A PLAN of LONDON on the Same Scale as that of PARIS: In Order to ascertain the Difference of the Extent of these two Rivals, the Abbe de la Grive's Plan of Paris, & that of London by J. Rocque, have been divided into equal Squares where London Contains 39, and Paris but 29, So that the Superfice of London is to that of Paris as 39 to 29 or as 5455 Acres to 4028, London therefore exceeds Paris, by 1427 Acres, the former being 8½ Square Miles & Paris only 6⅓. by J. Rocque Chorographer to His MAJESTY, in the Strand, London 1762 With Improvements To 1766 with New Improvements to the Year 1766

A Scale of 5000 Yards

A Scale of 4 Miles 69½ 14 Poles to a Degre

PLAN de LONDRES, &c, Sur la même Echelle que Celui de PARIS, afin de constater la Différence en Grandeur de ces deux Rivals on a devisé le Plan de Paris par Mr. l'Abbe de la Grive, et, Celui de Londre par J. Rocque, par desquarrés donc Londres en Contient 39, de Paris 29 Chaquequarré etant de 168 440 Toises en Superficie, ce qui donne 7339 Arpens pour la Surface de Londres, et 5416 pour celle de Paris le Surplus pour Londres et donc de 1923 Arpens. par J. Rocque Chorographe de S. MAJESTÉ, Britannique a Londres 1762.

avec les Augmentations pour l'An. 1766

North

Echelle de 2 Lieues 25 au Degre

Echelle de 3000 Toises

To the most High Puissant & Noble Prince JOHN Duke of MONTAGUE &c. Grand Master of the most Honourable Order of the Bath, Master General of the Ordnance,

Master of the Great Wardrobe, & Knight of the most Noble Order of the Garter &c. This Plan is most humbly Inscribid by his Graces most Devoted & Obed.t humble Servant

John Rocque

Published according to Act.t of Parliament.

2010 Ministerio de Cultura