ARC 2005-001

1886-1999

Intro

The collection is composed of biographical materials, proceedings, correspondence, subject files, reports, literary productions, legal documents, financial documents, scrapbook materials, maps, charts, lists, printed material, photographic material, and archaeological realia from Dayton's travels to the Holy Lands. The minutes in proceedings, correspondence, subject files, scrapbook and printed materials include Houghton College, Marion College, and Wesley Biblical Seminary. The legal documents primarily involve contracts with educational institutions and book publishing companies.

The collection was processed by Kelly Hedgecock in the Spring of 2005. The finding aid was prepared by Kelly Hedgecock in May 2005.

Biographical Sketch

Wilber Thomas Dayton was born October 29, 1916 in New York. He married Donna Fisher and had four children. After his wife's death in 1989, Dayton married Edna Dayton.

Dayton was a scholar of New Testament studies, especially focusing on Greek translation and individuals books in the New Testament. In his academic career, Dayton was a professor and dean at Marion College (1948-1957, 1971-1972), a professor and founder of the Wesleyan Seminary Foundation at Asbury Theological Seminary (1957-1970), president of Houghton College (1972-1976), and professor and vice-president at Wesley Biblical Seminary (1976-1987). Dayton was also a guest lecturer at bible colleges and seminaries throughout the world.

As a scholar, Dayton contributed articles and biblical studies on the New Testament to various magazines and bible studies. He also contributed to the New International Version translation, Wesleyan Commentaries, and the Wesley Bible. He was also a member of the Institute of Christian Studies, the International Council on Biblical Inerrancy, the Evangelical Theological Society, and the National Association of Evangelicals. As well, Dayton participated in the first Lausanne International Congress on Evangelism.
