FOUNDATIONS OF LEADERSHIP

CL 611XL - Spring 2008

Syllabus-February Revised Syllabus
Asbury Theological Seminary

February 11 to May 23, 2008

Professor: Charlotte Bates, Ph.D.
Email: char_bates@asburyseminary.edu
Minimum enrollment of 10 students

3 credits
No prerequisites

Course Purpose:

To address classic and current realities related to leadership.

Course Description:

This course is designed to introduce students to the historical development of the leadership discipline. Special attention will be given to the theoretical constructs that under-gird the major leadership paradigms beginning with the Great Man Era and ending with the Age of Complexity. This course will be sensitive to the interplay between secular management theory and its usefulness to a Christian context.

Course Rationale:

This course provides the opportunity for a person to understand and expand their leadership effectiveness.

Relationship to Asbury Seminary Mission:

Asbury Seminary exists to maintain a multid denominational, multicultural community that pursues sound learning and vital piety, nurtures men and women called of God for servant leadership, encourages its members to live out the witness of a Spirit-filled life formed by the authority of Scripture, and prepares women and men for prophetic ministries of redemption and renewal. The intent of the course is to enable people to improve their personal effectiveness as Christian leaders for the sake of the Kingdom in the light of leadership theory.

Course Learning Objectives:

Recognizing our mutual dependence upon God and the diligent effort required by professor and students, we will work together for learners to achieve in the following areas:

Cognitive

- To articulate the most effective ways to attain proficiency in the art and practice of leadership
- To employ classic leadership theory and the basic disciplines for Christian leadership development
- To address selected organizational change processes and the inherent conflicts accompanying change

Affective

- To appreciate the relevance of leadership theory for the development and growth of the church
- To value the mentor role in developing as leaders
- To be committed to effectiveness in developing leadership

Skills

- To demonstrate the ability to develop others in leadership
- To facilitate the implementation of a leadership development program

5	Challenges in Leadership		Mentoring Report Three Due: May 13 A Leadership Issue Due: May 20

Project #1: Readings & Analyses

Read and interact with the required reading sources listed plus 25 pages of reading related to cross-cultural or multicultural factors in leadership. Analyze each reading and respond in a one to three page summary itemizing the following:

1. Bibliographic Data
2. Number of pages read
3. Purpose of the Author
4. Highlights and/or Notable Quotations
5. Critical Commentary

Summarize the key thoughts of each reading or book in one to two paragraphs. Then give a one to two paragraph critical commentary which moves beyond a descriptive summary of what is read. The critique is to be an analysis of the benefits or weaknesses in the reading, areas of agreement or disagreement, suggestions for improvement or other considerations.

DUE: See dates in the chart above. A grade will be given for each module group of readings!

Project #2: Mentoring Journal

Choose a mature leader as a Mentor who is willing to dialogue and journey with you through this course. Your Mentor may be an experienced Peer Mentor or someone else with significant leadership skill and spiritual insight. The Mentor needs to be able to speak truth into your life. Regardless of one's age and experience, open interaction and accountability is important for those in leadership.

Fulfill the designated personal responses under the Mentoring Journal areas, reflecting on interactions with your chosen Mentor. Reflect on the implications of the information covered and also ways that you can facilitate others toward a growing understanding of God's work in our world. Meet with a Mentor at least once during your work on every other lesson to interact on key thoughts and questions. Document as instructed on your learning from interaction with your Mentor.

You must have met with your Mentor at least six times for about one hour each time. Mentoring Report One documents who your Mentor will be. Before Mentoring Report Two, decide in connection with your Mentor an area of leadership in which you need to develop. Document this in less than one page and post with this second report. In addition, post your Mentoring Journal that is due at this point.

By Mentoring Report Three, you need to do a two to three page report on your progress on the chosen issue as well as how you expect to proceed in the future. The remainder of your Mentoring Journal must also be submitted. Your Mentor needs to send an email directly to the professor with a one page summary of his or her experience with you in the mentoring process.

DUE: Mentoring Report One – February 26, 2008
Mentoring Report Two – March 25, 2008
Mentoring Report Three – May 13, 2008

Project #3: Leadership in a Cross-Cultural Team

Write a four to six page paper addressing factors related to how leadership needs to function when several different ethnic cultures are represented on a team. Consideration needs to focus on the distinctive aspects that demand sensitivity and require deliberation and change in order to maximize team effectiveness. You may use an actual cross-cultural case study if you wish. Regardless, demonstrate appropriate research in this focused paper.

DUE: April 29, 2008

Project #4: A Leadership Issue

In the light of principles addressed in the course plus further research, do a 10 to 12 page paper developing a leadership issue that will make a difference for the glory of our Lord in a present or potential context. Briefly, describe the selected issue, a ministry/organization and the prevailing leadership paradigm/s operative currently in about a half a page. Then research and suggest applications to address the chosen issue. Specify how you or leadership should lead through the proposed changes (both personally and corporately). Then delineate the steps that should be taken in managing conflicts that could arise. Address such issues as assumptions you are making, communication factors, leadership development, evaluation, renewal, etc. Project a timeline for implementation if appropriate. A minimum of eight bibliographic resources is required. Note the paper rubric below to guide your work.

DUE: May 20, 2007

Project #5: Class Participation and Reflection

Each student will be evaluated on the level of their class participation as well as the quality and appropriateness of class postings. This class is interactive in nature. The intent of this course includes not only expanding your grasp of leadership. An additional aim is that your practice of leadership will continue to be transformed for the glory of our Lord. Therefore, you will be asked to reflect on your own learning and share some of those growth opportunities within the class. You will also be invited to interact with the insights of others in the class.

Course Grading:

All written assignments must be typed in proper manuscript form according to the American Psychological Association style guide or MLA Handbook and include a title page. Students will be evaluated on the basis of clarity of expression (including English structure), quality of content, analysis, creativity, bibliography, and integration with personal and professional/ministry life.

Grading will be based on the criteria found in the ATS Catalog. Grade increments (+/-) fall within the standards below.

A = Exceptional work: surpassing, markedly outstanding achievement of course objectives

B = Good work: strong, significant achievement of course objectives

C = Acceptable work: basic, essential achievement of course objectives

D = Marginal work: inadequate, minimal achievement of course objectives

F = Unacceptable work: failure to achieve course objectives

Rubric for Papers:

Exceptional: Clear, precise and creative writing that interacts both with the course material and outside sources (ten or more outside citations) and experiences. Shows unusual integration and application of the course to one's own development. Adheres to accepted guidelines for form and style. Outstanding model of theological reflection and critical thinking.

Good: Strong writing that interacts with the course material and draws upon life experiences. Show genuine points of application of the course to one's own development with some use of outside sources. Strong form and style. Impressive theological reflection and critical thinking.

Acceptable: Average writing that interacts with the course material and occasional links to life experiences. Few, if any, outside sources. Little application to one's own development. Generally consistent form and style. Moderate theological reflection and critical thinking.

Course Evaluation:

Evaluation of the course will be divided as follows:

Project #1: Readings	15%
Project #2: Mentoring Project	25%
Plus Three Mentoring Reports
Project #3: Leadership in a CC Team	15%
Project #4: Leadership Issue	25%
Project #5: Participation	20%
TOTAL	100%
