INSTRUCTIONS FOR USING THE TEACHER'S WORD BOOK

THE TEACHER'S WORD BOOK is an alphabetical list of the 10,000 words which are found to occur most widely in a count of about 625,000 words from literature for children; about 3,000,000 words from the Bible and English classics; about 300,000 words from elementary-school text books; about 50,000 words from books about cooking, sewing, farming, the trades, and the like; about 90,000 words from the daily newspapers; and about 500,000 words from correspondence. Forty-one different sources were used.

A measure of the range and frequency of each word's occurrence is given by the credit-number following it. Range answers the question, "How many of these forty-one different sources use the word?" or "How widely is the word used?" Frequency answers the question, "How often is the word used?" If this credit-number is 49 or over, it means that the word is in the 1st 1000 for importance. A credit-number from 29 to 48 means that the word is in the 2nd 1000. A credit of 19 to 28 places it in the 3rd 1000. A credit of 14 to 18 places it in the 4th 1000. A credit of 10 to 13 places it in the 5th 1000 (reaching to 5144 to be exact). The other 5000 words are those with credit of 9 (400 words); 8 (503 words); 7 (571 words); 6 (644 words); 5 (883 words); 4 (1045 words); and 3 (810 words).

In the case of the 5000 most important words, the credit number is followed by a number and letter stating in which thousand and in which half thereof the word belongs. Thus "43 2a" means that the word has an importance of 43 and is in the 1st half of the 2nd 1000. "21 3b" means that the word has an importance of 21 and is in the 2nd half of the 3rd 1000.

Within the 1st 500 words there is a further distinction into hundreds, 1a1 meaning that the word is one of the 1st 100; 1a2 meaning that it is in the 2nd 100; 1a3 meaning that it is in the 3rd 100, and so on.

This list is not a perfect measure of the importance of words, for two reasons. First, a word may be very important for a pupil or graduate to know and yet not figure largely in the world's reading. Second, tens of thousands of hours of further counting would be required to measure the frequency of occurrence of all of these words with exactness. If a complete count were made, there would probably be several hundred words found more deserving of a place in the top ten thousand than some of those now included, and the order of the list would be somewhat changed.

For certain reasons the credits for abbreviations like in., bbl., yd., etc., are probably too low, and far less reliable than those for words. The concordances, vocabularies, and most of the counts made by others have not paid due attention to abbreviations. However, the list as it stands is far better than any that has hitherto been available and will be a help to all teachers in estimating the commonness and importance of words.

The conscientious and thoughtful teacher now spends much time and thought in deciding what pedagogical treatment to use in the case of the words that offer difficulty to pupils. If she is teaching reading she finds, according to Miller, over nine thousand words¹ used in standard Third Readers. Many of these probably should not be taught at all in that grade; others should be explained at the time to serve the purpose of the story but then left to their fate; others should be thoroughly taught and reviewed. This Word Book helps the teacher to decide quickly which treatment is appropriate by telling her just how important any word is. In teaching history or geography or elementary science, almost any book lesson contains one or more words with which some of the pupils will not be familiar. Which are these, and in which cases should the occasion be used to master the word for future use? Decision obviously depends upon how important the word is. In many cases knowledge of how important the word is is all that is needed for decision.

A second practical service of the Word Book is to provide the less experienced teacher with that knowledge both of the importance of words and of their difficulty which the expert teacher has acquired by years of experience with pupils and with books. The beginner at teaching may profitably take the words in any lesson and try to judge how important each is, checking her estimates by the facts of the Word Book. She can thus obtain by a few hours of easy study what would have required months of difficult learning by class-room experimentation; and the experiences of the class-room will be made much more instructive to her.

A third service to all teachers, from the most expert to those just beginning their training, is to provide a convenient place to record any useful facts about these words by which teaching can be guided and improved. For example, the teacher may jot down after a certain word "5," meaning that she seeks to secure mastery of that word in grade 5; "g 49" meaning that the strategic time and place to teach the word is in connection with the geography work on page 49 of a certain book or syllabus; "ex. by . . ." to remind her of the devices she has found most serviceable to explain the meaning of the word. The Word Book will thus become a real treasure-house of help in a form readily available.

The teacher may also wisely enter in the list words that are of local importance, such as, for New York City, subway and elevated.

It should be noted that, except for special reasons, separate entries are not made of plurals in s; plurals where y is replaced by ies; adverbs formed by adding ly; comparatives and superlatives formed by adding er and est,² or r and st; verb forms in s, d, *ed*³ and ing; past participles formed by adding n, and adjectives formed by adding n to proper nouns. For example:

boys, girls, berries	are counted in with	boy, girl, berry
badly, sadly	are counted in with	bad, sad
longer, bravest	are counted in with	long, brave
plays, playing, played	are counted in with	play
thrown, outgrown	are counted in with	throw, outgrow
Austrian, Bavarian	are counted in with	Austria, Bavaria

By entering such derivatives under their primary forms, the list is made shorter and easier to use.

Where separate entries do occur, it is because the derived word is likely to offer some difficulty to pupils, and not to be known easily from knowledge of the primary word. Thus likely would not be known from like; being and building should probably often be learned independently of be and build; and coming may appear in the work of Grade I before there has been enough experience of ing to enable the pupil to derive it by himself.

² Including changes of y to ies and iest.

³ Including changes of y to ies and ied.

It should be noted further that this is not a spelling list. If it is used as an aid in the construction of spelling lists, the derived forms in s, ies, ly, er, r, est, st, s, ed, d, ing, and n should be inserted. They may offer notable difficulty in spelling even when easily read and understood by derivation.

A full account of the methods by which this list was selected, of the reliability of the credits attached to the words, and of the uses to which the list may be put, will be found in an article of thirty-seven pages, entitled "Word Knowledge in the Elementary School," by E. L. Thorndike, published in the TEACHERS COLLEGE RECORD for September, 1921.⁴

For convenience in certain uses, there is added on pages 127-134 a list of the 2500 words of most wide and frequent occurrence, arranged in five sets of 500 each.

KEY

In the list of words on pages 1 to 126, the numbers in the first column immediately following the column of words are the credit-numbers. Words having a credit-number of 49 or over are found in the 1st 1000 words in importance; those having a credit-number of 29 to 48 are found in the 2nd 1000, and so on; while those having a credit-number of 8 lie between the 5545th and the 6047th word in importance, and so on. A summary of the scheme follows.

CREDIT-NUMBER	POSITION OF WORD
49 or over	1 to 1000
29 to 48	1001 to 2000
19 to 28	2001 to 3000
14 to 18	3001 to 4000
10 to 13	4001 to 5144
9	5145 to 5544
8	5545 to 6047
7	6048 to 6618
6	6619 to 7262
5	7263 to 8145
4	8146 to 9190
3	9191 to 10000

In the case of the 5000 most important words, the credit-number is followed by a second number combined with a letter which indicates in which thousand and in which half thereof the word belongs. Thus 2a means that the word is in the 1st half of the 2nd 1000, 3b means that the word is in the 2nd half of the 3rd 1000. Within the 1st 500 words there is a further distinction into hundreds, 1a1 meaning that the word is one of the 1st 100; 1a2 meaning that it is in the 2nd 100; 1a3, that it is in the 3rd 100; 1a4, that it is in the 4th 100; 1a5, that it is in the 5th 100.

⁴ Copies of this number of THE RECORD may be had at 40 cents per copy from the Bureau of Publications, 525 West 120th Street, New York City. The article will also be available later in pamphlet form.
