

Preliminary Program
56th Annual Meeting

Mobility, Migration and Flows

Baltimore Marriott Waterfront Hotel, Baltimore, MD
November 21-24, 2013

Program Committee Chairs:

Jamie Monson, Macalester College

Dianna Shandy, Macalester College

Local Arrangements Committee Chairs:

Paul Landau, University of Maryland

Pier Larson, Johns Hopkins University

Program Theme

The theme of this year's Annual Meeting is Mobility, Migration and Flows. The theme statement read as follows:

On a geographically diverse continent, Africanists examine the multi-directional movement of people, things, capital, and ideas at many levels. We study not only the movements of people within the Global South and between the Global South and the Global North, but also the borders and the institutions created to police them, in relation to war, environmental change, and outside influence. We look at the transport of materials from one space to another by train, plane, and vehicle across mountains, deserts, lakes, and oceans. Increasingly we are discussing the fluid crossings of boundaries of identity in Africa, be they of religion, ethnicity, gender, language, or sexuality. In our era of social media and technology, we are examining the influence of mass media on the mobility of ideas, symbols, and material objects as well as their commoditization – both within Africa and between Africa and other continents. We look at the ways in which movement can create, sustain and reconfigure human relationships. Recent changes in governments prompt us to think about movement of power and privilege within and outside of state institutions.

All of this fluidity and movement comes with its antagonist obstruction. We see many impediments to physical movement of persons in the form of immigration and border control. The intention of refugee camps and detention facilities is to wall one population from another. Not only physical but also economic, social and cultural spaces within Africa are segregated. There are steep challenges in navigating cultural and social impediments to mobility in many African countries based on the identities mentioned above.

We invite proposals to the 56th ASA Annual Meeting to reflect on how we as researchers study a continent with multiple layers of mobility as well as evident obstruction. The conversation around these issues needs to ask questions about fluidity and obstruction as concepts in African society and culture that are rooted in historical contexts. Then we can begin to unpack the areas of movement and blockages of people, place, and power that are growing so prominent in African Studies. This situation calls for thinking that is itself mobile, and that can engage and transform existing categories.

Presidential Lecture

Friday, November 22, 12:00 pm-1:00 pm

Each year, the President of the African Studies Association gives a lecture on the state of African studies and the Association. This year, President Abdi Samatar will deliver the lecture, "Scholarship, Politics, and the Fate of the Somali People." President Samatar is Professor of Geography at the University of Minnesota and Research Fellow at the University of Pretoria. Samatar served as Chair of the Department of Geography at the University of Minnesota. He is the author of An African Miracle, which was a finalist for the Herskovits Award, and three other books. He is also the author of over sixty articles, chapters, and essays. His research spans two African Regions: East and South.

African Studies Review* Distinguished Lecture

Friday, November 22, 1:15 pm-2:15 pm

The African Studies Review together with the ASA Board launched a distinguished lecture in 2011 featuring state of the art research in African Studies. This year, Iris Berger will be delivering the African Studies Review Distinguished Lecture on "One Big Gender Fight? Women and Social Movements in Twentieth-Century Africa." Iris Berger, Vincent O'Leary Professor of History at the University at Albany, State University of New York, received her Ph.D. in African history from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Her numerous publications include the award-winning Religion and Resistance: East African Kingdoms in the Precolonial Period; Women and Class in Africa, ed. with Claire Robertson; Threads of Solidarity: Women in South African Industry, 1900-1980; Women in Sub-Saharan Africa: Restoring Women to History, with E. Frances White; and South Africa in World History. She has served as President of the African Studies Association, as Vice President for Research of the American Historical Association and as an editor of the Journal of African History. She has also been a Board Member of the Social Science Research Council and the ASA delegate to the American Council of Learned Societies. She has also served as the Director of the Institute for Research on Women and Chair of the History Department at the University at Albany. She has received research funding from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Social Science Research Council, and the Rockefeller Foundation and was a recipient of the Distinguished Africanist Award from the New York African Studies Association.

Mentoring Forum: Dissertation Project Workshop

Friday, November 22, 4:45 pm-6:30 pm

Organizer: Gregory Maddox, Texas Southern University, Maddox_GH@tsu.edu

Purpose: The ASA Mentoring Workshop is designed to help graduate students strengthen their dissertation projects and improve their chances of funding, as well as to facilitate interdisciplinary networking among graduate students and faculty in African Studies. The Workshop will provide mentoring to graduate students at all stages whose doctoral projects are related to Africa. There will be opportunities for discussion and feedback with faculty mentors and fellow graduate students from a range of institutions and disciplines, and drawing on various regional and thematic interests and expertise. The Workshop aims to facilitate research and create support networks across the disciplines in African Studies.

To Reserve Your Spot: Please send an email to the organizer with: (1) a 250-500 word abstract of your research interests and plans; and the following information: (2) your stage in the thesis/dissertation process; (3) your contact information, department, and institution; and (4) any particular issues you would like the Workshop to address. Participation in the Workshop is free with your ASA conference registration.

Workshop Registration Deadline: August 15, 2013

Eligibility: The Workshop is open to graduate students at all stages. Projects linking the African continent and diasporas, and comparative projects with a significant African component are welcome. Students at institutions that do not have African Studies Programs are strongly encouraged to participate.

Past ASA Board Presidents' Dinner

Friday, November 22, 8:00 pm

Past ASA Board presidents will be invited to a dinner held in their honor.

Health and Medicine Workshop: Grant Writing

Saturday, November 23, 8:00 am-11:45 am

Health and Medicine Workshop: New Research Directions

Saturday, November 23, 2:45 pm-6:30 pm

We are pleased to announce a workshop to assist younger generations in developing critical research approaches that can be used to inform and to problematize public health research, policies, and programming in Africa. We also will use the workshop as a starting point to push the science of public health interventions in new directions, ones that are more inclusive of social science and humanities approaches that better integrate country-level civil society concerns and local health needs. We seek to identify strategies for mobilizing the knowledge and expertise of researchers in African studies that can inform public health research, policy, and programming in Africa. Pre-registration is required by October 15, 2013. You can register online at the ASA website.

Teacher's Workshop
Saturday, November 23

The Outreach Council coordinates this annual program for K-12 educators. Educators have the opportunity to participate in various panels and receive materials and resources for teaching about Africa.

"Publish That Article: A Workshop Featuring Editors of African Studies Journals"
Saturday, November 23, 10:00 am-11:45 am

Organized as an information session for scholars seeking to publish their work, the editors of leading African journals will make brief formal presentations on scholarship, substance, and writing guidelines as well as the target audience for the "ideal" manuscript submission to their journal, how the review process works, what a successful submission looks like and other guidelines for potential authors. Following the formal presentations there will be an open, informal question and answer period where attendees/potential authors may speak individually with journal editors.

Bashorun M.K.O. Abiola Lecture
Saturday, November 23, 1:15 pm-2:45 pm

The Bashorun M.K.O. Abiola Lecture was established in 1992 with a generous grant from the Honorable Bashorun M.K.O. Abiola to provide for a lecture by a senior African scholar selected by the ASA Board of Directors. This year the Abiola Lecturer is Salah Hassan, Goldwin Smith Professor, Cornell University. His talk is entitled, "Rethinking Cosmopolitanism: Is 'Afropolitan' the Answer?" Hassan is the Goldwin Smith Professor and Director of the Institute for Comparative Modernities (ICM), and Professor of African and African Diaspora Art History and Visual Culture in the Africana Studies and Research Center, and the Department of History of Art and Visual Studies, Cornell University. He is also a curator and art critic. He is editor of Nka: Journal of Contemporary African Art, and consulting editor for Atlantica and Journal of Curatorial Studies. He authored, edited and co-edited several books including Ibrahim El Salahi: A Visionary Modernist (2012); Darfur and the Crisis of Governance: A Critical Reader (2009); Diaspora, Memory, Place (2008); Unpacking Europe (2001); Authentic/Ex-Centric (2001); Gendered Visions (1997); Art and Islamic Literacy among the Hausa of Northern Nigeria (1992); and guest edited a special issue of (SAQ) South Atlantic Quarterly on African Modernism (2010). He has contributed essays to journals, anthologies and exhibition catalogues of contemporary art. He has curated several international exhibitions including at the 49th Venice Biennale in 2001, and the Dakar Biennale in 2004. He is the recipient of several fellowships, such as the J. Paul Getty Postdoctoral Fellowship, as well as major grants from the Ford, Rockefeller, Andy Warhol and Prince Claus Fund foundations.

Film Screenings

Kenneth W. Harrow, Distinguished Professor of English at Michigan State University (harrow@msu.edu), and film review editor of African Studies Review, has kindly agreed to organize a series of film screenings at the ASA Annual Meeting. ASA Annual Meeting registrants will also be able to view the latest documentaries, feature films, and shorts from and about African upon request at the Video Marketplace, located in the Exhibit Hall during Exhibit Hall hours. To submit requests for screenings, please fill out this form.

This year we are featuring two major African films, plus one exciting new short. The two feature films represent the work of recent award-winning Anglophonic and Francophonic filmmakers. They are among the most important, moving, highly praised films of the year. The African Studies Association is excited to announce that these film screenings are co-sponsored by African Film Festival New York (www.africanfilmny.org).

Alain Gomis's TEY won the best film award in FESPACO. Here is a synopsis:

"In TEY, director Alain Gomis takes a well-worn topic in Senegalese cinema and turns it on its head: unlike other films which choose to focus on emigration and neo-colonialism, Gomis's work tells the story of a man who leaves America to return to the land of his birth. At first Satché's fellow-Senegalese accompany him lovingly and treat him almost as if he were a saint, but as the day continues Satché discovers how malicious and greedy they can be. Several of the romantic memories he harbored from a distance turn out to be banal when he is face to face with them; nonetheless Satché's encounter with this reality manages to bring him peace."

The showing will also feature the director, Alain Gomis, who will discuss the film after the screening and respond to questions. Jane Bryce will introduce Gomis and moderate the discussion after the showing.

The second feature film is Judy Kibinge's SOMETHING NECESSARY.

It is "an intimate moment in the lives of Anne and Joseph. A woman struggling to rebuild her life after the civil unrest that swept Kenya after the 2007 elections claiming the life of her husband and the health of her son, leaving her home on an isolated farm in the Kenyan countryside in ruins. She now has nothing but her resolve to rebuild her life. A young troubled gang member who participated in the countrywide violence is drawn to Anne and her farm, seemingly in search of redemption. Both, Joseph and Anne need something that only the other can give to allow them to shed the painful memories of their past and move on."

Ms. Kibinge says: "I hope there might be a chance to speak about the film, which was a very bold one to make, as it was set in 2007/8 when Kenya had its post-election violence, and screened in 2013 just a month before the next elections. It was very topical, delving into the heart of the crisis by telling the story of a victim parallel to that of her attacker and bringing forth the oft forgotten fact that when violence strikes in Africa, everyone loses, everyone is vulnerable, even those who at first appear to be in positions of strength. But yet I don't think it feels like a 'message' film. It's just a really good mirror of what happened to two people."

Ms. Kibinge will present her film and discuss it afterwards with the audience. Jude Akudinobi of the University of California, Santa Baraba, will introduce Ms. Kibinge.

Along with SOMETHING NECESSARY we will also be screening PUMZI by Wanuri Kahiu. This extraordinary short film represents one of the first forays of African cinema into science fiction—and certainly is the first such effort by an African woman director. The action takes place 35 years after World War III. The images in this film are visually stunning. A synopsis follows.

"Set in a post-apocalyptic world in which water scarcity has extinguished life above ground, the short follows one scientist's quest to investigate the possibility of germinating seeds beyond the confines of her repressive subterranean Nairobi culture. Nature is extinct. The outside is dead. Asha lives and works as a museum curator in one of the indoor communities set up by the Maitu Council. When she receives a box in the mail containing soil, she plants an old seed in it and the seed immediately starts germinating. Asha appeals to the Council to grant her permission to investigate the possibility of life on the outside, but the Council denies her exit visa."

Exhibition Hall

The exhibition hall consists of publishers, producers, and vendors of Africa-related books, educational materials, and specialty items. A list of current exhibitors can be found online at the ASA website. Only individuals with a visible registration badge may enter the exhibition hall.

Anyone who is interested in exhibiting can find more information at the ASA website online. You can also contact the ASA at funmi@africanstudies.org with "Exhibition Hall" in the subject line. The deadline for exhibitors is September 30, 2013.

HOST A PRESIDENTIAL FELLOW

Host an ASA Presidential Fellow at your Institution in November 2013

We are delighted to announce the ASA Presidential Fellows for 2013. They are:

Komlan Agbedahin (Sociology, Rhodes University, South Africa)

Mathayo Ndomondo (Fine and Performing Arts, University of Dar es Salaam, Tanzania)

Stella Nyanzi (Law, Makerere University, Uganda)

The ASA Presidential Fellows Program was instituted in 2010 with the objective of inviting outstanding Africa-based scholars to attend the ASA Annual Meeting and spend time at African Studies programs/centers in the U.S. For the past three years, the ASA has worked with the African Humanities Program of the American Council of Learned Societies to identify scholars and to fund their visits to the ASA meeting. We invite institutions to apply to host one or more of the following individuals selected by the American Council of Learned Societies for up to a week prior to the Annual Meeting of the ASA. The institution would be expected to cover the costs of domestic travel and stay at the host institution, including an honorarium. For more information, please contact the ASA secretariat (members@africanstudies.org), which will be assisting with the arrangements.

Komlan Agbedahin is a national of Togo (West Africa). He studied at the University of Lomé (Togo) where he earned an honors degree and a master's degree in Sociology. He also has a master's degree in peace and conflict studies from the Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies (CEPACS) at the University of Ibadan (Nigeria) on a DAAD scholarship. At the beginning of his research toward a PhD degree in 2009, he spent four months at Jacobs University and Bremen International Graduate School of Social Sciences (Germany) as a DAAD visiting fellow. He was awarded a PhD degree in sociology at Rhodes University (South Africa) in 2012 after completing a thesis focused on the agency of Liberian young veterans (former child-soldiers). He is presently an AHP/ACLS postdoctoral research fellow at Rhodes University in the Department of Sociology. He also worked with UNHCR in the war-torn North Kivu in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) as protection and field officer in 2008. After the January 2010 Earthquake, he worked in Haiti with the United Nations Stabilisation Mission (MINUSTAH) with the Joint Operations and Tasking Centre (JOTC) as monitoring and reporting officer. His presentation at the ASA Annual Meeting will be on "Interrogating the roles of border control agencies in West Africa: An empirical insight into Ghana-Togo border porosity."

Mathayo Bernard Ndomondo works as a Lecture in the Department of Fine and Performing Arts at the University of Dar es Salaam, Tanzania. His research interests include: the intersection between music, gender, religion, and state agencies in the fight against HIV/AIDS in Tanzania, music and politics, music and migration, music, sexuality and gender, music for empowerment of children and young people, and popular culture. His theoretical interests include: music and the body; music, health and healing; music and gender; postcolonialism and nationalism, transnationalism and cosmopolitanism; postmodernism; music and migration; and popular culture. Mathayo received his PhD (in Ethnomusicology) from the University of Texas at Austin in 2010. His presentation at the ASA Annual Meeting will be on "...Those Who Did It Have Power...'-Music, Health and Hegemony in Tanzania: The Context of HIV/AIDS."

Stella Nyanzi is a medical anthropologist working as a Research Fellow at Makerere Institute of Social Research, and a Researcher in the Law, Gender and Sexuality Research Project of the School of Law at Makerere University. Since 1997, she has explored the intersections between culture, health and sexuality in rural and urban Uganda. Other fieldwork sites include Tanzania and The Gambia. Her current research projects are located at the nexus between (homo)sexualities, religion, cultures and law in the Ugandan state. Her presentation at the ASA Annual Meeting is on "Politicizing the 'sin of Sodom and Gomorrah': Examining the Christian Rightists' war against homosexuality in Uganda."

Presenting at the Meeting

Paper presenters are obligated to provide copies of their papers to the chair, other panelists, and the discussant two weeks in advance of the meeting. The emails of presenters are in the preliminary program. Information will be provided prior to the conference indicating where participants can upload their papers and abstracts.

Participation in the ASA Annual Meeting is a major commitment to one's colleagues, to the African Studies community, and to the Association. Individuals may be seriously inconvenienced and disappointed when they attend sessions, only to find that persons they looked forward to hearing and seeing fail to appear. The Program Committee works hard to create a cohesive program and "no shows" detract from the success of the conference. "No shows" will be noted, and their absence will have implications for future acceptance to participate in the program. Those with medical or other emergency situations are exempted.

Guidelines for Panel and Roundtable Chairs

- The chairs should write to the paper presenters in advance of the meeting to inform them of the time they are allotted for their presentation and to remind them to send papers to each other and the discussant(s).
- At the panel, the chair should briefly introduce him/herself to each panel/roundtable member before their session if they have not done so already.
- They should briefly introduce panel/roundtable members to the audience. They may wish to go over their planned introduction with each panel/roundtable member before the session begins.
- The chair should have the presenters proceed in the same order that they are listed in the program so that the audience members can plan their attendance accordingly.
- The chair should field audience questions during the time allotted for discussion, making sure those questioners who might be difficult for the panelists or roundtable participants to spot are noticed, and that the discussion moves along.
- The chair should conclude the panel/roundtable on time, and ensure that his/her group vacates the room at least 15 minutes before the next scheduled session.

Refund Policy

We cannot refund registration or membership fees.

Non-attendance/Withdrawals

Presenters should notify the Secretariat in writing as soon as possible if they are unable to attend the meeting. The information will be included in the Final Program or the Final Program addendum. Replacement presenters cannot be added after the Call for Proposals has closed.

Access Policy

The African Studies Association is committed to ensuring that its services and meetings are accessible to all Africanists. If you have any special needs or require special assistance to participate in an ASA event, please contact members@africanstudies.org.

Graduate Student Prize

The ASA Board of Directors established the Graduate Student Paper Prize in 2001 to recognize the best graduate student paper presented at the previous year's Annual Meeting. All papers presented by graduate students at the Annual Meeting are eligible for the prize, which is awarded at the subsequent Annual Meeting. The editors of the African Studies Review will coordinate an expedited peer review process for possible publication of the prize-winning paper. Graduate students may submit a pdf of their paper and a letter of recommendation from their adviser on or before April 1 of the year following the Annual Meeting (2014) to members@africanstudies.org.

How to read the preliminary program

The index is listed at the end of the program. Each panel and roundtable is labeled by a combination of a Roman numeral followed by a letter and a number. The Roman numeral indicates the session, hence the date and time of the panel. The letter corresponds to the section, and the number is simply a way of identifying the panel/roundtable within a session.

Changes to the Program

This is a preliminary program. To request a change to your name, affiliation, contact information, or abstract as it appears in the program please send these changes to Catherine_Challand@ssrn.com.

Any requests to withdraw a paper or reorganize a panel or roundtable should be sent to asameeting2013@gmail.com.

Please note that we cannot guarantee that any changes received after September 15, 2013 will be reflected in the final printed program.

The most current version of the program can be found online.
