Allied troops storm Kuwait

DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia (AP) - American and allied troops stormed Kuwait by land, sea and air early Sunday and wrested pieces of the emirate from Iraqi forces. By day's end, U.S. paratroopers and Marines were reported on the doorstep of Kuwait City.

The huge Desert Storm offensive, striking along a $300-\mathrm{mile}$ front, also swept up into southern Iraq in the largest Americanled invasion since World War II.

Allied casualties were "remarkably light," said overall commander Gen. Norman Schwarzkopf, who gave no figures for U.S. dead and wounded. By early Monday, more than 10,000 Iraqis had been taken prisoner, a senior U.S. military source said. No information was available on Iraqi casualties.

Led by hundreds of tanks, the troops from 11 nations raced across the desert battlefield, at times under pounding rain.

Aircraft screamed in low. attacking through greasy black smoke from 200 oilfield fires. Hundreds of assault helicopters streamed into Iraq carrying

One airborne troops. One column of Saudi and Kuwaiti troops that punched 20 miles into Kuwait was "moving like a knife through butter," Associated Press photographer Laurent Rebours reported from the front.
Some defenders tried to hold their positions. "They're fighting, they're resisting," a Marine colonel said at one point.
And American military ources cautioned that days of hard fighting could lie ahead particularly if allied forces grapple with the Iraqi army's elite Republican Guard.
But American commanders, nonetheless, could barely restrain their euphoria.

The Iraqis have proven to be "remarkably inept," said one enior military source. Schwarzkopf hailed the first day as a "dramatic success," and military planners said the early gains led him to put his troops on an "accelerated schedule." Asked by a reporter whether the allies might be skirting Iraqi positions to hold down casualties, the Army general shot back, "We're going to go around, over, through, on top, underneath and any other way." Hours after the invasion jumped off about 4 a.m. Sunday ( 8 p.m. EST Saturday) and Baghdad came under renewed air bombardment, Saddam Hussein went on official Iraqi radio to urge his troops on.
"Fight them and show no mercy," the Iraqi president said.

'Cry Freedom' a reality for Woods

When Donald Woods learned that his friend Stephen Biko had been murdered, he had one immebeen mered, ".Dear Gone immediate response: "Dear God, it was true."

But the 1977 death of Biko, a prominent South African antiapartheid activist, has had a much more profound effect on Woods life: he has dedicated his last 13 years to telling Biko's story.

Woods, a South African author and journalist, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Martin Luther King Jr. Union Grand Ballroom. In his 1978 book "Biko," Woods writes: "Within those first shocked seconds (after Biko's death), South Africa became a different place for me ... The (government leaders) were no longer simply disastrously misguided racists - they were now the mortal enemy, who stopped at nothing, who had committed the ultimate outrage."

Faculty Senate still concerned about BOG probe  affairs.  "I've had people come up to me - people

Faculty Senate members say they have seen inundated with calls and personal everies from Eastern faculty and staff memters who are angry with a recently concluded Bard of Govemors investigation into allegatons of wrongdoing under an Eastern vice resident.
Several members contacted Sunday say the calls have been coming in since Eastern hresident Stan Rives gave an open address Friday to discuss the findings of a BOG fivestigation into alleged wrongdoing under Vema Armstrong, vice president for business

The report of special investigator David Stanczak, the Bloomington attomey hired by the BOG to probe allegations of unethical hiring practices and nepotism under Armstrong, concluded that Armstrong did not break any laws, university or BOG policies, according to excerpts of the report read Friday by Rives.
But Faculty Senate members, whose questions about operations under Armstrong originally sparked the BOG investigation, say they have not been able to respond to concerns from the campus about the Stanczak report because they have not been granted access to it.
that I would have never expected to be concemed about these things - and say that they feel (the report) involved a cover-up of some sort," said Hal Nordin, a professor of economics who's on the Faculty Senate. "I can't respond to that because I have not seen the investigative report, but a lot of people feel upset that it seems to just be all over with. I don't think people are satisfied."
Senate Chair David Carpenter echoed a concem he raised last week; that the senate cannot accurately respond to Rives' actions until it has seen the Stanczak report. Rives said he was consulting with BOG attomeys on whether he could share the report with the senate's executive committee. the word that I have heard over and over again is 'whitewash,"' Carpenter said. "But again, we cannot evaluate that claim from people until we see the Stanczak report."
Carpenter also said the senate will continue to address the investigation and the issues involved, "but I really won't know anything beyond the fact that we will discuss it until the entire senate meets Tuesday."
Marietta Demming, a senator who also attended Rives' address, said she has not heard from other faculty members over the weekend. However, she said, "I felt that it

When our alumni go out into the world they make their mark and this has again been borne out. We have received news from a former student, Guy Richey, that he is getting along nicely in his teaching. He is in charge of a school near Oblong and has 91 pupils under him. Lately the school directors were so satisfied with his work that they gave him a substantial increase in salary

The Normal School lost the appeal in the case of the City of Charleston vs. The Normal School. The case was brought up over the payment of a water bill. The school said that the city agreed to furnish them free water if they would locate in this town. The school has a water bill of $$ 4,000$ which they pay.

Draft-eligible males were given an explanation of how the planned Koreantype draft test will affect them when Commander John Hammock of the Hllinois Selective Service, spoke in the Thomas Hall cafeteria on Feb. 8.
Hammock began the evening quoting from Chapter 1 of Numbers, from the Bible, which states that all males of 20 and upwards were to be used in the service of their country.
After setting the stage for the talk, he proceeded to discuss the process of granting deferments. He said that there are no blanket deferments. In regard to whether the draft is fair, Hammock said, "We don't claim to be fair, but we claim to be democratic. Life itself is unfair."
He concluded "Your best security is to make good grades. My advice is to hit the books and make the best grades you can possibly make."

Rives answered only five questions from the standing-room-only crowd he addressed Friday in the Coleman Hall auditorium. It appeared from the questions and some audience reaction that there is still some skepticism about the portions of the investigation Rives has made public.

One of the final questioners, a physical plant employee, drew a round of applause from several vociferous audience members when he asked Rives how he could justify the BOG investigation as an "external one."
Rives responded by saying while the law office Stanczak works for, the Dunn firm of Bloomington, was on retainer for the BOG, the firm "is not located in Springfield; it is located in Bloomington, and so that is more removed than if it had been an investigation conducted by the (BOG) chancellor's office."

After the address, Rives said he did sense some skepticism by the audience, but that he thought it would have been greater "had we

It is likely that the blood will be used at one of the hospitals in the Missouri-Illinois blood region, Cline said. The blood may be used as whole blood or be separated into components, such as platelets, plasma or red blood cells.

Red Cross says POWs increasing
GENEVA (AP) - The International Committee of the Red Cross on Sunday again asked all participants in the Gulf War to respect the Geneva conventions when handling the "rapidly ris ing" number of casualties and prisoners.
Red Cross spokesman Peter Fluege said the Swiss agency is prepared to increase its staff of 20 delegates in Saudi Arabia to deal with large numbers of Iraqi prisoners.

The top allied commander, Gen. Norman Schwarzkopf, said allied forces captured 5,500 Iraqi soldiers in the first hours of the ground assault launched Sunday.
In a statement, the Red Cross acknowledged: "The number of military casualties and of combatants who have fallen into enemy hands is rapidly rising. In view of the increasing intensity of the fighting and the devastating effect on the civilian population, the ICRC feels compelled once again to remind the states party to the conflict of their responsibilities and obligations as regards the protection of civilian and military victims alike." The Red Cross said soldiers must be treated humanely and evacuated from combat zones.
U.S. officials have said POWs will be evacuated from the front by truck, bus or foot within 24 hours, and that wounded prisoners will be evacuated by helicopters if they are available.
Under the Geneva convention, the Red Cross is to be given a list of prisoners within one week. They must be transferred to a regular POW camp within two weeks. Red Cross delegates then must be allowed to visit the prisoners as soon as possible to verify that they are treated in accordance with the convention.
Delegates in Saudi Arabia have made more than 1,500 such visits to allied prisoners, Fluege said. But Iraq has refused to provide the Red Cross with names of prisoners it holds.
Fluege also said three Red Cross convoys from Iran have brought Iraq about 100 tons of medical supplies. Another convoy was expected to leave soon.

A ground war merely proves Bush's plans

The hints of hope are apparently over: The ground war in the Persian Gulf has begun.
Last week the world watched as last-ditch efforts for a diplomatic resolution to the crisis unfolded, as those efforts were met with harsh resistance by an American president not willing to budge.
The Soviets bargained for peace. Iraq accepted the terms of the agreement, but the United States did not, dismissing the Soviet proposal as "well short of what would be required."
President Bush then sent Iraqi leader Saddam Hussein an ultimatum: Leave Kuwait by noon on Saturday or face a ground war.

Editorial

 Hussein did not leave and now the United States is in the early stages of what promises to be a bloody battle.The central question: What was the hurry?
Bush seems intent on this idea of a "new world order," which apparently has much to do with making war, little to do with making peace.
Our president dismissed the first plea for peace from Iraq as a "cruel hoax."
Our president declared his intentions were much more far-reaching than the U.N. resolution to drive lraq from Kuwait.
Our president proved he's intent on making the Middle East a part of his larger power plans, forgetting the costs - in lives - of a ground war.
Early reports - from a censored media - suggest that in the early hours of the ground war less than 10 American soldiers lost their lives.
No one is mentioning what's happening now, how many lives are being lost for our "aims," which, as Secretary of State James Baker said Sunday, "differ considerably" from the 12 U.N. resolutions.

So the answer to the question is that there was no hurry, except in the mind of a leader who wants to dispel connections to Vietham, so much so that he's willing to kill masses earlier rather than later.
We have continually heard how successful this air campaign has been, so if that were true Bush did not need to start a ground war, did not need to set another arbitrary deadline.

Once again the president has proved he's not interested in people but in power and posturing.

We hope Bush can still look like the world leader he wants to be when the body bags start coming home.

Anyway, a good friend of mine who's a 1989 Eastern graduate was in Charleston for the weekend, an appropriate occasion for hitting the town with a fair amount of vigor.

I think it's only right that graduating seniors take at least one last, hard look at the social environment in which they've spent the last four years.

Consider it an examination of human nature. Of course, in my case, we'll just call it visiting eight bars in one night.

After listening to Rives' spiel, a number of print journalist-types convened at the Uptowner. When my order for a three-cheese grilled cheese sandwich surprisingly was brought to my table in the form of three grilled cheese sandwiches, I knew it would be a night of excess.

We started our whirlwind tour at Roc's, an expansive establishment that has assumed more new looks than Madonna during the last four years. Its latest incarnation, however, recelved thumbs up from both our returning alumnus and myself.

After Roc's, we moved on to Stan and Mike's Stable (formerly Chink's). I think most would concur that this was a good selection at this point in the evening. I don't think anybody wants to read about Dave buying a pack of Swisher Sweets and playing the video game "Shooz" at bar No. 8 (and does the world really need a video game version of horse-

Three reasons not to display one of those paper flags

Dear editor:
[Explanatory note]
Disgusted by the excremental look of things around here in mid-winter, I sent the following letter to the Charleston Times Courler. Somebody suggested I send a copy to the Eastern News, Implying, I assume, that these days Jingolsm is everywhere even In the university - and shouldn't we all just say shit to Jingolsm. For the academic audlence I'll point out that the quotation in part one is from John Waters (of "Pink Flamingos" fame). The abbreviated elliptical argument in part two is influenced by Lao Tsu's Tao Te Ching, the great Chinese work of the Sixth Century BC, a kind of "bible-poem." Lao Tsu, roughly translated, says: "When the family is on the verge of divorce, we have doting parents and dutiful children. When the country is falling apart, beholdl Patriots are stepping forth.

Those ridiculous newspapercut out American flags pasted here and there around town are awful, for three (only three?) main reasons:

1) The paper flags are ugly. The American flag should be a profound, beautiful symbol in red, white, and blue. The newspaper flags trivialize the real flag. Now the flag is pink, gray, and bluish. "Bad taste is international," especially in Charleston.
2) The paper flags are hypocritical. They advertise: " 11 am proud to be an American." So what else is new? If you're proud, truly proud of anything, do you adie tise it? If I'm happily married Instance, do I put up signs 59 ing. "I'm proud to be marrie When one advertises pride. is probably in fact not all if proud.
3) The paper flags are hear less. During wartime, why selfish about suffering? At tr moment, how can I be "proud") be part of a country that bomber another country and forced peo ple there to drink sewage wal from a river? During wartim you're human, you gett teeth, or gnash them; you dol go around talking about pride.

Where will those ridicula flags end up? Let's pray they at not desecrated by firel Or hesu forbid, the putrid landfill only hope: recycle theml Rec

Several different university groups will be represented, including members of the botany and speech communication departments, Financial Aid, the Physical Plant and the administration, through Glenn Williams, Eastern's vice president for student affairs.
Some of this year's performers will lip sync, perform dance routines and sing choral selections, Coffey said.

Veterans of past variety shows undoubtedly will perform, but Coffey promised newcomers also would take part.

Tart will succeed current editor in chief Jeff Madsen, who will graduate in May. Tart majors in journalism and history.

In addition, junior Sherri Otta was approved by the Student Publications Board as editor in chief for The Warbler, which is Eastern's 73 -year-old yearbook.

Otta, a journalism major and Decatur native, spent the last year as assistant editor of The Warbler.

She will oversee a staff of about 16 editors and writers to produce the 1992 Warbler. Otta replaces current editor in chief Stephanie Carnes, who also will graduate in May.
In 1989, The Warbler received a second place from the Society for Collegiate Journalists for overall yearbook excellence.
Both Otta and Tart will spend the next few weeks recruiting and assembling their respective staffs.

Panel discusses etiquette rules in the workplace

By MIKE GRADY

Staff writer
It may be difficult to react with the proper etiquette when your zipper breaks at work during the middle of the day, but it's possible.

That's the situation that 1989 Eastern graduate Timothy Wands described as his "most embarrassing moment in the workplace" during Thursday night's panel discussion for Business Week 1991.

Wands, who works as a financial analyst for Van Camp. was joined by fellow alumni Nancy McQuade from K-Mart and Robert Maliszewski from Marathon Oil. Management/Marketing department Chair V. Aline Arnold also participated in the discussion.

After a brief introduction period, the panelists broke the ice with their own embarrassing moments.
However, the majority of the formal discussion was dominated by Arnold, who offered a variety of advice on how to fit in the workplace.
"Etiquette in the workplace basically boils down to common sense," Arnold said. She added that although etiquette varies among different organizations, the common denominator is "respect for your coworkers."
Arnold advised a conservative approach during the first few months of employment, with the new employee observing others and attempting to fit into the mold.

She also said enterprising young workers should dress accordingly. "Image is very important," she said. "If you have aspirations, you should dress for that job."

The panel also gave advice on social situations, with all of the members agreeing that a conservative approach is the best answer.

After Arnold spoke, the three panel members answered questions and offered first-hand advice on how to behave in the workplace.

The students asked questions on a variety of subjects, ranging from how to behave at business lunches to what type of clothing to wear at social occasions. The overriding message behind all of the advice offered was to be conservative, but be yourself as well.

Winter Choral Concert marks end of season

By JOHN BAUER

 Staff writerDespite the pleasant, spring-like weather on campus this past week, Eastern's music department presented its Winter Choral Concert, which featured three different choirs and more than 100 students.

About 150 people attended Thursday's hour-long performance, which was held in the Dvorak Concert Hall of the Doudna Fine Arts Center.

The University Mixed Chorus opened the concert with "O Come Let Us Sing Unto the Lord" by Donald Swann. The chorus, directed by associate professor Robert Hills, with accompaniment on organ by music department chair Herman Taylor, followed with selections by J.S. Bach and Joseph Haydn. Those pieces were followed by "O Waly. Waly," a traditional piece conducted by Robert Mohr.
"Praise to the Lord," featuring Downen, a graduate student. received a warm round of applause from the crowd. Downen, who wrote the selection, was accompanied by a host of trumpeters, a French hom, tuba, chimes and kettle drums.

Eastern's Chamber Singers. under the direction of music Professor Robert Snyder, then performed "Of a Mistress" by Wilfred Holland and "Four Madrigals to Poems of James Snyder also directed Eastern's Concert Choir in singing works by Bach, Johann Albrechtsberger, Hugo Distler and Daniel Moe.

Student conductor Bret Peppo took over as conductor for the final number, "Let your eye be to the Lord."
"They (music department) always do a good job," said Sue Schnarre, an Eastern employee who attended Thursday's concert.

Thousands rally in support of Boris Yeltsin

MOSCOW (AP) - About 100,000 people rallied Sunday in support of Boris Yeltsin after he was blasted by Communist Party hard-liners for demanding the resignation of President Mikhail Gorbachev.

The enthusiastic demonstration for Yeltsin, president of the Russian republic, filled a huge square next to the Kremlin in central Moscow. After chanting Yeltsin's name, the crowd turned against the Soviet president, chanting "Gorbachev resign!" and "Gorbachev, go away!" "Red Filth, Hands Off Our Yeltsin!" proclaimed a sign in support of the 60 -year-old politician, who was not at the rally.

Other hand-printed signs also reflected public dissatisfaction with the Soviet leader: "Gorbachev, The People Despise You," and "Uncle Gorby, My Granny and I Don't Trust You Anymore." In a nationally televised appearance on Tuesday, Yeltsin accused Gorbachev of sacrificing political and economic reforms to gain personal power and demanded that he resign.
Since then, Yeltsin has been the target of a barrage of criticism from hard-line Communist lawmakers and the governmentcontrolled media, especially television.
"The Soviet media is unleashing a campaign of lies and slander against our leader," said Bella Denisenko, a lawmaker from the Russian republic. "Let's support him oday. We want him to hang in there." The demonstration in Manezh Square was the third in as many days. On Friday night, thousands of people rallied in support of free speech.

The next day, the 73rd anniversary of the founding of the Soviet army and navy, more than 75,000 soldiers, veterans and others demonstrated in support of the military and government.

At Sunday's gathering, the pro-government rally was criticized as a sham. Speakers railed against Leonid Kravchenko, head of the state broadcasting monopoly, for slanting media coverage in favor of Gorbachev.

Iraqi defense seemed stunned by initial attack
WASHINGTON (AP) - Iraq's best offense has always been a strong defense. But initial reports here and in Saudi Arabia indicate that Iraq's front-line defenses were stunned Sunday by the nine allied nations applying a lethal combination of ground and air power.
"Everything's now on course," said Capt. Ahmad al-Sabah, a royal family member who flies a Mirage F-1 for Kuwait's air force.

He said he encountered little anti-aircraft fire on his sortie Sunday, and no Iraqi warplanes.
An Iraqi military communique told quite a different story, one of heroism and success against allied forces. While several Pentagon officials acknowledged that some "sharp engagements" had taken place, they said resistance was weak enough to prompt the Desert Storm commander to speed up his attack schedule.

Iraq has a proven and simple way of fighting, honed in its recent eight-year war with Iran. It digs in, waits for the enemy to approach, then slows him down with barbed wire and an array of mines. When the enemy gets close, Iraqi gunners unleash massive barrages of cannon.

But in the initial hours of the allied plunge into Kuwait and Iraq, the Iraqis put up surprisingly little resistance, according to U.S. commander Gen. Norman Schwarzkopf. "Contact with the enemy can best be described as light," he said. The French said their forces surged 30 miles into Iraq, destroying significant Iraqi military equipment and taking 1,000 prisoners. Resistance was so ineffective that Gen. Michel Roquejeoffre said there was only one minor injury to a French soldier.
Brent Scowcroft, national security adviser to President Bush, sought to tone down the first reports. "My fears are that there's too much optimism. The operations are going well," he said, "but he still does have a very formidable army."

had our minds set on."
After getting se of the wind taken out of their sails with Thursday's loss to Drake, there was new hope for the Lady Panthers heading into Saturday's contest.
Bradley, who sat in fourth place going into the weekend, dropped a home game against Indiana State on Friday night and Drake, a game up on Eastern in fifth place, had to travel to second place Southern Illinois.
"These guys don't ever quit," said Hilke of her teams competitiveness. "They haven't counted themseives out (of the playoff race). Nor have they ever gone through the motions in a ballgame."

The Panthers may not have been going through the motions Saturday, but they did have a hard time filling the hoop. They shot just 38 percent from the floor for the entire game and had to rely on their free throw shooting to keep them in the game.
Beverly Williams, who leads the Lady Panthers in foul shooting at 89 percent, led the way by nailing all 10 of her attempts as the team shot $20-22$ for a 91 percent clip.
"Our club has really come up in our free throw shooting," said Hilke. "We started the year shooting in the lower 60s and are now seventh in the country. That is immense concentration by doing something that you have some kind of control over.

We knew we weren't going to be a great bunch of shooters, but we also knew we could help ourselves at the line and I'm pleased that we have done that." Not all of the Lady Panthers had problems finding the hoop though. The trio of Williams, Karen McCaa, and Tracy Roller provided the majority of shooting skill and scoring punch. They were the only people to score in the second half and combined for 50 of the Lady Panthers 68 points. Williams had a game-high 20, Roller added 17, and McCaa chipped in 13 and hit on three-of-five attempts beyond the three point line.
"I thought Karen McCaa and Tracy Roller saved the day for us," Hilke said. "Neither one of them have been on as of late and it was awfully gutsy for them to put it up and Bev got to put on her free throw shooting show for the fans again."

Mid-Continent looks to add 10th member

By CHRIS BOGHOSSIAN
Associate sports editor
Although the Mid-Continent Conference named Wright State University as its ninth member on Saturday, filling the void left by departing Northern Iowa, the league is looking for another institution.
Eastern Athletic Director Mike Ryan said that during the confer-ence-call in which league athletic directors and presidents officially decided to extend its invitation to Wright State Friday, they discussed the possibility of adding a member for the fall 1991 season.
"(We) decided to wait until our spring meeting in May to vote on a 10 th member ... .," Ryan said, adding that one university has already applied, while another is waiting for a ruling from the NCAA before it officially applies. Youngstown State University Athletic Director Joseph F. Malmisur confirmed Sunday that his institution has applied for the Mid-Continent Conference.
"We applied some time ago," Malmisur said from his home in Youngstown, Ohio. "I'm sure that they're going to consider us."
He added that the university was one of four applicants in 1989 for the Mid-Continent's recent expansion that gave Northern Illinois and Akron membership last fall. Youngstown Valpo did make a run at the Panthers in the second half on the strength of guards Curtiss Stevens and sophomore Tracy Gipson. Stevens tallied 14 points and grabbed team-high rebounding honors with seven, four less than Rowe's game-high 11 .

Gipson, however, hit 8 -of-14 from the field and both of his free throws to net a game-high 20 points.
"He's going to be a good player in this league," Rowe said. "He makes his whole team better. At times I lapsed on defense and that keyed things."
Valpo got to within four again 62-58, but Eastern scored six in a row, all on free throws and sealed the victory
Eastern head coach Rick Samuels said that the pressure defense led to the the Panther victory.
"The press got us going, but we never could get a good defensive rhythm," Samuels said.

"We couldn't stop them consistently. We needed some shutdowns and we didn't get them. We had too many tumovers (15) and that's not good for us.
"I like the way Barry is playing for us now. And Curtis had a great night for us. Our kids are team-oriented and Barry wants to play for the team."
Eastem hosts fan appreciation night in its last game of the year against Illinois-Chicago at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

State is currently an independent with an enrollment of 14,000 . Wisconsin-Milwaukee Athletic Director Bud K. Heidet said that his school is in the process of applying for the conference.
"We've been looking into the conference for some time now," Heidet said from Milwaukee Sunday. "Their are a few loose ends that we have to sort out, but we will be applying for the MidContinent Conference
The "loose ends" that Heidet referred to is an NCAA regulation that states that a team must be a Division I member for five years before it can be eligible for the post-season NCAA toumament. UW-Milwaukee, which has an enrollment of 26,000 , is competing in Division I for only its third year, which would make them ineligible for that toumament. It has, however, appealed to the NCAA and is waiting for a ruling on the matter.
Wright State, like Youngstown State and UW-Milwaukee, is currently an independent and has been a Division I program for four years, which is not long enough to be eligible for the postseason tourney
However, since the rule wasn't instated until 1988 - one year after Wright State made the transition to Division I - the NCAA rule did not apply to its institution.

Wright State University joins Mid-Continent Conferenc

By CHRIS BOGHOSSIAN
Associate sports editor
The Mid-Continent Conference wasted no time in finding a replacement for departing Northern Iowa, which was named the Missouri Valley Conference's 10th member less than two weeks ago.
Wright State University on Saturday accepted an invitation to join the Mid-Continent Conference as the league's ninth member effective July 1. The announcement came just nine days after UNI decided to leave the Mid-Continent for the MVC.
"I feel positive that Wright State will make a very significant contribution to the future development of the MidContinent Conference," Commissioner Jerry A. Ippoliti said in an official statement released Saturday. "The MidContinent Conference is very pleased and excited to offer membership to Wright State University, an institution that brings many fine qualities to our conference ...
Wright State, which has an enrollment of more than 17,000 people, is the third Ohio institution to compete in the league (with Cleveland State and Akron).
The Raiders' men's teams will be eligible for league championships starting next fall, while the women's teams won't participate until the league officially sponsors a women's league in July 1992.

"In a time when conferences are looking for media and geographic exposure. Wright State would appear to be a good selection on the part of the conference," Eastern Athletic Director Mike Ryan said. "The total program is well funded for both men and women with excellent facilities in all sports."
After first inviting Wright State's women's programs to join the Mid-Continent as associate members last Monday. the league's athletic directors and presidents held a conference-call on Friday, when they decided to extend thetif tation to the university, Ryan said.

Conference champs Mile relay gives Eastern win over Northern lowa

By BRIAN HARRIS Staff writer

Emotions flared Saturday night when Eastern's men's track team won the Mid-Continent Conference indoor championships at Lantz Fieldhouse.
The championship came down to the last event, the mile relay. Going into the event Eastern was leading Northern Iowa 58-57, the winner of the relay would decide the overall winner.
Eastern's lead was established significantly by second leg Jeff Parker and was secured by Dan Steele who brought the batton home in first place at 3:20.72.
The highlight of the two-day event came on Friday in the 35pound weight throw. On his third attempt, Eastern's Braidy Miller set a new school, fieldhouse and conference record with a mark of 67 feet $3 / 4$-inches. Miller had already qualified for the national meet in December, but his new mark leaves him only two inches behind the farthest throw in the country. Eastern also placed second and third in the event with Fred Robinson and Rob

Panthers down Valparaiso 71-60

By R.J. GERBER Sports editor

Once again Valparaiso's basketball team put up an admirable fight, only to come away short in a Mid-Continent Conference game against Easterm.
The Crusaders, $5-20$ overall and 2-13 in league play - good for last place - led early, but lost to the host Panthers 71-60 Saturday at Lantz Gym in front of 4,018 fans on parent night.
Valpo has lost seven in a row to Eastern, including a five-point setback at home earlier this season. The Crusaders will be the only team not taking part in the post-season conference tourna- shot and canned a three-pointer ment this season, as a result of their last-place finish in the league.

Eastern (14-11, 8-6) trailed by as many as nine points in the early going, but came back on the strength of junior guard Steve Rowe's tenacity, freshman center Curtis Leib's scoring and some pressure defense.
The Panthers were down 23-16 with $8: 34$ remaining in the first half, but came back courtesy of a $12-0$ run that was spearheaded by Rowe's seven points and Eastern's zone press. The MidCon player of the week hit two free throws, tipped in a missed on his way to sharing team-high scoring honors of 18 with Leib.
"It wasn't cute, but it was a win," Rowe said. "We played in spurts and that hurt us a lot. We let our emotions down and that's what hurt us. We have to play 40 minutes again, then we'll be all right."

Leib put the Panthers up 30-25 on an inside move and hit another shot to give Eastern a 32 -28 halftime advantage. Eastern never lost its lead the rest of the way.
Gipson and Stevens pulled the Crusaders to within four points

Schultz giving personal-best efforts of 53 -feet $71 / 2$-inches and 51 -feet $3 / 4$-inches, respectively
Miller also won the shot put with a distance of 57 -feet 9 -inches which provisionally qualifies him for the national meet. Teammate Mike Ford placed third.
Nevin Govan won the long jump on his first attempt, coming close to his own fieldhouse record of 24 feet 8 -inches with a mark of 24 -feet $61 / 4$-inches. He also won the high jump with a 6 -foot $93 / 4$-inch effort. Govan almost scored a triple win in the triple jump as well. He was leading the competition with a distance of 50 -feet $11 / 2$-inches until Junior Chukekere of Northern Iowa jumped 51 -feet $23 / 4$-inches to better Govan.
Eastem's distance crew played a major role for the team too. Brothers Jim and Ron Fagan and Eric Baron placed second, third and fourth in the mile run at 4:12.47, $4: 12.85$ and $4: 13.51$, which was Baron's best effort of the season. The Fagans also placed second and third in the 3,000 -meter run with Jim finishing a second ahead of Ron in $8: 24.50$. The two-mile relay
