Rise expected in enrollment

by Kenda Burrows

Although final figures are not yet computed, an Eastern official said enrollment for the summer semester could increase by about 100 students over last year's 3,256 mark.

Summer School Director Charles Switzer said "Last year's enrollment showed an increase of about 100 and I expect this year's to do about the same, although I wish it could be more."

Switzer said enrollment for intersession was a record 968 mark, up 13 percent from last year's 857 figure. Preregistration for the summer session was also up by approximately five percent.

In addition, Switzer said requests for mail-in registration were also up from about 50 last year to about 250 this year.

Mail-in registration, which only applies to the summer semester, began last year. Registration material for workshops is sent primarily to out-of-town and off-campus students.

Switzer added that the estimated increase is not scientific. "It's only a hunch. There are too many other factors like drop-adds and late registration to make an accurate estimate."

In addition, Switzer said the number of people who registered during regular registration Monday and Tuesday was "fairly typical, and that suggests enrollment is going to be fairly typical."

He said about 50 people took advantage of late registration Wednesday and the same number is expected Thursday.

Switzer said about 1,120 students went through central registration but that number represents only about 30 or 40 percent of the total enrollment during the summer session.

But, he added since late registration and add-drops continue through Monday and some students will drop from failure to pay tuition and fees, a final figure cannot be computed until early next week.

However, by Wednesday late registration and add-drops were "quiet and slow," Michael Taylor, director of registration said.

Taylor added only 20 people went through the process and he expects this number to continue throughout add-drops.

Although a final accurate figure cannot be given until August because of same-day-registration for workshops, Switzer said the first official tally, taken from the final tenth day class roster, would "probably be close to the final tally."

"I expect we'll know the enrollment within 50 students by next Wednesday," he said.

Cold rooms a problem in first week

by Mary Holland

Cold rooms and non-functioning telephones were two of the problems facing summer school students moving into Taylor Hall this week.

Taylor Hall counselor Tom Condit said telephones were shut off from Sunday until Monday morning. However, he said most residents took the inconvenience in stride.

"We were able to appease them until the situation was rectified. It didn't seem to cause any uproar."

A second problem involved air conditioning that worked a little too well.

"It is a little too cold for everyone's liking. That includes my apartment which is freezing most of the time," Condit said.

Junior Susan Martin said her room was "kind of breezy" but she coped with the cold air by using a lot of blankets.

Another student, freshman Karen Wilk, said "the halls are stuffy and the rooms are cold. It makes everyone want to open the window."

Junior Sheila Gibbs agreed. "We're not supposed to open the windows but we don't want to freeze," she said.

Condit said most residents were questioning the inconveniences, but not complaining. He said the hall will try to adjust the air conditioning in the coldest rooms once everything settles down.

Residents are also asking questions about parking regulations. Condit said there was "a great deal of confusion about parking stickers." The confusion centers around when parking restrictions start and which lots to use, he said.

He added that there was still plenty of space in Taylor for students who decide to enroll in summer school at the last minute. Taylor Hall has the capacity for 600 students, and at the last count there were 314 residents.

Twenty six of those residents did not apply for summer housing last semester. Condit said many students decide to come to summer school when they have difficulty finding a job.

Ninth Street construction to continue all summer

by Mike Prizy

For those people who have been inconvenienced by the Ninth Street construction, the end is still a couple of months away—weather permitting.

"We have been slowed down due to the weather," Buddy Reed, Charleston city engineer said. "We want it done by the time the students return for the fall semester and at this time I would say we will have it done."

Reed said the construction is proceeding as long as the weather allows and that "it is hard to say if it is behind schedule. It is based on a working schedule and not on a particular time schedule or a fixed date to be completed."

The construction begins where Hayes and Garfield intersect Ninth Street and continues two blocks south on Ninth to the Kappa Delta sorority house. This stretch of Ninth Street is closed to traffic.

The project includes widening Ninth Street to 31 feet and installing storm sewers. When the construction is complete, there will be curbs and sidewalks with handicap ramps on both sides of the street.

Reed said that 95 percent of the work on the storm sewers is complete with 90 percent of the earth excavation complete.

Charleston businesses

Facilities make changes

by Mike Prizy

Several Charleston businesses have changed ownership or moved to a new location since the end of spring semester.

Anyone going to Yogy's Hoagies on the Charleston square would have been surprised to find the sandwich deli was no longer there.

Yogy's Hoagies is now located at 1448 Ninth St. which used to be Hair Designers beautician. Hair Designers moved to 121 N. Fifth St.

Yogy's Hoagies owners Dale and Teri Kolbus said they wanted to be closer to Eastern.

"Basically we thought we would do better on Lincoln," Teri said. "Since most of our customers were college students we thought we would try to be closer to them."

The Pizza Man, formerly Rico's, located at 909 18th St., is now owned by Bill Phipps.

Phipps said he has made several changes including new recipes, remodeling, and new managers and workers.

One establishment that changed only ownership was Dixie Cream Donut Shop at 1415 Fourth St.

New owners Bob and Carol Stewart said, "It will be the same for now. We have been discussing changes and reorganizing inside and maybe different weekend hours."

A new business, Sirius, an exercise and fitness facility, opened at 718 Jackson.

Owner Laura Hooser said the facility has an aerobic exercise program and Omni exercise machines with complete weight training programs for men and women.

"We already have a wide range of ages signed up," Hooser said.

She added the facility also has locker rooms with showers.

Katydid On Campus at 401 Lincoln has closed and owner Mel Medder said he is negotiating a contract with a possible new owner for the store.

Affirmative action director sought

by Kenda Burrows

A newly formed search committee is seeking a new director for affirmative action whose major responsibility would be to make certain Eastern does not discriminate regardless of race, religion or sex.

Robert Barger, chairman of the director of affirmative action search committee, said the deadline for the applications is July 1.

Barger said, "The main job of the affirmative action director is to ensure equal opportunity regardless of race, sex or religion, especially in employment at the university."

Barger said the director would report directly to Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin with any problems regarding discrimination.

Barger also said the director is responsible for seeking out minorities for employment in order to represent "something of our cultural plurality."

Not only would the new director be responsible for preventing discrimination in student employment, but also in Eastern's faculty.

Barger said the director must be a regular member of the faculty since the post is only a half time position.

Although the committee has only received three applications, Barger said the small number of applicants is not unusual because Marvin wished the search to be an internal one.

He added more people could still apply since applications will be accepted in Marvin's office until July 1.

Barger said, "He (Marvin) would like to see a person be appointed before school starts in August."

Voter drive slated; seats remain open

by Patty O'Neill

Plans are currently underway for the student government's first voter registration drive scheduled for Sept. 20, 21 and 22.

At the first meeting of the summer senate, Student Body President Terry Teele said since the last day to register to vote in Coles County is Oct. 1, a voter registration for Eastern students needs to be organized.

In addition, Teele said he plans to begin preparations for a higher education conference to be held in the early fall at Eastern.

With the conference, Teele said students will become more aware of candidates' views before the election.

Senate Speaker Terese Lang said there are 26 seats open on the summer senate. Petitions to get on the senate will be available starting.

She said petitions can be obtained from room 316 in the University Union and must be returned by 5 p.m. June 23.

All petitioners must be present at the June 23 summer senate meeting in order to gain approval of the residing senate and to take a seat at the meeting, Lang said.

Percy favors enforcement of loan paybacks

by Mike Prizy

Republican Sen. Charles Percy said he is on record as agreeing more times with President Ronald Reagan than any other senator on Capitol Hill.

However, there is one subject Percy disagrees with the president—student loan cutbacks.

Instead of cutting the student loan program as Reagan has proposed, Percy said he favors a stricter enforcement of unpaid student loans.

Percy spoke during the first week of June before 1,000 "citizens" of Premier Boys State, the annual American Legion "school for government learning" for Illinois high school junior and senior boys.

Percy said the program is abused, especially by "many medical doctors who now earn $100,000 a year but refuse to pay back their student loans which got them through medical school."

Percy said he would like to see more concentration on the collection of the delinquent loans rather than Reagan's cutting back or abolishing the student loan program.

If more stringent penalties were assessed for delinquent student loans, Percy said, student loan recipients would be less likely to refuse payment of their loans.

With a better means of collecting student loans, there would be a "steady reservoir of loan money available every year to needy students," Percy said.

Petition for the summer senate

Get off on the right foot this summer by petitioning for a seat on the summer senate.

The summer senate makes tentative plans and programs which will be recommended to the student senate in the fall. In the past, the summer senate has proven itself a worthy organization working consistently throughout the summer months.

Speaker Terese Lang said the executive officers have already organized projects for the summer senate, such as setting up student government conferences, investigating and making arrangements for an off-campus tenants union and making arrangements for the proposed organizational day.

The first step to begin running for the summer senate is to obtain a petition from the student government office. Then, get 25 signatures and return the petition to the student government office no later than 5 p.m. June 23.

Although there is no campaigning for seats on the senate as there is in the spring semester, the members of the already existing senate will vote for approval on the petitioners. The summer senate can have up to 30 senators.

Obtaining 25 signatures should be no problem for any student.

Those students living in the dormitories can walk up and down the hall knocking on doors and asking for signatures. Students living off-campus can just as easily get signatures from students in the University Union, in line at the textbook library or from neighbors.

For incoming freshman, this is a particularly good opportunity to get involved on campus and meet people.

As a summer senator, students have an opportunity to learn the ropes about the student government and the university. In addition, it is an excellent opportunity to determine whether or not to run for the fall senate.

Above all, it's easier to become a member during the summer. Once the petition is turned in to the student government office, your job in seeking a seat is done. That certainly beats spending money for a campaign in the fall or spring election.

Working with the senate is an initial way to get involved on campus. Pick up a petition and help the summer senate have yet another successful term.

Legal briefs:

Stephen Davis

Car accidents: know the legal consequences

(Editor's note: Steve Davis, director of student legal service, begins his bi-monthly column today for the Summer Eastern News. His column deals with legal issues students face and tips on how to use the legal service to your advantage. Students who have suggestions or questions about legal problems for future columns should submit ideas to the editor, the Summer Eastern News; Buzzard Education Building, or visit Davis in his office in the mezzanine at the University Union.)

If you are involved in an automobile accident, there are legal consequences that are important to be aware of.

First, state law requires that the "driver of a vehicle which is in any manner involved in an accident within this state, resulting in injury to, or death of any person, or in which damage to the property of any one person, including himself, in excess of $250 is sustained, shall, as soon as possible, but not later than ten days after such accident, forward a written report of such accident to the administrator" of the Illinois Safety Responsibility Law, Secretary of State's Office, Springfield, Illinois.

As a practical matter, the local police officials usually make certain such reports are filled out and sent to Springfield. But, it is your responsibility to see that such a report is filed if the police officials would happen to neglect to do so, or, if they would happen not to be involved in investigating the accident.

Second, it is not mandatory in Illinois that one have automobile insurance. But, it is required by law that you be "financially responsible" when an accident is your fault. You must pay the other person's damages in full or the Secretary of State's office can suspend or revoke your driver's license and license plates until you do pay the damages in full. If you ever fail to be "financially responsible," and your driver's license is revoked, you must buy automobile insurance before getting your license returned.

If you have an accident and it is your fault, the person damaged is to obtain at least two estimates of his damages (to his automobile) and you would then have to pay the lowest one. You have to pay this amount even if you suspect the person damaged is not going to use the money to repair his car but is going to use the money for other personal reasons. If you cause someone damage, you simply have to repay them the amount of the damage you've done; you can't tell them what to do with the money.

Finally, if the car you're driving is not yours and not insured and you are in an accident, the owner of the car can lose his right to put license plates on it if you do not pay the damages you caused.

With their ability to maintain a positive attitude combined with superior talent, Eastern's 1982 softball team captured third place in the AIAW Division II World Series. (News file photo)

Attitude, talent give Lady Panthers title

The 1982 softball team deserves recognition and praise not only for its best finish ever, but for the attitude the women maintained throughout the 1982 campaign.

With the Lady Panthers finishing third in their division, Eastern now boasts two national-finishing athletic teams, bringing recognition not only to the athletic program, but to the entire university community.

Joining the 1981 soccer squad as the third place team in its division is the 1982 softball team, a group of women who combined for more victories than any team in Eastern history.

Through a grueling 53-game schedule that included only six home dates, the softballers maintained a selfless attitude, putting the team's best interests above their own.

Raw talent can carry athletic teams to winning seasons, but few national championships are earned without team unity.

The softball players, behind the outstanding leadership of coach Deanna D'Abbraccio, molded into a tight body whose performance on the field exemplified the best in team play.

Many of Eastern's women's teams may not fare well with the lofty jump from Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women Division II to NCAA Division I. But in its final season at the lower level of competition, the softball squad showed the ability to compete with the larger schools.

The Lady Panthers defeated three NCAA Division I teams in 1982 and added eight victories over opponents from the now-defunct AIAW Division I.

By proving themselves against larger schools, the softballers earned respect for their program and for Eastern.

Also, participating in the highest level of competition available gives the exposure to Eastern that is often reserved for the nation's largest universities.

The softball squad's performance puts the women's athletic program into the national eye. But more importantly, the Lady Panthers showed what can be accomplished by sacrificing individual desires for the good of the whole.

New minor requirements suggested for all programs

by Kenda Burrows

All minor courses including teaching, non-teaching and interdisciplinary minors will be excluded from the pass-fail option if the Council on Academic Affairs approves a recommendation from the Arts and Sciences Curriculum Committee.

The ASCC also recently approved a recommendation to establish a residency requirement for all minors that would be similar to the one in effect for major courses.

Assistant Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences Paul Kirby said the recommendations were made in an effort to make Eastern's minors "more valid," and bring them up to the level currently required in major programs.

Kirby said the committee's recommendations were part of a university-wide effort to restructure Eastern's minor programs.

Kirby added the two recommendations, which will effect both freshmen and transfer students, were made in order to "bring the minors in line with the policy we now have for majors."

He said the residency recommendation would require a transfer student who wishes to have a minor to complete a minimum of six semester hours in residency at Eastern in courses applicable to that minor.

Kirby said at the present time the university accepts any classes taken at any university for minor credits with only six required to be junior level or higher.

He said the ASCC recommendation, if approved, would insure that the student completes at least one-third of the 18 required hours for a minor in residence at Eastern.

Kirby added at least one of those courses can be taken as pass-fail.

"It's conceivable that students could bring in all their minor courses from junior colleges and transfer colleges, even classes not appropriate to their major," he said.

"It had to be done at Eastern," Kirby added.

Kirby said after the committee approved the recommendations it was suggested to the CAA that the recommendations be implemented for all minors in every academic area.

Kirby said the CAA will make the minor requirements an agenda item and, if the council passes the recommendations, Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin will be asked to make them part of university policy.

However, CAA Chairperson Sharon Bartling said the recommendations are not likely to go before the council immediately since the committee is not required to review the proposals before Sept 2.

Bartling said, "We have been assured that there is no pressure to pass these proposals this summer."

Bartling added that the CAA has a full schedule for the summer and many of the items are of a "pressing nature."

New sorority house gets face-lift

Construction is underway for an addition to the newly acquired sorority house for the Alpha Sigma Tau sorority.

Pat Flaugher, treasurer of the sorority's Housing Corporation, said the side walls to the basement have been poured behind the house located at 1808 Ninth St.

Flaugher said the house was purchased May 20 from Century 21 Real Estate for $50,000. Bill Hay, a local contractor, began working on the $20,000 project May 21.

In addition to adding on a basement, some bedrooms will also be added on to the building. The house currently has four bedrooms, a living room, a dining room and a kitchen area.

In September, 1981, seventy Eastern women became the first pledge class of the newly formed Alpha Sigma Tau sorority.

Achievement scholarships are awarded in four fields

by Pam Messier

A number of Eastern students have been granted scholarships for achievements in their specific field of study.

All the scholarships were awarded during the spring, 1982 semester.

Five students received Edson H. Taylor scholarships. The award, established in memory of a former mathematics instructor, is given annually to junior or senior mathematics majors who excel in their major. This year's recipients, who are all seniors, are: Jeffrey Lindquist, Dennis Cler, Deborah Oller, Jane Fischer and Julie Denney.

Four students have been awarded the Charles H. and Dorothee Coleman scholarship in history. Recipients are: seniors David Rearden, Andrea Wirth, Laurie Schreifels and Charles Elliott.

The scholarship was established in memory of Coleman, former head of Eastern's history department and a distinguished Lincoln scholar. The award is given annually to history majors in recognition of high academic achievement.

Senior Matthew Davidson is this year's recipient of the Richard G. Enochs scholarship. Established in memory of the former Assistant Director of Housing, the award goes to an outstanding student residing in either residence halls or university apartments.

The Ann Frommel Memorial scholarship, established in memory of a former Eastern student, recognizes outstanding academic achievement. The 1982 recipient is sophomore David Malehorn.

Senior Lenore Howard is this year's recipient of the Isabel McKinney Scholarship. The award goes annually to a student who has demonstrated high scholastic achievement and has the qualifications to enroll in the English graduate program at Eastern.

The Eunice W. Dougherty scholarships, made possible by a bequest of the late Dougherty who was an early graduate of Eastern, have been awarded to 15 students this year.

The recipients must be outstanding juniors enrolled in programs in the School of Business or the College of the Arts and Sciences and must also rank in the top 25 percent of their class.

The 1982 recipients are: Sara Hansel, Todd Kabbes, John Sellett, Thomas Zentefis, Teri Radosevich, Kelly Patton, Lisa McElmury, Grover Alexander, Roxanna Champion, Lori Williamson, Sandra Landeck, Jay Andres, David Ellington, Daniel Moffett and Anne Shaughnessy.

Blood labeled human by lab

Laboratory tests have determined that several streaks of blood discovered in the Buzzard Education Building on April 24 were from a human source, Campus Police Chief John Pauley said Wednesday.

The blood was found on the second floor north hall of the Buzzard Education Building between the hours of midnight on Saturday, April 24 and 1 a.m. on Sunday the 25th by a campus police officer.

Pauley said he did not have any leads on the origin of the blood. "Anything we'd say would be pure speculation," he said.

However, Pauley said police have not given up their investigation. "I don't say we're scrapping it," he said. "You can never tell what will come up."

EVEN STRAIGHT A'S CAN'T HELP IF YOU FLUNK TUITION.

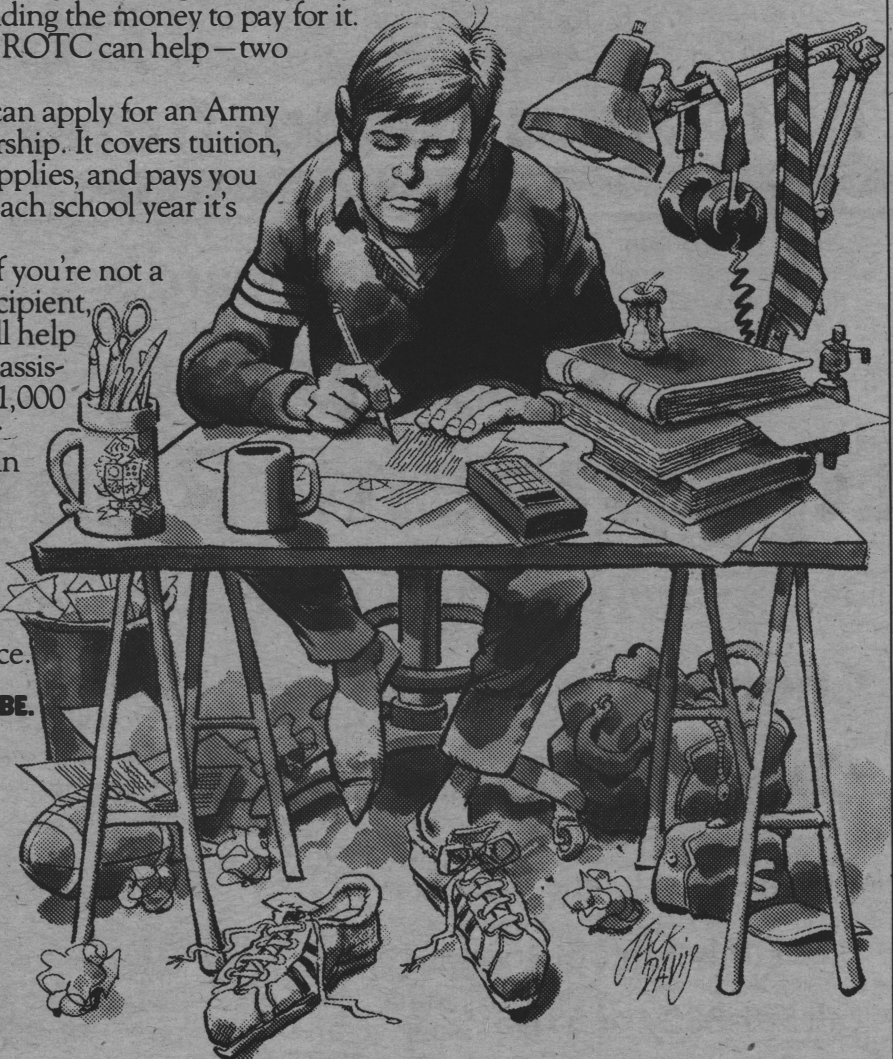

Today, the toughest thing about going to college is finding the money to pay for it.

But Army ROTC can help—two ways!

First, you can apply for an Army ROTC scholarship. It covers tuition, books, and supplies, and pays you up to $1,000 each school year it's in effect.

But even if you're not a scholarship recipient, ROTC can still help with financial assistance—up to $1,000 a year for your last two years in the program.

ERA battleground

Supporters, advocates crusade to encourage passage of bill

Supporters of the Equal Rights Amendment have fought long and hard for passage of the bill, but now some supporters are admitting that passage seems unlikely. Gov. James Thompson requested that House Speaker George Ryan change the rules to allow passage with a simple majority instead of the required three-fifths vote, but Ryan rejected the request.

Protestors were carried away by police after they refused to leave on their own when the police requested a path be cleared for those who wanted to get in and out.

More moderate protestors picketed in the downstairs lobby.

Protestors were carried out by three policemen each. They did not argue when carried out. (News photos by Fred Zwicky)

All-American rating given to 'News' for eighth year

by Mary Holland

The fall semester 1981 Daily Eastern News recently received top rating from the Associated Collegiate Press, a national critiquing service for student publications.

In awarding the Daily Eastern News a top "All-American" rating for the eighth consecutive year, the ACP said the paper "provides a stimulating, comprehensive, and significant balance of campus, community, state, national and international news."

The ACP reviews papers in five categories—coverage and content, writing and editing, opinion content, design, and photography and graphics. The paper received marks of distinction, which recognize creativity and imagination in a publication, in all the categories except photography and graphics.

David Reed, advisor of the Daily Eastern News, said he was especially pleased with the high score in the area of coverage and content. "As far as I'm concerned, that's the number one job for a newspaper," he said.

In suggesting areas for improvement, the association recommended a broader distribution of action photos.

Reed said he agreed with the recommendation but added, "we don't always have the space to display pictures as well as they could be."

Marsha Hausser was the editor in chief of the 1981-82 Daily Eastern News.

Church anniversary set

The University Baptist Church at 1505 Seventh Street will have a homecoming celebration to commemorate the church's 40th anniversary.

The celebration will begin June 20 with the 9:30 a.m. Sunday School Hour and a carry-in dinner will be served at 12:30.

Kath Ford, church homecoming committee member in charge of publicity said, "A lot of Eastern's former students and alumni will be returning. I hope we get 200 people in all."

Lorene Coleman, homecoming committee member in charge of history said the church was founded on June 24, 1942 with 11 chartered members and has grown to a membership of over 100.

"It was never a mission," Coleman said. "There were just meetings and then the church was organized."

Coleman, whose parents were two of the original 11 members, will give a presentation on the history of the church which will include a bulletin board display of photos, clippings and various pieces of memorabilia dealing with the church.

Netters capture second in Mid-Continent Conference

by Kenda Burrows

Eastern's men's tennis team notched its highest conference finish ever when it placed second at the Mid-Continent Conference Tennis Championship May 6-8 in Springfield, Mo.

The Panthers, who were 12-8 for the season, took two singles titles and two doubles victories on route to the second place team mark.

Jon Tuft and Bruce Perrin paced Eastern with victories in both doubles and singles competition.

Perrin, a junior three-year letterman, captured the No. 3 singles title by downing all three of his opponents in the four-team conference field.

He then teamed with Scott Fjelstad to win the No. 3 doubles championship.

Perrin finished the season with a 5-15 singles record and was 10-9 with three different doubles partners, as the 7-7 mark with Fjelstad accounted for the bulk of his doubles play.

"We were waiting for Bruce to have a good weekend and it couldn't have come at a better time," Panther coach Carl Sexton said.

Tuft, the Panthers' No. 4 singles player, also defeated his three singles opponents and then teamed with Mark Munie to win the flight-two doubles title.

"Jon was a most pleasant surprise this year," Sexton said. "He did not have a bad match all season. Once he got in the groove he stayed there."

Sexton said although they had not expected it, Tuft "really came on for us. It was rewarding to see him win both the singles and doubles championship."

Tuft and Munie each had a 14-6 regular season won-lost record, the best on the team, and combined for a 16-3 doubles mark.

Munie added a second-place finish at No. 5 singles by downing both his Western and Northern Iowa opponents before falling to Southwest Missouri in the championship match.

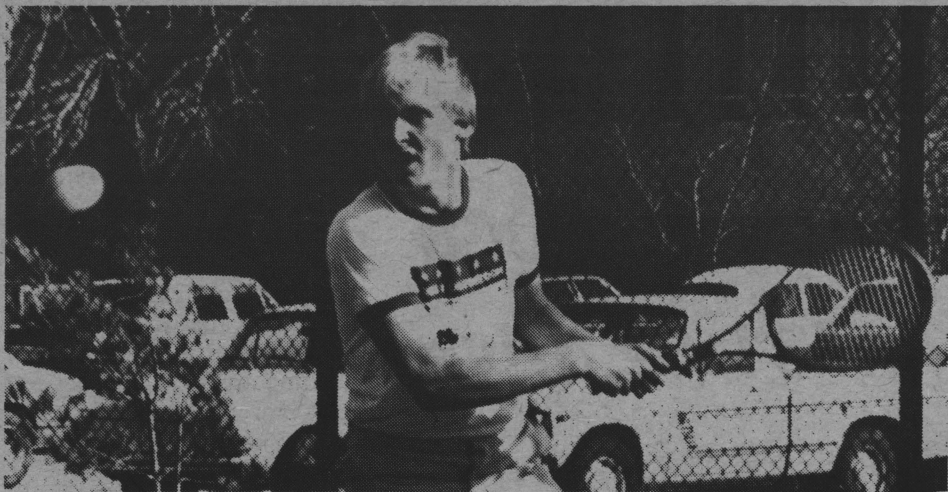

Munie, who finished the regular season with five consecutive victories, was voted the Most Valuable Player by his teammates. Tuft was also honored by being chosen as the honorary captain.

Jay Johnson, the team's No. 1 singles player, notched a third-place finish in singles competition and a third place in doubles play with Rob Hopkins, the No. 2 singles netter.

"Jay (Johnson) played three-setters in all three matches so he was in every one of them," Sexton said. "He's been No. 1 both years and has come up against some stiff competition. He's made considerable progress."

Hopkins, who finished second at No. 2 singles, won two of three league matches before dropping the title match.

"He often was going against opponents with full scholarships and considering our No. 1 and 3 singles had losing records, it indicates the type of season Rob had to finish above .500," Sexton said.

Eastern's number one singles player, Jay Johnson, placed third in the Mid-Continent Conference championship. He finished with an 8-12 record in singles competition. (News file photo)

Full-time Student Academically
In order to be considered a full-time student academically a student must carry at least 12 semester hours each semester and at least 6 semester hours during a summer term. It is obvious by these minimum amounts that a student can gain 30 semester hours or one-fourth of his academic career of a minimum of 120 semester hours required for graduation. For any number of semester hours less than 12 during a semester and 6 during a summer term a student is considered a part-time student academically. This is the rule by which Records Office certifies students as full-time to such agencies as Social Security System, Good Student Discount, etc. If you have questions concerning any of this, please contact Records Office.

Panther Club tops $200,000 in '81-82 drive

by Steve Binder

For the first time since it was formed three years ago, the Panther Club's 1981-82 fund drive topped the $200,000 plateau for cash and in-kind services raised by club members.

Eastern's Panther Club is a booster-type organization with about 1,200 members who support the university's athletic department by contributing and raising funds and services.

Club president Eli Sidwell said the final '81-82 drive results total about $130,000 in cash and around $70,000 for in-kind services—non-cash donations including goods and services.

Last year's fund drive total was about $130,000.

Sidwell attributed the club's increased collections to a "farther outreach" to areas like Robinson, Peoria, Effingham and Decatur.

"I think the main reason for the increase was reaching areas that we haven't in the past. Plus every year, more and more people become aware of Eastern athletics and they want to contribute to the program," Sidwell said.

"But you have to contribute the success of the program to a well-oiled organization. Since R.C. (Eastern Athletic Director Johnson) has been here, he started a board of directors and this has been a key factor," he added.

Sidwell also cited an increase in membership, about 200 people every year, as another factor contributing to the increased funds.

Throughout the year, the Panther Club held promotions and fund raisers such as golf outings and tried to introduce Eastern and its athletic program to as many people as possible.

"There aren't really any large contributions from one person, just a lot of contributions from a lot of people," Sidwell said. "I think one thing that really helped was the St. Louis Cardinals donating $10,000."

The football Cardinals will hold their summer training camp in Charleston and Sidwell added, "The donation was one of the negotiated things that worked out before they signed a contract. They were very happy in supporting Eastern and its athletics."

The Panther Club's financial support rates as the third highest form of income for Eastern's athletic budget. However, in the department's proposed '81-82 budget, Johnson expected the club to raise only $75,000 in cash.

Consequently, the athletic department has raised about $55,000 more than what was budgeted.

Johnson and Associate Athletic Directors Ron Paap and Joan Schmidt were unavailable for comment Wednesday concerning how the extra funds would be utilized.

Men tracksters take second in conference...

by Susan McCann

Eastern's men's track team finished second to the University of Northern Iowa at the Mid-Continent Conference meet May 6-7, largely because All-American Claude Magee was injured and unable to compete.

"I think we probably would have won if he (Magee) had been able to participate," Panther coach Neil Moore said.

"I was disappointed because we didn't perform to our potential," he said. "But Northern Iowa was tougher than we expected. They have a fine team and have especially good people in the weights."

Although the Panthers were not victorious as a team, Mark Schrimpf capped his collegiate career with triumphs in the decathlon and high jump.

Four other Panthers bested the four-team conference field as Eastern accumulated 57 points to UNI's 89 markers.

Mpaka Fyneface won the 400-meter intermediate hurdles and Tim Warneke topped the 5000-meter run competition.

Craig DeWall cleared the 110-meter high hurdles in 14.64 and Perry Edinger completed the steeplechase in 9:17.40 for the final two Eastern victories.

Even more impressive than Schrimpf's triumph in the grueling decathlon was his leap of 6-6 in the high jump.

He had completed the 1500-meter run, the decathlon's final event, only

Magee places fifth at USA/TFA

Eastern All-American trackster Claude Magee placed fifth in the 100 meters at the U.S.A. Track and Field Association championship May 28, but he failed to advance from his preliminary heat in the final NCAA meet.

Magee was Eastern's only representative at the NCAA championships, which Panther head coach Neil Moore described as "one of the finest NCAA Division I meets I've ever seen."

Magee had nursed an injury from mid-April until the USA/TFA meet 45 minutes before his turn came in the regular high jump competition.

"They crowded the decathlon with the start of the regular meet so he had virtually no rest between events and still managed to win the high jump," Moore said.

"I thought his efforts were the most outstanding in the meet," he added.

Three other jumpers ranked in their events, as Kevin Keeran placed third behind Schrimpf in the high jump.

Kevin Jones secured fourth in long jump while Lynn Hargrow ended with a sixth-place showing. Hargrow added a third-place finish in the triple jump.

In other field events, Richard Francis, Paul James and Bill Ziech took second through fourth in the hammer throw. James added a sixth in the shot put, but managed only a third in his and had been forced to sit out the conference championship.

Moore said he thought it was more important for Magee to run against the country's finest competition at the NCAA meet than to try to run at the conference meet and risk permanent injury.

Although Moore said Magee was healthy for the NCAA meet and ran the 100 meters in 10.57, his fourth-place finish in the preliminary heat was not fast enough for him to qualify for the finals.

A.J. Lockett and Greg Weber placed third and fifth, respectively, in the javelin while Kevin Riley cleared the bar at 15 feet to place second in the pole vault.

Eastern fared well in the distances, with Mike Beresford following Edinger in the steeplechase and Edinger later adding a fourth behind Warneke in the 5000 meters.

The Panthers took third and fifth through seventh places in the 10,000-meter run, with Warneke leading Eastern's Nick Whiteside, Chuck Elliott and Jon Guthrie across the finish line.

Paul West completed 1500 meters in 3:56.35, good enough for third place, but both Eastern relay teams managed only fourth-place finishes.

...as women run to fourth at nationals

by Susan McCann

After placing third in the AIAW state track meet, Eastern's women tracksters captured fourth place at the AIAW Division II National Championship held May 20-22 in Clarksville, Tenn.

The state meet included both Division I and II schools, with the University of Illinois and Western Illinois taking the top two spots.

Eastern's fourth-place finish at the nationals came behind South Carolina State, Idaho State and Villanova.

At Clarksville, four-time All-

American Lij Greathouse paced the Panthers with second-place finishes in the 100- and 200-yard dashes. She also ran legs in the 440 and mile relays in which Eastern crossed the line in fourth position.

Also running in both relays were Gail Stephens and Renee Johnson, with Sonya Brown competing in the 440 and Karen Lackland rounding out the mile team.

Brown and Stephens added fifth places in the 100- and 200-yard dashes, respectively.

Gayle Brandon, a 1981 All-

American and the school record holder in the long jump, was injured and could not compete.

Brandon and the five runners who placed at the Division II nationals had turned in times that would qualify them for the Division I championships.

But to participate at the Division I meet they had to win their event in the lower division nationals, Panther coach John Craft said.

Only one trackster was lost to graduation, so Craft will have a strong nucleus entering the 1983 campaign, Eastern's first in NCAA Division I.
