OLIVET NAZARENE COLLEGE

APRIL 1, 1953

DuBois Will Speak Before Juniors, Seniors; Annual Banquet To Be In Chicago—April 25

Despite wild guesses by members of the senior class about the speaker for this year's annual Junior-Senior Banquet, he will be Dr. Lauriston J. DuBois, general secretary of the Nazarene Young Peoples Society.

The semi-formal affair is listed on the college calendar of events for 8 p. m., April 25, and will be held on Chicago's north side in the Town House Restaurant.

According to General Chairman Charlie Pauley, the Town House is in the "Gold Coast" district of the north side. This area is noted for its high class eating places and also as a wealthy apartment house district.

Town House is probably one of the better dining spots in the Windy City since it is approved by Duncan Hines, always a mark of fine food.

The banquet is to be held in the Garden Room, a large, brightly colored room, capable of seating 175 persons. A nine course dinner will be served and the main course is steak.

This occasion is one of the yearly traditional events of the Olivet school term and is sponsored by the junior class for the seniors, who will be saying goodbye to the college shortly after the affair. It is the last project the two classes are involved in together.

As it is an event to be remembered, Junior Class President Jack Jones and Banquet Chairman Pauley urge the attendance of all juniors and seniors on the colorful night. Married students may bring their husbands or wives and engaged couples may bring their fiances, but otherwise only juniors or seniors are invited.

Plans for the completed program and other information about the party will be announced later by officials of the junior class.

Chairmen of committees working under Pauley are Phyllis McGraw, program; Charles Taylor, invitation; Don Mathews, transportation; and James Sheckler, decoration.

Other committee members are:

Program — Marilyn Starr, Leah Dell

Phillips; Eunice Hurt, Marilyn Anthony, Anita Richards, Al Wells.

Invitation — Darrell Holland, Violet Schoenwetter, Phyllis Ball, Marilyn Mattax, Dorothy Dines, Marilyn Cotner, Ruth Shearer, LaVere Webster.

Transportation — Frank Fitzgerald, Bill Nichols, Charles Barnes, Edwin Brieden, Max Deaton, Manuel Ceralde.

ORPHEUS TOUR IS APRIL 10-19

Orpheus Choir of Olivet Nazarene College is scheduled to begin its annual choir tour of part of the Central Education Zone, April 10. The group will return to the campus April 19.

Commencement To Be May 28

Commencement activities for the May graduating class of Olivet Nazarene College will begin May 20 with the Investiture Day service and conclude with the Commencement exercise itself, at 10 a. m., May 28.

Events included in the graduating celebration are Baccalaureate Sermon and the Annual Sermon, both May 24; Phi Delta Lambda Dinner, May 26; class reunions, Alumni Business meeting, Alumni dinner, and the Commencement Concert all May 27.

Speaker at the Baccalaureate service will be Dr. Harold W. Reed, president of the college. Dr. Mendell Taylor, registrar and professor of church history at Nazarene Theological Seminary, will be the Annual Sermon speaker, and Dr. L. T. Corlett, president of the Seminary, will be the Commencement speaker.

O.N.C. Professor Makes Eight-day Tour at Holy Land

The Rev. Sylvester Smith, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene of Kankakee, and professor of Bible at Olivet College, left Wednesday, March 18 on a 24-day trip that will be highlighted by an eight-day tour of the Holy Land.

The Rev. Mr. Smith is making the trip with 24 other persons — ministers, doctors, teachers, and, in some instances, their wives. The tour is known as the Gretzinger Easter Tour and is one of several arranged each year by Harold W. Gretzinger of Pasadena, California.

According to the schedule, nearly the entire trip will be made by plane. The group left New York Thursday, March 19, and arrived in London the same day. The group spent a couple days in London. The schedule calls for two days in Paris, two days in Rome, a day in Athens, and two days in Cairo, Egypt.

The group flew into Beirut, Syria, on March 29 and then switched to auto for the tour to the Holy Land. Among the highlights of the tour will be a prayer meeting to be held in the Garden of Gethsemane, a communion service to be held in the Upper Room and a visit to the nativity scene in Bethlehem.

At Haifa, Palestine, on April 7 the group will again take to the air and begin the return trip. The Americans will return by Athens, Rome, Paris, and London and the Rev. Mr. Smith plans to be back in Kankakee on April 14.

The Kankakee minister scheduled several speaking engagements for this trip. On March 22 he preached in the morning service at the Parkhead Nazarene Church in London. On Easter Sunday he will speak to the pilgrims at a sunrise service at the open tomb and at the regular morning service that Sunday he will preach at the Nazarene Church in Jerusalem.

Result? Another Good Revival

Even as these words are being written, Olivet College is in the midst of another revival campaign. Although this is coming from the typewriter before the final service last Sunday, surely it is safe to say this spring series was a great success.

The evangelist was the Rev. Harold Daniels, pastor of the First Nazarene Church in Albuquerque, New Mexico. His messages were deep with "spiritual meat," logically planned, and full of interesting material, witty remarks and illustrations.

Rev. Daniels has had 4 years of pastoral experience including churches in Lincoln, Nebraska; Ontario, Oregon; Nampa, Idaho; Colorado Springs, Colorado; and Ashland, Kentucky. He also has been an evangelist, and has been the preacher for numerous conventions, youth institutes and camp meetings. He has formerly held revivals in two other Nazarene colleges.

Another highpoint of the revival was the music planned and directed by Professor Gerald Greenlee. He was assisted by choirs, quartets, soloists, and instrumentalists of the college.

"Hallelujah, Christ Arose"

Just a few more days and the most important holiday of the Christian church will be upon us—EASTER.

Thank God for Bethlehem's manager, the early life of Jesus, His ministry of sermons, parables and miracles, Gethsemane, Pilate's judgment hall with the many stripes, and for Calvary.

But may we be most thankful of all for the Son of a Carpenter who sawed a hole through the door called death and arose on the other side shouting, "I am He that was dead, but now am alive for evermore, and I have with me the keys of death, hell and the grave."

Next Sunday we will commemorate Easter, so wherever we are, at home or on Olivet's campus, may we keep in mind its true meaning. For, it was on the first Easter morning that Jesus arose from the tomb.

...Easter Offering Next Sunday

The Easter offering for missions will be taken at the Olivet College Church next Sunday. Pastor L. Guy Nees still is hoping that the church will give at least $1,000.

Smith's Dream Comes True

Olivet is going to have a representative in Jerusalem at the open tomb of Jesus Easter morning since the Rev. Sylvester Smith now is visiting in the Holy Land.

Rev. Smith, pastor of Kankakee First Church of the Nazarene and instructor of Bible on the campus, has dreamed of journeying to the Holy Land for many years, but it was a Kankakee physician who started the ball rolling that has helped the pastor to realize his dream.

The doctor, who does not want his identity revealed, performed surgery on the Smiths' son, John, around the first of the year. During one of his conversations with Smith, the subject of the Holy Land came up and the Olivet professor said he always had hoped to visit Palestine some time.

Immediately the M. D. pulled out some money, gave it to Smith and explained: "Let this be the start of a Holy Land trip fund for you."

This generosity of the doctor aroused the preacher to start a private fund which has grown into enough to make the trip.

Today Professor Smith is on that dream trip and is in the Holy Land right now. When he gets back he will be reporting to his church and the school on the trip. But, you can be assured that one of the first persons he will report to will be that Kankakee physician who made the first donating impetus for the trip.

Not Doing So Well

NYPS President Harrold Curl (most eligible bachelor on campus) reports that the drive to raise money toward the general young people's project of building Bible schools in Australia and South Africa is progressing very slowly toward the local $250 goal.

Curl says he received a letter recently from L. J. DuBois, General NYPS Secretary, asking us to please do our best. So, let's rally to the cause and give like only Olivet students are known to give.

Those on Olivet's campus who have anticipated either participation in or listening to Mendelssohn's "Elijah" on May 9 will learn with regret that the performance has been cancelled, due to a number of circumstances. Present plans are to give the oratorio during the 1953-54 school year.

Six-Hundred Youths Sing

It was a thrilling experience indeed to the huge audience which gathered in the Moody Memorial Church on the afternoon of Sunday, March 15, to hear six hundred Christian young people sing the praises of our God. The choral festival, which climaxed the Church Music Conference at Moody Bible Institute, featured the Wheaton College Chapel Choir, the Moody Chorale, the A Cappella Choir of Fort Wayne Bible College and the Orpheus Choir. Each of the four choirs presented its own group of numbers and during the afternoon's program the choirs, combined with the Moody Oratorio Society, sang "Psalm 150" of Cesar Franck, Brahms' "How Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place" and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah," accompanied by organ and orchestra. Dr. Walter B. Larsen conducted the mass chorus in the Handel number.

Hess Appears In Chicago

Several music students journeyed to Chicago's Orchestra Hall the evening of March 16 to hear Dame Myra Hess, famed British pianist.

Mattax Gives Recital

Saturday evening, March 21, at 8 p. m. Edsal Mattax, senior in the Division of Fine Arts and pupil of Prof. Naomi Larsen, presented his vocal recital before an appreciative audience in Goodwin Hall. He was assisted by his wife, Marilyn Horner Mattax, in two groups of organ selections. Mr. Mattax's lyric tenor voice was clear and vibrant from the vocal invocation number "Hear Us Our Father" to the final "Gypsy Life." Called back for an encore, he sang the familiar "Yours is My Heart Alone," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Mattax.

Chancel Presents Easter Program

In order to better prepare students and faculty for a meaningful Easter season, the Chancel Choir, under the direction of Prof. Gerald Greenlee presented as the final chapel program before vacation Maunder's cantata "Olivet to Calvary." Dr. Ella Leona Gale accompanied at the organ and soloists were Leah Dell Phillips, soprano; Gerald Barkley, tenor; and R. Forrest Witbeck, baritone.

At this season of the year our most sacred thoughts turn to the cross of Calvary, the death of our Lord, superseded only by His glorious triumphant resurrection. Easter is the "high day" of the Christian year. If there ever was any question when Christ was born as to whether he would succeed or not in His life's mission, it is now all swept away. When He cried from the cross, "It is finished" there was complete fulfillment of His task on earth. Though in mortal pain, He could look back upon all the events of His life with satisfaction. The temptation in the wilderness, the accusations of religious leaders, the suspicions of small men, the betrayal of evil ones, the nights of prayer and loneliness, the heartache, tears and suffering of Pilate's judgment hall, together with the cruel torturous hours on the cross, are all now finished. He dies, but He dies knowing that His task is completed, salvation is accomplished, the will of God is done. This is the way we should travel. NO! We can never be "Saviours" in the sense that Christ was, but we are to carry our cross as He carried His. His was the cross of salvation and redemption—ours the cross of service. "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me," says Jesus. It may seem that the task of bearing the cross is at times very unpleasant and distasteful, and it is, for it was not even pleasant to Christ. "Christ who for the joy that was set before Him, endured the cross." But while the actual experience of the cross was not to be cherished, yet the knowledge that this was a salvation-bringing event held Jesus to the cross until He bowed His head and gasped "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit." So the cross-bearing experiences of our lives, while not desired, yet will be borne faithfully if we can have the assurance that this is God's way and the way of help and blessing for someone.

—Rev. L. Guy Nees

University Choir Guests at Olivet

The O.N.C. campus was privileged on March 16 to have as its guests members of the Southern Illinois University A Cappella Choir and Madrigal singers. The choir, under the direction of Prof. Floyd V. Wakeland, was completing its spring tour and returning to Carbondale when it visited Olivet for a chapel program and lunch in Miller Dinning Hall.

Those in attendance felt that the outstanding feature of the concert was the antiphonal singing of the choir with the madrigal singers, fifteen selected voices, as the echoing choir.

The Madrigal singing group was organized on the Southern Illinois campus by Mr. Wakeland in 1940, for the purpose of giving students experience in small ensemble singing and for the enjoyment of singing madrigals. The Elizabethan costume is used in all their appearances and the group sings informally from around a table in the fashion of the English singers. Singing is always done entirely without accompaniment.

Faculty Members Attend Conference

March 13 and 14 the English and speech department teachers of Olivet Nazarene College attended the American Council of Teachers of English Conference on Communication in Chicago. Those attending from Olivet were Dean C. S. McClain, and Professors LeRoy Brown, Winona Day Kell, and Blanche Bowman.

ENROLLMENT IS 830

Final enrollment for the second semester at Olivet Nazarene College is 830, it was announced by the acting registrar, C. S. McClain.

Visitation Groups Go Out

A couple of weekends ago several folks representing College Church did some personal visitation work. Saturday, March 21, the intermediates passed out 2,700 pieces of literature in the community and the following Sunday two practical theology classes of Professor R. L. Lunsford took a survey of local people and their church affiliations.

Program Goes Over

Pastor Nees reports that he still gets favorable reports on the Sunday radio program. Walter Loftice, Olivet student and pastor of the Gilman Nazarene Church, says his shut-ins and sick folks from the Gilman church especially are receiving benefit from the broadcast.

Editorial...

During the past school year here at Olivet there has been formulated on the campus two committees whose purposes are to make Olivet a more enjoyable and appealing educational institution.

First, we have the Campus Improvements Committee. This committee was appointed by the president of Olivet's associated students, Gerald Green. Its primary function is to outline a general program for improving the looks of the O.N.C. campus as well as maintaining the added improvements. Perhaps you've wondered who was behind the obtaining of the new flag which now flies from the flag-pole in the center of the campus. Also you'll soon see new waste cans placed around Olivet's grounds. The committee is investigating possibilities for a new system of signs on and off the campus. There are numerous other things the committee wants to do in the way of improving the campus of Olivet, among them being a more complete program for "clean up" day.

The Campus Improvements Committee, their efforts and accomplishments are all well and good. However, the president of the committee, Don Durick, says only as the student body lends their sincere cooperation, then and only then will a drive for campus improvements be a success.

The second group mentioned above, whose purpose is to help adopt general policies on the campus so as to grant to the students a maximum amount of satisfaction, is known as the Student Advisory Council to the Dean of Students.

The Advisory Council consists of class presidents, campus publication editors, MDA and WRA presidents, prayer band presidents, and student body president.

The Improvements Committee and the Advisory Council have work and objectives of the same nature. Thus, that which is necessary for the success of one movement is just as imperative for the other. I refer to sincere cooperation on the part of O.N.C. students, which is a "must" if the efforts of these two groups are not in vain.

Not only do they solicit your cooperation but suggestions directed to the personnel of these groups would be perfectly welcome.

Our goal is a common one. However, as we make strides toward our objectives we must saturate our efforts with unification and cooperation. Perhaps the very thing you've been hoping to see established here at Olivet is being given thorough and serious consideration. But if not, acquaint yourself with the facts, make your suggestions, and lend your undivided cooperation. Remember, as we contribute, so shall we benefit.

Know Your Professor—

PROF. D. J. STRICKLER

A familiar figure on the campus of Olivet is Prof. D. J. Strickler, head of the biology department.

Prof. Strickler has been connected with the college in one way or another for 27 years. He was a member of the graduating class of 1929, in old Olivet. And since that time he has been cast in the role of professor here at Olivet, recently receiving his 20-year service award. During his days at Olivet he served on the Aurora Staff, and lettered in baseball. He took graduate work in Michigan State where he received his Master's degree; additional work was done at Ohio State.

Shirley, 19, and Joan, 14, are the two daughters of Prof. and Mrs. Strickler, the former, a well-known figure on the campus and assistant editor of the Aurora. Joan attends the Bradley Grade School where she is in the eighth grade.

As a member of the faculty here at Olivet, Prof. Strickler for the last 15 years has been advisor for the Aurora, and has sponsored a college class every one of his 23 years here. As such he has claimed several successful Junior Sneaks (when he has been a Junior sponsor) and several Senior "catches" (when he has been a Senior sponsor).

There is never a dull moment in Prof. Strickler's life, for in addition to his teaching duties, he has several hobbies — among them photography, the collecting of antiques, and the hunting of small game. Currently he is doing research work in hydroponics. One of his prized possessions is his thesis entitled "Development of the Nursing Mouse — Mus Musculus."

Professor Strickler will be a candidate for the office of Town Clerk in Bourbonnais Township on the "People's" ticket Tuesday, April 7. His experience and education make him well qualified for the job.

(Adv.)

A very active personality in church work, Prof. Strickler is an ordained elder in the Church of the Nazarene. The biology professor served for five years as Sunday School Superintendent of the College Church, is now chairman of the College Church building committee, and chairman of the church trustees.

It is noticed that Strickler activates himself in civic affairs also. A former Exchange Club president in Kankakee, and a member of the American Men of Science organization, he is listed in "Who's Who in the Midwest." The O.N.C. instructor also holds membership with Sigma Xi, a professional fraternity

Orpheus Takes 21st Tour

The annual spring exodus of Orpheus Choir members will occur April 10 when the choir, now in its twenty-first concert season under its founder, Dr. Larsen, will begin its tour. The home concert will not be given on April 9 in Howe Chapel, as originally scheduled, but instead on Sunday evening, May 10, in the college church.

for research men in science.

Here at Olivet Prof. Strickler is chairman of the Visual Aids Committee, and plays a vital part in Olivet's publicity program as a photographer.

A friend of everyone, Prof. Strickler has many admirers and close associates among Olivetians, and we hereby express our appreciation for the life of devotion and service which has so characterized the professor through the years.

Olivet Library Buys 15,000 Volumes From Canterbury College

Olivet recently added to its library nearly 15,000 volumes, including bound and unbound magazines. The library obtained these books from Canterbury College, located in Danville, Indiana. Canterbury, a liberal arts college, closed its doors in 1951.

The late Dr. Robert Liggett, former professor at Canterbury and one time pastor of the Nazarene Church in Clayton, Indiana, before his death, knew that Canterbury College was selling its library and was very much interested in Olivet purchasing it. He contacted Olivet in 1951 and Dr. Reed went to Canterbury to discuss the situation with the acting president. In December, the entire faculty library committee went to examine the books. In the early part of 1952 the committee placed their bid

It took three trips of the Olivet College trucks to transport the books from Canterbury to Olivet. This included books in nearly all fields of study.

Along with the books came the card catalog and shelf list. Science and physics equipment were also purchased through separate bids.

Some of the outstanding sets acquired are as follows: A Cambridge Ancient

Official Statistics For Olivet's Tri-Society Basketball Season Announced

By Chuck McCullough

The official and final statistics for the past society basketball season finds hardly a single unbroken record left in the wake of the terrific scoring pace set by the three squads. A new team scoring record was set by the tall Trojan five as they jammed 577 points through the cords for a per game average of 72 points.

The 87 points scored by the Indians against the Trojans stands a new single game mark, and Wendell Parsons' 29 points in a single game is another record that will be tough to match. His team-mate, Chuck McCullough, connected for 142 points over the entire year, and that stands as the highest total in several campaigns. Our co-champs, the Indians and Trojans strut seven men averaging from 10 to 17 points per contest, while the Spartans, even in losing, had three with averages in the double figures. Probably another record is the shooting of another Indian, Don Bell, which was better than 50 per cent.

More torrid shooting was seen in the class tournament, as once again 10 men finished with two figure averages. Although the Sophomores, led by Merrill Ashline's 17 point average, walked off with the championship, the lowly Juniors had the man with the best total in Chuck Taylor, who scorched the mesh with 77 points.

The scoring statistics are as follows. (Note should be taken that there are six players that averaged better than 10 points in the class tournament that didn't appear in the season's top ten, which makes sixteen men who are quite capable of pushing that ball through the hoop):

Memos by Marilyn

"Spring is sprung, the grass is riz— I wonder where the girlies is?"

Now that basketball is the forgotten sport and baseball and track are coming into the picture, the little rhyme above may be only too true. When it comes to track too few girls participate. Some of the events on the agenda for Field Day are running and standing high jumps, standing and running broad jumps, shot put, 50 yard and 100 yard dashes, and the 440 yard relay. These constitute a variety of events, so every girl should be able to enter at least one of them. Although Field Day is still a ways off, those who want to enter into its activities should start practicing now. Don't wait until two weeks before the meet — you'll be sorry! (Voice of experience). Muscles which you never thought existed will be stiff, and so you need a while to condition your body to the exercise.

Girls, this is an easy way to get into "O" Club. You need only eight points, and a first place is 5, a second is 3, and a third is 1 point. If any of you are interested in participating in Field Day you should see the coaches of your respective societies right away.

This spring instead of having softball there may be a different sport introduced for the girls. It is called field hockey and at one time was played here at Olivet. Those girls who are in the physical education classes will hear more about it and if any others are interested they should see the coaches of their particular societies also.

For the girls who do not take part in track and field hockey, the warm weather also brings tennis, croquet, hiking, or just watching the boys' baseball games. Join in some activity; it's fun and besides it is good for you. Then the rhyme will read: "Spring is sprung, the grass is riz — now I know where the girlies is!"

We Christians must hurl Martin Luther's inkpot at the devil.

—Zwemer.

Great Words—

A world without a Sabbath would be like a summer without flowers.

—Henry Ward Beecher.

All that the Constitution guarantees is the pursuit of happiness; you have to catch up with it yourself.

—Sir Gerald Campbelle.

* * *

Associate yourself with men of good quality if you esteem your own reputation; for it is better to be alone than in bad company.

—George Washington.

Sell no virtue to purchase wealth, nor liberty to purchase power.

—Benjamin Franklin.

* * *

Holy Scripture is a sweet-scented herb, and the more you rub it, the more it emits its fragrance.

—Martin Luther.

Some churches value their machineries above their purposes.

—Phillips Brooks.

* * *

Hope is like the wing of an angel, soaring up to heaven, and bearing our prayers to the throne of God.

—Jeremy Taylor.

Never trust anybody not of sound religion, for he that is false to God can never be true to man.

—Lord Burleigh.

O.N.C. Professor—

Olivet professor was royally entertained by such persons as a professor in an American University, in Beirut, a person who is chairman of mayors in the Lebanon area, another who is a physician and still another who is a newspaper editor, all of whom are uncles of Herb Samra. Samra, one of Smith's students at Olivet, hails from Saginaw, Michigan.

Waggin Tongue

Well, my fine feathered friends, spring seems to be back with us again. And you don't have to look at the budding trees, smell the new green grass, or listen for the robin's call to know it's spring on campus .... The big bad bears who have been hibernating for the winter months in Chapman Hall have come out of hiding and are showing themselves again .... Then the girls who have been dreaming of this great event through the long winter are out strolling, strolling, hoping, hoping ....

Jim Hogan is the fastest worker we've seen around for quite a spell — sailors have a way with girls though, 'eh Margaret? .... Naomi Combs still has that far away look in her eyes, but the date isn't so far away is it, Naomi? .... Love holds no season for Curry Garvin, you'll find him at Williams door rain or shine

.... Francis Langholf has left campus, and the kids are going to miss his little light in the wee small hours .... Well now, Millie Booth, you've kept us all guessing long enough .... Marilyn Anthony is still looking for that certain man in her life .... Joy Arledge is still particular who she flashes those big brown eyes at .... Barb Bell and Bob Squires seem quite content with each other and their future plans ....

Marilyn Granger and Kenny Money-maker enjoy those strolls together on weekends .... Frank Fitzgerald is still the campus Casanova, and that convertible doesn't hurt matters any .... Say Janet, we like what Missouri raises! .... Bob Schafer is "out" again, and taking Chuck Taylor's place at the side door.... Phyllis McGraw, why are you keeping all your love affairs such a mystery? ....

maybe that makes for less competition? .... How's John Neff been doing with Elsie Morse lately? .... Orline Slade has snatched herself a good catch .... Mae Spearman writes letters to her sailor while waiting for the telephone to ring .... Wanda Terry comes up with the answer to who's going to ride in the new Pontiac ....

News seeps into our office from the Academy occasionally, and we hear Grenda Eggers has many hearts and heads going 'round .... Why doesn't Don Bond give the high school girls a break occasionally? .... Our new Junior —Tom has broken the ice, and of course we all know who with ....

Marilyn and Ed Mattax made a sweet duo at the recital .... Doug McAdams still has lots to offer a girl who finds him long enough to give him the eye .... Wayne Gallup is dating frequently, and still limits his realms to the frosh .... Cliff Everett still flirts with them all .... Jim Knox, Jack Little and Dave Brown head the list of fellows whose hearts belong to someone, but not around here .... Lynn VanAken gets away from his duties at the Y to have an infrequent date .... Eunice Hurt gives reliable service to all the bookworms .... Betsy Smith and Paul Brooks, what's happened to you — have you exhausted the list of Olivet's blondes? .... John Baltz slow down .... LaVere Webster is beginning to look more like Daniel .... you too, Fred Kerns .... Say Bob Crabtree, you could go far with that smile, song and shoe shine! ....

Well kids — this was "hot" news when we went to press, and if it's pretty "cold" when it gets to you, please forgive. I know it's spring, but a woman has a right to change her mind — all year 'round!

See ya' next issue.

AURORA GOES TO PRESS

The Aurora, Olivet Nazarene College's year book, went to press early in March and is expected to return during the early part of May. Editor of the book is Miss Marilyn Starr.
