This week designated as Afro-American Week serves to remind Blacks as well as to inform whites that we too are builders of America. It was a black man that discovered America blood plasma; we've written symphonies as well as broken records in the sports field. The goal of the festivities we're presenting is not to cause resentment among the races, but rather to act as a magnet drawing the races together.

Dear You:

By this time you have had an opportunity to thumb through both editions of the 72-73 yearbook. I am sure that you were aware of a minimum of copy. Well, we wanted this book to be personal, so go back and write your own copy if you wish to do so. Adequate space has been allowed for this purpose.

Also, I am sure you noticed that professors, administration and staff were identified as they appeared in the book. It was impossible to obtain pictures of everyone, and we apologize for the absence of those who did not appear. But we did make an honest effort at getting pictures of everyone, it was just an impossible task when you were not available. This is true also, of clubs; if you did not have your picture taken, then how can you expect to be in print.

Last year, Coastal Carolina adopted a new slogan, Let Coastal Grow. And we have lived up to the slogan throughout this year, thus making Coastal Number One this year more than ever. This year has ended in terms of days, and this book has ended in terms of pages; but, the hopes, dreams, and plans made by the Coastal family will live on. There will be no end to Coastal as long as we have the dedicated persons that we have had this year. Only the sky is our limit.

We hope you liked the book.

Serving you and Coastal Carolina,

Georgia Vaught
and the 72-73 Yearbook Staff.

FOREVER FORWARD UNTIL

TOMORROW BECOMES TODAY
