BD OF TRUSTEES MEET, CONSTRUCTION TO BEGIN ON NESBITT HALL SOON

Board of Trustees Meet

Dr. Paul Updike, Chairman of the Board, called the meeting to order and Rev. Forrest Nash officiated during the devotional period. Roll was called and new members were announced. They are: Rev. Harris Anthony, Columbus, Ohio; Rev. E. L. Meyers, Valparaiso, Indiana; and Rev. A. R. Aldrich, St. Louis, Missouri.

Minutes of former meetings were reported on and a Committee for Advanced Degree was appointed which included: Dr. Harold W. Reed, Dr. W. E. Snowbarger and Professor R. L. Lunsford from the college. Dr. E. W. Martin, Dr. E. D. Simpson and Rev. Paul Bassett represented the districts on the Committee. As a result of their action an Advanced Degree will be conferred on Rev. O. L. Maish from the Michigan district.

Dr. Reed gave his annual report, and other administrative officers gave related reports including the assistant to the president in the Development Program, executive field secretary, business manager, treasurer, and auditor.

It is interesting to note that statistics from the Auditing Committee showed the total revenues for the year ending July 31, 1958 amounting to $793,880.60. This is an increase of $101,462.38 over the total revenues for July 31, 1957. Total expenditures were $776,526.43 leaving the school with an excess of $29,693.08.

The Finance Committee approved and it was adopted by the Board of Trustees that an increase of 10% be made in the 1959-60 budget making it a total of $862,000.00 as over the 1958-59 budget of $779,930.00.

Band To Present Concert Feb. 21

The annual band concert under the direction of Prof. Harlow Hopkins will be next Saturday, February 21, at 8:00 o'clock in Burke Recital Hall.

The program will open with the Alma Mater, followed by On the Campus (March) by Goldman. Other numbers will be George Washington Bridge, William Schumann; Traversinfonie, Wagner; Them Basses, Hufine; and Bombasto by Farran.

Stars in a Velvety Sky by Clarke will feature Norman Smith as baritone soloist. Keith Sheffer will conduct the band on Marche Hongroise-Rakoczy by Berlioz.

Also included on the program will be Variations on a Folk Song by Walter Schumann-Erickson. Novelty numbers, Dry Bones arranged by Stevens and Leroy Anderson's Blue Tango, will be followed by the closing highlight of the concert, John Phillip Sousa's Stars and Stripes Forever.

There is no admission charge and from the preview of the program everyone will want to attend this concert.

Olivet Students To Participate In Annual Workshop

Three Olivet students, Carolyn Birchard, Evelyn Gray, and Donna Larrance, will be meeting with other Home Economics college club members from Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Michigan for the 15th annual Province VII workshop. The meeting is to take place February 20 and 21 at the LaSalle Hotel in Chicago.

The Province VII workshop, sponsored by the American Home Economics Association, gives students the opportunity to acquire information concerning careers and current trends in Home Economics and to exchange ideas and make friends with students from many colleges.

During the past year Carolyn Birchard, senior home economics major, has served as Social chairman for Province VII. This has involved the planning and arrangements for a coffee hour and a noon luncheon on Friday. Saturday morning Evelyn Gray will lead a discussion group concerning the role of home economics in today's world. Several other Olivet Home Economics Club members, with sponsor Miss Brown, will attend the Friday session.

Four Faculty Members Receive Special Honors

Recently four of Olivet's personnel were selected to different honor societies in specific fields. Included in this were Naomi R. Larsen, Acting Chairman Division of Fine Arts; Ruth E. Gilley, Head Librarian; Dr. John H. Cotner, Dean of Students; and Dr. Eric Jorden, Assistant Professor of Theology.

In 1958 Mrs. Larsen and Miss Gilley were both selected to Who's Who of American Women. This particular publication, by the A. N. Marquis Company of Chicago, is the first of its nature to be put out. The standards used in selecting the women for this publication are similar to those of Who's Who in America. Included in this book are the biographical sketches of over 50,000 prominent women in the United States.

Dr. Cotner was honored last month by election to full membership into the American Psychological Association. Dr. Cotner has been an associate member and this honor was extended him just recently. This is one of the societies in which membership is determined on the basis of certain qualifications and it is considered a very important society in which to hold membership if one is practicing at all in the field of psychology.

In November of 1958, Dr. Jorden received notification from Hull, Yorkshire, England, that he had been accepted into the Wesley Historical Society. As this society is composed of those who have done work in Wesley, Dr. Jorden was eligible for membership, his Ph.D. dissertation being done in the field of Wesley's teachings. The society has members in the United States and other parts of the world.

VIEW ON COMMUNISM

(by ACP)

Following is a view of the communist threat. It is from Western Reserve University's RESERVE TRIBUNE, Cleveland:

Recently, the Student Council of Swarthmore College passed a resolution sharply criticizing an easily overlooked, but nonetheless significant, portion of the National Defense Education Act of 1958. (This act provides for government loans and fellowships to college students, with participating colleges and universities providing one-tenth of the funds.)

While Western Reserve University has yet to apply to Washington for the benefits of this program, certain noxious elements involved in receiving a Federal loan are of interest to the student community at large.

Section 1001 (f) of the Act has the following two provisions: The student requesting aid must first file an affidavit that "he does not believe in, and is not a member of and does not support any organization that believes in or teaches the overthrow of the United States Government by force or violence or by any illegal or constitutional methods."

This ignominy being taken care of, the applicant then swears or affirms to "bear true faith and allegiance to the United States of America and to support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all its enemies, foreign and domestic." Only then - after grovelling - is the student pinched warmly on both cheeks, benignly smiled upon, and given the loan he seeks.

It would appear that we have returned to the good old days when the governmental old maids peered anxiously beneath their beds for signs of prowlers amid the accumulated dust.

The same age group which provides soldiers for the defense of this country is now somehow suspected of harboring a seething pot of traitors dedicated to the government's downfall. Bureaucrats, ever vigilant for the protection of America's 160,000,000 other potential Benedict Arnolds, have taken strong measures to weed out the Fifth Column which has evidently entrenched itself behind the innocent facade of horned-rimmed glasses all across the Land of the Free.

The Pinkies (i.e., those few who are not financed by the World Conspiracy and must seek a loan from the government) will certainly be repulsed by the prospect of making a false affidavit or swearing falsely to a printed pronouncement. Oh, even if they're not, we've certainly made them feel unwanted, haven't we?

How long must the university student be suspect? Exactly who in the Royal Order of the Red Tape still insists in equating education with disloyalty, a student discount card with membership in the Party, an Ivy League sweater with a cloak and dagger?

One thing for sure. Comes the Revolution, there's gonna be a change around here!

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT OFFERS A TELEVISION COURSE IN "ATOMIC AGE PHYSICS" FOR THIS SEMESTER

Olivet Nazarene College is offering a television course in atomic age physics during the second semester, according to an announcement by Dr. Willis D. Snowbarger, Dean of the College.

Given in cooperation with the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education and the National Broadcasting Company, the course began February 6. It will include five television lectures per week from 6:30 to 7:00 a.m. on channel 3 or 5, and a one hour discussion period each week on the campus.

Leader of the discussion period will be Professor William David Rice, professor of physics.

Prerequisite for credit in the course is a basic course in college physics. The course will continue for 16 weeks. Three hours of college credit are offered for completing the course.

Thoughts On Religion

by DON BRASELTON

"Orthodoxy can be learnt from others; living faith must be a matter of personal experience." - Buchsel.

What is faith? Oswald J. Smith says it means accepting Christ as a gift, receiving Christ as a guest, coming to Christ as a prayer, trusting Christ as a Saviour. He believes that an intellectual assent to Christ is hardly sufficient, for even the devils believe in Him and tremble. John Flavel states that there are three acts of faith: assent, acceptance, and assurance.

Perhaps we can liken this blessing of God's goodness to us to a check-book type of blessing. As the young bride lives off the fat of the land as supplied by the groom, so we, as the bride of Christ, are given the key to almost immeasurable blessings from the resources of God through Jesus Christ. "Large asking and large expectations on our part honor God." - A. L. Stone.

Suppose a man has a length of rope and desires to descend into a well to work. He believes in the hope that it is strong enough to bear him down into the well because of his knowledge of the rope, and of past experiences with this rope and other ropes. We can say that he believes on (has faith in) the rope only when he actually does support his weight on the anchored rope and descends into the well. Thus faith in God is similar. It is not discussion, but decision. Faith is not the nodding of the head, but the wagering of the life.

"According to your faith be it done unto you." It is something you do, and something God does. You are not stifled, and Christ is Saviour. Faith is trusting another, leaving the work to that other, and leaving it without anxiety in His hands. Worry and trust are as incompatible as oil and water. Therefore trust in God is a boon to the Christian for self-composure in life situations.

Someone has said that prayer is to faith as the air and the lungs are to the blood in our physical bodies. Prayer and faith are reciprocal and interdependent. One cannot be fully realized without the other. There can be little doubt that this is true.

"I envy no quality of the mind or intellect in others; not genius, power, wit, not fancy; but, if I could choose what would be most delightful, and, I believe, most useful to me, I should prefer a firm religious belief to every other blessing." - Sir Humphrey Davey.

Maybe A Gusher!

by James Ryan

A big oil shot from Texas Sat in a dentist's chair, He wanted all his teeth checked For possible repair.

The dentist looked them over And said, "It's plain to see That all your teeth are perfect, There's not a cavity."

The oil man grunted a little, Said, "Dentist, don't delay But go ahead and drill a bit, Today's my lucky day!"

From the Pastor's Study . . .

COMMIT THYSELF

by Rev. Forest W. Nash

Peter Marshall once said, "Our problems are not centered around the things we don't understand, but rather in the things we do understand, the things we could not possibly misunderstand." With this observation, we might well also conclude that too many guise their spiritual disobedience in a verbosity which as Paul said "is ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth." If we as Christians will live obediently in the light of a full surrender to Christ then God in His good time will answer many of our questions. And if God does not see fit to give us the answer always, then He will so strengthen faith that we need not despair in the presence of mystery. "If we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ, His son, cleanseth us from all sin" (I John 1:7).

Do this and thou shalt live abundantly!

Be Of Good Cheer

by Dr. Leist

The other day two seniors said to me, "We're down in the dumps. Write something in The Glimmerglass, to give us a lift." Well, here goes.

Be of good cheer! Six times these words are found in the New Testament. Four times they were spoken to individuals, twice to a group. Four times they were spoken by Jesus on earth, once by the Lord from heaven, and once by others because of the presence of Jesus. In all instances they were spoken to those in a desperate situation.

The words were spoken with deep feeling and great tenderness, - once to a man whom Jesus called, "Son," once to a woman whom He called, "Daughter," and once to a person whom He called by name. Over against the harshness of life Jesus sets the tenderness of His love and sympathy. For your help the six occasions are listed with the briefest identification.

Matthew 9:2. A man, desperately sick in body and soul, was carried into the presence of Jesus on a stretcher. Jesus said, "Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee . . . Arise, take up thy bed." He arose, and departed to his house.

Matthew 9:22. A woman who had spent all she had in a vain search for a cure of an affliction steadily growing worse for twelve long weary years, came timidly and touched the hem of the garment of Jesus. Jesus said, "Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole." (In the Greek the word translated comfort is the same as that translated cheer above.)

She was made whole from that hour.

Mark 6:50. The disciples were in the midst of angry storm-tossed Galilee in the fourth watch of the night, "toiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary unto them." Jesus came to them across the raging waves and said, "Be of good cheer: it is I; be not afraid."

Immediately the ship was at the land.

Mark 10:49. Blind Bartimaeus, a roadside beggar heard that Jesus was passing by. Desperately he cried out, "Jesus . . . have mercy on me." Jesus heard his cry and sent for him. The people said, "Be of good comfort (same word as cheer); rise; he (Jesus) calleth thee."

Immediately he received his sight.

John 16:33. It is the night before the crucifixion. The eleven are in the Upper Room listening to the farewell words of Jesus. They are burdened, torn with grief, frightened and filled with anxieties and forebodings too deep to understand. The very last words Jesus spoke to them before He knelt to offer His great High Priestly prayer, were, "But be of good cheer. I have overcome the world."

They also overcame the world.

Acts 23:11. Paul was in prison under a Roman guard as a refuge from a blood-thirsty mob that would have torn him to pieces, because of his testimony for Christ. In the night "the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome."

Paul witnessed for Christ in Rome.

Be of good cheer. What do these words mean? Read these short stories and figure it out for yourself. Whatever else you may find in them, you will surely see that when Jesus speaks these words, He gives solid ground for courage and confidence to meet the situation when life "throws the book at you."

Jesus walked across the stormy sea to a sinking boat to bring His disciples His message of good cheer. He stopped dead in His tracks when he heard the cry of Bartimaeus. He left His abode in heaven to stand by Paul. He'll do no less for you. His presence is sufficient for meeting any situation you may have to face. Don't let life floor you and pin your shoulders to the mat.

BE OF GOOD CHEER!

"Strictly Non-Personal"

by Phil Miller

Why do I go to chapel? You probably answer back that you have to. However this is really not the case as many students here at Olivet feel the unity of the 30 minutes spent each day to worship together in a devotional type program. It is a time to forget your busy college schedule and feed on the word of God. The aim of chapel is to provide programs that are devotional. Other type programs are limited to one per month. The plan is to begin promptly at 9:30 and to close promptly at 10:00 with the exception of opening week when the full period will be allowed, and during revival week when morning classes will be shortened to allow a longer chapel period.

Actually then we can say that our whole college curriculum is built around this few minutes of devotion. It is the only time that faculty, student body and staff are together. Here the different departments become as one and we all worship God together, minister, layman and student.

The General Assembly of the Nazarene Church conducted a study for at least four years at each of our Nazarene Colleges. As a result of this study two important developments have been incorporated into our present program. One, required chapel attendance, and secondly, a certain number of required religious courses. You will find this program at each of our Nazarene schools.

For the benefit of some of our newer friends here on campus the chapel used to last a full period everyday. It has only been in the last couple years that the chapel time has been for 30 minutes.

I can see the reaction of some of the readers of this column as you are reading it. You probably think I have turned conformist. Well, maybe you are right. While you are deciding I'll see you around campus and in Chapel Tuesday.

AN EAR FOR NEWS

by Lowell Thomas

What has been your impressions of the Lyceum Programs thus far this school year?

First of all let me commend the Lyceum Committee for what is obviously a fine job in selecting programs for this year. At least, judging by general opinion, students seem to be impressed. The biggest and most obvious complaint, of course, is the selection of the week nights on which two of the three Lyceums have fallen. Well, read what your fellow students have to say.

Darrel Grothaus, soph. — "They've been appealing on both a collegiate and a cultural level. As well as being interesting, they've been very informative. I appreciate the fact that they have varied by reaching into three broad fields, namely: Public Speaking, Scientific, and Political. In all the years I've lived around here, I've attended quite a few programs. As far as I'm concerned, this year's have been of a more balanced variety than I've noted in the past."

Nona Hudcosky, soph. — "The only one I felt I was completely able to attend was when Mrs. Williamson was here. I really enjoyed it. I heard, though, that there were some who did not. Of course, you can't please everybody. I do think, however, that it would be a lot better if the Lyceums did not take place on a school night. Friday or Saturday would be much more appropriate. I will say that so far there has been much variety. If this continues, most of the major fields of students will have been touched upon."

Larry Kennedy, Junior. — "The choice of programs this year has been very good. I especially enjoyed Mrs. Williamson when she was here and also the Lyceum on rockets.

"And I heard nothing but good comments on the program featuring Representative Judd. However, the choice of nights has been lousy. Monday is a very poor night and too soon after Sunday. I also have a 7:30 class on Tuesdays which is a big day for me anyway. I need all the time Monday nights for studies."

Evelyn Bower, Frosh. — "I would say that they have impressed me favorably. They are more unusual and more outstanding than any that I have seen in high school because of the prominence of the people participating. I especially liked Mrs. Williamson. However, I didn't think that the scientist which we heard delved deeply enough into his topic. I mean simply that the program was one which might be seen on a Walt Disney program, or as a lecture that might come out of a high school physics class. But as I said before, I am extremely impressed by the prominence of these people. It seems that the Lyceum Committee has done an exceptional job in obtaining people well-versed in their field."

Overheard — "We should work up some program of exchange Lyceums between us and other Christian schools such as Wheaton, Greenville, or North Manchester."

What's your opinion?

Class Tourney Rivalry Begins

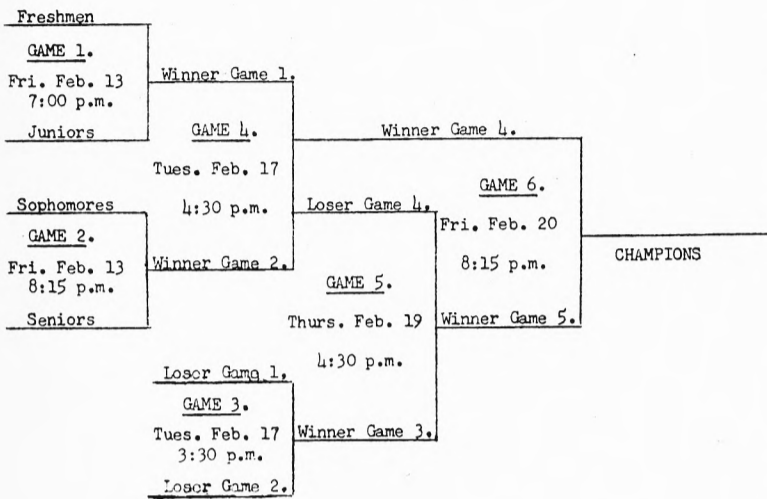

The rivalry of "Society Ball" will soon be forgotten (temporarily) while players who are arch enemies during the regular season will once again be playing side by side in the class tournament which will get under way Feb. 13 and will wind up with a "Championship" game on Feb. 20.

On paper (at least) it looks like the Junior team, who last year as Sophs won the championship, will once again take the top "honors" (even without the presence of Big Hopewell—who would make it a run-away). But who knows, somebody, might have an eraser, and then too, "my" prediction could be wrong?? How about it, Seniors? Sophomores? Freshmen? All in all, it should be an interesting tournament to watch; so everyone come out and back your class.

Games are to be played on Feb. 13, 16, 17, and 19, with the final game to decide the "Championship" on Feb. 20. May the best "class" win!

Keith Sheffer

This week's Sportrait hails from Richmond, Indiana. Our student body President, Keith Sheffer has been quite an active member of the Trojan Society here at Olivet.

Keith participated only in tumbling and wrestling in high school for he worked all during his high school career. In the summers he pitched on his American Legion baseball team. Keith was a member of student council and was social chairman both his junior and senior years. He was elected to the Indiana All State Orchestra his senior year.

Keith has been active in his home church. He has held the offices of church secretary and N. Y. P. S. treasurer.

Here at Olivet, Keith has been outstanding in several of the less publicized sports. He made "O" Club in swimming, baseball, and softball. He has also participated in tennis and basketball. Keith has gone to the National Aquatic School and has received his Water Safety Instructor certificate. The P. E. courses Keith has taught are Swimming, Lifesaving, Archery, and Tumbling.

Keith's biggest thrill in sports here at Olivet has been receiving the All-School Trophy for the Trojans, being its president the past two years.

Super Sub!

It's been said that the atomic submarine "Nautilus" stays submerged so long that it only surfaces to let the crew re-enlist.

Perhaps for this reason, the Navy has taken valuable space aboard the "Nautilus" for the only soft-drink vending machine in the entire submarine fleet.

Naturally (or you wouldn't hear about it from us) it's a Coca-Cola machine. And not unexpectedly, re-enlistments are quite respectable.

Rugged lot, those submariners. Great drink, Coke!

Paul Dishong

One of the most valuable players to the Spartans through his four years of school is Paul Dishong. His favorite sport is basketball.

Paul is 25 years old and comes from Ossian, Indiana. He is married to the former Janet Carpenter.

Sports have always had a place in Paul's life. He won five letters at Ossian High, three in softball and two in basketball. Also in high school, he was the senior class treasurer and a member of the Hi-Y Association.

The college career of this athlete has been one of variety. Paul is a four letterman. He made the "O" Club in football, basketball, baseball, and softball. This year has been an outstanding year for Paul as a member of the Spartan team. His play-making ability on the basketball court has kept his team on top through the season.

Paul is a biology major and is now student teaching in Manteno. Best of luck in your life's work, Paul.

Recently, the Olivet College basketball team traveled to Olney, Illinois, to play the Olney Nazarene church in a return game. Accompanying the team were Coach Ward, Mr. MacKay, Dr. Cotner, and a part of the Olivet band under the direction of Prof. Hopkins. The team played as an added feature in the finals of a small college Invitational Tournament and defeated the Olney Church 72-54. This win kept the team in the unbeaten ranks. However, an important part of the trip has been overlooked.

Olivet, playing before a crowd of several thousand spectators, represented more than just a college with a higher calling — a Christian purpose. This Christian purpose was exemplified in the sportsmanship, attitude, conduct, as well as in the songs and testimonies of the students as they conducted the Sunday morning service at the Olney Nazarene Church. Following the songs, testimonies, and instrumentals, Dr. Cotner delivered the message of the morning. For many of the members of the team and the band, it proved to be a highlight in this year of college. They spoke of the wonderful time they had and of the warmth and friendship extended to them by the town. It proves that a Christian life can be an example even on the basketball floor.

The basketball season is drawing to a close with the opening of the class tourney. The Sophomore class copped last year's tourney with a thrilling one point victory in the final game. I'll stick with the Juniors this year and pick them to win both the men's and women's crown for the second and third years, respectively.

With the close of the class tourney, eyes will be turned toward the coming volleyball and swimming season. Last year several new records were set in the swimming meets and I'm sure that this promises to be another interesting year. As for volleyball, it is an exciting sport despite what the ROPS might tell you.

"See ya at the class tourney!"

Indian Fast Break Defeats Trojans

The last Trojan vs. Indian game proved to be much more exciting than the preceding one. The Indians knew that they must win to stay within position to tie the Spartans for first place. Lytle and Owens were the big guns for the Indians in the first half, each scoring twelve and nine points respectively. Craig paced the men in blue with fourteen points. The Indians held the lead most of the first half and by half-time were leading 37-31.

In the second half the game continued to be close with the Indians holding a small margin at most times. The Indians were aided in the second half by Hedrick's thirteen points. As the final buzzer sounded, the "tribe" were ahead 73-65.

Scoring honors go to Tom Craig who tossed in 22 points along with playing a fine floor game. Jim Hutchinson added 17 points toward their losing cause. The Indian scoring was led by Hedrick, Lytle, and Owens who tallied 19, 18, and 16 points respectively.

"My Business Is You"

by Donna Larrance

Registrar and Director of Admissions is the title given to Dr. Carl S. McClain, the personality behind the desk which holds the motto, "My business is you." It is questionable whether it is the motto or the warm twinkle in his eye that gives the many visitors to his office their first realization of the keen understanding and kind attitude of Prof. McClain, who is interested in helping any collegian with whatever problem he may encounter.

The registrar is a veteran of the Olivet campus - he has been affiliated with the college as a student and as a teacher for the past forty-three years. In 1923 he received a bachelor of arts degree from here, a master of arts degree in 1932 from the University of Illinois, and he was granted an honorary doctorate of letters from Olivet in 1954. In addition to this he did graduate work at Northwestern University and during a six-month sabbatical leave in Europe he did library work. All of these honors certainly make him a worthy member of Who's Who in America.

Being busy seems to be another of Dr. McClain's goals. This is proven as we review his activities here at O.N.C.: He served as principal of the Olivet High School for five years; coached the college debate teams for seven years; was dean of the college from 1931 to 1953, and has been registrar since 1953. He has headed the English Department since 1923 and now he uses his spare time giving literary lectures based on his travels and studies abroad, highlighted by colored photographs he took on the trip.

The other man who makes the registrar's office function smoothly is Mr. William Bennett, officially known as Assistant Registrar.

For the past two years Mr. Bennett has managed the "outer office." Among his duties are the recording of grades and credits, the making of transcripts, and a general keeping of records including permanent record cards for each student. He also visits high schools as a representative of Olivet for college day programs and interviews prospective students.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Bennett graduated from O.N.C. twelve years ago. During his last two years at college he acted as Dr. McClain's student secretary. Since then he has served as a Nazarene pastor in Ohio.

We express our thanks to these two men who so devotedly make this office a success.

Comments On Current Events

by Maurice Howe

Out of the books that 'round us lie, Into a world of give and take; Responsible citizens, you and I? For Pete's sake let's participate . . . in student activities which nourish our appreciation of good government and an attitude of inquiry into the "not-so-good" symptoms of its presence and enabling factors. If the ultimate residence of political power is with John Q. Public, John has some "political homework" (term, compliments of Hon. Mr. W. H. J.) to do, a title of "sovereign" to defend, be he a heavy-weight or a lightweight intellectually.

My news beat isn't very extensive today, just the microcosm known as O. N. C. But quite an amount of raw material or stuff from which civic news stories are made is to be found on campus these days. A Congressman and a high official in organized labor have spoken here in February, one week to the day apart. Did you hear them? While understanding that some folk work nights and that the pressures of school studies are great, I sincerely believe that more students than have been coming can attend our lyceum programs and evening club meetings which are of school-wide importance and open to the public.

From among the many significant statements made by Rep. Walter Judd in lecture and conversation on Feb. 3, I relate his emphasis on the contribution of youth to national thought.

Get the mind of the student and you have a tool for the propagation of an ideology or system of values. Our guest lamented that so many of the better students in our institutions of higher learning seem to exhibit an intellectual aloofness from devices such as party politics. Too dirty, they say. Well, get in with your youthful Christian vigor and help to clear up the mess. We have neither from the standpoint of know how nor sheer numbers the trainees in government that the international importance of the U. S. demands.

I might here interject that from childhood the inhabitants of Communist lands eat, live, and sleep as political creatures. Just read any account written by one who has defected from Communism. Too, Mr. Judd hypothesized that the young Russian scientist may well divert his curiosity from the question of "What's in the atom?" to "What's in the Kremlin?"

Let's remember to get our "political homework." Don't forget that politics exist in a context of social movements and problems and economic forces. A concrete object lesson or a vivid speech by a specialist in a given field of human relations is a valuable supplement to classroom instruction. A parting suggestion: keep a "hawk eye" on school news bulletins and posters for information concerning these opportunities for co-curricular learning.
