Catalog Course Description:

Graded (A, B, C, N/C) A course in the reading and writing of expressive, expository, and persuasive essays. Attention is given to effective expression, clear structure, adequate development, and documentation of sources.

My Personal Course Description:

Assignments are designed to improve ability to read critically, summarize college level articles accurately, synthesize ideas and arguments from multiple sources, and contribute to academic "conversations." Expect to spend four to six hours weekly in preparation for the class, depending on your current skill level.*

 Consistent with the Policy on Credit Earned at Eastern Illinois University:

One semester credit hour is the amount of student effort that approximates not less than 37.5 hours of academic engagement in coursework (in-class/instructional time plus out-of-class student work) as represented in intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement.

EIU Policy on Attendance

Instructors will grant make-up privileges (when make-up is possible) to students for properly verified absences due to illness, emergency, participation in an official University activity, or participation in volunteer emergency work (110 ILCS 122/); and such absences will not militate against students in classes in which attendance is used directly in determining final grades. It is the student's responsibility to initiate plans for make-up work and to complete it promptly. If in the instructor's judgment the duration or number of absences renders make-up unfeasible, the instructor may contact the Vice President for Student Affairs and the Department Chairperson to determine an appropriate action. Except for the above stipulations, each instructor sets his or her own policy with respect to class attendance and make-up work, and excuses for absences are handled between the instructor and the student. At the beginning of each grading period, the instructor shall announce, in writing, his or her policy regarding absence, make-up and late work.

My Personal Attendance Policy:

Work done in-class and cannot be made up. Properly verified medical absence requires a note from a physician directly stating that the student could/should not be in attendance for medical reasons. Properly verified emergency absence requires documentation that, had the student attended class as scheduled, he or a close relative would have been put in a life-threatening situation. Properly verified official University activity absence requires documentation on letterhead signed by the faculty or staff member in charge of the activity. Properly verified emergency work absence requires documentation on official letterhead signed by the supervisor of the emergency work.

You will not be granted make-up privileges for absences due to reasons other than those listed as being verifiable.

Absences not eligible for make-up privileges will result in the loss of one point.

Policies/Practices:

- ✦ An un-verified absence or not having your text or the required assignment for class will result in a five-point deduction from your grade. Tardiness or leaving early count will be a two-point deduction.
- ✦ Late papers lose 10 points for each day (or portion thereof) past the deadline
- ✦ Cell phones and other electronics should be absolutely out of sight. Violation results in a 20-point deduction. No mitigating circumstances will be considered.
- ✦ Major assignments must be submitted electronically via Panthermail. Attach a Word document. Name the document using your last name.
- ✦ You must schedule at least one conference prior to the 10th week of class; failure to do so results in a 20-point deduction from your grade.
- ✦ There is no extra credit.
- ✦ If you are dis-satisfied with a grade, submit an essay in which you explain specifically what you think I have misjudged or over-looked based on the rubric used for assessing the assignment. I will consider the merit of your argument, but there's no guarantee I'll change the grade.
