A young man with blonde hair, wearing a black and white striped polo shirt and jeans, stands smiling in front of the sign. He has his hands in his pockets.

If I was a child
I would be innocent.
If I was a soldier
I would be brave.
If I was grass
I would stay green year 'round.
If I was black
I would be proud.
If I was a president
I would be powerful.
If I was a parent
I would be joyous.
If I was a rose
I would smell of love.
If I was God
I would be eternity.
But I am myself,
And I am content.

RED AND WHITE

The highest happiness of man as a thinking being is to have proved what is knowable and quietly to revere what is unknowable.

Goethe

It is the babes who want to climb the mountains, and the wise men who know the hills.

Taylor Caldwell

Systems die, instincts remain.

O. W. Holmes

All things now held to be old were once new. What today we hold up by example, will rank hereafter as precedent.

Tacitus

"He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation for earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has always looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory a benediction."

Dudley Leavitt, 1908
