THE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY OF OLIVET NAZARENE COLLEGE

Tuesday, October 8, 1957

Vol. XVII—No. 1

Illinois Governor In Celebration Speech Commends Olivet College

by Jeanette Ledyard

William Stratton, governor of Illinois, paid tribute to Olivet's Golden Anniversary when he appeared on campus as guest speaker for the big celebration Thursday evening, September 26, 1957.

The governor paid tribute to Olivet saying "despite the seemingly insurmountable obstacles Olivet has overcome during the past 50 years, or possibly because of them, the college is facing the future with a confidence and energy that is amazing." He continues, "this, in itself, is a refreshing attitude in a period when educators are looking at federal aid as a panacea for their problems. It seems to me that you people disprove this theory."

Pointing out the need for higher education today, Stratton commented that "rapid advances in the sciences and technology have brought with them an urgent need for men who understand the problems of living together—who understand that many of our problems are not concerned with material things—and who are able to think in a disciplined way about these matters."

The governor also outlined a $600,000 state scholarship program that will go into effect next fall to help boost enrollment at private colleges throughout the state.

Speaking prior to Stratton was Milburn P. Akers, executive editor of the Sun-Times, who appeared as Chairman of the National Committee of Church Men for Church Colleges.

Akers termed church related colleges such as Olivet "one of the greatest factors in American culture as we know it" and urged the financial support of Olivet and other denominational colleges.

Two Districts Plan Future Motorcade to Olivet

Each year a number of motorcades from the districts on the Olivet Nazarene College Educational Zone visit our campus. The first of these, which is the Central Ohio District Motorcade, will arrive Thursday afternoon, October 10, and depart Saturday morning after breakfast. District Superintendent, Dr. H. S. Galloway, will speak in chapel on Friday morning, October 11. The motorcade is sponsored by the District Young People's Society under the direction of Rev. Joe Neilson, pastor at Bucyrus, Ohio, and District N. Y. P. S. President.

Southwest Indiana District Motorcade will be on the campus on Friday, October 25. Dr. Leo C. Davis, District Superintendent, will be chapel speaker. Rev. Samuel Childress, pastor at Mt. Vernon, Indiana, and District N. Y. P. S. President is sponsoring this motorcade.

The Golden Anniversary Fall Revival has been in progress since September 29 and will continue through October 6, with services being held each evening at 7:30 in the College Church and at 9:20 each morning in Howe Chapel. General Superintendent Hugh C. Benner, is our evangelist, and Miss Helen Greenlee is in charge of the music.

Dr. Hugh C. Benner, of Kansas City, Missouri, is one of five men holding the highest office in the Church of the Nazarene, that of general superintendent. Well qualified for his work as administrator, Dr. Benner has had valuable experience as pastor, college professor, and Seminary president.

Dr. Benner was born on a farm near Marion, Ohio. He was converted as a boy and called to preach. The family moved to Olivet, Illinois, and Dr. Benner attended Olivet Nazarene College there, receiving two bachelor degrees.

Further graduate work was taken at Vanderbilt, Boston, and the University of Southern California, where a master's degree was conferred. Dr. Benner taught at Trevecca Nazarene College, Nashville; Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston, Massachusetts; and Pasadena College, Pasadena, California. Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, Idaho, presented him an honorary doctoral degree in 1940.

Dr. Benner began his pastoral work in a small home-mission charge at Santa Monica, California, in 1931, and in five years increased the membership 400 per cent. In 1936, he was called to Spokane First Church and 1941 to Kansas City First Church.

He was the first president of Nazarene Theological Seminary, elected in 1944, and continued until his election as a general superintendent.

Miss Helen Greenlee, Wagnerian soprano, of Humeston, Iowa, is a talented singer, leading the congregational music as well as singing special solos. Before recently entering revival work she was minister of music and children's worker at West Plains, Missouri, at the same time teaching public school music.

Miss Greenlee is a graduate of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Illinois, where she was active in choir and trio work. She also attended the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, majoring in voice. In 1954 she was awarded the honor of appearing in the worldwide publication of "Who's Who in Music."

We are trusting God to give us a mighty revival through the leadership of Dr. Benner, distinguished alumnus of Olivet, and Miss Greenlee, former Olivetian.

The Editors Views . . .

The past few days have been ones filled with activities for all of us. We have striven hard to show the Kankakee area just what type of college we are and for what we stand. From the information which we have already received, we understand that we have done a good job of impressing those about us. However, let us not be content with mere impressions. Now that those who live and work about us know for which principles we stand, we must endeavor to uphold our profession in the manner most pleasing to our Lord. Remember, He accepts nothing but our very best.

In the midst of our revival, may I present the following challenge to the student body, as well as myself:

Freshmen, set your devotional pattern now during your first year. However busy your schedule is, take time to put the Lord first. Seek His guidance in the plans herewith which you make while you are here at Olivet.

Sophomores, continue to grow in your experience. Surroundings and conditions are no longer new to you. Set the pace in both spiritual and academic life.

Juniors, your life at Olivet is half over. Time passes so swiftly! Remember the many plans and dreams which you intended to fulfill when you enrolled at Olivet. Begin now to put action to those wishes. A daily devotional life is of utmost importance due to growing outside pressures of the everyday life.

Seniors, you are the examples for us all! Olivet has truly been your home—spiritually and physically. Your days are extremely busy ones, but you also cannot afford to let down in your spiritual life. You do have three years' knowledge stored in your minds, but without the Lord's direction, how empty this "learned" knowledge would be.

Let us all strive to give the Lord both our time and our talents, praying in these last few days of the revival that the Lord may work mightily among us.

What's New In Religion

CHURCH LEADERS CONDEMN SUNDAY SHOPPING

Edward Cardinal Mooney, Archbishop of Detroit, condemned Sunday shopping as a "violation" of God's law and church law. In a letter sent to all Catholic priests in the arch-diocese he called upon them to "combat this evil" by urging the laity to "restore Sunday as the day of worship, rest, and befitting recreation". He said that if professing Christians would abstain from Sunday shopping, the abuse would quickly cease.

NEW HAVEN CONN. Data released by the Yale School of Alcohol Studies gives a comparison of people who abstain from alcohol beverages. It shows that 41 per cent of Protestants abstain, 21 per cent of Catholics, and 13 per cent of Jews.

FOURTEENTH WORLD CONVENTION ON CHRISTIAN EDUCATION IN TOKYO

Delegates from 60 countries are expected to attend the World Convention on Christian Education to be held in Tokyo, August 6-13, next year. The event will coincide with the centenary of the beginning of Protestant work in Japan. The Convention will be preceded by a two-week institute for a selected group of Christian Education leaders.

RELIGIOUS TREASURERS IN THE NEWS IN GREAT BRITAIN

A fifteenth-century book, found last October in the library of Saint Mary's Church, Warwick, England, is to be offered for sale. The 342 page volume was printed in 1488 by William Caxton, England's first printer. It is said to be an unusual example of a Sarum lectionary, a selection of readings from

IN MEMORIAM

In this first issue of the Glimmerglass, we, the students wish to express our deepest sympathy on the death of Dr. Walter B. Larsen, late Chairman of Olivet's Fine Arts Department.

Dr. Larsen gave 27 years service to Olivet, always striving to make her the world's greatest holiness college. May we as students, using Dr. Larsen's devoted life as our example, endeavor to uphold and strengthen the spiritual, educational, and cultural standards of Olivet this year.

the Bible. It is believed to have been in the church library for more than 200 years. Rev. Joseph McCullough, vicar of St. Mary's, said that the parochial council had decided to sell it; the British Museum said the volume should belong to the nation.

STASSEN COMPARES PRAYER AND ATOMIC BOMB AS WAR BLOCK

Harold E. Stassen, special assistant to President Eisenhower for disarmament problems told a youth rally at Washington that "the greatest power for peace comes from the prayers and work of people of good will." When asked whether the atomic bomb is a greater deterrent to war than prayer, Mr. Stassen said that while the bomb is a strong deterrent in the building of real peace "we need the common denominator of fundamental religious beliefs."

Your President Speaks

by Jim Bedsworth

It was thrilling to be back in College Church the first Sunday of the new school year and to hear the students sing my favorite hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name". It is good to be in the midst of the "greatest force in Kankakee"—our God working through the students of Olivet.

I was very pleasantly surprised upon returning to Olivet this fall to see the many improvements that have been made. All of these improvements have helped to boost the morale of everyone very high, which is a necessity for a successful year. We all should be very proud of our school.

We all have a great year to look forward to with the remaining Golden Anniversary activities. We all play an important part in making these activities a success. Let's all give God the thanks for the progress that Olivet has made in the past and will continue to make in the future.

Many of us who must labor our way to an education look upon the factory as the den of clamoring, steel monsters. We as workers must care for them and listen to their monotonous hammerings. True, this sounds exaggerated to those of you who have never worked in a steel mill, a stove plant, or a bucket factory but ask any young one of us who work forty hours a week in the evenings or in the dead of night.

Tonight as I worked I heard a different sound. True, my shear was banging the same way and the punch presses across the aisle were maintaining their incessant domination of the air waves, but they spoke a new meaning to me. Number 231 Ellsey Punch Press pounded in my ear, "I - AM - AMERICA. I - AM - AMERICA!" The smaller, but equally as loud, 212 Press chanted, "I - AM - FREEDOM. I - AM - FREEDOM. I - AM - FREEDOM!" My own Ellsey kept thrusting its one word vocabulary on my senses. "OPPORTUNITY. OPPORTUNITY. OPPORTUNITY!" And I felt grand, because this was America.

My thoughts turned to those workers that live and work behind the iron curtain that is hatred, exploitation, bigotry, and ignorance. Oh yes, the machines that they run also speak out in the night. I can hear them now, "Careful-what-you-think. Careful-what-you-think!" "Hunger! Hunger! Hunger!" Their factory, a forge. Their noise, the hammering into place a link in their chain of bondage.

And I felt badly! For here I am with so much, and they so little. My meal so large, and theirs so meager. My future unlimited, theirs pre-decided. And I felt badly!

From The Pastor's Study

by Rev. Forrest Nash

MAN'S RESPONSE TO GOD

George Gallup in a recent poll discovered that 99% of the American people believe in the existence of God. We wonder what significance this belief bears in its co-existence with our moral chaos. Probably it reflects more than anything our ignorance of the nature of God. Ignorance in acknowledgment — How sad! In life's "I" - "Thou" relationship there are four responsive reactions. The first is the effort to remove Him or to erase Him from acknowledged existence. This is the path of Karl Marx and his communistic atheism. The second is the attempt to manage God. This puts the super-natural into the mold of the selfish myth of Arian racial superiority and determinism was the result of such an attitude. It led a generation to suicide. The third response is portrayed in man's refusal to listen to God who has spoken in many places and in many strange and glorious ways. This results in the way of willful ignorance. To such a refusal listen to the wise man of Proverbs, "Because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded, but ye have set at naught all my counsel, and would none of my reproof: I also will laugh at your calamity;

I will mock when your fear cometh." The fourth response is seen in the life which acknowledges God and in doing so listens to His voice. This brings life into the experience which discovers that the "fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom".

Herein is revelation which brings realization of a life that is, and of a life that can be. Herein is mercy and a transformed life through Christ. Here life discovers divine and eternal potential when, out of full surrender, it allows God to control it. At this focal point of our life in adopted sonship do we see the necessity of heart holiness. How can two walk together except they be agreed? "If we walk in the light as he is in the light we have fellowship one with another and the blood of Jesus Christ His son cleanseth us from all sin."

Power in acknowledgment and surrender or destruction because of "my" defiance. "Though the mills of God grind slowly, yet they grind exceedingly small; Though with patience He stands waiting, with exactness grinds He all" (Longfellow) The "Alternative to futility" is before us. Who would dare refuse it?

Since 1952 the faculty members of ONC have enjoyed annual retreats for study, rest, and fellowship. Robert Allerton Park, University of Illinois, near Monticello, was the site of this year's retreat. The park, given to the University of Illinois by its namesake, is a beautiful 1,500 acre tract used as an educational and research center as well as a forrest, wild-life and plant life preserve, as an example of landscape architecture, and as a public park.

Graham Film Is Second Activity In Lyceum Series

"Fire on the Heather," one of Dr. Billy Graham's more recent pictures, was shown at 8:00 p. m. in the Kankakee High School auditorium on September 20, 1957. It was the second activity in the series of cultural programs presented by the Olivet Lyceum Committee.

Filed in color, "Fire on the Heather" told the gripping story of Scotland's heroic struggle for freedom. The all-Scottish cast re-created the historic days of Roman Conquest; Columba bringing the Gospel to the Picts, and the turbulent friendship of Jon Knox and Mary, Queen of Scots, which shaped the destiny of Christianity in the Western World. The tragic execution of John Brown of Priesthill in the era of the covenanters made the motion picture an even more unforgettable experience. The triumphant climax came when each viewer shared in the Billy Graham crusade in the Glasgow with a message from the evangelist himself.

The retreaters left Kankakee at 7:00 a. m. Friday morning, September 20. By 10:30 they had registered in the Robert Allerton House and had a coffee hour. At this time they met in the library of the mansion and were welcomed by President Harold W. Reed. Dean W. E. Snowberger gave the address, 'Olivet After Fifty Years: An Anniversary Analysis.'

Dr. Reed presided over the afternoon session. His topic was, "New Housing to Contribute to Our College Objectives." Four papers were given by faculty members.

"Literary England" was the evening's feature which Dr. and Mrs. C. S. McClain presented through slides taken on their recent European trip.

On Saturday morning, Dr. W. S. Purinton, Superintendent of the Illinois Central District, Church of the Nazarene, conducted a devotional period, followed by a set of scenic colored slides of the park and extended exploration.

Following lunch, Saturday afternoon, September 21, the visiting faculty members returned home. They were welcomed that evening by a student council sponsored reception, arranged by the social committee.

Members of the planning committee for this sixth retreat were: Dr. Perry, Chairman; Prof. Paul Schwada, Prof. Leonard Anderson, Mrs. H. W. Reed, and Mrs. Ottis Sayes.

Today we are indeed living in a fast changing and challenging world. From one end of the globe to the other there is strife or trouble brewing.

Communism had just finished raising its ugly head in Hungary, when it popped up again in the near East, particularly Syria. You go to North Africa and see the struggle between the Algerian nationals and the French. In the West Indies a revolution of change of government occurs at any time. Class or racial strife in many parts of the world.

In our own country we have serious racial problems which Class or racial strife exists in many parts of the world.

All this goes to show the unsettled condition of many of the peoples of the globe. The unfortunate fact is that while these important things go on, many Americans are simply unaware of them. We are often absorbed with trivial matters that we don't have time to think about world events and what they might mean.

Perhaps if we lost some of our privileges that we enjoy in our democracy, we might become mindful that the freedoms we enjoy aren't necessarily handed to us on a silver platter.

Now we at Olivet believe that we have something or someone who can answer the worlds needs and solve its problems. We believe that this is a vital faith in Jesus Christ. But while we have faith let us not be ignorant. Let's take a keener interest in our world affairs, national problems, or even state and local activities. Because if we know nothing about these problems, there is little we can do about them.

However, if we are acquainted with these affairs, we as Christians will be able to step in and better conditions whenever there is an opportunity.

Sophomores Gloat As Frosh Suffer

By PAT DICKEY

Whispers on the third floor, shuffling of feet, and quiet giggles, began to form all sorts of ideas in my mind. I'm a freshman you know! There was only one reason why the sophomores would be up at 4:00 a. m. in the morning. Yes, the long awaited day was here!

As I lay in my bed thinking about what I should wear, I heard the click of a key in the door, and I realized that my door had just been unlocked with the master key. Tired and weary, I turned over and tried to go back to sleep, but just about the time I got my eyes shut there was the most horrible racket you ever heard! Pots, pans, waste baskets, and horrible screams that sent chills up and down my spin, told me that the sophomores were here, on our floor. A second or two later I was being literally dragged out of bed, by a "very sweet" sophomore girl. She told me to put on some warm clothes - backwards and wrong side out. Even though I didn't particularly care for her taste of good dress, I obeyed her command, and the next few short moments found me trying desperately to put on a skirt, a blouse, two sweaters, a flat, a tennis shoe, one bobby sock, and of course, my little green beanie.

Three minutes later, I stumbled into the hall, where I met about 50 other freshmen girls. We were each as cute as could be. Lined up against the hall, we didn't really know just what to expect next. Then it came! Oh, that horrible smell. Never mind, it was just a little bit of limburger cheese. Wait a minute! What's this? Oh, it's alum. Nice stuff when used at the right time, and in the right place.

Half way asleep, we were marched to the foyer of Williams Hall, and then singing our wonderful song, "I am a silly little freshman," we walked out into the cold morning air, greeted by scores of those great sophomores! Smeared with paste, limburger cheese, food coloring, and anything else you can think of, we walked out to meet the freshman boys.

We must have appeared in need of morning exercises, because we were told to start touching our toes, running and jumping. Nothing like early morning exercises to wake one up!

We were told to find a male partner. It was so dark we couldn't see what they looked like, so once again the sophomores assisted us. You see, they picked a partner for us! After we "found" our partner, we were told to start toward Goodwin Hall, holding hands, and singing, "I am a silly little Freshman."

After several "so-called" air raids, showers of mustard, catsup-paste, flour, eggs, and mud, and extensive singing of the song, we began our morning hike. There is nothing, absolutely nothing, like an early morning hike to wake one up. Every once in a while, one of those great, big sophomores would walk up to me and say, "Hey freshie, what's the best class at O. N. C.?" I would just grit my teeth, and make myself tell them that the sophomore class was, even though I thought it was plain to see that anyone who "took" initiation as well as we, should be known as the best class. Somehow I couldn't help but think that the sophomores were just a little conceited! Just a little!

After what seemed to be weeks later, we were finally lined up in front of the dining hall and told to take off our shoes. Oh joy, it was almost time for breakfast—we thought! However, it seemed that the sophomores had worked up quite an appetite, so each said, "Excuse me please," and walked very politely ahead of us to get

Administration Appoint Eaton, Traffic Manager

The Administrative Council has announced the inauguration of the new office, "traffic manager".

Last spring the Board of Trustees of Olivet Nazarene College passed the present automobile policy concerning the requirement of a $5.00 registration fee of all students owning or operating cars while enrolled at Olivet. Those taking five hours or less are required to register their automobiles, but are not assessed the fee. This is in line with policies concerning other fees. All monies collected from registration fees and parking and violation fines are placed in a special fund for the maintenance of parking facilities, for the cost of operation, and salaries.

Assuming the position as "traffic manager" this year is Rex Eaton, senior theological student. Dale Culver, freshman from Perry, Michigan, will serve as assistant traffic manager. Mr. Edward Brodien, engineer, and Mr. Ora Barrick, watchman, will aid in the operations.

President Harold Reed and the Administrative Council appointed a special committee consisting of Mr. Charles Henderson, Business Manager; Dr. John Cotner, Dean of Students; and Charles Beatty, Treasurer of the Associated Student Body, to carry out the program which includes the disbursement of all funds, hiring personnel, and general oversight of the program's regulations on campus.

Concerning the new program Dr. Cotner says, "This entire policy is not new on college campuses, but is being carried out by nearly all colleges in the country. I wish to express sincere appreciation for the wonderful way that the students and faculty have sought to understand and cooperate with this new and much needed policy on our campus".

Dr. Cotner also pointed out that this is somewhat of a departure from previous automobile regulations which prohibited freshmen and sophomores from having cars. However, due to excessive employment and travel needs of students, inadequate bus service, and other needs incidental to students' work, it was felt that all students should be allowed to have automobiles, provided the student met the following three requirements for permit.

- (1) Maintenance of a scholastic average of 1.75 or above.
- (2) Satisfactory discharging of financial obligations.
- (3) Keeping all social regulations of the college.

Music Memos

by Marilyn Cassells

This fall semester several changes have been made in Olivet's music department.

Mrs. Naomi Larsen has been appointed acting chairman of the fine arts department. She is also directing Orpheus choir.

Olivetians, a vocal ensemble which for several years has been nonexistent has been reorganized by its conductor, Prof. Daniel Liddell.

Directing Olivet's band and symphony is Prof. Harlow Hopkins, a member of the faculty who has been serving with the United States Army for the past two years.

The first performance of the year for the three vocal groups was held September 26, at the Golden Anniversary celebration which was shared with Kankakeeland. The combined choirs and the band performed a moving arrangement of "Battle Hymn of the Republic".

Watch this column for coming events sponsored by the music department.

Now that another academic year has started, we not only have studies to take up time, but we can look forward to sports activities.

As we celebrate our 50th anniversary here at Olivet, I think we are going to experience a great year in sports — men's and women's.

All three societies seem to be "going strong" and have already selected their cheerleaders. They are as follows: Spartans — Beth North, Jan Hansen, Donna Larrance, Ron McDonald and Dick Reiss; Indians — Shirley Townsend, Lee Bolland, Nonie Shearer, Shirley Collier, and Cliff Everett; Trojans — LaVonda Mace, Judy Lambert, Sharon Jakobitz, Vangi Burch, and Mary Ann Pierce (al-

Indians Flog Trojans In Season Opener

A strong Indian team handed the Trojans a 27-0 defeat to usher in what looks like a very fine football season.

The Indians combined a strong defense and varied offense to keep the Trojans nine at bay.

"Big guns" in the Indian attack were Gus Sublette, quarterback; Ron Nees, halfback; and Scott Williams, the other halfback position. Chuck Wilson played a sparkling game for the Trojans. He showed a lot of ability as a hard charging fullback and equally as much scrap as a line backer.

Today the Indians will meet the Spartans at 3:30 p. m. in what promises to be one of the best games of the season.

Be there in time for the kick-off! These players are spending three hours a day in practice; the least we can do is watch them play an hour and a half a week.

Let's really back the cheerleaders! They do a terrific job and contribute a lot to our intramural program.

The softball season is underway and, as I see it, the competition is going to be close. So far, the Indians are on top — but it will be interesting to see the final standings.

The members of the Indians and Trojan softball teams are to be commended for the fine Christian sportsmanship displayed in the first softball game of the season. Keep it up! Good sportsmanship means a lot!

We have three women's physical education teachers this year. They are Miss Marilyn Trimble, Miss Carolyn Birchard, and Miss Ruth Wyse. They are capable leaders and are going to do a splendid job of teaching.

In closing, I would like to say, "Come on, everyone, let's work for our own society and go out to win the All-School Trophy."

Chucks Chatter

by Chuck Millhuff

Dick Converse marched into the box to bat against the red-clad Indians, and thus started the 1957-58 quest for the all-school trophy. As I look over the representation of each sport for each society, I truly believe that this should be an active-packed year.

There will be a few boys who will be taking their pictures standing up for a while, thanks to the "O" Club. The "O" Club heartily laid out the "welcome mat" for the new members last week. Action (initiation) started at 3 o'clock in the morning and concluded around 9:30 in the evening.

I would like, here in my column, to extend my personal thanks to Dr. Wayne Gardner for the great job he has been doing, supervising activities in the gym.

his meal. By the time I got to mine, I thought I was starved, but when I had a smell of that wonderful product called limburger cheese, I found that I no longer had an appetite. I suppose that the limburger cheese didn't bother the sophomores, however, because they had no trouble eating my breakfast.

We received our work orders, but since the administration had the campus in good shape for the Anniversary celebration, there wasn't much work for us to do. A few moments later we were through, and were told we could go clean up.

Tired, worn out, and not too happy, I made my way back to fourth floor of Williams Hall. I guess I would have been pretty miserable, but just as I opened the door to my room I had the grandest thought. Just think! If my professors, and subjects are willing, I'll be a sophomore next year, and it will be my turn to whisper, giggle, and yes, to try the master key!
