CO603 Orientation to Christian Approaches to Diagnosis and Treatment Planning
Spring 2002
Carol B. Saenger, M.S., C.P.C., Adjunct Professor

Maximum Enrollment: 30

One Hour Credit

Prerequisites: PM 642 and MA Counseling Status

In order to function as a competent clinician, one must develop competence in diagnosing and effectively treating a variety of problems with which they are confronted. In order to do this one must be thoroughly familiar with a variety of treatment modalities. This course is designed to provide students with an introduction to assessment, clinical diagnosis and treatment planning. Students will have an opportunity to become acquainted with material relevant to treatment issues both from a Christian historical perspective and current knowledge.

As a result of completing this course, students shall:

1. Become familiar with principles for applying Christian thought to the field of counseling.
2. Learn how to conceptualize cases from various theoretical perspectives.
3. Develop the ability to think like a clinician using relevant diagnostic information.
4. Value a collegial process in the development of treatment plans.
5. Learn how to develop and implement treatment plans including cultivating the ability to assess progress and formulate timelines.
6. Learn the value of and how to keep effective treatment records.
7. Understand how to effectively utilize supervision to facilitate quality treatment.
8. Understand the role of psychotropic medications and mood altering chemicals in the treatment of mental and emotional disorders.
9. Understand how to make appropriate referrals.

Requirements

1. Active participation in class sessions. Class participation will compose fifteen percent (15%) of the grade.
2. Reading Requirements. Additional reading should amount to 400 pages, including the texts. Your class participation will reflect your reading and will be included in the 15% of your grade. At the end of the semester (May 16, 02), you will be required to submit a list of books, articles, etc. with the pages you have read.
3. Punctual class attendance is required. Students should limit their absences to emergency cases such as illness, family emergencies, etc. If you should have to be absent, please notify the professor either through e-mail (Carol_Saenger@asburyseminary.edu or cbsaenger@aol.com) or call (502)875-8853. Make up assignments will be assigned for missed classes.
4. Group presentation. Students shall be assigned to a group whose task shall be to investigate and make a class presentation on some Christian figure like Wesley, Luther, Augustine, and others. This presentation shall include the subject's views on persons, emotional disorders and how those views fit with the Christian faith. Students shall also glean the material for implications relative to treatment. Twenty-five percent (25%) of the student's grade will be given for the group presentation.
5. Integration Paper. Students shall write an 8-10 page paper that lays out their view of the integration of counseling and theology. The paper should include relevant insights gained from class presentations, lectures, etc. The paper will account for sixty percent (60%) of the student's grade. This paper will be due on the last class day May 16, 2002.
