

In the manuscript “The intra-neuroendoscopic technique: a new method for rapid removal of acute severe intraventricular haematoma”, authors compared the efficacy of intra-neuroendoscopic technique (INET) with extraventricular drainage plus urokinase thrombolytic (EVD+UT) therapy in the treatment of severe acute intraventricular hemorrhage. The article is interesting but some revisions are required.