STUDENTS ELECT COX, BOND, ACORD AS 1959-60 A.S.B. OFFICERS

LARRY COX

DOROTHY ACORD

KEN BOND

Larry Cox, a junior, from Zanesville, Ohio; Ken Bond, a sophomore, from Valparaiso, Indiana; and Dorothy Acord, a junior, from St. Louis, Missouri have been elected to the offices of president, treasurer, and secretary of the Associated Student Body for the school year 1959-60.

Keith Sheffer, president of this year's student body, officially announced the results of the election Friday evening, April 24. The candidates were nominated at a special student council meeting held Tuesday, April 14. Nominations were announced officially Monday afternoon and campaigning began Wednesday morning with a speech from each of the candidates during the morning chapel service. Active campaigning ended Thursday when each party held individual rallies followed by a parade beginning about 8:30 p.m. along Main Ave. south into Bradley and back to the campus. Rallies were also held following the parades.

599 students voted between 8 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. Friday, April 24. A splitting of party tickets was evidenced when the Progressive Party's candidate for president, Larry Cox, won with 340 as opposed to the Practical Party's candidate, Don Lytle, who received 236. Dorothy Acord, candidate for secretary on the Progressive ticket also won, but Ken Bond, candidate for treasurer on the Practical ticket won by a vote of 350 to his opposition Keith Powell who received 223 votes.

Representing the Progressive Party in the student body elections were Larry Cox, candidate for president; Keith Powell, candidate for treasurer; and Dorothy Acord, candidate for secretary. Dale Galloway and Darel Grothaus served as campaign managers.

Representing the Practical Party for the offices of president, treasurer, and secretary were Don Lytle, Ken Bond, and Joanne Sprague, respectively. Serving as campaign manager for this party was Fred Lee.

Larry Cox, president elect of Olivet's student body has proven his leadership abilities by serving in a variety of capacities while here at the college. This year Larry served as president of the Trojan Society, a member of the student council, member of the Athletic Commission, Junior class officer, and a participant in the Student-Administrative Workshop. Larry has been active in the Honor Society, Ministerial Fellowship, "O" Club, and the Public Affairs Club. During his high school years, Larry served as president of the National Honor Society, Vice President and co-organizer of the National Science Club, president of the Varsity "Z" Club, and was the leader of several major fund drives for the building of a new high school. Larry is also a licensed minister, presently active in the Church of the Nazarene. Larry will assume his responsibilities as president of the Associated Student Body, May 29, 1959.

Ken Bond, the newly elected treasurer of Olivet's student council, will also assume his duties, May 29. Ken, a business major has shown his ability in working with finances by maintaining a straight "A" average in accounting and an accumulative grade average of 3.00. Ken's past experience as treasurer of his high school Student Council, treasurer of his Senior class, and treasurer of the local N.Y.P.S. in Valparaiso certainly qualify him for this position of leadership and service. Ken was active in high school by serving as president of his sophomore class, vice president of his junior class, and sports editor of his high school newspaper. He was also salutatorian of his Senior class.

Dorothy Acord, also a business major, has participated in a large variety of activities both in high school and college. This school year Dorothy has served as a member of the Women's Residence Council, instructor in the Athletic Department, and was recently elected to the office of secretary-treasurer of "O" Club. Dorothy has been active as a Commerce Club member, S.E.A. member, and member of "O" Club. Dorothy has proved her scholastic ability by being the recipient of the Greene Scholarship, the Olivet Scholarship, and the Missouri District Scholarship.

The platform of the Progressive Party, which went into effect with the election of its presidential candidate Larry Cox, presented a 6 point program to the student body. Included among the proposals were a Ministerial Workshop, the establishment of intercollegiate debate competition, the establishment of a literary magazine, and the election of a "Sweetheart King and Queen" to reign over the Valentine Party.

Other cast members are Connie Zachary, the vicar's wife; Lowell Thomas, a sophisticated bishop; Ronald Miller, a working man of necessary occupation and brother of the vicar; Carol Davidson, the vicar's teenage niece; Roger McMurrin, a servant boy.

An intricate plot, a forceful theme and dynamic acting are features of the drama.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET WILL BE HELD MAY 15

Dr. Rowland M. Myers is to be the featured speaker this year for the annual Junior-Senior banquet. The banquet is to be held Friday, May 15, 8 o'clock at the Olympia Fields Country Club, Olympia Fields, Illinois. A pre-party in Williams Hall parlor at 6 o'clock will precede the banquet itself.

Dr. Myers, a native of Brooklyn, New York, and a graduate of Dartmouth College, received his Ph.D degree in Romance Languages and Literature from the Johns Hopkins University. He was awarded an American Field Service Fellowship for study in French Universities by the Institute of International Education. He has also studied in Germany, Italy, Spain and Mexico.

ROWLAND M. MYERS

Dr. Myers has taught languages and literature at five of the leading colleges and universities in the United States as well as at the American School Center for Military Government Officers in England. During World War II, he commanded an anti-aircraft artillery battery and served in the Intelligence and Psychological Warfare sections of the Army. Later he was a political analyst and Deputy Chief of the Elections and Political Parties Branch of the American Military Government in Berlin, Germany.

In his lecture, Dr. Myers presents a series of ordinary words and shows how they reflect the past history of man on this planet, his activities and his thoughts, his moments of confusion, his hopes and his fears.

He tells stories about the origins of words and reveals how they have been formed in the past and are actually being formed today. He explains how it happens that originally knickers meant "clay marbles", seersucker meant "milk and sugar", that tuxedo is in reality a "wolf's paw" and that biceps muscle actually means a "two-headed little mouse".

Dr. Myers believes that a word can be a great power for good or for evil and that words are very important weapons in life, no matter what one does for a living.

PLANS TO FAIL NOT NEEDED

by Dr. Leist

The plans for Christian living are not geared to failure.

A report leaked out a few weeks ago that a group in the Pentagon was making a study and outlining what to do in case the United States was defeated by Russia in war and compelled to surrender.

When President Eisenhower found out about the study he flew into a rage. To a man who had been supreme commander of the mightiest military force the world has ever known, and now the head of the most powerful nation on earth, the idea of surrender was unthinkable, preposterous, nauseating, and maddening.

He came down on it like a ton of bricks on a crate of eggs. The "egg-heads" who thought in terms of surrender were squelched, squashed, squished, and whatever else happens when a ton of bricks lands on a crate of eggs.

The Bible is filled with assurances of victory to the Christian who makes use of the resources that God has provided for those who trust in Him. We have the most startling promises to this end. Our danger is that familiarity with them tends to rob us of the appreciation of their tremendous force.

In the first Psalm we read that everything a man does prospers, if he delights in the law of the Lord and does not walk in the counsel of the ungodly, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seat of the scornful.

In Corinthians Paul overflows with thanks "unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ." In Ephesians he writes, "Be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might . . . take unto you the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand." In Romans he declares that in all things "we are more than conquerors through him that loved us," and does not hesitate one iota to command us, "put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts thereof."

The Bible nowhere teaches that Christian living is easy. On the other hand it never recognizes any conditions, or circumstances, or burdens, or temptations, or anything else that can defeat any person who trusts his all to God and obeys His voice. However, if we do fail we need not despair for we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous.

Keep this in mind, Seniors, as you leave your Alma Mater that has sought to give you an education grounded in Christ and at the same time fitted to the needs of this present day. May you serve your generation according to the will of God, triumphing over every difficulty, prospering in all to which you turn your hand, always pressing "toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

This is the plan in which no provisions for defeat are needed. If we follow completely God's plan for our lives, defeat is impossible.

M.B.I. Sponsors Summer Workshops

Special opportunities for college and university students to receive training in missionary literature and Bible institute methods are available in the 1959 summer school at Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. The missionary literature workshop will be offered June 15 to July 3 and the missionary Bible institute workshop from July 6 to 24. Tuition is free and the only cost is $20 a week for room and board.

The missionary literature workshop will be led by Ken Taylor, director of Moody Literature Mission, which last year aided in the production of over 10 million pieces of gospel literature in over 70 languages.

Methods of Bible institute teaching and administration on the mission field will be covered during the Bible institute workshop. It will be led by Harold R. Cook, instructor of missions at MBI.

Thoughts On Religion

Submitted by
NEIL STRAIT

A few recent books have been written concerning the Holy Spirit, most of them outside of Wesleyan circles. I have noticed one outstanding confession of these authors, that being the dearth of scholarship concerning the activity and work of the Holy Spirit. Andrew Blackwood, Jr., The Holy Spirit in Your Life, and Edwin H. Palmer, The Holy Spirit, both give mention of the Holy Spirit as the "unknown God", as they survey the knowledge accessible. Henry P. Van Dusen, Spirit, Son and Father, claims that the doctrine of the Holy Spirit has been the "stepchild of theology, neglected too much in the past centuries and not sufficiently appreciated today." Perhaps these opinions, somewhat of a concensus of current thought, may be saying two things to our church, and, more especially, to Wesleyan men of writing ability. Either we have failed to reach the circles of the learned with our messages, which emphasize the Holy Spirit, or we have drawn into somewhat of a nucleus and have failed to write interpretative books to the questioning minds of all schools of thought. I think the latter is more true, and, apparently, the fields are ripe for harvest. Be that as it may, let us reaffirm our belief and be thankful for the heritage of having the Holy Spirit lifted high before us.

Sufficient proof is given in the Word of God for the Holy Spirit being a teacher. John promises us, 14:16, the Comforter, which is the Holy Spirit, and, in 16:13, he states that this Holy Spirit will "guide you into all truth." The teaching ability of the Holy Spirit is a most emphatic New Testament thought and is supported by many passages. The Synoptics show the Holy Spirit in relation to Christ, giving Him ample power to carry out the mission for which He had come. John is more specific, especially in chapters 14 and 16, and gives us a clear concept of the Holy Spirit as a teacher. In Acts we see the Holy Spirit giving definite directions to the church, appointing ministers and guiding them to the appropriate fields of labor. The Apostle Paul pictures the Holy Spirit as a teacher in that He distributes the gifts of the church in various ways as He sees best. Throughout Paul's writing the Holy Spirit is seen as one that dwells within the Christian's heart and gives guidance along the way.

The wonderful promise expressed by St. John is sufficient encouragement for the Christian grasping for the will of God. But the problem arises so many times in the failure of man to rely on the claims of the Gospel. How powerless we were apart from the indwelling presence of the Holy Spirit to guide, teach and instruct us. Such promises, forwarded to us by John, are unequalled by current achievements. When one opens his Bible to read, he is assured of the Holy Spirit's presence to point out the truth contained therein. This doesn't mean that He will illuminate every fringe area of truth, but that He will give sufficient knowledge to fit the present condition of your life.

We may carry this thought of the Holy Spirit as a teacher into many areas of activity. The minister would be a powerless, insignificant person in the pulpit if the Holy Spirit did not channel his message to the hearts of his listeners and teach its essence to each heart. The Christian laymen would be a "sounding board" if it

From the Pastor's Study . . .

HERE'S YOUR KEY

by Rev. Forrest W. Nash

Obedience to God in everyday living confirms the reality of our experience of God's grace through faith. Obedience is the way which defines to us the meaning of Paul's words which he wrote in Philippians, "Being confident of this very thing, that He which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ." And obedience to Christ is not hard when we love Him supremely; it becomes the real joy of living. Joseph Parker, the great preacher of London, said, "Visions are tested by obeying them." And how true are the words of the familiar hymn, "Trust and obey for there's no other way

To be happy in Jesus
But to trust and obey."

WITH RISING COSTS, RISING FEES?

(ACP) - College tuitions will go up. This is no prediction, but fact, based on economic necessity, decided by legislators and college administrators.

Tuition hikes won't be limited next year to state-supported schools. Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio, for example, announced higher fees for next year, and TAN AND CARDINAL agreed, "Although higher rates will bring some inconvenience to bear on the student, an upward movement is almost necessary in this age, and no other practical alternative is open."

Several state-supported school newspapers looked with less calm on increases. UCLA's DAILY BRUIN headlined: "Don't Take Education From Adults!" pointing up the fact that the legislature had cut in half (so far) the requested allocation for University of California Extension, which serves 383,000 persons with university-level education.

Increased fees would not be the best way to support the Extension (it's already supported 84 per cent by fees), the BRUIN emphasized because most students who go there haven't gone to college because they couldn't afford to. Now they are working, paying taxes, STILL paying (twice, some say) to get the education they couldn't get before.

"There's no doubt about it," said the BRUIN. "Raising fees would cut down opportunities for many . . . Is it good policy to price education out of the reach of millions of citizens? Most important - does our society need more or fewer products of university-level training in these times?"

University of Texas DAILY TEXAN quotes a Texas newspaper, Lubwere not for the Holy Spirit taking their witness and applying it in understandable ways to the masses. The despondent, discouraged and broken-hearted would be without hope, confused and backsliden if it were not for the Holy Spirit's giving ample explanation for the present condition of things. Yes, a longer list could be compiled, but enough has been given to etch an impression. May we trust the Holy Spirit to guide us and teach us His ways.

bock AVALANCHE-JOURNAL, with a plan for raising funds for higher education. The idea: a sliding tuition schedule in which each student, by his record, sets his own tuition charge.

A minimum tuition of $75, say, would be set per semester and each student would pay that on first registration. The student who stays, for example, in the upper 10 per cent of his class would continue to pay $75, the student in the next 20 per cent would pay $100, etc.

Says the Lubbock paper: "This would not only separate the academic sheep from the academic goats, but it would also raise additional funds needed for education and put the premium in college where it belongs: on scholarship."

The TEXAN disagrees with the Lubbock article. "We present it to show the fight to prevent a tuition raise has just begun," say the editors. "Those who call for raising tuition to 'keep enrollment down' are calling for elimination of students on basis of finances, a position we frankly believe, if practiced, would be most detrimental to our way of life."

University of Minnesota students may face a $25 per quarter tuition jump, MINNESOTA DAILY says (see also "No More Problem," PARADE OF OPINION), as legislators currently debate University appropriations.

In Auburn, Alabama, Alabama Polytechnic Institute administrators told the PLAINSMAN of their appeal to the legislature for aid in getting 15 needed new buildings. Most urgent, a new library. The present one will accommodate at one time only 6 per cent of the school's 8,000 students.

Resignation of Wayne State University's physics department head underlines the problem. He left because, reports DAILY COLLEGIAN, "he was forced to work with second rate equipment, lack of sufficient funds for the physics department and because there is no future in the natural sciences at the university."

The paper added, "If the university president thought he pacified students and faculty by telling them that other universities have the same troubles, he is badly mistaken."

Hardly a country of the world today can be labeled "isolated". Communication and transportation facilities, material prosperity, and technology may be uneven in different parts of the world, but we feel more and more that all news is our news.

Tibet is a wild region which has for centuries seemed destined to isolation by its rugged topography. Those few westerners who have been in the strange land will generally agree that there is little that an outside power would find worth the effort to extract from it. We wonder why it is that the Communists from China have bothered to garrison the country.

Chinese Communist troops in Tibet are reportedly enthusiastic crusaders as they were when they "volunteered" for duty in Korea. Their aim having always been to conquer the world, the Communists seek ideological victory no less than physical and political dominance over their foes. In subjugating Tibet a moral victory for their doctrine can be won. Why? Tibet is ruled by the Dalai Lama, a devout high priest of Buddhism, a religion deeply ingrained in the lives of the people and definitely Asiatic in its thought patterns. Destroy traditional religion in Tibet as the family unit was weakened in China, and demoralized citizens, no longer with a continuing basis of belief, seek a sure foundation among the chaos. Communism is available as religion, philosophy, and practice to fill the vacuum left by collapse of the old way of life.

Too, provoked by insults to their authority, Chinese Communists have become vengeful and have committed atrocities which can but contribute to the hate of the Tibetans for them. A parallel may be found in the ruthless crushing of the 1957 revolution in Hungary.

Supposedly Uncles Nikita and Mao know best what Asians need. Asian Communists have the advantage of fighting a paradoxical offensive war on home ground. The Communists have been able to appear as unselfish kinsmen of all the Asians. The military and economic aid that the U. S. has pumped into Asia is belittled as stemming from ulterior motivation and as interference in affairs which do not concern us. Countries which are backward technologically quickly show dividends of Communist capital and managerial investments. In Tibet Communist aliens point to tangible achievements such as a new trunk road lengthwise of the country plus other public works.

The free world is hoping with Tibetan expatriates that the fierce passion of human liberty will never be extinguished there. Tibet may be far removed from us geographically, but her struggle is near our hearts.

S.E.A. Members Visit
Historical Site In New Salem, Illinois

S. E. A., campus organization for future teachers went to New Salem, Illinois for a combination field trip and banquet, April 4, 1959. New Salem is an authentic village restored as it was in Abraham Lincoln's time. The many log cabins and interesting household articles appealed to the group. As 1959 is the 150th anniversary year of Lincoln's birth, it was most fitting that this teacher-to-be group see this famous historical site. Enroute the S. E. A. members stopped at Mr. Lincoln's tomb in Springfield, Illinois.

That evening the Banquet was held at New Salem Lodge in a quaint dining room. The waitresses were attired in colonial dress. Miss Ruth Peters, graduate of Olivet Nazarene College, past president of the local S. E. A. chapter and also past president of Illinois S. E. A. was the guest speaker. She spoke on "Qualities of a Teacher."

S. E. A. Officers this year are Geraldine Foster, President; Janet Lawhead, vice-president; Ruth Helms, secretary; Juanita Slack, treasurer; June Whitkanack, librarian; Eleanor Ediger, historian and Carolyn Shrum, social chairman.

Hurry, hurry, hurry is the motto at this time of the year, especially for the Graduating class. Why? ? ? You ask . . . Here it is at last, the time to leave the halls of ivy and face the cruel world. What to do next — graduate school, seminary, that first job after college, or whatever the problem might be? However, this is one problem you face and face it you must. . . The thing that strikes me the most about this is the deep satisfaction to know that a Supreme Power is guiding. As the Revival spirit is still on campus from our Spring Revival, many students are answering the call of God into special service in His work. With an education like this in a Christian atmosphere and Christ as our Co-Pilot, how can we help but succeed in witnessing to a lost and dying world.

I know this type of writing is much different than usual for this column. Maybe I have been influenced by this conformity bit. But one thing I am sure of, we must conform to one big important issue of today. We must conform to Holiness Unto Our Lord.

Orpheus Banquet To Feature Hustedt As Guest Speaker, May 8

This year the annual spring banquet of Orpheus Choir will be held Friday evening, May 8, at the White Fence Farm in Joliet, Illinois.

Featured as guest speaker will be a former member of the Olivet Fine Arts Department, Mr. Donald Hustedt, now chairman of the Music Department at Moody Bible Institute.

Mrs. Naomi Larsen, Orpheus Choir director, will present three-years pins to the following people: Boyd Fees, Geenene Morrisson, Sally David, Ron Angles, and Gene Cline. Awards will be given to two members of the choir, a boy and girl who have been chosen by the group as the most valuable all-around members. The officers elected to serve the choir for the next school year will also be announced.

The students of Olivet as well as our other Nazarene colleges should look back, just for a quick glance at the past 50 years of progress of our church, and use this as just a stepping stone for the next 50. We will be the leaders of tomorrow's church, as pastors, teachers, missionaries, laymen or whatever the position might be.

With these thoughts as our inspiration and a determination to fill our place in the task, with the Lord's help, the Church of the Nazarene can and will grow to a bigger and better

but there is no "MEDIOCRITY" in Franklin Plans and Methods

I am skeptical about this thing we are in that is about to "saucer out" or "bottom out" this recession. Because there never was a depression before when prices continued to climb. There never was a depression before when people had money but wouldn't take it out of the bank.

I think this is not an economic thing. I think people are just bored with us — with you and me — with the things we sell and the way we sell them. And it's better to have a prospect furious with you than to have him bored.

But mediocrity of salesmanship is only a part of your national pattern, for this, in America, is the greatest era of the goof-off, the age of the half done job. The land is populated with laundry men who won't iron shirts, with waiters who won't serve, with carpenters who will come around someday maybe, with executives whose minds are on the golf course, with teachers who demand a single salary schedule so that achievement cannot be rewarded, nor poor work punished, with students who take cinch courses because the hard ones makes them think, with spiritual delinquents of all kinds who have been triumphantly determined to enjoy the "new leisure."

And the salesman who won't sell is only a part of this overall mess.

I think — and I hope to God it is true — that our people are becoming sick of this goofing-off. The reason? I do not know. But I will guess that we are gradually beginning to realize that history is repeating itself.

What you and I have to do, patiently, day by day, is to teach people that work can be fun, that the only reward that life offers is the thrill of achievement. . .

SPORT TALK

by Sue Conrad

This article has been written for the prime purpose of informing you women who plan to participate on field day as to the importance of training for your event. Many of you may be participating in track for the first time, and perhaps you are not sure of how to go about conditioning yourself. This process of conditioning rests primarily in the hands of the individual. It is, therefore, necessary for her to know how to proceed to get into condition.

Your diet is a very important factor to consider when training. In order to adequately supply materials which are energy-yielding and body-building the diet must include generous amounts of proteins as in lean meats, beans, and cheese and also carbohydrates as in sugar and potatoes. It is taboo on the coffee unless it is at breakfast.

Exercise is an important part of the conditioning process. Warm-up periods followed by not overly strenuous work outs prove beneficial. You will have to be the judge in controlling the amount of exercise you get so as to keep within the bounds of your endurance.

Rest and sleep are of utmost importance if you are to be conditioned and to avoid dullness of mind and body. Short periods of relaxation during the daily routine of work are very beneficial. Sufficient sleep should be acquired at the expense of nearly everything else. Each girl must decide for herself the amount of sleep she requires to be at her best and to perform proficiently.

Olivet Athletes Prepare For Field Day; Freshmen May Shine

Happy over the addition of one new event, the low hurdles, Olivet's field and track men are now looking forward to Field Day coming up Tuesday, May 12. Field Day is an all school affair and everyone participates either as an athlete or spectator. On this day all classes are dismissed. The day will be climaxed by a smorgasbord dinner, a band concert, and the presentation of letters and other awards during the intermission of the band concert.

The calibre of athletes has steadily improved throughout the years. This year is no exception. There will be many fine boys representing their societies in the battle for the meet championship.

Dave Reedy, a Trojan and last year's high point man, will again be going all out for the big Blue. Dave set a new record of :53.7 seconds in the 440 yard run last year. Several freshmen will present that unknown quality and we'll have to wait and see just what they have to show. Some that may finish in the money are Carl Birchard, Dale Reedy, a brother to Dave, Bob Salisbury, Vernon Schwinn and maybe some others that we haven't seen.

Dorothy Acord, who was last year's high scorer in the women's division, and also a Trojan, will again be out to prove her prowess. Marilyn Trimble and perhaps Sue Conrad will be finishing strong in their events. Trimble last year vanquished the old high jump mark with a leap of 4'6" for a new entry into the record book. The Trojan women relay team also posted a record-breaking time of 1:02.5 in the 440-yard relay.

It will be interesting to see which of the men's societies will come out on top, but we feel that the strength of the Trojan women will be the deciding factor in the overall meet championship.

Societies Play Two Rounds Of Softball

The members of the Indians, Spartans, and Trojans who couldn't find the time for baseball or enjoy playing softball more, are playing two rounds of softball. The games are already being played and dates of postponed games will be rescheduled by Prof. Ward. Coaches Mellish, Hedrick, and Hogan have strong teams and it promises to be a tight race down to the wire.

JIM HOGAN

Stepping into the Spotlight this week is Jim Hogan. Jim began to make a name for himself while in high school. He lettered in baseball his last two years at Kankakee High School.

Jim played basketball and baseball all four years of his naval career. The last two years in the Navy he made the all-naval league team at Key West, Fla. He coached basketball for two years. His greatest thrill in sports came when his team won the sixth Naval District Championship, by beating a team that had beaten his team the preceding year 103-39.

Here at Olivet, Jim has won five letters in softball and baseball. He has played baseball and basketball 3 years, softball 4 years, and football one year. He has coached Trojan baseball and basketball and is now coaching their softball team.

Jim is planning to teach and coach at the junior high level and on up. God's richest blessing to you, Jim, in your life's work.

Swimming Pool Rated "Class A"

Prof. Ward announced several days ago that Olivet's swimming pool has received a "Class A" rating. The classification was made by the Department for the Sanitary Control of Swimming Pools. This rating by the State helps to raise the quality of Olivet's athletic facilities which have reached a high mark the present year.

The past summer while most students were home earning their tuition for the coming fall, much time and money was being spent in the reconditioning of Olivet's swimming pool. Almost $10,000 was spent on the installation of a new filtering system for the pool. The pump, along with pumping 280 gallons of water a minute, also provides the latest method of purification. The old filtering system used sand filters. The new filters are of fine screens inside large filtering tanks. The water is pumped through these tanks and back into the pool. During this process, chlorine is also added to the water which is being heated as it passes through these pipes.

The pool is open to all students of the college. The hours when it will be open are posted.

An increasing number of banks are opening "pedestrian windows." Supplementing inside and drive-in windows, they serve customers directly from the sidewalk.

"Net" Enthusiasts Battle In Tourney

Two weeks ago, representatives of the societies each chose ten men to represent them in the tennis tournament. The opening rounds have already been completed. The final match is to be played today if weather hasn't caused the postponement of some of the earlier matches. Since Burley Smith graduated the tournament promises to present a new champion for the first time in four years. The general opinion is that Larry Mathias is the man to beat, we'll leave the darkhorse candidates for you to name.

The ping-pong tournament is also being planned at the same time as the tennis matches. The gymnasium is the site of the games. Defending champ, Harry Dadian, is the man to beat and Harold T. Smith, Harold L. Smith, and Dave Gillette will provide plenty of competition. May the best man win!

MUSIC MEMOS

by Linda Luttrell

Evangeline Burtch, mezzo-soprano, presented the first senior recital of the school year, Saturday, April 18. Included on Vangi's program was "Cara Sposa" from Handel's Rinaldo and "Grief and Pain" from Bach's St. Matthew's Passion. Norman Smith assisted Vangi, presenting selections on the baritone horn.

Martha Reed, contralto, and Keith Sheffer, trumpeter, presented a combined recital on Tuesday, April 21. Martha's program included sacred numbers by Gaul, Mendelssohn, and Bach. Keith's selections were the third movement of Haydn's Concerto, a trumpet concerto by Walberg, and Stephen Foster songs.

The final student recital of the year will be presented Friday, May 15 in Burke recital hall. (This should prove to be a top-notch recital preceding the week of exams!)

Don't miss Orpheus Home Concert, Sunday, May 10!

New T.V. Rooms Add To Williams, Chapman Halls

The latest additions to both Williams and Chapman Hall are the television rooms. These rooms hold hours of enjoyment for the residents of both dormitories.

In Williams Hall, the new television room is in the room originally known as the recreation room. The members of the W.R.A. did most of the redecoration themselves. The walls were painted aqua with black drapes at the windows. The chairs are black, aqua and white. The lighting of the room is small wall lamps. It is the plan of the W.R.A. to add carpeting later on this year.

Chapman Hall television room has walls of sandlewood brown with olive green drapes. The chairs are light chartreuse and forest green. The floor is covered with brown tile. Both television rooms have 21" T.V. sets.

The T.V. rooms are kept in compliance with the Nazarene Church Manual. Hollywood-type dramas that display immodesty and dancing are prohibited, as well as watching of television on Sunday, with rare exceptions.

The love expressed in human relationships is but an infinitesimal portion of the love of God.—Good Business.

Clubs Make Plans For May Banquets

The banquets are as follows: Orpheus Banquet at White Fence Farm in Chicago, May 8; the Orchestra and Band Banquet May 9; Sociology Club Banquet with Mr. J. E. Regan, warden of Joliet State Prison as guest speaker, at Yesteryear, May 11; Junior-Senior Banquet May 15 in Chicago; Science Club Breakfast with Dr. Hamlin guest speaker at Howard Johnson's Restaurant, May 16; Apollo Choir banquet will be held May 22; and Phi Delta Lambda Banquet, May 26.

Support your organizations by attending these banquets and breakfasts!

Fad Has Benefits

(ACP) — Bicycle riding, a diversion looked upon by high schoolers as "kid stuff" is becoming increasingly popular at Ventura, California, College, reports PIRATE PRESS.

Collegians are riding bikes to school and finding them delightfully inexpensive — one easy payment, no gas, oil, insurance, etc.

"Further," continues the newspaper, "with the addition of the leg exercise obtained bicycling to the existing jaw exercise obtained in the coffee shop, our students should become a very healthy lot."

Non-Discriminatory

Home Economics Club Shows '59 Fashions

Mary Ann Lindquist — Fashion Model

"Sprigs of Spring" brought 1959 fashions to the campus, Thursday evening, April 16.

The annual Home Economics Club fashion review with co-chairman Donna Larrance, Carolyn Birchard, and Sharon Fisher was presented in Burke Recital Hall.

Narrators Mrs. Rose Mary Ciaccio and Mr. Bob McCannon were provided by Aldens, as were also the fashions.

Music for the review was by Ovid Young, pianist, and Keith Powell and Shirley Collier, duet.

Olivet coeds had an opportunity to view the popular shirt-waist jacket dress, high crowned hat, and other "59" features modeled by Mary Ann Lindquist, Joyce Mangum, Linda Luttrell, Kay Fiedler, Linda Beatty, Pat Pinner, Judy Kitchen, and Judy Lambert.

Wash 'n wear was tops in men's wear and especially suited for campus activities. Fashions for the collegeman were modeled by John Hursh, Spence Hedrick, Bill Marsh, Larry Jimenez, and Chuck Nichols.
