Third Lyceum of School Year To Feature Chicago Symphony Quintet, Friday, February 5th

The Lyceum Program Committee is bringing the above pictured Chicago Symphony Quintet to Olivet as the third lyceum program of the school year.

Coming to Olivet, February 5, as the third lyceum program of the year is the Chicago Symphony Quintet. The quintet will be presenting their program in Burke Recital Hall at 7:30 p.m.

The Chicago Symphony Woodwind Quintet has been acclaimed by critics as the outstanding ensemble of its kind in the country. Each member is a key player in the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and an outstanding musician in his own right.

Composing the quintet are the following personnel.

Ralph Johnson, a native of Beloit, Wisconsin, has been acclaimed by many critics as one of the foremost flutists of the country today. He began his musical career in Boston where his talents were quickly recognized by the great master George Laurent, who offered him a scholarship to complete his studies. After an extended tour of solo recitals, he joined the Chicago Symphony Orchestra in 1934.

Jerry Sirucek, a native of Cicero, Illinois, was an accomplished violinist before taking up the oboe. He joined the Chicago Symphony Orchestra at the age of 19 in 1941.

Jerome Stowell, Green Bay, Wisconsin, was a Finance and Economics major at the University of Chicago. He is recognized as one of the outstanding players and teachers of the clarinet. At an early age, he toured the country extensively with various bands and orchestras. After his graduation from the University of Chicago, he devoted himself diligently to the playing and teaching of the instrument in which he has attained eminent success. He has been with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra since 1936.

Wilbur Simpson, Angola, Indiana, turned to professional bassoon playing following his graduation from Northwestern University with the degrees of Bachelor of Music Education and Master of Music. He appeared with several outstanding

O.N.C. Speech Club Helping In Local Foundation Drive

The "Speaker's Bureau" of the Olivet College Speech Club has been assisting the Kankakee County branch of the National Foundation during its present "New" March of Dimes campaign.

This assistance is being rendered by speakers, from the "Speaker's Bureau," as part of the foundation's public education program, telling the story of the National Foundation and its aspirations for 1960.

To date the "Speaker's Bureau" has represented the National Foundation at the Rotary, Kiwanis, Exchange, Lions, Toastmasters, Woman's Business and Professional, Junior Woman's, and the Beta Sigma Phi clubs; at an assembly at the Kankakee High School; also at P.T.A. organizations in Kankakee and Bonfield. The club's president adds extra assistance by representing the National Foundation, on the air, as their radio moderator. The latter is a continuous contribution.

Those who have, thus far, taken part in this operation include: Marilyn Clark, Regina Evans, Jerrie Ferree, Darel Grothaus, Chester Kemper, John Miranda, John Sparkes, Dr. Athel McCombs, Dr. LeRoy Brown, and Professor David Beeman.

Much thanks, for the success of this undertaking, is expressed to the Public Relations staff for their cooperation in allowing the Public Relations Office to be used as a point of liaison between the organizations and the "Speaker's Bureau."

It is to be noted that, just as in the "Speaker's Bureau," the other phases of the Speech Club are also very active, thus endeavoring to maintain its objective, which stresses better communication with our fellowman.

Ten-Year Progress Report Indicates Growth In Church

In the decade from 1950 to 1960, the Church of the Nazarene continued its vast record of strong domestic growth and has greatly extended its foreign work.

In this decade, membership and number of churches at home increased one-third as much as in the decade of 1940 to 1950. The foreign missionary program, with work now in 40 different areas around the world, approximately doubled.

Reports from denominational world offices showed a total domestic membership of 311,299 in 4,966 churches. In the decade, the membership gain was 86,812, a 39 per cent increase over the 1950 total of 224,487.

The net gain of 1,200 churches showed that the denomination established new congregations at the rate of more than two per week during the decade. There was an increase of 34 per cent of new churches.

Sunday school enrollment increased 54 per cent.

Among all Protestant denominations, the new statistics placed the Church of the Nazarene about 15th in Sunday School enrollment and 30th in membership.

Per capita giving increased 30 per cent in the decade, from $104.64 to $135.50. Giving for all purposes nearly doubled, going from $23,409,000 to $42,183,000, or a gain of 42 per cent.

The total valuation of all property was approximately tripled in the decade. It went from $65,586,856 in 1950, to $200,178,926 in 1960.

In the decade, churches increased by 34 percent, church members by 39 percent, Sunday School enrollment 54 percent, ministers, ordained and licensed, 23 percent, F.M.S. members 35 percent, daily V.B.S. 136 percent; number of missionaries has

A native of Texas, he began his service to the church as pastor from 1927 to 1942.

During his time he also served as secretary of the Texas Synod of the United Lutheran Church of America, and part of the time served as president.

He served as chaplain, with the rank of major, in the U.S. Army from 1942 to 1946, and returned to become a pastor in Fremont, Nebraska, from 1946-51.

Dr. Kern was graduated from Wagner College, New York City, in 1924, and received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Mt. Airy Seminary, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in 1927. He also attended Rice University, Houston, Texas, where he received a BA degree in 1930 and his MA in 1933. He received his Th. D.

Mrs. True is originally from Blue Mound, Illinois, where she attended high school all four years. Upon graduating in 1956, she studied music one year at the University of Illinois. After her marriage in June of 1957 she and her husband moved to Kankakee, whereupon she enrolled in Olivet's music department. Over the past three years she has studied organ with Mr. Kenneth Bade, Dr. Ella Gale and Mrs. Kranich.

Since coming to Olivet, Mrs. True has been a member of the Gale Organ Guild, Music Educator's Club, Apollo Choir, Band and Honor Society. During this time she and her husband have been organist and choir director for the Immanuel Baptist Church.

As for future plans, Mrs. True does eventually plan to teach music, and will probably give organ lessons privately.

What Lies Ahead?

Guest Editorial by Donna Britton

Approximately a year ago I glanced at the editorial page of a newspaper and my attention focused on the bold black print, "WHAT LIES AHEAD?" Paradoxically I had to leave and did not read the editor's remarks under the captivating head, but within the network of my thinking power thoughts were flashing concerning those words.

I wasn't satisfied to think he was concerned only with the economic future of the U. S., but I was captivated with the proposition of the future of my friends, my family, and myself. In fact, I began to ponder the future in relation to the past and to the present.

Trite, but true, the future is a mystery. Also trite, but one-half true, it is a great repertory. (The performer must be rehearsed and prepared to perform; often we are not). At first this mystery seemed to be very complex.

In a short while it seemed quite simple. As I see it, this mystery, for the Christian, involves a triangle plot: Christ, Others, Ourselves. The future depends upon past and present circumstances. If in the past we have found real salvation through the blood of Jesus Christ, and if in each today we seek the guidance of the Holy Spirit, our future will be secure.

To bring Others into the picture I will borrow from Markham: "There is a destiny that makes us brothers. None goes his way alone. All that we send into the lives of others, comes back into our own".

As a summary for these thoughts, I conclude that our education at Olivet is one of our greatest preparatory steps for the future. This is a new semester; our lives will be very full, but Christ can make them complete, and we can know that What Lies Ahead is good and best for our lives.

Back From The Brink

(ACP) — In a faculty forum column in Follins College (Fla.) SANDSPUR, a Rollins professor of economics states his position on atomic warfare:

"The current American 'party line' is that Communism is mankind's greatest enemy and that freedom as we know it must be preserved at all costs, including nuclear war.

"Some of our outstanding scientists, clerics and businessmen see the future differently. To them, the dangers of atomic war far outweigh the dangers of Communism. Their argument is that large scale use of nuclear weapons in World War III would definitely wipe out the entire human race.

"The point is rarely put bluntly, but it is this: Human freedom would re-emerge quicker from a dictatorship of men than from hierarchies of reptiles and fishes. If forced to choose, survival under the Soviets is preferable to race suicide.

"The blast effect of hydrogen bombs which could easily raze all cities less than 20 miles in diameter and quickly kill millions of people is terrible to contemplate. But it is nothing compared to the long-range after effects of radioactive fallout. Blast-created isotopes emitting deadly gamma rays will rise into the stratosphere and be blown by high altitude winds to all corners of the earth.

"The US Atomic Energy Commission has admitted the fallout menace in its releases, trying to minimize the present genetic and leukemia dangers from a few bomb tests. It has never denied that total nuclear war threatens mankind's continued existence on the planet.

"Our atomic Frankenstein, however, is not the only menace. Others are wishful thinking and romantic ideas. 'It can't happen to us.' 'If atomic weapons are that dangerous they will not be used.' 'World government will save us.' 'I'd rather die a free man than live a slave.' 'Only cowards refuse to fight for their beliefs.' And so on. What many seem to forget is that ICBMs with atomic warheads now make it impossible for a modern soldier to defend his family, his country or his religion by blasting the enemy.

"Since both alternatives are catastrophic, we need some way to avoid both. But what is it? Should we try to convince the Russians that living in a world dominated by capitalistic countries would not be worse than death to all mankind? That seems such an obvious truth, but the iron curtain may prove impenetrable. Should we then try to convince Americans that life under Communist rule offers more hope for an eventual return to human freedom than a planet devoid of human life? Or is that truth so much less obvious that we could not get it accepted here? Is there a feasible intermediate position, some 'live-and-let-live' approach?

"If this generation is not to be mankind's last, a road back from the brink must be found, and that quickly."

He has been giving his lectures on "First Things in the Ministry" in Kelly Prayer Chapel at 10:30 a.m. daily.

Dr. Gibson has lectured annually for the past twenty-two years. The lectures are both timely and helpful to everyone, both laymen and ministers.

Thoughts On Religion

Nearly all those familiar with Olivet are acquainted with Student Prayer Band. Alumni and friends on the educational zone often inquire about the progress of that student organization. It is good to report that it is still thriving thanks to the fine support of the student body. Here the students continue to assist in making Olivet's motto "Education with a Christian Purpose" a living reality.

"Here," in the words of our Alma Mater, "we learn to know of truth and truth will make us free." Prayer Band is a part of that "here". In a very real sense Christ is the Truth. We know this by his own testimony that "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life." Olivet is a symbol of that truth which still prevails and frees. Prayer Band is a vital part of that staunch stand for the truth. We students must continue to make that truth a vital part of our lives.

It is altogether appropriate that students meet often to worship Christ. In the Soviet Union today the government forces the practice of compulsory indoctrination courses for students at all levels. If the Marxists and Neo-Marxists can enforce the teaching of godless communism, surely, we can take advantage of the opportunities to become "indoctrinated" in the Way of Christ and do so joyfully. If we, and others like us, do not develop a genuine enthusiasm for Christianity, it is not scare talk to say that we may be violently deprived of these privileges. The disciples of Communism, to say nothing of the devotees of grasping Materialism in our own country, are zealous exponents of their doctrines. Will we sense the challenge in time?

We have an obligation to our immediate neighbors. Our associates on campus deserve to see the Light of Christ in our lives. Someone is watching each of us that profess to follow Christ. What will be their opinion of our Christ if they see a lukewarm, unenthusiastic performance in us.

We owe it to ourselves to participate in Christian services. We can discover great enjoyment in being at the front of the battle for Christ. No one ever accomplishes much by half-hearted effort. We are in a battle against evil. Active badness will never be overcome by a negative sort of goodness. In other words, we need to be aggressive Christians. In order to win our personal battle against the enemy our stock of spiritual ammunition must be full to overflowing. It will not likely be so if the scriptural admonition to "forsake not the assembling of yourselves together" is disregarded.

Prayer Band serves in a different way. Just ask those who attend. It stimulates a tired mind or revitalizes a tired body. It offers strength to the discouraged and hope to the downcast. It is a wonderful forum for expression of Christian testimony and praise. It develops the young person's capacity to worship God without the assistance of his elders. It is the place where intercession is made by the students for the needs of campus, community, state, and nation. Here is a place where God-given talent is exercised. Here God is worshipped in "spirit and in truth". Here students are drawn together by the common bond of

by Rev. Forrest W. Nash

Oswald Chambers has said, "Happiness is not a sign that we are right with God; happiness is a sign of satisfaction." And I know of some who are satisfied at a pretty low level. But when Christ is "formed" in us, as Paul wrote, we have a disposition which desires only God's will and which delights only in God. Such is the appetite of the sanctified life. The way in is the full surrender of the whole man — body, soul, and spirit. This for you is the will of God.

LEAP YEAR IS HERE

by Eunice Herrmann

This is an interesting subject and since it comes only once every four years, the editor felt it deserved a space or two in the paper. We tried to delve into the private thoughts of some of the eligible bachelors on campus. We came up with some very different answers.

Warren Nottleson, a new associate of Phil Miller's, believes that the year's principal advantage for the fair sex will be psychological encouragement. "Maybe it lets them think they are creating another inroad into the man's world." John Herrick, who lives with Warren, thinks this is the year of real chance for girls, and that they ought to take advantage of it. They should forget a little of the "playing hard to get" angle.

The coming summer will find some girls taking advantage. Jim Kidd said that now he could blame his wife for getting married so young.

It means one more day that Howard Owens has to wait for the day of enlightenment.

There are a few males on campus that sounded rather disinterested in the whole thing. For instance, Ted Turner stated, "Seeing as how leap year has one more day, it means I can put some of my duties and tasks off for one more day." Jim Treece came up with this, "Leap year to me means another World Olympics and another Presidential Election, but most important is that extra day to catch up on everything."

One of the most outstanding males

Jesus Christ. Here, also, is generated a spirit of appreciation and love for Olivet and her standards. Does this description make Prayer Band sound like a panacea for all problems? Well, it is not that, but each of these sentiments has been voiced at one time or another during the last semester in testimonials of students concerning Prayer Band.

We owe a greater debt to Christ than can ever be repaid. This does not hinder us from trying to repay Him. Our Master has truly given all for us. How can we do less than our best? It is a truism that we do what we want to do or what interests us most. It is not for us to judge anyone, but those who sincerely desire to please Christ are usually found where He is being worshipped and praised. It is a good idea to examine ourselves and discover where our true interests lie, always remembering that Christ demands complete devotion.

The first semester has been on campus, Holland Lewis, came forth with this, "Leap year is a year of hope for we poor little bashful fellows as we think of that special someone and dream that she'll happen along and pop the big question. Keep dreaming, fellows, dream on and on." Fred Stiles thinks this is the year when "man hushes and woman rushes." Then if she loses she must wait four more. That sounds miserable to me. Now Ron Hill believes that this whole thing is a good idea and he feels that the girls ought to get out and work. Girls, you have someone to work on. Jerry Johnson said, "This is the year I would like to get married but I'm too young." That was quite a shock to someone. A friend of mine, formerly of the University of Illinois but now attending O.N.C., said this, "Just give me a two days' head start."

Monty Lobb, "This is the year to get married and that is the first step on the road to Utopia." Spence Hedrick, "I knew my wife would ask me, so being the gentleman, I am, I took the blame."

The one thing that should be on all our minds throughout this year was wonderfully expressed by Harry Fulton who said, "It gives me one more day in the year in which to serve God."

In the next issue we will try to find out what the distaff side of the campus has to say about this same subject.

marked by good and sometimes excellent attendance in Kelley Chapel. Many times the attendance has been at or near capacity. More important, Christ has not forsaken His promise to be in our midst when we meet in His name. Sometimes there has been a spontaneous move toward God; other times there have been tears of joy and sounds of praise; at other times the atmosphere has been silent and worshipful. Some services have been more memorable than others, but I believe some heart has been encouraged in every service.

Finally, I would like to challenge each reader with a question. Will you be among those who by prayer and faithful support help to make this Spring semester the finest Prayer Band has yet experienced? If so, you will be doing a part in the achievement of the goal of vital Christian piety in every Olivet student.

"Strictly Non-Personal"

by Phil Miller

Once again the old year is past and we are entering into the new year. By the time you read this a month of the new year has already slipped by and is now history. Many New Year's resolutions have not been kept and many of us will soon fall into the old rut once again.

Before this happens, maybe we should look back a full year and ask ourselves several questions.

- (1) Have we accomplished our goals for last year?
- (2) Are we satisfied with last year's achievements?
- (3) Did we live a good Christian life and most important, did we win any soul for Christ?

As we answer these questions, can we be happy with last year's accomplishments or should we bow our head in shame?

As this last year has passed and the world situation has grown more uncertain, we wonder about our freedom. Will we always have freedom or will America some day be engulfed by sin and communism? Will we always be free to preach the Word of God or will this also be governed? Freedom, freedom, freedom. This word is used in our vocabulary, but do we really understand its meaning. Do we know what would happen if it were taken from us? Think of being in a country where you were told what to say, what to write, and how to vote. What would we do?

We have the answer in our own American way of life. What is this, you might ask? Freedom and all that goes with it, is the answer.

In the beginning of this column we talked about the old and the new year. Now we are on freedom and yet, unless we keep this freedom the future years will not be as happy for each of us.

So with the past behind us, and whatever the result might have been, we should use it as a stepping stone toward a better year. As the youth of the church, with lots of ambition and foresight, we should unite together to spread the living gospel of Jesus Christ. Let us pray and work for freedom together.

What's In A Word?

(ACP) — From the OLD GOLD AND BLACK of Wake Forest College (N. C.) comes the story of a professor in the process of handing back blue books after a quiz.

The professor stopped, turned to the board, and wrote "martial." He explained that it did not mean the same thing as "marshall," as some had written on their quizzes. He did go on to say that some spelled it "marital," which is the same thing.

Recent Trips By Dr. Reed Include East, West, Midwest

by Carol Collins

During the past weeks, our president, Dr. Harold W. Reed, has done some extensive traveling, attending educational conventions and representing Olivet.

The Educational Council met from January 7-9 in Kansas City, Mo. at the Nazarene Headquarters Building. Present at this meeting were all the Nazarene college presidents, Dr. C. T. Corlett, president of the Nazarene Theological Seminary, and Dr. S. T. Ludwig, Executive Secretary of the Department of Education.

This being the last year of the quadrennial, much time and attention was given to planning for the General Assembly. The booth, at which Olivet will be represented this year, will be similar to the one we had before, and above it will be a large banner containing these words: "Education in Evangelism", stressing the quadrennial theme "Evangelism in the Church".

At this session plans were made for the Wednesday, June 22, date of the General Assembly at which time an anniversary college service will be held. One of the features of this service will be the presentation of a testimony from a student representative of each of the Nazarene colleges. Chosen to represent Olivet at that time is Joenne Heimiller, Detroit, Michigan. Bringing the address to the audience that evening will be Dr. G. B. Williamson, General Superintendent. At the close

Social Committee Now Planning For Valentine Party

A report from the Social Committee shows that plans are now underway in preparing for the annual all-school Valentine Party, and they are promising it to be an evening of traditional Valentine enjoyment in a different setting.

The students will spend their evening at a sidewalk table of a Parisian Cafe. Enjoyable and still different entertainment will be presented.

Tickets will go on sale next week, and further details will at the same time be disclosed.

The party is one of the two biggest of the year. Informal attire will be the order of the evening with party dresses and suits.

Spotlight On The Faculty

by Don James

Prof. and Mrs. Irving Kranich have recently come to Olivet from Seattle, Washington. They are both instructors in the Music Department, Division of Fine Arts.

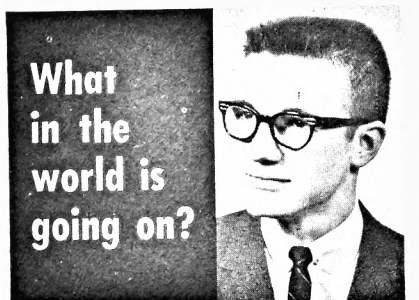

Music is a hobby as well as a vocation in the home of newcomers, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Kranich, both of whom are professors of music at Olivet Nazarene College.

Along with their three children — Virginia, 6, a first grader at Bourbonnais Elementary School, Douglas, 3, and Sylvia, 1 — the couple moved to a residence at 698 West Drummond Drive, Bourbonnais, the middle of August.

Seattle, Washington, was their last residence where Kranich was music and youth director at First Nazarene Church. Highlights of their three years there were weekend ski trips into the mountains near Seattle and camping trips to the Pacific Northwest.

Mr. and Mrs. Kranich, who met while he was a student at Olivet and she an instructor, were married in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Kankakee. Following his college graduation, they moved to Flint, Michigan, where he taught high school music and driver's training courses for two years before moving to Seattle.

Kranich, who is an instructor of voice at Olivet, has also studied at the University of Detroit in Michigan and at the University of Washington in Seattle. He is a native of Detroit. Mrs. Kranich, who attended Asbury College in Wilmore, Ky., before graduating from Olivet, is currently a professor of organ and theory. Her hometown is Londonville, Ohio.

WARNING! Do not read this column if, to you, politics is boring. Do not read another word if you have quipped, "Politics is dirty", and then done nothing about it. Stop reading immediately if you have a certain arrogance and pride in your ignorance and illiteracy concerning national and world events. Stop and do not read any farther. Why? Because I am going to proceed by telling you what I think of you and what you are doing to our nation, and it may not make you very happy. Furthermore, although we have been good friends up to now, this article could, I suppose, put us at odds with each other.

Well, here goes! First, your irresponsibility in regard to government, politics, etc., is not an isolated case at all. Most likely, you have an "I don't care" attitude concerning many other areas of intellectual endeavor, such as: historic religion, philosophy, the arts, music and all the great literature. Maybe it could be because you just hate to think, and so, you are rebelling against all those forces around you that would stimulate thinking. Haven't you noticed here on campus that the student who can converse intelligently on one subject is also quite literate on others as well? I believe that there is cer-

While attending a recent game at Birchard Field House, I was privileged to be seated near a few sideline experts. While the officiating wasn't anything to brag about, the number and caliber of remarks directed at the officials was certainly not meritorious to Olivet. While this is certain to "win friends and influence people" for Olivet it also exemplifies our "Christian Sportsmanship". I know that everyone at times sees calls that are not good, and, of course, we groan or mumble our opinion. However, I'm thinking primarily of the person who, while the game lasts 40 minutes, also is in operation for 40 minutes. It seems that sometimes the referees are not enough to pick on, they also include their own players. This is the most repulsive of all. These basketball players practice for weeks to get in shape; then they step on the hardwood and give us 40 minutes of basketball entertainment. If we were not allowed to have basketball games these hecklers would be the first to complain, and yet they holler at a player for not running all-out all the time. When I hear someone point out a player on the floor for being "lazy", I would like to put that person in the player's shoes and let him play all-out for a game and then see how ambitious he would be. The player feels bad enough when he makes a mistake without someone telling all about it. So the next time you hear someone yelling "advice" do everyone a favor by reminding him that if he can't do any better he should not be telling anyone else how to do it.

Monty Lobb tips in two more points for the Tigers in their win over the All-Society team. Other Varsity members are (24) Jerry Smith, and (35) Wayne Hopewell. Bob Wehr, John Haugh, and Don Lytle are the All-Society players.

Varsity Handed First Loss; Then Rolls To 116-37 Victory

Following a 3 week Christmas vacation, the Varsity met their toughest opponent of the season and fell to their first game at the hands of Salkelds, 81-74. The game left much to be desired from every standpoint of basketball. The big reason for this was the big Christmas vacation. The Varsity gained the lead at first and led until about 8 minutes had been played and Salkelds tied the score at 11-11. From then on the Salkeld was never behind. Spence Hedrick, playing against bigger men, pulled down more than his share of rebounds and scored 9 points before being taken out, as he collected 4 fouls in the early part of the game. The taller and rougher Salkeld team had gained a 10 point advantage at half-time with a 38-28 lead.

The Varsity outscored Salkelds in the second half by three points, but it was really closer than that. At one time, the score was 77-73 with a minute to go in the game. However it was not the Varsity's night and Salkelds went on to post a 81-74 triumph. Monty Lobb scored 20 points to head the Olivet scorers while Fulton, Figge, and Hedrick added 14, 12, and 11 respectively. Hayes was the winners' high scorer as he also tossed in 20 points.

Just one week later, the Varsity played the Dayton, Ohio, Youth For Christ team. The Varsity played a hard and good game, but the other team just was not in the same class that the Olivet boys are. Near the end of the game it was so apparent that even the Ohio boys were laughing, for the Varsity scored 116 points to their 37. Seven varsity players scored in double figures as Olivet more than tripled the score. The Varsity raced to a 50-22 half-time lead and then scored 66 points in the second half to snow the Ohio boys under. While winning is certainly everyone's desire, it would be more interesting to have better teams to play the Varsity.

Montez Lobb led all scorers with 24 points while Weaver tossed in 10 for the losers.

Varsity Defeats All-Society 88-62 Essex Also Loses By 84-52 Score

Just a little higher Wayne!! Wayne Hopewell makes it look easy as he "dunks" two for the Varsity in their conquest of the All-Society Team. Other varsity members are Harry Fulton and Howard Owens. All-Society members are Phil Byers (5), Tom Craig (6), Don Lytle (17), and Bob Wehr who is going in for a possible rebound.

by Holland Lewis

The Olivet Varsity, led by Monty Lobb's 24 points, turned back the all-society team 88-62. The all-society team, coached by Gus Sublette, threatened to make a game of it as they grabbed an early lead and showed signs of strength in the early stages of the game. But it didn't take the Tigers long to flex their muscles and start rolling, and by half-time they had built up a 14 point lead 39-25. Harry Fulton's 9 field goals and 3 free throws left him not far back in the scoring race with 21 points. Howie Owens, the only other Tiger to hit double figures had 13 points; each of the Tigers scored at least once.

Don Lytle, in perhaps his best performance of the season, along with Tom Craig, grabbed off scoring honors for the All-Society, with 19 and 17 points, respectively. Both these fellows worked hard in leading the losing cause. The All-Society's starting five was rounded out by John Haugh, Chuck Byers, and Ted Turner. Bud Hoovler gave added support for the All-Society as he tossed in 13 points, 10 of them in the second half.

A few days previous to this game, the Tigers found an evening of ease as they rolled over Essex, 84-52. Howard Owens was the big gun as he ripped the nets for 19 points followed by Lobb with 16 and Fulton with 10. Figue tossed in 9 and Spence Hedrick in his last performance for the Tigers added 7. Hedrick has been a real work horse for the Tigers under the boards and his services will surely be missed.

Halftime found the Tigers with a comfortable 24 point lead, 46-22. It was easy sailing the rest of the way as the Tigers picked up their sixth win in seven outings this season, the sole loss being to a fine Salkelds team.

Our boys deserve lots of praise for sticking with the game the way they have under circumstances of little or no competition, which is a fact beyond their control. So let's stick with them and attend the basketball games. This is just a step to something better.

MILITARY MEANDERINGS

(ACP) — Culled from the TALON, cadet magazine of the US Air Force Academy, is this abbreviated insight into academy slang.

"Doolie." This was born in the very beginning of the academy and is a contraction for "do it Willie!" It aptly describes the fourth classman as he scurries about on various errands . . . Because of its apt description and applicability, it should endure as long as youthful Adonises continue to make the transition to crew-cut cadets. As Father Zielinski once said, "God must love doolies . . . He made so many of them!"

"Clank" is, in essence, a sound word. It conveys a sound as well as a meaning. "Clank" originated as far back as doolie, since it is usually employed in describing the typically unsure state of most fourth classmen. Often, especially at meal time, a doolie will meet up with something new and confusing and freeze up or sputter words. Then comes the familiar question, "Mister, are you clanking?"

Don Lytle

Our sportrait selection for this issue is none other than Don Lytle, a tall, handsome fellow of 6' 2", who is a resident of Bourbonnais.

Don attended Bradley High School where he was very active in sports. He lettered 4 times in track, (also breaking some records), 3 years in football, and 4 years in basketball. He was president of the Varsity Club, and for his outstanding achievements received two trophies, the American Legion Award, and the Rotary 4 way test trophy.

His biggest thrill in sports came when he was still in high school. During a track meet when he was running anchor man in the mile relay, he found himself almost 100 yards behind his man, so with the desire in his heart to win he set out with all that was in him, and he beat the man and turned in a fabulous time of 51 seconds, to help his team on to victory.

Since coming to Olivet, Don has been very active in the sports program. He has lettered 2 times in track, and 3 times in basketball. He also participated in volleyball for the Indian Society of which he is a member. He held the office of vice-president one year for the Indians.

Upon graduation this spring, Don plans to marry Miss Mary Ann Linquist, (June 4), and this fall teach one year, then enter graduate school either at the University of Illinois, or the University of Michigan, and work on his master's degree in counseling.

Best of everything from all of us to you and yours in the future, and may God's richest blessings be with you.

Indians Extend Intramural Lead

Playing the opening game of the second round, the Indians fought off a hard-playing Trojan five, 69-67. It was the second win for the Indians over the Trojans yet the difference in score has been only a total of 3 points. The Indians gained a 40-38 halftime lead with the help of Hoovler, Haugh, and Powell. Each scored 10 points. Ed Roarick kept the Trojans alive with 15 while Craig and Winchester each added 9 points. The second half was just a standoff as each team scored 29 points. It was a very close game and either team could have won it. But the Indians pulled it out in the last minutes and maintained an undefeated record. Four Indians scored in double figures — John Haugh with 18, Keith Powell with 15, Chuck Ballard with 13 and Bud Hoovler with 12. Ed Roarick led both clubs with 23 while teammates Winchester and Craig scored 17 and 13 respectively.

The Indians ran their winning streak to 4 straight when they met and defeated the Spartans, 50-46, on January 12. The Spartans tried to stall for a good shot during the first part of the game but the tactics backfired. The Indians jumped out to an early lead and it was the middle of the first half before the Spartans caught up. The Spartans gained a 2-point halftime lead at 21-19. In the second half, the Indians took the lead and while threatened several times they never lost their heads. John Haugh led all scorers with 19 points, getting 12 of them in the second half. Bob Stiles was the Spartan high scorer with 14 points.

The Trojans scored their first win of the year when they defeated the Spartans 52-46, January 15. The Spartans closed the first quarter with a 9-7 lead and both teams were deadlocked 23-23 at half-time. In the second half, the Spartans just

What a relief to have final exams out of the way! Now, as we start our second semester work, we can also look forward to some thrilling hardwood action in Birchard Field House.

Congratulations to Coach Ward and the Varsity for the terrific start they have this season! They are doing their best to provide us with some exciting and well-played games. Let's all get out to watch the games and back our varsity. They deserve our support.

Turning to women's sports, quite a game was played between the Women's "O" Club team and the Bradley Comets which the "O" Club team won by quite a decisive score — 51 to 10. The Olivet team was in command throughout the entire game as they seemed to score almost at will. Top scorer for the game was Marilyn Trimble with 17 points. A big "thank you" goes to Lincoln Dorsey who worked so hard and did such a terrific job in coaching an O.N.C. victory.

In society sports, a lot of games are yet to be played. So, don't forget to take in some games and back your team.

What In The World . . .

All right, so you must be willing to think if you are to begin assuming your political responsibility, but that is not the heart of the trouble. The crux of the problem is SELF; as always, self-obsession is limiting your horizon at every point in life. Thus you care not about public affairs because you are too wrapped up with SELF. When something of a political nature does attract your attention, it must appeal only to the immediate, it must threaten your selfish interest, and, if it is to arouse you at all, it must be of the spectacular nature.

This nation of ours, in its various branches of government, needs an influx of capable young men, dedicated to Christian principles and unshakable in personal integrity. We need men of steel, determined to work for what they believe is right, regardless of personal gain or loss. Our nation needs each one of us to take a vital interest in its government and to acquaint ourselves with its many functions.

Now this is an election year and we will hear much concerning the need to "Get Out the Vote", etc. At this stage we should be more concerned with our duty to prepare ourselves to vote intelligently by familiarizing ourselves with the candidates and issues. I realize that, although this will be the first opportunity to vote for many of the college students, still a greater part are under voting age. Nevertheless, the time to alert yourselves to world events and state and national issues is NOW, not right before election day.

Now, friend (you're still with me!), if you are serious about this matter and wish to be a better-informed citizen, one that is aware of his political responsibilities, I will suggest three things: (1) avail yourself of these four top-notch periodicals — Congressional Digest, Vital Speeches, U. S. News & World Report, and Nation; (2) sacrifice "Have Gun, Will Travel" and others of your "kill'em-stab'em" favorites for an informative program once in awhile, as this could prove enlightening; and (3) join the Sociology Club and the Public Affairs Club, attend their meetings (member, or not) and become informed on the issues of the day. This is a part of your political responsibility.

Madison Avenue Approach?

(ACP) — From a column in the EMORY WHEEL of Emory University, Atlanta, comes this look at education in the United States:

"Perhaps, if in the midst of our present wave of capitalist materialism, Americans value a new car or a television more than an education, there is something wrong with education. After all, if it won't sell, what good is it? And judging from what our teachers make, whatever they're offering isn't going over too well in America.

"Maybe what we need to sell education is a good Madison Avenue approach. After some motivational research work, you may see magazine ads like this:

"For quick, safe, medically approved relief from the discomforts of TV watching, try reading!" Or, "Men of distinction read Shakespeare!" Perhaps we might even be able to make education a status symbol (as it already is in more civilized countries).

"Actually, education seems to be a pretty suspicious thing anyway, if not completely subversive. After all, if the Russians are so enthusiastic about it, there must be something wrong with it. And besides, it runs completely counter to the entire capitalistic system, since you can't make a tangible profit on it. The sciences aren't so bad, but the humanities, with some of their non-materialistic attitudes, will probably have to be eventually eliminated as a detriment to the American Way.

"By lowering teachers' salaries to just above the starvation point, we already have made splendid progress in this direction. However, a small dedicated group of educators still keeps it going, however feebly. Perhaps the next step will be burning books, although with the present popularity of television they may soon become obsolete and save us the trouble.

"All things considered, it seems education, especially in the humanities, can be a pretty dangerous thing, and perhaps it is well that Americans have done such an excellent job of keeping it suppressed."

of the service, a plaque is to be presented to one individual from each educational zone for outstanding service to Christian higher education. The award to the individual from Olivet's educational zone will go to Dr. C. S. McClain.

Other plans for the General Assembly included those of Saturday morning, June 18, at which time a breakfast will be held for all faculty members of all schools present at the assembly. Dr. Reed stated, "Olivet will pay for the breakfast meal of all attending Olivet professors and their wives."

Dr. Reed, along with Dr. Roy Cantrell, President of Bethany Nazarene College, left for Boston, Massachusetts, on January 12, to attend the conference of the Association of American Colleges, which was held January 12-14.

Tuesday morning, January 13, Dr. Reed and Dr. Cantrell greeted the students of Eastern Nazarene College in the Chapel service, and in return greetings were sent back with Dr. Reed from their student body.

That noon a Protestant college luncheon was held, followed by other association meetings. The question, "Will colleges of liberal arts and science survive, or will they become teachers' colleges?" was raised at a dinner held that evening. The conclusion drawn was that liberal arts would survive, but would probably be effected by new professional views being pressed on colleges. President Benegett, of Colorado College, gave the keynote address, challenging the 1,100 presidents and 400 deans present to excellence in liberal arts.

The association meeting was concluded on Thursday at noon, January 14.

During the course of his trips, Dr. Reed interviewed prospective teachers in Boston, Kansas City, and Seattle, Washington.

Annual Youth Week Services Feature Gibson As Speaker

As special speaker for Olivet's annual Youth Week Revival this year was Rev. Donald J. Gibson, District Superintendent of the Wisconsin District.

Rev. Gibson spoke daily in the Chapel services, and nightly, 7:30 p.m., in College Church services, January 20-24.

Rev. Gibson was chosen for the district superintendency position after 13 years' service as pastor in three churches. When he assumed office as superintendent, in 1957, the district had 43 churches with 1,700 members, and a Sunday School enrollment in the churches totaling 3,500.

A native of Maywood, Illinois, Mr. Gibson was converted at the age of 18 and called to preach soon afterward. He prepared for his ministry here at Olivet, where he received a bachelor of theology degree in 1944, his major field being theology.

He served churches in Potomac and Blue Island, Illinois, before being called to Milwaukee First Church as associate pastor in 1946. He became pastor three years later, resigning in 1957 to accept the superintendency.

Mr. Gibson is a past president of the Milwaukee Evangelical Ministers' Association and a trustee of Olivet Nazarene College.

He resides with his wife and two daughters in the district parsonage at Madison, Wisconsin.

Their defense was penetrated time and time again with easy close shots and their offense was not functioning. Meanwhile Larry Winchester and LeRoy Gerdes were doing the scoring for the Trojan cause, Larry getting 12 and LeRoy adding 10. Winchester was high for the night with 18 and Bob Stiles led the Spartans with 13.
