What's That Again?

EIU Players Rehearse For Homecoming Play

The Players, under the direction of E. Glendon Gabbard, director of the theatre, are rehearsing the Homecoming play entitled "The Girls in 509."

The Broadway production starred Peggy Wood and Imogene Coca. This play is a comedy for those Republicans, Democrats and independents who like to laugh. The setting is realistic and the makeup is straight.

When a not-now fashionable hotel in New York is being demolished, a pair of hermit ladies are discovered in one of the back suites. They have been there since the "black night" in November, 1932, when Herbert Hoover lost the election.

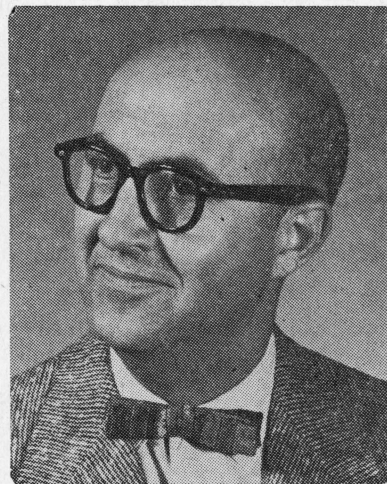

Deliberately cutting themselves off from the outside world, they have vowed to remain secluded until "That Man" is out of the White House and a Republican is elected.

Led by a professor of journalism from a small midwest college who is under the impression that he is working for the New York Times, the press descends upon the two ladies.

The cast consists of Mimsy, Carol Brubach; Aunt Hettie, Susan Golinveaux; Old Jim, Doug Koertge; Ryan, Larry Uebner; Pusey, Mike Genovese; Winthrop

Allen, Keith Jones; and Miss Freud, Judy Grant.

The technical directing will be done by Edmund Roney with costuming by Ann Smith. The cast has been rehearsing from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. daily.

E. Glendon Gabbard

Performances of the comedy will be held on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 19 and 20, and Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 22 and 23. Formal attire is requested for opening night.

Senators Discuss Who's Who

The Student Senate heard discussion at Thursday's meeting about sweeping changes in the election of students to Who's Who. Senator Bill Eaton, chairman of the Senate election rules revision committee, said the proposed changes would "eliminate the idea of a popularity contest."

If the proposal gets Senate approval at tonight's meeting, the measure will go into effect for this year's election which is set for sometime in October.

Major changes are: 1. persons meeting eligibility rules of 2.6 cumulative grade-point who have a junior or senior status may submit petitions to a student-faculty board to be created under the proposal 2. the student-faculty board will consist of the Senate adviser, dean of student personnel services, one senator, one independent and one Greek

3. the board will study the petitions and reduce the number of applications to 30 4. in the general election, students will vote for seven of the 30. The top 15 vote receivers will be Eastern's candidates for Who's Who. The names of the 15 will be submitted to the national organization.

Eaton said those elected in this manner "will be the top people." Commenting on the fact that only 15 names would be sent to the national organization via the proposal, Eaton said he didn't think there are many more students than that number who deserve to be in Who's Who.

"I do not believe there are 30 students on this campus who are worthy of a Who's Who rating," he said.

Action on the proposal was tabled for a week in order to give

EIU Makes Final Preparations For Homecoming October 18-20

Reunions Set By Two Classes

Classes of 1912 and 1932 will hold reunions at Eastern's Homecoming, which is scheduled for Oct. 18-20.

Members of the Class of 1912 and their guests will be hosted by the University at a luncheon in the University Union Cafeteria.

The Class of 1932 will hold an informal reunion in the Union Lounge from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. Oct. 20.

Also on the agenda for the weekend is a 6 p.m. reunion of the 1951-52 undefeated basketball team at the Mattoon Country Club. Tom Katsimpalis, a member of the team, and president-elect of the Alumni Association is arranging the reunion.

A coffee hour will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday in the Union Ballroom. Approximately 12 of the University departments have reserved tables in the Ballroom to greet alumni.

The coffee hour is under the sponsorship of the Homecoming Publicity and Alumni Relations Committee and the Alumni Office.

Gov. Kerner To Speak At Democratic Dinner

Gov. Otto Kerner and two other top ranking Democrats will speak at a $25 a plate dinner Oct. 17 at the University Union. Accompanying Kerner will be Sidney Yates, senatorial candidate running opposite Sen. Everett Dirksen; and Rep. George Shipley, seeking reelection in the 23rd Congressional District.

Kerner is scheduled to arrive at 5:30 p.m. on campus where he will be hosted for an informal meeting by the Young Democrats Club.

ACE Branch Formed

Three members of the Association of Childhood Education went to the University of Illinois Sept. 27 to help organize an ACE branch at the U of I, according to Ginger Hilger, publicity chairman. Those going to Urbana were Sandra Staley, Joann Cooper and Judy Kurr.

senators time to discuss the measure with their groups.

In other legislative action, the group voted to recommend to President Quincy Doudna that the Artists Series Board be placed on equal footing with the other student-faculty boards. At the present time, the Senate does not approve student membership on the board.

If Doudna approves the recommendation, students will petition the Senate for a seat on the board. Senator Eaton brought before the governing body a proposal he said would provide for more campus participation in the Senate.

Eaton proposed that all committee members come from the student body.

"The number one problem of the Senate is that all the participation is by a very few," he said.

'No More Trouble' EIU Student Says Of Miss. Situation

"There won't be any more trouble." This is how one of four Eastern students who drove to Oxford, Miss. last week summed up future prospects at the University of Mississippi, where violence broke out recently over admission of Negro James Meredith to the university.

The students left Monday afternoon, Oct. 1 and arrived back on campus Tuesday evening, Oct. 3.

The student, interviewed by a News reporter, said the purpose of the trip was "to talk to the people primarily." He said the students talked to townspeople, students, Negroes and military personnel.

"They're sick about it," he said. "They didn't want it this way. They wanted the violence prevented."

"They have accepted it now. There won't be any more trouble," he added.

He said people of the town are "all so mixed up." He said the people of the town deeply love the university and said that the editor of the local newspaper cried when she spoke of the campus.

He said the violence was caused by a few radicals and that most residents of Oxford feel the violence could have been prevented.

Federal troops are resented, he said, yet the troops believe the Government's . . .

Sending Of Troops To Mississippi Necessary

Integration has come to Mississippi with the enrollment of Negro James H. Meredith in the University of Mississippi. Integration came not with the flush of victory, having achieved a long sought goal, but with jeers and violence from angry whites. It came with the sound of marching feet and the "whoosh" of tear gas shells; it came with bloodshed and death.

Why?

The federal government has charged that the conflict was due to the obstinate refusal of Gov. Ross Barnett to allow Meredith to enter the all-white school as was ordered by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals.

The government charged that in his "rebellious" obstruction of the court ruling, Barnett incited the people of Mississippi to riot and openly defy the federal government, thus forcing the government to enroll the Negro in compliance with the court decision.

Gov. Barnett and those of his state have said that the federal government was at fault for moving armed troops into the city of Oxford, thus taunting those opposed to integration. They have said that the federal marshals were responsible for starting the riots in which two persons died. Gov. Barnett maintains that the laws of the state of Mississippi are inviolate and that the federal government is wrong in forcing integration on the state.

The fact remains that Meredith was refused entrance to Ole Miss, a violation of his constitutional right, according to the decision of the Supreme Court. He fought for his rights in a court of law and won. According to due process, the state of Mississippi was bound to enroll Meredith, but Gov. Barnett took it upon himself to personally bar Meredith. In so doing, he disobeyed a court order. Thus the federal government had no choice but to enforce the law.

Although the Supreme Court once ruled that equal but separate rights was constitutional, the present ruling is that "but separate" rights is not constitutional. Until that decision is changed, no amount of threatening, dissenting, rioting or bloodshed can force the federal government to turn its head and refuse to enforce the rights of every citizen. No state can be permitted to take those rights away.

Some may disagree with the federal government's use of troops to guarantee Meredith's rights. Under the ruling of the courts and the refusal of Barnett to obey that ruling, the government had no other choice.

To say that anything but token integration has been achieved would be erroneous.

True integration might less violently be obtained if the federal government sees that the Negro is given the right to vote. By use of this weapon, the Negro, at least in the southern states, could elect officials and bring pressure to bear upon them that might lead to greater equality than now exists.

We must remember that no matter who we are the federal government has no course of action but to defend our rights when they have been flagrantly violated.

In a very real sense, it is not important to the government that Meredith is a Negro—nor would it matter if he were yellow, white or red. Meredith is a citizen of this country and because he is a citizen, he possesses certain rights under the Constitution that the government is obligated to protect.

Until the Constitution is amended, it remains the law of the land, whether we like it or not. As citizens we are obligated to respect that law.

The government could have taken no other course of action in Mississippi.

Thousands Of People Turn Out To Make . . .

Parents Weekend Successful First For Senate

Eastern's first Parents Weekend was a success. Large numbers of parents poured onto campus Saturday and Sunday to visit Eastern students and to get a look at life at Eastern.

Almost 1,000 parents turned out to see the Panther gridders' losing effort against Illinois State. Approximately 1,200 persons were on hand for Drew Pearson's lecture. Not only were the crowds large but they were also quite enthusiastic.

Since Parents Weekend was strictly experimental, certain weaknesses were apparent. However, the Student Senate has already begun to plan for next year in an attempt to iron out the problems. The primary difficulty seemed to be that of accommodating parents, especially for meals.

Millis indicated two major changes in the planning for weekend program: 1. A proposal will be made to appoint a special committee to handle

Parents Weekend in lieu of the Senate executive council's handling all of the programming. 2. Preparation will begin in the spring instead of the summer to allow more time for more adequate planning.

Both proposals show a great deal of foresight and initiative by the Senate, and especially by Millis. More help is definitely needed to ease the burden placed upon a few persons. And yet, we believe the students should be left in complete charge of Parents Weekend.

A sign of the efficient planning for this year's occasion was the number and nature of programs presented. Each of the events was well-attended.

Parents Weekend will become an annual affair at Eastern, provided it receives the same amount of leadership and cooperation that this year's demonstrated.

Ponderings

by Jerry Parsons

Folk and Country and Western music are experiencing a revival across the nation.

Until a few years ago, such music was enjoyed only by certain segments of society. Then came a group known as the Kingston Trio, who did much to popularize Folk music. The trio broke up, but such artists as Joan Baez; Peter, Paul and Mary; and Josh White are gaining popularity.

Country and Western music—sometimes called Hillbilly—is also on the upswing. Last summer, Jimmy Dean, a singer himself, substituted for Jack Paar a week on the "Tonight" show. He had as guests Lester Flatt, Earl Scruggs and the Foggy Mountain Boys.

They played their two latest releases and the audience almost brought the roof down with applause. Other such groups have been coming into fame—the Louvin Brothers, Bill Monroe and the Bluegrass Gentlemen.

Many colleges and universities have organized Folk Music clubs, which bring to campus artists in that field. Last year the University of Illinois sponsored Jimmy Driftwood, Flatt and Scruggs and other groups. Eastern brought Warren Elliott to campus. Those who heard him seemed to thoroughly enjoy the performance.

What are the reasons underlying the trend toward this type of music? Primarily, each of the songs is a ballad, which tells a simple story about an aspect of everyday life. Many of the ballads are mournful, such as the old favorite, "John Henry."

Folk and Country and Western music are enjoyable because one doesn't have to learn to like them. They seem to express basic human emotions and are easy for the listener to identify himself with.

Another reason for the increased popularity of this type of music is the poor quality of popular music at the present time. Gone from pop music are the old favorites such as Perry Como, Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra.

Such songs as "Let's Dance" sound as if the singer desperately needs speech correction. Other tunes have "profound" meaning such as the "Monster Mash."

Many of the Country and Western songs are tragic. The immortal Hank Williams' song "Wreck on the Highway" describes the death of his wife in an automobile accident. The Louvin Brothers have an album entitled "Tragic Songs Of Life," which contains "Silver Dagger," "In the Pines" and others.

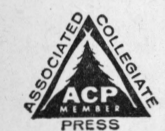

Although Folk Music varies slightly with Country and Western, they have a great deal in common. Usually the themes are comparable. A difference sometimes exists in the melody.

"Hillbilly," "hicks" or "backwoods"—call it what you wish, I like it!

Modern Art Show Maps New Realism

By Roger Lewis Hudson

The Fine Arts Center holds many wonderful and unusual sights. One of these is an exhibit of modern art which is located in the lobby of the Fine Arts Theatre.

This modern art is based on abstract realism and abstract expressionism. The idea is to achieve art beauty by breaking away from tradition of art construction and by this to allow the artist freedom of expression without being hampered by standard lines, forms and colors. One can not create beauty alone by common forms and subject matter. Beauty is created by color construction, form and mood through rhythmic movements and interplay of spaces.

Dear Sir,
It was stated in the last edition of the Eastern State News that someone sitting in the section reserved for the "Animals" displayed poor school spirit by his actions during the Alma Mater. This person is not a Sig Tau; furthermore he is not even a member of Eastern Illinois University.

One of the first lessons that a college student learns is the Post Hoc Fallacy. The main objective is to avoid this fallacy. As a student teacher and a near graduate, Mr. Wenger has failed one of the first lessons that a Freshman learns.

Whom did Mr. Wenger criticize next? He implied that the student body does not sing the Alma Mater and Fight Song because the words are not made available to them. Is it possible that Mr. Wenger could not find the words to the Alma Mater in his program? Cannot he remember that a seniority passed out the words to the Fight Song at the basketball games? Is it possible that this "verbal patriot" did not attend the

EIU Speech Department Gives One-Act About Mental Health

By Roger Lewis Hudson

The speech department and the Illinois Department of Mental Health presented a 35 minute one-act play entitled "The Picnic Basket" in the Fine Arts Theatre Sept. 30. The play was based on the problems of a rehabilitated mental patient returning to a job after being cut off from the rest of the world for several years.

The play starred Mike Genevose as Russell, the rehabilitated mental patient; James Wilhelm as Stanley; Keith Jones as Max; and Paul Main as Mr. Powell. Stage manager was Phil Bush and the play was directed by Jim Kirkham, graduate assistant in speech and dramatics. The play was under the supervision of E. Glendon Gabbard, associate professor of speech. The play takes place on a modernistic set. No makeup was used and the scenes were divided only by blackouts and light changes.

The movements of the characters were easily accomplished and their gestures, tonal inflection and diction were of the best quality.

Genevose gave a particularly good performance. He "felt" his part and seemed to be very much at ease and natural in the delivery of his lines.

The only inferior part of the production was the projection of lines. At times it was most difficult to hear the lines and some felt that either lines should have been given with more volume or sound equipment should have been used.

UCUN Meeting Slated To Be Held Monday

Republican Candidate Cites Stake Of Youth In '62 Election Issues

Asserting that there is a great opportunity for service to the state and nation by "getting into politics" and assuring his audience that an eager welcome awaits young people who will bring their vigor and enthusiasm into the ranks of the Republican party, Edward H. Jenison spoke Oct. 1 to a meeting of the Young Republican Club.

The Paris newspaper editor and Republican candidate for Congress in the new 23rd Illinois district said, "Young people have more at stake than any other age group in the issues to be decided in the election Nov. 6."

"You have a very personal concern in the fumbling of the Kennedy administration with foreign affairs where indecision and futility at the conference table have plunged global prestige and security to new low levels," Jenison said. He added, "You are the group upon whom the sacrifices of military service will fall if we fail to preserve the peace once won by men of courage who were your fathers or your older brothers."

"Not only is the threat to our security one of your prime concerns, but the squandering policies of a wasteful, swelling federal bureaucracy are equally a matter for your grave concern," Jenison said.

The Young Republican Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in Room 100 of Blair Hall.

Over Two-Thirds Of EIU Frosh Ranked In Top Half Of Class

Over 79 per cent of the freshmen who entered this fall came from the upper 50 per cent of their high school graduating classes, according to President Quincy Doudna.

This year 79.7 per cent came from the top half of their class as compared to 65.1 per cent last year. The percentage in 1960 was 68.1 and 61.4 in 1959.

The percentage of incoming freshmen from the lower 50 per cent of their class fell from 34.9 last year to 20.3 this year. Only 1.5 per cent came from the lower 30 per cent of their classes this year.

Following is the percentile rank in high school graduating classes and the percentage of freshmen entering this fall from each category:

Percentile	Percentage
90-99	14.4
80-89	14.6
70-79	17.6
60-69	18.3
50-59	14.8
40-49	12.5
30-39	6.3
20-29	.9
10-19	.4
0-9	.2

Doudna said the higher percentage from the upper half of high school graduating classes resulted from deferment of admission until winter or spring quarter of students in the lower one-third of graduating classes.

The president said that no matter how good a college program or faculty is, an institution of higher learning must "have high quality students."

Jack Blair, area administrator for the Commission, urged Coles County veterans to contact him at his Mattoon or Charleston office for further details.

Blair is in Mattoon at 309 South 21st St. from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. He is also in the Coles County Court House in Charleston from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each Thursday.

Smith Presents Piano Recital Of Salon And Chamber Music

By Roger Lewis Hudson

Catherine Anne Smith, associate professor of music, presented a piano recital in the Fine Arts Theatre Sept. 27. This program of chamber and salon music consisted of Beethoven's "Polonaise, in C Major, op. 89; Andante Favori in F Major; Sonata Appassionata, in F minor, op. 57"; and Claude Debussy's "Preludes, Book 1."

The "Sonata" and "Polonaise" were majestically played and felt by the pianist, but far above this were her superb fingering techniques, for her fingers appeared to fly over the keys. The changing moods of Beethoven's "Andante" brought a great moving feeling to her smooth flowing transitions.

The "Sonata Appassionata" was by far the most moving and best presented selection

EIU Marching Band Performs Alma Mater At All Football Games

Eastern's marching band will play and sing the Alma Mater at every football game, according to George Westcott, band director.

"It's very much my desire that the entire student body learn both the words and the melody so they can sing along," said Westcott.

Words to the Alma Mater are printed on the center pages of the football programs.

Westcott said one of the most impressive things at a big university is to hear its band play the Alma Mater and the entire student body sing it. "I think it should also be done here," Westcott said.

Pall Mall Presents - GIRL WATCHER'S GUIDE

BATON-TWIRLING HIGH-STEPPER

CAMPUS TYPE I

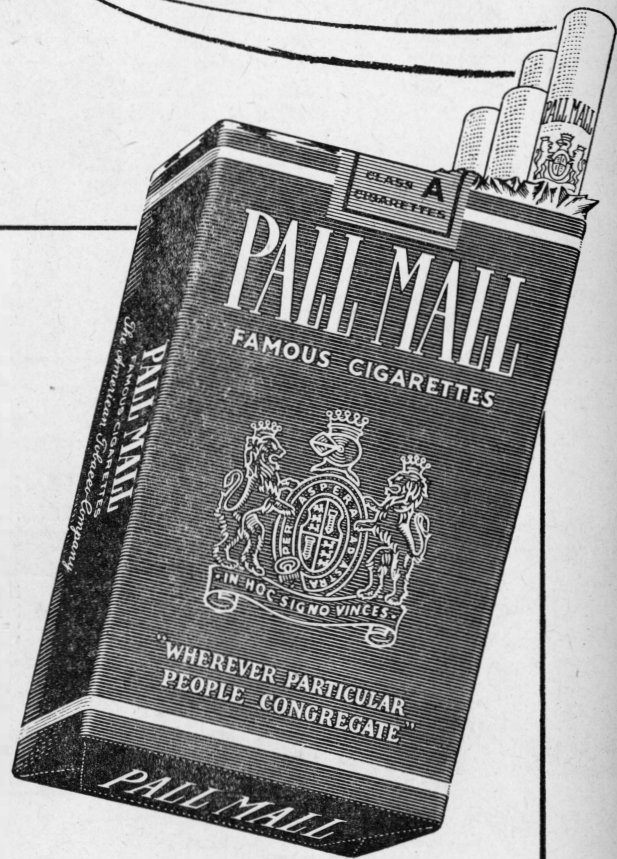

The High-Stepper is an ideal choice for Campus Type #1 for two reasons. First, she is a fairly common species—and second, she is easy to identify.

Just as the bird-watching beginner should concentrate on the Robin, Sparrow and Cardinal before moving on to more exotic species, the girl watching beginner should master the observation and identification of types such as the High-Stepper before progressing to rarer (and usually more difficult to identify) types.

As in all fine arts, the mastery of fundamentals is the key to girl watching success. This mastery of fundamentals is just as important in the art of cigarette making. Taste Pall Mall and see what we mean!

Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste!

So smooth, so satisfying, so downright smokeable!

Tree Inspection

Although fall has not yet arrived, Eastern's trees may soon be devoid of foliage as botany students hurry to collect leaves. The leaves will be identified, pressed and mounted in notebooks as part of class requirements.

Just who has more school spirit than the Greek organizations? It certainly is not the independents, even though they are almost three times as large as all the Greek organizations.

Mr. Jon Woods, Editor
Eastern State News
Eastern Illinois University
Charleston, Illinois

Dear Sir,

First of all I should like to thank the parties responsible for printing the lyrics for the Alma Mater in the program for the EIU-ISNU football game. Also, my thanks should include the editor of this paper for publishing both the lyrics for the Alma Mater and the EIU fight song.

However, I should like to emphatically impress upon all concerned that my request for this printing was not just for my own benefit but for the benefit of the entire student body. I do not consider said printing as a "gift" for me but as a much needed impetus for the betterment of school spirit at Eastern.

Thank you again for your cooperation.

Very truly yours,
John W. Wenger

Senate Discusses Who's Who Election

Eaton said one of the "important parts of college life is developing leaders."

"There are many people on this campus with leadership potential who never get a chance to use it," he pointed out.

The proposal was tabled for one week to give senators the opportunity to discuss the proposal with their groups.

In other business, the Senate established a committee to study possible avenues of providing transportation to out of town athletic contests.

Several senators expressed the belief that the cost of bus transportation to the games is prohibitive.

Senator John Egan recommended that some type of car pool arrangement be established so students could obtain rides to the games.

General agreement was expressed to the idea.

The Senate will meet at 6:30 p.m. today in the Senate Room of the University Union to take up matters hanging fire from the last meeting.

HOW ABOUT A NEW SUIT FOR HOMECOMING?
OPEN FRIDAY NIGHTS

Unbeaten Northern To Host EIU Panther

Hit Road Following 28-0 Loss

Following a 28-0 loss to Bradley University, the Panthers again take to the road to be the guests of unbeaten Northern.

It will be the 30th meeting between the two schools in 60 years. Last year the two teams battled to a 20-20 tie in Eastern's Homecoming game.

Saturday the Panthers will be playing in Northern's Homecoming game.

The Panthers have a 9-19-1 record with NIU. The last time the Huskies bowed to EIU was in 1956, 13-6.

Coach Ralph Kohl will be looking for his first NIU defeat since becoming head coach in 1957.

Northern has no Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference record. Saturday's game will be their first conference game. Eastern takes a 0-1 IIAC record into the game.

Northern allowed only eight points to be scored against it in its first three contests. NIU rolled up 81 points against the opponents.

Whitewater (Wis.) State fell 17-0. Sophomore halfback Jack Dean scored two touchdowns for NIU. Freshman Terry Henigan kicked the two extra points and a field goal.

Winona (Minn.) State was the second NIU victim. Northern blanked them 27-0. Northeast Missouri State was dumped as Northern trounced them 37-8.

Northern defeated Omaha University, 13-7, last Saturday. Thus it has allowed a total of 15 points to be scored, while scoring 109 points against its opponents.

Harriers Win Two; Suffer One Defeat

Eastern's cross country team won two and dropped one in dual meet competition during the past week.

With mainstays Don McMorris and Marvin Honn placing 2nd and 3rd respectively, the Panther harriers whipped Indiana State 23 to 34 last Wednesday.

Individual winner was Larry Bridges of the Sycamores with a time of 16:56.1. Behind McMorris and Honn in 4th was Bruce Meyer of Indiana State. Jim Quinlan, Joe Vitton and Jim Cunningham placed 5th through 7th to complete the Panther scoring.

In the double dual Saturday, Eastern beat Illinois State, 20-43, but lost to Loyola of Chicago, 19-41. Individual honors went to Tom O'Hara of Loyola with a time of 16:13 on the 3.25 mile course.

In the meet with Normal, Mike Mittlestadt of the Redbirds led the way with a 16:42 clocking. Eastern grabbed the next five places with Don McMorris and Jim Cunningham placing 2nd and 3rd. Jim Quinlan, Joe Vitton and Ron Dawkins completed the Panther scoring.

The Panthers were no match for the strong Loyola team. Led by standout Tom O'Hara, Loyola captured five of the top seven places. Don McMorris and Jim Cunningham of the Panthers placed 4th and 5th, respectively.

Saturday the harriers travel to Peoria for a meet with Bradley. The Panthers go into the meet with a 2-2 record in dual competition.

Eastern, on the other hand, has allowed 34 points to be scored against it in three games, while collecting only 13 points.

EIU takes an unimpressive 1-2 overall record into the contest. Northern is 4-0 for the season.

Bradley U. Romps Over Eastern, 28-0

Scoring 15 points in the first quarter, Bradley University's Braves defeated EIU, 28-0. The victors also scored touchdowns in the second and third quarters.

Tony Jannotta passed twice to end Bill Marcordes and once to end Leonard Harris for touchdowns. The first score came on a one yard run by halfback John Chandler.

Neither Bradley nor Eastern could move the ball in its first series of plays. When Bradley got the ball the second time, it gained three first downs and the ball was Bradley's on EIU's three yard line.

Eastern's defense held them for three downs and a penalty against Bradley put the ball on the seven yard line.

Jannotta ran it back to the one yard line. Chandler went over and Jannotta scampered over the line for a two-point conversion.

Butler received the kickoff and ran the ball to the 29 yard line. The ball was fumbled and Barry Allen recovered for Bradley.

Four plays later Jannotta completed a 33-yard pass for the score. Bob Caress kicked the PAT.

When the second quarter began, EIU was forced to punt. Bradley fumbled and Rich Randle recovered. The Panthers were held by the strong Bradley defense and Bradley took over the ball on the 48 yard line.

Two first downs and an 18-yard pass later, the score stood 21-0 in favor of Bradley. Caress' conversion attempt was blocked by Bill Hamilton.

Rod Butler intercepted a Bradley pass on the 50. Time ran out as EIU advanced to the 35 yard line.

During the third quarter neither team could make yardage. With less than a minute and one-half remaining in the quarter Jannotta passed from the 37 yard line to Harris in the end zone.

The Panthers gained 90 yards on the ground and 48 yards on passes.

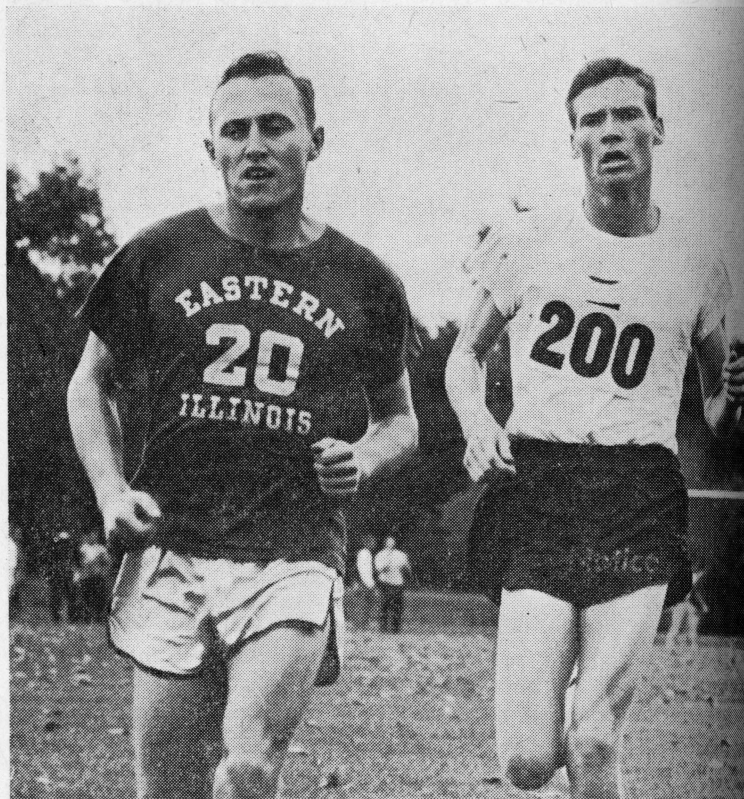

Bradley gained 150 yards in the air and 176 rushing.

Ron Ellett completed five of 10 passes for 17 yards. Butler completed two of 11 and Dick Parker completed one of three.

Ellett gained 34 yards in 13 rushing attempts. Mool gained 19 yards on four attempts.

Rod Butler and Bob Varga picked up a total of 27 yards. Art Thompson, Bobby White, Jim Lynch, Bill Hamilton, Dick Portee and Rich Hopek netted 10 yards on a total of 11 attempts.

Leading Loser

Don McMorris was leading the cross country contest with Indiana State for the first two miles. Larry Bridges, number 200, came in first for the Indiana State harriers. He finished in 16:56.1.

Michigan, Normal Lead IIAC Standings

Central Michigan defeated Western, 17-8, to move into a conference tie with Illinois State Normal. The CMU-WIU game was the conference contest played last weekend.

Just Like Varsity

Jack Kerchner carries the ball for the Sig Tau intramural team. In a close contest, Sig Tau defeated TKE 6-0.

HAPPINESS CAN'T BUY MONEY

Can education bring happiness?

This is a question that in recent years has caused much lively debate and several hundred stabbings among American college professors. Some contend that if a student's intellect is sufficiently aroused, happiness will automatically follow. Others say that to concentrate on the intellect and ignore the rest of the personality can only lead to misery.

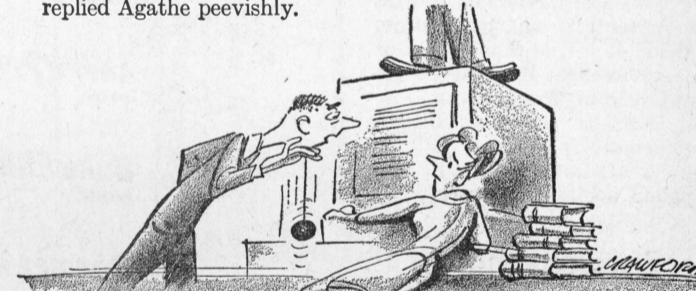

I myself favor the second view, and I offer in evidence the well-known case of Agathe Fusco.

Agathe, a forestry major, never got anything less than a straight "A", was awarded her B.T. (Bachelor of Trees) in only two years, her M.S.B. (Master of Sap and Bark) in only three, and her D.B.C. (Doctor of Blight and Cutworms) in only four.

Academic glory was hers. Her intellect was the envy of every intellect fan on campus. But was she happy? The answer, alas, was no. Agathe—she knew not why—was miserable, so miserable, in fact, that one day while walking across campus, she was suddenly so overcome with melancholy that she flung herself, weeping, upon the statue of the Founder.

By and by a liberal arts major named R. Twinkle Plenty came by with his yoyo. He noted Agathe's condition. "How come you're so unhappy, hey?" said R. Twinkle.

"Suppose you tell me, you dumb old liberal arts major," replied Agathe peevishly.

"All right, I will," said R. Twinkle. "You are unhappy for two reasons. First, because you have been so busy stuffing your intellect that you have gone and starved your psyche. I've got nothing against learning, mind you, but a person oughtn't to neglect the pleasant, gentle amenities of life—the fun things. Have you, for instance, ever been to a dance?"

Agathe shook her head. "Have you ever watched a sunset? Written a poem? Smoked a Marlboro Cigarette?"

Agathe shook her head. "Well, we'll fix that right now!" said R. Twinkle and gave her a Marlboro and struck a match.

She puffed, and then for the first time in twelve or fifteen years, she smiled. "Wow!" she cried. "Marlboros are a fun thing! What flavor! What filter! What pack or box! What a lot to like! From now on I will smoke Marlboros, and never have another unhappy day!"

"Hold!" said R. Twinkle. "Marlboros alone will not solve your problem—only half of it. Remember I said there were two things making you unhappy?"

"Oh, yeah," said Agathe. "What's the other one?"

"How long have you had that bear trap on your foot?" said R. Twinkle.

"I stepped on it during a field trip in my freshman year," said Agathe. "I keep meaning to have it taken off."

"Allow me," said R. Twinkle and removed it.

"Land sakes, what a relief!" said Agathe, now totally happy, and took R. Twinkle's hand and led him to a Marlboro vendor's and then to a justice of the peace.

Today Agathe is a perfectly fulfilled woman, both intellectually and personalitywise. She lives in a darling split-level house with R. Twinkle and their 17 children, and she still keeps busy in the forestry game. Only last month, in fact, she became Consultant on Sawdust to the American Butchers Guild, she was named an Honorary Sequoia by the park commissioner of Las Vegas, and she published a best-selling book called I was a Slippery Elm for the FBI.

The makers of Marlboro are pleased that Agathe is finally out of the woods—and so will you be if your goal is smoking pleasure. Just try a Marlboro.

Men--Don't Put Off That Question!
Ask Now For Homecoming Dates

About Campus

By Luanne Kuzlik

Probably the biggest question in many a coed's mind nowadays is "Will I be asked to Homecoming?" With one of the year's major events just two weeks away it's no wonder that the girls are concerned.

It seems to be a trend on campus for the fellows to ask the girls two or three days before the occasion. True, the girls will likely accept—that is, if by this time, they haven't been asked already. But let me assure you that in such cases, the coeds really have to scramble to get things ready.

After receiving an invitation, if she's lucky enough, the first thing she must decide is what to wear. Even though she has an idea of the fashions worn, she must choose from her wardrobe what would be the most appropriate for the various Homecoming events.

I know you guys think it trivial, but to us it's important and worth the effort. Our main objective is to make you happy that you asked us and not someone else and the first way to accomplish this is by looking as attractive as possible.

There are other reasons why you should make a date further in advance. Certainly there are some definite preparations which you must handle. Obtaining the tickets and traditional mum corsage and securing a means of transportation, if you don't have a car of your own, are but a few.

Courtesy demands that a date for an event such as this be made more than several days in advance.

However, human nature has the tendency of rebelling against anything that is demanded of it. Therefore, I'll say forget courtesy in this respect, but remember it is only fair to yourself and the person you wish to ask, to make early preparations.

For this special event, we girls want to look extra-special and I'm sure fellows appreciate this attitude. But in order to accomplish this end, we need "time" and only you men can give us that.

Art Fraternity Elects
Weber New President

Joe Weber, junior art major from Teutopolis, was elected president of Eastern's Chi Chapter of the Kappa Pi, honorary fraternity in art for the coming year.

Other officers are John Deyoe, junior art major from Champaign, vice-president; Joy Schelling, junior art major from Caseyville, secretary; Linda Hance, junior art major from Charleston, treasurer; and Paula Watkins, junior art major from Newton, historian.

Four Choral Groups To Perform For IEA

Four Eastern choral organizations will sing Friday at the Illinois Education Association division meeting. The meeting will be held here.

The organizations are the Cecilia Singers directed by June Johnson, instructor of music; the Men's Glee Club directed by J. Robert Pence, assistant professor of music; the Chorale directed by John Maharg, instructor of music; and the Chamber Singers also directed by Maharg.

Registration Starts
Thurs.: Manbeck

Students may start pre-registration procedures for winter quarter tomorrow, according to Maurice Manbeck, assistant dean, registration and records.

Blank preferred schedule cards and class schedule sheets will be available in the Records Office, Manbeck said. Students must complete these preferred schedule cards and return them to the Records Office by Oct. 26.

Class cards will be reserved for students in the order in which they return their preferred schedule cards and according to classification, the assistant dean said.

Class cards will be pulled by the Records Office Oct. 29-Nov. 9.

Students may sign class cards and complete schedule cards Nov. 12, 13 and 14 in Old Aud.

Fees for students completing pre-registration must be paid during the final examination period. Times will be scheduled for payment of fees on Nov. 16, 19 and 20.

Pre-registration is voluntary and only open to students in good standing. Students on probation or final probation should not fill out preferred schedule cards until the Nov. 27 registration, said Manbeck.

No changes will be made in the preferred schedules once they are turned in, Manbeck said. He encouraged students to give careful thought and planning to the schedules for this reason.

Students should attach an envelope to the preferred schedule cards when they are returned to the Records Office. The envelope should bear the student's name, student number and type of fees to be paid for winter quarter registration.

Students starting pre-registration must finish it to complete registration early, Manbeck said.

Students who do not pre-register should report Nov. 27 for winter quarter registration.

He added that the U.S. marshals should be blamed for firing tear gas shells into the crowd before there was any reason to do so.
