

Dumas nous fait connaître ce personnage dans plusieurs tomes pour nous montrer qu'il a acquis une maîtrise de lui-même et qu'il a néanmoins réussi son apprentissage, malgré un début peu prometteur.

University of Kansas

Ouvrages cités

Dumas, Alexandre. Joseph Balsamo. Paris : Bouquins, 1990.

Lukacs, Georges. La théorie du roman. Paris : Editions Gonthier, 1971.

Call for Papers

Chimères

Ongoing Submissions

Chimères, a journal of French literature and language since 1967, encourages the submission of papers which deal with any aspect of French and/or Francophone literature. We accept papers in French and English. Papers should be in Microsoft Word and conform to MLA style. Papers should be approximately 6,000 words in length (bibliography and reference notes included).

Along with the submission of your article, please include an abstract of no more than 200 words that introduces the paper. All submissions should also include pertinent author information: title/position, institutional affiliation, street and e-mail addresses. Author information is confidential during the reading and reviewing process

Please submit a hard copy of the article, as well as an electronic copy to:

Street address:     Editor, Chimères
                          The University of Kansas
                          Department of French and Italian
                          2103 Wescoe Hall
                          1445 Jayhawk Blvd.
                          Lawrence, KS 66045-7590

E-mail addresses:  kendrick@ku.edu

Annual Subscriptions for the U.S.A. and Canada are: Individuals $10,
Institutions and libraries $26.

Website: <http://www.ku.edu/~chimeres>

A journal of French & Francophone literatures and cultures
The University of Kansas

