President Quincy Doudna

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The Warbler is a fine record of your past year at Eastern Illinois University. As time passes the pictures and text will bring back many memories.

For you who are seniors the Warbler has more than ordinary significance, for you won't be back with us next year. You have been with us during the beginning of our current physical expansion, but have left too soon to see completed the Laboratory School, the Fine Arts Center, the Student Union, the three Residence Halls, and the two Married Student Apartment Buildings.

Could I suggest that this is all the more reason you'll want to be an active alumnus? Join the Alumni Association each year and take part in alumni activities. Keep interested in your Alma Mater and come back to see us often. You'll always be welcome.

Eastern Students Work Their Way

WHILE grades, themes, exams and instructors constitute many of the worries confronting students at Eastern, perhaps the greatest concern of the majority is that universal dilemma—a lack of money. Fortunately, the university and community have taken this student problem into consideration and have provided employment for several hundred struggling students. From bus boys to army officers, Eastern students have joined the labor force. The influx of married veterans has swelled the number of employees considerably. As many students have proven at Eastern, anyone with enough desire to put forth that extra bit of energy can secure a college degree. The following pages present a candid view of how many students are "working" for their degrees at present.

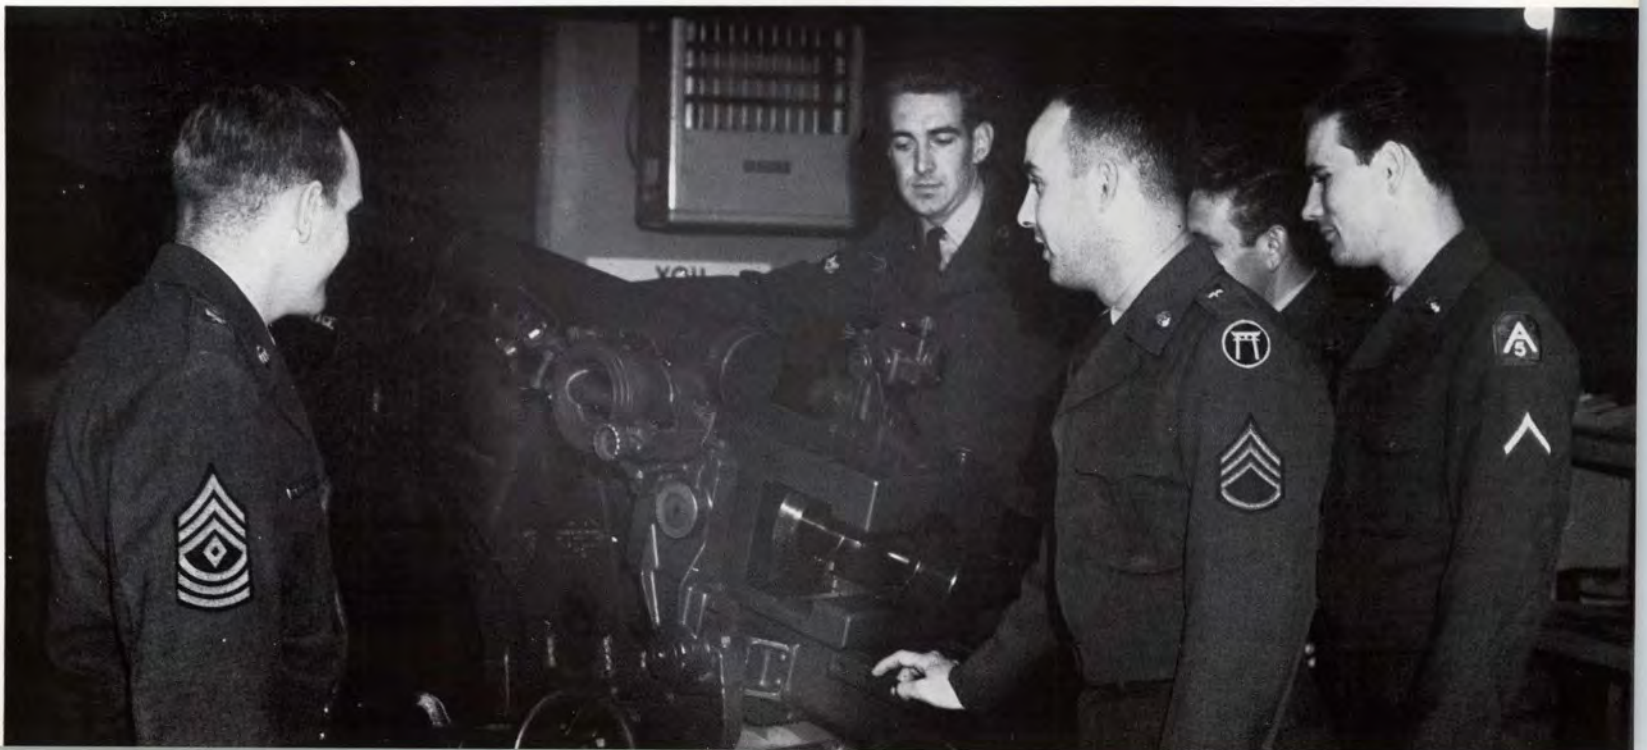

Dick Whiston—janitor at Lincoln-Douglas Hall.

M/Sgt. Ron Dornblaser gives instruction on the care and maintenance of an army reserve field piece.

Sharon Dennis takes library call card from student.

WORKING THEIR WAY

WORKING hours vary, of course, but both campus and community student-laborers attempt to cram as many pay hours as possible into every day. Students working at the library soon discover there is more to checking out a reference book than merely signing a slip. Prospective teachers are able to gain library experience which will be put to worthwhile use in years ahead. The grocery clerk (possibly a business major?) learns the everyday routine of managing a chain store, and part of this learning is accomplished through such ordinary jobs as stocking the shelves.

Bob Woolever keeps the students' wheels rolling.

"Punch" Meyer aids the male students in keeping "sharp."

The three dormitories provide employment for the resident. The students below are preparing to serve one of the three daily meals in the dorm dining halls.

Business major Scott Miller gets a taste of the "cold, cold" world. Selling insurance comes a bit easier when you're dealing with people you have known for four years.

J. W. Oglesby, editor and photographer for the Warbler, supplements his income via the flash camera routine.

Delores Sutton's job is a new occupation at Eastern. With the conversion to dial phones completed last fall, the campus installed its own switchboard and operator.

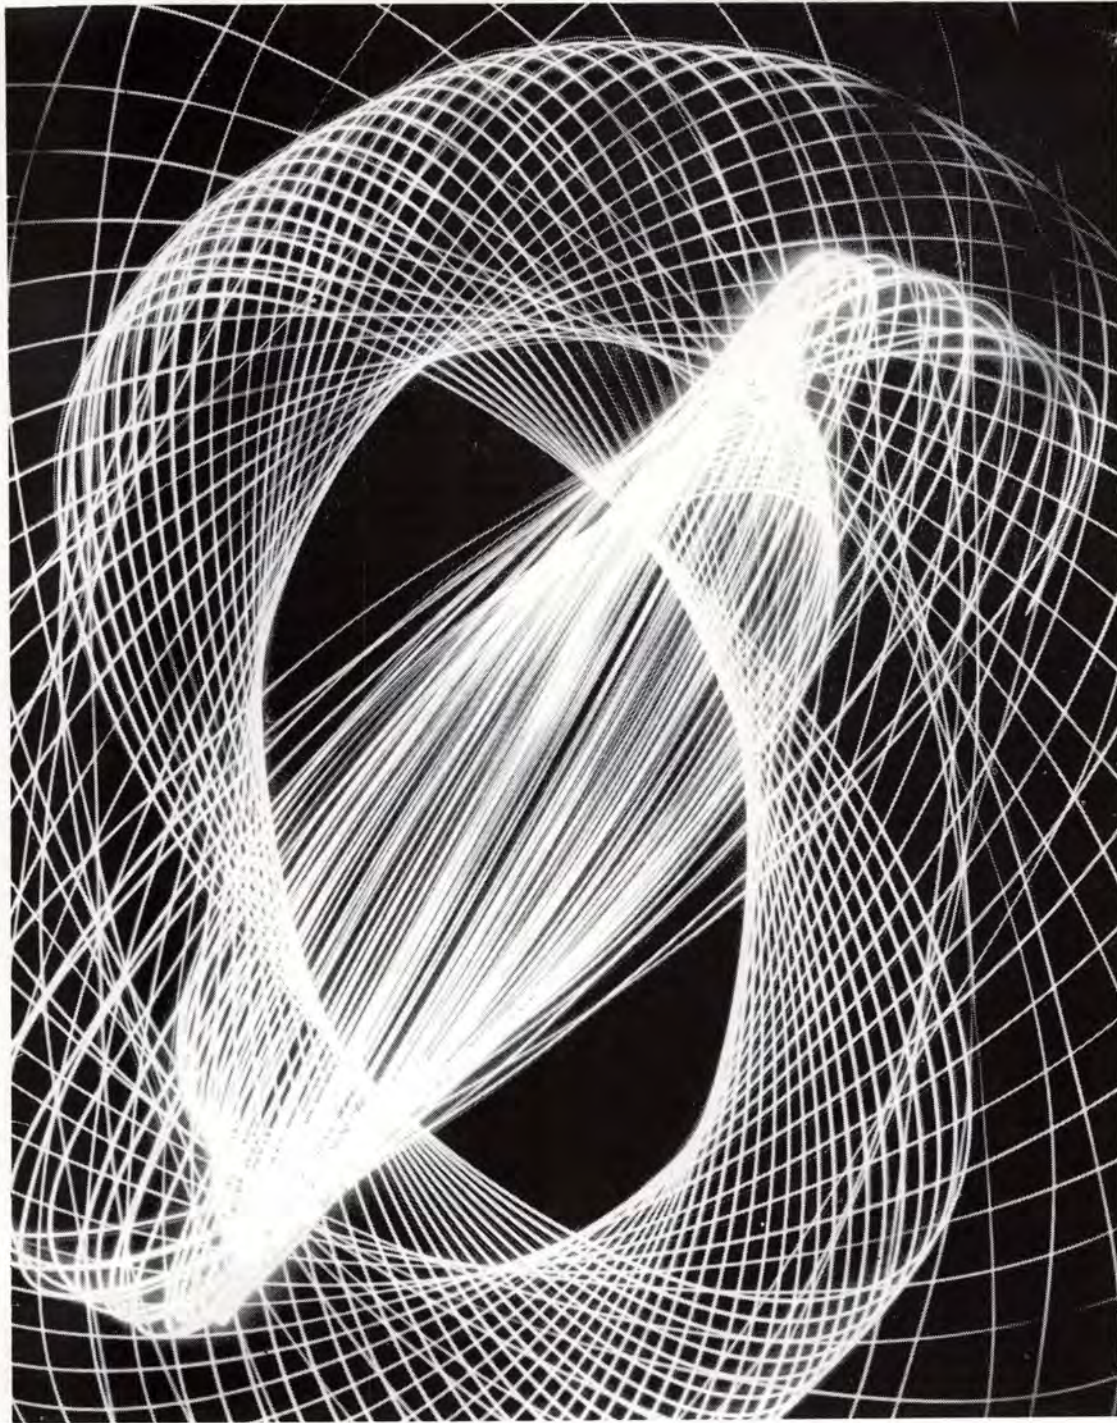

Cokes to Cameras

The familiar soda jerk of earlier college days is still quite prevalent around Eastern. Here Sandy Towles (left) spends her working hours keeping the King Book store customers from going thirsty, and Bruce Palmer (below), a camera-bug himself, finds the surroundings of Myers Camera shop quite suitable for working after class hours.

Great Events
In Great Years

October 24-26, 1957

Greeter Election Opens 43rd Homecoming

Homecoming 1958 opened with a pep rally for Greeter candidates and closed Sunday with the alums making the long trek home. For three days book work was forgotten and students concentrated on letting their hair down and having a wild time.

Sigma Kappa's representative was Miss Jane Huber.

Always a highlight of Homecoming is the Players' production. This year's play was the "Rainmaker" and was under the direction of E. Glendon Gabbard. The play played to near-capacity crowds on Thursday and Friday nights. Greg White, Mike Muchmore, Bill Buckles, Jack Downs, Jean Cutlip and Jack Wayne were featured in the production.

The Play's the Thing

The Homecoming spirit reaches a peak at the Friday night pep rally. Each fraternity and sorority presents a skit, and the one which evokes the most cheers is awarded a trophy. President Doudna surprised the crowd by showing the youngsters how cheers are supposed to be given. The banner below headed the Homecoming parade and gave the theme of floats and house decorations.

Following the theme of "Great Events in Great Years," Sigma Pi depicts Mrs. O'Leary's cow as the prime factor in the Great Chicago Fire. This display captured first place in house decorations. Trains, statues, carousels, etc., decorated the lawns of the organized houses and gave evidence of the many hours spent to make this year's Homecoming the most colorful yet. Judges based their decisions on originality, workmanship, and use of theme.

The reconstruction of the "Tin Lizzie" brought the Business Club its eighth consecutive first prize in Class B competition. Class B is composed of departmental clubs and religious groups.

Leading the parade, the Queen's float moved through the streets crowded with alums and students who gathered, despite the cold weather, to observe the many outstanding floats.

. . . and so ends another
year's Homecoming activities.

Delta Zeta

Delta Zeta social sorority is to be commended for the multi-purpose ladder on the front of their house. It serves not only as an avenue of hasty exit in case of fire, but also as a means by which pledges of a nearby fraternity may park their brothers' shoes on top of the porch.

One anxious pledge, after utilizing the ladder for his ascension to the DZ roof, during his hasty departure, forgot to use the ladder to descend.

One of their most important annual services to the school is the compiling and publishing of the student directory.

Sigma Kappa

P sychologists' couches, reminiscent songs and a homesick Tennessee girl was the plot that captured first place in the annual stunt night for the Sigma Kappa social sorority.

The Sigma Kappas are a relatively new organization on Eastern's campus. They were first installed as a national sorority at Eastern in 1955.

"Aprille Polonaise," an all-school formal dance, is sponsored by Sigma Kappa.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

A persistent, and sometimes aggravating, prankster kept the Tri Sigs busy taking down a green stamp sign about every morning.

This year the Tri Sigs are playing it safe. Precautionary measures have been taken. Girls kept a perpetual vigilance on the premises—no green stamp sign this year.

Besides their claim to fame in the green stamp set, the Tri Sigs have been working on a national social service project, "Sigma Serves Children."

The "Sigmans" busied themselves this year by partially re-decorating their house and "breaking in" a new house mother, Mrs. Margaret Goff.

Another Brotherhood begins.

Alpha Kappa Lambda

The corner of Seventh and Lincoln where the Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity is located has been the site of fraternity houses since the inception of the first fraternity on Eastern's campus.

Their fraternity house has long been noted to house Eastern's fraternities. The Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity occupied the house until two years ago. Then the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity lived in the house, until this year when Eastern's newest fraternity Alpha Kappa Lambda took over the leg-watching corner.

The Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity sponsored the January Jump, an all-school formal.

Fraternity Songfest

Kappa Sigma Kappa

The mark of a fraternity man—the long sought after “frat” pin was hooded in black by the Kappa Sigma Kappa social fraternity this year to signify the passing of their group from Eastern’s campus.

Rebelling against their National organization, the Kappa Sigs have aspirations of acquiring a name other than Kappa Sigma Kappa.

Besides demonstrating intellect by winning the scholarship trophy, the Kappa Sigs proved they were also qualified when it came to domestic duties. The Kappa Sigs won the housekeeping award given to fraternities this year.

“Sadie Hawkins” dance and “Stunt Night” were sponsored by Kappa Sigma Kappa.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

The Hungarian revolt provided a houseguest for the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity this year. The inter-fraternity council at Eastern donated a scholarship for a Hungarian freedom-fighter, and the Phi Sigs provided him a place to live.

Freedom-fighter Jozsef Fekete, who a year ago was fighting for his life, is now engaged in another battle—the battle of the English language—but this time he has the Phi Sigs to help him.

“Go, go, go for Falstaff” were the first words his benevolent brothers taught him.

One of Eastern’s oldest fraternities, the Phi Sigs became the owners of the newest home in the fraternity set when they finished construction of their $40,000 residence.

“Turkey Trot” and “Crystal Ball” dances were sponsored for the students by the men of Phi Sigma Epsilon.

Sigma Pi

“Oops—so sorry!” could have been the sentiments expressed by the Sig Pi’s winter quarter when a closely-planned plot backfired.

Planning to reprimand Sig Pi pledges who supposedly were to paint the Sig Pi rock one night, the members were on the lookout to catch and punish the traitors in their ranks.

But red faces and muttered words were exchanged, when instead of pledges, another fraternity was discovered as being the culprits.

Besides playing detectives this year, the Sig Pi’s joined a majority of other campus fraternities and redecorated their house.

Sigma Pi was the first Eastern fraternity to become a member of the National Interfraternity conference.

Sigma Tau Gamma

Eight o'clock classes may be hard to make, but when duck season is in, the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity house comes to life at five in the morning.

Out to the Charleston lake and into the duck blinds go many of the Sig Taus to patiently await the arrival of an unsuspecting canvasback.

Outshining their hunting abilities is the portrait of Dr. Charles P. Lantz, a fraternity sponsor who was awarded a place in the Sports' Hall of Fame. It was given to the Sig Taus by their alumni chapter.

A new trophy case was built for the house and was dedicated in the memory of Mervin Carl, a member who was killed in an oil field accident in the summer of 1956.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Sam Spade, Joe Friday, and McGraw have nothing over the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity when it comes to apprehending wrong-doers.

During the winter quarter this year the Tekes received an urgent call for help from the girls living in the home management house. Carrying on in the incomparable tradition of masculine courage, the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon rallied to the plea and captured a prowler who was lurking outside the girls' window. Normalcy was restored.

Not only did the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon prove themselves in the crime detection field, but they also established their reputation as float builders. The Tekes have won first prize in the Homecoming parade for five consecutive years.

A fraternity housemother, Mrs. Mae Van Sickle, the first housemother in a fraternity at Eastern, was engaged by the Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity.

Independent Student Association

Independent Student Association is still talking of the days when Herb Alexander was president. That year the Independent students became a noticeably powerful group and offered the Greeks stout competition when their candidate won the Homecoming queen election.

This year the ISA has shown signs of building its membership and interest by capturing the head greeter election with candidate Jane Armstrong. The head greeter is a much sought after honor by the sororities at Eastern.

Car trouble blighted the Homecoming for the Independents when the auto that was pulling their queen candidate and float blew up and delayed the parade for half an hour.

MARRIED

A Closely Knit Organization

Marion Zane, a junior business major, typifies the "new order" of college student which has steadily increased on campuses since World War II and the Korean conflict. Marion is married, and like many in the "new order," manages to lead a fairly normal married life, despite the demands inflicted in trying to secure a college degree while working for a living.

Marion, Wilma and three-year-old Debbie make their home in the four-room Campus City apartments. The Zanes are one of nearly two hundred married couples at Eastern. And, like other veterans, Marion depends a great deal on the monthly GI Bill government check. To supplement the $160 check, Marion works part time in the Business office on campus.

The few hours he has away from classes and the job are spent shopping with Wilma, taking in a movie, roughhousing with Debbie or chatting with neighbors over a cup of coffee.

By stretching the income, the Zanes are able to enjoy a steak once in awhile, but most of the food buying is done with economy in mind. After the grind of classes and work, Marion finds a chance to relax at the table and talk over the day with Wilma. Still a young married man, Marion puts in his time with the dish towel, also.

Debbie, not quite aware of how busy her daddy is, demands the daily horseback ride before turning in for the night. The apartment size allows Debbie to have her own room. Below, a visit from grandmother shows all eyes on Debbie and her "words of wisdom."

The day of reckoning for Marion arrives every three months. Grades are released after each quarter's work, and Wilma and Debbie are the first to find out just how well Pop, the student, is doing.

Mail order catalogs are a necessity in every Campus City apartment. Here Marion and Wilma scan the book trying to decide on an order. Apartments are unfurnished and all couples are faced with something of a money problem in securing the kitchen appliances and other furniture.

A sassy little Miss decides to help Daddy with the studying, but a few words from Marion convince Debbie that perhaps it's best that she get ready for bed.

The bedtime story, a drink of water, and "goodnight" from Marion and Wilma are necessary before Debbie will go to sleep. Marion's schedule doesn't allow him the time he would care to spend with Debbie, but Wilma does a great deal toward helping Debbie understand why Daddy is always so busy.

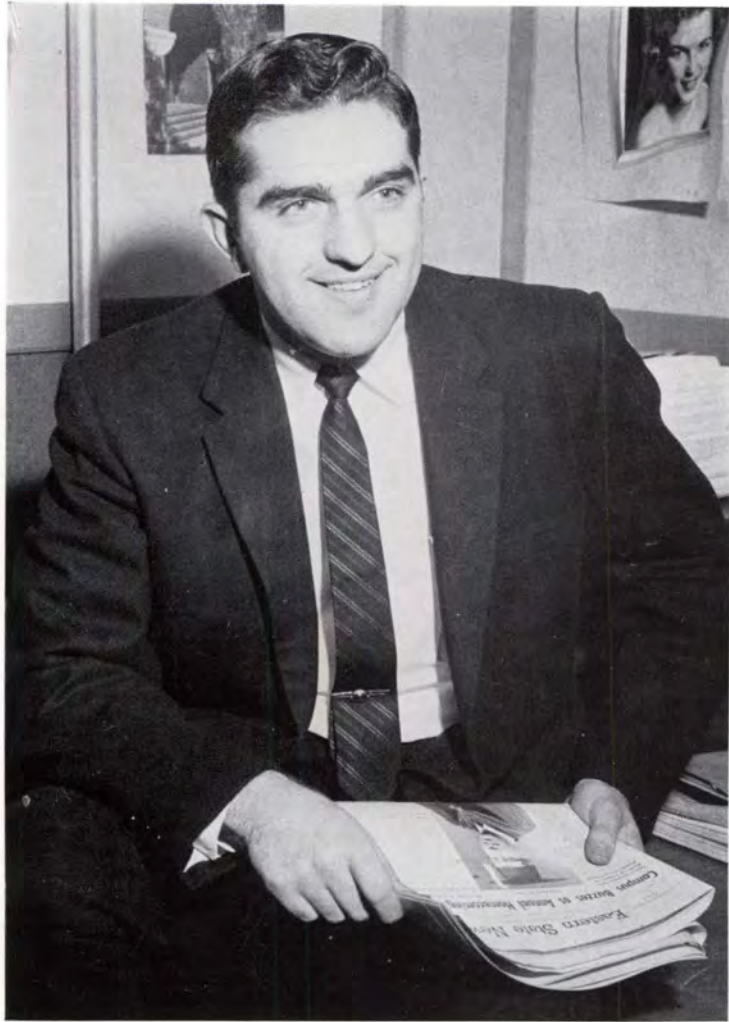

While the average family man would have been in bed hours before, Marion uses the last hours of the day preparing for tomorrow's classes. Marion and his family all realize that while the task is demanding, the reward will be well worth the effort.

MUSIC

The sound of Eastern Illinois University band is not strange to the ears of the people of Charleston. Marching band spends many hours "pounding the pavement" between the college and the Charleston square.

Band

The Eastern bands get a rest during the winter quarter when they convert from a marching band to the concert band. The concert band's big event during the year is the annual parents' presentation in Lantz gym.

Eastern symphony orchestra is made up of students, faculty and interested townspeople. Under the direction of Dr. Earl Boyd, the orchestra gives two concerts during the academic year.

In addition the orchestra joins the chorus in presenting major productions in opera, oratorio, and other musical occasions.

Long hours of practice enable the students to gain first-hand experience in serious music productions.

PLAYERS

The Rainmaker . . .

For their annual Homecoming presentation, the Players chose the dramatic Broadway play of The Rainmaker, which was also a Hollywood production.

The cast consisted of Jack Wayne, Jack Downs, Bill Buckles, Jean Cutlip, Bob Francisco, Mike Muchmore, and Greg White. The play was staged by Dr. E. Glendon Gabbard and was designed by Mr. Theodore Herstand.

The Miser . . .

An experiment of stylized acting was used for the Players' winter production of The Miser. The play, a 17th century satirical comedy, made use of staging and costuming effects seldom seen on the Eastern stage.

Cheerleaders

A team always needs backing to add to morale. This year six sports-minded women backed the team loyally by urging the fans to "get in there and yell."

Practice, sore throats, and aching muscles, had to be contended with throughout numerous sport events this year.

Cheerleaders this year were selected by a committee composed of students and faculty. Next fall the entire student body will participate in the selection of the group of girls.

Instead of the usual six, twelve girls will be given the opportunity to back the Panthers next year. Six cheerleaders will be assigned to the Varsity and six to the B squad.

TENNIS

Netters Share Conference Championship

Coach Rex V. Darling's netters emerged successfully in every conference match during the regular season and tied for first place with Illinois Normal in the conference meet held at Charleston. Eastern lost only twice during the season. The Panthers were beaten decisively only once, 8-1, this coming at the hands of the University of Illinois. The other defeat was a thriller with Western Michigan, 5-4. The team gained strength with each encounter and finished the season by blanking five of their last seven opponents. Point winners for Eastern in the IIAC meet were in the No. 1, No. 2, and No. 6 spots, by Dennis Konicki, Clark Nelson, and Phil Stuckey, respectively. The team, composed mainly of promising underclassmen, lost only two men through graduation, Lloyd Ludwig and Phil Stuckey. Stuckey played in the No. 6 slot and Ludwig was lost to the squad with a leg injury for most of the season.

For Coach Rex Darling the successful 1957 season came as the direct result of tedious planning and long hours of practice sessions. That, in addition to the effects of his latest invention. The "brainstorm" rates top spot in a long list of Darling "firsts." It is a form of elasticized tape that fits the gym floor in the exact dimensions of a regulation tennis court. The floor is specially marked to provide for setting up and taking down of the makeshift courts in a matter of a few minutes. This serves to combat the perennial weather jinx that hampers many squads in early spring.

When quizzed as to the 1958 prospects, Darling simply flashed his patented smile and began expounding on his favorite subject, Eastern's 17 multi-colored courts.

"To my knowledge, our courts are the only ones of their kind at any college or organization in the country." The surface, composed of layers of a rubberized element, will minimize skidding and eliminate "bad hops."

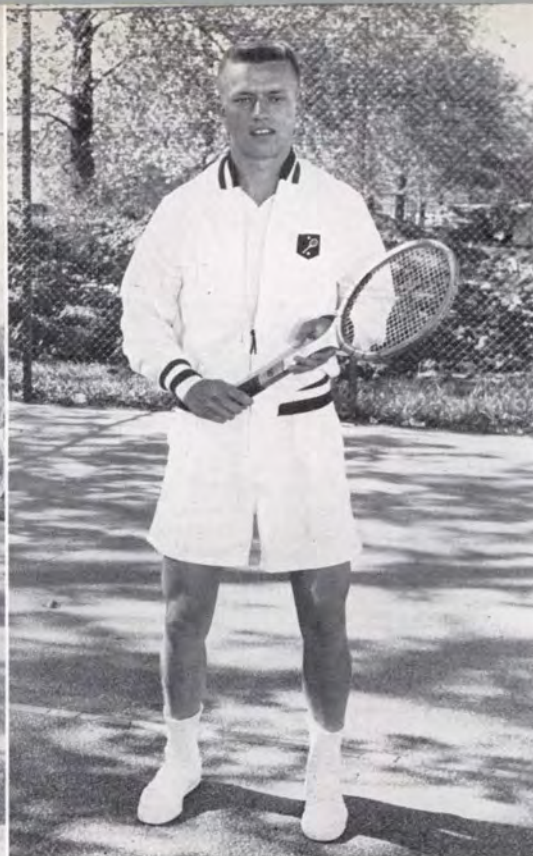

Individual statistics for the season show Konicki with the best record at 16-3. Following came Nelson with a 14-4 mark, Sims 12-3, Woodfall 12-4, Risley 10-4, and Stuckey, the lone senior finished with 6 wins against 3 losses.

As a team, the netters won 73 games while dropping 18 in 15 meets. In doubles competition, the squad won 26 games and lost 22, for an overall total of 99 wins and 40 losses. These figures include the regular season play, the IIAC tournament and the NAIA National Championships.

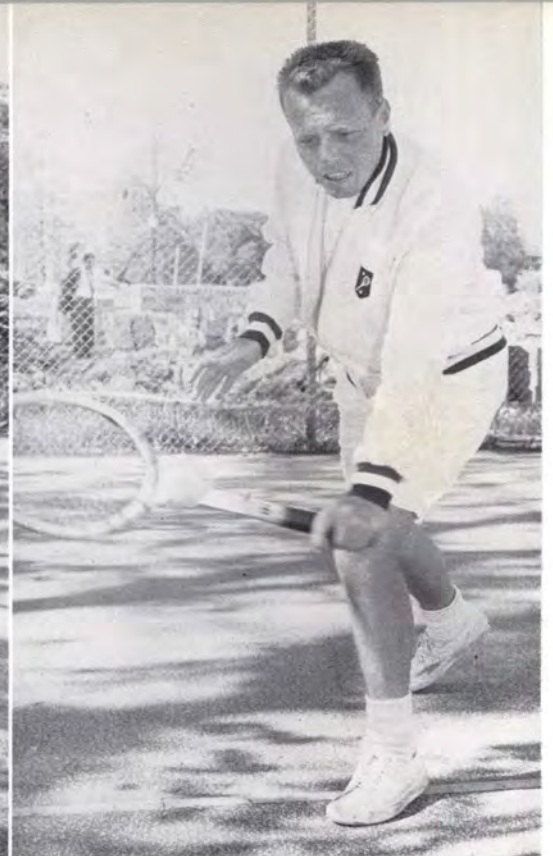

Conference champions Konicki and Nelson, who combined to form Eastern's No. 1 doubles team, traveled to Lamar State College of Technology last June to participate in the National NAIA tennis tournament. As a team they dropped their second round match to topseeded Stan Ellis and Aaron Johnson of Pepperdine. Konicki reached the third round in the singles before bowing out, and Nelson was outpointed in his first encounter.

Baseball Hopes Dampened by Weather

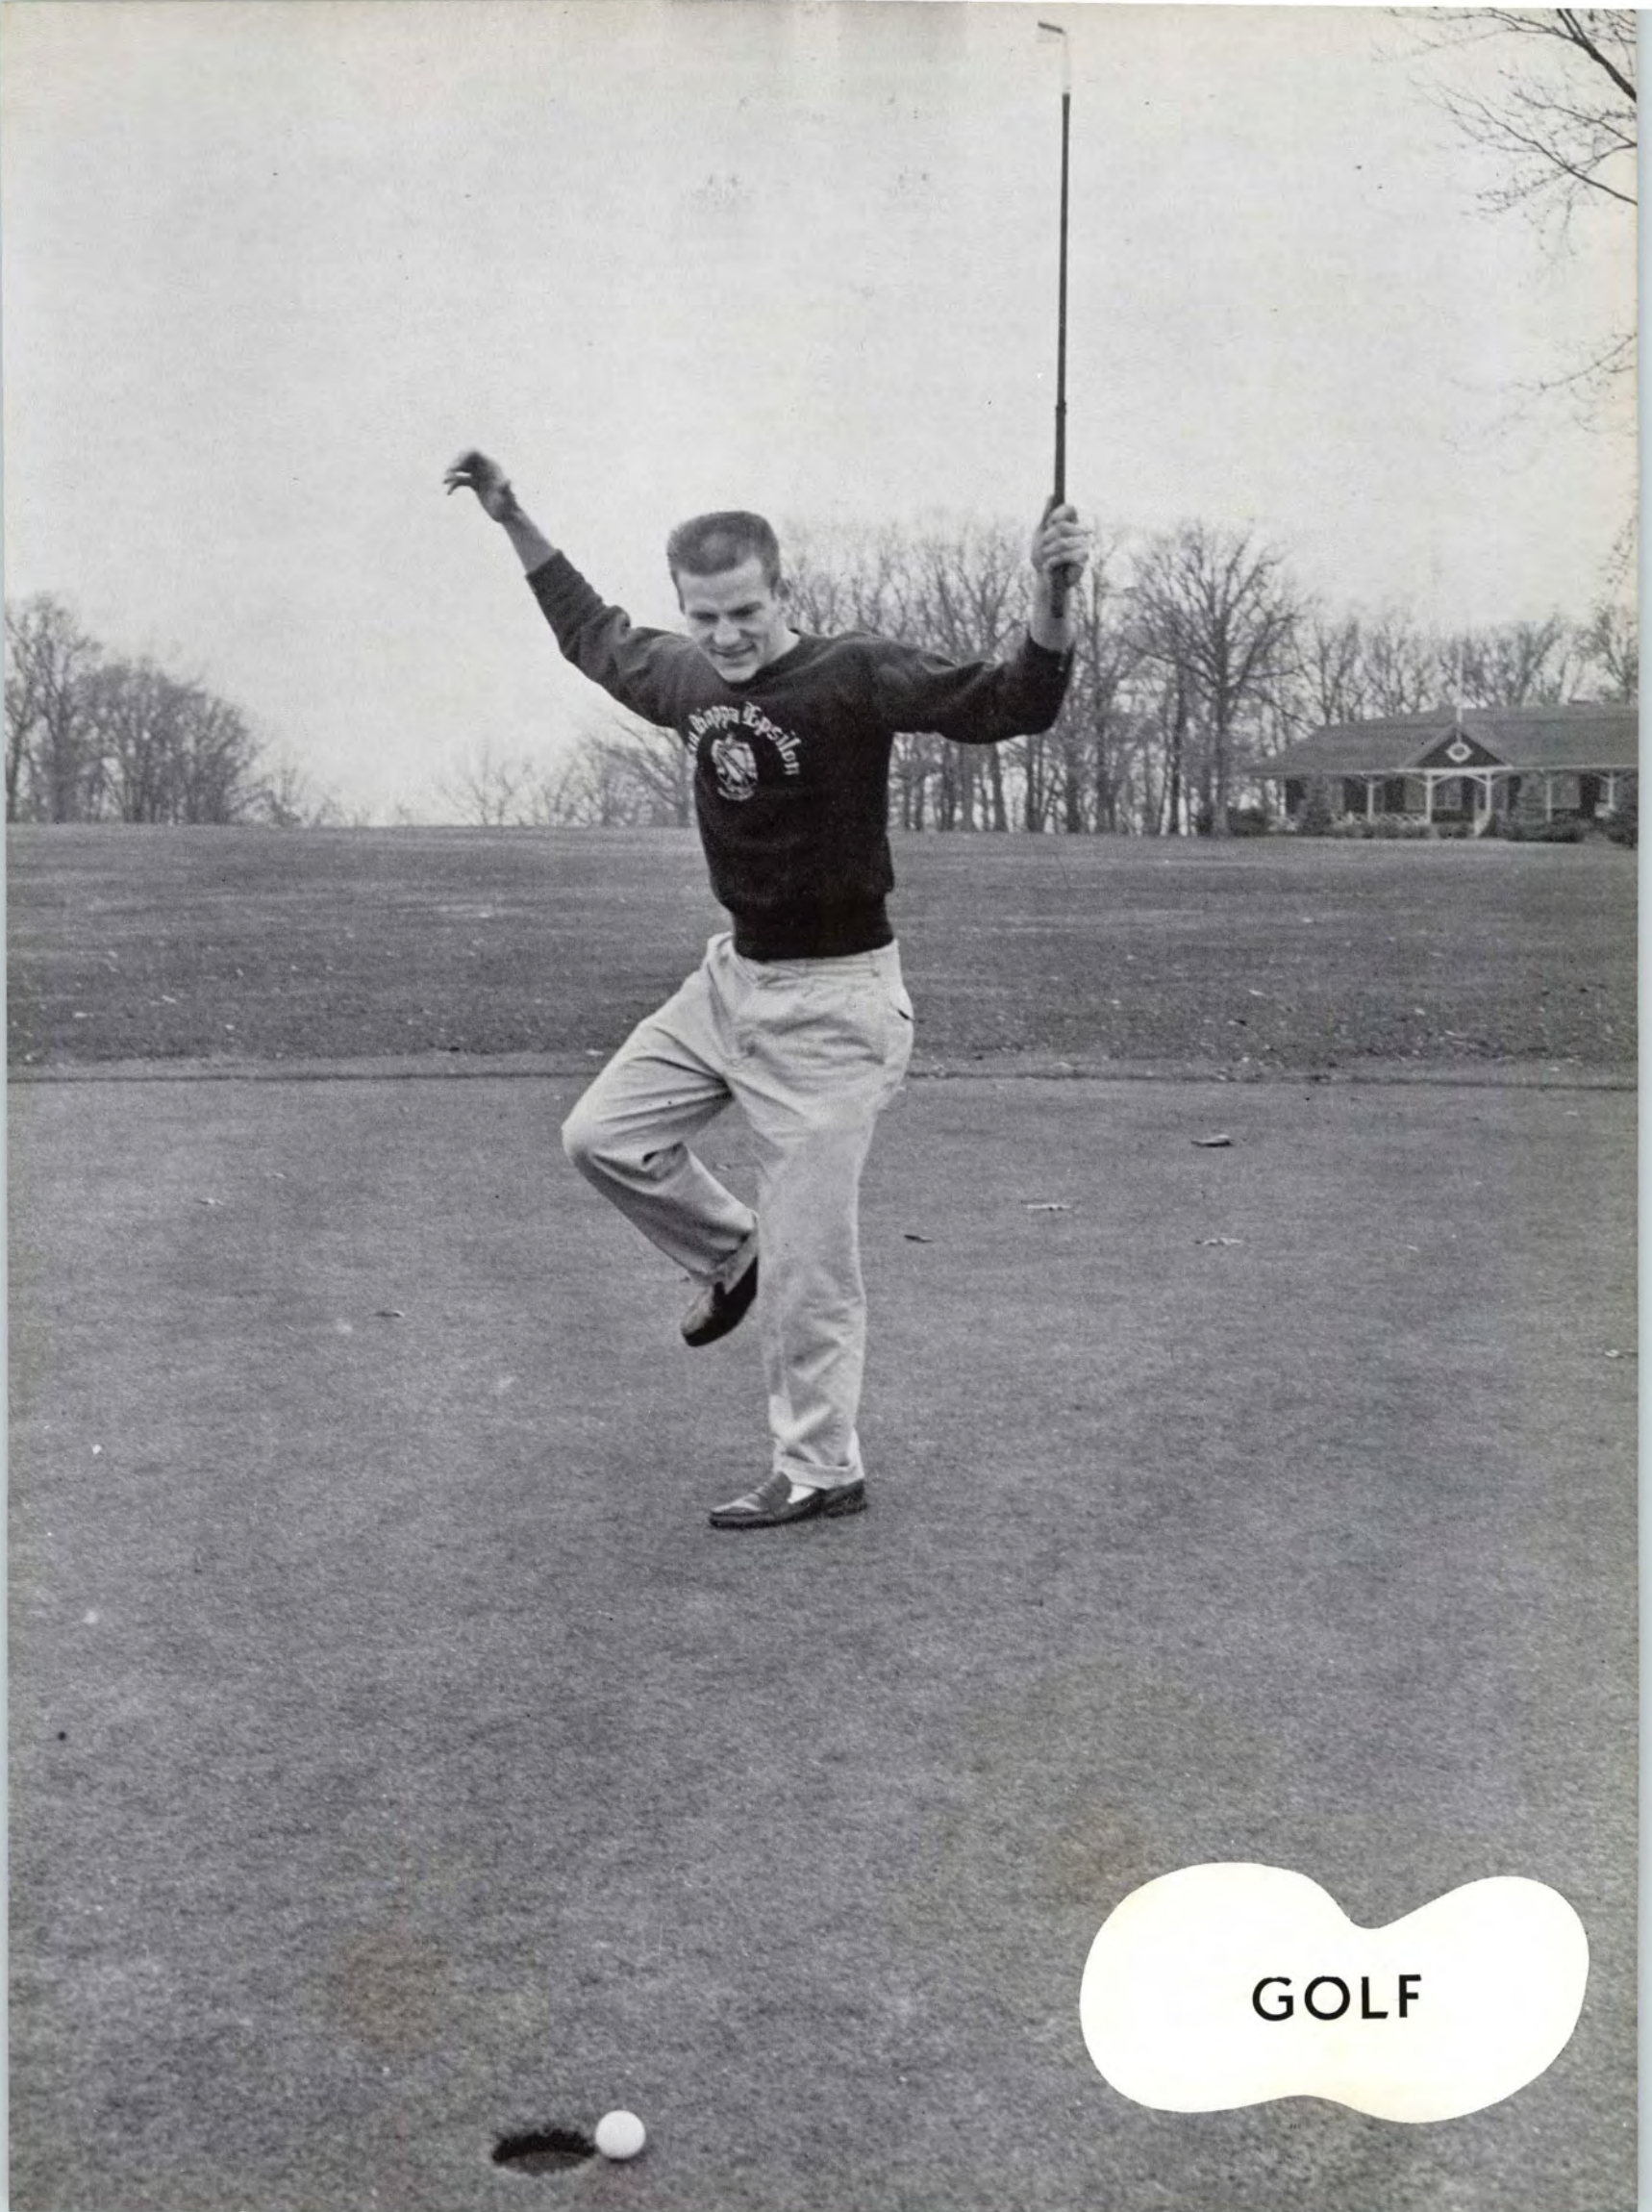

Hampered by unpredictable spring weather and a general lack of effectiveness, the Panther nine found itself in seventh place in the IIAC Conference at the end of the season. The team got off to a rousing start by downing its first two opponents by one-sided margins. They were then caught in a slump which continued throughout the season. An inexperienced mound staff and errors in the field contributed to the scoring of 93 runs by opponents, as compared with 85 runs scored by the Panthers. Eastern's Frank Wolf was named to the IIAC all-conference squad. Third baseman Gene Cornell, voted the season's most valuable player and honorary captain, was the only man lost through graduation. With the majority of the squad returning, the team can be expected to show considerable improvement this spring.

Coach Bill Rogers served in a temporary capacity for the spring quarter before returning to professional baseball. His successor is Jack Kaley, former Drake University head baseball coach. Kaley assumed duties at Eastern in September.

Golfers End Three-Year Losing Streak

Coach Bob Carey's linksters won their first match since 1954 by defeating Indiana State, 5-4. The "record-breaking" crew consisted of an equal number of freshmen and returning lettermen.

Lettermen on the 1957 squad were Norm Chapman, Dan Cleary, Larry Hintz, Don Leighty, Dee Lindenmeyer, William Schuetze and Earl Theidel.

In the IAC meet held at Eastern last May, the Panthers finished seventh. Western, with a 36 hole total of 609, edged Northern by 4 strokes for the championship.

Golf at Eastern has long been classified as a minor sport, but even in such capacity it is looked upon as being somewhat neglected.

The golfers' primary disadvantage has been a lack of facilities. Subject to restricted use of the Charleston Country Club as a practice home meet course, preparation for matches is at a minimum.

Coach Carey cites the high turnover, mainly due to the prevalence of pre-med and pre-engineering majors on the squad, as another explanation for the prolonged ineffectiveness on the fairways. These men leave Eastern after their second year, when they are many times promising, but never polished golfers.

With regard to the future, Carey is smilingly hoping for the best, but in reality, it is at best unpredictable.

Tracksters Continue Winning Ways

Coach "Pat" O'Brien

Coach "Pat" O'Brien's 1957 track team enjoyed another winning season, losing only one dual meet in four encounters. The Panthers' first defeat in a dual meet in four years was their loss to Normal, 66-65. Panther track prowess was evident both in the Bradley Relays and in the State College Meet with firsts in both events.

Graduation claimed many of the outstanding tracksters, but promising underclassmen make Eastern's future track hopes look bright. Those lost to the team through graduation were: Winston Brown, 100 and 220 yard dash; Neil Admire, javelin; Roger West and Everett Hardy, discus; Ray Fisher, shot; Bob Gilpin, quarter miler; Ray White, Eastern's top point-producer unable to compete in the IIAC because of a leg injury, also completed his eligibility during the 1957 season.

Eastern Michigan's Hurons, led by flashy sprinter Hayes Jones, took top team honors in the IIAC meet held at Lincoln Field, May 24 and 25. Eastern's tracksters proved to be the leading Illinois team in the meet but finished third with 27 1/10 points behind Eastern Michigan and Central Michigan. Eastern Michigan collected a total of 81 1/10 points.

Winner of the most valuable award for the outstanding individual trackman in the IIAC meet was the amazing Jones, who set three records in the meet preliminaries and went on to take firsts in the meet in low and high hurdles, broad jump and 100 yard dash. Panthers who placed in point brackets were: Rawlan Lillard, second in 880 yard dash; Gerald Gossett, second in javelin; Winston Brown, third in 220 yard dash and fourth in 100 yard dash; Roger West, second in discus; and Ray Fisher and David Fields, third and fourth in shot put.

Admire and Gossett

Fisher and Fields

Field events were the key to Eastern's track success in 1957, as all competitors in the discus, javelin, and shot put placed consistently. In the IIAC meet held at Eastern in May, the entire crew of field men placed. Ray Fisher and Dave Fields third and fourth, respectively, in the shot put, Gerald Gossett and Neil Admire earned third and fifth spots in the javelin, and Roger West finished fourth in the discus.

Fisher, who was conference champion in his junior year, took a back seat to Eastern Michigan's James Allen, who won handily with a 50 ft. 7 inch effort.

Of the formidable fieldmen, Fisher and West were lost through graduation, leaving Gossett, Fields, and Admire, all seniors, to form a nucleus for the 1958 squad. Promising freshmen and sophomores from the 1957 squad brighten the outlook considerably, however.

Panthers Winless: Kohl Looks To Future

Coach Ralph Kohl's inexperienced Panthers staggered through a winless 1957 campaign, dropping all nine scheduled games. Hampered by the loss through graduation of lettermen from the 1956 team, the freshman dominated squad failed to come up to expectations, experiencing their first season without a victory since 1955.

In an effort to remedy the demoralized football situation, Kohl, who has been accustomed to winning ways throughout his football career as a player and a coach, is in the process of building what he hopes will ultimately be a formidable unit.

The 1957 squad, which averaged a scant 18½ years of age, made a better account of themselves than their hapless record indicates. The backfield, fortified with an abundance of intestinal fortitude, but hampered by an obvious lack of weight and experience showed flashes of brilliance under the almost constant onslaught of opposing linemen.

Paced by sophomore quarterback Verlon Myers, who led the IIAC in pass completions, and freshmen scat-backs Ken Calhoun and Perry Thomas, the Panther "cubs" battled both Western and Northern to a standstill, before depth and experience took their toll.

If the attrition rate from freshman to sophomore year is not as great as has been the case previously, a revitalized staff of gridmen will be on hand at Lincoln field in September.

Panther backs placed high in the various IIAC categories. Quarterback Myers' 514 yards gained in rushing put him in second place in the final IIAC count. El backs took places No. 3, 4, and 5 in the pass receiving with Ware grabbing 8 passes, Bomkamp 6, and Calhoun 5.

Season totals saw Eastern behind opponents 540 yards to 2,283 yards in total net yards rushing.

Opponents led the Panthers 131 to 64 in first downs for the season.

In the penalty department, Eastern received 32 for a total of 315 yards. Opponents were penalized 73 times for a total of 727 yards.

Youthful Harriers Reverse 1956 Record

Eastern's cross-country squad finished a successful season with a record of six wins and one defeat, reversing their 1956 record. In doing so, the youthful cross-country squad proves to be one of the most promising segments of Eastern's future athletic hopes. Sheer determination brought consistent good showing in a season marred by one defeat, that by a single point, 28-27, at the hands of Northern, winner of the state and IIAC meets.

Rawlan Lillard, voted the team's Most Valuable Player, made a habit of finishing in the first place slot, accomplishing this feat four times in dual meets and running third in the State Meet.

In taking second in the State Meet and fifth in the Conference Meet, the O'Brienmen failed to live up to previous expectations. These disappointing showings were due to complications caused by sickness, injury, and general misfortune.

Dick Storm, only junior on the 1957 squad, was named captain for the 1958 season. With the exception of Harvey and Storm, the remainder of the squad was composed of freshmen and sophomores.

Panther Harriers embark on a long and tedious tour of Eastern's campus. The Panthers went on to trounce Southern 21-35.

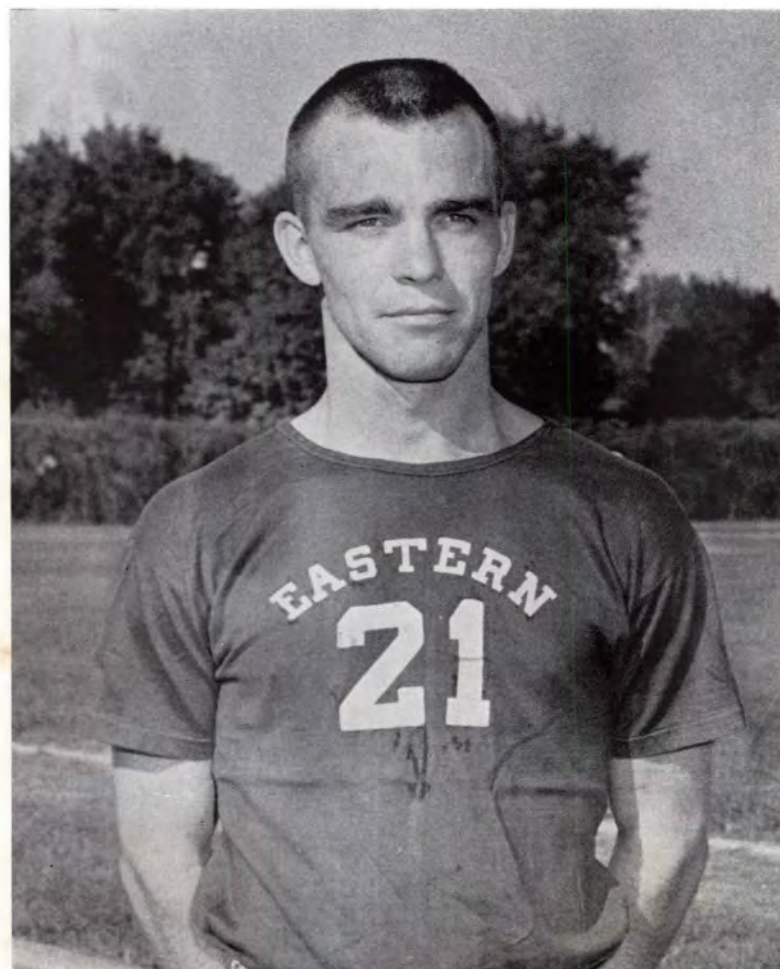

Captain Mick Harvey, the lone senior on the squad who accounted for the No. 1 spot in three dual meets, was lost to the team for the last two scheduled meets with a leg injury. Harvey has been Coach O'Brien's leading point-getter for the past three seasons. He has captured the interest of Eastern fans with his peculiar affection for a pink wool stocking cap, which he wore in every meet he participated in.

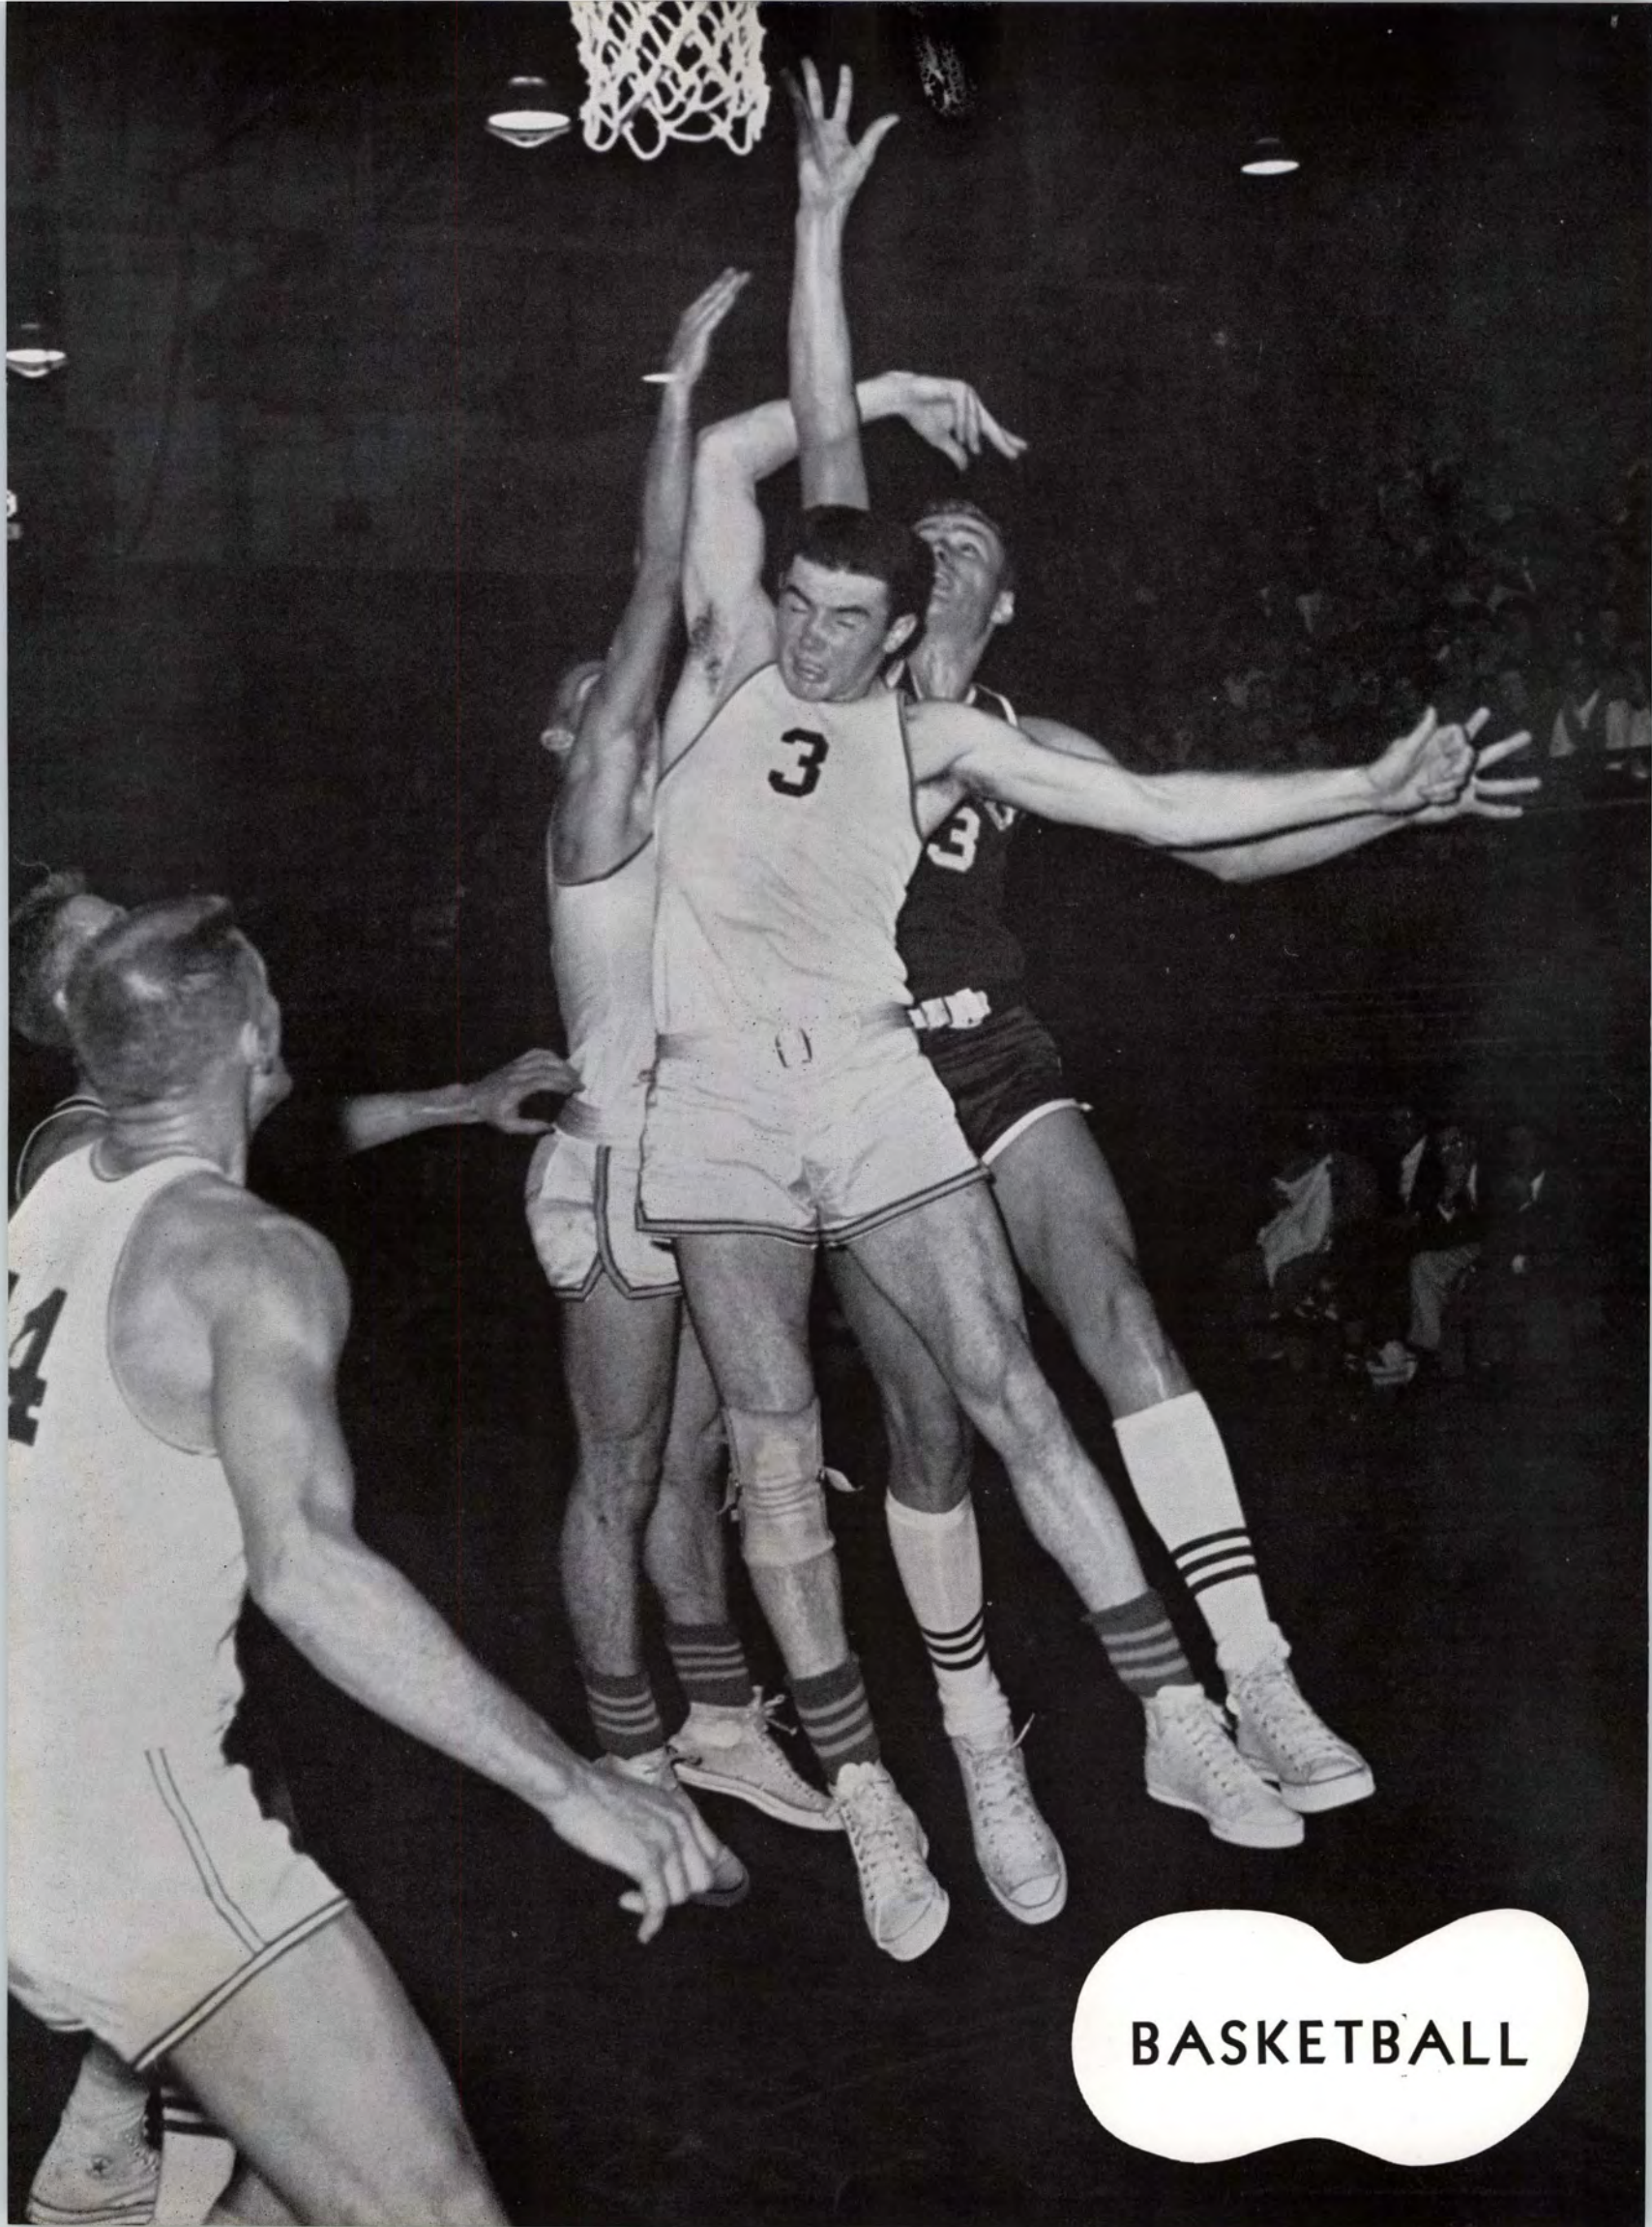

Although the Harriers will be hampered by the loss of Harvey, performances by freshmen Don Thomas and Ben Butler indicate potential for future years as they finished among the top ten in both the IAC and State Meets.

Cagers Place Second in Conference Play

Despite the loss of regulars late in the season, Eastern's cagers finished the 1957-58 basketball campaign with the third best overall record in the state. The Panthers won 17 games and lost nine to finish behind unbeaten Western Illinois and Wheaton College, winners of the College Conference of Illinois.

The Panthers lost two regular forwards when Jerry Hise, junior from Decatur, suffered a severe sprained ankle in the second game with Southern, and B. J. Smith, junior from Gillespie, was dropped from the squad after the Illinois Normal game.

With Hise and Smith out, the Panthers went on to win their final three games of the season to share second place in the IIAC with Southern and Illinois Normal.

By virtue of their overall record, they were selected to represent the conference in the District 20 NAIA playoffs, where they fell victim to host Quincy College in the championship game for a berth in the NAIA National Basketball Tournament at Kansas City, Mo. Western Illinois, winner of the IIAC, received a direct bid to the tournament.

Pacing the cagers were John Milholland, senior from Westville, who added an all-time Eastern scoring record to his lengthy list of laurels, and Frank Wolf, senior guard from Benson, who was voted most valuable player by his teammates.

Milholland and Wolf placed third and fourth in IIAC scoring, Milholland finishing with an 18.6 average, and Wolf maintaining an 18.2 mark.

The two Panther guards, who are the only graduating seniors on the squad, were also named to the 1958 all-star team of the Interstate Conference.

The 1958-59 hopes rest mainly in the hands of Hise, Smith, and Ken Christensen, who this season made up in brawn what he lacked in height. Christensen, the smallest center in the IIAC, ranked high in the conference rebound department. "Christy" also showed the ability to be a high scorer as he developed an accurate jump shot to add to his tip-in finesse.

The Panthers fought conference champion Western Illinois to a standstill in regulation time before succumbing in an overtime, 85-83. Pacing the Panthers in the face of a distinct height disadvantage was Ken Christensen, shown battling Western's 6'5" center, Grady McCollum, for a rebound, at left. Western Illinois advanced to the finals of the NAIA National Basketball Tournament in Kansas City, Mo., before losing to defending champion Tennessee A & I. Eastern will play a home game with Tennessee A & I next year.

Howard "Whitey" Long goes up for a lay-in shot in the Western tussle. Looking on are B. J. Smith, Western's Bill McAfoos, and Jerry Hise.

TUG OF WAR—Frank Wolf and Jim McGuire have conflicting ideas on who owns the ball. B. J. Smith, at right, stands guard as two Indiana State players contemplate "getting into the act."

Milholland Sets Scoring Mark

John Milholland, whose jump shot has earned for him a certain place among Eastern's all-time basketball greats, set a new scoring record with a total of 1,655 points, bettering the mark of 1,556 by Tom Katsimpalis. His scoring average for the 1957-58 season was an even 21 points per game.

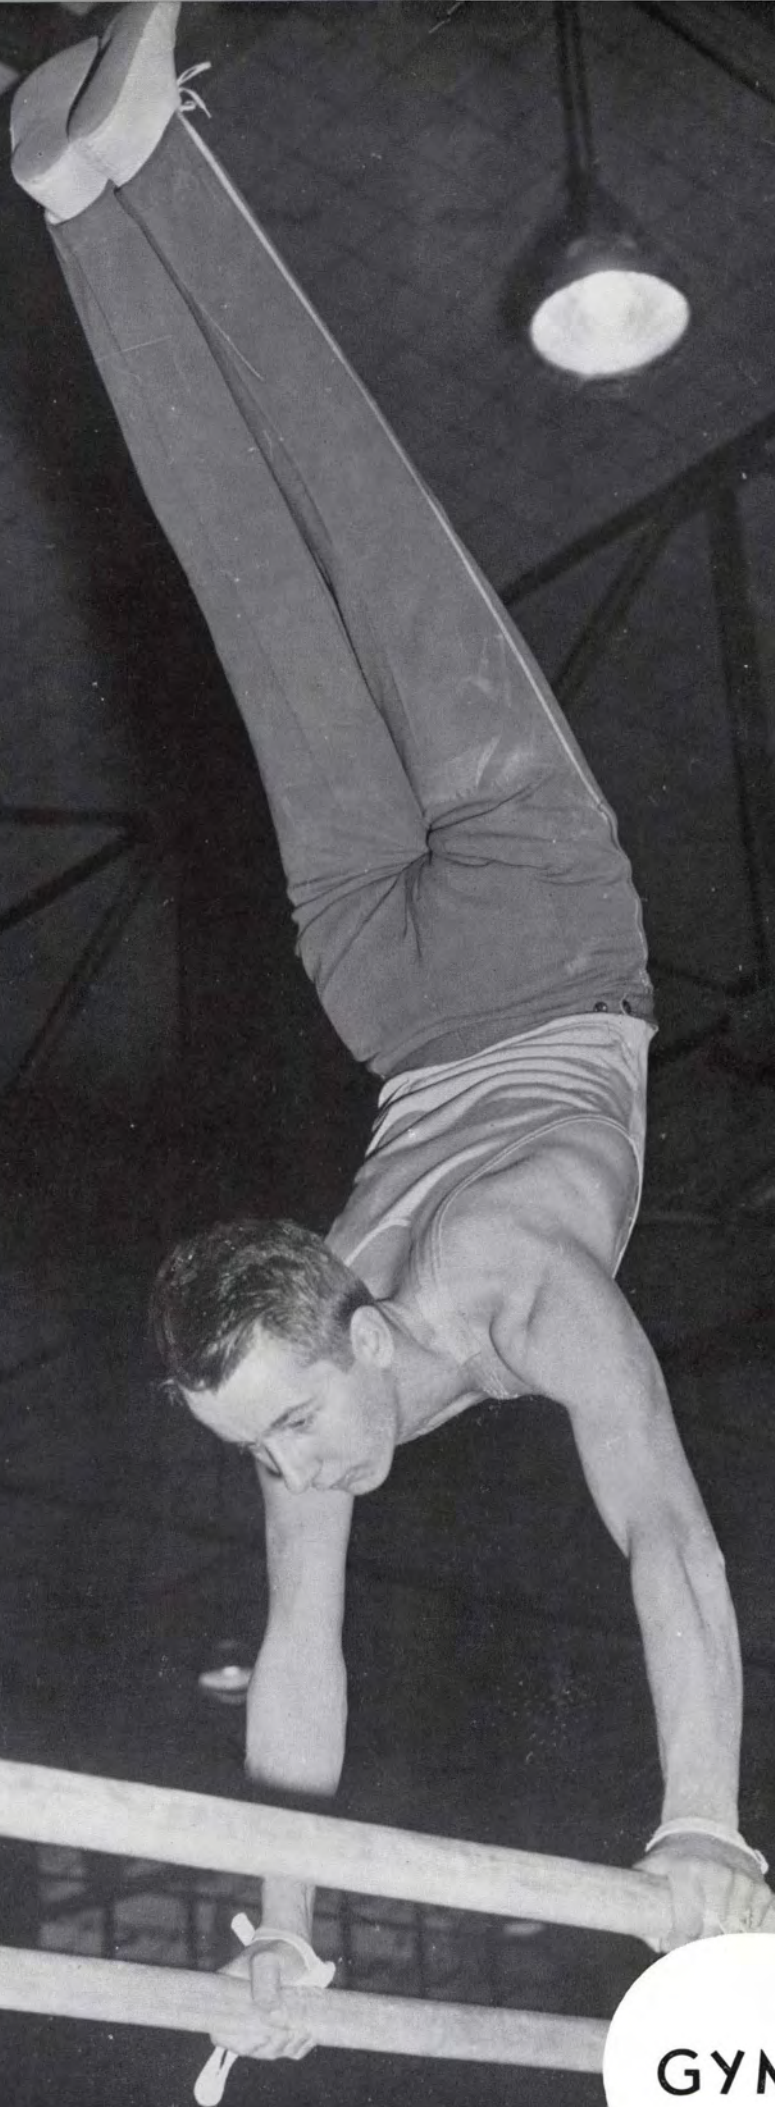

In his sophomore year, Milholland broke the single game mark with a total of 40 points. Last year his shooting earned him a spot on the NAIA all-tournament team.

The six-foot guard has been named to the all-star team of the Interstate Conference for three consecutive years, as he led Eastern to consistently high finishes.

Howard "Whitey" Long rears back and prepares to pounce on a loose basketball. With the same idea in mind are Western's Chuck Behrends, Don Ressler, and Grady McCullum, and Eastern's Jerry Hise.

GYMNASTICS

Top row—Brown, Wendling, Kilman, Myers, Janicke, Danner.

Second row—Coach Bill Groves, Sweeney, Stanfield, Kitchen, Abernathy, Buch, Clark.

Gymnasts Stagger Through Winless Season

Coach Bill Groves' gymnastics team went winless in six meets in their first year of Interstate Conference competition, finishing sixth in the league.

Don Kitchen, sophomore from Charleston, was the Panther gymnasts' leading point-getter, as he captured firsts against Illinois Normal and Indiana Tech, seconds against Ball State and Northern Illinois, and finished eighth in the IIAC meet. Kitchen worked mainly on the trampoline, but saw considerable action on the still rings and flying rings.

With a year's experience under their belts, Coach Groves' charges figure to improve on their dismal 1958 finish.

WRESTLING

 Second row—Fickes, Michaels, Adolph, Semetis.

Semetis Leads Improved Wrestlers

Eastern's grapplers finished the 1958 season winning four and losing six in dual meet action. In tournament competition, Coach Harold "Hop" Pinther's matmen finished ninth in the Wheaton Tournament, sixth in the IAC meet, and twelfth out of a field of 23 at the NAIA national meet in Mankato, Minn.

Sig Taus Capture All-Sports Trophy

Sigma Tau Gamma, whose contributions to Eastern's varsity teams generally leave them short of intramural talent, found a winning combination of business and industrial arts majors and went on to take the 1956-57 trophy. A 1958 victory would give the Sig Taus permanent possession of the coveted award.

Building up a multitude of points during the fall and winter quarters with championships in touch football, soccer, and volleyball coupled with impressive finishes in basketball, wrestling and badminton, the Taus had an insurmountable lead with the onset of spring sports.

In the all-important track competition, which had decided many intramural championships, the speed of Tau Kappa Epsilon took its toll. The Tekes virtually ran away with track honors as they accumulated enough total points to make it a race for championship honors.

Defending Champs Lead in 1958 Race

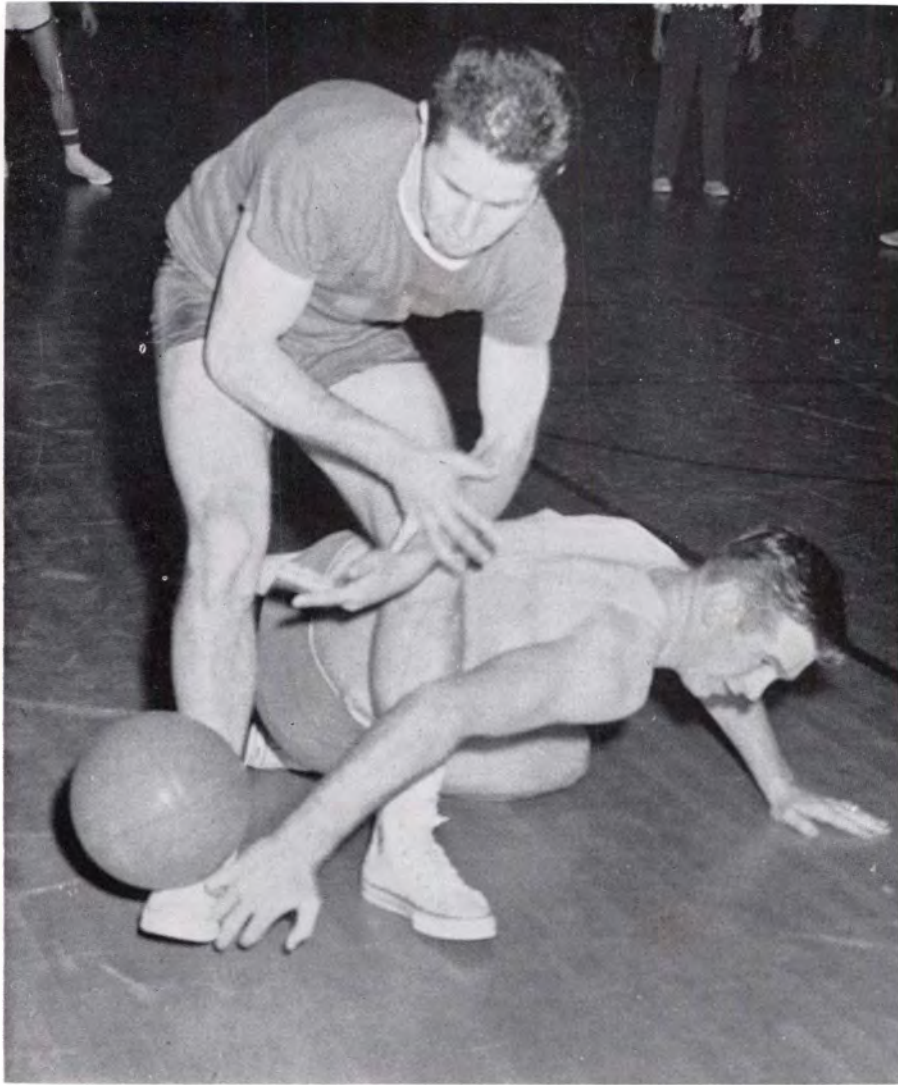

At the end of winter quarter, 1958, defending champion Sigma Tau Gamma led in the official point summaries over an independent entry, the Blasters. The leaders picked up firsts in volleyball, soccer, and wrestling, finished second in badminton doubles, and took third place honors in basketball, and both the singles and doubles brackets of table tennis. Don Hayes was the individual table tennis winner. He teamed up with Willie Murray to form the doubles combination.

Intramural point standings (as of winter quarter, 1957-1958): Sigma Tau Gamma, 380; Blasters, 315; Phi Sigma Epsilon, 270; Tau Kappa Epsilon, 260; Sigma Pi, 190.

Intramural competition, under the direction of John B. Hodapp and John McDevitt, former Eastern baseball star currently working as a graduate assistant, has grown to be a major item on the agenda of every organization and group on campus. The program is generally looked upon as a much-needed form of relaxation for students, as well as a promoter of competitive, sportsmanlike conduct.

The intramural trophy, awarded to the organization or group that captures the all-sports championship for two consecutive years, has never been won in its five year history.

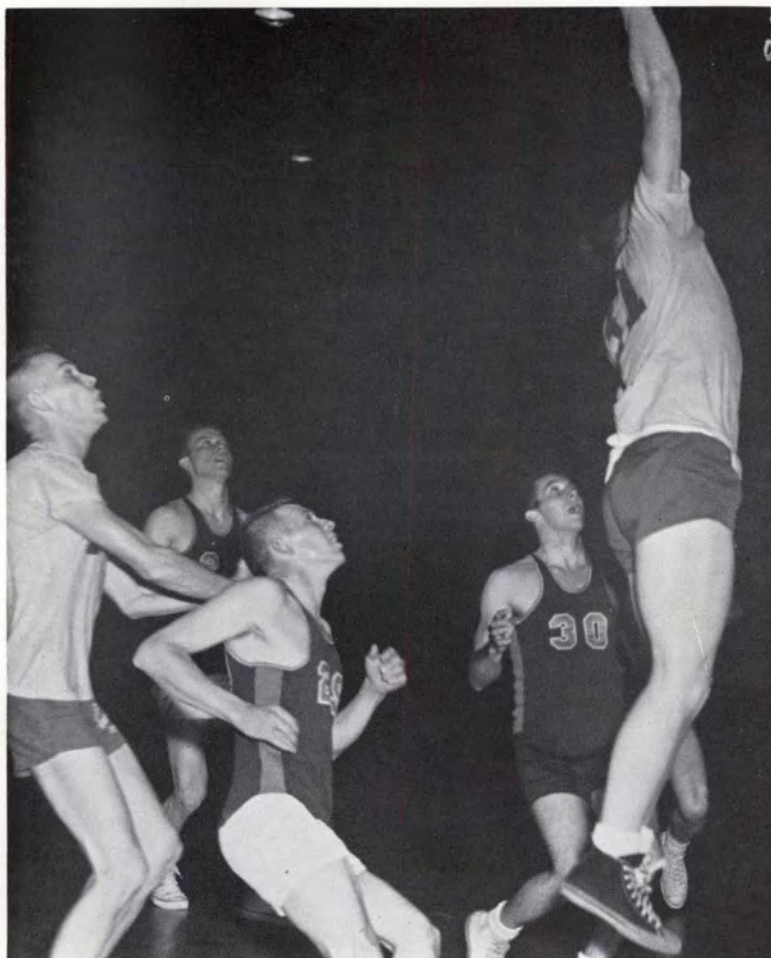

For individual sports, first and second place trophies are awarded. Individual medals are given to members of first place teams and winners of individual events.

Teke Bob Heiney and Sig Tau Bill Neibch tussle in an effort to recover the loose basketball in a first round battle between the two fraternity rivals. The Tekes erased an early Sig Tau lead to squeeze out a narrow victory.

Sigma Pi cagers look on as an unidentified player makes an easy lay-in shot. Basketball action highlights the winter intramural activities.

Paul Rexroat, Sigma Tau Gamma, makes enviable use of his head in a heated soccer battle with the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon. Helpless against the charge of the "big bear" of the Sig Taus are Don Leighty and Wayne Nickum. The game was won by the Sig Taus.
