STUDENTS CHOOSE JOY MANGUM AS 1958 HOMECOMING "TIP-OFF" QUEEN

Queen's Float Heads Parade Set For 1:30

Her Majesty, Queen Joy Mangum will reign over the 6th annual Tip-off Parade this afternoon which will travel through Kankakee land at 1:30. Riding with the queen on the float will be her attendants, Sally Davis, Carolyn Birchard, Patricia Thornton and Marilyn Trimble. Queen Joy will be wearing a beautiful white gown and fur, while the attendants will have similar pastel colored gowns and furs on.

Rated to be the most beautifully occupied float, the Queen will sit under a large crown seven feet above her. Olivet's colors of purple and gold with white will be carried out. Drapes will hang from the huge crown on either side. The Queen's throne will be placed on two pedestals in shape of a half-moon. The attendants will be sitting on low stools on both sides of the Queen.

Approximately seventeen outstanding floats are expected to join the parade. The organizations sponsoring floats are the Bible Certificate Students, Home Economics Department, Missionary Band, "O" Club, Science Club, Sociology Club, Commerce Club, Ministerial Fellowship, Platonian Philosophical Society, and the Student Education Association. The Men's Dormitory Association and Women's Residence Association are going together on a float. The three societies, Indians, Spartans, and Trojans, will work together on a float as the "Tigers". Also combining ideas will be the Glimmerglass and the Aurora. The four classes will each enter separate floats.

All floats are to assemble this afternoon on the football field for judging. Prizes will be awarded the float that carries out best the theme, "A Greater Tomorrow". Judging will be based on originality, beauty, and quality of workmanship.

A large crowd is expected to view the Tip-off Parade and see the gaily decorated floats, flashy convertibles, and Olivet's Marching Band under the direction of Professor Hopkins.

Flashing lights and loud sirens will be seen and heard as the Kankakee police escort the Queen and parade. The parade will leave campus at 1:30 and move down Main Street in Bourbonnais to Broadway in Bradley. After going through Bradley, the procession will go to Kankakee where it will turn on Court Street. When the parade reaches the Court House, it will come back along Merchant Street to Schuyler, and back to the campus again.

Immediately following the parade, numerous activities have been planned for the Queen and her court and all students, faculty, and visitors for the rest of the week-end.

"QUEEN" JOY

MARILYN TRIMBLE

PATRICIA THORNTON

These five girls will reign tonight at the 17th annual Homecoming "Tip-Off" of Olivet Nazarene College. This annual event will be held in the Kankakee High School gymnasium at 6:00 p.m. The coronation ceremony will be held at 7:30 p.m.

SHEFFER TO CROWN "QUEEN" JOY

The Glimmerglass and Aurora are happy, indeed, to present the 1958 Homecoming Tip-off Queen and her Court tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium of the Kankakee High School. Keith Sheffer, Student Body President, will place the crown on the head of the 1958 Homecoming Queen-Miss Joy Mangum of Louisville, Kentucky. A senior majoring in Religious Education, Joy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Mangum also of Louisville.

Joy came to Olivet in the fall of 1955 having graduated from DuPont Manual High School in Louisville. In high school Joy served as co-editor of both her high school paper and yearbook. Here at Olivet, she served as club editor, assistant editor, and editor-in-chief of the Glimmerglass. She has actively served for three years as a Student Council member, she served as an officer of the sophomore class, and was a member of the 1957 Queen's Court. This year Joy is serving as Vice President of W. R. A., a senior class officer, and member of the Student Council.

Other members of the court include Carolyn Birchard, a senior from Wayland, Michigan. Carolyn is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Birchard of Bradley, Michigan.

In June of 1955 Carolyn graduated from Wayland Union School in Wayland, Michigan where she had served as editor of the school yearbook, secretary of the Student Council, and secretary of her class. She also graduated as the class salutatorian.

While attending Olivet, Carolyn has actively participated in various extra-curricular activities including freshmen class officer, a member of the W. R. A. council, a member of the "O" Club, and president of the Home Economics Club. In 1957-58 she served as secretary of the Student Council.

Another member of the court is Miss Sally Davis, a daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Morris Davis of Indianapolis, Indiana. Sally is a senior majoring in English.

Coming to us from Shortridge High School in Indianapolis where she sang in the school choir and belonged to a select group called the "Madrigal" singers, Sally has been active at Olivet since her freshmen year serving on various committees. She is at the present a member of the Personnel Committee, and the Food Committee. Last year Sally served as editor-in-chief of the Aurora, a member of Student Council and Publicity Chairman of Prayer Band. This year Sally is a member of the Student Council, a senior class officer and a member of Orpheus Choir and "Olivetians."

Two juniors were elected to the queen's court this year and one is Marilyn Trimble, an English major from Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Clair Trimble also of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Marilyn attended Woodrow Wilson High School in Cedar Rapids where she was a member of the National Honor Society. In her senior year she received the "I Dare You" Award for being the senior with the most promising future. She also received a scholarship, leadership "cash" award from the Elks Club.

Marilyn entered Olivet in the fall of 1956. During her freshmen year she received a trophy for being the most valuable basketball player of the year, and a trophy in track for high pointer of the year. Last year Marilyn was secretary of W. R. A., a member of the Student Tribunal, and coach of the Trojan girls. This year Marilyn is serving as W. R. In The Editor's Opinion . . .

Glimmerglass and Aurora staffs wish to say a great big WELCOME ALUMNI. We are so happy to have you on campus. The student body has worked especially hard to make this year's homecoming a gala, festival event for you, the alumni. You will be meeting and greeting old friends, seeing them at their best. You will also see many new faces and some changes in the campus. We hope you will approve as we have put on our Sunday best for your return. But remember, this is your weekend - relax, sit back, and enjoy yourselves. We hope you will have a happy stay and that you will return to your homes with a new and greater enthusiasm for your Alma Mater, Olivet.

The editor wishes to take this opportunity to express her appreciation for the wonderful cooperation that has been given in the planning and organization of this weekend. I especially want to thank the editor and the business manager of the Aurora, Sharon Mace and Paul Cunningham. Paul and Sharon planned and worked out the entire coronation program. I know everyone will be greatly impressed by the wonderful job they have done.

Doyle and Janice Calhoun have headed the committee that was responsible for the queen's float. Also on the committee were George Dunbar, Jerry Snowden, Gene Collier, Faye Seiffert, Linda Luttrell, and Carolyn Shrum. My hat is off to this group; they have done a fabulous piece of work. I know we will all be justly proud to have Kankakeeland see our queen's float.

And speaking of queens, I would like to express the opinion of the entire Olivet family by saying to the queen and her court, congratulations! You are a wonderful court and we would be happy to present you before any group of people. In our opinion, you are all queens, but especially to you, Queen Joy Mangum, I would say congratulations on being the 1958 Homecoming Tip-Off Queen of Olivet Nazarene College. We are, indeed, proud of you!

Your President Speaks

by Keith Sheffer

One colossal phase of maturity is cultural achievements and adjustments. Perhaps one of the biggest adjustments made in our lives has been adopting and adjusting to college life and its activities. I think our fundamental mode for presence at Olivet College is to accumulate learning and maturity. Part of this learning is given us through curriculum and the college program but there are many phases that we, as students, must create and learn on our own initiative.

One of the most important things in social acceptance is poise at the dining table. We must create as students a learning situation striving to polish this phase of learning. Our Sunday noon meal is an elaborate array and a perfect setting for this situation. We have all the opportunity possible to practice this.

I think a more extensive but altered type program would certainly raise the cultural standard of our school and raise our security socially as students. Please stop and think a little before you make statements of your opinion about this situation. We are behind in our culture on campus. I think it should strike us hard to know that visitors to our campus have noticed and commented on this lag in our student body. We can improve this through our dining hall. A funnel of thinking has displayed a very good solution for this type of situation - that we make the evening meal a time when we are all gathered together with a good conducive atmosphere and enjoy a meal as one group with a time for announcements and perhaps an injection of a program spicing this evening plan; thus making the evening meal a place of accentuated cultural advancement. To look back and realize the importance of this arrangement will certainly repay us for our efforts.

I am sure this evening meal will grow to become one of our greatest memories of college life. Shall we all cooperate with the inauguration of a plan that will be tested and surveyed in Student Council.

Thoughts On Religion

Don Braselton

Give the gospel to every man and woman in the same measure as you have received it. As Nazarenes, we have here a goal worthy of our meager efforts which affects every part and activity of our lives, for this challenge was given to us by our great church founder and leader, Dr. P. F. Breeze. But then we might consider what giving the gospel to every person in the same measure as we received it means to us.

Perhaps, it could mean that those of us who have been reared in the church from our initial existence, and have had the gospel taught to us and put into our "capita dura" from our earliest moments of understanding, are required to work that much harder for Jesus Christ than those who have had just a start in learning about the full gospel.

Or, perhaps, it could mean that as we have received the Holy Spirit into our hearts and lives, we are responsible for the giving of the gospel in the same measure. If this be so, it seems to follow that the more saintly of the church are of greater value to the gain of the Church than the newborn babes in Jesus Christ with but a few weeks experience in the Lord, if each did his utmost.

But, perhaps, and most likely, it might mean that because someone or some people took an interest in our own souls we likewise have accepted the way of this great gospel; thus we should become concerned, yea burdened, for those who have not yet accepted or learned of the way of the gospel, especially those within our own environment.

Our blessed gospel is not demisable, so it is up to us to get others to accept this gospel while we are here; the younger we are when we get started the greater value we will be to the Church of Jesus Christ.

Things To Forget

The mean things others have said about you.

The injury any person has done you. The mistakes you have made in the past, except as they may warn you in the future.

The kindness you have tried to do others.

The ill-natured gossip you have heard concerning others.

The secrets entrusted to your confidence.

The worry that hinders your happiness.

The drawbacks that seem to stand in the way of your success.

Dr. and Mrs. Leist Entertain Class

The sixteen members of Dr. Leist's Psychology I class (PFD 10 ELG-Personality fully developed, 10 easy lessons guaranteed), adjourned 10 minutes early and descended the hill to the home of Dr. & Mrs. Leist where Mrs. Leist was waiting for a cherry pie break plus whipped cream and organe-pineapple punch. Not a bad substitute for coffee break, some one remarked.

A THOUGHT FOR TIP-OFF

by Rev. Forrest W. Nash

When grads and former students return to ONC campus for Tip-Off it is a return to memories of by-gone days. In thought and conversation the past is renewed and revived.

So welcome, Alumni! We invite you to share together the past with its wonderful days which in reality is that rare place of no return. And while we think of the past how blessed to know that as a Christian one can look back to a place of pardon and forgiveness. As a Christian he lives in the shining hour of the present knowing the abiding presence of Christ in his life. And to the future he walks with a steady tread knowing of the glorious inheritance in Christ Jesus - that eternal "city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God." How wonderful is life!

What's Tip-Off?

by Dr. Leist

What's tip-off? Hoop-la, nuts, rah-rah and crazy antics, say some. The elixir of campus life, the sine qua non of college days, a tailor-made occasion for dates, say others. Somewhere in between say the rest.

What really is Tip-Off? It is a seventeen year tradition. A brief sketch of its development from a game between the alumni and "O" club to its present status appears elsewhere. It has grown to a gala event with many features looked forward to with much anticipation by students, faculty, alumni and friends.

It is a salute to Olivet's total athletic and recreational program. The basic reason for Olivet's physical education program is the recognition of the importance of physical fitness. Our college physician, Dr. Talmadge Hodges, in his annual address to freshmen this year said, "Your body is your most valuable material possession." He urged each one to take care of his body and make it an instrument of service to glorify God. Athletics and recreation within this framework are a valuable aid to Olivet's goal of Christian education.

Tip-Off is Olivet in one of her lighter moods. The parades, the crowning of the queen, (I'm glad I don't have to select her. All Olivet girls are queens in my book) and the general air of fun and gaiety contribute much to student morale.

Yet in her lighter moods Olivet is ever mindful of her peculiar responsibilities as one of the leading holiness colleges of our nation and the world. The currents of her spiritual life run deep and strong. They permeate every area, color every function, and lend strength to every activity even as the strength of an oak is manifest in every fibre of its wood.

Tip-Off is homecoming; grads and former students walk familiar paths, chat with old pals, and say, "Hi, old friend," (because they've forgotten your name), buy mums, meet students, brag about the good old days, and explain why they haven't been elected district superintendent or mayor, or made a million. They see all the progress on the campus since they left and go back with heads a little higher, hearts a little warmer, appreciation a little deeper, and a determination to do a little more for their Alma Mater that has done so much for them.

Olivet welcomes you, alumni and friends, to the chapel service, games, the concert, the church services, the fellowship, the spirit, the atmosphere of her campus, as we sing again together our Christ-centered "Alma Mater - Olivet".

. . . I'll love the Christ
You gave first part,
And you old Olivet.

This is Tip-Off.

STILL WESTWARD

While driving through Richland County, Illinois a few months ago, I noticed a road sign indicating that the population center of the United States, 1950 census, lay just ahead. I stopped and read the interesting legend on the simple white marker. In 1950 public officials, including the Governors of Illinois and Indiana, Adlai Stevenson and Henry Schricker respectively, had attended the ceremony recognizing the significance of the spot population-wise.

An attempt to pinpoint the center of population in a nation so rapidly growing as ours always results in a very arbitrarily chosen spot. The westward shift of population begun after the American Revolution is yet progressing at a hustling tempo. Population survey experts, through the projection of known data, are venturing to say that the 1960 population pivot will still be in Illinois, but approximately forty miles farther west. That's about four miles of growth during each of the last ten years, quite a distance. In relation to O. N. C.'s geographical position, the 1950 marker is found about 10-12 miles west and 165 miles to our south. But if the present rate of westward movement continues we may in our lifetimes see the center of population well-advanced into the first tier of states beyond the Mississippi River.

The westerner will surely be gaining in political power on Capitol Hill. In the last eight years our older settled areas have grown in population, but for phenomenal growth we must cite the Far West. On the basis of one U. S. Representative per determined unit of the nation's population, a number of midwestern and southern states will be sending smaller delegations to Washington after the census of 1960. In connection, the men from the West will hold a greater percentage of Congressional seats than now.

The time-worn "nothing succeeds like success" is true when we enumerate incentives which attract newcomers to a region. As the states to our west develop more variegated and balanced economies they will receive more new people. Some traditional conceptions of western industry will have to be modified if they are to remain true. Heavy industry is growing in states such as Utah, long considered agricultural. Our farms here are becoming more and more mechanized; just so, growing numbers of western cowhands may be trading their saddles for time cards.

It is highly improbable that different sections of the nation will ever lose their interdependence, but it seems to

Olivet Produces
Many Ministers
And Missionaries

Many of the Alumni of Olivet have been ministers or missionaries, or have dedicated their lives for full time service to God. During the past fifty years, there have been approximately 600 ministers graduate from Olivet.

On the Olivet educational zone there have been 124 ministers from Illinois, 116 from Indiana, 104 from Ohio, 56 from Michigan, 28 from Wisconsin, 27 from Iowa, and 20 from Missouri. Off the educational zone there have been 105 ministers graduate from Olivet.

Also included on this list are missionaries who have graduated from Olivet. There have been approximately 50 missionaries that graduated from Olivet. They are spread around the world as follows: Alaska 3, Canada 6, Costa Rica 2, Cuba 2, Africa 8, Central America 7, South America 7, Japan 1, India 2, Israel 1, Haiti 4, Italy 2, Syria 1, Okinawa 1, and Hawaii 3. Our prayers go out to these Alumni of Olivet, as they tell the story of salvation around the world.

A Letter From Dr. Wiley

Dear Dr. and Mrs. Reed:

I arrived home safely after the big day at Pilot Point, and the brief stay in Kansas City. Also today I received your much appreciated letter and hasten to you my thanks for the privilege I enjoyed - of not only being at the College, but of being entertained so graciously in your home.

The college under your administration has not only taken on added proportions, but I, more than ever, appreciated the dignity of the chapel services, the character, ability and enthusiasm of your faculty, and your serious-minded and appreciative student body. I was glad to be with you for it gave me a new appreciation of the college as it is now and also in its future possibilities. May God bless you . . . richly.

be an indication of national economic health that diversification of western industry and a more equitable distribution of population on an East-West basis are coming.

To The Young
Blades of O.N.C.

by Donna M. Frye

We girls were hashed and mashed in a column a few weeks ago, and we wonder how the physical stamina of the male Olivet population will stand before the following battery of statements.

Speaking of the physical, why don't the under-nourished men (and I use the term "men" loosely) take a body-building course? The only muscles to be found in the males here are located above the neck.

Nation-wide, the idea of women's superiority is spreading. Boys, this is a women's world. It's time you realized it and began to conform.

We don't expect Mr. America (wouldn't do us any good), but we don't mind if you pretend to be gentlemen. It might be nice for a change!

The Age of Chivalry is fast leaving us, and nowhere can this be realized more fully than at Olivet. If a girl gets her books scattered by some on-rushing mass of male protoplasm, what happens? She picks them up, of course!

Perhaps you don't realize it but the "other 99% of the female population" is out painting the town red and the "1% who inhabit Williams Hall" are not so patiently waiting, and waiting, and waiting . . .

It has been stated that the girls run a lot - at the mouth and after men, well, gentlemen, (bah on conformity!) you apron string hangers, why don't you stop hiding behind the girl back home (that you don't have) and face yourselves. If you can. We can't!

Faculty Supports Community Chest

Professor F. O. Parr reported that Olivet's faculty, staff, and full-time employees contributed $376.42 to the Community Chest drive held October 20-28 on the campus. This was an all-time high for Olivet giving to this community endeavor. The money helps support the year round services of fourteen member agencies located in this area.

Head solicitor, Professor F. O. Parr, said, "I had wonderful co-operation. The folk who are employed here at Olivet recognize clearly their obligation to support local needs, and do so enthusiastically."

Alumni Program Features Morgan

Featured speaker in our chapel program today was Rev. Earl Morgan, Florence, Italy, who graduated from Olivet in the class of 1947.

Rev. and Mrs. Morgan have recently returned to the United States on furlough.

While in Italy, the Morgans lived in Florence where they taught Bible classes for national pastors and students, and assisted in the church and Sunday School work in that area.

Rev. Morgan spent three years in the United States Navy and the Naval Reserve before completing his educational preparation for missionary service. Upon completion of his work at Olivet, he went on to the Nazarene Theological Seminary where he also completed work. After graduating from Seminary he secured a B. S. in education to further prepare himself for teaching in the Bible classes.

The Morgans pastored at Marshall, Missouri, Church of the Nazarene until they were appointed to be missionaries in Italy in January, 1952.

MISS CRAIN JOINS OLIVET FAMILY

Coming to Olivet's campus this year is Miss Esther Crain, missionary to our Nazarene work in Nicaragua, Central America. Miss Crain is on furlough for one year, having returned to the United States in June of 1958 and will be on our campus until she leaves once again for the mission field in July of 1959. She is presently working on our library staff as reference librarian.

Miss Crain is an alumnus of Olivet, having graduated in 1937 with a Th.B. degree. After a several-year waiting period, she left for Nicaragua in 1945.

Upon her arrival in Nicaragua, she began her work in the day school. This being her main work, she soon became day school supervisor, advancing to county supervisor. The schools which were under her supervision covered an area of approximately 50 miles. Visitation to one of the schools involved an eighteen-hour trip by steamer across a lake. Sometimes she traveled by foot while at other times she enjoyed the privilege of a car.

Later on, Miss Crain began teaching classes in the Bible School and was also the dean of women in the girls' dormitory. At this time, she was counselor to the District Young People's Society, and director of the bulletin, a publication comparable to bulletins put out by our districts. The churches in this area were under her supervision, and she was responsible to visit each one of them. When Miss Crain returns to Nicaragua next June, she will resume her teaching position in the Bible School.

Miss Crain comes from First Church of the Nazarene in Chicago. She was saved during her senior year in high school, and felt God's special call for service on the mission field.

MISS ESTHER CRAIN

Expressing her feeling as to being on Olivet's campus, Miss Crain says, "I am very happy to be here. It is quite a thrill to be here with the students and faculty, realizing this is my Alma Mater. I'm sure this year will be an inspiration to me, and I hope I will be an inspiration to someone else."

"Follow Me, and I will make you"
Make you speak My words with power,
Make you channels of My mercy,
Make you helpful every hour.

"Follow Me, and I will make you"
Make you what you cannot be —
Make you loving, trustful, godly,
Make you even like to Me.

This Homecoming Weekend Features Various Activities

Events for Olivet's annual homecoming were begun this morning in a 10:30 chapel program. The results of the election for Tip-Off Queen were announced, and music for the program was furnished by the Apollo Choir and Olivet Symphony Orchestra. Featured speaker for the chapel program was the Rev. Earl Morgan, Florence, Italy, class of '47.

The activities of this afternoon will feature the annual Homecoming parade through the streets of Bourbonnais, Bradley and Kankakee. The Homecoming Queen and her court will lead the twenty float parade.

At 6:00 p.m. the "O Club" girls will meet the Alumni team in a basketball game in the Kankakee High School gym, and at 8:00 p.m. the "O Club" men will meet the Alumni team in the Tip-Off game which signals the beginning of the college's basketball season. Half time and between game activities will feature the coronation of the queen and a performance by the college marching band and drill team.

Saturday activities will include a morning coffee hour and class reunions. At 1:30 in the afternoon the championship intramural football game will be played at the Bradley-Bourbonnais High School field. An 8:00 p.m. musical concert in College Church will be presented by the Division of Fine Arts, featuring outstanding Alumni. Also featured in the concert will be the Orpheus Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Naomi Larsen.

Final event of the Homecoming weekend will be the Sunday morning worship service in the College Church, with a sermon presented to the Alumni by Rev. Forrest Nash.

HISTORY OF TIP-OFF

The Illinois State Club is playing the Ohio State Club this afternoon. This was the story at Old Olivet where the school body was divided up into State Clubs, instead of our Indians, Spartans, and Trojans. I understand these games between the different states at Old Olivet had quite a bit of state spirit, for we all know the best state is the one we are from, just as the best school is Olivet.

I would like to trace the beginning of our present societies as much as possible for the benefit of our newcomers on campus and to bring back wonderful memories to some of our visiting Alumni.

In the fall of 1930 the high school girls of Olivet organized an athletic society, which they named Trojans. The principal activities of the society were hiking, basketball, tennis, and physical exercises. From 1930 to 1939 the society had been strictly a high school girls' society, but in 1939 it became officially a society of the college for both men and women.

In their first year as a college society the Trojan men took second place in both softball and basketball, and the Trojan women pulled through with a first in both softball and basketball. In 1941, their third year as a college society, the Trojans had almost 100 members to their credit and proved to be a really great society. In 1955-56 the Trojan men enjoyed one of their best years, being undefeated in softball, football, and basketball. They were unscored upon in football, something never accomplished by any society before this time.

Olivet's Indian Society grew out of the Cleo-Apollonian Literary Society, which was organized for literary and educational purposes. This society was better known by its abbreviation the "B's." In 1932 the "B's" name was changed to its modern name; the Indians. This same year the Indians won a unique contest, the "Aurora" Contest. This bout was between the mighty "Indians" and the Cowboys. The Indians carried away scalps in the form of subscriptions, while the persistent Cowboys worked hard to

Fine Arts Hold Student Recital

Olivet's Division of Fine Arts sponsored the first student recital of the year last Friday afternoon, October 31, at 3:30 p.m. in Burke Recital Hall.

The program consisted of performances by students in the voice and piano departments. Those who performed vocally were Joe Hendricks, singing "Morning" by Speaks; Shirley Sanderson, "With Verdure Clad the Fields Appear" from The Creation by Haydn; Donna Morgan, "I Attempt from Love's Sickness to Fly", by Daugherty; Geneene Morrisson, "Rain has Fallen", by Barber; Arlette Graeflin, "Kitty of Coleraine" an Irish Folksong and "Se Tu M'ami" by Pergolesi; Roger Kennedy, "Come to Thy Window", by Gregh; and Tom Thompson, "Toreador Song", by Bizet.

Those piano students participating were Donna Perry, playing "May Night", by Palmgrin, and Anna Ruth Sterne, "Scherzo, Op. 16" by Mendelssohn.

solicit aid to uphold their part of the campaign. "For ten days, skirmishes between the Indians and Cowboys were frequent. Wild war whoops, bloodcurdling yells, Indian pow-wows, and general activities on both sides made anything that looked like sleep impossible. Scouting parties canvassed the neighboring towns and besieged the residents of the village, who willingly surrendered to the first party who arrived in order to save their scalps and skins. Besides these activities the two sides contended in basketball, baseball, and football, each side managing to hold its own."

The "Spartan Literary Society" was organized in 1932. The Spartans chose to name themselves after the famous soldiers and intellectuals of the renowned city of Sparta, Greece. The Spartans adopted the colors blue and white, and the white daisy to symbolize the society. Their seal was selected to represent the three-fold purpose of the society. It consisted of three Greek letters: Alpha (athletics), Lambda (literary), and Mu (music). "The Spartan Literary Society, besides creating and keeping a wholesome spiritual atmosphere endeavored to develop and cultivate athletes, musicians, and literary artists. Ball games, physical contests, readings, papers, vocal solos, instrumental numbers, and group songs were presented by the Spartans in an effort to compete with the Litolympians and Cleo-Apollonians."

In 1932 the Spartans won the silver loving cup, a token of honor, presented by the faculty to the society that held the highest rating in all activities. They were active in organizing and presenting several literary programs and kept their entertainment on a high intellectual level.

At this time of year, however, we usually set our society aside, just for the time being, and all start planning for the Big Tip-Off game when the Tigers play the Alumni. The first Tip-Off started shortly after moving to our present location. One of the main purposes of Tip-Off was to get

COMMITTEE RELEASES 1958 FOOTBALL ALL-STARS

The following men have been elected to the All-Star football team on the basis of ability and sportsmanship.

Howard Owens, Indian, whose shifty running ability was the main reason for his election to the All-Star squad. Howard was also the leading scorer with 22 points.

Lou Burrell, Trojan, second in scoring with 18 points won a definite place in our hearts with his portrayal of much ability and a deep desire to play good winning football.

Joe Wilson, Spartan, shifted from end by the Spartan mentor half way through the season came through in great style, tallying for 12 points and showing much natural ability.

Dave Reedy, another of the speedy Trojan backs, was a clutch player who always played to win and never slouched even when several touchdowns ahead.

Dale Reedy tied with his brother for 4th place in scoring and showed new ability as signal caller for the Trojans. He's a crafty caller and sharp safety man.

Spence Hedrick, Indian, secured R. E. on the All-Star team through his ability to catch a ball thrown anywhere near him and through his great ability as a blocker.

Gene Collier, Spartan, was a loyal player who did his best and tried for initial charge and drive, opening up holes for the Green and Whites charging backs.

Larry Cox, "Barrell" as he is called for obvious reasons played a stellar role in the Trojans' scheme of things. Not only was he an able offensive tackle but much of the success of the Trojans is due to his football knowledge and coaching ability.

John Hursh, Indian, rough and ready, with a determination of steel and charge to match, proved his worth in spreading the defensive lines and clearing the way over the center.

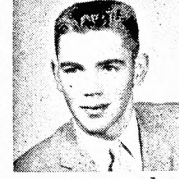

Ray Reglin proved to be the main stay in the Indian line and led in tackles several times. He was there when needed most and would be a definite asset to any team.

Ken Hendricks, Indian, was a more polished ball player this year and a shoo-in for All-Star honors. He thought all the time in an effort to catch the opposition off guard.

Bob Salisbury, Indian, as signal caller mixed up the plays very well and helped to keep the well balanced Indian attack moving.

John Rishel, Spartan, "Tweedy", was seen diving over the center and on several occasions actually dropped the quarterback before he could get rid of the ball. He rated high on the Spartan squad in number of tackles.

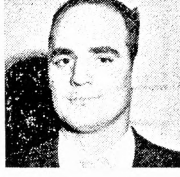

Paul Hamlin, a bulldog when it came to defensive ability, was a key man in the Spartans' setup. He led them in total number of tackles on several occasions.

Jim Sherman, Spartan; the "mighty mite" would best explain Jim's stature and ability. For although, as linemen go, Jim was small he showed well against any odds and made many key tackles.

Jim Bedinger, Spartan, as a line backer for the "green clads" was very effective. His spirit was a tremendous boost to the Spartan morale.

Dale Owens played a big role in the defensive line of the Trojans. Many times Dale was the bottom member of a tackle pile-up!

Chuck Millhuff's tenacious attacking and hard hitting were the reasons for his leading the Trojans in tackles, on a couple of occasions. He was also used as the foot of the Trojans to great advantage during the season.

Warren Wynn, Indian. "He was dropped for a loss by Number 29 Wynn" said the announcer, and this gives insight into why Wirey Warren was chosen to the All-Stars!

Ron Nees proved his worth to the Indians last year and again this year. Possibly one of the hardest tacklers on the field he could often be seen blasting his way toward a runner and never slacking his pace, head down, crushing him to the ground.

Art Hardy, Indian, a fearless defensive back, made many tackles that seemed to be rather unlikely. The Indians will expect big things from Art next year.

Ralph Hill, Indian, "Farmer", is one of those solid ball players who have a love for contact. This year Ralph increased his great defensive drive of last year and added his name to the list of the All-Stars for 1958.

Too Late

Friends, in this world of hurry,
And work and sudden end,
If a thought comes quick of doing
A kindness to a friend.

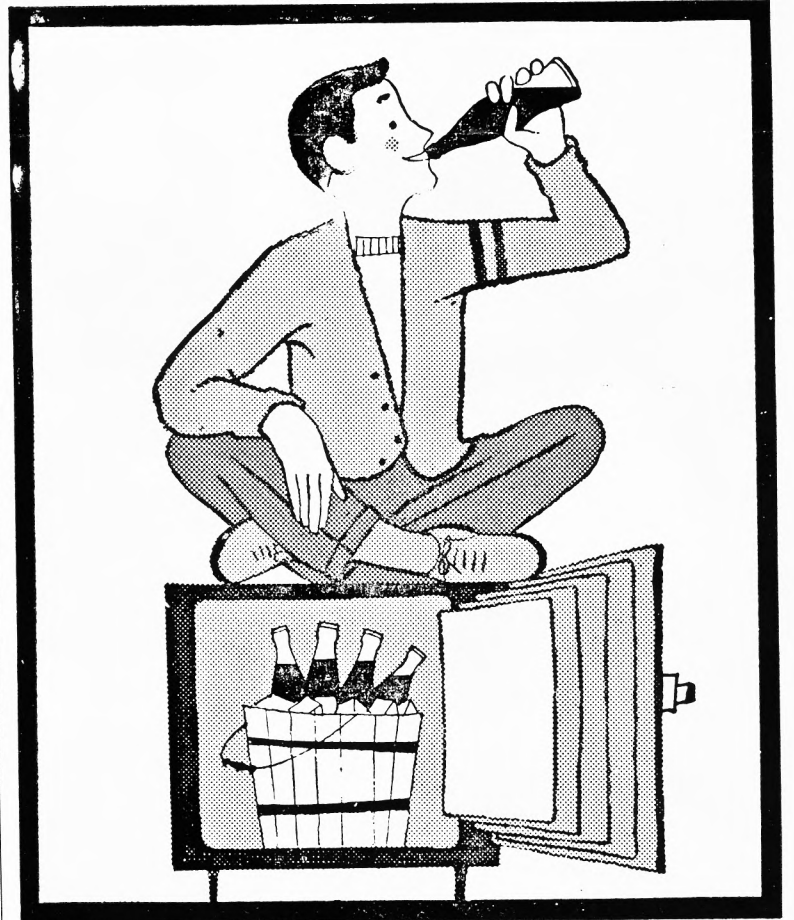

Do it that very minute;
Don't put it off, don't wait,
What is the use of doing a kindness,
If you do it a day too late?

"Why must I weep when others sing?
'To test the deeps of suffering.'
Why must I work while others rest?
'To spend my strength at God's request.'
Why must I lose while others gain?
'To understand defeat's sharp pain.'
Why must this lot of life be mine
When that which fairer seems is thine?
'Because God knows what plans for me
Shall blossom in eternity.'"

Welcome back to campus — friends and alumni of Olivet. "Tip-Off" is upon us once again and it is wonderful to think of the many acquaintances we will be renewing within the next forty-eight hours, the coronation of a new queen, the basketball game, and the football game tomorrow afternoon, and many other activities too numerous to mention.

I understand, by way of the grapevine, the alumni teams have really been working to get in shape for this year's contest. It should prove very interesting before the last shower has been taken. GOOD LUCK . . . "O" Clubbers!

Our football season is over as well as the softball season. I feel we've had a very worthwhile year, especially in football with the playing of four games "under the lights". I would like nothing better than to see the three societies unite and play other schools under the lights. Why not?

Before pulling the cover over my typewriter I do want to personally congratulate the football and softball players who have been elected to the respective All-Star teams. Thanks to all of you for a job well-done! I will take this opportunity to place my nomination for the all-star "hoola-hooper" here at Olivet, my vote goes to none other than . . . Gene Woods. See you tonight for the ballgame.

Spartans & Trojans
End Regular Football Season With Wins

The following is a condensed soup version of two football games. The first game reported is the game between the Spartans and the Trojans. The only score of this game was by the Spartans. The score came in the second period of play by Tom Thompson who ran the ball across from about the twenty-five yard line. The game was one of fine defensive play.

The game between the Trojans and Indians was one in which one could say, "the Indians bit the dust". The only score in this game came in the first quarter. Burrell ran the tally from the two yard line. The Indian fans were thrilled by the thoughts of scoring when Scott Williams got loose for a fifty yard run. Also a pass by Sublette to Owens late in the four quarter which covered nearly sixty-five yards down to the Spartan ten yard line proved to be an exciting play for all. The game ended and the Trojans had won the first game from the undefeated Indians by a score of six to zero.

The following records were posted by the respective teams. Indians 3-1, Trojans 2-2, and the Spartans 1-3. The student body wishes to express their thanks to these teams for the exciting and entertaining football games of this season.

"O" Club — Alumni Battle Tonight

Having been thoroughly drilled and coached on their plays for the past three weeks by Mac Delbridge, the "O" Club women are hoping for and anticipating a victory in tonight's game against the Alumni.

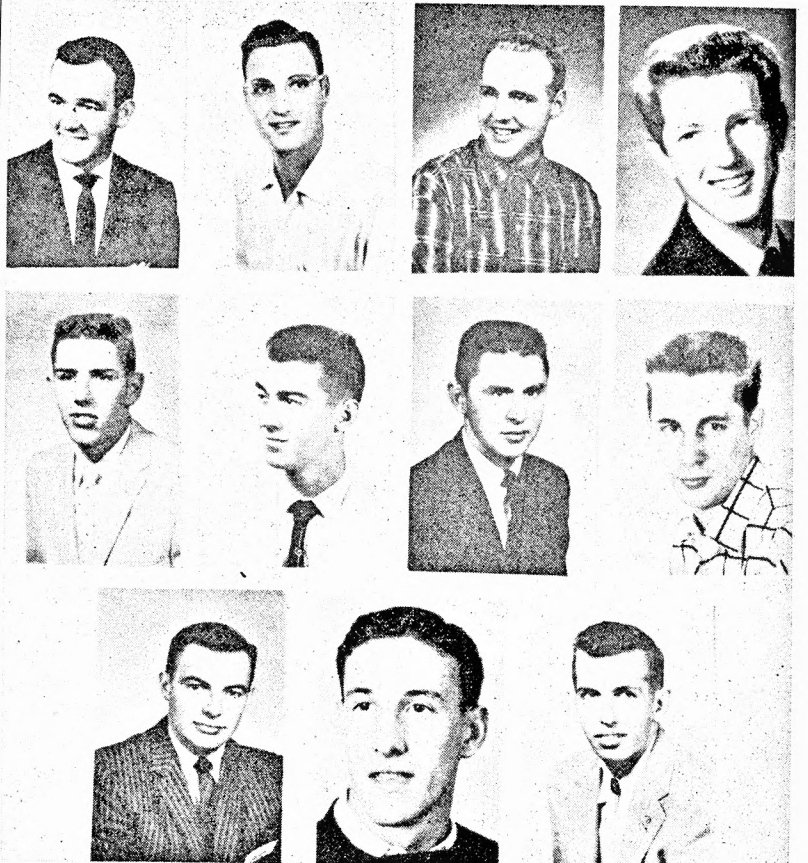

The practice game against the All-School Team proved to be good for the "O" Club, giving the girls an opportunity to use their plays against opposition.

Wearing the purple and gold for Olivet tonight will be the following girls: guards — Dorothy Acord, Roberta Cosner, Lila Owens, Joy Pavy, and Faith Reynolds; forwards — Sue Conrad, Pat Dickey, Bobbie Hunter, Noni Shearer, Pat (Hecht) Wall and Alberta (Fell) Starnes.

We urge all of you to support these women as they represent you on the basketball floor tonight. Support your band also by purchasing a pom-pom right away!

It puzzles me; but Lord, Thou understandest,
And wilt one day explain this crooked thing.
Meanwhile, I know that it has worked out — Thy best;
Its very crookedness taught me to cling.

SOFTBALL ALL-STARS

Pictured above are the twelve men who have been chosen as the most talented softball players for the 1958 season here at Olivet. The members have been selected by the Athletic Committee. SOFTBALL ALL-STARS

When the Athletic Committee came out of its huddle it had elected to choose twelve fellows for this years All-Star team.  Jim Hogan — Catcher
 Gale Guyer — Outfield
 Larry Hendrick — Outfield
 Mac Delbridge — Infield

- Spartans:
 Hank Reeves — Coach and short-stop

 Jim Brian — Outfield
 Montez Lobb — Infield
- Indians:

 Scott Gardner — Coach and first baseman
- First-year men include Jim Treese, Monte Lobb, Gale Guyer, Larry Hendrick, and Jack Proctor. Second-year men are Hank Reeves, Jerry Petrie, Jim Hogan, Mac Delbridge. For the third year are Jim Brian and Tom Craig. For the fourth year is Scott Gardner.

1958 SOFTBALL STORY

Congratulations to the Trojans for another softball championship. Their only blemish of this year's play was at the hands of the never-say-die Indians, who took the final game of the season. The Spartans who fought hard to take over the spotlight fell a little short, but managed to take second best. Each team showed good spirit and a high caliber of sportsmanship (at times). A few of the players stood by their team to the extent of participating in every game. To all who made the program possible, a hearty thanks. It's all yours, basketball.

Chapel is the only church that always sends you a notice to the effect that you were missed. Have you ever noticed any close similarities on the campus proper? Take Barrel Cox and Roger Oberdier for example, only Coxie lacks that bearded look along with the traditional and perennial appearance of the three red books. Notice the constant appearance of the books, neatly tucked under the left armpit. Then there's a close assimilation between Gail Guyer's grade average and his batting average. What do Pat Penner and Sue Conrad have in common — brains of course?

Relax Barb, Larry Hanche likes potato chips too and per an announcement from last S. S. before the change in writers, "Attention all girls, Larry is not going steady." Now I ask you, isn't that heart warming? Speaking of Connie Zachary, cheer-up you can have the column back next year because I'm definitely resigning due to severe criticism and general distaste among the readers who get utterly indignant when their name fails to appear in said column. Darrel Bloat-house has suddenly come to life and is in bad need of dates and sympathy.

Aurora Day is a day designed to give everybody a chance to look at the little birdie, who incidently is chirping, and to get their mug in a club picture whose meetings they never attend. Don't forget to Tip-off your Top-off by listening to the announcements during the basketball game like we did last year pertaining to attendance somewhere.

Welcome alumni as long as you don't tear up the campus and behave in an orderly fashion. Stay all week you'll have the time of your life talking about your accomplishments in the dorms, on the field, and with the opposite sex. Relax and enjoy yourself you may be too old to come back next year. Really we're delighted to see you and wish you'd come more often and bring some money with you because we have buildings to build, roads to pave to trailerville (this was a campaign promise last year, what a joke,) and you guessed it — open up our radio station like the Progressive Party was going to do last year. They didn't quite make it. It would only take about $25,000 to get it started and we could run N.B.C. out of business. N.B.C. stands for No Body Cares about me, a statement often made by people with a persecution complex. Just don't forget to buy a popcorn ball to avoid being an odd-ball and get your little yellow flower with a big "O" on it to let everybody know you can afford one. The word is POPCORN BALL AND FLOWER, we need the money!!

Olivet is a normal family; disputes, tears, arguments, frustrations, misunderstandings, and a little love sprinkled here and there to keep the latter from becoming permanent and petrified. It's a grand place especially after you've gone through and wished

by Linda Luttrell

The second in a series of student recitals will be presented Friday afternoon, November 14 at 3:30 in Burke Recital Hall. Students of the Fine Arts Division will be featured in this program of various musical numbers. Everyone is invited to attend the recital, and music majors are required to be there.

Carlton Wood, of Bourbonnais, Illinois, and the Collegian Quartet presented a varied program for the Grant Park High School Assembly, Tuesday, November 4. Carlton displayed his talents by doing a comedy act on various instruments and singing. The quartet sang several groups of popular numbers.

Gale Organ Guild has elected Terry Curtis of Lansing, Michigan, to serve as president this year. Other officers are: Vice President, Larry Kennedy, St. Louis, Missouri; Secretary, Deloris Cavins, Granite City, Illinois; Treasurer, Barbara Sass, Monee, Illinois; and Program Chairman, George Dunbar, Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada.

The Guild will begin its activities by making a field trip to Evanston, Illinois, November 10 to attend an organ recital presented by E. Power Biggs at the First Presbyterian Church in Evanston.

Members and guests of Apollo Choir will meet Saturday evening, November 15, for an evening of social activities in the wagon wheel. Sharon Walters, Bourbonnais, Illinois, is in charge of arrangements for the party and Geraldine Foster, Marshall, Missouri, will head the food committee.

You won't want to miss the Civic Music concert Sunday afternoon, November 9 at 3 o'clock. The Singing Boys of Mexico will be featured in a concert, which I'm sure will prove a highlight on the Civic Music calendar.

Sheffer Delivers Inspiring Speech

by Donna Larrance

Inspiring themes have challenged the listeners during the devotional chapel services held at Olivet during the past two years, but seldom has an address achieved the effect of uniting the entire audience into a single spirited desire or ambition as did the pertinent message that Student Body President, Keith Sheffer, delivered on Friday, October 24, when he looked into the future to see Olivet as a great holiness university.

Keith spoke as a student who revered his Alma Mater when he made clear his realization of the immense scope of our college, which is fully consecrated and dedicated to the task of making Christian education a reality. We are united together and function as a prime motion in God's plans to make "this school a great and a giant pillar in His kingdom if we place ourselves inside and realize the many things we now have and begin to fully appreciate all of our advantages."

He then spoke as a humble servant when he reminded us of our heritage and of the fact that Olivet has developed from a mere forty acres of land, and a beginning student body of twenty, to the largest Nazarene college campus in the world, and a present student body of nearly one thousand located "in the heart of the activities of our nation."

In conclusion he spoke as one who had entered the race with fervor and determination to join with the present student body in loving Olivet to an event greater degree by giving of our strength and means to make it a truly great holiness university.

As students let us accept along with our campus leaders this challenge!

the Alumni acquainted with the new location. This also helped to start the basketball season off with a big bang. From that time to this many new and interesting additions have mushroomed into today's big annual Tip-Off, when our mighty "O" Club Tigers comprised of our faithful Trojans, Indians and Spartans, all combine to face the dangerous Alumni.

Included in the new additions to Tip-Off is the crowning of the Queen, with her court. The first Queen was Mildred Booth in 1952 with her outstanding court. One year later the first Tip-Off Parade was initiated which has become a big annual affair advertising our Homecoming to Kankakeeland. The growth of our Tip-Off has become the talk of everyone who faithfully has followed the growth of our Alma Mate, Olivet. As time goes on, with the plans for the future Olivet, I am sure Tip-Off will be bigger and better as we all support our "O" Club Tigers. . .

Orpheus Holds Party

The Mural Room of Miller Dining Hall was the scene for an informal gathering of the Orpheus Choir on the evening of October 19.

Sandwiches, coffee and relishes were served to the members of the choir by hostesses Elizabeth Hatcher and Vangi Burtch. Betty Bowman and Dwight McMurrin greeted the guests at the door as they arrived for the party.

Following the lunch was a time of group singing, with the songs being led by Tom Thompson.

Linda Luttrell, 2nd Vice-president, was responsible for the planning and carrying out of the party.
