horseback riding, and hiking. At noon, they gave up the sports to raid the lunch boxes, but it didn't take long to make the discovery that two boxes of sack lunches were still on the shelves at ONC and that along with the missing sack lunches, were the beans for the evening meal. Some sacrificed part of their lunches so that all could have something to eat. After lunch the students explored the beautiful Turkey Run State Park. While the others were having fun, Art Fisher, Leonard Baith, Mel Ford, Dave Hughes, and Ernie Husarik were charcoal broiling the inch-thick steaks for the evening meal. After the "hungry" Juniors had consumed all of these steaks, there was entertainment and then a moonlight hayride. The vesper service closed the day and prepared the Juniors for the long trip home.

“Frosh-Soph” Day

In honor of the “Frosh”

Have you ever tried to find a needle in a haystack, look for a four leaf clover, catch a bee with a facial tissue, capture five flies without killing them, or gather a bag of gum wrappers? If you participated in the 1961 Freshmen-Sophomore Day, you helped your side accomplish some of these tasks.

In the work of this day, Sophomores left unfinished fewer tasks than the Freshmen, so the Sophomore class officers had the satisfaction of throwing into the faces of the Freshmen class officers gooey pies. This seemed only fair, since Freshmen-Sophomore Day took the place of the traditional “Freshmen Work Day.”

"Whose side are you on?"

The Homecoming congregation sings the "Alma Mater" after announcing Vivian Plumley Queen for 1961-62.

Rev. Carl B. Clendenen, District Superintendent of the Northwestern Ohio District and a graduate of Olivet, delivers the morning address, "Whose side are you on?"

The Zeta Society wins first place with its display of the Division of Religion and Philosophy.

The Division of Natural Sciences is portrayed in an unusual way by the Sigma Society which tied for second place.

Campus Decorations

Portray Theme of Academic Excellence

Placing third is the Delta Society which represented the Division of Fine Arts.

Rumor had it that prowlers were roaming Olivet's campus during the wee hours of November 10. It turned out, however, that these "prowlers" were only Olivetians setting up their society displays for the Annual Homecoming.

The theme for this year's Homecoming displays was "Academic Excellence." Each of Olivet's six societies represented one of the school's educational divisions. Zeta had the winning display which featured the Division of Religion and Philosophy. Gamma, representing the Education and Psychology Division came in second. Third place went to Delta, whose beautiful silhouette display, complete with artist and palette, portrayed the Division of Fine Arts.

The other societies—Beta, Kappa, and Sigma—represented respectively the Divisions of Social Science, Languages and Literature, and Natural Sciences.

Fellowship and Dinner

At the head table, with a backdrop of a balcony scene, these women and their escorts were seated.

On long tables in the hall were many savory dishes of which guests took firsts, seconds, thirds, and sometimes fourths. Smiles were evident during the meal, but afterward, in privacy, many reached for the bicarbonate of soda.

Dr. and Mrs Snowbarger anxiously await the generous portions of roasted ham served by the chef.

Court member June Lee and her escort John Boggs enjoy the food as well as the floral decorations of the dining hall.

Homecoming Concert

Alumni Perform

In their reunion the Viking Male Quartet of 1950 blend their voices.

"To alma mater Olivet, we lift our voice in praise. . ."

On the evening of November 11, College Church could hardly seat the audience for the Fourth Annual Homecoming Concert. Olivetians, old and young, thrilled as they listened to alumni sing solos and take parts in trios and quartets as they once did while students at Olivet.

Byron Carmony's music carried the alumni back to their days on campus and brought to the minds of the present students their own experiences at Olivet.

Alumni of Orpheus Choir joined the present members in praise to God in the anthem "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." Lutkin's choral benediction, "The Lord Bless You and Keep You" concluded the concert.

Music filled the air as the Orpheus Choir and its alumni members relive the past.

Snow came to Olivet's campus just before Christmas, and lingered. . . and lingered. . . . and lingered. . . .

Unusual Activities

Don Gadbow and Jim Tripp led students in the shovelling of snow from the front tennis courts in preparation of an ice skating rink. The temperature was below zero when they began filling the courts with water. Proving to be inadequate, a garden hose was given up for the community fire hose.

At first the extremely low temperature discouraged the use of the court, but soon students swarmed onto the rink. Fun and relaxation plus an escape from the pressure of exams were provided by the rink.

Senior Party

Juvenile Jamboree

Mac McCombs and alumnus, Darrel Grothaus, regress to a tricycle race at a high point in the Juvenile Jamboree.

One group game which caused a lot of excitement was a four-legged race.

Early in the school year, the Senior Class played host to a Juvenile Jamboree.

"Howdy Pardner" was a sack blowing game that started things off with a bang. Other games played included the duck walk, broom race, tug-of-war, and the four-legged race. The Senior men, who won the tug-of-war, pulled so hard that they broke the rope. Girls who participated in the four-legged race acquired some bruises to help them remember their experiences. There was some question about the winner of the tricycle race, but it was generally agreed that the honor should go to Prof. Athel McCombs. A singular contribution to the entertainment was Ovid Young's playing the honky-tonk piano.

In keeping with the theme, the refreshments were barbecued hot dogs, popcorn, cotton candy, and pop.

The prize of five dollars was awarded the Seniors for winning the most games.

Energetic fellows gain superiority in a tug-of-war in which the classes fight for recognition.

Halloween Party

You could find everything at the party, including bodies buried ALIVE.

A giant spider, hanging in the center of a large web, gave Birchard Field House the name of "The House of Bugaboo" for the annual Halloween Party.

Adding to the weird atmosphere, howls, screams, and thunder pierced the air of the room. Live chickens dropped down in the group from out of nowhere.

In the House of Bugaboo a voice was heard and then—all was silent except for the wicked laughter that mocked from undetected places. Scot Keeley, Sharon Weeks, and Doug Mason, through a skit, told the story of this haunted house.

Trembling individuals were led by Junior class members into the ghost walk, where they met the injured, the sick, the insane, and the dead. Amid the acts of discovering and being frightened, the timid travelers found a maze of obstacles to impede their progress.

When lights and normality were restored, refreshments were offered to the trembling students. Calm again, the students added this party to the list of scary "memories."

Christmas Party

"Ye Olde Yuletide"

The annual Christmas Party transformed Birchard Field House into a quaint English street scene.

As the young ladies and their escorts walked into the nineteenth century atmosphere, they entered into the "Ye Olde Yuletide" spirit. Illuminating the scene were the bordering lamp posts, replicas of those found in England in the nineteenth century.

After enjoying a turkey dinner which was served by the hosts and hostesses at each table, the guests were entertained by a program directed by Sharon Nyhus. Each member of the program wore authentic nineteenth century English costumes.

After the announcements made by Dave Strawn, Dave Jones emceed the program which consisted of numbers by a children's choir led by Prof. Robert Brown, the King's Trumpeters, a double quartet—the Crusaders and Ambassadors, and a seasonal reading by Sharon Weeks. At intervals in the program eleven couples announced their engagements.

Ernie Husarick appears to be self-confident as he serves the turkey.

An old hand at carving turkeys, Dr. Barrett attacks the fowl with much skill.

The Ambassadors and the Crusaders blend their voices to bring songs of the Yuletide Season.

The annual presentation of the Messiah found the choir left to be filled with harmonious voices, and musicians blending together to the glory of God.

The 26th annual presentation of Messiah was given on the evening of December 8 and on the afternoon and evening of December 10, 1961, under the direction of Prof. Harlow Hopkins. Assisting him were Prof. Donald Murray, choral coach, and Miss Sawatzky and Prof. Irving Kranich, soloist coaches.

Soloists for the three performances respectively were Dixie Brown, Miss Sawatzky, and Sharon Sanders, sopranos; Sharon Clay, Mrs. Larsen, and Karen Swinehart, contraltos; Prof. Kranich and Fred Mund, tenors; and Dave Halverson, Robert Witbeck, and Tom Thompson, basses.

This year's performance was a year of "firsts." It was the first year that the orchestra accompanied throughout the entire performance. Mrs. Larsen performed for the first time since returning from her studies abroad. And it was the first time that the Oratorio Chorus, a newly created organization, was used in presenting Messiah.

Each year the lyceum committee schedules several cultural programs to provide the students with the opportunity to hear important speakers and enjoy the fine arts. Howe Chapel held a capacity crowd for the first lyceum speaker, Drew Pearson. Mr. Pearson, a Washington, D. C. columnist, told of his two days with Khrushchev. The German-born Dr. Wernher von Braun, one of the world's foremost rocket experts, spoke to the student body and the public in the last lyceum program of the school year.

Between these two programs were numerous lectures and concerts. Dr. Leist led the way with his series of convocation lectures. The Dr. R. T. Williams Lecture Series, given by General Superintendent Dr. V. H. Lewis, followed. Later in the semester Dean Snowbarger took the students on the European Tour with his slides and narration. At the beginning of the second semester, Dr. Gibson gave a lecture series on "First Things in the Ministry." On February 16 there was a musical concert featuring three male choruses—Olivet Vikings Male Chorus, Greenville College Glee Club, and Moody Bible Institute Glee Club. On March 22 Robert Brouwer gave a three-screen illustrated lecture entitled "Heritage."

Organizations

In the average Olivetian's campus life there is not only time for work, but time for worship and time for recreation.

Recreation may take varied forms, two of which are clubs and organizations. Depending upon talent or interest, an Olivetian can find that organization or club in which he, the organization, and the school will benefit by his participation. Organizations range from governmental to musical and service activities. Each Olivetian who wishes to have a well-rounded college life seeks to find his place in one of these groups.

The Student Council has as one of its purposes, a closer relationship between the students and the administration. To help fulfill this purpose, the Student Council authorized as one of its first purchases of the year a bulletin board to announce coming events.

At the beginning of the year, the twenty-nine council members attended the Campus Leadership Workshop. Dr. David McKenna, president of Spring Arbor College in Michigan, spoke to the leaders emphasizing, as did all the discussion groups, that in order to be successful, there must be a total commitment to Christ.

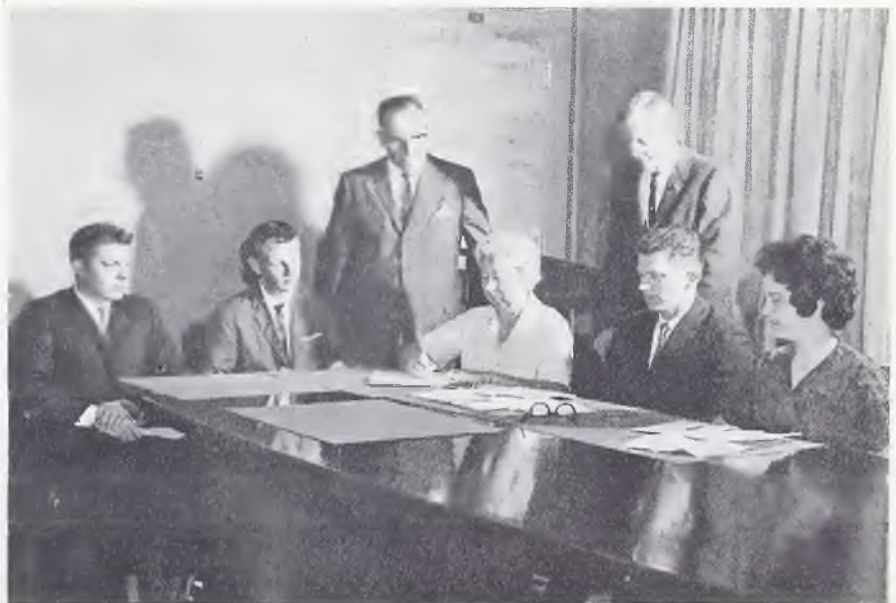

ONC day at College Church was sponsored by the Student Council. Students taught Sunday School classes, directed the music, and preached the sermon.

After Christmas, the news that the Christmas basket project was successful, that the students gave fourteen baskets to needy families of the area was reported.

Looking toward the future, the student council has prepared questionnaires to help the student body of next year plan its weekend activities.

The Aurora . . . .

The Aurora is the mirror of the year's life and activities of each Olivetian. From the time the first new Olivetian arrives on campus each fall until the last of the graduating Seniors takes off his cap and gown, the Aurora is on hand to record, through picture and word, the happenings. In the future, as he looks back to his college career, the alumnus will turn to his Aurora to relive and remember.

The Aurora seeks to record the events of the entire Olivet campus. There are many corners into which the Aurora looks and reflects. Indeed, the Aurora is the image of each and every Olivetian.

The Glimmerglass . . . .

The Glimmerglass is Olivet's echo. Without it, Olivetians would not have a medium through which they could express their views to all of their fellow students. Nor could many students be kept abreast of ONC's current events or the news behind the scenes, or the "why" of the happenings.

When we leave Olivet, this year's events cited in such headlines as "Students Elect Vivian Plumley as 1961 Homecoming Queen," "Pre-Med Club Formed," "Yo-Yoism Engulfs Campus," and "Olivet Granted New Scholarship" will come alive for us again, as we look into the 1961-1962 issues of the Glimmerglass. So, the Glimmerglass is not only an echo now, but it will continue an echo for many years to come.

Initiates the All School Parties

The Social Committee is made up of three representatives from each class and a chairman who is appointed by the Student Council. Sharon Nyhus was appointed to serve as chairman this year. The purpose of the committee is to plan and organize all Student Council-sponsored parties. The three parties planned in their workshops this year were the Faculty Return Party, the Christmas Party, and the Valentine Party. Everything about these parties from themes to refreshments were planned by the committee. Because of its connection with the Student Council the Social Committee received its appropriations from the Student Council.

The W.R.A. is one of the most paradoxical of Olivet's organization. On the one hand, it is the distributor of demerits; on the other, it is a co-sponsor of the two "Twirp Weeks" October 20-22 and February 22-24.

The W.R.A. has other duties and activities too. This year it sponsored a fashion show under the direction of Miss Sharon Nyhus, and tree-trimming parties in Williams and Nesbitt Halls. They also sponsored a spring seminar on etiquette and proper hostess conduct.

The MRHA, the governing council for men's activities, with the Head Resident Counsellor, who serves as faculty sponsor, attempts to maintain a high level of morale among the men students and to assist in enforcing dorm regulations. Get-togethers for the fellows in the various housing units are planned each semester and recreational outlets are provided in the dorm. The MRHA and its counterpart in the Women's Housing Units, the WRA, plan inter-dorm activities. These include tree-trimming at Christmas, spring vacation serenades, and TWIRP WEEK activities.

"Put the Master on Wheels" was the theme of the Missionary Band project for the year. Rev. Johnson, a returned Missionary from Argentina, presented the project and the challenge to ONC in a morning chapel service. Through their regular Chapel missionary offering the Band raised enough money to buy four motor scooters to be used by missionaries in Argentina.

The Missionary Band has attempted this year to unify prospective missionaries of Olivet through fellowship and activities—promoting the cause of missions. The film "Suicide Mountain" presented one aspect of this cause. Greatly stimulating missionary interest on the campus was the annual missionary convention. The speakers in the convention were Mrs. Chapman, Honorato Reza and Joseph Penn.

Each Thursday the Missionary Band conducted a prayer time for missions in Kelley Prayer Chapel. Ken Bryant was the leader of these sessions.

In the Christmas program the Missionary Band listened to the sons and daughters of missionaries explain the Christmas customs of their country. After the program these young people were surprised by gifts given them by the Missionary Band.

Within this organization is a special fellowship for all the students called to be missionaries. The purpose of this fellowship is to discuss common problems and to learn more about the needs on the foreign field. For the last meeting of the year the Band presented the film "Beyond Horizons."

"What is Khrushchev really like when not in public view?" "How do the ward politics of Chicago work?" "Exactly what is the Peace Corps?"

If you want answers to these questions, just ask a Public Affairs Club member, because the members of this club have learned the answers through their activities this past year. These activities included: co-sponsorship of a lecture by Drew Pearson, nationally known commentator, whose talk consisted of material gathered from two days spent with Khrushchev; a field trip to Chicago to study ward politics; and listening to a lecture by William Mayer, director of public relations for the Peace Corps.

Through these activities, this club is fulfilling its purpose to keep its members and the student body informed of major state, national, and international problems.

The Psychology Club is committed to a program of promoting a better understanding of people, of keeping informed of contemporary advances in the field of psychology and of increasing interest in its study.

Because the field of Psychology is broad, the activities of the Psychology Club complement the activities of many of the other campus organizations.

To accomplish its aims, the club presents programs that show real life situations involving psychological problems. The club sponsored a movie and a panel discussion on Communism and programs on alcoholism, juvenile delinquency, and mental illness.

Nash respectively, was a mid-winter breakfast featuring Dr. E. W. Martin and a ninety-minute colored film on "John Wesley's Conversion."

In combination with the Psychology Club, the society presented, on November 4, an informational film on Communism, "Crisis for Americans."

At a banquet, to which the Ministerial Fellowship was invited, Dr. S. S. White spoke on Paul Tillich's concept of God. "Is Tillich an Atheist?" was the title of his speech.

At the January meeting Russell Pannier read a paper in which he gave his observations on the problem of evil.

At the February meeting Dave Standford discussed, from a philosophical rather than a theological viewpoint, the problem: "Free Will: Fact or Fiction?"

The final program of the year featured the first president of the society, Prof. Paul Schwada, who discussed the philosophical aspects of his Ph.D. study on which he is working at the University of Illinois.

Alpha Tau Delta, the Olivet honor society, was founded in 1954, with the purpose of giving honor to deserving students and to serve as an incentive for high scholarship. The possibility of membership in this society encourages students to give their best efforts to studies and to maintain a high scholastic standing. To gain membership in the honor society a student must have a 3.35 average as a Sophomore and a 3.2 as an upperclassman.

The society holds meetings of scholastic nature, frequently with guest speakers. On May 10, 1961, the society had its annual banquet with Melburn Akers, editor of the Chicago Sun Times as speaker. This year the society enjoyed a breakfast with the Olivet chapter of Phi Delta Lambda, the national Nazarene Honor Society.

A game of checkers stimulates interest and aids Sociology Club members in their observations of human behavior.

There are increased tensions in the world today—tensions between races, between religions, between nations, and even between next-door neighbors. The term “cold war,” unknown a generation ago, has become a household word today.

Increased tensions make it necessary to develop a spirit of understanding between these opposing forces. But, in order to develop such an understanding, each must know something about how the other lives and thinks. To help develop such knowledge and understanding is the purpose of the Sociology Club, and to accomplish this purpose, the Sociology Club sponsors field trips, survey studies, research, and round-table discussions. Among its many activities this year was the annual field trip to Chicago to observe various phases of urban life, including the slum districts, housing projects, transportation, sanitation, racial works, and missions.

All activities of the Home Economics Club are geared to achieve one purpose—"better living through service to others." The club helps the members to prepare for service in the home, school, and community.

At the first meeting of the club, Mr. Rambo, of the "Flower Pot," displayed floral centerpieces amidst silver and china supplied by Edwards Jewelers, and demonstrated for future hostesses different types of floral arrangements. At Christmas time the girls baked cookies and made candy for special boxes for the Bethel Nursing Home, delivered the boxes personally, and sang carols for the patients. In one of its last meetings, the club showed the Celonese Corporation's slides on fabrics and how to use them for room decorations.

The purpose of Sigma Tau Delta is to promote writing and to cultivate the appreciation of good literature. It publishes "The Rectangle" in April and November, containing contributions from chapter members.

Sigma Tau Delta presented several student-participation programs this year, including readings and discussions of outstanding authors. The club annually hosts a Journalism Conference directed by the Kankakee Daily Journal.

Club Day brings new members to the ranks of the Science Club.

To make science as practical in everyday life as possible, the Science Club was formed with the understanding that meetings, projects, and field trips would be used to challenge members of each department to explore the new developments in their own and other areas of science.

The field trips this year included Cook County Hospital, the Museum of Science and Industry, the Armour Pharmaceutical Company, and the Dresden Nuclear Power Station.

Officers of the club for the coming year were elected at the annual spring breakfast.

Dave Strawn gives a reading to close the annual Christmas play sponsored by Speech Club.

September found the speech club organizing in preparation for the year's activities. Approximately one hundred students joined the club and elected Ned Long as president.

In November the Speech Club presented a chapel program on the subject "Thanksgiving: Americanism vs. Communism" in which Lois Birchard, Sharon Weeks, Dave Strawn, and Bill Shaw compared the two forms of government in respect to the freedoms of family life, religion, and politics.

At Christmas time the club gave a student-written play in which the star characters were Carol Davidson and Ron Workman. After the play Dave Strawn read "The Other Wiseman."

Mr. Paul Wilson, Norma Wilson's father, helped sponsor the Wilson Speech Contest which was open to the whole school. There were three trophies given in two divisions: dramatic and extemporaneous.

Over one hundred future teachers joined to form the local chapter of the Student Education Association. Each one seemed to realize that, with the teaching profession becoming more complex each year, there is an advantage in associating with professional colleagues.

The S. E. A. inaugurated the new school year with a program of various types of audio-visual aids used in modern teaching, featuring Prof. Beaney as the lecturer. Another highlight was an all-school lecture on "Russian Education" by Dr. G. A. Constantine of North Central College, who has traveled extensively in Russia.

At other meetings of the S. E. A., the guidance counselor from Kankakee spoke so enthusiastically about her job that many of the members felt the pull to go into the work of counseling; and former teachers told the members about "things not to be found in methods courses.

Members also benefited by subscribing to the professional magazines, IEA and NEA.

This year the local chapter sent a delegation of eight members to the Illinois State Education Convention held at Eastern Illinois University.

When a man excels in athletics or is chosen to an "All-Star Team," he is honored with membership in the Men's "O" Club.

This club meets monthly and seeks to coordinate the abilities and interests of all members. Films on different aspects of the various sports are shown. After the business meetings, the members are free to use the gym facilities.

The main project of the club this year was to provide lights for the baseball diamond and football field. In order to do this, it sold mums, sold concessions at the football games, and held a car wash.

Striving to promote interest in sports and good sportsmanship among the women students is the Women's "O" Club. Women earn their membership in the club by participating and lettering in one or more major sports of the women's intramural program: softball, basketball, and volley tennis.

The highlight of the spring is the "O" Club initiation. This year, burlap bags were the fashion. "Black Jack" gum filled the mouth, while limburger cheese hung aromatically beneath the nose, and an onion medal hung around the neck. The aspirants took a long, long walk before breakfast, and afterward laboriously counted the mosaics in the floor of the Administration Building. As reward for superior performance in athletic events, the new members were given letters at the banquet co-sponsored by the two divisions of the "O" Club.

In the Christmas meeting of Music Educators, Prof. Brady, acting as Santa Claus, presented members of the club with "gag" gifts. Ovid Young received a Yogi Bear guitar depicting his fine service as secretary of the local Yogi Bear fan club. A mixed quartet, Dave Halverson, Karen Swinehart, Ruth Marie Eimer and Fred Mund sang "Blue Christmas." Refreshments were served.

Two tasks of the club were the decorating of the stage for the senior recitals and entertaining the boys' chorus that visited Olivet.

In March, Music Educators planned a music history program and presented an all school concert.

Because they have a common interest the members of the Music Educators Club enjoy a fellowship that is rare in club organizations.

Concerts . . . opportunities to perform

One of Olivet's strong departments is the Department of Music. Professor Curtis Brady as head of the department has expanded the program to serve more students at Olivet who are interested in music. There are now three choirs furnishing greater opportunity for participation. In addition, the department maintains a concert band, an orchestra, an Oratorio Chorus and other small vocal ensembles.

A student participating in these ensembles enriches not only his own life but also the lives of others in our community and many on Olivet's educational zone.

In the fall, under the temporary leadership of Prof. Curt Brady, Orpheus appeared at a State Teacher's Convention at Kankakee High School. Prof. Brady also led the choir at the regular church performances during the first semester. At Cadel Tabernacle in Indiana he conducted the choir in the most remembered concert of the year. There was a spirit of sacredness and unity felt by each choir member that was better than any material reward.

The Christmas season saw the return of Mrs. Naomi Larsen from her European sabbatical. Second semester she resumed her duties as director of the choir, challenging them to ever better performances.

After the ten day spring tour through Michigan, Orpheus members returned to the campus to give their home concert. Later in the spring they enjoyed their annual banquet at George Diamond's Steak House in Hammond, Indiana.

Prof. Kranich lifted his baton and gave the downbeat. Forty-two feminine voices responded. Through practice after practice they had learned how to unify their voices in praise. Finally they were pronounced good enough to perform in public. Mishawaka, Indiana First Church, invited the girls to have charge of one of their services. Then they were invited to sing at Chanute Field in Rantoul. At Christmas time the choir had an informal concert, inviting the audience to join them in their singing. These events helped to prepare the choir for the long-looked-for choir tour. The tedious but rewarding hours of the tour behind them, the choir met in a relaxed atmosphere for a banquet at White Fence Farm.

If you want an Olivet co-ed to attend a particular church service, you need only say, "The Vikings are singing." The Vikings have not only contributed their services to College Church this past year, but also to the Tinley Park and Austin Churches of the Nazarene. In their Annual Spring Tour, they sang in churches in both Indiana and Michigan.

Their other activities included a male chorus festival held February 16 on the Olivet Campus with representatives from the Moody Bible Institute and Greenville College, and the Annual Spring Concert April 27 in Recital Hall.

The Vikings are under the direction of Donald Murray who reactivated the organization in 1960.

Olivet's concert and pep band is a "potpourri" type of organization: it not only presents several concerts each year, but also plays at the football and the basketball games. And the band is versatile in the selections it plays: Handel's "Water Music Suite," Debussy's "Children's Corner Suite," Jacob's "The Original Suite," and Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Just what does the band mean to its members? One of the band members answered the question in this way: "To some of us, playing in the band is a way to advancement in the field of music, but to all of us it is a way to enjoyment through sharing in a common interest."

The 1961-1962 year marks the 15th anniversary of the Olivet College Orchestra. Since its inception, it has sought to enrich the cultural atmosphere of the college through classical and religious music.

In the past years an ensemble from the orchestra accompanied the presentation of the Messiah, but this year the full orchestra played. The orchestra performed also at the Annual Commencement Concert.

Division of Fine Arts sponsors soloists and the college orchestra at the Graduation Concert.

Every Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 ten players brought their brass instruments together for rehearsal. These rehearsals led to a performance on February 5, 1962, called "Music in the Round." The audience was seated in a circle with the Brass Choir in the center. Prof. Harlow Hopkins, directed the choir in this concert. Ovid Young played a French Horn solo in the song "Gettysburg." Contrasted to this song, which expressed the spirit of battle, was the "Negev," which was soothing and mellow. These songs were favorites of both the Brass Choir and the audience.

In March, the Brass Choir played at Bradley High School.

Seated: R. Lane, D. Weed, D. Godwin, W. Bouse, M. Thornton, O. Young, J. Gadbow.

Standing: H. Hopkins, D. Bouck, L. Matson, K. Roth, C. Leth.

R. Fisher, R. Cunningham, D. Koehler, S. Myers, L. Smith, B. Dawson, W. Kranich, sponsor; C. Wentworth, C. Boccock.

The activities of the Gale Organ Guild this year were entertaining and educational. Guild members heard Richard Ellsasser in recital at the Lane Technical Auditorium in Chicago. His unusual pedal technique, noted especially on Rondo in G by John Bull, added to the interest in the program.

Another highlight of the year was a field trip to the University of Illinois.

The Guild members inspected the different organs demonstrated by staff members of the University. The Guild was also privileged to hear the blind French organist Jean Langlais perform in concert at the University. They were thrilled especially with the final number which was an improvisation on a theme given him by a member of the audience.

Senior Recitals . . . .

Senior musicians are spotlighted on the evening of their senior recitals. The recital performance is a product of four years of work. This year each student performed from four areas of music; baroque, classical, romantic, and contemporary. The recital is a demonstration of the student's accomplishments and meets a requirement for the B. S. degree in Music Education. This year ten seniors gave recitals.

Summer Traveling Groups . . . .

Carry the message in song

Each year, the Public Relations office sends out singing groups to travel over the educational zone. Recently Rev. J. W. Swearngen, field secretary, announced the organization of a new male quartet known as "The Olivetians." Formerly the musical groups were hired on a temporary basis, but the new quartet is under contract to the college for a twelve months' period.

Jim Bohi, soloist, has also been employed to travel for the College this summer.

The "Olivetians" and Jim will have as their aims promoting good will, raising funds, and recruiting students throughout Olivet's educational zone. These groups also perform for local audiences.

Ovid Young, Portsmouth, Ohio; Jim Bohi, Bloomfield, Iowa.

God . . . . the true beginning

Religion challenges the intellect and meets the spiritual needs of students. Because Olivet is a Christian college students are surrounded by an atmosphere conducive to spiritual growth. The entire student body unites four days a week in a morning devotional chapel service. Prayer Band, Evangels, Missionary Band, and Ministerial Fellowship promote religious activities and play an important role in the college life. At O.N.C. emphasis is placed on the religious life of the student.

This broadening of spiritual horizons creates a better understanding in group relationships.

Olivet Students receiving the "Word of Life."

In the academic year there are many activities in which students participate in proportion to their interests, abilities, and talents. However, in the special religious activities of the year the response of students is different in kind and intensity. The interest is divinely inspired and unified. This interest is especially evident in the Revival meetings and Youth Week services which are co-sponsored by the College and College Church. Redemptive grace, forgiveness, cleansing, and dedication of life for Christian service are the all-important matters during these special days. Certainly this response is in harmony with Olivet's motto, "Education with a Christian purpose." It is the distinctive ingredient of a true holiness college.

Revival . . . .

Renews spiritual life

The usual spiritual interest on campus becomes more earnest when the college is preparing for a revival. Students take on heavier burdens, and all activities are focused toward the approaching revival.

With the arrival of the evangelist the revival proper begins. In the spring revival of 1961, Dr. T. W. Willingham with his burden for the student and his frank and honest preaching of Biblical truth led many to a new relationship with Christ. Early the following fall Dr. D. I. Vanderpool, presenting salvation as simple rather than complex, pointed the way to a closer walk with God. Dr. E. W. Martin, Youth Week evangelist, helped many students find Christ as their Savior.

In each of these revivals local musical talent under the direction of James Bohi, Curtis Brady, and Harlow Hopkins respectively, assisted the evangelist.

The chapel service at 9:30 each day is Olivet's time for "family devotions." In spite of some students being seated behind one of the pillars, humorously called the "Twelve Apostles," the student body benefits spiritually from attending chapel.

Three students and seven faculty members form the chapel committee that plans these programs. Professors, musical groups, visiting evangelists, and guest speakers are featured. This year, some of the special speakers were Dr. L. T. Corlett, Dr. V. H. Lewis, Dr. C. A. Gibson, Dr. D. I. Vanderpool, and Dr. E. W. Martin. Each speaker endeavors to bring to the students devotional messages that will be a source of spiritual uplift for the day.

On the evenings of Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday at 6:15, Bill Scott can be found in Kelley Prayer Chapel. At this hour he and his co-worker Fred Mund lead the Band members in a time of devotions. Attention isn't always focused on Bill or Fred, for there are often other speakers and musical groups.

During the times of personal testimony, a special visitation of the Holy Spirit is often felt. Prayer Band seems to generate in the heart of those who attend the motivation to go out and help others.

The Evangels basic message is the Bible.

Each Sunday afternoon approximately fifty students gather to receive their assignments as Evangels. Elmer Wright, the president, leads the group in prayer before the six groups visit Manteno State Hospital, and the Mowers, Bethel, Deerwood, Geeding, and Eventide rest homes. Group leaders are Elmer Wright, Lyle Pettit, Betty Tucker, Ralph England, Gary Gully, and Bill Shaw. As he participates, each student feels that service to God through ministering to the sick and the old is its own reward. Those to whom the Evangels minister show a high appreciation for the work of the Evangels. And the Evangel himself through this ministry and the acquaintances that he makes has realized a closer fellowship with God.

Personal Devotions

Allowing God to speak

Being alone with God gives Blain Rice strength for his day.

"Search me, O God, and know my heart today" is the prayer breathed by the Olivetian in his personal devotions. Time can be consumed so quickly that a student has to plan carefully to have time for prayer and Bible reading. To the one who makes a time for devotion, God manifests Himself. The quiet place found in the prayer rooms in each dorm provides for the student an atmosphere for meditation and worship.

Sharon and Karen Weeks find their room a quiet place for meditation.

The prayer room in Nesbitt Hall gives the girls an opportunity to share moments of devotion.

Intramurals

The chief purpose of the Intramural Program is to provide competition in the fields of student interest, while keeping a proper balance with the academic disciplines. The primary objectives of the Intramural Program as stated in the Olivet catalog are: "To assist the student in developing a wholesome and well-integrated Christian personality, thus preparing him for intelligent Christian citizenship; to provide extra-curricular activities with a view to developing in the student an appreciation and participation in the aesthetic areas of literature and music, which will enable him to enjoy the finer aspects of his cultural heritage; and to develop his physical body through participation in sports."

Intramural Council . . . .

The Intramural Council consists of the dean of students, the president of the Associated Students, the presidents of the individual societies, and the chairmen of the departments of physical education, speech, and fine arts. The president and dean of the College are members ex officio.

It is the duty of the Intramural Council to interpret the constitution and by-laws, and to coordinate the intramural program. With the assistance of the department chairmen and society leaders, the council chairman is responsible for all the procedures of programming, purchasing of supplies and equipment, jurisdiction of facilities, and recording and totaling of all points. The master of ceremonies for each public program is appointed by the Intramural Council from one of the intramural societies, each society providing a master of ceremonies for one program each year.

One important aspect of the intramural program is the music-literary contests. Being competitive, these contests promote cultural interest in the areas of literature, speech, and music.

There are three music-literary events each semester. The Intramural Council determines whether the program is to be semiclassical, classical, or sacred.

In each contest there has been strong competition and many people have commended the excellence in performance and in participation this year.

Competition for the fitness of the body

Among the several significant elements in the total life of a student is his recreational program. A high premium is placed upon participation in sports. Participation in a sport develops wholesome personal habits, an acquaintance with the laws of health and physical development, and provides a profitable use of leisure time.

Whether by actual participation or by observation, many students and faculty members enjoy relaxation through athletic activities.

Olivet's athletic program is designed to strengthen the physical life of the student and promote a sense of wholesome competition among the societies. As this purpose is being accomplished, the spiritual life is also enriched, for the Christian not only plays with determination to win, but seeks to do so in a clean and fair manner, showing Christian sportsmanship.

With the energy created by the crisp fall weather and the spirit of the squads battling on the gridiron, the softball diamond, too, saw plenty of action. After being victorious the previous season, the Zeta team again set out to prove their strength in the opening game by beating Delta 6 to 5, with Zeta's catcher, Pete McFann, hitting the season's first home run. The unpredictable was always present during the season and was very evident as Gamma Society was defeated in their only loss of the year by the second place Delta team with a close 8 to 7.

Zeta and Delta battled it out for second place but both ended the season with six wins and four loses to share second place honors. Kappa finished in the third place position.

It was a good season of all-around hearty competition. We eagerly look forward to another good season next year, since many on the teams this year were freshmen.

Women's softball saw more enthusiasm than in previous years because of the interest shown by incoming freshmen and the keen competition which prevailed among the societies. Beta and Zeta exchanged positions this season, Zeta taking the crown with 5-0, and Beta copping second place with a 4-1 record. Kappa came in third with a 3-2 standing.

Zeta and Beta, respectively, were aided to top positions by the accurate pitching of Betty Leininger and Peggy Oliver. Even though Sigma took only fourth place, their pitcher, Sandy Thomas, greatly added to the spirit of competition among the teams with her swift, accurate pitching.

This year's Delta team wound up in the cellar, but not without a real fighting challenge. Their "never-give-up" spirit kept them always in the game.

With the added interest shown by the girls in this sport we should see some real competition in the fall season.

A reanimation of spirit and enthusiasm swept the gridiron at O.N.C. last fall. The season saw an increase in participation as well as in the number of games played. The coaching staffs were led by Coach C. W. Ward for the Purple Tigers and Coach James Chivers for the White Warriors.

Coach Ward's Purple Tigers triumphantly opened the season by downing the Warriors 13-0. With determination and growing enthusiasm, the Purple Tigers again downed the Warriors with two consecutive wins 14-2 and 28-13. In the final tilt on Homecoming Day the climactic moment arrived. With a stunning victory witnessed by more than 1,500 fans, the White Warriors upset their clean-slated rivals 24-6.

Indeed, it can be said that this was the finest year for football at Olivet. With next year's potentials we can look forward to even better results.

Homecoming Tip-off

It was another thriller this year as the "O" Club came from behind to triumph over the Alumni 66-65 in the Annual Homecoming Basketball game in the Kankakee High School gym.

The "O" Club was on the short end of a 29-25 count at half time but caught fire in the third quarter to take a 44-42 command. However, the lead changed hands several times in the final period until, with less than a minute to go and the score knotted at 63-all, Bob Mitchell popped in a field goal and free throw for Coach C. W. Ward's team to give the "O" Club the victory.

The Alumni scoring column was led by Chuck McCullough with 15 points, Vern Fischer with 12, and Jerry Petrie with 10. The "O" Club likewise had three double-digit scorers. Returning as a veteran this year was junior guard, Harry Fulton, who led the scoring for the evening with 20 points. Ranking second in the scoring column was the "O" Club center, Bill Bos, with a total of 16 points. The third ranking "O" Club scorer was Preston Figge, senior forward, who pumped in 11 important points to push his team to victory.

It was indeed a thrilling game and Coach Ward's entire squad is to be commended for such a fine performance of sportsmanship and team spirit.

In the women's game the Alumni squeaked through to a narrow victory. In the last few seconds Lois Smith hit two free throws to tie the game 37 all. Then, Bobbie Hunter scored a basket for the Alumni for a two-point victory, 39-37.

Lois Smith, Bobbie Hunter, and Pat Dickey scored 13 points each to account for all of the Alumni points. Evelyn Dorsey paced the "O" Club girls for 21 points.

Although defeated, the "O" Club, coached by Mrs. Lora Donoho, displayed excellent teamwork and sportsmanship.

Though not seen by glancing at the final standings, this basketball season saw many close and exciting games. Kappa again set out this year determined to take the championship but the other societies also had the same goal in mind. It looked almost like Kappa had their wish, until Sigma came powering through to smash all built-up hope by downing Zeta and tying Kappa for first position. Zeta came in third.

Although Delta finished last, tying with Gamma, Delta gave Kappa its biggest scare in an overtime period. Delta had only two returning players whereas Kappa and some of the other societies had several veterans.

As the players were spurred on by the cheers of the crowd, the band and cheerleaders were doing their part to add to the spirit of the game. Professor Hopkins and his loyal band members deserve special thanks for contributing to the enthusiasm of the game.

Approximately seventy girls have played society basketball this season to make it one of the most exciting and competitive seasons of all. Striving for and attaining first-place honors this year was the Kappa society. The major factors contributing to their outstanding record were the returning letter women and the addition of one transfer student along with two superior freshmen.

Aided mostly by returning letter women, Gamma society ran a close second with an 8-2 record. Delta and Beta battled it out to the final game in thrilling competition for the third-place standing. However, when the season was finished they were both tied for third place.

Not too far behind were the Zeta and Sigma teams respectively, who showed no less enthusiasm or loyalty. However they were handicapped by the lack of participation and returning letter women.

May 16, 1961, was a day of success for Olivet's Intramural Field Day activities. In the events, over 40 men participated, representing their various societies. During the year the three original societies were changed to six with the purpose of creating more and better participation. An increase of 25 to 30 per cent in participation has been noted.

Because Field Day is the highlight of the year's outdoor activities, the excitement and enthusiasm of the participants and observers are always keen. With the dismissal of classes, many students and faculty members turned out to cheer and root for their favorite participants and team members.

Individual honors went to Sigma's Terry Arnholt, who took a first in the broad jump and the 220, and placed in the pole vault and 100 yard dash to stack up a total of 14½ points. Beta's Bob Senior tied for second with Keith Powell at 13 points.

At the conclusion of the track and field events, the tired athletes and sunburned spectators made their way to the dining hall for a relaxing All-School-Picnic dinner. In the evening the band gave a concert in Birchard Field House.

Education with a Christian Purpose—this is our aim. Olivet students accomplish this aim by obtaining in a Christian atmosphere a basic and well-rounded education offered by the liberal arts program at Olivet. A basis for specialized training is laid by majoring in one particular area, which is chosen by the student. Minds are disciplined to acquire knowledge through class attendance, study, and research. Spiritual life is cultivated through Bible study and the practice of other Christian disciplines. This interrelated program of the scholastic and the spiritual produces mature Christians.

TIME FOR FAITH

More than eleven hundred young people enrolled at Olivet last September. Convocation Week was one of inspiration. The college year was off to a splendid start.

After our Founders' Day observance on September twenty-ninth, Mrs. Reed and I departed for two months in Europe and the Middle East. This trip entailed over twenty thousand miles of travel by ship, plane and train. Our itinerary took us to twenty countries on four continents. While on this journey, I sensed the tenseness of Europe at the height of the Berlin crisis. I was in Syria less than thirty days after its revolution. On the mountain side that overlooks the city of Damascus I saw a large neon sign in the Arabic language which boasted, "We have won." I was keenly aware of powerful forces at work in our world. These forces may be likened to three revolutions' tornado-like which are sweeping across the earth.

The revolution of Communism is stirring our entire world. Both the Russian and Chinese versions threaten to overwhelm mankind.

The revolution of Nationalism sweeps with gale proportions through colonial countries. The political, social, economic, and cultural movements of our day, light the hopes of millions of people in Asia, Africa, and Latin America.

The Scientific and Technological revolution also moves like a hurricane across our world. The scientific and technical changes which are upon us stagger the imagination.

Since coming back to the campus of Olivet I have sensed a strong awareness among faculty and students of these forces which blow with tornadic proportions upon the world of the "Surging Sixties."

In the midst of this revolutionary and uncertain hour, I sense upon Olivet's campus a great faith in a great God.

This decade is a great time in which to live.

It is a time for great courage and great faith.

Trustees . . . . Charged with the responsibility of guiding our college

Dr. V. H. Lewis, General Superintendent, advisor of Olivet Nazarene College, representing the Board of General Superintendents, Church of the Nazarene.

The Board of Trustees of Olivet Nazarene College is made up of the President of the College, elected representatives of the fifteen districts of the Central Educational Zone, and representatives of the Alumni Association. These men meet twice each year, in February and May, to devise ways and means to promote the program of the college. The students appreciate the members of the Board for their unselfish giving of their time and wisdom to the interest of Olivet. Among the major activities at this year's board meeting were naming the new men's residence Willingham Hall in honor of Dr. T. W. Willingham, beloved former president; employing Keys and Hestrup, architects, and Richardson, Severns, Scheeler and Associates, consultants, to plan the proposed new Science Building; authorizing campus improvements including a new south entrance to the Universe and walks from the residence halls to College Church; and a general salary increase to the faculty. Especially appreciated by the students was the decision not to increase tuition or fees.

Acquaint students with the past

Through reading, discussion, research, evaluation, and sharing first-hand experience, the Division of Social Sciences seeks to develop in the student an understanding of democracy and world problems faced today and to acquaint him with various social institutions and with scientific methods of research in the study of society.

The social science curriculum provides vocational opportunities in such areas as business administration, home economics, social service, and history. Through various field trips a student becomes better acquainted with a democratic form of government, different social institutions, and factors which contribute to the making of well informed intelligent citizens.

Again this year Olivet sponsored a European Tour directed by Dean Willis Snowbarger. Eight of the traveling group of twenty-three, received college credit for special studies completed. In the early part of the second semester Prof. Humble sponsored a field trip to Washington, D.C.

Students of the Division of Social Science have been made aware of the fact that the task of building a better world is the responsibility of every Christian citizen.

Languages and Literature . . .

Facilitate oral and written expression

The courses in English, foreign language, and speech are well populated at Olivet, for it is recognized by both professors and students that skill in the arts of communication and acquaintance with the masterpieces of literature are fundamental to intelligent living. These studies develop our appreciation of cultural values, not only in our own heritage but also in that of other nations as well, and broaden our interest in and sympathy toward other peoples.

A study of foreign languages is becoming increasingly important as the world becomes smaller. If we are to understand the people of other countries and be understood by them, we must communicate with them in their language. Olivet's language courses include Spanish, French, Russian, German, Greek, and Latin. The study of these languages, as well as the courses in written and spoken English and in various areas of literature, help us to achieve that level of writing and speaking proficiency which is expected of educated people.

Religion and Philosophy...

Introduces the cultural and the scriptural heritage of the Christian faith

Through direct acquaintance with the Word of God and a study of the doctrines of the Christian church we gain an understanding of our faith.

Through the courses of study offered in the Division of Religion and Philosophy our faith becomes more stable because it is confirmed by intelligent thought and we learn from our study of divine revelation, church history, and ethical principles that we have a genuine obligation to God, our fellow men, and our church.

During the year the Division of Religion and Philosophy presented the R. T. Williams Lectures on Evangelism with Dr. V. H. Lewis, General Superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene; the Gibson Lectures on Practices; and Dr. Kenneth Rice with lectures on Religious Education. In September the Division Offices were moved to their new quarters on the second floor of the Administration Building. Dr. S. S. White, former dean of Theology at O.N.C., returned to the faculty as professor of Religion and Philosophy. Also during the year Olivet's Board of Trustees made final preparations to offer a Master of Arts degree in Religion starting in the fall of 1962.

The Division of Fine Arts was active in promoting the cultural climate on campus during the year. The Organ Guild observed October as "Organ Month" on Olivet's campus, culminating with an All-Bach Vesper Service. The newly organized Oratorio Chorus presented the annual performance of Messiah in December and Elijah by Mendelssohn in May. Olivet's faculty and students welcomed Mrs. Larsen back from sabbatical leave in Europe in time to sing the contralto role in Messiah.

Early in the second semester a Male Chorus Festival featured Olivet's Viking Male Chorus, the Men's Glee Club from Moody Bible Institute, and the Male Chorus from Greenville College. Throughout the year the Division sponsored frequent bus trips to the Art Institute of Chicago for fine arts students. The Faculty Chamber Ensemble made several appearances during the year and frequent student recitals were presented.

Through tours, concerts, and long hours of practice, the fine arts students are enabled to serve their church and community as artists, teachers, and ministers of music.

Natural Sciences . . .

Teach better understanding of the world God created

Olivet's rapid growth in enrollment has been reflected in the fact that the facilities of the science department are crowded. The Chemistry Department has been enlarged to a two-professor department through the coming of Assistant Professor John Hanson, an alumnus of Olivet. Mr. Hanson will complete his doctorate in chemistry by June of this year. A similar addition will be made in the Physics Department next fall.

The college Board of Trustees has secured the services of campus planners and architects to help locate, and to develop plans for, a new science building in the near future. In line with this action the faculty of the science division, with the aid of a North Central study committee of college faculty, has begun surveys and other preliminary planning to accelerate the science building program. Every effort is being made to improve training in the sciences at Olivet to enable the college to graduate well-equipped science majors to help meet the needs of our present space age by "Education with a Christian Purpose."

Dissecting, experimenting, observing—all a part of the future scientist. The Division of Natural Sciences promotes such means for knowledge in a student's quest for understanding of the world in which he lives.

Understanding the laws of nature—and the test tube—are the basic fundamentals of Olivet's chemistry classes.

Education and Psychology...

Help students understand human behavior

Through the departments of Education, Psychology, and Physical Education the student has the opportunity to gain an understanding of human nature from an objective point of view, with an emphasis on good mental and physical health through theory and practice, a knowledge of the school as a social institution and of education as a part of our culture, and a knowledge of the processes of learning and teaching as a basis for a better life, further learning, and possible vocational competence.

Students are encouraged to be aware of and avail themselves of opportunities for Christian service in teaching, counseling, directing physical education, and library work.

Theories and methods are made more concrete by displays, films, field trips, assisting in the library, observing in public school classrooms, and for many by a culminating experience of supervised student teaching.

New faculty members welcomed to Olivet in this division were Miss Joyce Cox, assistant librarian, and Mr. David Butts, assistant professor of education.

An Honor to deserving students

Olivet Nazarene College presents eighteen students to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. These honored students are elected to this nationally recognized organization on the bases "of character, scholarship, participation in extra-curricular activities, service to the school, and potentiality for future usefulness in business and society." Each student is presented with a certificate of recognition and is privileged to wear the official key. A biographical sketch of each student appears in the current volume of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges which aids personnel managers in their search for capable college graduates.

To these students Olivet Nazarene College extends her congratulations and wishes each a successful life.

In pursuit of knowledge

A necessary part of the pursuit of knowledge is the role played in the classroom. We strive to take advantage of the opportunities placed before us so that we may gain an "Education With a Christian Purpose." In doing this we endeavor to make full use of our time so that as we leave Olivet, we may give to others some of what we have taken from her.

Seniors . . . .

Climax four years of stimulating studies

As seniors we stop and take a big breath—not only because our last year is so filled to the limit with activities and responsibilities, but also because the four years have passed so quickly. Emotions are mixed as we look back—and ahead. Reminiscing inevitably obtrudes into our jam sessions. We recall the pranks we have pulled, the wonderful parties attended, the times of spiritual awareness, the moments of heartbreak, and the grind and thrill of study. We take stock of our valued friendships and know that we will miss the fellowship, and in fact all that goes into college life.

Then we look ahead! We will soon leave the accustomed routine of college life and will enter the workaday world. Some of us will go on to graduate school, some will begin careers in business and teaching, and some will go on to seminary to prepare for the mission field or the ministry. The need to find the right position is a little frightening. Although we may be hesitant about leaving our college cocoon, we know that we are ready to try our wings and wouldn't have it any other way. The future is waiting for us, and this is what we have been preparing for.

Whatever is in store for us, we go in the strength, wisdom, and faith gained from study and experience in our years at Olivet. We thank Olivet for an "Education With a Christian Purpose."

This year we began specializing in our chosen areas of study. The upper division courses made greater demands on thought and time but through them we have realized academic growth.

By sponsoring the Halloween Party and the Junior-Senior Banquet, we have pushed back our social horizons. The Junior Retreat to Turkey Run State Park was the most important event of the year. Activities such as horse-back riding, bicycling, hiking, and the evening steak-fry and hay ride helped to make the trip memorable.

With only one more year of study at Olivet remaining, we look forward to our senior year with anticipation.

Sophomores . . . .

Add zest to campus life

The sophomores returned to Olivet with zest and a greater loyalty to their alma mater. After preliminary testing and registration, they assumed their place in the routine of school life. One of the unique contributions of the sophomores was a monthly publication "Sophomore Spiritual Life," printed by the Sophomore Spiritual Life Committee. This publication consists of personal testimonies, devotional articles, and challenges to Christian youth. Besides leading in the spiritual area, the sophomores act in other ways as examples for the freshmen. In spite of their defeat at the annual tug o' war the sophomores provided the freshmen with a most enjoyable party.

The sophomores held their class party at the Chicago Central District Center on the evening of February 17, 1962. After the varied forms of recreation and the chili supper, a film entitled "The Silent World" was viewed. Under the capable leadership of Willie Dishon, the sophomore class has been one of the most active groups on campus.

Initiate new plans

Bob Phillips gets an assist from emcee Gary St. Gemme as he displays his talent at the end of Frosh-Soph Day.

Karen Lucas and small friend Jerry describe the perils of being a freshman at the fall party for freshmen given by the sophomore class.

Freshman . . . .

Adjust to college life

Last fall the freshmen began a four-year adventure at Olivet. Although homesick and a bit bewildered, the first few hectic weeks of orientation, registration, and beginning classes kept them too busy for moping. They soon made friends and accustomed themselves to the active life of a collegian.

Freshmen Day activities included a scavenger hunt—won by sophomores and a tug o' war—won by freshmen. A trophy was awarded to the freshmen class president Larry Watson for the victory of the tug o' war. Following the tiring activities of the day, the sophomores treated the freshmen to an evening of entertainment.

The freshman class sponsored in the gymnasium, a "home-style" party in which all who attended participated in games that included the "whole family." Among the various games played were a balloon-sitters' relay, balloon basketball, and other games in which the whole group participated.

NAZARENE PUBLISHING HOUSE

50th ANNIVERSARY

Leaders in the Church of the Nazarene recognized early the need for strong institutions if the church was to effect far-reaching results for Christ. For this reason substantial centers for education and a capable publishing program followed closely the building of churches.

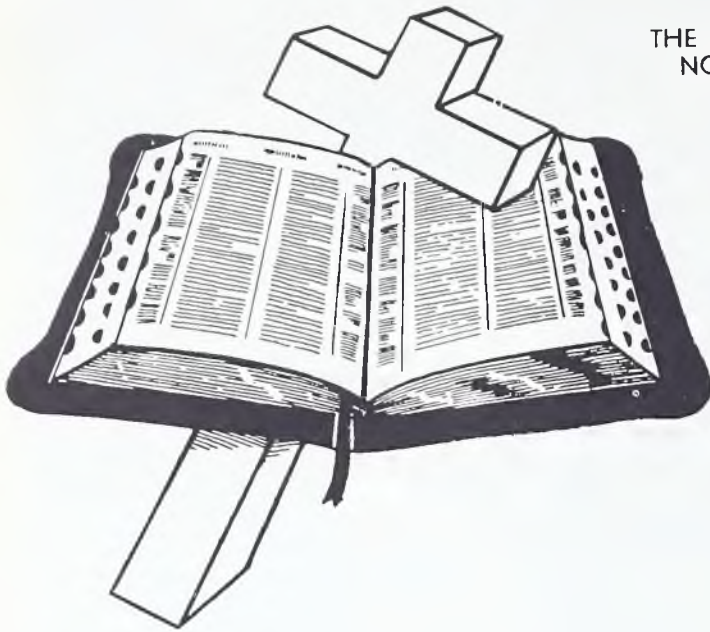

You and your families are the key to this story. As we look together into this golden year of the Publishing House, may we thank you for your support and wish you, the class of 1962, success crowned with God's approval throughout your lives.

The New Analytical Bible

FEATURING AN ANALYTICAL, INDEXED STUDY OF THE BIBLE

The Bible that UNFOLDS the Bible

Wrapped around each book in this Bible are the Helps essential to understanding that particular book. These Helps include the Introduction to the Book, Analytical Chart, Detailed Outline of the Book with its Outstanding Facts, Contemporaneous History, New Testament References to Old Testament Prophets and Events, and Map related to the Book. Within brackets, in the King James Version text, appear more than 5,000 renderings of the American Standard Version where needed for clarification. Bible references appear, for ready use, below the verse rather than in center columns or margins.

THIS BASIC TIME-SAVING FEATURE IS EXCLUSIVE WITH THE NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE.

So handy in size (5-3/4x8-5/8x1-3/8 ins.) that you will carry it with you to church

LEADERS THROUGHOUT THE ENGLISH-SPEAKING WORLD ACCLAIM THIS BIBLE

Dr. Billy Graham: "My preaching is Bible-centered. It is, therefore, my fervent desire to see the teachings of Jesus Christ better understood and practiced by new converts and all other Christians. This is why I am so pleased that the NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE contains the helps to make this possible. They are so simple that anyone can use them, yet so complete and scholarly that they will aid the advanced Bible student, the teacher, and the minister. This Christ-centered Bible contains a reverent, evangelical library of helps to assist all who want seriously to study God's Word, and I am happy to commend it."

Rev. Dennis E. Wyrick: "The NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE and the Workbook fulfill a real need in the Church today. I recommend them most highly to any church or group as a means of increasing their devotional and spiritual progress in their personal lives."

Dr. D. I. Vanderpool: "Having used the Dickson Bible for years, I am in a position to give it highest praise. Now with the added features in the NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE, it becomes a must for every Bible student, especially those who may be limited for time or lack a full library. I could wish that every Pastor and Sunday School teacher had the NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE."

Dr. Ralph Earle: "The NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE is without doubt the very best Study Bible on the market. It would seem to me that it could be used effectively for group study. Its helps are clear and conservative. I would recommend it heartily to our people."

Dr. G. B. Williamson: "The NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE is the most complete single volume library I have seen. It provides aids especially valuable to those who preach and teach the Word of God."

Rev. D. D. Lewis: "The NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE offers the most unusual Systematic Study of any Bible on the market today. I would be happy to see every church on the Kentucky District set up a class to study the Word of God from the NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE and Workbook."

Dr. Otto Stucki: "An amazing amount of Biblical knowledge has been classified, concisely stated, and put at our finger tips in the NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE. The Systematic Study of the NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE in a class sponsored by the pastor, it seems to me, would be an excellent project. I certainly recommend it wherever it can be advantageously worked into the local program."

Dr. Frank W. Langham, Regional Executive Secretary, American Bible Society: "Thirty years ago I purchased from one of your salesmen a copy of the NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE. Through all these years it has been a constant source of invaluable aid to me as a Bible student, teacher, and preacher. If I were faced with the choice of retaining only one volume in my library, it would be the NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE. I am now purchasing a revised edition and appreciate the splendid improvements which I find in it."

Dr. H. H. Halley: "I think the NEW ANALYTICAL BIBLE is the most complete combination of Bible Text and Bible Helps in a single volume that I have ever seen. I most heartily commend it as the most helpful form in which a person can have a Bible for regular reading and study."

..... bring to an end

Time has come for me to close the forty-ninth volume of the Aurora. It has been a lot of fun trying to produce a yearbook for the students, faculty, and friends of Olivet Nazarene College. I feel that there are several people who should receive special recognition for the fine job they have done: our advisor Prof. D. J. Strickler, for his ideas and speeches geared to make the Aurora staff know why we made the decisions that we did; Mrs. Demaray for her timely suggestions and corrections; the Durand Cover Company, the Interstate Printers and Publishers, Inc., and the Blankenberg Photographers for their fine work in carrying out our requests.

I would like to thank my editorial staff for their devoted cooperation. I could always depend on them to be in the office when they said they would be, and each one of them to meet his deadlines. Paul Springer, editor of Student Life; Walt Ballard, editor of Intramurals; Larry Buess and Bonnie Seal, co-editors of Organizations; and Jim Hullinger, editor of the College section. My assistant, Miss Charlotte Huddle, was in charge of all the write-ups; and Ernie Husarik, my office mate and business manager was a "great guy" to work with.

Thank you one and all for helping make the 1962 AURORA possible.
