Olivet President Sends Season's Greetings To The Student Body

It is a real joy and privilege to extend to you Season's Greetings through the pages of the Glimmerglass.

I want to share with you some thoughts that came to me, while selecting and decorating the Christmas tree at 1 Olivet Street, last week.

In choosing a tree, I wanted one full of boughs. In placing it in the living room, the spot selected was in front of a large window so that it might bring brightness and cheer to those who pass by. Then the decorating process began: first, a large star was placed at its very top; next many multi-colored lights were added to give it warmth and friendliness; after this the ornaments were placed on the tree to add to its beauty; and then many lovely gifts were placed beneath the tree.

As I thought about all these things, I breathed a prayer for everyone at Olivet.

Dear Lord, may our lives be upright, well-rounded, and full; may we find a place in life where we can bring happiness and joy to those we meet; may the Christ of Bethlehem ever have the pre-eminence, high over all, and may our lives radiate warmth and friendliness. Let us be adorned with the beauty of Holiness, and may we give to others the gifts of Faith and Hope and Love. Amen.

Mrs. Reed joins me in wishing you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. And, in the words of Dickens' Christmas Carol, "May God bless us, everyone."

—Harold W. Reed, President.

1,400 Hear 19th "Messiah" Given By Olivet Choirs

A total of 1,400 people gathered to hear the Orpheus and Apollo Choirs, numbering 120 voices, present the nineteenth annual performance of Handel's "Messiah" on Sunday, December 12, at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the First Methodist Church of Kankakee.

Personnel of the chorus represented thirteen states, Guatemala, Haiti, and Lebanon. The double choir was used in antiphonal effects as well as a mass choir in the more dramatic choruses of the oratorio.

The concert was under the direction of Dr. Walter Burdick Larsen, Chairman of the Division of Fine Arts, and was accompanied by the string quartet and Professor Kenneth Bade at the organ.

This year's cast of soloists again featured experienced artists. The soprano was Phyllis Murphy, who recently made her professional debut at the famous Tanglewood Music Camp in Massachusetts, when she sang the leading role in Aaron Copland's opera, "The Tender Land." Miss Murphy has appeared in many other operatic performances and was formerly soloist in the University Place Christian Church in Urbana, Illinois.

The contralto and tenor roles were sung by two members of Olivet's music faculty, Naomi Larsen and Daniel Liddell. Mr. Liddell is a former first tenor of the Northerners of WGN fame and also was a regular member of the Club Time choral ensemble, which broadcasts over NBC.

By popular demand Bruce Foote, well-known concert, opera, radio and television star, was re-engaged to sing the bass-baritone role.

Registration Began

Dec. 9 For 2nd Term

A procedure for pre-registration will be set up, making it possible for all students except philosophy and theology majors to complete their registration in the nine-day period from December 9-17.

Philosophy and theology majors will begin registering the first day the Christmas recess ends, January 3 up to January 17. This procedure for the philosophy and theology majors is due to the difficulty in getting to see their counselors because of the senior comprehensive exams being given.

300 Present At Christmas Party

A crowd of 300 Olivet College students, faculty and staff members attended the annual semi-formal all-school Christmas party, sponsored by the Student Council, last Saturday night in the Parish Hall of the First Methodist Church, in Kankakee.

The Olivetians, under the direction of Professor Daniel W. Liddell presented a musical program for the evening entertainment. This was the main appearance and program for the Olivetians this holiday season. Their program was presented in three parts: (1) A Family Christmas, (2) Manger Scene, and (3) The Lighted Christmas Tree, featuring staging, lighting, and novelty effects besides music.

Christmas gifts were presented to Dr. Reed, president of Olivet College; Dr. R. W. Gardner, Dean of Students; Dr. John H. Cotner, Student Council sponsor; Mrs. Wanda Denson, Dean of Women; Millard Reed, Student Council President; and to all the class sponsors by Santa Claus, in the person of LeMoyné Leas.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was Millard Reed, student body president.

Working on the committees to plan the party were Charles Hasselbring, general chairman; Gene Phillips and Pat McGuire, decorations; Cal Matthews, publicity; and Mary Birchard, refreshments.

Students on scholastic probation will not be allowed to pre-register.

By pre-registering students will avoid standing in long lines on registration day.

Don't forget, the first step in pre-registration is to stop at the business office. Students must clear with that office before registration cards will be issued.

OLIVET'S NEWLY FORMED choir, the Apollo Chorus, is pictured in the lower right-hand corner. The Chorus, which is made up of 65 Olivet students, assisted the Orpheus Choir in presenting the "Messiah" this year.

North Central Examines Olivet

An examination was made by the North Central Association on December 6 and 7. The examination was made by Dr. Melvin W. Hyde, Assistant President of Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, and Dean Ivan Stone, Dean of Beloit College, Beloit, Wisconsin.

The purpose of this visit to Olivet's campus was to make a first-hand study of Olivet's educational program. It is the desire of the college to become affiliated with the regional accrediting association which in this area, is North Central.

The final disposition of all college applications will be announced sometime between March 21-25 of 1955 according to a statement made from President Reed's office.

Sorry!

Everyone makes mistakes and the Glimmerglass is no exception.

In the last issue of the Glimmerglass, the editor failed to credit the basketball, the crowning of the queen, and the first place float pictures to Prof. D. J. Strickler.

Also concerning pictures, Steven Young, a piano student of Mrs. Harlow Hopkins, was pictured on the Fine Arts float during the 1954-55 homecoming parade.

Speaking of parades, the Home Economics Club of Olivet was awarded the third place prize for an outstanding float.

Thanks! To Close Motor Sales of Kankakee for loaning a car to the Home Economics Club of Olivet for the 1954 Tip-Off parade.

—Dennis Hill, editor.

Newspaper Has Christmas Gala

Adding to the festivities on Olivet's campus, the Glimmerglass staff members and friends met at the Wagon Wheel on December 6 for a Christmas party which took the place of their annual Christmas staff meeting.

Professor James Johnson, GLIMMERGLASS sponsor, was presented a pair of black dress shoes by Prentiss Tomlinson, business manager, representing the staff.

Joe Herdler, with his gift of gab and dictionary of jokes, acted as master of ceremonies for the evening.

Carols, led by Dave Anderson, games, and a gift exchange preceded the refreshments which included sandwiches, hot chocolate and potato chips.

Approximately 25 members and guests attended the party.

Season's Greetings From Glimmerglass

The officers and staff members of the Olivet GLIMMERGLASS take this opportunity to express a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all its readers and advertisers.

Choosing The Best Gift

BY PROFESSOR JAMES JOHNSON
Glimmerglass Advisor

As Christmas nears, everyone will sooner or later ask themselves "What shall I give?" Some judge a gift only by its monetary value. Others consider the usefulness of the gift. Many give simply because custom forces them to do so. What should we consider in choosing the best gift for that person?

Let's look for a clue back to that first Christmas when the Greatest Gift of all was given. It is true, God gave man what he needed most—happiness by way of liberty from sin's burden, but more than that, God gave of Himself, of His own personality when He gave His Son.

As we seek to make folks happy with our gifts, we too must give out of our own personalities, part of ourselves. If we do this, the usefulness or value of the gifts will take second place in the minds of those who receive them.

For example: parents aren't as interested in receiving a parcel worth $5 or $20 or even $50 as they are in receiving an expression of thanks and appreciation for all they've tried to do. And an encouraging word or a smile or sincere sympathy mean more to one who is disheartened or sad than some gayly wrapped, but cold and lifeless article. Being a friend to a friendless person means much more than some item of merchandise. The love one shows means far more to a lover than a gift of any value. These are gifts out of one's own personality.

In your own personality you will find the possibilities for the greatest gift you can give.

If you give of yourself, any article you include with it will be magnified many times in value.

If you are too self-centered and selfish to give out of your own personality: love, cheer, appreciation, friendship, and hope, then give second best. Exchange your merchandise with others, or make a donation to someone who can't match you, but whatever you do, don't ask from others what is too dear for you to part with.

CHRISTMAS EVE

The winter night is 'neath the white
Of freshly fallen snow.
Across the sky with happy light
The stars are bright aglow
As once o'er those Judean hills
They were so long ago.

They still recall the Babe so small,
The angel choir above.
Here heaven's greatest gift of all
The Prince of peace and love
Was born to bring a world new hope
And all their sins remove.

—By Joseph Herdler.

Personals On— Professors

By Herb Samra

Professors always seem to have something unusual to offer along the line of peculiar past experiences. Ordinarily, such experiences would be unheard of by the student body, but Mrs. Winona Kell, professor of English literature, has one in the book of by-gone days that just can't be overlooked.

Some years back, at the home of her in-laws, Mrs. Kell, her husband, and her husband's cousin were earnestly indulging in a game of croquet. It was evening, and the stars were flooding the sky. What a moment for revealing one's innermost affections!

Feeling this way, Mrs. Kell made her way across the croquet court to the manly image standing there. His back was turned to her, and she was well situated for an effective surprise attack. She smoothly inserted her arm in his and said, "Honey, aren't the stars beautiful tonight?" You guessed it! The man she thought was her husband turned out to be the cousin.

Realizing her mistake, and that this man was exceptionally shy, Mrs. Kell submerged into great embarrassment. Her husband's cousin had no words to convey, portraying a passive mood with no reaction, either negative or positive.

The moral: You just can't win in a croquet game when the stars are compelling! Can you?

Religion

In the

SPOTLIGHT

BY HARRY ROMERIL

The words of Jesus Christ, "It is more blessed to give than to receive, is a stimulating thought as we enter the Christmas season. It is one of those strange paradoxes of life that Jesus gives to us.

Giving and receiving is paramount in Christianity, for without giving there can be no receiving. Too many of us, if we are not careful, will find our life becoming stereotyped in the narrow and selfish philosophy of receiving. Or, we can lift ourselves from the materialistic level of life by realizing that life consisteth not in the things that a person receives but in what a person gives.

Through God's gift we have made some profound discoveries. As the wise men followed the star that shone so brightly and led them to discover Jesus Christ, so we, by following Christ have discovered the greatest love. When God loved us it was with an infinite love that we can neither comprehend or describe but a love that we can experience.

By following the Christ of Christmas we have discovered the greatest life. We are souls clothed in a physical body existing in space and time but traveling towards eternity. Death does not end it all but through Jesus Christ we have eternal life.

By God's gift we have discovered the greatest liberty. Liberty today is prevented because of the false conceptions that man has given it. But the Christian experiences a freedom from the burden of sin that weighs upon our consciousness until lifted by Christ.

And, as we have discovered love, life, and liberty through God's gift, we in turn should give to our fellowmen that they may find the fullness of life also.

BY REV. L. GUY NEES

Question: Are there any grounds for the belief in the immaculate conception of Mary?

Answer: The theory of the immaculate conception of Mary, fostered by the Roman Catholic Church involves more than our belief in the Virgin Birth. As far as the Virgin Birth of Christ is concerned it must stand as an element of faith as based upon the Word of God. (Read Isaiah 7:14 and Luke 1:26-35).

The outstanding argument, other than direct scriptural statement, that I know of regarding the Virgin Birth is that Christ lived such a supernatural life, died such a supernatural death, was raised in such a supernatural way, has such a supernatural effect upon men today, that He must have had a supernatural birth.

It is no challenge to my faith to accept belief in the Virgin Birth.

Question: Explain the relationship between present day gift-buying and the true meaning of Christmas.

Answer: Just when the exchanging of gifts had its beginning I do not know. However, I imagine that we base our gift exchange system upon the true Christmas spirit which is always that of giving. "God so loved that He gave."

The wise men brought gifts to the new born King. In that same spirit we give gifts today. The danger is of course that we allow Christmas to become commercialized and materialistic. Let us still remember, as Emerson said, "Rings and jewels are not the gifts but apologies for gifts; the only true gift is a gift of thyself."

Don't Be A "Skid Row" Gastronomist

By Stan Sirota

If you want return invitations to dinner don't be like the recent guest we had at our house.

Proper Etiquette!

Our guest's manners seemed fairly well balanced and normal until he "parked" himself at the dinner table; I say parked because he planked himself "near" the table, undoubtedly relying on an unusually long reach and well educated fingers.

He first meticulously covered his five-dollar silk knit tie with his serviette, allowing his vest to take the brunt of the punishment from an overloaded fork—yes, he did actually use his fork to convey those gluttonous portions of his masticators, after carefully blowing on his food to cool it down. One thing I must admit, he was a past master at balancing the peas on his knife!

He must have been an expert fisherman the way he "speared" all his food with firmly-grasped perpendicular fork. And our "bon vivant" just loves gravy which he literally "scooped" with broken pieces of bread, cleaning and polishing his plate for the final course of delectable pumpkin pie. It was bad enough to talk with a mouthful of solid food, but when it came to the luscious soft pumpkin pie he actually "sprayed" his words over the table.

Grand Finale!

No, I am not exaggerating about our young friend — just listen to the grand finale: After crumpling his napkin and clashing his silver on his plate like the sound of cymbals, he pulls out one of those fancy quill tooth-picks and meticulously goes to work on the set — reaching mostly those hard-to-get molar particles. Oh, yes, the gravy episode necessitated licking his fingers as the serviette had been discarded on the plate.

Yes, there is a moral to this: If you love food and you are blessed with many friends who know how to serve it, might it be "food for thought" to suggest getting a copy of Lizzie Schluntz's Etiquette before your next "tiquette" to a good home-cooked meal—it might be a king's gesture to your stomach!

"Half Truths" And "Truths"

Halftruth: I'm not dating here at ONC because I have a sweet girl back home waiting to get married.

Truth: I forget just who it is she's marrying!

Halftruth: I'm late Prof, because my clock went off at the wrong time this morning and I didn't get up until 7:57 a.m.

Truth: The clock went off at 7:00 a.m. which is plenty early when you didn't get under the covers until 1:15 a.m. I shut the thing back off and went to sleep again.

Halftruth: I'd get more sleep if it weren't for the noisy people down the hall.

Truth: It's impossible to sleep when I'm down the hall having a big time with those noisy people.

No pleasure is comparable to the standing upon the vantage-ground of truth.
—Francis Bacon.

Decorate Campus For Holiday Season

By Lloyd Patterson

Once again the campus at Olivet is exquisitely decorated for the Yuletide season.

The dining hall is beautifully arrayed with white Christmas trees which glisten on a blue background, conveying the feeling of outdoors.

The placing of a 25-foot decorated Christmas tree on the second floor terrace of the administration building is a new feature added this year.

Wreaths of brightly colored lights are found on various campus light poles. The administration building, the three dormitories, the Wagon Wheel, and Goodwin Hall are all decorated for the Christmas season.

Nativity Scene Adds Beauty

Another new attraction this year is the erection of a nativity picture which includes the manger scene, shepherds and the wisemen. This picture is located between two decorated evergreens by the watch-house.

Some of the students who participated in helping to decorate are Harry Romeril, Harvey Galloway, Millard Reed, Cal Mathews, Marvin Hoffert, Dennis Hill, Dick North, Dave Elwood, Katie Shoemaker, Gayla Bambauer, Jo Ann Fraley, Loretta Fraley, Jean Hendershot, Elsie Morse, Harold Rose, Frank Hallum, Rex Morrison, Lloyd Patterson, Chet Barnes, Keith Hawley, Herb Samra, David Whitteberry, Jean Ann Lee, Leota Rose, Wes Bentley, Glenna Nance, Lester Hart, Dianne Sanders, Bill Coil, Winard Wilhoite, Susie Hamell, Eleanor Bolender, and Bob Brown.

Professors who helped are Prof. Liddell, Prof. Collins, Professor and Mrs. Harlow Hopkins, and Professor and Mrs. Larsen.

Cupid's Corner

Two former Olivetians, Darla Hick and Tom Short, were married November 24 in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Tom is now stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Among the recent engagements was that of Maxine Cook and Dave Priest. It was announced November 12 at a party at Howard Johnson's.

At the Christmas Party on December 11, several engagements were announced. They are: Mary Jon Cannon and Harry Romeril; Virginia Sill and Bob Edwards; Patricia Chittick and Richard North; Martha Rife and Bruce Phillips; and Mary Lou Thompson and Jim Reader.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Copeland of Dayton, Ohio, request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Hannah Jean Copeland, to Gene Houchin of Mitchell, Indiana, on December 25, 1954, at 7:30 p.m. in the Parkview Church of the Nazarene, Dayton, Ohio.

Comments
On Current Events

BY DAVE ELWOOD

Senator Joseph McCarthy seems to be a man who inevitably keeps bobbing into headline news. In the November 4 issue of the Glimmerglass, we suggested that McCarthyism was dying, but it, and he, seem very much alive at the present.

The Senate has voted to censure McCarthy but he is still expressing his mind freely. After the censure vote he denounced President Eisenhower as being soft towards communism. That this is a rather extreme statement is indicated by the fact that only one senator openly supported McCarthy in the charge. If President Eisenhower is soft towards communism, then perhaps there isn't much hope for any of us.

It is only reasonable that more faith should be vested in our leaders than this. Otherwise, they should be impeached.

An important repercussion of McCarthy's denunciation and, hence, break with Eisenhower will be its effect on the Republican Party in the 1956 election as well as its effect on the confidence the party enjoys at the present. McCarthy still has strong followers and he is the leader of his segment. A divided Republican Party may mean a Democratic victory in 1956.

The writer holds a pretty definite opinion concerning McCarthy, but he has tried to keep from too clearly expressing it.

Time will prove or disprove him. Personally, I have faith in the President.

250 Olivetians
Attend Banquet

Over 250 students, faculty members and guests attended the Christmas Benefit Banquet on Tuesday evening, December 7, bringing Miller Hall to its full capacity.

The banquet, one of the means for raising funds for the Olivet Food-Basket Project, was presented under the auspices of the Food-Basket Project Committee in collaboration with the Student Council.

The proceeds for the benefit fund, after all expenses were deducted, topped the $100 mark.

Several organizations on campus, and numerous community organizations and companies donated help in one way or another for this program.

Professor Harvey Collins of the Art Department supervised the banquet decorations. Featured along with the Christmas setting was a turkey dinner with all the trimmings and organ music.

The after-dinner musical program consisted of the following, as indicated in the order of their presentation at the banquet: community carol singing, under the direction of Prof. H. Hopkins; The King's Heralders, trumpet trio; The Olivetians, under the direction of Prof. D. Liddell (Liddell sang a special within this presentation); a violin duet by J. Flaughner and A. Richards; The Orpheus Choir, under the direction of Dr. W. B. Larsen. Dr. John H. Cotner was the M.C.

Editor's Note:

Taking into consideration the value of such a student promotion, the spiritual fellowship benefited at the banquet, and the purpose behind the program as a whole, the Christmas Benefit Banquet was a major addition to Olivet's program of activities for the year.

Fellowship Has Project In Momen

By Eleanor Bolender

The completion of the Nazarene Church building at Momen is the project of the Ministerial Fellowship for this year. The church was started several years ago, and the people have been worshipping in the basement. Mr. Wright, member of the College Church and resident of Bourbonnais, is the carpenter for this project. Brodis Smith and other College Church members and students have been working each Saturday.

THE MINISTERIAL FELLOWSHIP project this year is the completion of this Nazarene Church Building in Momen, Illinois.

In 1944, a small group of people, under the leadership of Rev. Earl Gardner, met and held religious services in a store building in Momen, later organizing the Momen Church of the Nazarene.

In 1949, the church purchased property at 5th and Elm Streets and built the basement for their new church. This basement has been their place of worship ever since.

Rev. Raymond Barr, the present pastor at Momen, took over the responsibilities as pastor in 1952. He will graduate this year with a Th.B. degree. In addition to Barr's school work, he travels as a Postal Transportation Clerk for the government. Even though he is busy with his job, school work, and work on construction of the church building, Rev. Barr still finds time for his pastoral calling. During his pastorate there, the average attendance has increased from 26 to 50 per Sunday.

If the weather permits and everything goes according to schedule, they should be able to hold their first service upstairs by the first of February. The plans are to complete the church by the first part of summer in 1955.

Rolland Kerns, president of the Ministerial Fellowship, announces that the club is in need of many workers and would appreciate anyone who would be willing to invest a few hours on Saturday to help in the completion of the church.

"News Briefs"

The student body of Olivet College will be dismissed Friday, December 17, 1954, at 12:20 p.m. for the Christmas vacation. Classes will reassemble Monday, January 3, 1955, at 12:30 p.m.

Don Carpenter, president of the NYPS at the College Church, has announced that 44 subscriptions to the Conquest were sold in the recent Conquest drive.

Campaign manager for this event was Miles Simmons. The all-school winner was Richard Steidel, who sold 15 subscriptions. The total subscriptions sold according to teams were: Yokemates, 20; Crusaders, 14; Navigators, 2; and the Harvesters, 8.

The comprehensive examination is currently being given to members of the senior class. The comprehensive is an oral examination given by a three-member faculty committee. The committee consists of the senior's major and minor professors and a professor of the senior's choosing.

The purposes of the exam are to test the student's grasp of his major field and to test his ability to relate different areas of learning.

Club News

By Eleanor Bolender

The Women's Residence Association held its annual "carol sing" in Williams Hall parlor Dec. 15, at 9:30 p.m. Fellows, as well as the girls, were invited to gather around a beautifully decorated blue and silver Christmas tree for a time of fellowship, entertainment, and group singing.

Featured on the program was a trumpet trio and a girls' trio. Wayne Gallup was there to lead the carol singing.

The Commerce Club also met Dec. 15, in the Student Lounge at 8:30 for their Christmas Party.

Clubs Hold Christmas Parties

At their meeting December 7, the Home Economics Club made and gift-wrapped candy and cookies which they plan to take to the patients at Kankakee State Hospital.

The Future Teachers of America had a Christmas Party and then went caroling Dec. 15.

Due to heavy schedules and many responsibilities, Cal Mathews, treasurer, and Jack Barnell, second vice-president of the Ministerial Fellowship resigned their jobs. The newly elected officers are Jack Hansen, treasurer, and Lee Ketterman, second vice-president.

Know Your Professor—

By Herb Samra

With us at Olivet as lecturer in the Department of Philosophy, is Dr. E. E. Barrett of Cuba, New York.

Dr. Barrett's background is quite unique in that it shows a lifetime of persistence to prepare for the Lord's work.

Dr. Barrett began his high school education in Cuba, New York, later transferring to the high school division at Houghton Seminary where he graduated in 1913. In 1920 he received his A.B. degree from Asbury College, majoring in English. In the fall of 1920 Dr. Barrett began teaching at Wesleyan Methodist College in Central, South Carolina. During the summer seasons he attended Biblical Seminary (1920-21), Marion College (1924), and Harvard Graduate School (1925).

Takes Graduate Work

Early in 1925 Dr. Barrett attended Gordon College of Theology and Missions for further graduate work. From Gordon he received the degrees of B.D., 1927; S.T.M., 1928; S.T.D., 1930.

Determined to strive for more nourishment in his intensified desire for learning, Barrett entered Boston University in 1930, receiving the M.A. (majoring in philosophy) in 1932. After this, he returned to Wesleyan Methodist College to serve as Dean for two years, later returning to Marion to teach philosophy and Biblical literature for six years. During his teaching at Marion, Dr. Barrett pastored two churches.

Nineteen forty-six found Barrett back in Boston University. He supported his wife and family, while carrying on his education, working as a night attendant in the Veterans' Hospital in Bedford, Mass. These were really tough years for him.

Teaches At Asbury

Continuing a long line of admirable accomplishments, Dr. Barrett began teaching Christian Doctrine at Asbury Seminary in 1950. Then in June, 1952, Barrett returned to Boston University to receive a well-earned Ph.D., holding a major in philosophy and a minor in theology.

From 1952 to 1953, Barrett taught at Fort Wayne Bible College. He is now teaching philosophy and religion at Olivet.

It should be noted that on February 1, 1914, Dr. Barrett was sanctified, and since that time has held February 1 in special reverence and thanksgiving. To him, above all his unique experiences, this is the greatest event in his life.

Barrett Has Family

Dr. Barrett has a wife, Eva Mable, and three children—Evangeline (who recently returned from a tour of the Holy Land), Evelyn, and Wesley. His favorite hobbies are, from younger days to now, baseball, basketball, and gardening. Right now, however, he is kept so busy that the primary hobby seems to be "going to school."

When asked for his impression of Olivet, he replied: "Olivet has a friendly, warm atmosphere and is a spiritual place." He further expressed his ever-growing devotion to the college, emphasizing the enjoyment he is receiving from working on the faculty staff.

Musical Notes

BY DARLENE BARKER

Once more the Division of Fine Arts has had the opportunity of helping to bring about another successful "Olivet Christmas season."

Olivetians Perform

Danny Liddell's Olivetians have appeared several times this season. On the night of Monday, December 6, they provided entertainment for Kankakee's Twentieth Century Club. Dr. Larsen, chairman of the Fine Arts Division, is president of this organization.

The Olivetians also effectively portrayed various aspects of the Christmas season when they presented the program at the all-school Christmas Party on December 11. The program was divided into three scenes. Scene one, portraying home life, showed mom, pop, grandma, grandpa, children and relatives enjoying together Christmas in the home around the traditional Christmas tree.

Scene two brought with it the true aspect of Christmas with the nativity scene. Mary Margaret Birchard and Frank Fitzgerald took parts as Mary and Joseph.

Red and green uniforms and the outline of a large fluorescent Christmas tree provided very outstanding settings for scene three. The program ended with several popular Christmas songs climaxed by the well-liked "Twas the Night Before Christmas."

Helps At Benefit Banquet

The Division also had a large part in the Benefit Banquet held last Tuesday, December 7. Taking part in the program were the Olivetians, Orpheus Choir, King's Heralders, a violin duet—Professors Jewell Flaugher and Anita Richards, and Kenneth Bade as organist. Harlow Hopkins led in the group singing. From the Art Department, Professor Collins was responsible for the decoration scheme.

"Messiah" Presented

As a fitting climax to the Division's Christmas activities, Orpheus Choir, aided by the Apollo Chorus, rendered its annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" last Sunday, December 12. The choirs were under the direction of Dr. Walter B. Larsen.

With another beautiful Christmas season having been rounded out here at Olivet, the Fine Arts Division wishes to extend its heartiest greetings to Olivet students and friends for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Symphony Orchestra To Present Concert

The Olivet Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Harlow Hopkins, is planning a concert for January 15, at 8 p.m.

Featured will be a senior student pianist, Winard Wilhoite, playing Mozart's "Piano Concerto in A Minor." Also Nancy Whipple will present her rendition of "The Vivaldi Violin Concerto, Second Movement."

The program will consist of Cesar Franck's "Symphony No. 3 in D Minor," "Lenore Overture" by Beethoven, "Trumpeters Lullaby" by Leroy Anderson, "Pastourelle" by Poulenc, arranged for the orchestra by Hopkins, and "Finlandia" by Jean Sibelius.

Trojans Take First Game Of Season: 58-52

The Trojans took the first game of the 1954-55 season from a fighting group of Indians 58-52 in the local gym, November 19.

The Indians led at the first quarter 19-17 and again at the half 32-28. The Trojans bounced back to the lead at the end of the third period 42-41 and were never headed after that.

Each coach used only one substitute during the contest. Only one upper classman saw action for the Indians. The rest were freshmen. Coach Jim Smith also found strength in the freshman group as he used three during the evening.

Smith was high scorer for the game as he collected 27 points. Vern Fischer and Don Vickery each sank 12 points.

Stuart Meissner was high scorer for the losers with 19 points while coach Wendy Parsons bucketed 13.

In the girls preliminary game, the Indians defeated the Trojans 35-23. High scorer was Shirley Strickler with 17 counters.

Indians Win 60-53; Trojans Lose First

The Trojans lost their first game of the season to the Indians 60-53 in a game played December 7.

After jumping off to a 20-14 lead in the first quarter the Trojans faltered in the second period and the Indians took it to become tied with the Trojans for first place. The score at halftime was 42-34.

Once again fouls spelled the difference as the winners dropped in 28 out of 41 for a .683 percent while the losers were hitting 13 out of 20 for a good .650. The Indians had twice as many shots and sank twice as many baskets.

Jim Smith, Trojan coach, got things rolling for his team as he scored 12 points in the first quarter. Smith also went on to score 10 in

Revise Point System For Sport Societies

The point system for the ultimate determination of the all-school trophy has been published by the Athletic Committee of Olivet Nazarene College.

Speech, debate, music, and scholastic activities will not be considered in the determination of points.

In "A" athletics, the following system has been set up. First place, 125 points, second place 75 points, and third place, 50 points.

In "B" athletics, first place is 75 points, second place 50 points, and third place is 25 points.

The following rules will also apply to each group:

Each group with a minimum of four members entered in an activity as a team shall receive the following: "A" activities 25 points, and "B" activities 15 points.

Ten points shall be awarded for each individual's participation in each activity.

For each game or match won, or round advanced in any "A" activity, ten points shall be awarded.

For each game or match won, or round advanced in any "B" activity, two points shall be awarded.

Individual awards will be given to each member of a championship team.

Letter awards will be given to the members of the all-star team, which will be elected by the Athletic Committee.

Large emblems will be presented to the two outstanding boys and the two outstanding girls.

The athletic activities for the "A" and "B" groups are as follows: Boys "A"—football, softball, basketball, swimming, volleyball, baseball, and track.

Boys "B"—tennis (S), tennis (D), ping pong (S), ping pong (D), and basketball.

Girls "A"—softball, volleyball, basketball, and track.

Girls "B"—tennis (S), tennis (D), ping pong (S), and ping pong (D).

the second, and 6 in the third, then was held to only 2 points before fouling out in the fourth quarter for a total of 30 points. Jim's 30 points is high for this season.

Parsons and Meissner shared scoring honors for the Indians with 18 points each.

Coach Parsons once again used only six men in his bid for victory with four of the first five playing the entire game.

Indians Set Gym Record; Beat Spartans 92-37

By Jim Mitchell

Indian sharpshooters broke the all time Birchard fieldhouse scoring record on December 4, when they licked a badly out-classed, yet determined, Spartan five 92-37.

This broke the previous record of 88 points in a single contest also set by the Redmen when they whipped the Trojans 88-80 in 1953.

Boice Paces Trojan Victory

The Trojans won their second game of the season by dropping the Spartans in a 58-47 contest played at the local goalyard, November 23.

Dave Boice paced the Trojans with 18 points while coach Jim Smith added 14 for the winners.

Absent from the Trojan lineup were two starters—Craig Hartberg and Vern Fischer. Frank Bowers and Burley Smith led the Spartans with 18 and 16 points respectively.

Trojans led at all official stopping points 13-11, 33-18, and 46-33.

Ron McQueen was the Spartan coach and the referees were Tom Wood and Bill Butkovich.

The Indians wasted no time in grabbing a lead and continued to lengthen it throughout the entire game. The keyed-up tribe, paced by Stuart Meissner and Bob Crabtree with 20 and 18 points respectively, scorched the net from all angles, completely dominating play from the outset.

Frank Bowers, high scorer for the Spartans thus far, led the green-clads with 16 points. Wendy Parsons sank 14 points for the winners.

In the girls contest, the Indians chalked up number two by dropping the Spartans 42-9.

Sport Shorts . . .

By North

Since this is the first time this column has appeared in the Glimmerglass it would be well for me to state its purpose.

This column will contain short items of interest that are not covered in the regular sports stories in order to inject more variety into our sports page.

Any comments or suggestions for the improvement of this column will be gladly received.

Coach Elmore Vail has released the following revised regulations for the present basketball season:

(1) A list of seven players to be ineligible for "B" basketball is to be turned in by "A" team coaches. This list may be revised at the end of each round in the "B" basketball schedule.

(2) Any player starting an "A" game is ineligible to play "B" ball during that particular round of play.

"B" Basketball Going Strong

Speaking of "B" basketball, the Spartan second stringers whipped the Indian "B" team 48-47 in a real thriller to start the "B" basketball season. Ray Reglin of the Indians led both teams in scoring with 22 counters.

The Trojans beat the Indians in their first meeting of the season in their old uniforms. They purchased new ones in time for their second encounter with the tribe and lost to them. Let's hope they aren't superstitious enough to go back to their old wearing apparel.

A word of appreciation to Mr. Jeter for his assistance in officiating at football and basketball games. A job well done!

The freshman class is already preparing for the class basketball tourney by purchasing new uniforms. Don Vickery is chairman of the purchasing committee. It should be a great tournament come spring with Meissner, Bowers, and company tossing them in for the newcomers.

It is interesting to note that the three mighty mites, Jim Smith, Wendy Parsons, and Ron McQueen are the basketball coaches this season. Maybe there's hope for us mid-gets after all.

WIT AND WISDOM

These new stretchable socks would seem to be ideal for hanging up on Christmas Eve, as they hold an unlimited amount without being big enough to look greedy.

Fellow—Jimmy Johnson. Girl—Maxine Dawson.
 Place—Chapman Hall, Room 206. Time—Christmas Eve.
 He said, "Your face needs lifting."
 She said, "Stop it, I'm going home."

Consequence—The campus cop caught them—campused for three nights! (The preceding statements were the results of a game played at the Glimmerglass Christmas Party.)

Christmas itself may be called into question.
 If carried so far, it creates indigestion!

—Ralph Bergengren.

It was always said of him that he knew how to keep Christmas well.
 —Charles Dickens.

One day, a young frog asked the old frog the secret of his success. (The old one always had all the flies he could eat.) Said the oldster: "Jump at every opportunity."

That seemed reasonable, but there was one thing he didn't understand. "How do you know when there's an opportunity?" "You don't", mused the old one, "You just keep jumping!"

Remember, the best eraser is a good night's sleep.

Through the Keyhole

BY MAXINE DAWSON

Carols, bright decorations, a warm glow, and a friendly greeting—all of these herald the wonderful Christmas season. Before we pack ourselves into already loaded cars, bid studies farewell, and head home for that much needed rest, we leave you with a few parting thoughts.

Dale Martin and Darrell Trotter were standing along the road talking one afternoon when a car came flying around the corner. Dale and Darrell took one look at it and promptly climbed a tree. It wasn't that the car was trying to run them down, nor was it out of control; it was just Barb Thompson learning to drive (!)?

Dave Elwood took a course in Abnormal Psychology from Dr. Cotner last year. One of the requirements was to outline a book of some 600 pages. Dave, not one to let his education interfere with his social life, didn't quite get it finished. Dr. Cotner, kind soul that he is, told Dave to work on it through the summer. One year, one summer, and almost one semester later Dave is still working on it.

A Solution To The Problem?

It seems as though Ed Davis has found his long sought solution for making dates. The following steps were listed by Mr. Davis on the wall on the second floor in Chapman Hall: (1) Hello—!, (2) Talk it up!, (3) Ask direct question, (4) Conclusion and (5) Bye Bye! (very important). Chet Barnes likes this method! Says Chet, "It works!"

It isn't that Stan Sirota doesn't like Journalism class, Prof. Johnson, it's just that the library is so peaceful. At least it would seem that way. Stan went there to study and fell asleep. Vince Adragna, another member of the class, thoughtfully left him there and came to class. Stan finally woke up and came to class 15 minutes late. I'd say that was true friendship.

And with that I'll take my leave and wish you all "Merry Christmas."
