Nowadays, one of the most important purposes of mankind is to make world safer. It is not surprising because our generation have faced with a lot of environmental, social, economic and health problems. Although most of these problems are caused by people activity only people can change their life for better.

There are many aspects concerning the future of our world. Some of them are well-balanced economic development, technological progress and healthy way of life. If we improve these fields of life, we will reach desired results.

Economic development is the key to improving public relations between different countries. Systemic regulation of the economy should lead to positive changes in all types of economic activity and quality of life of the population.

Due to technological advancements our life became more comfortable and easy. Our everyday life is full of different modern devices and tools. Technology has both good and bad sides. As it brings comfort to people it can also bring harm to the environment.

The most important thing in our life is health. Everybody should keep fit and do exercises regularly. If everyone looks after their health, there will be less diseases in the world and the level of illness will decrease.

There are a lot of factors which influence our safety, but everybody should remember that our safety depends on ourselves. Each of us plays important role in creation harmonic future. If people understand that, it will be a great step to the major purpose – to make the world safer.
