Juniors Are Packing "Id" Full Of Thrills

by Sharon Owens

The big word on campus these days has been the short "Id". Anyone walking on campus this past week has seen the curiosity-provoking signs, featuring this "word", strung everywhere. The Junior class has successfully created an aura of secrecy and mystery around the Halloween Party which takes place in Birchard Field House tomorrow night at 7:30.

Information concerning this unusual event has been very limited, therefore, it seems that the only way to obtain any knowledge is to attend the function. However, all intimations released by officials of the junior class, in guarded statements, indicate that, to say the least, the occasion will be an interesting one. The atmosphere may be that of one found in Macbeth, or even a spine-tingling tale by Poe. Mary W. Shelley's creation (Frankenstein) is also supposed to put in a guest appearance. Bill Dyon, a senior, is the Master of Ceremonies.

Among other things, the program will feature the traditional "Ghost Walk". This intriguing march un-faillingly produces screams and queasiness from observers. Anything can be expected as you enter this "hallway of horrors". One thing is certain, there are innumerable surprises in store for everyone.

The Junior class officers desig-named various committees to participate in planning the evening's activities. Jeanne Eckley and Ted Griffin preside over all plans as social committee chairmen for the class. The Program committee is headed by Laura Rees. In charge of the decorations is Brenda Starr. Responsible for the splendid job of advertising was Pat Tyler, and the committee for the Ghost Walk was led by Dwight McMurrin. The Sophomore class is handling the responsibility of refreshments, and on the bottom of the totem pole, as usual, the faithful Freshman class is the Clean-up committee.

LARRY COX

Affairs Vice-President, Junior Class secretary, Spartan Society secretary and treasurer. Donna was a member of the W. R. A. Council, has lettered in cheer-leading, and was a recipient of the Nazarene Scholarship.

THOMAS CRAIG

Deloris Cavins has been active in music affairs at Olivet. She has been a member of Music Educators, Gale Organ Guild, of which she was secretary and vice-president, a member of the Orchestra, Apollo Choir, Evangelists and Missionary Band. Deloris was also a recipient of the Nazarene Scholarship. Larry Cox is currently serving as president of the Associated Student Body. He has been a member and president of the Trojan

Olivet's Music Faculty To Give Annual Recital

Olivet's music faculty will once again present the annual faculty recital on Friday evening, November 6, at 8 o'clock. The concert is to be presented in College Church.

Appearing with instrumental numbers will be the following professors. Wanda Kranich, organist, will play "Roulade" by Bingham and "Allegro 6th Symphony" by Wiedor. Jewel Flaugher, violinist, will perform "Romance, 2nd concerto in D minor" by Wieniawski. Pianists on the program will be Robert Brown, playing "Papillous, Op. 2" by Robert Schumann, and Jo Ann Noble, giving "Sonata, Op. 2" by Beethoven.

Two of the faculty will bring the vocal numbers. Irving Kranich, tenor, will sing "In Native Wroth" from The Creation by Haydn, and "How long, oh Lord, wilt Thou forget me" by Bach. John Taylor, baritone, will perform "It is enough" from Elijah by Mendelssohn, and "The Ninety and Nine" by Champion.

A piano and clarinet sonata, "Sonata in E flat" by Brahms will be presented by Harriet and Harlow Hopkins.

Each year the Division of Fine Arts sponsors such a recital, and all are invited to attend.

In The Editor's Opinion . . .

On a campus such as the size of Olivet, you will find certain individuals that just naturally seem to draw other students to themselves. Not only will this be true here in our local situation, but this will be true wherever these students locate themselves after graduation.

Have you ever tried to observe the qualities or combination of qualities that creates the personality of a person such as this? Among other things, I have noticed that an attitude of positiveness is apparent. Usually a person with a negative approach to life is not sought after, leading us to believe that positiveness by virtue of its nature, is more winning.

A positive outlook is not only beneficial in our relationship with others, but it is effective within our ourselves. Somehow, being positive makes one feel better within themselves. I don't say that we necessarily have to be robots and take the positive side of every issue, for we would no longer be free and rational in our thinking—but, even in a negative point of view we can be positive. A good example of this was the messages brought to us a few weeks ago in Chapel by Dr. L. T. Corlett. He spoke to us on negative issues in the church, but was so positive in his delivery that we were persuaded to his thinking.

I wish each of you could have had the opportunity of sitting in on the annual student-administration workshop this past September. This subject was a point of discussion, and I think the feeling was unanimous among each of the participants to strive toward positiveness among the students, faculty and administration in all areas of our campus activities.

Of course, this is an attribute that comes only when there is effort put behind it—it is a trait that must be cultivated if it is to become a part of the person. But in the end, so much more good is accomplished that I believe every effort is rewarded.

I wish we could all somehow, get a good hold on this idea of positiveness in our thoughts and actions, and in whatever we strive to accomplish, do it with this in mind.

SPOTLIGHT ON THE FACULTY

by Don James

The Olivet faculty and student body are certainly appreciative of having Dr. Lena Duell Vincent as an instructor in psychology.

Mrs. Vincent received her elementary and secondary education in the state of Michigan and immediately upon graduation from high school she entered Greenville College, Greenville, Illinois. Upon graduation from Greenville, Mrs. Vincent did post-graduate work at the University of Michigan, from which she received her master's degree in psychology. Then she returned to her Alma Mater, Greenville College, and taught for several years, until she married a promising Free Methodist minister and retired to home life. During her marriage she was mother to five children.

In 1947, shortly after the death of her husband, Mrs. Vincent resumed her studies at the University of Michigan. In 1951, she began full-time work on her doctorate, and in 1956, after five years of work, Mrs. Vincent was awarded her doctorate in psychology.

Dr. Vincent is a deeply spiritual lady, constantly burdened for the salvation of souls. She is friendly and warm-hearted and a happy addition to the Olivet family.

We are weaving character every day, and the way to weave the best character is to be kind and to be useful. Think right, act right, it is what we think and do that makes what we are.

—VITAL STATISTICS—

The Registrar's office tells us that there are 991 students enrolled in Olivet this year as compared to 867 last year.

These students are distributed as follows: freshmen, 394; sophomores, 225; juniors, 170; seniors, 118. The remainder are 41 unclassified, 1 theological certificate, 10 ministerial studies, and 30 special students.

Represented this year are 22 states and 28 denominations. Illinois ranks highest in numbers of students, followed by Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan in that order. As is to be expected the Nazarenes are the best represented denomination, followed by the Methodists, the Baptists, and the Lutherans in order. We are also glad for the students from other countries we have among us.

It might be of interest to note that there are 533 men and 428 women. However girls, some of these many men are married already! There are 251 married students.

A report from the biennial Nazarene Educator's Conference held at Trevecca Nazarene College, Nashville, Tennessee, October 12-14, discloses that Olivet ranks highest in enrollment among all the other Nazarene colleges.

Following is a list of the colleges and their respective enrollment figures.

Nazarene Theological Seminary	163
Canadian Nazarene College	140
Trevecca Nazarene College	455
Northwest Nazarene College	625
Eastern Nazarene College	652
Bethany Nazarene College	937
Pasadena Nazarene College	960
Olivet Nazarene College	991

Thoughts On Religion

by Dale Galloway

The leading theologian of our church was recently honored by being invited to participate in a debate on Divine Election which appears as the feature interview in Christianity Today, October 12, 1959.

Taking part in the debate at the residence of the editor, Carl F. H. Henry, were prominent scholars: Dr. Roger Nicole, Professor of Theology at Gordon Divinity School in New England; Dr. Geoffrey W. Bromley, Professor of Church History at Fuller Theological Seminary; and our own Dr. H. Orton Wiley, President Emeritus of Pasadena College in California.

Dr. Wiley is and has been for many years the top theologian of the Nazarene Church and of all churches that stress the Wesleyan teaching of entire sanctification. His three-volume Christian Theology, published in 1940, has secured him a reputation as one of the leading theologians in the area of conservative theology today. Dr. Wiley's Epistle to the Hebrews, published this year, has strengthened my own life as I know it has strengthened sanctified people everywhere.

In the debate when Dr. Wiley was asked to give the biblical basis for our Arminian view on the election he quoted 319 words from eight different books of the New Testament from memory without any notes or particular preparation for the debate before hand. Although there were three Calvinists against one Arminian, Dr. Wiley held our position on election well, and "snowed them under" with Scripture!

Thank the Lord that the doctrines of our church are founded upon the Scriptures. Let us pray that we shall see the day soon when all our preaching is Bible-centered.

HOW ABOUT A "DEVOTIONS BREAK"

by Prof. Lunsford

Mid-morning and mid-afternoon "coffee breaks" are an almost universal custom in America. The Olivet campus is no exception. Immediately after chapel and in midafternoon most of us meet in the Universe for coffee and conversation. It is a refreshing and constructive experience.

Kelley Prayer Chapel is a lovely room where no classes are ever held. However great the need for classrooms, none are ever scheduled there. It is kept as a place apart for meditation, Bible reading, and prayer. As such it is open all day long every day.

Wouldn't it be well for each of us to establish the habit of taking a daily "devotions break" in Kelley? A moment or two between classes, a longer period during free periods; a daily rendezvous with the Lord will do wonders for our spiritual life.

INFLUENCE

by Rev. Forrest W. Nash

From my boyhood I remember the minister's illustration about the suit in the store window. On it was a tag with these words, "slightly soiled but greatly reduced in price." And so it is with our lives. It does not take much to diminish our best influence. St. Paul admonished the Christians at Philippi to be blameless and harmless as "the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world."

Our Lord said to His disciples, "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

Your life can show forth Christ to the world. What a challenge! God will help you.

"Should America Have A Roman Catholic President?"

by David Stanford and Donna Frye

Since the subject of the oncoming political nominations is so timely, and with the political air static with controversy and debate, two of Olivet's students have undertaken the task of presenting their views to the student body of the campus.

* * *

At the present, it is fairly reasonable to believe that neither party would nominate a man of non-Christian or Christian sectarian persuasion. This leaves us with men of Christian Protestant and Roman Catholic faith. Automatically we are limited to this question: "Should America have a Roman Catholic president?"

My answer to this is an emphatic "No"! The Roman Church through the centuries has taken full control of the individual life. It thinks for him and even dictates many of his actions. A Roman Catholic is a slave to his church. He knows nothing of the freedom that the Protestant knows, except to a limited degree. It has been through the Protestant concept and belief in freedom that our nation is what it is today, and it is only because of this that the Roman Catholic can enjoy freedom to the extent that he does.

The Catholic Church as an organization stands in complete contradiction to the rights and freedoms upon which our country was founded. Where ever Romanism is in power, we find backwardness, gross sin, and ignorance that is both appalling and so firmly entrenched that only a miracle could cause these people to think for themselves. In America, Romanism is seemingly tolerant, but this is only because it is a minority group. What we see here is only a sugar-coated form of what Catholicism really is. It is grounded in universal authority and lavishes in the indolence of men. America is grounded in the particulars of individual freedom and thrives on the enlightenment and activity of its people.

Would you want a man whose religious faith is contradictory to our way of life to hold the office of President? And worse yet, would you want a man who could only make a pretense of defending the principles that we hold so dear? The argument may be offered that the man's religious views will not interfere with his political views and duties, but we cannot afford to be so naive.

David Stanford

* * *

Does a majority group have the right to deprive a minority group of the opportunity of holding public office because of the color, race, or creed of that minority group? Those Protestants who contend that a Roman Catholic should not be allowed to run for the office of president of the United States are doing exactly this.

Their chief contention is that the religious views of a Catholic President would conflict with his constitutional duties.

Catholic men have been chosen for the highest judicial body in the United States—the Supreme Court. There is no record that they have ever found themselves in conflict with the laws they were chosen to interpret.

Many Protestants say that a Catholic President would be under papal control and responsible to Rome. They say that the Pope dictates what the members of his church can do, that the church takes full control of the individual life.

When this student presented this idea to a priest from the local Kankakee area, she was informed that the Catholic Church guides the spiritual life of its members and makes no attempt to interfere with temporal matters.

It has also been stated that the Catholic Church deprives the individual of "free will". On the basis of this assumption, a Catholic office holder would follow the dictates of his church. Any action he might take, and any decisions he might make, would be for the advancement of his faith.

The late Frank Murphy, a Catholic justice, voted in favor of the right of a Jehovah's Witnesses minister to set up a public address system in a municipal park and make anti-Catholic broadcasts on Sundays. Did his action promote Catholicism?

Voters should consider the candidate's qualifications and his merit, not his religion.

The time has arrived for Americans to live the democracy they profess to have.

For a scholarly discussion of this and other problems read The Riddle of Roman Catholicism, by Pelican, which is available in the college book store.

Hurrah for the men in uniform! — we mean the band, of course, and what would we have done without them at the homecoming football game? They provided music to avoid the lulls of "time-out" and then gave us some good entertainment at the half. Now that they have showed us what they can do, we need to get on the ball and boost them a little. Dr. McCombs and the Speech Club showed a little of their appreciation by presenting them a huge box of apples following the game, and the band wishes to thank them for their thoughtfulness.

In addition to their performances at our games, the band will provide a concert in chapel November 2, as well as participate in a community affair. They will provide background music for the Community Chest Luncheon which will be held November 9th to close the drive for funds.

Now is the time for every good student to take out his pencil and date book. Next Friday night at 8:00 P.M. the music faculty will be presented in their third annual recital. The program will consist of music for piano, organ, violin, clarinet and voice, and will be held in College Church. Let's all plan to attend this traditional event.

Speaking of traditional events reminds me that the rehearsals for the presentation of the Messiah are now being held. Once a week the Apollo and Orpheus Choirs meet together

Dr. Paul Updike To Give Lectures In Practical Theology

A five-day series of lectures on practical theology will be given by Dr. Paul Updike, district superintendent of the Northeast Indiana District, at 10:30 a.m. daily on the campus, November 9-13.

Dr. Updike is also chairman of the Board of Trustees of Olivet and chairman of the General Board of the Church of the Nazarene. He will be dealing with the work of the pastor and the evangelist as it relates to the program of the church on the district and general levels. The sessions are open to the public but will be geared primarily to the interests of ministerial students. These lectures are sponsored by the Division of Religion and Philosophy.

Last Year's Aurora Receives 1st Rating

Receiving word from the Associated Collegiate Press, Minneapolis, Minnesota, last year's Aurora editor, Sharon Mace Owens, and Business Manager, Paul Cunningham, were informed that the yearbook had received a First Class rating.

The yearbook was in competition and judged with other yearbooks of colleges comparable to the size of Olivet. The book was judged on a numerical basis. A certain number of points were given for different details such as photography, copy, choice of type, layout, the cover, the theme, etc. The above mentioned items were all placed in separate categories and given numerical ratings. The final number of points the Aurora accumulated was over 4,000, constituting it as a first-class volume.

The theme of the book was "Impression of a Christian College". Among the new features of the book was the European Study Tour, the feature section of student life, and the educational write-ups for each of the college departments.

There were 1,850 copies of the Aurora that were printed. A large portion of these were distributed over the districts of Olivet's educational zone to churches paying their Olivet budget in full.

Working hard and hand in hand with Sharon and Paul was Mrs. Harriet Demaray, literary critic, and Prof. D. J. Strickler, faculty sponsor.

Indiana District To Be "Invaded" By O. N. C. Representatives

A unique program of church-college relations is being planned by the Northwest Indiana District Church of the Nazarene and Olivet Nazarene College, for Sunday, November 1. Under the joint direction of Rev. Arthur Morgan, Valparaiso, District Superintendent for the Northwest Indiana District, and Rev. John Swearingen, Field Secretary of the college, a faculty member or student from Olivet will appear in each of the churches of the Northwest Indiana District.

The "Mass Invasion" is part of a public relations program intended to create good will between the churches and the college, to assist the churches in raising funds for the college budget and to encourage Nazarene young people to attend Olivet Nazarene College. There will be twenty faculty members and ten students participating in this invasion to Northwest Indiana.

What in the world is going on?

by Lowell Thomas

For those with a watchful eye and attentive ear, let me suggest that throughout the ensuing several months you keep your senses geared toward the far eastern situation.

It is interesting to note that last year found us with our attention centered in the middle east as revolution and unrest from within this area caused great concern on our part for its welfare. The fact that we went so far as to place troops within the troubled locale can probably be traced to first, our specific interests there, and second, our fear of Communist tainted revolutionaries whose dominant existence would hinder any amount of satisfactory rapport which has been established between us and this area.

Although relative calm is now the rule here, we find that further east in the Bay of Bengal area the pot is beginning to boil with fervor. Red China is continuing to flex her muscles and finding the result rather gratifying to her ego.

Supposedly working independently of big brother Khrushchev, she already has overrun Tibet, ousting the theocracy of the Dalai Lama and inserting her puppet ruler in the form of the Panchen Lama. In addition Laos has felt and is feeling the full brunt of Chinese expansion as Ho Chi Minh Leads the Red rebellion in this territory. And we must keep in mind that an ultimate goal of the Red Chinese is that of complete "liberation" of Formosa, that island off their coast containing the nationalistic or free Chinese under the wings of Chiang Kai Shek.

An interesting and provocative aspect of this situation is the seemingly marked degree of independence on the part of China in regard to its co-worker Russia. This was evidenced further in the recent visit of K to his comrades-in-crime. As I was very proud, as I'm sure others were also, of the football game played for our Alumni. I have never seen Olivet football played any better. The officials of the game had called a game between two colleges of our own size just a few days ago and both expressed confidence that either of Olivet's teams,—the "bears" or the "tigers" could have defeated either of these other college teams. We were also privileged to have as our guests a number of scouts from large universities. These 9 men saw that Olivet does have a high-caliber sports program and excellent material from which a winning football team could be moulded. The band, drill team, and presentation of the Queen and her court all combined to make this year's football game very successful. It is always hard to pick out one player as the outstanding member of either team and I won't attempt to do that—but I would like to congratulate Louie Burrell on a fine game. The speedy halfback gained 100 yards in 12 carries to the delight of all the "Bears" and their fans.

I also heard the Alumni express their approval of the smorgasbord. It gave them a chance to get together whereas this was not so easy in previous years for every one went his respective way after the game.

A very welcome part of the contest was the absence of the usual section of "hecklers", "Sideline-coaches", or whatever name you give them. This seems to be the favorite sport of those people who do not have the courage to go out and practice 2 hours a day or take the punishment on the field. They have never played an organized game of football and yet they know everyone's mistake and never fail to let it be known. In the first game our sideline coaches were there to tell us what was wrong. Their absence during the Homecoming game may be because they tried to meet up to their demands. Let's hope so anyway and maybe this year's basketball games will be without their good "services".

Basketball is just a couple of weeks away and Birchard gymnasium will once more be the site of many interesting games. Prof. Ward has a schedule completed for the varsity team and from the preseason "dope" it looks as though the team is really going to be tough to beat.

The addition of several promising Freshmen basketball players to last year's stars should give us a winning team. Let's all give the team our wholehearted support and be sure to back your society for there will also be society basketball. It looks like a great year for us if everyone will participate.

PURPLE "TIGERS" EDGE GOLDEN "BEARS" 7-6 IN HOMECOMING FOOTBALL CONTEST

Lou Burrell is seen skirting right end for one of his numerous gains against the Tigers. The tiger in the foreground has just been neatly blocked by a Bear and Lou is seen eluding a Bear from the back of him. The other players in the action are for the Bears: (34)

Howard Owens, (72) R.T. Chapman, Burrell, and (47) Ron Angles. For the Tigers (51) John Rishel, (50) Spence Hedrick, (33) Gus Sublette, and (22) is Dave Reedy.

by Mac Delbridge

Combining an explosive offense with an alert, quick defense, the two Olivet teams, the Purple Tigers and the Golden Bears played what proved to be one of the best and most exciting games ever played by Olivet teams.

Coach "Duffy" Mac Kay's free-wheeling backs displayed little of the passing prowess that everyone expected them to, but with halfbacks Louie Burrell, Howard Owens, and Tom Oakley Thompson, fullback Don Spotloe, and quarterbacks Bob Mitchell and Darrell Grothaus, the Bears certainly moved the ball on the ground. The Golden Bears rolled up 214 yards on the ground, and 3 yards in the air, for a total of 217 yards.

Coach Ward's Purple Tigers also did a splendid job. Unlike the Bears with their strong ground offense, the Tigers depended much upon the passing ability of quarterback Russ Anderson. Halfbacks Dale Reedy, and Dave Reedy, plus fullback Ron Erwine added that extra UMPH!! to help the Tigers pull out a squeaker, 7-6, over the Golden Bears.

The first touchdown came at the close of the first quarter as Howard Owens of the Bears sprinted 44 yards for pay-dirt. The extra point failed and Bears led 6-0 as the first quarter ended.

During the first quarter the Bears looked as if they would really tear up the Tigers as they rolled up 111 yards on the ground to the Tigers 18 yards.

With 6 minutes remaining in the game, the driving Tiger defense caused the Bears to fumble on the 30 yard line, and the Tigers recovered the fumble. Playing like a new team, the Tigers marched to the 1 yard line in 2 plays. On the third down, Quarterback Russ Anderson drove over for the score from the 1 foot line. On the try for the extra point, Russ Anderson booted for the score to make it 7-6.

While fighting in a losing cause,

Lou Burrell deserves a congratulation on his play. The 190-lb. halfback gained 100 yards in just 12 carries for one of his finest games.

All in all both teams played an excellent game. They showed to us not only fine playing ability, but also fine Christian character on the field. To the players we congratulate you for one of the best showings Olivet athletes have presented to the public, as well to the students and faculty, and may you do as well as you participate in the other parts of our fine Intramural Program throughout this coming year.

BITS BY BOBBIE

by Roberta Hunter

With the excitement of Homecoming past, it's time once again to settle down to more important things — such as studying. But, it's also time to start looking forward to the coming basketball season in sports.

However, in quick review, here's the final outcome in women's softball. The Trojans won the championship this year by winning eight games and losing none. It was certainly a team effort as the margin of victory was provided through the fine play and terrific loyalty of the freshman members of the squad.

In the basketball picture, quite an active schedule is planned. The women's "O" Club team will play the All-School team on Saturday, November 7, at 7:00 p.m. This should be an exciting game as the "O" Club was the victim of the All-School team last year and will now be fighting for a victory to win back lost prestige. On behalf of the "O" Club, I challenge the All-School team to try to make it two victories in a row!

Society basketball will be getting underway very soon now. Your team coach is depending on you to help make this a successful season. Be sure to contact your coach if you are interested in playing. The first round schedule is as follows:

- Thurs., November 12 — Trojans vs. Indians
- Sat., November 14 — Indians vs. Spartans
- Tues., November 24 — Spartans vs. Trojans

The success of the sports program rests with you! Be faithful as a participant or a spectator. Let's continue to make this year a great year at O.N.C.!!

TROJANS WIN TITLE IN SOFTBALL RACE

by Montez Lobb

The Intramural softball league came to a close this last week on a thrilling note. The season was climaxed with a play-off (just like the National League) between the Spartans and the Trojans. After a full ten game schedule, they were tied with a 5-4-1 record. The playoff game, which saw the Trojans pushing across three runs in the bottom of the sixth to beat the Spartans 4-1, was typical of the games played throughout the season. Ed Roarick of the Trojans and Gene Harmon of the Spartans were hooked up in a pitcher's duel. In the last of the sixth, luck turned against the Spartans as the Trojan bats came to life, but the Spartans failed to hit. There was only one error throughout the game.

In looking back over the season, we see the Indians in the role of the spoiler, as they also showed flashes of good play. Some of the mainstays of the Indian team were Coach Figge, Lee Gardner, Ted Turner, Jerry Riddle, and pitcher Jim Byers. But lack of depth hurt them in the stretch.

The runner-up Spartans were paced by Jerry Smith, Jim Treece, Elmo Wilson, Dean Walfogel, Fred Morgan and Harry Fulton. The Spartans also had a consistent battery with Frank Borders and Gene Harmon. In defense, the play of Jim Treece was a standout performance.

The championship Trojan team, was carried to victory by the "Big" right arm of Ed Roarick. The batting of Bob Huff, Don Turner, Jim Hutchinson, and Gale Guyer combined with the solid infield of Craig, Turner, Beals and Huff gave them the necessary edge. Congratulations Trojans on your triumph.

You'd better live your best, and act your best, and think your best today; for today is the sure preparation for tomorrow, and all the other tomorrows that follow.

SPORTRAITS

Mac Delbridge

Our Sportrait for today is Mac Delbridge, a senior, from Owosso, Michigan. Mac has distinguished himself as one of the more active sport enthusiasts here at Olivet having lettered 6 times.

While in High school, Mac collected 2 letters in football, 2 in swimming and also received one for golf. Besides participating in these sports in high school, Mac also played baseball and basketball for a team from his home town. Mac's favorite sport is football. It is easy to understand why for his alma mater has been one of the top football teams in the state for the past decade.

While here at Olivet, Mac has lettered 2 years in baseball, 2 years in softball, and 2 years in swimming. He has also participated in other intramural sports as a member of the Trojan society. His biggest thrill came while playing baseball. At a Philadelphia "Phillies" tryout camp Mac pitched a no hitter and was offered a contract. Mac is currently serving as the president of the Trojan society and in past years has coached for them.

Mac plans to coach and teach biological sciences when he graduates and he would like to go on to graduate school in the future. We wish you the best of luck Mac, and may God always be the guiding hand in your life.

during the regular choir hour and then on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 they are joined by people from choirs in the various churches in the community. The dates to remember for this presentation are December 11th and 13th.

That's all for the date book 'cause I hope you can remember these next two events. This afternoon at 3:30 in the recital hall the first student recital of the year will be presented. Music students will be singing and playing for the purpose of gaining experience in performance, so if you want to help them you can do so by providing an audience for them.

They say you should save something good for last, so here it is. The Brass Choir is giving a concert tonight at 8:00 and judging from the program they gave us in NYPS last Sunday, it ought to be good. They may be a small group but they can certainly put out the music.

What In The World . . .

he went to and fro proclaiming the necessity of living with the United States and competing economically on a peaceful basis, he was confronted by what may be termed as the old familiar "cold yet civil" attitude displayed especially by China's Communist party leader Mao Tse-Tung. Khrushchev's worn-out cry of "co-existence" was answered with pageant-like displays of soldiers, tanks, and missiles.

These actions in addition to the continuous threats of aggressive expansion can — according to Mr. Andrew H. Berding, Assistant Secretary of State for Public Affairs — cause us to draw one of two conclusions. "Either Peiping at this time does not share Moscow's professed desire for a relaxation of tensions or Peiping at this time does not regard such professions as genuine".

China's aggressiveness in the light of these actions and conclusions could result in the beginning of a third world war. That is, either China will continue to expand and at the same time threaten aggressive measures toward Russia which could result in a break with the same, or Khrushchev will reveal his bluff and give aid to China in its outward move.

Then again there is the idealistic possibility that Nik could convince Mao to play it cool. But here we must instead be realistic and not become lax in our preparation for the worst.

Approach the easy as though it were difficult, and the difficult as though it were easy; the first, lest overconfidence make you careless, and the second, lest faintheartedness make you afraid.

"Utilizing Policies of Large-Scale Industry for Small Business" was the theme of the 10th Olivet Nazarene College Business Men's Conference on Friday, October 23.

Principal speaker for the program was Mr. Richard Jones, Saginaw, Michigan, assistant manager of the Saginaw Sears, Roebuck Store. Mr. Jones, an Olivet alumnus, addressed the college student body at a Friday morning chapel program and spoke to the business men at a dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. in the college dining hall.

Other speakers for the day and their topics were Mr. Donald Durick, Washington, D. C., executive vice-president and secretary of American Industrial Bankers Association, who spoke on "The Banker and Small Business"; Mr. Philip Knisley, Bourbonnais, Illinois, employment supervisor of the Kankakee plant of Armour Pharmaceutical Laboratories, speaking on the topic "Are Small Business Personnel Policies Possible?"; Mr. Joseph Gennaro, Lebanon, Indiana, Associate of the Jones-Burgess Insurance Agency, speaking on the topic "An Insurance Program for Small Business"; and Mr. Charles Rundberg, Kankakee, Illinois, productive buyer for the A. O. Smith Corporation whose topic was "Cost Reduction through Buying."

The conference, which is sponsored by the Department of Business Administration, centered around the theme of applying techniques of large-scale industry to small businesses. Approximately 70 business and professional men attended.

Mr. Leonard Anderson, chairman of the Business Administration Department, was in charge of the conference.

I had the privilege of visiting one of the universities in the Big Ten Conference since school started this year. The day was Saturday but the campus was quite busy since it was football day. As I drove through the campus and surrounding housing area I couldn't help but think of the extreme contrast between a Christian college and a secular college.

The comparison struck even deeper during the Fall Revival when the power of the Holy Spirit was working with the students here. I couldn't help but wonder where I might be today if I had entered a secular university while younger and quite unstable. When I think of the possibilities of what might have happened I am more than thankful I entered Olivet.

I don't know exactly how you feel about this but a comment addressed to "Strictly Non-Personal" % the Glimmerglass might bring a further discussion in the next issue.

Until then smile — even if you don't feel like it.

Olivet's "new" Homecoming weekend was climaxed Sunday morning, October 18, in College Church for worship service. Orpheus Choir sang and Rev. Forrest Nash preached to a capacity crowd of alumni and students.

The weekend activities began with the Homecoming Chapel address, Friday, October 16 by Mr. George Jetter, owner of Ft. Recovery Industries, Ft. Recovery, Ohio.

Following Mr. Jetter's address, the Chapel audience witnessed the announcement and crowning of the 1959 Homecoming Queen, Miss Marilyn Trimble, a senior of Cedar Rapids, Iowa by the student body president, Mr. Larry Cox. The other members of the court introduced were Miss Alice Lee Bolland, senior, from New Brighton, Pa; Miss Shirley Collier, junior, from Westerville, Ohio; Miss Marilyn Kremer, junior, from Milwaukee, Wisconsin; and Miss Judy Lambert junior, from Findley, Ohio.

Friday evening, the students and alumni listened to the Homecoming Concert, featuring graduates from the music department of former years and a choir composed of the present and alumni members of the Orpheus Choir.

Saturday morning featured class reunions and that afternoon there was a campus-wide open house of all the residence areas and offices of the college. That evening the Homecoming football game was played at Bradley Stadium. The Olivet Marching Band, under the direction of Prof. Harlow Hopkins, performed at the half. The Queen and her court were presented also during this time, and Dr. Harold W. Reed, presented the Queen with the traditional white Bible. Mr. Larry Cox also presented to the Queen a bouquet of red roses.

After the football game activities, the crowd returned to Birchard Field House to finish the evening with a giant smorgasbord.
