Lyceum Programs To Be Soon

Two Musicians, News Analyst To Appear

The remaining Lyceum lecture numbers, sponsored by the student council, will be presented next week in Howe chapel.

Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock Dorothy Bowen, soprano, assisted by Ludwig Zirner, pianist, will appear in a recital. The chapel period Wednesday morning will be given over to a lecture by Irving Pflaum, international news analyst. His subject will be "Must We Fight Russia?"

Bowen at U. of I.

Miss Bowen is in residence at the University of Illinois school of music, and is engaged in coaching the opera workshop of which Mr. Zirner is artistic director. She received her first training and musical experience in Chicago, winning scholarships which took her to Italy and France for operatic study and concert appearances. Upon her return she embarked upon a career which has included solo appearances with leading oratorio societies and orchestras in coast-to-coast concert engagements.

Miss Bowen's programs reflect an unusual choice of song literature, ranging from works of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries to contemporary ones. Her interest in the original language of the song lends an authority of style which has received favorable comment by the press.

Zirner from Austria

Mr. Zirner, now an American citizen, is a native of Vienna, Austria. His early musical training occurred at the Vienna Conservatory, from which have come such musicians as Paul Vlanowsky, famed accompanist for Lotte Lehmann, and Rudolph Bing, at present artistic director of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

The pianist has concertized widely. In addition to his opera work at the university, he has been associated with the opera department of the Berkshire Music Festival at Tanglewood.

Outstanding News Analyst

Mr. Pflaum is particularly qualified to speaking with authority on international and national news events. At the present he is foreign editor and columnist of the Chicago "Sun-Times." He has had much experience as a foreign and war correspondent. He attended the last big Nazi Party rally in Germany, and covered pre-war stories in Prague, Poland, Romania, Hungary, Turkey and Greece.

In 1947 Mr. Pflaum went to Communist Europe, and covered the Foreign Ministers' Conference in Moscow the same year; in 1949 he visited ten Western European nations and Yugoslavia.

In addition to his position on the "Sun-Times" the analyst has been a regular

Included in the cast are Virginia Ross, Carol Lusk, Marilyn Lane, Maxine Burris, Evangeline Lane, Joan Heimbürger, Sandra Ide, Sharon Gardner, Audrey Angles, Virginia Boykin, Marjorie Allen, Mary Harold, and Eleanor Miller.

In charge of publicity is Maxine Burris, and Marilyn Lane. Carol Lusk and Evangeline Lane are supervising the stage work.

A program of music was furnished by vocalist Gerald Greenlee, violinist Mrs. Mary Knisley, and Harriet Boughan, pianist. Dr. Reed addressed the group, introducing the development program. Dr. Paul Updike, chairman of the Board of Trustees, spoke in behalf of the financial program. The invocation was presented by Rev. Morgan Williams, D. Four Motorcades To Visit In Two Weeks

Four additional motorcades will be visiting our campus before the termination of the school year. They will include young people from the Illinois District on April 26, the North-West Indiana District on April 27, the North-East Indiana District on May 4, and the Chicago Central District on May 10.

A reception committee headed by Bob Reich will welcome the Illinois District along with the District Superintendent Rev. W. S. Purinton and their N.Y.P.S. President, Rev. J. H. White. The committee's program of entertaining the guests will include a hearty reception upon arrival, class visitation in the morning, a special luncheon at noon and a tour of the campus in the afternoon.

On the following day District N.Y.P.S. President Rev. Kenneth Coil of North-West Indiana will bring his young people to our campus accompanied by their District Superintendent Dr. G. J. Franklin. A program similar to that of the previous day will be followed.

Then on May 4, District Superintendent Dr. Paul Updike, and District N.Y.P.S. President Rev. Larry Tucker, will bring their North-East Indiana District as guests of the N. E. I. Club.

The Chicago Central District will bring the last motorcade of the year on May 10. District Superintendent Dr. E. O. Chalfant, and Rev. Robert Shepard, District N.Y.P.S. President, along with their young folk will enjoy an interesting program which is now in the making.

Bible Dept. Banquet

The Bible Certificate Department is having its annual banquet Friday, April 27, 7:00 p. m., at "The Old Spinning Wheel" in Hinsdale, Illinois.

The special speaker for this occasion is to be Dr. Howard Hamlin, a returned missionary from Japan. At the present time he is working on the staff of Woodlawn Hospital in Chicago.

Mrs. Wanda Donson is the sponsor of this department. The senior president is Gordon Rice, and Dennis Kiper is the undergraduate president.

WOODRUFF RECEIVES HONOR

Bond Woodruff, assistant professor of psychology and chairman of the department, has been elected to membership into the Ohio state chapter of the Society of the Sigma Ki, a chapter in the national honor fraternity of scientists. His membership will become effective on May 24.

Annual VBS Workshop Will be Tomorrow p.m.

Tomorrow evening Howe chapel will be the scene of the opening of the third annual vacation Bible school workshop conducted here. This event is the climax of the daily vacation Bible school training class, sponsored by the College church under the direction of Mrs. Boneita P. Marquart.

This evening's program will begin with a general meeting and candlelight service of dedication in Howe chapel. Following, there will be departmental sessions for those interested in the various age groups. Chairmen of these sessions are Fred McGraw, Mrs. Marquart, Mrs. Louise McGilvra and Mrs. Elda Featherston. Exhibits of the American Bible Society and the WCTU will be in evidence, along with handwork demonstrations of departmental activities. At this time Ray's Christian Supplies will be on sale. Chairmen for these handwork exhibits include Mrs. Featherston, Mrs. Grace Bentley, Misses Marilyn Kerr, Arlene Beyer, and Lefa Axtell, Mrs. R. L. Lunsford, Mrs. D. C. Ray and Mrs. Roma Gates.

Publicity relating to this workshop has been sent to over four hundred churches and to all the district papers of our educational zone.

MusiCan

The Faculty Trio, consisting of Miss Jewel Flaughter, violinist; Miss Rosalie Ernest, violoncellist; and Mr. Kenneth Bade, pianist, will present its annual spring concert on Tuesday, May 8, in the Burke Administration Building Parlor.

Those who were fortunate enough to hear the recital last year will readily agree that the trio promises to provide a thoroughly enjoyable and educational evening.

Daniel Liddel, who received his B. Mus. in voice at ONC in 1950, is now attending the University of Illinois graduate school, and is certainly upholding the high standards Olivet students have set. Out of 16 contestants, he was chosen to appear with the University Symphony Orchestra, in the annual Commencement Concert.

The children's piano department, under the direction of Mrs. Lorene Perry, will present two recitals — on May 12 and 19. The public is invited to attend both recitals.

RELIGION in the NEWS

The editor of this column reports the work of Olivet students in various churches across the educational zone. These students active in Christian work are accomplishing much in the churches. We were made more aware of this just recently when two churches organized by ONC students were dedicated.

The first of these was the West Kankakee Church of the Nazarene, organized and pastored by George Psaute, graduate of last year. The church is valued at $20,000. The dedicatory address was delivered by Dr. J. Russell Gardner, the afternoon of April 8.

One week later another Nazarene church was dedicated — this time the recently organized one at East Bradley. This project was sponsored by the Ministerial Fellowship, John Jarnigaa pastor the church. Rev. D. K. Watchel, superintendent of the Tennessee district, delivered the dedicatory address. Let us remember to pray God's richest blessings upon these two churches. *

Here is a bit of news about a former Olivet student, Gregoria Tingson, A. Th. B. graduate of 1950, he was ordained into the Christian ministry by the Mid-West Bible Church in Chicago on April 15. Rev. Tingson, a native of the Philippines, was brought to Olivet as a result of the influence of an American Gl. While a student here he made a "round the world" preaching tour. He is vice-president of Youth For Christ International, and a popular speaker for that organization. His most recent appearance was in Charleston, W. Va., on April 14. Rev. Tingson is taking additional work in education at Roosevelt College, Chicago, preparatory to his return to the Philippines. *

Students who were out in Christian work the weekends of April 15 and 22 included the Jubilee trio and Bof Styrras at Hillsdale, Mich., and the Singing B's at Bloomington, Indiana, where they sang for a holiness Youth Crusade. *

Bishop missionary chapter met Tuesday, April 17, in the annex.

The W.C.T.U. met April 18 at the home of Mrs. R. L. Lunsford. *

Rev. J. Franklin Peoples of Chicago was the special chapel speaker April 18, speaking on the subject, "Faith In God." He is a graduate of the West Virginia State College at Institute, W.

Editorial

This is the day you, as a free citizen of Olivet Nazarene College, can exercise your right to vote for the candidates of your choice. Have you accepted this responsibility? Democracy offers freedom but requires responsibility. Freedom and responsibility go hand in hand in a democratic form of government. Thus, democracy is weak without a citizenry who are willing and able to accept the responsibility that goes along with freedom. Oh, may we wake up to the fact that we map our own destiny as free moral beings, and as free citizens. So let us participate in this election, and by so doing, accept the responsibility that goes along with freedom.

Well, now that we have decided to vote, let us meet the next problem. How are we to vote? Make an analysis of the facts you have collected during the campaign and the impressions you have gathered from personal contact with each candidate, then evaluate them in the light of your own understanding.

Thinking Out Loud

—by Dick Boynton

When a man does not retaliate when injured, he wraps around him the royal robes of calmness, and goes quietly on his way.

Too many of us forget to put foundations under our air castles.

It is a waste of time and energy to tell a hair-raising story to a bald-headed man.

They who are content to remain in the valley will not get the grander view from the mountain top.

There's one thing you can say for the men in charge of our government — they're running it like nobody's business.

All the money in the world is tainted — taint yours and taint mine.

The men who try to do something and fail are infinitely better than those who try to do nothing and succeed.

After you have made this analysis and evaluation, make your decision for the candidate who you consider will do the best job.

What does the job of student body president require? It requires leadership of the highest degree. The student body president must be a stable Christian. He must have the ability to get along with others, ability to organize, the ability to gain and hold the respect of the students, faculty, and administration. He must understand the problems which face the students. He must have insight and originality. He must have a basic drive to go ahead and get a job done and get it done well.

The job of student body treasurer also requires certain qualities such as honesty, accuracy, neatness, and efficiency.

The job of student council has increased each year. One by one new responsibilities have been placed in the hands of the student council, until now the council has more responsibility than ever before. Let us elect responsible leaders to the student council. Don't shirk your duty. Vote today!

—Lee McMurrin.

STUDENT SPECTATOR

BY FRED MCGRAW

Seniors, realizing the importance of a holiness college, advance their opinions on what has been the greatest source of influence on their lives at Olivet, other than the mighty impact of Christianity.

Lorraine Johnson: Peanut butter and jam sessions.

Jay Wind: My environment — grape juice, women, song and ladies.

Doris Smith: I've appreciated the wonderful personalities, especially two of the Smith family, a true lady and my husband.

Jack Fowler: My wife — I didn't make an "A" until I got married.

Norma Armstrong: Practice teaching — for I can feel my sense of duty as a Christian teacher.

Glen Logsdon: My wife — I wasn't a Christian before — she keeps me straight now.

Joy Bills: My friends, I've appreciated them.

Maxine Van Meter: I haven't been influenced. (I'm one of those hard hearted spineless individuals, ha!) There were some teachers, but I won't say how.

Maty Baldrige: There have been some teachers whom I've really appreciated and then there have just been some teachers.

Lowell Sparks: That which has influenced me most is the sacrificing lives as lived by the women who have husbands in school, including my own.

God of the Open Air

Thou who hast made Thy dwelling fair

With flowers beneath, above with starry lights,

And set Thine altars everywhere

On lofty, snow-capped mountain heights,

On woodland dim with many a dream.

In valleys bright with springs,

And on the curving capes of every stream.

To Thee I turn, to Thee I make my prayer —

God of the open air.

To Thou who hast taken to thyself

The wings of morning to abide

Upon the secret places of the sea,

And upon far islands where the tide

Visits the beauty of untrodden shores,

Waiting for worshippers to come to Thee

In Thy great out-of-doors!

To Thee I turn, to Thee I make my prayer

God of the open air.

FROM THE PASTOR'S STUDY

Since this is my third consecutive column on this matter of growing up, it may look as though the subject is growing on me. At first I was satisfied to define growing up; then I became interested in discussing the complexion of maturity, another term for growing up. Now I ask you to explore this same general territory a little deeper.

And in our exploration we discover that forgiveness is always present where there is maturity, that the person who doesn't forgive doesn't grow up, that he has a serious character flaw and can't grow up. Of course we have those experiences that pressure us, that disillusion us, that bring disappointment and maybe disaster, experiences sparked by people; but the mature person holds no grudges, he harbors no resentments, he feels no hatreds, he forgives. And he forgives whether apologies are offered, forgiveness sought, or matters rectified.

Growing up brings tolerance too. This does not imply an easy-going acceptance of conditions right or wrong, an acceptance that approves; nor does tolerance include a sacrifice of convictions or a surrender of principles; nor is tolerance but a substitute for condescension; but tolerance embodies a willingness to let live, to put up with opinions and practices and people that we do not hold or practice or appreciate personally. Tolerance is the quality of an unprejudiced person; intolerance is the spirit of an opinionated, dogmatic, bigoted person. Tolerance recognizes another side to the proposition; tolerance calls for fair play and justice; tolerance is an expression of love for others; tolerance is the bigness of the person growing up.

When an individual lives to serve, that person is growing up. When we were children we looked to our parents to do for us, to come, to give, to deny themselves, to sacrifice for us; we were children, babies. They carried us around; they ran to our cries; they wheedled our smiles; they pampered our every whimper; we were babies. But when we grow up we no longer demand this undue attention. We work, we serve whether noticed, commended or rewarded; our joy is to help, to encourage, to serve.

But growing up does not come by chance or by compulsion, but by choice, by careful culture, by consistent discipline. I suggest we all grow up!

Browsing Through The Bookshelf

According to Webster's dictionary, a library is a building or apartment devoted to a collection of books, manuscripts, etc., kept for use but not for sale. When a prof calls for a theme on a subject you never even heard of, the word for it is "lifesaver." The guy who has found the girl he has been waiting for and just before an O.T. test finds the atmosphere very conducive to . . . study. The married student whose wife is having the girls in for a little party finds it a good excuse for getting out of the apartment. Not long ago, I found it to be a very interesting and rather amusing place to spend the morning.

After I had found a place to study, I went to the card catalogue to see if they had a certain book I needed. They didn't, but I took notice that they did have something which amused me and aroused by curiosity.

There are a number of books written by Bowman. Two of them are Economic Analysis and Public Policy and Croose's Island in the Caribbean.

Among the books written by Davidson are Applied Nuclear Physics and Theology of the Old Testament.

Gardner's love of beauty and a good time are shown in his books: Art Through the Ages and The Year 'round Party Book. Under Gale, I found a Manual of Experiments to Accompany a First Course in Physics for Colleges.

Taylor wrote a very intriguing book entitled: Guide to the Wild Flowers East of the Mississippi and North of Virginia. At least the title will keep you occupied for a while.

Some good instruction has been set forth by Spalding in his book: Christian Storytelling and Stories for Parents, Teachers, and Students.

If your interest in books written by "faculty" members is waning, why not try a little diversion with How to Keep Out of Trouble by William Weiss.

Many of the ONC students have to work. I'm sure the book The Theory of Wages would interest all of us. (Sometimes I think they could raise 'em a little.) Where's the Money coming

Campus Going-on

Spring weather is really playing havoc with me. The more I try to do, the less I accomplish. And my profs have evidently decided that in the next three weeks I should do what I didn't do in the past twelve! Now is that justice???

I saw Lavanna Berry the other day. She's planning to come back to ONC next year. Make way, fellows, here comes a cute red-head!

Buried somewhere in the poems of Tennyson is a line which reads: "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love." And ONC bachelors are no exception, it seems. Lately the thoughts of Darrell Holland have turned to Mary Zimmerman, Delmar Moore to Jean Edgar and Cal Johnson to Vera Hendricker. Of course we can't forget Ray Brodien and Naomi Hinshaw. Someone told me there is a good reason for Orpheus going on tour every spring. It seems that Cupid always goes along!

One bad point about spring, though—it makes us either feel like doing nothing or we want to carry the world on our shoulders (I found out it's impossible!) I hear Jack Jones was feeling so good he had to go home and take a short rest. And Merrick Gilroy tried to jump too high on the tennis court. He threw his right leg right into a cast.

They tell me the junior-senior banquet comes up Saturday night. It's too bad that Chester Meyering isn't a senior, isn't it Betty? And I imagine Betty Parr would just as soon have Joe Gennaro a junior for the big night!

Not being a junior or a senior, though, I'll have to crawl into a hole and dream about next year!

From is another.

Our library is just cram-jammed full of good books. For the voice students there's one by Lilli Lehmann, How To Sing. How to Pick a Mate and How to Win the Peace could be interesting ones for that young couple that you've seen together so much lately. All men would be interested in Why Women Are So? When A Man's A Man would interest the young ladies. Since it's so hard to understand many of the things which go on in our world, I'm sure we'd all enjoy This Means That.

Among these books I feel that you will be able to find something that will catch your fancy. If not, make sure that you do read: Kindertranen zwei erzählungen von Ernst von Wildenbruch.

—Rich Edwards.

Who's Your Choice For Student Body Prexy, Treasurer?

DICK NEIDERHISER

Of all the candidates who are running for student body president, we feel that Dick Neiderhiser is the most qualified. He has been at Olivet for three years and served the last two as a member of the student council.

He has had exceptional leadership training in his role of sophomore class president this year.

Dick is a member of Orpheus choir and traveled for the school with the Vikings quartette last summer. He directed the music during our spring revival recently, showing himself to be a spiritual leader by the burden he carried for it. Dick is called to the ministry, and has gone out different week-ends into the various churches to preach.

Curt Brady is running with Dick for student body treasurer. He also has leadership ability, having been elected president of both Orpheus and the Music Educator's club. He, too, is a member of the Viking quartette, and he and Dick have had much experience working together in that capacity.

We are assured by both these candidates that if elected they will do their utmost to serve capably the students.

ED BEHR

Those of us who have backed Ed Behr have tried to show you why we think he is the man for the job.

You have had a chance to hear and think over the platform that we have presented to you. Ed is a very capable man for the job, as his records show. He is willing to work hard and we assure you that he definitely has the backbone and stamina for the job. His position as president of the junior class this year and his past experience as general president of our NYPS have given him practical leadership opportunities.

Ed has also been active in extra-curricular activities, being one of the mainstays of the Spartan society and its elected president for the coming year, and a member of the Orpheus choir. He served on the student council this year, also.

Ed's running mate, Jim Leach, is, like Ed, qualified for his position. This year he has been business manager of the Glimmerglass, thus having very practical experience in keeping records and handling money. If elected treasurer, you may be sure that he will do a "number 1" job in his position.

Both of these candidates are sincere Christians who desire only to be of the best possible service to the students of ONC.

Trojans Capture Baseball Opener

The society baseball season was opened April 17th. The teams that played were the Green and White Spartans and the Blue and White Trojans. The Trojans were the victors in 7 innings 9-1. For the Spartans 4 hits were made. The hits were one each for Taylor, Mathew, Small, and Fowler. The mighty Trojans got 8 hits. They were made by Fleck (3), Pauley (3), Ward (1), and Gollither (1). The Trojans played good ball and got the breaks. John Thompson pitched a wonderful game. Now Coach "Cal" Johnson has one victory and Coach Don Durick has one defeat. But don't count the Spartans out because they were hampered by Orpheus Tour. So-long till next time I see you out on the diamond.

On Saturday evening, May 5, the "O" Club will have their annual banquet which is this year open to all. Tom Clenden is master of ceremonies and an outstanding feature of the evening will be Gerald Greenlee and Don Hustad in one of their enjoyable musical programs. Sport films will also be shown.

This year the letters for football, softball, and basketball will be awarded that night. Also next year's "O" Club officers will be announced and the "O" Club paddle will be presented to the new president.

A wonderful meal is being planned and it is one evening that will not be forgotten for a long time. Come on fellows, get your date, and we'll all have a great time.

Powers, Winne Are Candidates By Petition

HARDY POWERS

Hardy Powers, candidate for student body president, is a well-known figure on campus. For the past year he has capably led the Student Prayer Band, serving as president of this organization. This position has given him much experience in leadership and has proven him to be one who can carry responsibility. Hardy, studying for the ministry, is a stable Christian leader. He has a personal interest in each individual student.

Hardy is married and is the father of two small children. He is a veteran of World War II, having served several years in the U. S. Navy.

DON WINNE

One of the most outstanding students on campus is Don Winne. A member of student council, Don has been very active in many of its projects and activities. The cleaning and furnishing of the Student Union Room and the purchasing of the new light posts for the campus were largely due to the efforts of Don. He is familiar with the work of the student council and is well aware of the duties and problems which a person in this office must face. He is a good organizer, capable speaker, and always willing to work hard. Don keenly feels his responsibility for each student and will determinedly stand up for the right.

THIS-THESE, WHY NOT KISS - KEESE?

English, they say, is the language most used,

Most spoken, most written, most abused.

The plural of box, we know is boxes,

Yet the plural of ox is oxen, not oxes.

A goose is a goose, but two are called geese,

But why isn't more than one moose called meese?

A mouse and his family are mentioned as mice,

But the plural of house is houses, not hice.

The plural of brother is brothers or brethren,

And speak our good English atrociously bad.

The plural of man? The answer is men.

The plural of pan? Who'd dare to say pen?

If more than one tooth we designate teeth,

Then why isn't more than one booth termed beeth?

If one thing is that and three things are those,

Then why do we swear at the cats and not cose?

A cow in the plural is sometimes kine,

But whoever spoke about two vows as vine?

You can readily double a foot and have feet.

But, try as you might, you can't make root, reet.

If this in my hand were two, 'twould be these,

And yet is the plural of kiss ever keese?

No wonder, then foreigners nearly go mad,

And speak our good English atrociously bad.
